L3957 Then we examined the statement of those who restricted this duration to five prayers or fifteen prayers over three days, and we found they had no proof except considering the number of prayers in the day and night and in three days with their nights. This is baseless, for if one wipes over footwear after the sun passes its zenith at the end of the Dhuhr prayer's time, they would wipe until the dawn prayer, then could not pray the forenoon prayer with that wiping, nor any prayer thereafter until noon. Similarly, whoever wipes over footwear for the dawn prayer at the end of its time would wipe until praying the Isha prayer, then could not perform Witr, nor the night vigil prayer, nor pray the two Sunnah units of Fajr with that wiping. This contradicts the ruling of Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—for he permitted the resident to wipe over footwear for a full day and night, while they prohibited wiping except for a day and part of a night, or a night and less than half a day. This is a clear error.

L3958 Furthermore, their position would entail that if a person obligated to perform the five prayers slept through them, then awoke—provided he had performed ablution and had put on his leather socks in a state of ritual purity then slept—he may perform masḥ over them. Yet upon completing these prayers, it would not be permissible for him to perform masḥ [on the socks] thereafter during the remainder of that day and night. This contradicts the authentic narration, thus rendering this opinion untenable due to its contradiction of the narration and its complete absence of any proof to establish its validity.

L3959 Then we examined Ahmad's statement and found that he stipulates: if a transgressor performed ablution and wore his leather socks (khuffs) in a state of purity, then remained for a month without praying intentionally, and then repented, he may wipe over his khuffs from the time of his repentance for one day and night, or three days if he is a traveler.

ثُمَّ نَظَرْنَا فِي قَوْلِ أَحْمَدَ فَوَجَدْنَاهُ يُلْزِمُهُ إِنْ كَانَ إِنْسَانٌ فَاسِقٌ قَدْ تَوَضَّأَ وَلَبِسَ خُفَّيْهِ عَلَى طَهَارَةٍ ثُمَّ بَقِيَ شَهْرًا لَا يُصَلِّي عَامِدًا ثُمَّ تَابَ: أَنَّ لَهُ أَنْ يَمْسَحَ مِنْ حِينِ تَوْبَتِهِ يَوْمًا وَلَيْلَةً أَوْ ثَلَاثًا إِنْ كَانَ مُسَافِرًا.

L3960 Similarly, if he wiped for a day then deliberately neglected prayer for subsequent days, he may perform wiping at night. The same ruling applies to the traveler. According to this view, he could persist in wiping for a year or longer. However, this contradicts the explicit text of the report. Thus, this opinion is also invalidated, leaving none valid except our position.

L3961–3963 We examined it and found it in agreement with the statement of Umar ibn al-Khattab—may Allah be pleased with him—which is authentically established from him, and in conformity with the text of the report transmitted regarding that matter. No other [opinion] remained, thus adopting it became obligatory, because the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—commanded him to wipe for a day and a night. Therefore, he may wipe if he wishes or remove what is on his feet. He must necessarily choose one of the two, and nothing else suffices him. He is disobedient to Allah the Almighty, a transgressor if he fails to perform either of the two. If he wipes, that is permissible for him and he has done well. If he does not wipe, he has disobeyed Allah or erred if he did so forgetfully, with no sin upon him. A portion of the timeframe designated by the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—has elapsed, leaving only the remainder. Similarly, whether he acted intentionally or forgot until the completion of a day and night for the resident, and three days with their nights. For the traveler, the time specified by Allah, the Exalted, as conveyed by His Prophet—peace be upon him—has indeed passed. It is not permissible for him to wipe outside the timeframe during which He has commanded him to do so.

فَنَظَرْنَا فِيهِ فَوَجَدْنَاهُ مُوَافِقًا لِقَوْلِ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ - الَّذِي صَحَّ عَنْهُ وَمُوَافِقًا لِنَصِّ الْخَبَرِ الْوَارِدِ فِي ذَلِكَ، وَلَمْ يَبْقَ غَيْرُهُ فَوَجَبَ الْقَوْلُ بِهِ، لِأَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَمَرَهُ بِأَنْ يَمْسَحَ يَوْمًا وَلَيْلَةً، فَلَهُ أَنْ يَمْسَحَ إِنْ شَاءَ، وَأَنْ يَخْلَعَ مَا عَلَى رِجْلَيْهِ، لَا بُدَّ لَهُ مِنْ أَحَدِهِمَا، وَلَا يُجْزِيهِ غَيْرُهُمَا، وَهُوَ عَاصٍ لِلَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ، فَاسِقٌ إِنْ لَمْ يَأْتِ بِأَحَدِهِمَا، فَإِنْ مَسَحَ فَلَهُ ذَلِكَ وَقَدْ أَحْسَنَ، وَإِنْ لَمْ يَمْسَحْ فَقَدْ عَصَى اللَّهَ، أَوْ أَخْطَأَ إِنْ فَعَلَ ذَلِكَ نَاسِيًا وَلَا حَرَجَ عَلَيْهِ، وَقَدْ مَضَى مِنَ الْأَمَدِ الَّذِي وَقَّتَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - مُدَّةٌ، وَبَقِيَ بَاقِيهَا فَقَطْ، وَهَكَذَا إِنْ تَعَمَّدَ أَوْ نَسِيَ حَتَّى يَنْقَضِيَ الْيَوْمُ وَاللَّيْلَةُ لِلْمُقِيمِ وَالثَّلَاثَةُ الْأَيَّامُ بِلَيَالِيهِنَّ لِلْمُسَافِرِ، فَقَدْ مَضَى الْوَقْتُ الَّذِي وَقَّتَهُ لَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عَلَى لِسَانِ نَبِيِّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَلَيْسَ لَهُ أَنْ يَمْسَحَ فِي غَيْرِ الْوَقْتِ الَّذِي أَمَرَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِالْمَسْحِ فِيهِ.

L3964 If his prescribed duty was tayammum and he did not find water, so he performed tayammum and then put on his two khuffs, he may wipe over the khuffs when he finds water, because tayammum is a complete purification.

فَلَوْ كَانَ فَرْضُهُ التَّيَمُّمَ وَلَمْ يَجِدْ مَاءً فَتَيَمَّمَ ثُمَّ لَبِسَ خُفَّيْهِ، فَلَهُ أَنْ يَمْسَحَ إِذَا وَجَدَ الْمَاءَ، لِأَنَّ التَّيَمُّمَ طَهَارَةٌ تَامَّةٌ.

L3965 Allah the Exalted said regarding Tayammum: “But He intends to purify you” (Al-Ma’idah 5:6). Whoever is permitted to pray with Tayammum is undoubtedly pure. If his entire body is pure, then his feet are undoubtedly pure, as he wore his khuffs upon his feet while they were pure. Thus, it is permissible for him to wipe over them for the specified duration applicable to travelers. If he does not find water until after three full days - counting from when he incurred impurity after wearing his khuffs while in a state of purity from Tayammum - it becomes impermissible for him to wipe over them, because the duration has expired. He could have performed wiping through rainfall occurrence or by having water available from someone accompanying him.[31]

قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى وَقَدْ ذَكَرَ التَّيَمُّمَ: {وَلَكِنْ يُرِيدُ لِيُطَهِّرَكُمْ} [المائدة: ٦] وَمَنْ جَازَتْ لَهُ الصَّلَاةُ بِالتَّيَمُّمِ فَهُوَ طَاهِرٌ بِلَا شَكٍّ، وَإِذَا كَانَ طَاهِرًا كُلُّهُ فَقَدَمَاهُ طَاهِرَتَانِ بِلَا شَكٍّ، فَقَدْ أَدْخَلَ خُفَّيْهِ الْقَدَمَيْنِ وَهُمَا طَاهِرَتَانِ، فَجَائِزٌ لَهُ الْمَسْحُ عَلَيْهِمَا الْأَمَدَ الْمَذْكُورَ لِلْمُسَافِرِ، فَإِنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ الْمَاءَ إِلَّا بَعْدَ تَمَامِ الثَّلَاثِ بِأَيَّامِهَا - مِنْ حِينِ أَحْدَثَ بَعْدَ لِبَاسِ خُفَّيْهِ عَلَى طَهَارَةِ التَّيَمُّمِ - لَمْ يَجُزْ لَهُ الْمَسْحُ، لِأَنَّ الْأَمَدَ قَدْ تَمَّ، وَقَدْ كَانَ مُمْكِنًا لَهُ أَنْ يَمْسَحَ بِنُزُولِ مَطَرٍ أَوْ وُجُودِ مَنْ مَعَهُ مَاءٌ.

L3966 Similarly, if one does not find water until part of the specified period has elapsed, they may wipe only for the remaining portion of the period.

L3967 Ali said: When his ritual impurity is completed, he is then permitted to perform ablution and wiping over the khuffs. He does not need to worry about istinja’, because performing istinja’ after ablution is permissible. It is not obligatory for istinja’ to necessarily be performed before ablution, as there is no command in the Quran or Sunnah requiring this. Rather, it is a physical substance we are commanded to remove by any means for prayer alone. Therefore, whenever it is removed before prayer—whether after ablution or before—the one who removed it has fulfilled his obligation. The presence of urine on the external part of the urethral orifice or fecal matter on the external part of the anus does not constitute ritual impurity. The impurity lies solely in their exit from the two passageways. Once they appear externally, they are two filthy substances on the skin that must be removed for prayer alone. Hence, this is counted from that moment, whether it is the time of prayer or not, because purification for prayer before the entry of its prescribed time is permissible. One may pray a missed prayer or the two rak‘ahs of entering the mosque with that ablution during that time. If he is a resident, the stipulated duration lasts until the same time the next day if the impurity occurred during daylight, or until the same time the next night if it occurred after dark. If the stipulated duration expires while he has wiped one of his khuffs but not the other, the wiping becomes invalid. He must remove both and wash his feet, because he only completed wiping during a time when wiping had become forbidden for him. If he is a traveler, the duration lasts until the same time on the fourth day if his impurity occurred during daylight, or until the same time on the fourth night if it occurred after dark. Success is from Allah, the Exalted.

L3968–3969 The rulings concerning men and women in the rulings regarding wiping over khuffs and the timing of the duration.

L3970 Question:

L3971 Men and women are equal in all that we have mentioned. Journeys undertaken for obedience or sin are equal in all such matters, and similarly, matters that are neither obedience nor sin are equal. Short journeys and long journeys are equal.

L3972 The proof of this is the generality of the command and ruling of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him. Had he—peace and blessings be upon him—intended to specify one type of travel over another, or one act of disobedience over an act of obedience, he would not have been unable to do so. The Bestower of provision and health, He who grants ascendancy to the disobedient and He from whom forgiveness is hoped for for him, graciously bestows upon him from the expansive mercy of the religion as He wills. Our statement is the statement of Abū Ḥanīfah.

L3973 There is no validity to the distinction made by those who differentiate in that matter between travel for obedience and travel for disobedience—neither through textual evidence nor through rational consideration.

L3974 As for the transmitted report, Allah the Exalted says: "To clarify to people what was sent down to them" [16:44]. If there were a distinction here, the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) would not have neglected it, nor would he have obligated us to know what he did not inform us of, nor required us to act upon what he did not make known to us. This is a matter we have secured, and all praise is due to Allah.[32]

L3975 As for the rational perspective, a resident's stay may involve sinful residence, oppression of Muslims, and transgression against Islam graver than sinful travel. Yet a traveler engaged in disobedience might still obey God in some acts - foremost being ablution containing the mentioned wiping over footwear which they prohibited him from performing. Thus they forbade him the wiping that constitutes obedience, while commanding him to perform full washing (ghusl) that is also obedience. This constitutes utterly corrupt reasoning. Yet they unrestrictedly permitted wiping for the resident sinning in his residence.

L3976 If they say that wiping is a concession and mercy, we say: Who can restrict Allah from granting concession to the disobedient in some acts of obedience to Him? No one is granted Allah the Most High's mercy except one who is ignorant of Allah, asserting what he has no knowledge of. In every journey where prayer is shortened, one wipes with the traveler's wiping. As for cases where shortening does not apply, it is considered residence and staying in place—one does not wipe therein except with the resident's wiping. And true success is only through Allah's enablement, the Most High.

L3977 *Issue: He made wuḍūʾ, then wore one of his khuffayn (leather socks) after having washed the corresponding foot.

L3978 215. Issue:

L3979 And whoever performs ablution, then dons one of his two khuffs after washing that foot, then washes the other foot after having placed the khuff on the washed one, then dons the other khuff, and subsequently breaks his ablution—wiping over them is permissible for him, just as if he had begun wearing both after washing both his feet. This is the opinion of Abū Ḥanīfah, Dawud, and their followers.

L3980 This is the opinion of Yahya ibn Adam, Abu Thawr, and Al-Muzani. Malik, [مَسْأَلَةٌ تَوَضَّأَ فَلَبِسَ أَحَدَ خُفَّيْهِ بَعْدَ أَنْ غَسَلَ تِلْكَ الرِّجْلَ]

٢١٥ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

وَمَنْ تَوَضَّأَ فَلَبِسَ أَحَدَ خُفَّيْهِ بَعْدَ أَنْ غَسَلَ تِلْكَ الرِّجْلَ ثُمَّ إِنَّهُ غَسَلَ الْأُخْرَى بَعْدَ لِبَاسِهِ الْخُفَّ عَلَى الْمَغْسُولَةِ، ثُمَّ لَبِسَ الْخُفَّ الْآخَرَ ثُمَّ أَحْدَثَ فَالْمَسْحُ لَهُ جَائِزٌ كَمَا لَوْ ابْتَدَأَ لِبَاسَهُمَا بَعْدَ غَسْلِ كِلْتَيْ رِجْلَيْهِ، وَبِهِ يَقُولُ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ وَدَاوُد وَأَصْحَابُهُمَا.

Al-Shafi'i, and Ahmad ibn Hanbal said: One should not wipe, but if he removes the footwear he first put on and then puts it back on within its time period, he may wipe.

L3981–3982 Ali said: Both opinions of their respective proponents rely on the statement of Allah's Messenger - peace and blessings be upon him - "Leave them, for I put them on while both were pure," thus necessitating examination of which opinion aligns more faithfully with this statement. We found that one who performs ablution on one foot and wears a single khuff has neither worn both khuffs nor placed both feet into the two khuffs - having only inserted one foot. When he performs ablution on the second foot and wears the second khuff, he thereby qualifies for the description that "he put them on while both were pure" - a status he did not hold previously. Thus, his wiping becomes valid. Had Allah's Messenger - peace and blessings be upon him - intended the view of Malik and Al-Shafi'i, he would not have used this wording. He would have instead said: "Leave them, for I began placing them into the khuffs only after completing the full purification of both." Since he - peace be upon him - did not say this, whoever truthfully merits the statement that "he placed both feet into the khuffs while they were pure" may validly wipe after experiencing impurity post-wearing. We know no instance where removing a khuff and immediately replacing it creates new purification or introduces a legal ruling previously unrecognized. Those who impose this obligation make an unsubstantiated claim. Success comes solely from Allah, the Most High.

L3983 Issue: If there was a small or large hole in the khuffs (leather socks) or in whatever was worn on the feet.

L3984 216 - Issue:

فَإِنْ كَانَ فِي الْخُفَّيْنِ أَوْ فِيمَا لَبِسَ عَلَى الرِّجْلَيْنِ خَرْقٌ صَغِيرٌ أَوْ كَبِيرٌ، طُولًا أَوْ عَرْضًا، فَظَهَرَ مِنْهُ شَيْءٌ مِنْ الْقَدَمِ، أَقَلُّ الْقَدَمِ أَوْ أَكْثَرُهَا أَوْ كِلَاهُمَا فَكُلُّ ذَلِكَ سَوَاءٌ، وَالْمَسْحُ

L3985 If there is a small or large tear in the khuffs or what is worn on the feet—lengthwise or widthwise—exposing any part of the foot, whether the smaller part of the foot, the majority of it, or both, all such cases are equivalent. Wiping over all such cases remains permissible as long as any part of the khuffs remains attached to the two feet. This is the position of Sufyān al-Thawrī, Dāwūd, Abū Thawr, Isḥāq ibn Rāhawayh, and Yazīd ibn Hārūn.

L3986 Abu Hanifa said: If there is a transverse hole in each of the two khuffs from which two fingers or less protrude, or if the hole measures two fingers in width or smaller, wiping over them is permissible. If three fingers or their equivalent measure become visible from one khuff but not the other, wiping over them is impermissible. He said: If there is a longitudinal hole that, when spread open, would reveal more than three fingers, wiping over them is permissible.

قَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: إِنْ كَانَ فِي كُلِّ وَاحِدٍ مِنْ الْخُفَّيْنِ خَرْقٌ عَرْضًا يَبْرُزُ مِنْ كُلِّ خَرْقٍ أُصْبُعَانِ فَأَقَلُّ أَوْ مِقْدَارُ أُصْبُعَيْنِ فَأَقَلُّ: جَازَ الْمَسْحُ عَلَيْهِمَا، فَإِنْ ظَهَرَ مِنْ أَحَدِهِمَا دُونَ الْآخَرِ ثَلَاثَةُ أَصَابِعَ أَوْ مِقْدَارُهَا فَأَكْثَرُ لَمْ يَجُزْ الْمَسْحُ عَلَيْهِمَا قَالَ: فَإِنْ كَانَ الْخَرْقُ طَوِيلًا مِمَّا لَوْ فُتِحَ ظَهَرَ مِنْهُ أَكْثَرُ مِنْ ثَلَاثَةِ أَصَابِعَ جَازَ الْمَسْحُ.

L3987 Malik said: If the tear is minor such that the foot is not visible through it, wiping over them [the socks] is permissible. But if it is large and egregious, wiping is impermissible, whether the tear affects both socks or only one.

وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: إِنْ كَانَ الْخَرْقُ يَسِيرًا لَا يَظْهَرُ مِنْهُ الْقَدَمُ جَازَ الْمَسْحُ، وَإِنْ كَانَ كَبِيرًا فَاحِشًا لَمْ يَجُزْ الْمَسْحُ عَلَيْهِمَا، فِيهِمَا كَانَ أَوْ فِي أَحَدِهِمَا.

L3988 Al-Ḥasan ibn Ḥayy, Al-Shāfiʿī, and Aḥmad said: If any part of the foot is exposed through the tear in the footwear, it is impermissible to wipe over them both. But if no part of the foot is exposed through the tear, it is permissible to wipe over them both.

وَقَالَ الْحَسَنُ بْنُ حَيٍّ وَالشَّافِعِيُّ وَأَحْمَدُ: إِنْ ظَهَرَ مِنْ الْقَدَمِ شَيْءٌ مِنْ الْخَرْقِ لَمْ يَجُزْ الْمَسْحُ عَلَيْهِمَا، فَإِنْ لَمْ يَظْهَرْ مِنْ الْخَرْقِ شَيْءٌ مِنْ الْقَدَمِ جَازَ الْمَسْحُ عَلَيْهِمَا.

L3989 Al-Ḥasan ibn Ḥayyin said: If beneath the tear, whether small or large, there is a sock that covers the foot, wiping is permissible.

قَالَ الْحَسَنُ بْنُ حَيٍّ: فَإِنْ كَانَ مِنْ تَحْتِ الْخَرْقِ قَلَّ أَوْ كَثُرَ جَوْرَبٌ يَسْتُرُ الْقَدَمَ جَازَ الْمَسْحُ.

L3990–3992 Al-Awzaʿī said: If any part of the foot is exposed from a tear in the khuff, he should wipe over it. The two khuffs were wiped over, and he washed what was uncovered of the foot or both feet, then prayed. If he did not wash what became exposed, he must repeat the prayer.

L3993 Ali said: When they differed, it became obligatory to examine the evidence each group cited to support its position. We found Malik's opinion baseless, for he prohibited wiping in certain circumstances and permitted it in others, yet he failed to clarify for his followers, those seeking to understand his view, or those requesting his legal verdict: what circumstances make wiping permissible and what circumstances make it prohibited. This entangles the questioner in matters he cannot comprehend. Moreover, it is an opinion with no evidence for its validity and a claim with no proof to substantiate it. Thus, this opinion is rejected.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَلَمَّا اخْتَلَفُوا وَجَبَ أَنْ نَنْظُرَ مَا احْتَجَّتْ بِهِ كُلُّ طَائِفَةٍ لِقَوْلِهَا، فَوَجَدْنَا قَوْلَ مَالِكٍ لَا مَعْنَى لَهُ، لِأَنَّهُ مَنَعَ مِنْ الْمَسْحِ فِي حَالٍ مَا وَأَبَاحَهُ فِي حَالٍ أُخْرَى، وَلَمْ يُبَيِّنْ لِمُقَلِّدِيهِ وَلَا لِمُرِيدِي مَعْرِفَةِ قَوْلِهِ وَلَا لِمَنْ اسْتَفْتَاهُ، مَا هِيَ الْحَالُ الَّتِي يَحِلُّ فِيهَا الْمَسْحُ،

L3994 Then we examined Abu Hanifah's statement and found it to be arbitrariness without evidence, a distinction without proof—something anyone could assert. It is impermissible to speak in matters of religion with such claims. Moreover, fingers differ greatly in size differences. If only I knew which finger he meant! We know of no one who preceded him in this invalid opinion. Thus, this claim is also invalidated with certainty.

ثُمَّ نَظَرْنَا فِي قَوْلِ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ فَكَانَ تَحَكُّمًا بِلَا دَلِيلٍ، وَفَرْقًا بِلَا بُرْهَانٍ، لَا يَعْجِزُ عَنْ مِثْلِهِ أَحَدٌ، وَلَا يَحِلُّ الْقَوْلُ فِي الدِّينِ بِمِثْلِ هَذَا، وَأَيْضًا فَالْأَصَابِعُ تَخْتَلِفُ فِي الْكِبَرِ وَالصِّغَرِ تَفَاوُتًا شَدِيدًا، فَلَيْتَ شِعْرِي أَيَّ الْأَصَابِعِ أَرَادَ وَمَا نَعْلَمُ أَحَدًا سَبَقَهُ إِلَى هَذَا الْقَوْلِ مَعَ فَسَادِهِ، فَسَقَطَ أَيْضًا هَذَا الْقَوْلُ بِيَقِينٍ.

L3995 Then we examined the statements of Al-Ḥasan ibn Ḥayy, Al-Shāfiʿī, and Aḥmad and found their argument to be that the obligatory act for the two feet is washing if they are uncovered or wiping if they are covered. If any part of them becomes exposed, even minimally, then a part that necessitates washing has been exposed. They said, "Washing and wiping cannot coexist on one and the same foot." We know of no argument they have other than this.

L3996 Ali said: "All that they have said is correct, except their statement that if any part of the foot is uncovered, then the part whose obligation is to wash has been uncovered. This is an incorrect statement, and they should not be agreed with on this, as it is not established by the Quran, the Sunnah, or consensus. Rather, the truth in this matter is what the Sunnah—which clarifies the Quran—, has established: the ruling for the two feet, when nothing is worn on them, is that they are wiped upon them to be washed, and the ruling when something is worn on them is that one wipes over that covering. This is what the Sunnah has conveyed. {And your Lord is never forgetful} [Maryam 19:64]."[33]

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: كُلُّ مَا قَالُوهُ صَحِيحٌ، إِلَّا قَوْلَهُمْ إِذَا انْكَشَفَ مِنْ الْقَدَمِ شَيْءٌ فَقَدْ انْكَشَفَ شَيْءٌ فَرْضُهُ الْغُسْلُ، فَإِنَّهُ قَوْلٌ غَيْرُ صَحِيحٍ، وَلَا يُوَافَقُونَ عَلَيْهِ، إِذْ لَمْ يَأْتِ بِهِ قُرْآنٌ وَلَا سُنَّةٌ وَلَا إِجْمَاعٌ، لَكِنَّ الْحَقَّ فِي ذَلِكَ مَا جَاءَتْ بِهِ السُّنَّةُ الْمُبَيِّنَةُ لِلْقُرْآنِ مِنْ أَنَّ حُكْمَ الْقَدَمَيْنِ اللَّتَيْنِ لَيْسَ عَلَيْهِمَا شَيْءٌ مَلْبُوسٌ يُمْسَحُ عَلَيْهِ أَنْ يُغْسَلَا، وَحُكْمُهُمَا إِذَا كَانَ عَلَيْهِمَا شَيْءٌ مَلْبُوسٌ أَنْ يُمْسَحَ عَلَى ذَلِكَ الشَّيْءِ، بِهَذَا جَاءَتْ السُّنَّةُ {وَمَا كَانَ رَبُّكَ نَسِيًّا} [مريم: ٦٤] .

L3997–3999 The Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings of Allah be upon him - knew when he commanded wiping over leather socks and what is worn on the feet, and when he wiped over regular socks, that among leather socks, regular socks, and other items worn on the feet are those with a significant tear, a minor tear, or no tear - red, black, white, new, or old. Yet he - peace be upon him - did not distinguish between any of these categories. Had the religious ruling regarding them differed, Allah the Exalted would not have neglected to reveal it, nor would the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings of Allah be upon him - the one divinely obligated, have overlooked it. The clarification lies with Him—far be it from Him to be associated with such. Thus, the ruling is confirmed that wiping remains valid in all circumstances, as wiping does not necessitate full coverage within the linguistic convention by which we are addressed. Similarly, we narrate from Sufyan al-Thawri that he said: "Wipe as long as it is called a khuff." Were the khuffs of the Muhājirīn and the Anṣār anything but split, perforated, and torn? As for al-Awzāʿī's statement, we shall mention it—God willing—in the issue following this one. And with God lies the attainment of success.

Issue: The two leather socks were cut below the ankles.

217 - Issue:

If the two khuffs are cut short below the ankles, it is permissible to wipe over them. This is the opinion of Al-Awzāʿī, and it is narrated that he said: “A pilgrim in the state of iḥrām may wipe over the two khuffs that are cut short below the ankles.” Others have stated that one may not wipe over them unless they are above the ankles.

Ali said: It has been authentically established from the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—that he commanded wiping over khuffs (leather socks) and that he wiped over jorabs (knitted socks). If there had been a defined restriction in this matter, he—peace be upon him—would not have neglected or overlooked it. Thus, it is obligatory that wiping is permissible over anything termed a khuff (leather sock), a jorab (knitted sock), or any garment worn on the feet. We have previously refuted the invalidity of those who claim that wiping is only permissible over what fully covers the entire feet and ankles.

By that evidence, this opinion of theirs regarding this issue is invalidated, especially the view of Abu Hanifa permitting wiping over the two khuffs from which a portion measuring two fingers from each khuff is visible. For it would follow that if a portion measuring two fingers from the ankles (of both feet) over the khuff is visible, then wiping is permissible; otherwise, it is not.

Similarly, this obligates the Malikīs to say: “If the apparent portion of the ankles above the khuff is small, wiping is permissible, but if it is excessive, it is not permissible.” We do not know on what grounds they based these two rulings, for they have neither a textual source, nor analogy, nor following precedent. And success is from Allah.

Ali said: As for Al-Awzāʿī’s statement about combining washing and wiping on a single foot, this is a view unsupported by evidence—neither textual proof, consensus, analogy, nor the opinion of an authority. The ruling for the two feet [when covered by footwear] is wiping alone, as established by the Issue: He put on his two khuffs while in a state of purity, then removed one of them without the other.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ لَبِسَ خُفَّيْهِ عَلَى طَهَارَةٍ ثُمَّ خَلَعَ أَحَدَهُمَا دُونَ الْآخَرِ]

٢١٨ - Issue:

٢١٨ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

Whoever wears his leather socks, socks, or similar items while in a state of ritual purity and then removes one of them without the other must—if he has nullified his ablution—remove the remaining item without fail and wash his feet.

وَمَنْ لَبِسَ خُفَّيْهِ أَوْ جَوْرَبَيْهِ أَوْ غَيْرَ ذَلِكَ عَلَى طَهَارَةٍ ثُمَّ خَلَعَ أَحَدَهُمَا دُونَ الْآخَرِ، فَإِنَّ فَرْضَهُ أَنْ يَخْلَعَ الْآخَرَ إِنْ كَانَ قَدْ أَحْدَثَ وَلَا بُدَّ، وَيَغْسِلَ قَدَمَيْهِ.

Al-Muʿāfā ibn ʿImrān and Muḥammad ibn Yūsuf al-Firyābī narrated from Sufyān al-Thawrī that he would wash the uncovered foot and wipe over the other, covered foot.

وَقَدْ رَوَى الْمُعَافَى بْنُ عِمْرَانَ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يُوسُفَ الْفِرْيَابِيُّ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ أَنَّهُ يَغْسِلُ الرِّجْلَ الْمَكْشُوفَةَ وَيَمْسَحُ عَلَى الْأُخْرَى الْمَسْتُورَةِ.

Al-Faḍl ibn Dukayn narrated from him. He should remove what is covering the other foot and wash both of them. This is the opinion of Abu Hanifa, Malik, and al-Shafi'i.

وَرَوَى الْفَضْلُ بْنُ دُكَيْنٍ عَنْهُ، أَنَّهُ يَنْزِعُ مَا عَلَى الرِّجْلِ الْأُخْرَى وَيَغْسِلُهُمَا، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ وَمَالِكٍ وَالشَّافِعِيِّ.

Ali said: We examined that matter and found his explicit ruling—peace be upon him—that he wiped over them because he had put both of them on in a state of purity.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَنَظَرْنَا فِي ذَلِكَ فَوَجَدْنَا نَصَّ حُكْمِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - أَنَّهُ مَسَحَ عَلَيْهِمَا لِأَنَّهُ أَدْخَلَهُمَا طَاهِرَتَيْنِ.

And he – peace be upon him – commanded the washing of the two bare feet; hence, these two scriptural texts do not permit contravention.

وَأَمَرَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - بِغَسْلِ الْقَدَمَيْنِ الْمَكْشُوفَتَيْنِ فَكَانَ هَذَانِ النَّصَّانِ لَا يَحِلُّ الْخُرُوجُ عَنْهُمَا.

We found that whoever washed one foot and wiped over the other has performed an action not mentioned in the Qur'an, nor the Sunnah, nor supported by any evidence derived from the textual wording of both.

وَوَجَدْنَا مَنْ غَسَلَ رِجْلًا وَمَسَحَ عَلَى الْأُخْرَى قَدْ عَمِلَ عَمَلًا لَمْ يَأْتِ بِهِ قُرْآنٌ وَلَا سُنَّةٌ وَلَا دَلِيلَ مِنْ لَفْظَيْهِمَا.

In matters of religion, only that which is established in the speech of Allah, the Most High, or the speech of His Prophet—peace be upon him—is permissible.

وَلَا يَجُوزُ فِي الدِّينِ إِلَّا مَا وُجِدَ فِي كَلَامِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى أَوْ كَلَامِ نَبِيِّهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -.

L4018 It is therefore obligatory that washing one foot and wiping over the other is not sufficient, and that it is necessary to either wash both of them or wipe over both of them. This ruling applies whether at the outset or after having wiped over them.

L4019 Yunus ibn Abd Allah ibn Mughith narrated to us, saying: Abu Isa ibn Abi Isa narrated to us, saying: Ahmad ibn Khalid narrated to us, saying: Ibn Waddah narrated to us, saying: Abu Bakr ibn Abi Shaybah narrated to us from Abdullah ibn Idris—al-Awdi—from Muhammad ibn Ajlan from Sa'id ibn Abi Sa'id—al-Maqburi—from Abu Hurayrah, who said: The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said, "When one of you puts on footwear, let him begin with the right, and when he removes it, let him begin with the left. Do not walk in one sandal or one leather sock; either remove both or walk in both." He (peace and blessings be upon him) thus made it imperatively obligatory to remove both without fail or to leave both on together. If someone removes one without the other, he has disobeyed Allah in the act of retaining what he retained, and since retaining it is an act of disobedience, it is not permissible for him to wipe over a leather sock whose obligation is removal. If this is due to an ailment in one foot, neither wiping nor washing is required for it whatsoever—because his obligation has been lifted.

L4020 We found some of those who agree with us arguing that since no scholar permits initiating ablution by washing one foot and wiping over a khuff on the other, it is likewise impermissible after removing one of the two khuffs.

L4021 Abu Muhammad said: This is an invalid statement, because the beginning of ablution applies to two feet that are not purified. This is not the case after the validity of wiping them is confirmed when they have been purified.

L4022 Thus, between the two matters lies the greatest difference. And from Allah, the Exalted, is success.

فَوَجَبَ أَنْ لَا يُجْزِئَ غَسْلُ رِجْلٍ وَمَسْحُ عَلَى الْأُخْرَى. وَأَنَّهُ لَا بُدَّ مِنْ غُسْلِهِمَا أَوْ الْمَسْحِ عَلَيْهِمَا. سَوَاءٌ فِي ذَلِكَ فِي الِابْتِدَاءِ أَوْ بَعْدَ الْمَسْحِ عَلَيْهِمَا.

وَقَدْ حَدَّثَنَا يُونُسُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ مُغِيثٍ قَالَ: ثنا أَبُو عِيسَى بْنُ أَبِي عِيسَى ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ ثنا ابْنُ وَضَّاحٍ ثنا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ إدْرِيسَ - هُوَ الْأَوْدِيُّ - عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَجْلَانَ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ - هُوَ الْمَقْبُرِيُّ - عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «إذَا لَبِسَ أَحَدُكُمْ فَلْيَبْدَأْ بِالْيُمْنَى وَإِذَا خَلَعَهُ فَلْيَبْدَأْ بِالْيُسْرَى، وَلَا يَمْشِي فِي نَعْلٍ وَاحِدَةٍ وَلَا خُفٍّ وَاحِدَةٍ، لِيَخْلَعْهُمَا جَمِيعًا أَوْ لِيَمْشِ فِيهِمَا جَمِيعًا» . فَأَوْجَبَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - خَلْعَهُمَا وَلَا بُدَّ أَوْ تَرْكَهُمَا جَمِيعًا، فَإِنْ خَلَعَ إحْدَاهُمَا دُونَ الْأُخْرَى فَقَدْ عَصَى اللَّهَ فِي إبْقَائِهِ الَّذِي أَبْقَى، وَإِذَا كَانَ بِإِبْقَائِهِ عَاصِيًا فَلَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ الْمَسْحُ عَلَى خُفٍّ فَرْضُهُ نَزْعُهُ، فَإِنْ كَانَ ذَلِكَ لِعِلَّةٍ بِرِجْلِهِ لَمْ يَلْزَمْهُ فِي تِلْكَ الرِّجْلِ شَيْءٌ أَصْلًا، لَا مَسْحٌ وَلَا غَسْلٌ، لِأَنَّ فَرْضَهُ قَدْ سَقَطَ.

وَوَجَدْنَا بَعْضَ الْمُوَافِقِينَ لَنَا قَدْ احْتَجَّ فِي هَذَا بِأَنَّهُ لَمَّا لَمْ يَجُزْ عِنْدَ أَحَدٍ ابْتِدَاءُ الْوُضُوءِ بِغَسْلِ رِجْلٍ وَمَسْحٍ عَلَى خُفٍّ عَلَى أُخْرَى لَمْ يَجُزْ ذَلِكَ بَعْدَ نَزْعِ أَحَدِ الْخُفَّيْنِ.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: وَهَذَا كَلَامٌ فَاسِدٌ، لِأَنَّ ابْتِدَاءَ الْوُضُوءِ يَرِدُ عَلَى رِجْلَيْنِ غَيْرِ طَاهِرَتَيْنِ، وَلَيْسَ كَذَلِكَ الْأَمْرُ بَعْدَ صِحَّةِ الْمَسْحِ عَلَيْهِمَا بَعْدَ إدْخَالِهِمَا طَاهِرَتَيْنِ.

فَبَيْنَ الْأَمْرَيْنِ أَعْظَمُ فَرْقٍ. وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

٢١٩ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

وَمَنْ مَسَحَ كَمَا ذَكَرْنَا عَلَى مَا فِي رِجْلَيْهِ ثُمَّ خَلَعَهُمَا لَمْ يَضُرَّهُ ذَلِكَ شَيْئًا، وَلَا يَلْزَمُهُ إِعَادَةُ وُضُوءٍ وَلَا غَسْلُ رِجْلَيْهِ، بَلْ هُوَ طَاهِرٌ كَمَا كَانَ وَيُصَلِّي كَذَلِكَ وَكَذَلِكَ لَوْ مَسَحَ عَلَى عِمَامَةٍ أَوْ خِمَارٍ ثُمَّ نَزَعَهُمَا فَلَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ إِعَادَةُ وُضُوءٍ وَلَا مَسْحُ رَأْسِهِ بَلْ هُوَ طَاهِرٌ كَمَا كَانَ وَيُصَلِّي كَذَلِكَ، وَكَذَلِكَ لَوْ مَسَحَ عَلَى خُفٍّ عَلَى خُفٍّ ثُمَّ نَزَعَ الْأَعْلَى فَلَا يَضُرُّهُ ذَلِكَ شَيْئًا، وَيُصَلِّي كَمَا هُوَ دُونَ أَنْ يُعِيدَ مَسْحًا.

وَكَذَلِكَ مَنْ تَوَضَّأَ أَوْ اغْتَسَلَ ثُمَّ حَلَقَ شَعْرَهُ أَوْ تَقَصَّصَ أَوْ قَلَّمَ أَظْفَارَهُ، فَهُوَ فِي كُلِّ ذَلِكَ عَلَى وُضُوئِهِ وَطَهَارَتِهِ وَيُصَلِّي كَمَا هُوَ دُونَ أَنْ يَمْسَحَ مَوَاضِعَ الْقَصِّ.

قَالَ أَبُو يُوسُفَ وَكَذَلِكَ إِذَا أَخْرَجَ أَكْثَرَ مِنْ نِصْفِ الْقَدَمِ إِلَى مَوْضِعِ السَّاقِ.

Issue: He performed masḥ over what was on his feet, then removed them.

219. Issue:

And whoever wipes as we have mentioned over what is on his feet then removes them, this does not harm him at all, nor is he required to repeat the ablution or wash his feet. Rather, he remains pure as he was and prays in that state. Similarly, if he wipes over a turban or veil then removes them, he is not required to repeat the ablution or wipe his head. Rather, he remains pure as he was and prays in that state. Likewise, if he wipes over one khuff over another then removes them. If the upper part is wiped, this does not invalidate his ablution at all, and he may pray as he is without redoing the wiping.

Similarly, whoever performs ablution or a ritual bath, then shaves his hair, trims it, or clips his nails, remains in a state of ablution and ritual purity throughout these acts and may pray as he is without wiping the areas where the hair was trimmed.

This is the view of a group of the early scholars, as reported to us from ʿAbd al-Razzāq from Sufyān al-Thawrī from Hishām ibn Ḥassān, and reported to us from Sufyān al-Thawrī from al-Fuḍayl ibn ʿAmr from Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī: that he would break his ablution, then wipe over his two jurmūq socks made of felt and remove them. Then, when he stood for prayer, he would put them on and pray.

As for Abū Ḥanīfah, he said: Whoever performs ablution and then wipes over his two khuffs, then removes one foot from its place to the shin area, or removes both of them in that manner, his wiping is nullified. He must remove both feet together [from the khuffs] and wash them. Similarly, according to him, the same ruling applies if he removes them entirely.

Abū Yūsuf said: Similarly, if he exposed more than half of the foot to the shin area.

He said: If one wears two jurmuqs over two khuffs, then wipes over them [the jurmuqs], then removes one of the jurmuqs, he must necessarily wipe over the khuff that was beneath the removed jurmuq and also wipe over the second jurmuq, for when part of the wiping is nullified, the entirety of it becomes nullified.

قَالَ فَلَوْ لَبِسَ جُرْمُوقَيْنِ عَلَى خُفَّيْنِ ثُمَّ مَسَحَ عَلَيْهِمَا ثُمَّ خَلَعَ أَحَدَ الْجُرْمُوقَيْنِ فَعَلَيْهِ أَنْ يَمْسَحَ عَلَى الْخُفِّ الَّذِي كَانَ تَحْتَ الْجُرْمُوقِ وَيَمْسَحَ أَيْضًا عَلَى الْجُرْمُوقِ الثَّانِي وَلَا بُدَّ، لِأَنَّ بَعْضَ الْمَسْحِ إِذَا انْتَقَضَ انْتَقَضَ كُلُّهُ.

L4033 He said: If he performs ablution and then closely shaves his hair, trims his mustache, and clips his nails, he remains in a state of ritual purity, and he does not need to rewet those parts.

قَالَ: فَلَوْ تَوَضَّأَ ثُمَّ جَزَّ شَعْرَهُ وَقَصَّ شَارِبَهُ وَأَظْفَارَهُ فَهُوَ عَلَى طَهَارَتِهِ، وَلَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ أَنْ يَمَسَّ الْمَاءُ شَيْئًا مِنْ ذَلِكَ.

L4034 As for Mālik, he said: Whoever wipes over his khuffs and then removes one of them must remove the other and wash both his feet. Similarly, if he removes both of them.

L4035 Similarly, if one removes one or both feet from the foot's designated area to the ankle area, they must remove both entirely and wash their feet. If they do not wash their feet immediately in that instance, they are obligated to restart ablution from the beginning. If they perform ablution and afterward trim their hair or cut their nails, they are not required to touch any of that water. It was stated: If they remove their heels or one heel from the foot's area to the ankle area, while the rest of both feet remains in the foot's position, they need not remove their feet for that reason, and their ablution remains valid.

L4036–4038 Al-Shafiʿi said: If one removes one of his khuffs, he must remove the second and wash his feet. If he removes both together, the same ruling applies (i.e., he must wash his feet). If he removes both feet from their position without fully taking off the khuffs or exposing any part beyond the shin area of the khuff, he remains in his state of purity, and nothing is required until he removes any part of the khuff that invalidates its validity. If the entire khuff is washed, he must remove both khuffs at that time and wash them completely. If one performs ablution then trims his hair or cuts his nails, he remains in his state of purity, and water need not touch any part of the trimmed hair or cut nails.

وَقَالَ الشَّافِعِيُّ: مَنْ خَلَعَ أَحَدَ خُفَّيْهِ لَزِمَهُ خَلْعُ الثَّانِي وَغَسْلُ قَدَمَيْهِ، فَإِنْ خَلَعَهُمَا جَمِيعًا فَكَذَلِكَ، فَلَوْ أَخْرَجَ رِجْلَيْهِ كِلَيْهِمَا عَنْ مَوْضِعِهِمَا وَلَمْ يُخْرِجْهُمَا وَلَا شَيْئًا مِنْهُمَا عَنْ مَوْضِعِ سَاقِ الْخُفِّ فَهُوَ عَلَى طَهَارَتِهِ، وَلَا شَيْءَ عَلَيْهِ حَتَّى يُخْرِجَ شَيْئًا مِمَّا يَجِبُ غَسْلُهُ عَنْ جَمِيعِ الْخُفِّ، فَيَلْزَمُهُ أَنْ يَخْلَعَهُمَا حِينَئِذٍ وَيَغْسِلَهُمَا، فَإِنْ تَوَضَّأَ ثُمَّ جَزَّ شَعْرَهُ أَوْ قَصَّ أَظْفَارَهُ فَهُوَ عَلَى طَهَارَتِهِ، وَلَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ أَنْ يَمَسَّ الْمَاءُ شَيْئًا مِنْ ذَلِكَ.

L4039 Al-Awzāʿī said: If one removes his two khuffs, trims his hair, or cuts his nails, he must renew the ablution upon removing the khuffs, wipe over his head, and apply water to the trimmed area of his hair and the cut area of his nails. This is the opinion of Aṭāʾ.

وَقَالَ الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ: إِنْ خَلَعَ خُفَّيْهِ أَوْ جَزَّ شَعْرَهُ أَوْ قَصَّ أَظْفَارَهُ لَزِمَهُ أَنْ يَبْتَدِئَ الْوُضُوءَ فِي خَلْعِ الْخُفَّيْنِ وَأَنْ يَمْسَحَ عَلَى رَأْسِهِ وَيُمِسَّ الْمَاءَ مَوْضِعَ الْقَطْعِ مِنْ أَظْفَارِهِ فِي الْجَزِّ وَالْقَصِّ، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ عَطَاءٍ.

L4040 And similarly, Al-Awza'i stated that if someone wipes over his turban and then removes it, he wipes his head with water.

وَكَذَلِكَ قَالَ الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ فِيمَنْ مَسَحَ عَلَى عِمَامَتِهِ ثُمَّ نَزَعَهَا فَإِنَّهُ يَمْسَحُ رَأْسَهُ بِالْمَاءِ.

L4041 Ali said: As for Abū Yūsuf's statement regarding the consideration of exposing more than half of the foot from its position—whereby washing both feet becomes obligatory—or exposing half of it or less, in which case washing the feet is not required, this constitutes a clear overreach in religious rulings and a divine law that Allah the Exalted has not authorized. It is neither mandated by the Qur'an nor the Sunnah, nor supported by analogy, a companion's opinion, or a universally applicable view. For they sometimes deem "much" as exceeding half, at other times a third, a quarter, a span overlapping another span, or even surpassing the size of a dirham—all of which reflects incoherent reasoning.

L4042 As for Mālik's distinction between moving the heel to the shin area—which he claims does not invalidate the masḥ—and moving the entire foot to the shin area—which he asserts invalidates the masḥ—this is an arbitrary ruling. It is impermissible to adopt this opinion, as it is not mandated by the Qur'ān, a sound or unsound Sunnah, the statement of a Companion, analogical reasoning, or consistent juristic rationale. This is because he maintains that the heel remaining unwashed during ablution is not purified, rendering the ablution invalid. If the masḥ is invalidated for the foot due to its movement beyond the position of the foot to the shin, then the masḥ must necessarily be invalidated for the heel when it moves beyond its position to the shin. No alternative is permissible. Conversely, if the masḥ is not invalidated when the heel moves to the shin, then it is likewise not invalidated when the entire foot moves to the shin, as Al-Shāfiʿī stated.

وَأَمَّا فَرْقُ مَالِكٍ بَيْنَ إِخْرَاجِ الْعَقِبِ إِلَى مَوْضِعِ السَّاقِ فَلَا يَنْتَقِضُ الْمَسْحُ، وَبَيْنَ إِخْرَاجِ الْقَدَمِ كُلِّهَا إِلَى مَوْضِعِ السَّاقِ فَيَنْتَقِضُ الْمَسْحُ، فَتَحَكُّمٌ أَيْضًا لَا يَجُوزُ الْقَوْلُ بِهِ وَلَا يُوجِبُهُ قُرْآنٌ وَلَا سُنَّةٌ صَحِيحَةٌ وَلَا سَقِيمَةٌ، وَلَا قَوْلُ صَاحِبٍ وَلَا قِيَاسٌ وَلَا رَأْيٌ مُطَّرِدٌ، لِأَنَّهُ يَرَى أَنَّ بَقَاءَ الْعَقِبِ فِي الْوُضُوءِ لَا يَطْهُرُ، إِنَّ فَاعِلَ ذَلِكَ لَا وُضُوءَ لَهُ، فَإِنْ كَانَ الْمَسْحُ قَدْ انْتَقَضَ عَنِ الرِّجْلِ بِخُرُوجِهَا عَنْ مَوْضِعِ الْقَدَمِ، فَلَا بُدَّ مِنِ انْتِقَاضِ الْمَسْحِ عَنِ الْعَقِبِ بِخُرُوجِهَا عَنْ مَوْضِعِهَا إِلَى مَوْضِعِ السَّاقِ، لَا يَجُوزُ غَيْرُ ذَلِكَ، وَإِنْ كَانَ الْمَسْحُ لَا يَنْتَقِضُ عَنِ الْعَقِبِ بِخُرُوجِهَا إِلَى مَوْضِعِ السَّاقِ، فَإِنَّهُ لَا يَنْتَقِضُ أَيْضًا بِخُرُوجِ الْقَدَمِ إِلَى مَوْضِعِ السَّاقِ كَمَا قَالَ الشَّافِعِيُّ.

L4043 As for their collective differentiation between wiping over the khuffs—then if they are removed, the wiping is invalidated and completing the ablution becomes obligatory—and between ablution followed by shaving the hair and trimming the nails, where neither the ablution is invalidated by trimming the nails nor the head wiping, this constitutes an invalid distinction marked by obvious contradiction. Were a person to reverse this ruling—obligating head wiping for one who shaved his hair and touched nail clippers with water, while deeming wiping unnecessary for one who removed his khuffs—there would be no distinction between them.

وَأَمَّا تَفْرِيقُهُمْ جَمِيعهُمْ بَيْنَ الْمَسْحِ عَلَى الْخُفَّيْنِ ثُمَّ يُخْلَعَانِ فَيَنْتَقِضُ الْمَسْحُ وَيَلْزَمُ إِتْمَامُ الْوُضُوءِ، وَبَيْنَ الْوُضُوءِ ثُمَّ يُجَزُّ الشَّعْرُ وَتُقَصُّ الْأَظْفَارُ فَلَا يَنْتَقِضُ الْغَسْلُ عَنْ مَقَصِّ الْأَظْفَارِ وَلَا الْمَسْحُ عَلَى الرَّأْسِ فَفَرْقٌ فَاسِدٌ ظَاهِرُ التَّنَاقُضِ وَلَوْ عَكَسَ إِنْسَانٌ هَذَا الْقَوْلَ فَأَوْجَبَ مَسْحَ الرَّأْسِ عَلَى مَنْ حَلَقَ شَعْرَهُ وَمَسَّ مِجَزَّ الْأَظْفَارِ بِالْمَاءِ وَلَمْ يَرَ الْمَسْحَ عَلَى مَنْ خَلَعَ خُفَّيْهِ، لَمَا كَانَ بَيْنَهَا فَرْقٌ.

L4044–4046 Ali said: “We found no foundational basis whatsoever for their position in that matter, except that some of them stated: ‘We found that wiping the head and washing the feet in [ritual] ablution were intended for the head itself (not the hair) and similarly intended for...” [The original text breaks off here.] The fingers, not the nails. When the hair is shaved and the nails are cut, the wudu remains valid as it was. As for wiping, it was specifically intended for the khuffayn [leather socks], not the feet. When they are removed, the feet remain without having been washed in ablution. Thus, he prays with feet that are neither washed nor wiped upon, so his wudu is deficient.

L4047 Abū Muḥammad said: This is invalid, for it is baseless and an arbitrary imposition of falsehood. If his statement were reversed and he were told: “Rather, wiping over the head and washing the nails are intended solely for the hair and nails themselves—evidenced by the fact that if there were henna on the hair and similarly on the nails, ablution would not be valid. As for the two leather socks, the intended focus of wiping is the feet, not the socks themselves, because if there were no feet, wiping over them would not be permissible.” Thus, it is confirmed that the ruling for the feet is washing if they are uncovered, and wiping if they are within two leather socks, since there is no valid distinction between the two opinions.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: وَهَذَا لَا شَيْءَ لِأَنَّهُ بَاطِلٌ وَتَحَكُّمٌ بِالْبَاطِلِ، فَلَوْ عُكِسَ عَلَيْهِ قَوْلُهُ فَقِيلَ لَهُ: بَلْ الْمَسْحُ عَلَى الرَّأْسِ وَغَسْلُ الْأَظْفَارِ إِنَّمَا قُصِدَ بِهِ الشَّعْرُ وَالْأَظْفَارُ فَقَطْ، بِدَلِيلِ أَنَّهُ لَوْ كَانَ عَلَى الشَّعْرِ حِنَّاءُ وَعَلَى الْأَظْفَارِ كَذَلِكَ لَمْ يَجُزْ الْوُضُوءُ، وَأَمَّا الْخُفَّانِ فَالْمَقْصُودُ بِالْمَسْحِ الْقَدَمَانِ لَا الْخُفَّانِ، لِأَنَّ الْخُفَّيْنِ لَوْلَا الْقَدَمَانِ لَمْ يَجُزْ الْمَسْحُ عَلَيْهِمَا فَصَحَّ أَنَّ حُكْمَ الْقَدَمَيْنِ الْغَسْلُ، إِنْ كَانَتَا مَكْشُوفَتَيْنِ، وَالْمَسْحُ إِنْ كَانَتَا فِي خُفَّيْنِ لَمَا كَانَ بَيْنَ الْقَوْلَيْنِ فَرْقٌ.

L4048 Then it is said to them: Suppose the matter is as you claimed—that the wiping is for the khuffs, the wiping in ablution is for the head, and the washing of the hands is for the fingers, not the nails.

ثُمَّ يُقَالُ لَهُمْ: هَبْكُمْ أَنَّ الْأَمْرَ كَمَا قُلْتُمْ فِي أَنَّ الْمَقْصُودَ بِالْمَسْحِ الْخُفَّانِ، وَبِالْمَسْحِ فِي الْوُضُوءِ الرَّأْسُ، وَبِغَسْلِ الْيَدَيْنِ لِلْأَصَابِعِ لَا لِلْأَظْفَارِ.

L4049 What then? Or from which source does it become obligatory from this that wiping is repeated upon removing the leather socks, yet it is not repeated upon shaving the hair?

L4050 Ali said: Thus, the invalidity of this opinion became evident.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَظَهَرَ فَسَادُ هَذَا الْقَوْلِ.

L4051 As for their claim that he prays with two feet neither washed nor wiped—this is false. Rather, he only prays upon [with] two feet that have been wiped over the two khuffs [leather socks] worn on them.

وَأَمَّا قَوْلُهُمْ: إنَّهُ يُصَلِّي بِقَدَمَيْنِ لَا مَغْسُولَتَيْنِ وَلَا مَمْسُوحٍ عَلَيْهِمَا - فَبَاطِلٌ، بَلْ مَا يُصَلِّي - إلَّا عَلَى قَدَمَيْنِ مَمْسُوحٍ عَلَى خُفَّيْنِ عَلَيْهِمَا.

L4052 Ali said: This statement is invalid as we have clarified. Similarly, their claim that one should wash only his feet is definitively invalid, because by their own acknowledgment his ablution had already been completed and his prayer performed with it became valid. Then you instructed him to wash only his feet. This must fall into one of two scenarios with no third possibility: either the previously completed ablution has been nullified or it remains valid. If it remains valid, this aligns with our position. If it has been nullified, he must recommence the ablution. Otherwise, this constitutes an impossible and invalid notion - it is inconceivable that an ablution, once fully completed, could have some parts nullified while others remain valid. Such a ruling is not supported by any textual evidence, legal analogy, or sound scholarly reasoning.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَبَطَلَ هَذَا الْقَوْلُ كَمَا بَيَّنَّا، وَكَذَلِكَ قَوْلُهُمْ: يَغْسِلُ رِجْلَيْهِ فَقَطْ، فَهُوَ بَاطِلٌ مُتَيَقَّنٌ، لِأَنَّهُ قَدْ كَانَ بِإِقْرَارِهِمْ قَدْ تَمَّ وُضُوءُهُ وَجَازَتْ لَهُ الصَّلَاةُ بِهِ ثُمَّ أَمَرْتُمُوهُ بِغَسْلِ رِجْلَيْهِ فَقَطْ، وَلَا يَخْلُو مِنْ أَحَدِ وَجْهَيْنِ لَا ثَالِثَ لَهُمَا: إمَّا أَنْ يَكُونَ الْوُضُوءُ الَّذِي قَدْ كَانَ تَمَّ قَدْ بَطَلَ أَوْ يَكُونَ لَمْ يَبْطُلْ، فَإِنْ كَانَ لَمْ يَبْطُلْ فَهَذَا قَوْلُنَا وَإِنْ كَانَ قَدْ بَطَلَ فَعَلَيْهِ أَنْ يَبْتَدِئَ الْوُضُوءَ، وَإِلَّا فَمِنْ الْمُحَالِ الْبَاطِلِ الَّذِي لَا يُخَيَّلُ أَنْ يَكُونَ وُضُوءٌ قَدْ تَمَّ ثُمَّ يُنْقَضُ بَعْضُهُ وَلَا يُنْقَضُ بَعْضُهُ، هَذَا أَمْرٌ لَا يُوجِبُهُ نَصٌّ وَلَا قِيَاسٌ وَلَا رَأْيٌ يَصِحُّ.

L4053 All these opinions are nullified, and none remains except our school's opinion or that of al-Awzāʿī.

فَبَطَلَتْ هَذِهِ الْأَقْوَالُ كُلُّهَا وَلَمْ يَبْقَ إلَّا قَوْلُنَا أَوْ قَوْلُ الْأَوْزَاعِيِّ.

L4054 So we examined that matter and found that the proof has been firmly established by the explicit texts of the Sunnah and the Quran: whoever performs ablution and wipes over his turban and leather socks, his ablution is complete, his ritual impurity is lifted, and his prayer becomes permissible.

فَنَظَرْنَا فِي ذَلِكَ فَوَجَدْنَا الْبُرْهَانَ قَدْ صَحَّ بِنَصِّ السُّنَّةِ وَالْقُرْآنِ عَلَى أَنَّ مَنْ تَوَضَّأَ وَمَسَحَ عَلَى عِمَامَتِهِ وَخُفَّيْهِ فَإِنَّهُ قَدْ تَمَّ وُضُوءُهُ وَارْتَفَعَ حَدَثُهُ وَجَازَتْ لَهُ الصَّلَاةُ.

L4055–4057 These opponents of ours are unanimously agreed regarding one who wipes his head and two khuffs, then removes them... Removing his leather socks (khuffs) and turban, shaving his head, cutting his hair short, or trimming his nails: Some scholars asserted that his wudu was invalidated, while others maintained his wudu remained valid. We examined this matter and concluded that shaving, cutting hair, trimming nails, removing the khuffs, and removing the turban—none of these actions constitute a hadath. Ritual purity (ṭahārah) is nullified solely by hadath acts or explicit textual evidence mandating its invalidation. Since there was neither a hadath nor textual evidence here nullifying his purity or any part of it, this opinion is invalid. The correct view is that he remains in a state of ritual purity and may pray as long as he does not commit a hadath. He is not obliged to wipe his head or nails, wash his feet, or repeat his wudu. Those who deemed wudu obligatory for such actions are akin to those who obligated it for walking, speaking, or removing his shirt—there is no distinction. Success is from Allah.

وَأَجْمَعَ هَؤُلَاءِ الْمُخَالِفُونَ لَنَا عَلَى ذَلِكَ فِيمَنْ مَسَحَ رَأْسَهُ وَخُفَّيْهِ ثُمَّ إنَّهُ لَمَّا خَلَعَ خُفَّيْهِ وَعِمَامَتَهُ وَحَلَقَ رَأْسَهُ أَوْ تَقَصَّصَ وَقَطَعَ أَظْفَارَهُ: قَالَ قَوْمٌ: قَدْ انْتَقَضَ وُضُوءُهُ، وَقَالَ آخَرُونَ لَمْ يَنْتَقِضْ وُضُوءُهُ فَنَظَرْنَا فِي ذَلِكَ فَوَجَدْنَا الْحَلْقَ وَقَصَّ الشَّعْرِ وَقَصَّ الْأَظْفَارِ

وَخَلْعَ الْخُفَّيْنِ وَالْعِمَامَةِ لَيْسَ شَيْءٌ مِنْهُ حَدَثًا، وَالطَّهَارَةُ لَا يَنْقُضُهَا إِلَّا الْأَحْدَاثُ، أَوْ نَصٌّ وَارِدٌ بِانْتِقَاضِهَا وَأَنَّهُ لَمْ يَكُنْ حَدَثٌ وَلَا نَصَّ هَهُنَا عَلَى انْتِقَاضِ طَهَارَتِهِ وَلَا عَلَى انْتِقَاضِ بَعْضِهَا فَبَطَلَ هَذَا الْقَوْلُ، وَصَحَّ الْقَوْلُ بِأَنَّهُ عَلَى طَهَارَتِهِ، وَأَنَّهُ يُصَلِّي مَا لَمْ يُحْدِثْ، وَلَا يَلْزَمُهُ مَسْحُ رَأْسِهِ وَلَا أَظْفَارِهِ وَلَا غَسْلُ رِجْلَيْهِ وَلَا إِعَادَةُ وُضُوئِهِ، وَكَانَ مَنْ أَوْجَبَ الْوُضُوءَ مِنْ ذَلِكَ كَمَنْ أَوْجَبَهُ مِنَ الْمَشْيِ أَوْ مِنَ الْكَلَامِ أَوْ مِنْ خَلْعِ قَمِيصِهِ وَلَا فَرْقَ. وَبِاللَّهِ التَّوْفِيقُ.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ تَعَمَّدَ لِبَاسَ الْخُفَّيْنِ عَلَى طَهَارَةٍ لِيَمْسَحَ عَلَيْهِمَا]

Case: If someone intentionally wears khuffs (leather socks) in a state of ritual purity to wipe over them.

220 - Question:

٢٢٠ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

And whoever intentionally wears the two khuffs (leather socks) in a state of purity to wipe over them, dyes his feet, or carries medication upon them, then wears them to wipe over that.

وَمَنْ تَعَمَّدَ لِبَاسَ الْخُفَّيْنِ عَلَى طَهَارَةٍ لِيَمْسَحَ عَلَيْهِمَا أَوْ خَضَبَ رِجْلَيْهِ أَوْ حَمَلَ عَلَيْهِمَا دَوَاءً ثُمَّ لَبِسَهُمَا لِيَمْسَحَ عَلَى ذَلِكَ.

Or if he dyed his head or placed medication on it, then wore a turban or khimar to wipe over that, he has done correctly.

This is because the scriptural text has explicitly permitted wiping over all such things without restriction, and no textual ruling has prohibited anything from any of this: {And your Lord is never forgetful} [19:64]. It has reached us from some early scholars that he said: Whoever performs ablution and then wears his khuffs so that he may spend the night in them to wipe over them, it is not permissible for him to wipe.[1]

وَذَلِكَ لِأَنَّهُ قَدْ جَاءَ النَّصُّ بِإِبَاحَةِ الْمَسْحِ عَلَى كُلِّ ذَلِكَ مُطْلَقًا. وَلَمْ يَحْظُرْ عَلَيْهِ شَيْئًا مِنْ هَذَا كُلِّهِ نَصٌّ: {وَمَا كَانَ رَبُّكَ نَسِيًّا} [مريم: ٦٤] وَبَلَغَنَا عَنْ بَعْضِ الْمُتَقَدِّمِينَ أَنَّهُ قَالَ: مَنْ تَوَضَّأَ ثُمَّ لَبِسَ خُفَّيْهِ لِيَبِيتَ فِيهَا لِيَمْسَحَ عَلَيْهِمَا فَلَا يَجُوزُ لَهُ الْمَسْحُ.

This is an error because it is an unsubstantiated claim and a restriction imposed on the Sunnah without evidence.

وَهَذَا خَطَأٌ لِأَنَّهُ دَعْوَى بِلَا بُرْهَانٍ وَتَخْصِيصٌ لِلسُّنَّةِ بِلَا دَلِيلٍ.

And every statement not validated by the text is therefore null and void. And success is from Allah, the Exalted.

وَكُلُّ قَوْلٍ لَمْ يُصَحِّحْهُ النَّصُّ فَهُوَ بَاطِلٌ. وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

[1] Qur'an references (L4062): Qur'an 19:64 (Maryam).

Case: He performed wiping while resident, then traveled before the expiration of a day and night or after their expiration.

221: Legal Question

Whoever performs wiping over footwear while in residence and then travels—whether before or after the completion of a day and night—must also continue wiping until his wiping is completed, covering all instances of wiping in both his residence and travel together, amounting to three days with their nights.

Thereafter, it is not permissible for him to wipe. If he wiped during travel then settled or entered his residence, he must begin wiping for a day and night if he had wiped during travel for two days and two nights or less. Then it is not permissible for him to wipe. If he wiped during his travel for less than three days and their nights but more than two days and two nights, he must wipe only the remainder of the third day and its night. Then it is not permissible for him to wipe. If he completed wiping three days and their nights during travel, he must necessarily remove them, and it is not permissible for him to wipe until he washes his feet.

The evidence for this is what we have previously mentioned: that the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) only permitted wiping for three days including their nights for the traveler, and a day and night for the resident. Thus, it is conclusively established that he did not permit anyone to wipe for more than three days including their nights – neither resident nor traveler. He only prohibited initiating wiping, not [prohibiting] prayers performed with prior wiping. This necessitates our stated position. Therefore, if one wipes while resident for a day and night, then travels, then returns before completing a day and night of travel... Or after completing the two periods [for wiping], it is impermissible for him to wipe at all, because if he were to do so, he would have wiped while in residential status for more than a day and night. This is absolutely impermissible.

Abu Hanifah and Sufyan said: If one wipes while residing and has not completed a day and night until he travels, he may continue wiping until he completes three days and nights from when he incurred a minor impurity while residing. But if he had already completed a day and night while residing before traveling, wiping is not permitted for him, and he must wash his feet.

وَمَنْ مَسَحَ فِي الْحَضَرِ ثُمَّ سَافَرَ - قَبْلَ انْقِضَاءِ الْيَوْمِ وَاللَّيْلَةِ أَوْ بَعْدَ انْقِضَائِهِمَا - مَسَحَ أَيْضًا حَتَّى يَتِمَّ لِمَسْحِهِ فِي كُلِّ مَا مَسَحَ فِي حَضَرِهِ وَسَفَرِهِ مَعًا ثَلَاثَةُ أَيَّامٍ بِلَيَالِيهَا.

ثُمَّ لَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ الْمَسْحُ، فَإِنْ مَسَحَ فِي سَفَرٍ ثُمَّ أَقَامَ أَوْ دَخَلَ مَوْضِعَهُ ابْتَدَأَ مَسْحَ يَوْمٍ وَلَيْلَةٍ إنْ كَانَ قَدْ مَسَحَ فِي السَّفَرِ يَوْمَيْنِ وَلَيْلَتَيْنِ فَأَقَلَّ، ثُمَّ لَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ الْمَسْحُ، فَإِنْ كَانَ مَسَحَ فِي سَفَرِهِ أَقَلَّ مِنْ ثَلَاثَةِ أَيَّامٍ بِلَيَالِيهَا وَأَكْثَرَ مِنْ يَوْمَيْنِ وَلَيْلَتَيْنِ مَسَحَ بَاقِيَ الْيَوْمِ الثَّالِثِ وَلَيْلَتِهِ فَقَطْ، ثُمَّ لَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ الْمَسْحُ، فَإِنْ كَانَ قَدْ أَتَمَّ فِي السَّفَرِ مَسَحَ ثَلَاثَةَ أَيَّامٍ بِلَيَالِيهَا خَلَعَ وَلَا بُدَّ، وَلَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ الْمَسْحُ حَتَّى يَغْسِلَ رِجْلَيْهِ.

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ مَا قَدْ ذَكَرْنَاهُ مِنْ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - لَمْ يُبِحْ الْمَسْحَ إلَّا ثَلَاثَةَ أَيَّامٍ لِلْمُسَافِرِ بِلَيَالِيهَا وَيَوْمًا وَلَيْلَةً لِلْمُقِيمِ، فَصَحَّ يَقِينًا أَنَّهُ لَمْ يُبِحْ لِأَحَدٍ أَنْ يَمْسَحَ أَكْثَرَ مِنْ ثَلَاثَةِ أَيَّامٍ بِلَيَالِيهَا، لَا مُقِيمًا وَلَا مُسَافِرًا، وَإِنَّمَا نَهَى عَنْ ابْتِدَاءِ الْمَسْحِ - لَا عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ بِالْمَسْحِ الْمُتَقَدِّمِ - فَوَجَبَ مَا قُلْنَا، فَلَوْ مَسَحَ فِي الْحَضَرِ يَوْمًا وَلَيْلَةً ثُمَّ سَافَرَ ثُمَّ رَجَعَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يُتِمَّ يَوْمًا وَلَيْلَةً فِي السَّفَرِ أَوْ بَعْدَ أَنْ أَتَمَّهُمَا لَمْ يَجُزْ لَهُ الْمَسْحُ أَصْلًا، لِأَنَّهُ لَوْ مَسَحَ لَكَانَ قَدْ مَسَحَ وَهُوَ فِي الْحَضَرِ أَكْثَرَ مِنْ يَوْمٍ وَلَيْلَةٍ، وَهَذَا لَا يَحِلُّ أَلْبَتَّةَ.

L4073 He said: If someone travels and wipes [their feet] for a day and a night or more, then returns or settles, they are no longer permitted to wipe and must wash their feet. However, if they wiped for less than a day and a night during travel and then return or settle, they may complete that day and night, but they may not renew the wiping for another day and a night.

L4074 Al-Shafi'i said: Whoever performs wiping while resident and then travels—if he has completed a full day and night, he must necessarily remove them; but if he has not completed a day and night, he is to wipe for the remainder of that day only, then he removes them.

L4075 Similarly, if one performed wiping during travel and then arrived, the ruling applies equally: whether he wiped for a full day and night during his journey and then arrived or settled, he is obliged to remove the khuffs without exception. If he wiped for less than a day and night during travel, he must complete the remaining duration of that day and night solely through wiping.

L4076 Our school's scholars have differed. Some held the opinion we mentioned, while others maintained: If one performs masḥ (wiping over footwear) during travel for less than three days including their nights, or three days including their nights but no longer, then upon arriving [at his residence], he must restart the wiping period of one day and night. If he does not exceed that period until he travels again, he must restart the three-day period including their nights. The latter group argued based on the apparent wording of the ḥadīth regarding it.

وَاخْتَلَفَ أَصْحَابُنَا، فَقَالَ بَعْضُهُمْ كَمَا قُلْنَا، وَقَالَ بَعْضُهُمْ: إِذَا مَسَحَ فِي سَفَرِهِ أَقَلَّ مِنْ ثَلَاثَةِ أَيَّامٍ بِلَيَالِيهَا، أَوْ ثَلَاثَةِ أَيَّامٍ بِلَيَالِيهَا لَا أَكْثَرَ وَقَدِمَ اسْتَأْنَفَ مَسْحَ يَوْمٍ وَلَيْلَةٍ فَإِنْ لَمْ يَزِدْ عَلَى ذَلِكَ حَتَّى سَافَرَ اسْتَأْنَفَ ثَلَاثَةَ أَيَّامٍ بِلَيَالِيهَا، وَاحْتَجَّ هَؤُلَاءِ بِظَاهِرِ لَفْظِ الْخَبَرِ فِي ذَلِكَ.

L4077 Ali said: The apparent wording of his statement confirms the validity of our position, for people are of two categories: resident and traveler. He (peace be upon him) permitted the traveler only three days and permitted the resident only one day among the three. Thus, he did not permit anyone—whether resident or traveler—more than three days. Whoever embarks on a journey wherein prayer is shortened wipes as a traveler does—three days including their nights. Whoever embarks on a journey shorter than that wipes as a resident does, for the ruling of this journey is equivalent to the ruling of residency. And with Allah, the Exalted, lies success.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَظَاهِرُ لَفْظِهِ يُوجِبُ صِحَّةَ قَوْلِنَا، لِأَنَّ النَّاسَ قِسْمَانِ: مُقِيمٌ وَمُسَافِرٌ، وَلَمْ يُبِحْ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لِلْمُسَافِرِ إِلَّا ثَلَاثًا، وَلَا أَبَاحَ لِلْمُقِيمِ إِلَّا بَعْضَ الثَّلَاثِ فَلَمْ يُبِحْ لِأَحَدٍ

Issue: The wiping over the two khuffs (leather socks) and what is worn on the feet, on their outer surface only.

222 - Issue:

The wiping over the khuffs [ankle-high leather socks] and footwear (garments worn over the feet) applies only to their outer surface. There is no valid basis for wiping the lower inner part beneath the foot, nor for covering the entirety of their outer surface. Whatever is wiped from their outer surface with a finger or more suffices.

The evidence for that is what was narrated to us by ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ, who narrated from Muḥammad ibn Isḥāq ibn as-Salīm, who narrated from Ibn al-Aʿrābī, who narrated from Abū Dāwūd, who narrated from Muḥammad ibn al-ʿAlāʾ, who narrated from Ḥafṣ ibn Ghiyāth, who narrated from al-Aʿmash, who narrated from Abū Isḥāq. From ʿAbd Khayr, from ʿAlī, who said: "If religion were based on opinion, the sole of the khuff would be more fitting to wipe than its top. Yet I saw the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) wiping over the outer surface of the two khuffs."

This is also the view held by Abū Ḥanīfah, Sufyān al-Thawrī, and Dāwūd. This was likewise the position of ʿAlī ibn Abī Ṭālib as we have mentioned, and of Qays ibn Saʿd.

As narrated to us through Abd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi, who narrated to us Sufyan al-Thawri, who narrated to us Abu Ishaq - who is al-Sabi'i - from Yazid ibn Abi al-Ala', who said: "I saw Qays ibn Sa'd urinate, then go to his belongings, perform ablution, and wipe over the upper surfaces of his leather socks until I saw the traces of his fingers upon them."

It has been narrated to us from Maʿmar ibn Ayyūb al-Sikhtiyānī, who said: I

- لَا مُقِيمٍ وَلَا مُسَافِرٍ - أَكْثَرَ مِنْ ثَلَاثٍ، وَمَنْ خَرَجَ إِلَى سَفَرٍ تُقْصَرُ فِي مِثْلِهِ الصَّلَاةُ مَسَحَ مَسْحَ مُسَافِرٍ، ثَلَاثًا بِلَيَالِيهِنَّ، وَمَنْ خَرَجَ دُونَ ذَلِكَ مَسَحَ مَسْحَ مُقِيمٍ؛ لِأَنَّ حُكْمَ هَذَا الْبُرُوزِ حُكْمُ الْحَضَرِ وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

[مَسْأَلَةُ الْمَسْحُ عَلَى الْخُفَّيْنِ وَمَا لُبِسَ عَلَى الرِّجْلَيْنِ عَلَى ظَاهِرِهِمَا فَقَطْ]

٢٢٢ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

وَالْمَسْحُ عَلَى الْخُفَّيْنِ وَمَا لُبِسَ عَلَى الرِّجْلَيْنِ إِنَّمَا هُوَ عَلَى ظَاهِرِهِمَا فَقَطْ، وَلَا يَصِحُّ مَعْنًى لِمَسْحِ بَاطِنِهِمَا الْأَسْفَلِ تَحْتَ الْقَدَمِ، وَلَا لِاسْتِيعَابِ ظَاهِرِهِمَا، وَمَا مُسِحَ مِنْ ظَاهِرِهِمَا بِأُصْبُعٍ أَوْ أَكْثَرَ أَجْزَأَ.

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ مَا حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ بْنِ السَّلِيمِ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْعَلَاءِ ثنا حَفْصُ بْنُ غِيَاثٍ ثنا الْأَعْمَشُ عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ عَنْ عَبْدِ خَيْرٍ عَنْ «عَلِيٍّ قَالَ: لَوْ كَانَ الدِّينُ بِالرَّأْيِ لَكَانَ أَسْفَلُ الْخُفِّ أَوْلَى بِالْمَسْحِ مِنْ أَعْلَاهُ، وَقَدْ رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَمْسَحُ عَلَى ظَاهِرِ الْخُفَّيْنِ» .

وَبِهِ يَقُولُ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ وَسُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ وَدَاوُد، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ كَمَا ذَكَرْنَا وَقَيْسِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ.

كَمَا رُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ مَهْدِيٍّ ثنا سُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ ثنا أَبُو إِسْحَاقَ هُوَ السَّبِيعِيُّ عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ أَبِي الْعَلَاءِ قَالَ: رَأَيْتُ قَيْسَ بْنَ سَعْدٍ بَالَ ثُمَّ أَتَى رَحْلَهُ فَتَوَضَّأَ وَمَسَحَ عَلَى خُفَّيْهِ عَلَى أَعْلَاهُمَا حَتَّى رَأَيْتُ أَثَرَ أَصَابِعِهِ عَلَى خُفَّيْهِ.

saw al-Ḥasan urinate, then perform ablution, then wipe over his two khuffayn on their outer surface with a single wipe, and I saw the marks of his fingers on the khuffayn.

L4087 And it has been narrated to us from Ibn Jurayj: I asked ʿAṭāʾ, "Do I wipe over the undersides of the two khuffs?" He replied, "No, only on their outer surfaces."

وَرُوِّينَا عَنِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ قُلْتُ لِعَطَاءٍ: أَمْسَحُ عَلَى بُطُونِ الْخُفَّيْنِ؟ قَالَ لَا إِلَّا بِظُهُورِهِمَا.

L4088 Ali said: Wiping does not require complete coverage; whatever is termed wiping has fulfilled his obligation. However, Abū Ḥanīfah said: Wiping over the khuffs is not valid unless done with three fingers. Sufyān, Zufar, Al-Shāfiʿī, and Dāwud said: If one wipes with a single finger, it suffices. Zufar said: If one wipes over most of the khuffs, it is valid.

L4089 Abu Muhammad said: Specifying three fingers and more for the khuffayn is a corrupt assertion and a baseless ruling in the religion, which Allah, the Exalted, has not permitted.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: تَحْدِيدُ الثَّلَاثِ أَصَابِعَ وَأَكْثَرِ الْخُفَّيْنِ كَلَامٌ فَاسِدٌ وَشَرْعٌ فِي الدِّينِ بَارِدٌ لَمْ يَأْذَنْ بِهِ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى.

L4090 Some of them cited as evidence that the scholars have agreed that if one wipes with three fingers, it suffices him, and if one wipes with fewer than three fingers, the scholars have indeed disagreed.

وَاحْتَجَّ بَعْضُهُمْ بِأَنَّهُمْ قَدْ اتَّفَقُوا عَلَى أَنَّهُ إِنْ مَسَحَ بِثَلَاثِ أَصَابِعَ أَجْزَأَهُ، وَإِنْ مَسَحَ بِأَقَلَّ فَقَدْ اخْتَلَفُوا.

L4091 Ali said: This demolishes most of their doctrines. They are told the like of this concerning the immediacy of ablution, the acts of sniffing water and expelling it, performing ablution with nabidh, and other such matters. How can it be permissible to uphold consensus when textual evidence exists that testifies to the view of some scholars? The textual proof prescribes wiping without restricting it to three fingers or fewer: {And your Lord is never forgetful} [Maryam: 64]. Rather, their assertion constitutes imposing obligations through disputed claims without textual basis, and this is a falsehood unanimously agreed to be falsehood.[2]

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا يَهْدِمُ عَلَيْهِمْ أَكْثَرَ مَذَاهِبِهِمْ، وَيُقَالُ لَهُمْ مِثْلُ هَذَا فِي فَوْرِ الْوُضُوءِ وَفِي الِاسْتِنْشَاقِ وَالِاسْتِنْثَارِ وَفِي الْوُضُوءِ بِالنَّبِيذِ وَغَيْرِ ذَلِكَ، فَكَيْفَ وَلَا تَحِلُّ مُرَاعَاةُ إِجْمَاعٍ إِذَا وُجِدَ النَّصُّ يَشْهَدُ لِقَوْلِ بَعْضِ الْعُلَمَاءِ، وَقَدْ جَاءَ النَّصُّ بِالْمَسْحِ دُونَ تَحْدِيدِ ثَلَاثَةِ أَصَابِعَ أَوْ أَقَلَّ {وَمَا كَانَ رَبُّكَ نَسِيًّا} [مريم: ٦٤] بَلْ هَذَا الَّذِي قَالُوا هُوَ إِيجَابُ الْفَرَائِضِ بِالدَّعْوَى الْمُخْتَلَفِ فِيهَا بِلَا نَصٍّ، وَهَذَا الْبَاطِلُ الْمُجْمَعُ عَلَى أَنَّهُ بَاطِلٌ.

L4092 They object by being told: Their consensus has been validated regarding the obligation of wiping with one finger, while they differed about the obligation of wiping with more than that. Thus, what is disputed is not obligatory; only what is agreed upon is obligatory. This is the soundest approach to juristic inference when no transmitted textual evidence exists.

وَيُعَارِضُونَ بِأَنْ يُقَالَ لَهُمْ: قَدْ صَحَّ إِجْمَاعُهُمْ عَلَى وُجُوبِ الْمَسْحِ بِأُصْبُعٍ وَاحِدَةٍ وَاخْتَلَفُوا فِي وُجُوبِ الْمَسْحِ بِمَا زَادَ، فَلَا يَجِبُ مَا اُخْتُلِفَ فِيهِ، وَإِنَّمَا الْوَاجِبُ مَا اتُّفِقَ عَلَيْهِ، وَهَذَا أَصَحُّ فِي الِاسْتِدْلَالِ إِذَا لَمْ يُوجَدْ لَفْظٌ مَرْوِيٌّ.

L4093 Al-Shāfiʿī said: It is recommended to wipe the outer surfaces of the two khuffs (i.e., leather socks) and their inner parts. If one limits oneself to their outer surfaces without the inner parts, it suffices for them. And if one limits oneself to the inner parts without the outer surfaces, it does not suffice for them.

وَقَالَ الشَّافِعِيُّ: يُسْتَحَبُّ مَسْحُ ظَاهِرِ الْخُفَّيْنِ وَبَاطِنِهِمَا، فَإِنْ اقْتَصَرَ عَلَى ظَاهِرِهِمَا دُونَ الْبَاطِنِ أَجْزَأَهُ، وَإِنْ اقْتَصَرَ عَلَى الْبَاطِنِ دُونَ الظَّاهِرِ لَمْ يُجْزِهِ.

L4094–4095 Ali said: And this has no meaning, because if wiping the lower part is neither an obligation nor has a recommendation been narrated for it, then it has no meaning.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا لَا مَعْنَى لَهُ، لِأَنَّهُ إِذَا كَانَ مَسْحُ الْأَسْفَلِ لَيْسَ فَرْضًا وَلَا جَاءَ نَدْبٌ إِلَيْهِ: فَلَا مَعْنَى لَهُ.

L4096 Mālik said: He wipes the outer and inner parts of them. Ibn al-Qāsim, his companion, said: If he wipes the outer part without the inner, he must repeat within the time. If he wipes the inner part without the outer, he must repeat perpetually.

وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: يَمْسَحُ ظَاهِرَهُمَا وَبَاطِنَهُمَا، قَالَ ابْنُ الْقَاسِمِ صَاحِبُهُ: إِنْ مَسَحَ الظَّاهِرَ دُونَ الْبَاطِنِ أَعَادَ فِي الْوَقْتِ، وَإِنْ مَسَحَ الْبَاطِنَ دُونَ الظَّاهِرِ أَعَادَ أَبَدًا.

L4097 It has been narrated to us the wiping of the exterior of the two khuffs and their interior from Ibn Jurayj from Nāfiʿ from Ibn ʿUmar, and from Maʿmar from al-Zuhrī.

وَقَدْ رُوِّينَا مَسْحَ ظَاهِرِ الْخُفَّيْنِ وَبَاطِنِهِمَا عَنِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ عَنْ نَافِعٍ عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ وَعَنْ مَعْمَرٍ عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ.

L4098 Ali said: Repetition within the prescribed time according to the principles of these people has no basis, for if one has fulfilled the obligatory acts of his ritual purification and prayer, repetition holds no validity. But if he has not fulfilled both, their position necessitates that he must pray perpetually.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: الْإِعَادَةُ فِي الْوَقْتِ عَلَى أُصُولِ هَؤُلَاءِ الْقَوْمِ لَا مَعْنَى لَهَا، لِأَنَّهُ إِنْ كَانَ أَدَّى فَرْضَ طَهَارَتِهِ وَصَلَاتِهِ فَلَا مَعْنَى لِلْإِعَادَةِ، وَإِنْ كَانَ لَمْ يُؤَدِّهِمَا فَيَلْزَمُهُ عِنْدَهُمْ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ أَبَدًا.

L4099 Those who hold the opinion of wiping the inner part of the two khuffs along with their outer part have argued based on a hadith we narrated through the chain of Al-Walid ibn Muslim via Thawr ibn Yazid, via Raja ibn Haywah, from the scribe of Al-Mughirah ibn Shu'bah, from Al-Mughirah ibn Shu'bah himself: "That the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—wiped the upper part of the two khuffs and their lower part." Another hadith we narrated from Ibn Wahb via Sulayman ibn Yazid Al-Ka'bi, from Abdullah ibn Amir Al-Aslami, from Ibn Shihab al-Zuhri, from Al-Mughirah ibn Shu'bah: "That he saw the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—wiping the upper part of the two khuffs and their lower part." Another hadith we narrated through the chain of Ibn Wahb: A man related to me from another man among prominent figures, from their elders, from Abu Umamah Al-Bahili and Ubadah ibn As-Samit: "That they saw the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—wiping the upper part of the two khuffs and their lower part."

آخَرَ رُوِّينَاهُ عَنْ بْنِ وَهْبٍ عَنْ سُلَيْمَانَ بْنِ يَزِيدَ الْكَعْبِيِّ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عَامِرٍ الْأَسْلَمِيِّ عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ عَنْ الْمُغِيرَةِ بْنِ شُعْبَةَ «أَنَّهُ رَأَى رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَمْسَحُ أَعْلَى الْخُفَّيْنِ وَأَسْفَلَهُمَا» وَآخَرُ رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ بْنِ وَهْبٍ: حَدَّثَنِي رَجُلٌ عَنْ رَجُلٍ مِنْ أَعْيَنَ عَنْ أَشْيَاخٍ لَهُمْ عَنْ أَبِي أُمَامَةَ الْبَاهِلِيِّ وَعُبَادَةَ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ «أَنَّهُمْ رَأَوْا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَمْسَحُ أَعْلَى الْخُفَّيْنِ وَأَسْفَلَهُمَا» .

L4100 Ali said: "All of this is baseless. As for the hadith of Abu Umamah and Ubadah, it is too evident to escape the notice of a discerning person, for it is narrated via someone unnamed, via someone whose identity is unknown, via someone unrecognized—and this is a disgrace."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: هَذَا كُلُّهُ لَا شَيْءَ، أَمَّا حَدِيثُ أَبِي أُمَامَةَ وَعُبَادَةَ فَأَسْقَطُ مِنْ أَنْ يَخْفَى عَلَى ذِي لُبٍّ؛ لِأَنَّهُ عَمَّنْ لَا يُسَمَّى عَمَّنْ لَا يُدْرَى مَنْ هُوَ عَمَّنْ لَا يُعْرَفُ، وَهَذَا فَضِيحَةٌ.

L4101 As for the two narrations attributed to Al-Mughira: the first is transmitted from Ibn Shihab from Al-Mughira, though Ibn Shihab was not born until long after Al-Mughira's death. The second involves tadlis (concealment of defects in the chain), wherein Al-Walid ibn Muslim erred in two instances. This is a report narrated to us by Hammam, who said: Narrated to us by Abbas ibn Asbagh; narrated to us by Muhammad ibn Abd al-Malik ibn Ayman; narrated to us by Abdullah ibn Ahmad ibn Hanbal, from his father, who said: Abd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi reported from Abdullah ibn al-Mubarak, from Thawr ibn Yazid, who said: It was conveyed to me from Raja' ibn Haywah, from the scribe of Al-Mughira, that "the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—wiped the upper and lower parts of the leather socks." Thus, it is confirmed that Thawr did not directly hear this from Raja' ibn Haywah, that the narration is mursal (a hadith with a missing link in the chain) as Al-Mughira is unmentioned, and a third defect: he did not name the scribe of Al-Mughira in it. Therefore, all reports in this chapter are invalidated, and with Allah, the Exalted, is success.

L4102 Issue: If a person wears something over which wiping is permissible without ablution and subsequently nullifies his ablution.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ لَبِسَ عَلَى رِجْلَيْهِ شَيْئًا مِمَّا يَجُوزُ الْمَسْحُ عَلَيْهِ عَلَى غَيْرِ طَهَارَةٍ ثُمَّ أَحْدَثَ]

L4103 223 - Issue:

٢٢٣ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

L4104–4106 And whoever wears on his feet something over which wiping is permissible on other than He had performed wudu, then experienced a minor impurity. When he intended to perform wudu and did so - having completed all parts of ablution except his feet - he was overcome by such intense fear that he could not wash his feet after having removed his khuffs. In this case, he should rise without wiping over them, pray as he is, and his prayer remains valid. If he later becomes able to remove his khuffs and finds water after completing his prayer, some scholars state he must remove them and wash his feet as an obligatory act without repeating his prayer. If he gains this ability before pronouncing the final salām, his prayer becomes invalid. He must then remove what covers his feet, wash them, and restart the prayer. Others maintain that his wudu remains complete, and he may pray with it unless nullified by a new impurity - not merely due to finding water. This latter view is the most correct.

L4107 The evidence for this is the statement of the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—which we previously mentioned with its chain of transmission in what has preceded of this book of ours: “When I command you to do something, do as much of it as you can,” and the words of Allah the Exalted: “Allah does not burden any soul beyond its capacity” [Al-Baqarah: 286]. When this person is unable to wash his feet, the obligation to wash them is waived, and he remains obligated to perform ablution for the other limbs he can wash. When this is the case, he has performed ablution as commanded by Allah, the Mighty and Majestic, and whoever performs ablution as Allah has commanded, his prayer is complete.[3] بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ قَوْلُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَاهُ بِإِسْنَادِهِ فِيمَا مَضَى مِنْ كِتَابِنَا هَذَا «إِذَا أَمَرْتُكُمْ بِشَيْءٍ فَأْتُوا مِنْهُ مَا اسْتَطَعْتُمْ» وَقَوْلُ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {لا يُكَلِّفُ اللَّهُ نَفْسًا إِلا وُسْعَهَا} [البقرة: ٢٨٦] فَلَمَّا عَجَزَ هَذَا عَنْ غَسْلِ رِجْلَيْهِ سَقَطَ حُكْمُهُمَا، وَبَقِيَ عَلَيْهِ مَا قَدَرَ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ وُضُوءِ سَائِرِ أَعْضَائِهِ، وَإِذَا كَانَ كَذَلِكَ فَقَدْ تَوَضَّأَ كَمَا أَمَرَهُ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ، وَمَنْ تَوَضَّأَ كَمَا أَمَرَ اللَّهُ فَصَلَاتُهُ تَامَّةٌ.

L4108 As for those who claim that if one has access to water, they are obligated to complete their ablution as a duty—thereby validating their prayer—and that if such access arises during prayer, they must not continue the remaining prayer except with a complete ablution, arguing that the acts of prayer may not be interrupted by extraneous actions, this is an invalid opinion and an unsubstantiated assertion. Rather, textual evidence from the Quran and Sunnah establishes that one has performed ablution as commanded, their purification is fully complete, and they are entitled to pray. It is invalid to reimpose the ruling of ritual invalidators without an actual occurrence, unless a text explicitly mandates it, in which case adherence is required. However, no textual proof exists in this issue requiring the repetition of ablution. Thus, neither repeating ablution nor washing the feet is obligatory, as one remains in a state of complete purity. Nevertheless, they may pray with that ablution as long as they do not invalidate it, for the reasons we have elaborated.

وَأَمَّا مَنْ قَالَ: إِنَّهُ إِذَا قَدَرَ عَلَى الْمَاءِ لَزِمَهُ إِتْمَامُ وُضُوئِهِ فَرْضًا وَقَدْ تَمَّتْ صَلَاتُهُ، فَلَوْ قَدَرَ عَلَى ذَلِكَ فِي صَلَاتِهِ فَقَدْ لَزِمَهُ فَرْضًا أَنْ لَا يُتِمَّ مَا بَقِيَ مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ إِلَّا بِوُضُوءٍ تَامٍّ،

L4109 If it is said that we have applied the analogy (qiyas) of that [matter] to tayammum (dry ablution).

فَإِنْ قِيلَ: قِسْنَا ذَلِكَ عَلَى التَّيَمُّمِ.

L4110 We said: All qiyas is invalid. From where do you derive that if this obligation applies in tayammum, it must equally apply to one unable to use some of his limbs? You possess nothing but your mere assertion that this obligation applies to the incapacitated person as it does in tayammum - an assertion inherently requiring evidence. Whoever seeks to establish rulings through mere assertion pursues falsehood. Furthermore, even if qiyas were valid, this particular application would remain invalid, for they concur with us that one unable to use some limbs - such as one who has lost both legs or suffers comparable impairments - is not permitted to perform tayammum. His ruling is strictly to wash the remaining parts of his face and forearms, wipe only his head, whereby his wuḍū' becomes complete and his prayer valid. Since they do not grant him the right to perform tayammum, it is impermissible to assign him the ruling of tayammum. This position is more sound than their qiyas.

L4111 And all praise is due to Allah, Lord of the worlds.

وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ. -

[كِتَابُ التَّيَمُّمِ] [مَسْأَلَةٌ يَتَيَمَّمُ مِنَ الْمَرْضَى مَنْ لَا يَجِدُ الْمَاءَ]

٢٢٤ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

لَا يَتَيَمَّمُ مِنَ الْمَرْضَى إِلَّا مَنْ لَا يَجِدُ الْمَاءَ، أَوْ مَنْ عَلَيْهِ مَشَقَّةٌ وَحَرَجٌ فِي الْوُضُوءِ بِالْمَاءِ أَوْ فِي الْغُسْلِ بِهِ أَوْ الْمُسَافِرُ الَّذِي لَا يَجِدُ الْمَاءَ الَّذِي يَقْدِرُ عَلَى الْوُضُوءِ بِهِ أَوْ الْغُسْلِ بِهِ

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ قَوْلُ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {وَإِنْ كُنْتُمْ مَرْضَى أَوْ عَلَى سَفَرٍ أَوْ جَاءَ أَحَدٌ مِنْكُمْ مِنَ الْغَائِطِ أَوْ لامَسْتُمُ النِّسَاءَ فَلَمْ تَجِدُوا مَاءً فَتَيَمَّمُوا صَعِيدًا طَيِّبًا فَامْسَحُوا بِوُجُوهِكُمْ وَأَيْدِيكُمْ مِنْهُ مَا يُرِيدُ اللَّهُ لِيَجْعَلَ عَلَيْكُمْ مِنْ حَرَجٍ وَلَكِنْ يُرِيدُ لِيُطَهِّرَكُمْ وَلِيُتِمَّ نِعْمَتَهُ عَلَيْكُمْ لَعَلَّكُمْ تَشْكُرُونَ} [المائدة: ٦] فَهَذَا نَصُّ مَا قُلْنَاهُ وَإِسْقَاطُ الْحَرَجِ، وَقَالَ تَعَالَى: {يُرِيدُ اللَّهُ بِكُمُ الْيُسْرَ وَلا يُرِيدُ بِكُمُ الْعُسْرَ} [البقرة: ١٨٥] فَالْحَرَجُ وَالْعُسْرُ سَاقِطَانِ - وَلِلَّهِ تَعَالَى الْحَمْدُ - سَوَاءٌ زَادَتْ عِلَّتُهُ أَوْ لَمْ تَزِدْ، وَكَذَلِكَ إِنْ خَشِيَ زِيَادَةَ عِلَّتِهِ فَهُوَ أَيْضًا عُسْرٌ وَحَرَجٌ.

وَقَالَ عَطَاءٌ وَالْحَسَنُ: الْمَرِيضُ لَا يَتَيَمَّمُ أَصْلًا مَا دَامَ يَجِدُ الْمَاءَ، وَلَا يُجْزِيهِ إِلَّا الْغُسْلُ وَالْوُضُوءُ، الْمَجْدُورُ وَغَيْرُ الْمَجْدُورِ سَوَاءٌ.

٢٢٥ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

وَسَوَاءٌ كَانَ السَّفَرُ قَرِيبًا أَوْ بَعِيدًا، سَفَرَ طَاعَةٍ كَانَ أَوْ سَفَرَ مَعْصِيَةٍ أَوْ مُبَاحًا، هَذَا مِمَّا لَا نَعْلَمُ فِيهِ خِلَافًا، إِلَّا أَنَّ بَعْضَ الْعُلَمَاءِ ذَكَرَ قَوْلًا لَمْ يَنْسِبْهُ إِلَى أَحَدٍ، وَهُوَ أَنَّ التَّيَمُّمَ لَا يَجُوزُ إِلَّا فِي سَفَرٍ تُقْصَرُ فِيهِ الصَّلَاةُ.

L4112–4113 [The Book of Tayammum] [A ruling: Those from the sick who do not find water may perform Tayammum.]

L4114 224 – Question:

L4115 The sick should not perform tayammum except those who cannot find water, or those experiencing hardship and distress in performing wudu with water or ghusl with it, or the traveler who cannot find water suitable for wudu or ghusl.

L4116 The proof of this is the statement of Allah, the Most High: {If you are ill, on a journey, one of you has relieved himself, or you have had sexual intercourse with women and find no water, then perform tayammum with pure soil and wipe your faces and hands with it. Allah does not intend to place hardship upon you, but He intends to purify you and complete His favor upon you that you may be grateful} [Al-Mā'idah: 6]. This is the explicit text of what we have stated regarding the removal of hardship. He, the Most High, also said: {Allah intends ease for you and does not intend difficulty for you} [Al-Baqarah: 185]. Thus, hardship and difficulty are removed—and all praise is due to Allah, the Most High—whether one's ailment has worsened or not. Similarly, if one fears the worsening of one's ailment, that also constitutes difficulty and hardship.[1]

L4117 Aṭā' and al-Ḥasan said: A sick person should not perform _tayammum_ (dry ablution) at all as long as water is accessible, and only performing _ghusl_ (full ritual washing) and _wuḍū'_ (ablution) suffices for him; those with skin lesions and those without are the same.

L4119 Whether the journey is near or far, whether it is a journey of obedience, a sinful journey, or a permissible journey—this is among matters where we know of no disagreement, except that some scholars cited an unattributed opinion stating that dry ablution (tayammum) is only permissible during a journey in which prayer is shortened.

[1] Qur'an references (L4116): Qur'an 5:6 (Al-Ma'idah); Qur'an 2:185 (Al-Baqarah).

L4120 Ali said: Indeed, it is incumbent upon those who define conditions for shortening prayers and breaking the fast to specify distinctions between one type of journey and another – distinguishing between some distances and others, and between some journeys and others. They have further differentiated between travel for obedience and disobedience by applying such distinctions to tayammum. Yet this is among matters where they have contradicted themselves in the most egregious manner. If they claim consensus here, it necessarily obliges them – given their purported adherence to analogy – to analogize the disputed aspects of travel's conditions pertaining to prayer shortening, breaking the fast, and wiping over footwear to the agreed-upon conditions of travel in tayammum. Otherwise, they have abandoned analogy and opposed the Quran and the Sunnah. And success is from Allah alone.

وَالْمَرَضُ هُوَ كُلُّ مَا أَحَالَ الْإِنْسَانَ عَنْ الْقُوَّةِ وَالتَّصَرُّفِ، هَذَا حُكْمُ اللُّغَةِ الَّتِي بِهَا نَزَلَ الْقُرْآنُ، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L4121–4122 Legal Issue:

L4123 Illness is anything that diverts a person from strength and agency. This is the ruling of the language in which the Quran was revealed, and success is from Allah, the Most High.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ يَتَيَمَّمُ مَنْ كَانَ فِي الْحَضَرِ صَحِيحًا إذَا كَانَ لَا يَقْدِرُ عَلَى الْمَاءِ]

Ruling: A settled person who is healthy must perform tayammum (dry ablution) when unable to access water.

٢٢٧ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَيَتَيَمَّمُ مَنْ كَانَ فِي الْحَضَرِ صَحِيحًا إذَا كَانَ لَا يَقْدِرُ عَلَى الْمَاءِ إلَّا بَعْدَ خُرُوجِ وَقْتِ الصَّلَاةِ، وَلَوْ أَنَّهُ عَلَى شَفِيرِ الْبِئْرِ وَالدَّلْوُ فِي يَدِهِ أَوْ عَلَى شَفِيرِ النَّهْرِ وَالسَّاقِيَةِ وَالْعَيْنِ، إلَّا أَنَّهُ يُوقِنُ أَنَّهُ لَا يُتِمُّ وُضُوءَهُ أَوْ غُسْلَهُ حَتَّى يَطْلُعَ أَوَّلُ قَرْنِ الشَّمْسِ، وَكَذَلِكَ الْمَسْجُونُ وَالْخَائِفُ.

L4124 Ruling: A settled person who is healthy must perform tayammum (dry ablution) when unable to access water.

L4125 227 – Issue:

L4126 Ali said: A healthy person in a residential area may perform tayammum if they cannot obtain water until after the prayer's time has ended - even if standing at a well's edge with a bucket in hand, or beside a river, waterwheel, or spring - provided they are certain they cannot complete their wudu or ghusl before the first rays of the sun emerge. This ruling equally applies to the imprisoned and those in fearful circumstances.

L4127 The proof of this is what was narrated to us by Abdullah ibn Yusuf, who narrated to us Ahmad ibn Fath, who narrated to us Abd al-Wahhab ibn Isa, who narrated to us Ahmad ibn Muhammad, who narrated to us Ahmad ibn Ali, who narrated to us Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj, who narrated to us Abu Bakr ibn Abi Shaybah, who narrated to us Muhammad ibn Fudayl, from Abu Malik al-Ashja'i, from Rib'i ibn Hirash, from Hudhayfah, who said: The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, stated, "We have been granted superiority over other people in three matters," mentioning among them: "The earth has been made a place of prostration for us, and its dust has been made a purifier for us when we cannot find water."

بْنُ فُضَيْلٍ عَنْ أَبِي مَالِكٍ الْأَشْجَعِيِّ عَنْ رِبْعِيِّ بْنِ حِرَاشٍ عَنْ حُذَيْفَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «فُضِّلْنَا عَلَى النَّاسِ بِثَلَاثٍ» ، فَذَكَرَ فِيهَا: «وَجُعِلَتْ لَنَا الْأَرْضُ مَسْجِدًا، وَجُعِلَتْ تُرْبَتُهَا لَنَا طَهُورًا إِذَا لَمْ نَجِدْ الْمَاءَ» .

L4128 And through him to Muslim: Qutaybah ibn Sa'īd narrated to us: Ismā'īl—that is, Ibn Ja'far—from al-'Alā' ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān, from his father, from Abū Hurayrah, that the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) said: "I have been favored over the prophets with six traits: I have been granted the comprehensive words (jawāmiʿ al-kalim), I have been aided by terror [struck into enemies], spoils have been made lawful for me, the earth has been made a purifying agent and a mosque for me, I have been sent to all people, and the prophets have been sealed with me."

L4129 This is a general ruling encompassing both residents and travelers. If it is objected: "Allah the Exalted says: {O you who believe, do not approach prayer while intoxicated until you comprehend what you utter, nor in a state of major impurity—except as wayfarers passing through—until you perform ghusl} [An-Nisa': 43], and Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—said: 'Allah does not accept the prayer of one who invalidates his ablution until he performs ablution again,'" then the Almighty has not permitted those in major impurity to approach prayer until performing ghusl or tayammum, except when traveling.[2] فَهَذَا عُمُومٌ دَخَلَ فِيهِ الْحَاضِرُ وَالْبَادِي. فَإِنْ قِيلَ: فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى قَالَ: {يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لا تَقْرَبُوا الصَّلاةَ وَأَنْتُمْ سُكَارَى حَتَّى تَعْلَمُوا مَا تَقُولُونَ وَلا جُنُبًا إِلا عَابِرِي سَبِيلٍ حَتَّى تَغْتَسِلُوا} [النساء: ٤٣] وَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «لَا تُقْبَلُ صَلَاةُ مَنْ أَحْدَثَ حَتَّى يَتَوَضَّأَ» فَلَمْ يُبِحْ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ لِلْجُنُبِ أَنْ يَقْرَبَ الصَّلَاةَ حَتَّى يَغْتَسِلَ أَوْ يَتَوَضَّأَ إِلَّا مُسَافِرًا.

L4130–4132 We said: Yes, Allah the Exalted has stated this, and the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—has mentioned what you have cited. The Exalted also said: "If you are in a state of major impurity, purify yourselves. But if you are ill, on a journey, one of you has come from defecation, or you have had contact with women and find no water, then seek clean earth and wipe your faces and hands with it" (5:6). This verse was an additional ruling and came with legislation not present in the verse you mentioned, which merely permits a person in a state of major impurity—who is not a wayfarer—to approach prayer without bathing. However, if he is ill and cannot find water or faces hardship, this verse was likewise an additional ruling. Regarding the narration whose wording is: "The prayer of one who has nullified their ablution is not accepted until they perform ablution," then came the two narrations we mentioned with supplementary details and general applicability beyond the two verses and the aforementioned narration. Thus, these two narrations encompass the physically pure resident who cannot find water, while the words of Allah the Exalted and the words of His Messenger—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—necessitate the obligation of reconciling their parts with one another, all of which originate from Allah the Exalted.[3]

L4133 Our opinion here is the opinion of Mālik, Sufyān, and al-Layth. Abū Ḥanīfah and al-Shāfiʿī said: A non-traveler does not perform dry ablution. However, if he cannot obtain water until the prayer time elapses, he is to perform dry ablution and pray, then he must necessarily repeat the prayer when he finds water. Zufar said: A healthy person in settled areas must not perform dry ablution at all even if the prayer time elapses. Instead, he must wait until the time elapses and finds water, then pray at that time.

L4134 Ali said: As for the position of Abū Ḥanīfa and al-Shāfiʿī, it is evidently invalid because their instruction for him to perform tayammum and pray must necessarily be either that they commanded him to perform a prayer constituting an obligation imposed by Allah the Exalted upon him, or a prayer not ordained by Allah the Exalted upon him—with no third alternative. If their follower claims they commanded him to perform an obligatory prayer, we counter: Why must he repeat it after its time if he already fulfilled his duty? If they claim they commanded a non-obligatory prayer, they admit imposing what is not required—which is erroneous. As for Zufar's position, it is erroneous because he neglected Allah the Exalted's obligation to perform prayer within its ordained time—the timeframe Allah commanded for its performance—while obligating him to pray during the time to which Allah the Exalted forbade delaying it.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: أَمَّا قَوْلُ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ وَالشَّافِعِيِّ فَظَاهِرُ الْفَسَادِ، لِأَنَّهُ لَا يَخْلُو أَمْرُهُمَا لَهُ بِالتَّيَمُّمِ وَالصَّلَاةِ مِنْ أَنْ يَكُونَا أَمَرَاهُ بِصَلَاةٍ هِيَ فَرْضُ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى عَلَيْهِ أَوْ بِصَلَاةٍ لَمْ يَفْرِضْهَا اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عَلَيْهِ، وَلَا سَبِيلَ إلَى قِسْمٍ ثَالِثٍ، فَإِنْ قَالَ مُقَلِّدُهُمَا أَمَرَاهُ بِصَلَاةٍ: هِيَ فَرْضٌ عَلَيْهِ، قُلْنَا فَلِمَ يُعِيدُهَا بَعْدَ الْوَقْتِ إنْ كَانَ قَدْ أَدَّى فَرْضَهُ؟ وَإِنْ قَالُوا: بَلْ أَمَرَاهُ بِصَلَاةٍ لَيْسَتْ فَرْضًا عَلَيْهِ، أَقَرَّا بِأَنَّهُمَا أَلْزَمَاهُ مَا لَا يَلْزَمُهُ، وَهَذَا خَطَأٌ، وَأَمَّا قَوْلُ زُفَرَ فَخَطَأٌ، لِأَنَّهُ أَسْقَطَ فَرْضَ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى فِي الصَّلَاةِ فِي الْوَقْتِ الَّذِي أَمَرَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِأَدَائِهَا فِيهِ، وَأَلْزَمَهُ إيَّاهَا فِي الْوَقْتِ الَّذِي حَرَّمَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى تَأْخِيرَهَا إلَيْهِ.

[3] Qur'an references (L4130): Qur'an 5:6 (Al-Ma'idah).

L4135 Abu Muhammad said: Prayer is an obligation bound to a specified time, and the emphasis placed upon it is too immense for any Muslim to be unaware of. The Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—stated, "When I command you to do something, fulfill it to the best of your ability." We have determined that the person upon whom the prayer is incumbent is commanded to perform ablution and—if in a state of major impurity—a full ritual bath, and to pray. If he becomes incapable of performing the bath or ablution, these obligations are lifted from him. The Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—explicitly stated that the earth serves as a means of purification when one cannot find water and is incapable of obtaining it. Thus, the obligation is lifted from him, while prayer remains binding upon him as he retains capability for it. This is clear, and all praise is due to Allah, Lord of the worlds.

L4136 An issue concerning the journey during which tayammum is performed.

٢٢٨ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

وَالسَّفَرُ الَّذِي يُتَيَمَّمُ فِيهِ هُوَ الَّذِي يُسَمَّى عِنْدَ الْعَرَبِ سَفَرًا سَوَاءٌ كَانَ مِمَّا تُقْصَرُ فِيهِ الصَّلَاةُ أَوْ مِمَّا لَا تُقْصَرُ فِيهِ الصَّلَاةُ، وَمَا كَانَ دُونَ ذَلِكَ - مِمَّا لَا يَقَعُ عَلَيْهِ اسْمُ السَّفَرِ مِنْ الْبُرُوزِ عَنْ الْمَنَازِلِ - فَهُوَ فِي حُكْمِ الْحَاضِرِ، فَأَمَّا الْمُسَافِرُ سَفَرًا يَقَعُ عَلَيْهِ اسْمُ سَفَرٍ وَالْمَرِيضُ الَّذِي لَهُ التَّيَمُّمُ فَالْأَفْضَلُ لَهُمَا أَنْ يَتَيَمَّمَا فِي أَوَّلِ الْوَقْتِ، سَوَاءٌ رَجَوْا الْمَاءَ أَوْ أَيْقَنَا بِوُجُودِهِ قَبْلَ خُرُوجِ الْوَقْتِ، أَوْ أَيْقَنَا أَنَّهُ لَا يُوجَدُ حَتَّى يَخْرُجَ الْوَقْتُ، وَكَذَلِكَ رَجَاءُ الصِّحَّةِ وَلَا فَرْقَ، وَأَمَّا الْحَاضِرُ الصَّحِيحُ وَمَنْ لَهُ حُكْمُ الْحَاضِرِ فَلَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ التَّيَمُّمُ إلَّا حَتَّى يُوقِنَ بِخُرُوجِ الْوَقْتِ قَبْلَ إمْكَانِ الْمَاءِ.

L4137 228: Question

L4138–4140 The journey in which dry ablution is permitted is that which the Arabs customarily designate as travel, whether it is a journey requiring prayer shortening or not. Departures from dwellings that do not meet the definition of travel are subject to the rulings applicable to residents. As for the traveler undertaking a valid journey and the sick person entitled to perform dry ablution, it is most preferable for them to perform it at the beginning of each prayer's prescribed time. It is the same whether they hoped for water, became certain of its presence before the time elapses, or became certain it would not be found until after the time elapses. Similarly, hoping for valid ablution conditions entails no difference. As for the physically sound person present near water and those who share the ruling of the present person, it is not permissible for them to perform tayammum unless they are certain the time has elapsed prior to water's availability.

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ أَنَّ النَّصَّ وَرَدَ فِي الْمُسَافِرِ الَّذِي لَا يَجِدُ الْمَاءَ، وَفِي الْمَرِيضِ كَذَلِكَ وَفِي الْمَرِيضِ ذِي الْحَرَجِ، وَكَانَ الْبِدَارُ إلَى الصَّلَاةِ أَفْضَلَ، لِقَوْلِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {وَسَارِعُوا إِلَى

L4141 The proof of this is that the text pertains to the traveler who cannot find water, the sick person, and similarly the sick person facing constraint. Hastening to pray is more virtuous, according to Allah's statement, the Most High: {And hasten toward forgiveness from your Lord} [Āl ʿImrān 3:133]. As for the resident, there is no disagreement among anyone that as long as he hopes to find water before the prayer time expires, it is impermissible for him to perform Tayammum. Tayammum is only permitted for him when it is certain the time has expired, but this is disputed. Had the text not existed, it would not have been permissible for him.[4]

L4142 In the well-known opinion attributed to Abū Ḥanīfah, a traveler should not perform tayammum except at the end of the prayer time. However, it has been narrated from him that this ruling applies only as long as he entertains hope of finding water; if he does not expect to find water, he must perform tayammum at the beginning of the time.

L4143 And Sufyan said: The traveler should delay performing tayammum (dry ablution) until the end of the prayer time, in the hope that he may find water. This is the opinion of Imam Ahmad ibn Hanbal.

L4144 It has also been narrated from ʿAlī and Aṭāʾ, and Mālik stated on one occasion: One should neither rush nor postpone, but rather in the middle of the time.

L4145 He also said on another occasion: If one is certain of the presence of water before the prayer time ends, they should delay tayammum until the end of the prayer time. If they find water, they use it; otherwise, they perform tayammum and pray. If they are hopeful of finding water before the prayer time ends, they delay tayammum until the middle of the prayer time, perform it then, and pray. If they are certain they will not find water before the prayer time elapses, they perform tayammum at the beginning of the prayer time and pray.

L4146 Al-Awzaʿī said: "All of that is the same."

L4147 Ali said: Clinging to delaying tayammum in hopes of finding water is baseless, for there is neither textual evidence nor consensus that the ritual practice of one performing wudu is superior to that of one performing tayammum, nor that the prayer of one performing wudu is superior or more perfect than that of one performing tayammum. Both rituals constitute complete purification and complete prayer, each being obligatory in its circumstance. Since this is so, delaying prayer in hopes of finding water constitutes forsaking the merit of promptly pursuing superior acts without basis. Similar rulings have been reported from the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—and from Ibn Umar and others.

L4148–4150 Narrated to us Abd al-Rahman ibn Abd Allah ibn Khalid narrated to us Ibrahim ibn Ahmad narrated to us Al-Farbari narrated to us Al-Bukhari narrated to us Yahya ibn Bukayr, who said: Al-Layth narrated to us from Ja'far ibn Rabi'ah from Al-A'raj, who said: I heard Umayr, the freed slave of Ibn Abbas, say: I approached with Abdullah ibn Yasar, the freed slave of Maymunah, the wife of... The Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, when we entered upon Abu Juhaym ibn al-Harith ibn al-Simmah al-Ansari.

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ خَالِدٍ ثنا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ ثنا الْفَرَبْرِيُّ ثنا الْبُخَارِيُّ ثنا يَحْيَى بْنُ بُكَيْرٍ قَالَ حَدَّثَنَا اللَّيْثُ عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ رَبِيعَةَ عَنْ الْأَعْرَجِ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ عُمَيْرًا مَوْلَى ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: أَقْبَلْتُ أَنَا وَعَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ يَسَارٍ مَوْلَى مَيْمُونَةَ زَوْجِ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - حَتَّى دَخَلْنَا عَلَى أَبِي جُهَيْمِ بْنِ الْحَارِثِ بْنِ الصِّمَّةِ الْأَنْصَارِيِّ.

L4151 He said: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—approached from the direction of Camel Well when a man met him and greeted him. The Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—did not respond to him until he turned toward a wall, wiped his face and hands, then returned the greeting."

قَالَ «أَقْبَلَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - مِنْ نَحْوِ بِئْرِ جَمَلٍ فَلَقِيَهُ رَجُلٌ فَسَلَّمَ عَلَيْهِ فَلَمْ يَرُدَّ عَلَيْهِ النَّبِيُّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - حَتَّى أَقْبَلَ عَلَى الْجِدَارِ فَمَسَحَ بِوَجْهِهِ وَيَدَيْهِ ثُمَّ رَدَّ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -» .

L4152 It was transmitted to us from Sufyan al-Thawri, from Yahya ibn Sa'id al-Ansari, from Nafi': that Ibn 'Umar performed tayammum (dry ablution) and prayed the 'Asr prayer while being one or two miles distant from Medina. He then entered the city while the sun remained high, yet he did not reperform that prayer. From Malik, from Nafi': that he departed with Ibn 'Umar from al-Jurf (a vicinity near Medina). When they reached al-Mirbad and found no water, he dismounted, performed tayammum with ritual soil, prayed, and never reperformed that prayer.

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ الْأَنْصَارِيِّ عَنْ نَافِعٍ: أَنَّ ابْنَ عُمَرَ تَيَمَّمَ ثُمَّ صَلَّى الْعَصْرَ وَبَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْمَدِينَةِ مِيلٌ أَوْ مِيلَانِ ثُمَّ دَخَلَ الْمَدِينَةَ وَالشَّمْسُ مُرْتَفِعَةٌ فَلَمْ يُعِدْ. وَعَنْ مَالِكٍ عَنْ نَافِعٍ: أَنَّهُ أَقْبَلَ مَعَ ابْنِ عُمَرَ مِنْ الْجُرْفِ، فَلَمَّا أَتَى الْمِرْبَدَ لَمْ يَجِدْ مَاءً، فَنَزَلَ فَتَيَمَّمَ بِالصَّعِيدِ وَصَلَّى ثُمَّ لَمْ يُعِدْ تِلْكَ الصَّلَاةَ.

L4153 Ali said: This is the doctrine of Dawud and our companions.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهُوَ قَوْلُ دَاوُد وَأَصْحَابِنَا.

L4154 Muhammad ibn al-Hasan said: As for the traveler, if water is within less than a mile of him, he must seek it even if the prayer time has passed. If it is a mile away, he is not obligated to seek it and should perform tayammum (dry ablution).

He said: As for one who leaves his residence without being a traveler, if he is in a place where he cannot hear the perceptible sounds of people or their voices, he should perform tayammum.

Ali said: "And these are opinions; we praise Allah for safety from them and from their likes."

Issue: When water was nearby, but he feared losing his saddle-pack or missing the opportunity to remain with the traveling group.

229 – Question:

And whoever has water near them but fears losing their mount, missing their travel companions, encounters an unjust enemy or fire intervening between them and the water, or faces any fear entailing hardship in deliberately seeking it—their obligation is to perform tayammum.

The proof of that is the statement of Allah, the Most High: {If you do not find water, then perform tayammum with clean earth} [An-Nisa: 43]. None of these people find water with which they can perform ritual purification.[5]

230–Issue:

If he seeks a right, there is no excuse for him in that matter, nor does tayammum suffice him, because it is obligatory upon him not to withhold any right he has undertaken for Allah the Exalted or for His servants. If he withholds it, he becomes disobedient. Allah the Exalted said: "And cooperate in righteousness and piety, and do not cooperate in sin and transgression" (5:2). The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) commanded that every right-holder be granted his right. Success is attained through Allah the Exalted.[6]

قَالَ: وَأَمَّا مَنْ خَرَجَ مِنْ مِصْرِهِ غَيْرَ مُسَافِرٍ، فَإِنْ كَانَ بِحَيْثُ لَا يَسْمَعُ حِسَّ النَّاسِ وَأَصْوَاتَهُمْ تَيَمَّمَ.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذِهِ أَقْوَالٌ نَحْمَدُ اللَّهَ عَلَى السَّلَامَةِ مِنْهَا وَمِنْ مِثْلِهَا

[مَسْأَلَةٌ كَانَ الْمَاءُ مِنْهُ قَرِيبًا إِلَّا أَنَّهُ يَخَافُ ضَيَاعَ رَحْلِهِ أَوْ فَوْتَ الرُّفْقَةِ]

٢٢٩ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

وَمَنْ كَانَ الْمَاءُ مِنْهُ قَرِيبًا إِلَّا أَنَّهُ يَخَافُ ضَيَاعَ رَحْلِهِ أَوْ فَوْتَ الرُّفْقَةِ أَوْ حَالَ بَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْمَاءِ عَدُوٌّ ظَالِمٌ أَوْ نَارٌ أَوْ أَيُّ خَوْفٍ كَانَ فِي الْقَصْدِ إِلَيْهِ مَشَقَّةٌ فَفَرْضُهُ التَّيَمُّمُ.

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ قَوْلُ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {فَلَمْ تَجِدُوا مَاءً فَتَيَمَّمُوا صَعِيدًا طَيِّبًا} [النساء: ٤٣] وَكُلُّ هَؤُلَاءِ لَا يَجِدُونَ مَاءً يَقْدِرُونَ عَلَى الطَّهَارَةِ بِهِ.

٢٣٠ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

فَإِنْ طَلَبَ بِحَقٍّ فَلَا عُذْرَ لَهُ فِي ذَلِكَ وَلَا يُجْزِيهِ التَّيَمُّمُ، لِأَنَّ فَرْضًا عَلَيْهِ أَنْ لَا يَمْتَنِعَ مِنْ كُلِّ حَقٍّ قِبَلَهُ لِلَّهِ تَعَالَى أَوْ لِعِبَادِهِ، فَإِنْ امْتَنَعَ فَهُوَ عَاصٍ، قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {وَتَعَاوَنُوا عَلَى الْبِرِّ وَالتَّقْوَى وَلا تَعَاوَنُوا عَلَى الإِثْمِ وَالْعُدْوَانِ} [المائدة: ٢] وَأَمَرَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَنْ يُعْطَى كُلُّ ذِي حَقٍّ حَقَّهُ، وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

[5] Qur'an references (L4160): Qur'an 4:43 (An-Nisa); Qur'an 5:6 (Al-Ma'idah).
[6] Qur'an references (L4162): Qur'an 5:2 (Al-Ma'idah).

A case: A person was at a well he saw and recognized during a journey and feared missing his companions.

Issue 231:

If he is at a well he sees and knows during a journey and fears losing his companions, missing the congregational prayer, or the expiration of the prayer time, he may perform tayammum, and it suffices him. However, he must perform ablution for what he will perform anew afterward, because all these are valid excuses preventing his use of water. Thus, he is considered as not having access to water he can use without undue hardship.

An issue: The water was in his saddlebag, he forgot it, so he made tayammum and prayed.

232. Issue:

And whoever has water in his travel gear and forgets it, or there is a well or spring near him that he is unaware of, then performs Tayammum and prays, it suffices him, because these two are not finders of water. And whoever does not find water should perform Tayammum by the text. The speech of Allah, the Exalted, and this is the view of Abū Ḥanīfah and Dāwūd.

Malik said: He must repeat it within the prescribed time and must not repeat it if the time has expired. Abu Yusuf and Al-Shafi'i said: He must always repeat it.

Abū Yūsuf said: If the well were at an arrow's throw from him or a comparable distance, and he was unaware of it, his tayammum would suffice. But if he were on its brink or near it and unaware of it, his tayammum would not suffice.

Every impurity-causing event (ḥadath) that invalidates ablution also invalidates tayammum.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ كُلُّ حَدَثٍ يَنْقُضُ الْوُضُوءَ فَإِنَّهُ يَنْقُضُ التَّيَمُّمَ]

٢٣٣ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

L4175 Every occurrence that invalidates ablution also invalidates tayammum. This is something in which there is no disagreement from any of the people of Islam.

L4176 Issue: The presence of water invalidates tayammum.

L4177 234 - Issue:

L4178 The presence of water also invalidates dry ablution (tayammum), whether one finds it during prayer, after having prayed, or before praying. The prayer they are performing is invalidated because their purification is broken, and they must perform ablution (wudu) or a full ablution (ghusl), then restart the prayer. There is no obligation to repeat the prayers already performed with dry ablution.

L4179 Even if he finds water immediately after the salam of the prayer, the disagreement regarding this revolves around three cases. One is an old disagreement: when water is found, neither ablution (wudu) with it nor ritual bath (ghusl) becomes obligatory upon the one who performed tayammum unless there occurs from him something that necessitates ritual bath or ablution.

L4180 And it has been narrated to us from Ibn Jurayj from ʿAbd al-Ḥamīd ibn Jubayr ibn Shaybah that Abū Salamah ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAwf said: If you are in a state of janabah during travel, perform tayammum. Then if you find water, you do not have to perform the ritual bath for janabah if you wish. ʿAbd al-Ḥamīd said: I mentioned that to Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyab, and he replied: How would he know? If you find water, perform the ritual bath.

L4181 The majority of later scholars maintain this view regarding the initiation of ghusl and wuḍū'.

L4182 Among the arguments of those who do not hold the view of renewing wudu and ghusl is their statement: Tayammum is a valid form of purification. Since this is the case, it is only nullified by what invalidates other purificatory acts. The availability of water is not a hadath (an event that nullifies ritual purity), وَكُلُّ حَدَثٍ يَنْقُضُ الْوُضُوءَ فَإِنَّهُ يَنْقُضُ التَّيَمُّمَ، هَذَا مَا لَا خِلَافَ فِيهِ مِنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ أَهْلِ الْإِسْلَامِ.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ يَنْقُضُ التَّيَمُّمَ وُجُودُ الْمَاءِ]

٢٣٤ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

وَلَوْ وَجَدَ الْمَاءَ إثْرَ سَلَامِهِ مِنْهَا، الْخِلَافُ فِي هَذَا فِي ثَلَاثِ مَوَاضِعَ: أَحَدُهَا خِلَافٌ قَدِيمٌ فِي أَنَّ الْمَاءَ إذَا وُجِدَ لَمْ يَكُنْ عَلَى الْمُتَيَمِّمِ الْوُضُوءُ بِهِ وَلَا الْغُسْلُ مَا لَمْ يَحْدُثْ مِنْهُ مَا يُوجِبُ الْغُسْلَ أَوْ الْوُضُوءَ.

وَبِإِحْدَاثِ الْغُسْلِ وَالْوُضُوءِ يَقُولُ جُمْهُورُ الْمُتَأَخِّرِينَ.

and thus its presence does not invalidate the purification attained through tayammum.

وَكَانَ مِنْ حُجَّةِ مَنْ لَا يَرَى تَجْدِيدَ الْوُضُوءِ وَالْغُسْلِ أَنْ قَالَ: التَّيَمُّمُ طَهَارَةٌ صَحِيحَةٌ فَإِذْ ذَلِكَ كَذَلِكَ فَلَا يَنْقُضُهَا إِلَّا مَا يَنْقُضُ الطَّهَارَاتِ، وَلَيْسَ وُجُودُ الْمَاءِ حَدَثًا، فَوُجُودُ الْمَاءِ لَا يَنْقُضُ طَهَارَةَ التَّيَمُّمِ.

L4183–4185 Ali said: This would have been a sound statement were it not for what Abd al-Rahman ibn Abd Allah reported to us, who said: We received narration from Ibrahim ibn Ahmad, from al-Farbari, from al-Bukhari, from Musaddad, from Yahya ibn Sa'id [al-Qattan], from Awf [ibn Abi Jamilah], from Abu Rajā' al-'Uṭāridī, from Imran ibn al-Husayn, who said: "We were with the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) on a journey," and he mentioned the hadith, in which it states: "The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) led the people in prayer. When the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) turned from his prayer, he noticed a man sitting apart who had not prayed with the congregation. The Prophet asked: 'What...'" What prevented you, O so-and-so, from praying with the people? He replied: I became ritually impure (janabah) and found no water. He said: You should use pure soil, for it suffices you. Then the Prophet (peace be upon him) mentioned in his narration the matter of water which God Almighty provided as a sign for His Prophet, saying: "Ultimately, he gave the man who had incurred major impurity a vessel of water and instructed: 'Go and pour it over yourself.'"

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَكَانَ هَذَا قَوْلًا صَحِيحًا لَوْلَا مَا حَدَّثَنَاهُ عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ قَالَ ثنا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ ثنا الْفَرَبْرِيُّ ثنا الْبُخَارِيُّ ثنا مُسَدَّدٌ ثنا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ - هُوَ الْقَطَّانُ - ثنا عَوْفٌ - هُوَ ابْنُ أَبِي جَمِيلَةَ - ثنا أَبُو رَجَاءٍ الْعُطَارِدِيُّ عَنْ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ الْحُصَيْنِ قَالَ «كُنَّا مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فِي سَفَرٍ فَذَكَرَ الْحَدِيثَ وَفِيهِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - صَلَّى بِالنَّاسِ، فَلَمَّا انْفَتَلَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ إِذْ هُوَ بِرَجُلٍ مُعْتَزِلٍ لَمْ يُصَلِّ مَعَ الْقَوْمِ، فَقَالَ: مَا مَنَعَكَ يَا فُلَانُ أَنْ تُصَلِّيَ مَعَ الْقَوْمِ؟ قَالَ: أَصَابَتْنِي جَنَابَةٌ وَلَا مَاءَ، قَالَ: عَلَيْكَ بِالصَّعِيدِ فَإِنَّهُ يَكْفِيكَ» ثُمَّ ذَكَرَ فِي حَدِيثِهِ ذَلِكَ أَمْرَ الْمَاءِ الَّذِي أَحْدَثَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى آيَةً لِنَبِيِّهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَالَ: " وَكَانَ آخِرُ ذَلِكَ أَنْ «أَعْطَى الَّذِي أَصَابَتْهُ الْجَنَابَةُ إِنَاءً مِنْ مَاءٍ، وَقَالَ: اذْهَبْ فَأَفْرِغْهُ عَلَيْكَ»

L4186 Hammam narrated to us: Abbas ibn Asbagh narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Abd al-Malik ibn Ayman narrated to us: Ibrahim ibn Ishaq al-Naysaburi in Baghdad narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Abdullah ibn Numayr narrated to us: Abi narrated to us: Isma'il ibn Muslim narrated to us: Abu Raja al-Utaridi reported from Imran ibn al-Husayn, who said: I was with the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) while among the people was a man in a state of post-sexual impurity (janabah). The Messenger of Allah instructed him to perform tayammum and pray. Later we found water, whereupon the Messenger of Allah ordered him to perform the ritual bath without repeating the prayer. We have previously mentioned Hudhayfah's narration from the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him): The earth has been made a mosque for us, and its soil has been made a means of purification for us when water is unavailable.

حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّامٌ ثنا عَبَّاسُ بْنُ أَصْبَغَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَيْمَنَ ثنا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ النَّيْسَابُورِيُّ بِبَغْدَادَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ ثنا أَبِي ثنا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ مُسْلِمٍ ثنا أَبُو رَجَاءٍ الْعُطَارِدِيُّ عَنْ «عِمْرَانَ بْنِ الْحُصَيْنِ قَالَ كُنْتُ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَفِي الْقَوْمِ جُنُبٌ، فَأَمَرَهُ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَتَيَمَّمَ وَصَلَّى، ثُمَّ وَجَدْنَا الْمَاءَ بَعْدُ، فَأَمَرَهُ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَنْ يَغْتَسِلَ وَلَا يُعِيدَ

الصَّلَاةَ» وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا حَدِيثَ حُذَيْفَةَ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «وَجُعِلَتْ لَنَا الْأَرْضُ مَسْجِدًا وَجُعِلَتْ تُرْبَتُهَا لَنَا طَهُورًا إِذَا لَمْ نَجِدْ الْمَاءَ» .

L4187 These narrations establish that purification with earth is only valid when water is unavailable. This wording necessitates that purification with earth is impermissible except when water is not found, and further requires that no purification with earth is valid unless water is unavailable—unless another textual ruling permits it for specific individuals. Given this, it is impermissible to accept one of the two meanings while excluding the other; rather, it is obligatory to apply both rulings collectively. This is also corroborated by the Prophet's—peace be upon him—command to the person in a state of major impurity (junub) to perform tayammum with clean earth and perform prayer, followed by his command to undertake ritual bathing (ghusl) when water becomes available. Thus, what we have stated is confirmed by explicit text, and all praise is due to Allah.

فَصَحَّ بِهَذِهِ الْأَحَادِيثِ أَنَّ الطَّهُورَ بِالتُّرَابِ إنَّمَا هُوَ مَا لَمْ يُوجَدْ الْمَاءُ، وَهَذَا لَفْظٌ يَقْتَضِي أَنْ لَا يَجُوزَ التَّطَهُّرُ بِالتُّرَابِ إلَّا إذَا لَمْ يُوجَدْ الْمَاءُ، وَيَقْتَضِي أَنْ لَا يَصِحَّ طَهُورٌ بِالتُّرَابِ إلَّا أَنْ لَا نَجِدَ الْمَاءَ إلَّا لِمَنْ أَبَاحَ لَهُ ذَلِكَ نَصٌّ آخَرُ، وَإِذَا كَانَ هَذَا فَلَا يَجُوزُ أَنْ يَخُصَّ بِالْقَبُولِ أَحَدَ الْمَعْنَيَيْنِ دُونَ الْآخَرِ، بَلْ فَرَضَ الْعَمَلَ بِهِمَا مَعًا، وَصَحَّحَ هَذَا أَيْضًا أَمْرُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - الْمُجْنِبَ بِالتَّيَمُّمِ بِالصَّعِيدِ وَالصَّلَاةِ، ثُمَّ أَمْرُهُ عِنْدَ وُجُودِ الْمَاءِ بِالْغُسْلِ، فَصَحَّ مَا قُلْنَاهُ نَصًّا وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ.

L4188 The second case: If one finds water after performing the prayer, must he repeat it or not? Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyab, ʻAṭāʾ, Tāwūs, al-Shaʿbī, al-Ḥasan, and Abū Salamah ibn ʻAbd al-Raḥmān said, "He must repeat it as long as he is within the prayer time."

وَالْمَوْضِعُ الثَّانِي: إنْ وَجَدَ الْمَاءَ بَعْدَ الصَّلَاةِ أَيُعِيدُهَا أَمْ لَا؟ فَقَالَ سَعِيدُ بْنُ الْمُسَيِّبِ وَعَطَاءٌ وَطَاوُسٌ وَالشَّعْبِيُّ وَالْحَسَنُ وَأَبُو سَلَمَةَ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ: إنَّهُ يُعِيدُ مَا دَامَ فِي الْوَقْتِ.

L4189 It was narrated to us through the chain of Maʿmar from Saʿīd ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān al-Jumaḥī from Abū Salamah; through the chain of Ḥammād ibn Salamah from Yūnus from al-Ḥasan; through the chain of al-Ḥajjāj ibn al-Minhāl from Sufyān al-Thawrī from ʿAbd al-Ḥamīd ibn Jubayr ibn Shaybah from Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyib; through the chain of Wakīʿ from Zakariyyā ibn Abī Zāʾidah from al-Shaʿbī; through the chain of Sufyān al-Thawrī from Layth ibn Abī Sulaym from ʿAṭāʾ; and through the chain of al-Ḥasan ibn Ṣāliḥ from al-ʿAlāʾ ibn al-Musayyib from Ṭāwūs.

رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ مَعْمَرٍ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ الْجُمَحِيِّ عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، وَعَنْ طَرِيقِ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ يُونُسَ عَنْ الْحَسَنِ، وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ الْحَجَّاجِ بْنِ الْمِنْهَالِ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ عَبْدِ الْحَمِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرِ بْنِ شَيْبَةَ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيِّبِ، وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ زَكَرِيَّا بْنِ أَبِي زَائِدَةَ عَنْ الشَّعْبِيِّ، وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ لَيْثِ بْنِ أَبِي سُلَيْمٍ عَنْ عَطَاءٍ، وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ الْحَسَنِ بْنِ صَالِحٍ عَنْ الْعَلَاءِ بْنِ الْمُسَيِّبِ عَنْ طَاوُسٍ.

L4190 Mālik said: The traveler, the sick person, and the fearful person perform tayammum (dry ablution) during the prayer time. If they perform tayammum, pray, and then find water within the prayer time, the traveler does not repeat the prayer, while the sick person and the fearful person repeat the prayer.

وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: الْمُسَافِرُ وَالْمَرِيضُ وَالْخَائِفُ يَتَيَمَّمُونَ فِي وَسَطِ الْوَقْتِ، فَإِنْ تَيَمَّمُوا وَصَلَّوْا ثُمَّ وَجَدُوا الْمَاءَ فِي الْوَقْتِ فَإِنَّ الْمُسَافِرَ لَا يُعِيدُ، وَأَمَّا الْمَرِيضُ وَالْخَائِفُ فَيُعِيدَانِ الصَّلَاةَ.

L4191–4192 Ali said: As for Mālik's opinion, it is manifestly erroneous in his differentiation between the sick, the one in fear [of harm], and the traveler. This is because the sick person who cannot find water is commanded to perform tayammum and [offer] the prayer, just as the traveler is commanded in a single verse, with no distinction made.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: أَمَّا قَوْلُ مَالِكٍ فَظَاهِرُ الْخَطَأِ فِي تَفْرِيقِهِ بَيْنَ الْمَرِيضِ وَالْخَائِفِ وَبَيْنَ الْمُسَافِرِ، لِأَنَّ الْمَرِيضَ الَّذِي لَا يَجِدُ الْمَاءَ مَأْمُورٌ بِالتَّيَمُّمِ وَالصَّلَاةِ، كَمَا أُمِرَ بِهِ الْمُسَافِرُ فِي آيَةٍ وَاحِدَةٍ وَلَا فَرْقَ.

L4193 As for the sick and those in fear, for whom Tayammum is permitted to alleviate hardship and difficulty, the same applies. Regarding all those we have mentioned, no distinction between any of them in this matter is established by the Qur'an, nor by any authentic or weak Sunnah, nor by consensus, nor by a companion's statement, nor by analogy, nor by any opinion with a sound basis. Indeed, we know of no one who asserted this position before Malik. Thus, this opinion is entirely invalidated, leaving only the view of those who say: "All must repeat it," and the view of those who say: "They need not repeat it." Upon reflection, we found that all those we mentioned were commanded to perform Tayammum by the Qur'an's text. When they prayed, they necessarily fell into one of two scenarios: either they prayed as they were commanded, or they did not pray as they were commanded.

L4194 If they say, "They did not pray as they were commanded," we respond to them: Then they would be prohibited from performing dry ablution and prayer initially—these prohibitions are unavoidable. No one would make such a claim, and even if someone did, they would be in error, opposing the Quran, the Sunnah, and the scholarly consensus. Since this category is definitively invalidated, only the second category remains: that they did pray as they were commanded. Therefore, having prayed as commanded, it is impermissible for them to repeat a single prayer twice in one day, due to the prohibition of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him.

فَإِنْ قَالُوا لَمْ يُصَلُّوا كَمَا أُمِرُوا قُلْنَا لَهُمْ: فَهُمْ إذًا مَنْهِيُّونَ عَنْ التَّيَمُّمِ وَالصَّلَاةِ ابْتِدَاءً لَا بُدَّ مِنْ هَذِهِ وَهَذَا لَا يَقُولُهُ أَحَدٌ، وَلَوْ قَالَهُ لَكَانَ مُخْطِئًا مُخَالِفًا لِلْقُرْآنِ وَالسُّنَنِ وَالْإِجْمَاعِ، فَإِذْ قَدْ سَقَطَ هَذَا الْقِسْمُ بِيَقِينٍ فَلَمْ يَبْقَ إلَّا الْقِسْمُ الثَّانِي، وَهُوَ أَنَّهُمْ قَدْ صَلَّوْا كَمَا أُمِرُوا، فَإِذْ قَدْ صَلَّوْا كَمَا أُمِرُوا فَلَا تَحِلُّ لَهُمْ إعَادَةُ صَلَاةٍ وَاحِدَةٍ فِي يَوْمٍ مَرَّتَيْنِ، لِنَهْيِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -.

L4195 This was narrated to us by Abdullah ibn Rabiʿ, who narrated to us Muhammad ibn Isḥāq, who narrated to us Ibn al-Aʿrābī, who narrated to us Abū Dāwūd, who narrated to us Abū Kāmil, who narrated to us Yazīd – meaning Ibn Zuraiʿ – who narrated to us Ḥusayn, that is, the teacher, from ʿAmr ibn Shuʿayb, from Sulaymān ibn Yasār, the client of Maymūnah, who said: "I came to Ibn ʿUmar at al-Balāṭ while they were praying, and he said: 'I heard the Messenger of Allah – peace and blessings be upon him – say: "Do not perform a prayer twice in a day."' Therefore, the obligation to repeat the prayer was completely lifted."

حَدَّثَنَا بِذَلِكَ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا أَبُو كَامِلٍ ثنا يَزِيدُ - يَعْنِي ابْنَ زُرَيْعٍ - ثنا حُسَيْنٌ - هُوَ الْمُعَلِّمُ عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ عَنْ سُلَيْمَانَ بْنِ يَسَارٍ مَوْلَى مَيْمُونَةَ قَالَ: «أَتَيْتُ ابْنَ عُمَرَ عَلَى الْبَلَاطِ وَهُمْ يُصَلُّونَ فَقَالَ:

إِنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَقُولُ: لَا تُصَلُّوا صَلَاةً فِي يَوْمٍ مَرَّتَيْنِ» فَسَقَطَ الْأَمْرُ بِالْإِعَادَةِ جُمْلَةً.

L4196 And all praise is due to Allah, Lord of all the worlds.

وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ.

L4197 The third is one who sees water while in prayer. This is the opinion of Mālik, Al-Shāfiʿī, Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, Abū Thawr, and Dāwūd.

وَالثَّالِثُ مَنْ رَأَى الْمَاءَ وَهُوَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، فَإِنَّ مَالِكًا وَالشَّافِعِيَّ وَأَحْمَدَ بْنَ حَنْبَلٍ وَأَبَا ثَوْرٍ وَدَاوُد.

L4198 They said: If one sees the discharge while in prayer, he should continue with his prayer without repeating it, nor is his ritual purity invalidated by that. But if he sees it after the prayer, he must perform ablution and ritual bathing without exception. A newly initiated prayer will not be valid unless he does so.

L4199 Abū Ḥanīfah, his companions, Sufyān al-Thawrī, and al-Awzāʿī said: Whether one discovers water during the prayer or after it, he must interrupt the prayer without exception, perform ablution or ritual bathing, and begin it anew. As for discovering it after the prayer, that specific prayer remains valid, but purification with water becomes imperative for any subsequent prayer he initiates—no prayer he initiates afterward is valid except through such purification.

وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ وَأَصْحَابُهُ وَسُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ وَالْأَوْزَاعِيُّ: سَوَاءٌ وَجَدَ الْمَاءَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ أَوْ بَعْدَ الصَّلَاةِ يَقْطَعُ الصَّلَاةَ وَلَا بُدَّ، وَيَتَوَضَّأُ أَوْ يَغْتَسِلُ وَيَبْتَدِيهَا، وَأَمَّا إِنْ رَآهُ بَعْدَ الصَّلَاةِ فَقَدْ تَمَّتْ صَلَاتُهُ تِلْكَ، وَلَا بُدَّ لَهُ مِنْ الطَّهَارَةِ بِالْمَاءِ لِمَا يَسْتَأْنِفُ لَا تُجْزِيهِ صَلَاةٌ يَسْتَأْنِفُهَا إِلَّا بِذَلِكَ.

L4200–4201 Ali said: When they disagreed, we examined the matter and found the argument of those who distinguished between the availability of water during prayer and its availability after prayer—if they argued, "He entered prayer as he was commanded; thus, it is impermissible for him to nullify it except by explicit textual evidence or consensus."

L4202 Abu Muhammad said: We know of no argument for them other than this, nor do they have any basis for it. For even if one has entered prayer as Allah the Exalted has commanded, the presence of water must either nullify the ritual purity and subject him to the ruling of one in minor impurity (ḥadath) or major impurity (janābah), or neither nullify the ritual purity nor subject him to the ruling of one in major impurity (janābah) or minor impurity (ḥadath).

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّد: لَا نَعْلَمُ لَهُمْ حُجَّةً غَيْرَ هَذِهِ، وَلَا مُتَعَلَّقَ لَهُمْ بِهَا، لِأَنَّهُ - وَإِنْ كَانَ قَدْ دَخَلَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ كَمَا أَمَرَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى - فَلَا يَخْلُو وُجُودُ الْمَاءِ مِنْ أَنْ يَكُونَ يَنْقُضُ الطَّهَارَةَ

وَيُعِيدُهُ فِي حُكْمِ الْمُحْدِثِ أَوْ الْمُجْنِبِ، أَوْ يَكُونَ لَا يَنْقُضُ الطَّهَارَةَ وَلَا يُعِيدُهُ فِي حُكْمِ الْمُجْنِبِ أَوْ الْمُحْدِثِ.

L4203 If they say it does not invalidate ritual purity and he need not repeat the prayer while in major or minor impurity - this being the position of Abū Sulaymān and our companions - we respond: There is no obligation on you. You yourselves acknowledge that despite this, he remains obliged to perform either major ablution or minor ablution when he finds water without any disagreement from your side. From their response "Yes," we say to them: He is commanded to do that both during prayer and outside it by the explicit text of our school and your school regarding the urgency to fulfill divine commands. Should they object: "He is not commanded to do so during prayer due to being occupied by it," we counter: This constitutes an arbitrary distinction without evidence - a mere baseless claim. Since he is indeed commanded to act upon finding water both within and outside prayer, it is established that your instruction to persist in abstaining from water usage is erroneous. For by your own principles, his prayer would not be invalidated by this act. Thus the necessary consequence of your doctrine would require him to use the water and resume his prayer from where he left off - exactly as you rule for one in minor impurity, with no distinction. Yet since they reject this conclusion, their argument is invalidated.

فَإِنْ قَالُوا لَا يَنْقُضُ الطَّهَارَةَ وَلَا يُعِيدُهُ مُجْنِبًا وَلَا مُحْدِثًا، فَهَذَا جَوَابُ أَبِي سُلَيْمَانَ وَأَصْحَابِنَا، قُلْنَا فَلَا عَلَيْكُمْ، أَنْتُمْ مُقِرُّونَ بِأَنَّهُ مَعَ ذَلِكَ مُفْتَرَضٌ عَلَيْهِ الْغُسْلُ أَوْ الْوُضُوءُ مَتَى وَجَدَ الْمَاءَ بِلَا خِلَافٍ مِنْكُمْ، فَمِنْ قَوْلِهِمْ نَعَمْ، فَقُلْنَا لَهُمْ: فَهُوَ مَأْمُورٌ بِذَلِكَ فِي حِينِ وُجُودِهِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ وَغَيْرِ الصَّلَاةِ بِنَصِّ مَذْهَبِنَا وَمَذْهَبِكُمْ فِي الْبِدَارِ إلَى مَا أُمِرْنَا بِهِ فَإِنْ قَالُوا: لَيْسَ مَأْمُورًا بِذَلِكَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ لِشُغْلِهِ بِهَا، قُلْنَا: هَذَا فَرْقٌ لَا دَلِيلَ عَلَيْهِ، وَدَعْوَى بِلَا بُرْهَانٍ، فَإِذْ هُوَ مَأْمُورٌ بِذَلِكَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ وَغَيْرِ الصَّلَاةِ فَقَدْ صَحَّ إذْ هُوَ مَأْمُورٌ بِذَلِكَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ أَنَّ أَمْرَكُمْ بِالتَّمَادِي عَلَى تَرْكِ اسْتِعْمَالِ الْمَاءِ خَطَأٌ، لِأَنَّهُ عَلَى أَصْلِكُمْ لَا تُنْتَقَضُ بِذَلِكَ صَلَاتُهُ، فَكَانَ اللَّازِمُ عَلَى أُصُولِكُمْ أَنْ يَسْتَعْمِلَ الْمَاءَ وَيَبْنِيَ عَلَى مَا مَضَى مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ كَمَا تَقُولُونَ فِي الْمُحْدِثِ وَلَا فَرْقَ، وَهُمْ لَا يَقُولُونَ هَذَا فَسَقَطَ قَوْلُهُمْ.

L4204 As for the Mālikīs and Shāfiʿīs, their response is that the presence of water nullifies the state of ritual purity and invalidates tayammum, obligating [the use of] water for one in a state of major impurity (janābah) or minor impurity (ḥadath) outside of prayer, but does not nullify the state of ritual purity during prayer.

L4205 Ali said: This was a statement of evident corruption and a claim devoid of evidence. Nothing has ever been established in the Quran, the Sunnah, juristic analogy, or any opinion with a valid basis indicating that something could constitute a ritual impurity outside prayer but not during it. Such a claim is within anyone's capacity to make, and it remains invalid unless substantiated by proof from the Quran or Sunnah. This applies particularly to their assertion that the presence of water with the worshipper during prayer does not invalidate the prayer, yet if they conclude the prayer, their ritual purity becomes invalidated by the presence of water that occurred during prayer—even if that presence of water did not persist beyond the prayer. This constitutes the peak of absurdity: something invalidates ritual purity when it ceases to exist but does not invalidate it when present. Yet they themselves rejected this very principle in their criticism of Abū Ḥanīfah's ruling that loud laughter invalidates ablution during prayer but not outside it.

L4206–4207 Ali said: Since the invalidity of this opinion has also become evident—for we have mentioned the statement of Allah's Messenger (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him): "Earth is a purifier when water is not found"—it is established that no valid purification may be performed with earth while water exists, except for those permitted by the textual evidence: the sick people who would face hardship in using it. Since this is so, the invalidity of the purification by one performing tayammum when water is available—whether during prayer or otherwise—is evident, and it is established that the opinion of Sufyān and those who agreed with him is correct.

L4208 However, Abū Ḥanīfah contradicted himself here in two points. The first is his view that one who invalidates ablution due to unavoidable circumstances should perform ablution and resume prayer, while this individual similarly invalidated ablution due to unavoidable circumstances—yet according to his own principle, he should have instructed him to perform ablution and resume. The second point is his opinion that the salutation concluding prayer is not obligatory, and that whoever sits for the duration of the Tashahhud at the end of prayer has completed it. He holds that even if one intentionally or unintentionally invalidates ablution afterward, the prayer remains valid without requiring repetition. Yet here he asserts that if one sits for the Tashahhud duration and finds water after performing dry ablution—even without uttering the salutation—both that prayer and his ablution are invalidated, requiring him to purify himself perpetually and repeat the prayer indefinitely. This constitutes a contradiction at the peak of repugnance, entirely removed from textual sources, juristic analogy, and sound reasoning. We do not know of anyone before Abū Ḥanīfah who made these distinctions.

[مَسْأَلَةُ الْمَرِيضُ الْمُبَاحُ لَهُ التَّيَمُّمُ مَعَ وُجُودِ الْمَاءِ]

٢٣٥ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

وَالْمَرِيضُ الْمُبَاحُ لَهُ التَّيَمُّمُ مَعَ وُجُودِ الْمَاءِ بِخِلَافِ مَا ذَكَرْنَا، فَإِنَّ صِحَّتَهُ لَا تَنْقُضُ طَهَارَتَهُ.

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ أَنَّ الْخَبَرَ الَّذِي أَتَبَعْنَا إنَّمَا جَاءَ فِيمَنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ الْمَاءَ، فَهُوَ الَّذِي تُنْتَقَضُ طَهَارَتُهُ بِوُجُودِ الْمَاءِ، وَأَمَّا مَنْ أَمَرَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِالتَّيَمُّمِ وَالصَّلَاةِ مَعَ وُجُودِ الْمَاءِ فَإِنَّ وُجُودَ الْمَاءِ قَدْ صَحَّ يَقِينًا أَنَّهُ لَا يَنْقُضُ طَهَارَتَهُ، بَلْ هِيَ صَحِيحَةٌ مَعَ وُجُودِ الْمَاءِ، فَإِذْ ذَاكَ كَذَلِكَ فَإِنَّ الصِّحَّةَ لَيْسَتْ حَدَثًا أَصْلًا، إذْ لَمْ يَأْتِ بِأَنَّهَا حَدَثٌ لَا قُرْآنٌ وَلَا سُنَّةٌ فَإِنْ قَالُوا: قِسْنَا الْمَرِيضَ عَلَى الْمُسَافِرِ، قُلْنَا الْقِيَاسُ كُلُّهُ بَاطِلٌ، ثُمَّ لَوْ كَانَ حَقًّا لَكَانَ هَذَا مِنْهُ عَيْنَ الْبَاطِلِ؛ لِأَنَّهُ قِيَاسُ الشَّيْءِ عَلَى ضِدِّهِ، وَهَذَا بَاطِلٌ عِنْدَ أَصْحَابِ الْقِيَاسِ وَهُوَ قِيَاسُ وَاجِدِ الْمَاءِ عَلَى عَادِمِهِ، وَقِيَاسُ مَرِيضٍ عَلَى صَحِيحٍ، وَهُمْ لَا يَخْتَلِفُونَ أَنَّ أَحْكَامَهُمَا فِي الصَّلَاةِ وَغَيْرِهَا تَخْتَلِفُ، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

[مَسْأَلَةُ الْمُتَيَمِّمُ يُصَلِّي بِتَيَمُّمِهِ مَا شَاءَ مِنْ الصَّلَوَاتِ]

٢٣٦ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

وَالْمُتَيَمِّمُ يُصَلِّي بِتَيَمُّمِهِ مَا شَاءَ مِنْ الصَّلَوَاتِ الْفَرْضَ وَالنَّوَافِلَ مَا لَمْ يُنْتَقَضْ تَيَمُّمُهُ بِحَدَثٍ أَوْ بِوُجُودِ الْمَاءِ، وَأَمَّا الْمَرِيضُ فَلَا يَنْقُضُ طَهَارَتَهُ بِالتَّيَمُّمِ إلَّا مَا يَنْقُضُ الطَّهَارَةَ مِنْ الْأَحْدَاثِ فَقَطْ.

Legal Question: The sick person for whom performing tayammum (ritual dry ablution) is permissible despite the availability of water.

235. Issue:

The sick person permitted to perform dry ablution (tayammum) with the presence of water—contrary to what we previously mentioned—his recovery does not invalidate his purification.

The proof of this is that the report we have adhered to only concerns one who could not find water. Thus, it is he whose purification becomes invalidated by the presence of water. As for the one whom Allah the Exalted has commanded to perform dry ablution and pray despite the presence of water, the existence of water has been definitively established as not invalidating his purification. Rather, his purification remains valid even with water present. Since this is the case, validity is fundamentally not a state of ritual impurity, for neither the Qur'an nor the Sunnah has declared it to be such. If they argue: "We analogize the sick person to the traveler," we reply: All analogy is entirely invalid. Even if analogy were valid, this specific case would epitomize invalidity, for it constitutes analogizing a thing to its opposite—a practice rejected by the proponents of analogy themselves. It is an analogy of one possessing water to one lacking it, and a sick person to a healthy one, though they universally acknowledge that their rulings in prayer and other matters differ. Success is from Allah the Exalted.

Issue: One who performs tayammum may pray with that tayammum as many prayers as he wills.

236 – Issue:

A person performing dry ablution may pray whatever prayers he wishes—obligatory or voluntary—with his tayammum, provided it remains valid and is not nullified by a ritual impurity or the presence of water. As for the sick person, his purification is not invalidated by dry ablution except through what inherently nullifies purification, which are the ritual invalidators themselves.

وَبِهَذَا يَقُولُ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ وَسُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ وَاللَّيْثُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ وَدَاوُد.

L4216 And with this say Abu Hanifah, Sufyan al-Thawri, al-Layth ibn Saʿd, and Dawud.

وَرُوِّينَا أَيْضًا عَنْ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ يُونُسَ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ عَنْ الْحَسَنِ قَالَ: يُصَلِّي الصَّلَوَاتِ كُلَّهَا بِتَيَمُّمٍ وَاحِدٍ مِثْلِ الْوُضُوءِ مَا لَمْ يُحْدِثْ.

L4217–4218 It has also been narrated to us from Ḥammād ibn Salamah, from Yūnus ibn ʿUbayd, from al-Ḥasan, who said: “One may pray all prayers with one tayammum, like wuḍūʾ, as long as no nullifying act occurs.”

وَعَنْ مَعْمَرٍ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ الزُّهْرِيَّ يَقُولُ: التَّيَمُّمُ بِمَنْزِلَةِ الْمَاءِ. يَقُولُ يُصَلِّي بِهِ مَا لَمْ يُحْدِثْ. وَعَنْ قَتَادَةَ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيِّبِ قَالَ: صَلِّ بِتَيَمُّمٍ وَاحِدٍ الصَّلَوَاتِ كُلَّهَا مَا لَمْ تُحْدِثْ، هُوَ بِمَنْزِلَةِ الْمَاءِ وَهُوَ قَوْلُ يَزِيدَ بْنِ هَارُونَ وَمُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَلِيِّ بْنِ الْحُسَيْنِ وَغَيْرِهِمْ.

L4219 From Maʾmar, who said: I heard al-Zuhri say: Tayammum holds the same status as water. He said: “Pray with it as long as one does not invalidate ablution.” From Qatādah, from Saʾīd ibn al-Musayyab, who said: “Perform all prayers with a single tayammum as long as you do not invalidate ablution. It holds the same status as water.” This is the view of Yazīd ibn Hārūn, Muḥammad ibn ʾAlī ibn al-Ḥusayn, and others.

L4220 Malik said: Two obligatory prayers should not be performed with one tayammum. One must perform tayammum for each prayer. If one performs tayammum and then prays voluntary prayers such as the two dawn rakʿahs or others, they must perform another tayammum for the obligatory prayer. However, if one performs tayammum and prays the obligatory prayer, it is permissible to perform voluntary prayers afterward with that same tayammum.

L4221 Al-Shafiʿī said: He must perform tayammum for obligatory prayers, and it remains valid [for subsequent prayers] as long as the conditions persist. He may perform supererogatory prayers before and after it with that tayammum.

وَقَالَ شَرِيكٌ: يَتَيَمَّمُ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ.

L4222 And Sharik said: He performs tayammum for every prayer.

وَرُوِيَ مِثْلُ قَوْلِ شَرِيكٍ عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ النَّخَعِيِّ وَالشَّعْبِيِّ وَرَبِيعَةَ وَقَتَادَةَ وَيَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ الْأَنْصَارِيِّ، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ اللَّيْثِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ وَأَحْمَدَ وَإِسْحَاقَ.

L4223 A narration similar to the view of Shareek has been reported from Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī, al-Shaʿbī, Rabīʿah, Qatādah, and Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Anṣārī. This is the view of al-Layth ibn Saʿd, Aḥmad, and Isḥāq.

وَقَالَ أَبُو ثَوْرٍ: يَتَيَمَّمُ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ مَكْتُوبَةٍ

L4224 Abu Thawr said: One is to perform tayammum for every obligatory prayer time, except that one prays all missed obligatory prayers using one tayammum.

وَقَالَ أَبُو ثَوْرٍ: يَتَيَمَّمُ لِكُلِّ وَقْتِ صَلَاةِ فَرْضٍ إِلَّا أَنَّهُ يُصَلِّي الْفَوَائِتَ مِنْ الْفُرُوضِ كُلِّهَا بِتَيَمُّمٍ وَاحِدٍ.

L4225 Ali said: As for Malik's opinion, it has no connection to any legal proof whatsoever—neither to the Quran, nor to an authentic or daʿīf Sunnah, nor to analogical reasoning. Tayammum must either constitute ritual purity or not constitute ritual purity. If it constitutes ritual purity, one may pray with it so long as the Quran or Sunnah does not mandate its invalidation. If it does not constitute ritual purity, it is impermissible for him to pray without ritual purity.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: أَمَّا قَوْلُ مَالِكٍ فَلَا مُتَعَلَّقَ لَهُ بِحُجَّةٍ أَصْلًا، لَا بِقُرْآنٍ وَلَا بِسُنَّةٍ صَحِيحَةٍ وَلَا سَقِيمَةٍ وَلَا بِقِيَاسٍ، وَلَا يَخْلُو التَّيَمُّمُ مِنْ أَنْ يَكُونَ طَهَارَةً أَوْ لَا طَهَارَةَ، فَإِنْ كَانَ طَهَارَةً فَيُصَلِّي بِطَهَارَتِهِ مَا لَمْ يُوجِبْ نَقْضَهَا قُرْآنٌ أَوْ سُنَّةٌ، وَإِنْ كَانَ لَيْسَ طَهَارَةً فَلَا يَجُوزُ لَهُ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ بِغَيْرِ طَهَارَةٍ.

L4226 And some of them said that it is not a complete purification, but rather a permissibility for prayer.

وَقَالَ بَعْضُهُمْ: لَيْسَ طَهَارَةً تَامَّةً وَلَكِنَّهُ اسْتِبَاحَةٌ لِلصَّلَاةِ.

L4227 Ali said: This is invalid for several reasons. One is that it constitutes an assertion without evidence, and anything of that nature is invalid. The second is that it is an assertion contradicted by the Quran.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا بَاطِلٌ مِنْ وُجُوهٍ: أَحَدُهَا أَنَّهُ قَوْلٌ بِلَا بُرْهَانٍ، وَمَا كَانَ هَكَذَا فَهُوَ بَاطِلٌ. وَالثَّانِي أَنَّهُ قَوْلٌ يُكَذِّبُهُ الْقُرْآنُ.

L4228 Allah the Exalted said: "Then perform tayammum with clean earth and wipe your faces and hands with it. Allah does not intend to impose hardship upon you, but He intends to purify you." [Al-Mā'idah: 6] Thus, Allah the Exalted solemnly decreed that tayammum is a purification ordained by Him.[7]

قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {فَتَيَمَّمُوا صَعِيدًا طَيِّبًا فَامْسَحُوا بِوُجُوهِكُمْ وَأَيْدِيكُمْ مِنْهُ مَا يُرِيدُ اللَّهُ لِيَجْعَلَ عَلَيْكُمْ مِنْ حَرَجٍ وَلَكِنْ يُرِيدُ لِيُطَهِّرَكُمْ} [المائدة: ٦] فَنَصَّ تَعَالَى عَلَى أَنَّ التَّيَمُّمَ طَهَارَةٌ مِنْ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى.

L4229–4231 The third is that this constitutes their contradiction, because they said it is not complete purification—but rather what permits prayer. This statement is self-contradictory, for the legitimacy of prayer cannot be established except through purification; thus, it is a purification that negates itself.

وَالثَّالِثُ: أَنَّهُ تَنَاقُضٌ مِنْهُمْ لِأَنَّهُمْ قَالُوا لَيْسَ طَهَارَةً تَامَّةً - وَلَكِنَّهُ اسْتِبَاحَةٌ لِلصَّلَاةِ، وَهَذَا كَلَامٌ يَنْقُضُ أَوَّلُهُ آخِرَهُ؛ لِأَنَّ الِاسْتِبَاحَةَ لِلصَّلَاةِ لَا تَكُونُ إلَّا بِطَهَارَةٍ، فَهُوَ إذَنْ طَهَارَةٌ لَا طَهَارَةٌ.

L4232 The fourth is that even if we concede their claim that it renders the first prayer permissible, how can they assert that this permissibility does not extend to the second prayer just as it applied to the first? How is it established that the permissibility relates exclusively to the first prayer rather than the second? They argue that seeking water invalidates the tayammum purification, obliging one to seek water for each prayer. We respond: This is invalid. Firstly, your assertion that seeking water invalidates tayammum purification is an unfounded claim without proof. Secondly, your claim that one must seek water for every prayer is baseless. What water should they seek when they have already sought it and confirmed they cannot find it? Moreover, if this were valid, what water would a sick person who possesses water be required to seek? Thus, the corruption of this view is entirely evident, particularly Malik's position regarding the persistence of purification after an obligatory prayer for supererogatory prayers, the invalidation of purification after a supererogatory prayer for an obligatory prayer, and after one obligatory prayer for another. According to their reasoning, seeking water would necessarily be required for supererogatory prayers just as for obligatory ones, since there is no distinction in the obligation of purification for supererogatory prayers compared to obligatory ones—with no disagreement from any member of the community, even if rulings differ in other matters. This is particularly evident given that their own scholar, Malik—whom they follow—states in Al-Muwatta: "The one who performs ablution is not purer than the one who performs tayammum, and whoever performs tayammum has fulfilled what Allah Almighty commanded."

طَهَارَةَ الْمُتَيَمِّمِ وَعَلَيْهِ أَنْ يَطْلُبَ الْمَاءَ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ. قُلْنَا لَهُمْ: هَذَا بَاطِلٌ، أَوَّلُ ذَلِكَ إِنَّ قَوْلَكُمْ، إِنَّ طَلَبَ الْمَاءِ يَنْقُضُ طَهَارَةَ الْمُتَيَمِّمِ دَعْوَى كَاذِبَةٌ بِلَا بُرْهَانٍ، وَثَانِيهِ أَنَّ قَوْلَكُمْ: أَنَّ عَلَيْهِ طَلَبَ الْمَاءِ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ بَاطِلٌ وَأَيَّ مَاءٍ يَطْلُبُ؟ وَهُوَ قَدْ طَلَبَهُ وَأَيْقَنَ أَنَّهُ لَا يَجِدُهُ؟ ثُمَّ لَوْ كَانَ كَذَلِكَ، فَأَيَّ مَاءٍ يَطْلُبُهُ الْمَرِيضُ الْوَاجِدُ الْمَاءَ؟ فَظَهَرَ فَسَادُ هَذَا الْقَوْلِ جُمْلَةً، لَا سِيَّمَا قَوْلُ مَالِكٍ فِي بَقَاءِ الطَّهَارَةِ بَعْدَ الْفَرِيضَةِ لِلنَّوَافِلِ وَانْتِقَاضِ الطَّهَارَةِ بَعْدَ النَّافِلَةِ لِلْفَرِيضَةِ، وَبَعْدَ الْفَرِيضَةِ لِلْفَرِيضَةِ، وَطَلَبُ الْمَاءِ عَلَى قَوْلِهِمْ يَلْزَمُ لِلنَّافِلَةِ وَلَا بُدَّ، كَمَا يَلْزَمُ لِلْفَرِيضَةِ، إِذْ لَا فَرْقَ فِي وُجُوبِ الطَّهَارَةِ لِلنَّافِلَةِ كَمَا تَجِبُ لِلْفَرِيضَةِ وَلَا فَرْقَ، بِلَا خِلَافٍ بِهِ مِنْ أَحَدٍ مِنَ الْأُمَّةِ وَإِنِ اخْتَلَفَتْ أَحْكَامُهَا فِي غَيْرِ ذَلِكَ، لَا سِيَّمَا وَشَيْخُهُمُ الَّذِي قَلَّدُوهُ - مَالِكٌ - يَقُولُ فِي الْمُوَطَّأِ: لَيْسَ الْمُتَوَضِّئُ بِأَطْهَرَ مِنَ الْمُتَيَمِّمِ، وَمَنْ تَيَمَّمَ فَقَدْ فَعَلَ مَا أَمَرَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِهِ.

وَأَمَّا قَوْلُ الشَّافِعِيِّ فَظَاهِرُ الْخَطَأِ أَيْضًا، لِأَنَّهُ أَوْجَبَ تَجْدِيدَ التَّيَمُّمِ لِلْفَرِيضَةِ وَلَمْ يُوجِبْهُ لِلنَّافِلَةِ، وَهَذَا خَطَأٌ بِكُلِّ مَا ذَكَرْنَاهُ.

L4233 As for Al-Shāfiʿī's statement, it is manifestly erroneous as well, because he obligated renewing tayammum for the obligatory prayer but did not obligate it for the voluntary prayer, and this is erroneous in light of everything we have previously mentioned.

L4234 As for the statement of Abū Thawr, its apparent error is likewise, because he considered purification by tayammum valid with the remaining prayer time and invalidated by the expiration of the prayer time, yet we know of no basis at all—neither in the Quran nor the Sunnah—for the expiration of time in cases of ritual impurity. The command to perform ghusl only came for every obligatory prayer or in combining two prayers for the mustahadah (a woman experiencing chronic bleeding), and the analogy is invalid. Furthermore, even if it were valid, this particular analogy would still be invalid, for comparing the one who performs tayammum to the mustahadah entails no resemblance between them that necessitates it nor a shared legal rationale, rendering it invalid in all cases. Thus, these opinions are all mere claims without proof. And with Allah, the Exalted, is success.

L4235–4237 If they say that this statement of ours is the view of Ibn ʿAbbās, ʿAlī, Ibn ʿUmar, and ʿAmr ibn al-ʿĀṣ. We said: As for the narration from Ibn Abbas, it is rejected because it is transmitted through Hasan ibn ʻUmarah, who is deemed unreliable, and from an unnamed man.

L4238 As for the narration attributed to ʻAmr ibn al-ʻĀṣ, it is only transmitted through Qatādah from ʻAmr ibn al-ʻĀṣ, and Qatādah was not born until after the death of ʻAmr ibn al-ʻĀṣ. The narrations concerning this matter from ʻAlī and Ibn ʻUmar are likewise unreliable. Even if they were authentic, they would not constitute proof, for no one's statement – apart from that of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) – constitutes proof.

L4239 Additionally, the division by Mālik, al-Shāfiʿī, and Abū Thawr has not been transmitted from any of those we mentioned. Thus, they oppose the aforementioned Companions in all those matters. Moreover, a statement resembling our position has also been transmitted from Ibn ʿAbbās. Therefore, our opinion is confirmed, and success is from Allah.

L4240 Some of them said: "When Allah, the Mighty and Majestic, stated: {O you who believe, when you rise for prayer, wash your faces and your hands} [5:6] up to His words: {then perform dry ablution with pure earth} [5:6], He obligated ablution upon everyone who intends to perform prayer. When the Prophet (peace be upon him) prayed all the prayers with a single ablution, ablution was thereby excluded from the ruling of the verse, while dry ablution with pure earth (tayammum) retained its obligation upon everyone who intends to perform prayer."[8]

L4241 Ali (may Allah be pleased with him) said: "This is not as they claimed, particularly the Malikis and Shafi'is who permit standing for voluntary prayers after obligatory prayers without performing tayammum or initiating a search for water. These two groups have no connection to anything we mentioned in this chapter. The discussion lies solely between us and those who upheld Sharik's opinion. We say - and with Allah lies success - the verse does not mandate anything you mentioned. Had it mandated such, it would have required the ritual bath for major impurity from every person standing for prayer indefinitely. Rather, the verse's ruling obligating ablution, tayammum, and ritual bath applies exclusively to those in major impurity or those in minor impurity, by the verse's concluding text that elucidates its opening, due to Allah's statement (Exalted is He): {If you are in a state of major impurity, purify yourselves. If you are ill, on a journey, have come from defecation, or had sexual intercourse with women, and find no water, perform tayammum with clean earth} [5:6]. There is no disagreement among the Ummah that there is an ellipsis here indicated by the conjunction, and the verse's meaning is: If you are ill or on a journey and incur minor impurity, or if one of you comes from defecation, then their objections are invalidated."[9]

بَلْ لَوْ قَالَ قَائِلٌ إنَّ حُكْمَ تَجْدِيدِ الطَّهَارَةِ عِنْدَ الْقِيَامِ إلَى الصَّلَاةِ إنَّمَا هُوَ بِنَصِّ الْآيَةِ إنَّمَا هُوَ عَلَى مَنْ حُكْمُهُ الْوُضُوءُ لَا عَلَى مَنْ حُكْمُهُ التَّيَمُّمُ، لَكَانَ أَحَقَّ بِظَاهِرِ الْآيَةِ مِنْهُمْ، لِأَنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى لَمْ يَأْمُرْ قَطُّ بِالتَّيَمُّمِ فِي الْآيَةِ إلَّا مَنْ كَانَ مُحْدِثًا فَقَطْ، لَا كُلَّ قَائِمٍ إلَى الصَّلَاةِ أَصْلًا، وَهَذَا لَا مَخْلَصَ لَهُمْ مِنْهُ أَلْبَتَّةَ، فَبَطَلَ تَعَلُّقُهُمْ فِي إيجَابِ تَجْدِيدِ التَّيَمُّمِ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ بِالْآيَةِ وَصَارَتْ الْآيَةُ مُوجِبَةً لِقَوْلِنَا، وَمُسْقِطَةً لِلتَّيَمُّمِ إلَّا عَمَّنْ كَانَ مُحْدِثًا فَقَطْ، وَأَنَّ التَّيَمُّمَ طَهَارَةٌ صَحِيحَةٌ بِنَصِّ الْآيَةِ، فَإِذْ الْآيَةُ مُوجِبَةٌ لِذَلِكَ فَقَدْ صَحَّ أَنَّهُ يُصَلِّي بِتَيَمُّمٍ وَاحِدٍ مَا شَاءَ الْمُصَلِّي مِنْ صَلَوَاتِ الْفَرْضِ فِي الْيَوْمِ وَاللَّيْلَةِ وَفِي أَكْثَرَ

L4242–4244 Rather, if someone were to say that the ruling of renewing purification when preparing for prayer is based on the text of the verse—meaning it applies exclusively to those whose ruling is wuḍūʾ (ritual ablution), not to those whose ruling is tayammum (dry ablution)—they would be more entitled to the apparent meaning of the verse. For their part, since Allah the Exalted has never commanded tayammum in the verse except for one who is in a state of ritual impurity alone—not every person who stands for prayer at all—this leaves them no escape whatsoever. Thus, their reliance on the verse to mandate renewing tayammum for every prayer is invalidated. The verse has come to affirm our position, negating tayammum except for one who is in a state of ritual impurity alone. Moreover, tayammum constitutes valid purification by the explicit text of the verse. Since the verse necessitates this, it is validly established that one may pray with a single tayammum—performing as many obligatory prayers as desired throughout day and night, and even more than that, along with voluntary prayers—provided one does not incur ritual impurity, major impurity, or find water, as stipulated by the verse itself. All praise is due to Allah, Lord of the worlds.

Issue: Tayammum is permissible both before the time and during the time.

237 – Issue:

Tayammum is permissible before the prayer time and during it if one intends to perform either a voluntary or obligatory prayer with it, just like wuḍūʾ, with no distinction. This is because Allah the Exalted commanded wuḍūʾ, ghusl, and tayammum when rising for prayer, without specifying that this applies only to obligatory prayers rather than voluntary ones. Thus, anyone intending to pray must purify themselves through ghusl if in a state of major impurity, or through wuḍūʾ or tayammum if in a state of minor impurity. Since this is established, it is necessarily required for one intending prayer to have a time interval between their purification and their prayer. As this is unavoidable, whoever imposes a specific limit on the duration of that interval—such a person is invalidating [the act], for they assert what has no basis in the Qur'an, Sunnah, consensus, analogical reasoning, or a Companion's statement. Therefore, purification through wuḍūʾ or tayammum is not invalidated by the length or brevity of that interval. This is elucidated in the utmost clarity, and all praise belongs to Allah, Lord of the worlds.

Case: He had water in his saddlebag but forgot about it, so he made tayammum and prayed.

238. Issue:

If someone had water in his possession but forgot about it, then performed dry ablution and prayed, his prayer is complete, for the one who forgets is unable to find water. And success is from Allah, the Most High.

Issue: If someone was at sea, and the ship is moving, and he intends to pray.

239 – Issue:

If someone is at sea on a moving ship and is able to take seawater to perform ritual purification with it, no other act is valid for him. If he cannot take it, he must perform tayammum (ritual dry purification using clean earth), and this is valid for him.

It has been reported to us from Abdullah ibn Amr ibn Al-As and Abdullah ibn Umar ibn Al-Khattab—may Allah be pleased with them—that seawater does not suffice for performing ablution with it, and that the ruling for one who cannot find any other [water] is to perform tayammum.

It has been narrated to us from ʿUmar—may Allah be pleased with him—regarding performing ablution with seawater, and this is the correct opinion due to Allah's statement, the Most High: "But if you do not find water, then perform tayammum" [An-Nisāʾ: 43], and due to the saying of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him: "And its soil has been made a purifier for us when we do not find water." Seawater is absolute water. If a person is unable to obtain the water from it, then they have not found water usable for purification, so their obligation is to perform tayammum.[1011]

A case where one finds no water except water he fears may cause him harm.

Issue:

Similarly, if a person is traveling or at home, healthy or ill, and finds no water except what he fears that using it would lead to death or illness, and cannot heat it without the prayer time elapsing, he performs tayammum and prays, because he cannot find water that he is able to use for purification.

It is a juristic issue that one who does not have water with him is not obligated to purchase it for ablution (wuḍūʾ) nor for ghusl.

Issue 241 -

One who does not have water with him is not obligated to purchase it for ablution or bathing, whether the amount is little or much. If he does purchase it, neither ablution nor bathing with it is valid, and his obligation is to perform dry ablution (tayammum). He may purchase water for drinking if it is not provided without charge, and he may seek it for ablution - which is permissible for him.

That is not incumbent upon him. If it is granted to him, he must necessarily perform ablution with it, and no alternative is valid for him.

The proof of that is the prohibition by the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) regarding the sale of water.

And it has been narrated to us through the chain of Muslim: Ahmad ibn Uthman al-Nawfali narrated to us, Abu Asim al-Ḍaḥḥāk ibn Makhlad narrated to us, Ibn Jurayj narrated to us, Ziyad ibn Sa'd informed me, Hilal ibn Usamah informed me that Abu Salamah ibn Abd al-Rahman ibn ʿAwf informed him that he heard Abu Hurayrah say: The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said, 'Excess water must not be sold to facilitate the sale of grazing fodder.'

Hammam narrated to us: Isa ibn Asbagh narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Abd al-Malik ibn Ayman narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Zuhayr ibn Harb narrated to us: My father narrated from Sufyan ibn Uyaynah, from Amr ibn Dinar: Abu al-Minhal informed him that Iyas ibn Abd said to a man: "Do not sell water, for the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) forbade the sale of water." Through the chain of Ibn Abi Shaybah: Sufyan ibn Uyaynah narrated to us from Amr ibn Dinar, from Abu al-Minhal, from Iyas ibn Abd al-Muzani—who saw people selling water—so he said: “Do not sell water, for I heard the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) forbid that it be sold.”[12]

الْمِنْهَالِ «عَنْ إِيَاسِ بْنِ عَبْدٍ الْمُزَنِيِّ - وَرَأَى نَاسًا يَبِيعُونَ الْمَاءَ - فَقَالَ لَا تَبِيعُوا الْمَاءَ، فَإِنِّي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - نَهَى أَنْ يُبَاعَ» .

L4267 From the path of Ibn Abī Shaybah: Yazīd ibn Hārūn narrated to us: Abū Isḥāq narrated to us from Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān from his mother ʿAmrah bint ʿAbd al-Raḥmān from ʿĀ’ishah, the Mother of the Believers, who said: “The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) prohibited us from withholding the leftover water of the well”—as this explanation is given in the ḥadīth. We have also transmitted it as a musnad ḥadīth from the path of Jābir. Thus these are four Companions, and it is a transmission of tawātur (mass-transmitted)—it is impermissible to oppose it.

وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ ابْنِ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ: حَدَّثَنَا يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ ثنا أَبُو إِسْحَاقَ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ عَنْ أُمِّهِ عَمْرَةَ بِنْتِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أُمِّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ قَالَتْ «نَهَى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَنْ نَمْنَعَ نَقْعَ الْبِئْرِ يَعْنِي فَضْلَ الْمَاءِ» هَكَذَا فِي الْحَدِيثِ تَفْسِيرُهُ. وَرُوِّينَاهُ أَيْضًا مُسْنَدًا مِنْ طَرِيقِ جَابِرٍ، فَهَؤُلَاءِ أَرْبَعَةٌ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ، فَهُوَ نَقْلُ تَوَاتُرٍ لَا تَحِلُّ مُخَالَفَتُهُ.

L4268 Ali said: I have thoroughly investigated the discourse on the issue of prohibiting the sale of water in the Book of Sales of this diwan of ours. And praise be to God.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَقَدْ تَقَصَّيْتُ الْكَلَامَ فِي هَذَا فِي مَسْأَلَةِ الْمَنْعِ مِنْ بَيْعِ الْمَاءِ فِي كِتَابِ الْبُيُوعِ مِنْ دِيوَانِنَا هَذَا. وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ.

L4269–4271 Abu Muhammad said: Since the Messenger of Allah—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—forbade its sale, its sale is unlawful. Since this is so, acquiring it through sale constitutes unlawful taking. Since it is unlawfully taken, he does not rightfully own it. Since he is not... If he is the owner of it, it is impermissible for him to use it, based on Allah’s statement - the Exalted: “Do not consume one another’s wealth wrongfully” [Surah Al-Baqarah 2:188], and the teaching of the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - “Indeed, your blood and your wealth are inviolable to you.” Then if he cannot obtain it except through a prohibited means - such as usurpation or a forbidden sale - he is considered not to have found water. And if he does not find water, his obligation is to perform dry ablution (tayammum).[13]

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: فَإِذْ نَهَى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - عَنْ بَيْعِهِ فَبَيْعُهُ حَرَامٌ، وَإِذْ هُوَ كَذَلِكَ فَأَخْذُهُ بِالْبَيْعِ أَخْذٌ بِالْبَاطِلِ، وَإِذْ هُوَ مَأْخُوذٌ بِالْبَاطِلِ فَهُوَ غَيْرُ مُتَمَلِّكٍ لَهُ، وَإِذْ هُوَ غَيْرُ مُتَمَلِّكٍ لَهُ فَلَا يَحِلُّ اسْتِعْمَالُهُ لَهُ، لِقَوْلِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {وَلا تَأْكُلُوا أَمْوَالَكُمْ بَيْنَكُمْ بِالْبَاطِلِ} [البقرة: ١٨٨] وَلِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «إِنَّ دِمَاءَكُمْ وَأَمْوَالَكُمْ عَلَيْكُمْ حَرَامٌ» فَإِذَا لَمْ يَجِدْهُ إِلَّا بِوَجْهٍ حَرَامٍ - مِنْ غَصْبٍ أَوْ بَيْعٍ مُحَرَّمٍ - فَهُوَ غَيْرُ وَاجِدٍ الْمَاءَ، وَإِذَا لَمْ يَجِدْ الْمَاءَ فَفَرْضُهُ التَّيَمُّمُ.

L4272 As for purchasing water for drinking out of necessity, the buyer is compelled to do so, while accepting payment is forbidden for the seller because he acquired it unjustly. Withholding surplus water is forbidden for him in such circumstances.

وَأَمَّا اسْتِيهَابُهُ الْمَاءَ فَلَمْ يَأْتِ بِذَلِكَ إِيجَابٌ وَلَا جَاءَ عَنْهُ مَنْعٌ فَهُوَ مُبَاحٌ، قَالَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «دَعُونِي مَا تَرَكْتُكُمْ فَإِذَا أَمَرْتُكُمْ بِشَيْءٍ فَأْتُوا مِنْهُ مَا اسْتَطَعْتُمْ وَإِذَا نَهَيْتُكُمْ عَنْ شَيْءٍ فَدَعُوهُ» أَوْ كَمَا قَالَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -، فَإِذَا مَلَكَهُ بِهِبَةٍ فَقَدْ مَلَكَهُ بِحَقٍّ، فَوَاجِبٌ عَلَيْهِ اسْتِعْمَالُهُ فِي الطَّهَارَةِ وَبِاللَّهِ التَّوْفِيقُ.

L4273 As for requesting water as a gift, no obligation has been established regarding it, nor has any prohibition been transmitted from the Prophet—peace be upon him. Thus, it is permissible. He—peace be upon him—said: "Do not ask me about matters I have not addressed. When I command you to do something, do as much as you can, and when I forbid you from something, abstain from it"—or words to that effect. Therefore, if one acquires ownership of it through a gift, they rightfully own it, and it becomes obligatory to use it for purification. Success is by Allah's grace.

وَقَدْ اخْتَلَفَ النَّاسُ فِي هَذَا فَقَالَ الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ وَالشَّافِعِيُّ وَإِسْحَاقُ: عَلَيْهِ أَنْ يَشْتَرِيَ الْمَاءَ لِلْوُضُوءِ بِثَمَنِهِ، فَإِنْ طُلِبَ مِنْهُ أَكْثَرُ مِنْ ثَمَنِهِ، تَيَمَّمَ وَلَمْ يَشْتَرِهِ.

L4274 People have differed regarding this matter. Al-Awzāʿī, al-Shāfiʿī, and Isḥāq said: He must purchase water for ablution at its price. If he is asked to pay more than its price, he should perform tayammum and not purchase it.

وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ لَا يَشْتَرِيهِ بِثَمَنٍ كَثِيرٍ.

L4275 And Abu Hanifah said: He should not purchase it for a high price.

وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: إِنْ كَانَ قَلِيلَ الدَّرَاهِمِ وَلَمْ يَجِدْ الْمَاءَ إِلَّا بِثَمَنٍ غَالٍ تَيَمَّمَ، وَإِنْ كَانَ كَثِيرَ الْمَالِ اشْتَرَى مَا لَمْ يَشُطُّوا عَلَيْهِ فِي الثَّمَنِ، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ أَحْمَدَ.

L4276 Mālik said: If he has few dirhams and cannot find water except at an exorbitant price, he should perform tayammum, and if he is wealthy, he should purchase it as long as they do not overcharge him. This is the opinion of Aḥmad.

L4277 Al-Hasan Al-Basri said: "He should purchase it even if it costs all his wealth." Abu Muhammad said: "If one can obtain it at the price—while having access to water—then the ruling is as Al-Hasan stated. But if one cannot obtain it at the price, then the opinion is our view. As for the division regarding purchasing it as long as the price does not become exorbitant for him, and abandoning it if it is made overpriced for him, there is no proof for the validity of this opinion. Whatever is necessitated by necessity is not exorbitant in any way whatsoever, and success is from Allah, the Exalted."

It does not matter which he performs first. Nothing suffices him except this, as these are two distinct obligations. Since they differ in this manner, neither can substitute for the other, as we have previously established. Being capable of fulfilling one obligation completely with water, nothing becomes valid for him except performing it with water. He must discharge the remaining obligation through tayammum as well, as he has been commanded.

obligation without exception, by Allah the Exalted's permission to use earth instead of water when it is unavailable. And with Allah the Exalted is success.

L4290 Abu Muhammad said: The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—stated, "When I command you to do something, fulfill it to the extent of your ability." In this scenario, if a person is capable of performing part of his ablution or part of his ghusl but unable to complete the remainder, it becomes obligatory for him to perform as much of the ghusl as he is able first. The first limbs of ablution or ghusl—as far as he is able—are to be washed. When this capacity is exhausted, he must necessarily perform tayammum for his remaining limbs, as he lacks access to water to purify them. It is obligatory for him to substitute with dust as Allah the Exalted has commanded him. If a limb is missing or he cannot apply water to it due to a wound or fracture, the ruling for that limb is waived—whether minor or extensive—and washing the remaining limbs suffices. This is because he possesses water but is incapable of purifying those limbs and is not among those who perform tayammum due to water's availability. What he is incapable of is lifted from him, in accordance with Allah's decree: "Allah does not burden a soul beyond its capacity" [Al-Baqarah 2:286]. Success is through Allah alone.[15]

L4291 Case: He has entered a state of janabah and has no water with him.

L4292 245 – Issue:

L4293 Whoever is in a state of major impurity and has no water must perform two dry ablutions (tayammums), intending one for purification from major impurity and the other for wudu. It does not matter which one is performed first.

L4294 The proof for this is that they are two distinct acts, as we previously established. Therefore, a single act cannot substitute for two obligatory acts unless supported by a textual ruling permitting it. A textual ruling indeed exists stating that washing the limbs required for wudū' suffices both for that purpose and for washing them in ghusl al-janābah (major impurity), which is why we adhere to this ruling. However, no textual ruling exists here indicating that a single tayammum suffices for both janābah and wudū'.

فَمَنْ أَجْنَبَ وَلَا مَاءَ مَعَهُ فَلَا بُدَّ لَهُ مِنْ أَنْ يَتَيَمَّمَ تَيَمُّمَيْنِ، يَنْوِي بِأَحَدِهِمَا تَطْهِيرَ الْجَنَابَةِ وَبِالْآخِرِ الْوُضُوءَ، وَلَا يُبَالِي أَيَّهُمَا قَدَّمَ.

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ أَنَّهُمَا عَمَلَانِ مُتَغَايِرَانِ كَمَا قَدَّمْنَا، فَلَا يُجْزِئُ عَمَلٌ وَاحِدٌ عَنْ عَمَلَيْنِ مُفْتَرَضَيْنِ إلَّا بِأَنْ يَأْتِيَ نَصٌّ بِأَنَّهُ يُجْزِئُ عَنْهُمَا، وَالنَّصُّ قَدْ جَاءَ بِأَنَّ غَسْلَ أَعْضَاءِ الْوُضُوءِ يُجْزِئُ عَنْ ذَلِكَ وَعَنْ غَسْلِهَا فِي غُسْلِ الْجَنَابَةِ فَصِرْنَا إلَى ذَلِكَ، وَلَمْ يَأْتِ هَهُنَا نَصٌّ بِأَنَّ تَيَمُّمًا وَاحِدًا يُجْزِئُ عَنْ الْجَنَابَةِ وَعَنْ الْوُضُوءِ: وَكَذَلِكَ لَوْ أَجْنَبَتْ الْمَرْأَةُ ثُمَّ حَاضَتْ ثُمَّ

Similarly, if a woman experiences janābah, then menstruates, then becomes pure on Friday while traveling without access to water, she must perform four tayammums: one for menstruation, one for janābah, one for wudū', and one for the Friday prayer (Ṣalāt al-Jumu'ah), due to the reasoning we outlined. If she ritually washed a deceased person, a fifth tayammum becomes obligatory. The evidence for this, as we have previously discussed in the context of ghusl and the convergence of its aspects necessitating it, remains applicable. Success is attained only through Allah, the Exalted.

L4295 Issue: If a person is imprisoned or crucified such that they cannot find water or clean earth, and the time for prayer arrives.

L4296 246 - Issue:

L4297–4299 And whoever is confined in a settled area or during a journey where they cannot find clean earth or water or... If he was crucified and the prayer time commenced, he should pray in his current state, and his prayer is complete; he need not repeat it—regardless of whether he had access to water during the prescribed time or only after it.

L4300 The proof of that is the statement of Allah the Exalted: "So fear Allah as much as you are able" [At-Taghabun 64:16], His statement the Exalted: "Allah does not burden a soul beyond its capacity" [Al-Baqarah 2:286], the statement of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—"When I command you with a matter, do of it what you can," and His statement the Exalted: "He has already detailed for you what He has forbidden to you, except that to which you are compelled" [Al-An'ām 6:119]. It is established by these texts that nothing is binding upon us from the revealed laws except what we are capable of, that whatever we are incapable of is lifted from us, and that Allah the Exalted has forbidden us from abandoning ablution or tayammum for prayer except when compelled. One prevented from water or clean earth is compelled to what is forbidden—abandoning purification with water or clean earth—thus the prohibition of that is lifted from us regarding him. He is capable of prayer by fulfilling its rulings and through faith. What remains obligatory upon him is only what he can perform. If he prays as we have described, he has prayed as Allah the Exalted commanded him. Whoever prays as Allah the Exalted commanded him bears no blame. Hastening to pray at the beginning of its time is more virtuous for the reason we mentioned earlier.[16]

مُضْطَرٌّ إِلَى مَا حُرِّمَ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ تَرْكِ التَّطَهُّرِ بِالْمَاءِ أَوْ التُّرَابِ، فَسَقَطَ عَنَّا تَحْرِيمُ ذَلِكَ عَلَيْهِ، وَهُوَ قَادِرٌ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ بِتَوْفِيَتِهَا أَحْكَامَهَا وَبِالْإِيمَانِ، فَبَقِيَ عَلَيْهِ مَا قَدَرَ عَلَيْهِ، فَإِذَا صَلَّى كَمَا ذَكَرْنَا فَقَدْ صَلَّى كَمَا أَمَرَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى، وَمَنْ صَلَّى كَمَا أَمَرَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى فَلَا شَيْءَ عَلَيْهِ، وَالْمُبَادَرَةُ إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ فِي أَوَّلِ الْوَقْتِ أَفْضَلُ لِمَا ذَكَرْنَا قَبْلُ.

L4301 Abu Hanifah, Sufyan al-Thawri, and al-Awza'i said regarding one in such a condition: He may not pray until he finds water, and when he finds it, he must use it.

وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ وَسُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ وَالْأَوْزَاعِيُّ فِيمَنْ هَذِهِ صِفَتُهُ: لَا يُصَلِّي حَتَّى يَجِدَ الْمَاءَ مَتَى وَجَدَهُ.

L4302 Abu Hanifah said: If one is able to perform tayammum, he should perform tayammum and pray. Then if he finds water, he must absolutely reperform the prayer whenever he finds it. If he fears death from the cold, he should perform tayammum and pray, and this is valid for him.

قَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: فَإِنْ قَدَرَ عَلَى التَّيَمُّمِ تَيَمَّمَ وَصَلَّى، ثُمَّ إِذَا وَجَدَ الْمَاءَ أَعَادَ وَلَا بُدَّ مَتَى وَجَدَهُ، وَإِنْ خَشِيَ الْمَوْتَ مِنْ الْبَرْدِ تَيَمَّمَ وَصَلَّى وَأَجْزَأَهُ.

L4303 Abu Yusuf, Muhammad ibn al-Hasan, and al-Shafi'i said: He should pray as he is. When he finds water, he must repeat the prayer whenever he finds it. If he is in a town and is able to find dust, he should perform tayammum and pray; he must also repeat the prayer without fail whenever he finds water.

وَقَالَ أَبُو يُوسُفَ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْحَسَنِ وَالشَّافِعِيُّ: يُصَلِّي كَمَا هُوَ، فَإِذَا وَجَدَ الْمَاءَ أَعَادَ مَتَى وَجَدَهُ، فَإِنْ قَدَرَ فِي الْمِصْرِ عَلَى التُّرَابِ تَيَمَّمَ وَصَلَّى، وَأَعَادَ أَيْضًا وَلَا بُدَّ إِذَا وَجَدَ الْمَاءَ.

L4304 Zufar said regarding someone imprisoned in a city where he finds neither water nor soil, or where he does find soil: "He must not pray at all until he finds water - neither with tayammum nor without it. When he finds water, he should perform wuḍūʾ and pray those prayers." Some of our companions said: "He neither prays nor repeats them." Abū Thawr said: "He prays as he is and does not repeat the prayers."

وَقَالَ زُفَرُ فِي الْمَحْبُوسِ فِي الْمِصْرِ بِحَيْثُ لَا يَجِدُ مَاءً وَلَا تُرَابًا أَوْ بِحَيْثُ يَجِدُ التُّرَابَ: إنَّهُ لَا يُصَلِّي أَصْلًا حَتَّى يَجِدَ الْمَاءَ، لَا بِتَيَمُّمٍ وَلَا بِلَا تَيَمُّمٍ، فَإِذَا وَجَدَ الْمَاءَ تَوَضَّأَ وَصَلَّى تِلْكَ الصَّلَوَاتِ، وَقَالَ بَعْضُ أَصْحَابِنَا: لَا يُصَلِّي وَلَا يُعِيدُ، وَقَالَ أَبُو ثَوْرٍ: يُصَلِّي كَمَا هُوَ وَلَا يُعِيدُ.

L4305–4307 Ali said: As for the statement of Abū Ḥanīfa, it is evidently contradictory, because he does not permit prayer with tayammum in settled areas for those other than the sick and those in fear of death, just as he does not permit them to pray without wudu or tayammum - and there is no distinction. Then he differentiated between the two cases - though both, in his view, render their prayer invalid - and ruled that one of the two cases should perform the prayer [anyway]. The prayer is not valid for him, and he instructed the other not to perform it. This constitutes an unmistakable error. Therefore, this opinion is utterly and unmistakably invalidated, and he possesses no evidence whatsoever that could be relied upon.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: أَمَّا قَوْلُ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ فَظَاهِرُ التَّنَاقُضِ، لِأَنَّهُ لَا يُجِيزُ الصَّلَاةَ بِالتَّيَمُّمِ فِي الْمِصْرِ لِغَيْرِ الْمَرِيضِ وَخَائِفِ الْمَوْتِ، كَمَا لَا يُجِيزُ لَهُ الصَّلَاةَ بِغَيْرِ الْوُضُوءِ وَالتَّيَمُّمِ وَلَا فَرْقَ، ثُمَّ فَرَّقَ بَيْنَهُمَا - وَكِلَاهُمَا عِنْدَهُ لَا تُجْزِيهِ صَلَاتُهُ - فَأَمَرَ أَحَدَهُمَا بِأَنْ يُصَلِّيَ صَلَاةً لَا

تُجْزِيهِ، وَأَمَرَ الْآخَرَ بِأَنْ لَا يُصَلِّيَهَا، وَهَذَا خَطَأٌ لَا خَفَاءَ بِهِ، فَسَقَطَ هَذَا الْقَوْلُ سُقُوطًا لَا خَفَاءَ بِهِ، وَمَا لَهُ حُجَّةٌ أَصْلًا يُمْكِنُ أَنْ يَتَعَلَّقَ بِهَا.

L4308 As for the statement of Abū Yūsuf and Muḥammad, it is an error because they instructed him to perform a prayer that neither suffices him nor holds any meaning, so it is invalid. Allah the Exalted has said: "Do not nullify your deeds" [Muḥammad: 33].[17]

وَأَمَّا قَوْلُ أَبِي يُوسُفَ وَمُحَمَّدٍ فَخَطَأٌ، لِأَنَّهُمَا أَمَرَاهُ بِصَلَاةٍ لَا تُجْزِيهِ وَلَا لَهَا مَعْنًى، فَهِيَ بَاطِلٌ، وَقَدْ قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {وَلا تُبْطِلُوا أَعْمَالَكُمْ} [محمد: ٣٣]

L4309 As for the statement of Zufar, it is also erroneous because he ruled that one should not pray during the time in which Allah the Exalted has ordained prayer, and he commanded prayer during the time until which Allah has prohibited delaying prayer. Allah the Exalted has enjoined prayer in its time with the most emphatic and stringent command. Allah the Exalted said: {But if they repent, establish prayer, and give Zakat, then let them go free} [At-Tawbah: 5]. Thus, the Exalted did not command the release of the disbeliever until he repents from disbelief, establishes prayer, and gives Zakat. Therefore, it is impermissible to neglect an obligation possessing these attributes beyond the time for which the Exalted has not allowed postponement. Thus, the incorrectness of Zufar's statement—and that of anyone who commands others to delay prayer beyond its time—becomes evident.[18]

وَأَمَّا قَوْلُ زُفَرَ فَخَطَأٌ أَيْضًا، لِأَنَّهُ أَمَرَهُ بِأَنْ لَا يُصَلِّيَ فِي الْوَقْتِ الَّذِي أَمَرَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِالصَّلَاةِ فِيهِ، وَأَمَرَهُ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ فِي الْوَقْتِ الَّذِي نَهَاهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عَنْ تَأْخِيرِهِ الصَّلَاةَ إِلَيْهِ، وَقَدْ أَمَرَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِالصَّلَاةِ فِي وَقْتِهَا أَوْكَدَ أَمْرٍ وَأَشَدَّهُ، قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {فَإِنْ تَابُوا وَأَقَامُوا الصَّلاةَ وَآتَوُا الزَّكَاةَ فَخَلُّوا سَبِيلَهُمْ} [التوبة: ٥] فَلَمْ يَأْمُرْ تَعَالَى بِتَخْلِيَةِ سَبِيلِ الْكَافِرِ حَتَّى يَتُوبَ مِنَ الْكُفْرِ وَيُقِيمَ الصَّلَاةَ وَيُؤْتِيَ الزَّكَاةَ، فَلَا يَحِلُّ تَرْكُ مَا هَذِهِ صِفَتُهُ عَنِ الْوَقْتِ الَّذِي لَمْ يُفْسِحْ تَعَالَى فِي تَأْخِيرِهِ عَنْهُ، فَظَهَرَ فَسَادُ قَوْلِ زُفَرَ وَكُلِّ مَنْ أَمَرَهُ بِتَأْخِيرِ الصَّلَاةِ عَنْ وَقْتِهَا.

L4310 As for those who say that one should not pray at all, they argued based on the statement of Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—"The prayer of one who nullifies his ablution is not accepted until he renews it," and his statement—peace be upon him—"Allah does not accept prayer without purification." They reasoned: Therefore, we do not command him to perform what Allah the Exalted does not accept from him, for during the prayer's prescribed time he is neither in ablution nor purified, and after its time elapses, he is prohibited from delaying the prayer beyond its prescribed time.

L4311 Ali said: This was the most correct of opinions, were it not for what we mentioned - that the Prophet (peace be upon him) relieved us of what we cannot perform from what he commanded us, and maintained upon us what we can perform; and that Allah the Exalted relieved us of what we cannot manage, and preserved for us what we can manage, through His words: "So fear Allah to the best of your ability" (64:16). Thus it is established that his statement (peace be upon him): "The prayer of one who breaks his ablution is not accepted until he renews it" and "Allah does not accept prayer without purification" only obligates those capable of performing ablution or tayammum through available water or soil - not those incapable of both ablution and tayammum. This is the explicit text of the Quran and the Sunnah. Since this is confirmed, the obligation of what we cannot bear in this matter is lifted from us, while the obligation of what we can bear remains upon us - namely the prayer. Therefore, when this is the case, the worshipper fulfilling these conditions has performed what he was commanded, and whoever fulfills his obligation has no requirement for making it up. Success comes only from Allah, the Most High.[19]

L4312–4314 How could it be otherwise, when a definitive text has come regarding this—as narrated to us by ʻAbdullāh ibn Rabīʻ, narrated to us by Ibn as-Salīm, narrated to us by Ibn al-Aʻrābī, narrated to us by Abū Dāwūd, narrated to us by an-Nufaylī, narrated to us by Abū Muʻāwiyah, from Hishām ibn ʻUrwah, from his father, from ʻĀ'ishah. Aisha said: "The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) sent Usayd ibn al-Hudayr and some men with him to search for a necklace she had lost. When prayer time arrived, they prayed without ablution. They came to the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) and mentioned this to him, so the verse of tayammum (dry ablution) was revealed."

L4315 Abd al-Rahman ibn Abd Allah ibn Khalid narrated to us: Ibrahim ibn Ahmad narrated to us: al-Farbari narrated to us: al-Bukhari narrated to us:

Zakariyya ibn Yahya narrated to us: Ibn Numayr—he is Abd Allah—narrated to us: Hisham ibn Urwah narrated from his father, from Aishah, that she borrowed a necklace from Asma and it was lost. The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—sent a man, and he found it. Then the time for prayer came upon them, and they had no water with them, so they prayed. They complained about this to the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—so Allah the Exalted revealed the verse of tayammum. L4318 Whoever is traveling and has no water with him, or is ill and finds it difficult to use water, may kiss his wife and engage in marital relations with her. This is the opinion of Ibn ʿAbbās, Jābir ibn Zayd, al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī, Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyib, Qatādah, Sufyān al-Thawrī, al-Awzāʿī, Abū Ḥanīfah, al-Shāfiʿī, Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, Isḥāq, Dāwūd, and the majority of Hadith scholars.

وَمَنْ كَانَ فِي سَفَرٍ وَلَا مَاءَ مَعَهُ أَوْ كَانَ مَرِيضًا يَشُقُّ عَلَيْهِ اسْتِعْمَالُ الْمَاءِ فَلَهُ أَنْ يُقَبِّلَ زَوْجَتَهُ وَأَنْ يَطَأَهَا، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ وَجَابِرِ بْنِ زَيْدٍ وَالْحَسَنِ الْبَصْرِيِّ وَسَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيِّبِ وَقَتَادَةَ وَسُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ وَالْأَوْزَاعِيِّ وَأَبِي حَنِيفَةَ وَالشَّافِعِيِّ وَأَحْمَدَ بْنِ حَنْبَلٍ وَإِسْحَاقَ وَدَاوُد، وَجُمْهُورِ أَصْحَابِ الْحَدِيثِ.

L4319 It has been reported from ʿAlī, Ibn Masʿūd, Ibn ʿAwf, and Ibn ʿUmar that they prohibited this. ʿAṭāʾ said: "If the distance between him and water is three nights' travel or less, he must not have sexual relations with her. But if the distance is four nights' travel, he may have sexual relations with her." Al-Zuhrī said: "If he is a traveler, he must not have sexual relations with her. If he is a seasoned western traveler, he may have sexual relations with her. And if he has no water with him, he may do so." Mālik said: "If he is a traveler, he must not have sexual relations with her nor kiss her even if he is in a state of ablution. If he has wounds that require him to perform tayammum instead, he may have sexual relations with her and kiss her, for such a person's circumstance involves prolonged hardship."

وَرُوِيَ عَنْ عَلِيٍّ وَابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ وَابْنِ عَوْفٍ وَابْنِ عُمَرَ النَّهْيُ عَنْ ذَلِكَ، وَقَالَ عَطَاءٌ إنْ كَانَ بَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْمَاءِ ثَلَاثُ لَيَالٍ فَأَقَلَّ فَلَا يَطَؤُهَا، وَإِنْ كَانَ بَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْمَاءِ أَرْبَعُ لَيَالٍ فَلَهُ أَنْ يَطَأَهَا وَقَالَ الزُّهْرِيُّ إنْ كَانَ مُسَافِرًا فَلَا يَطَؤُهَا لَهُ وَإِنْ كَانَ مَغْرِبًا رَحَّالًا فَلَهُ أَنْ يَطَأَهَا، وَإِنْ كَانَ لَا مَاءَ مَعَهُ. وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: إنْ كَانَ مُسَافِرًا فَلَا يَطَؤُهَا وَلَا يُقَبِّلُهَا إنْ كَانَ عَلَى وُضُوءٍ، فَإِنْ كَانَ بِهِ جِرَاحٌ يَكُونُ حُكْمُهُ مَعَهَا التَّيَمُّمَ فَلَهُ أَنْ يَطَأَهَا وَيُقَبِّلَهَا، لِأَنَّ أَمْرَ هَذَا يَطُولُ.

L4320 He said: If she was menstruating, then her menstruation ended [but] she performed dry ablution (tayammum) and prayed, her husband is not permitted to have intercourse with her. He said: Likewise, he is not permitted to do so even if she is no longer menstruating but has only performed tayammum.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: أَمَّا تَقْسِيمُ عَطَاءٍ فَلَا وَجْهَ لَهُ، لِأَنَّهُ لَمْ يُوجِبْ ذَلِكَ الْحَدَّ قُرْآنٌ وَلَا سُنَّةٌ وَكَذَلِكَ تَقْسِيمُ الزُّهْرِيِّ، وَأَمَّا قَوْلُ مَالِكٍ فَكَذَلِكَ أَيْضًا، لِأَنَّهُ تَفْرِيقٌ لَمْ يُوجِبْهُ قُرْآنٌ وَلَا سُنَّةٌ صَحِيحَةٌ وَلَا سَقِيمَةٌ وَلَا إجْمَاعٌ وَلَا قَوْلُ صَاحِبٍ لَمْ يُخَالَفْ وَلَا قِيَاسٌ وَلَا احْتِيَاطٌ، لِأَنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى سَمَّى التَّيَمُّمَ طُهْرًا، وَالصَّلَاةُ بِهِ جَائِزَةٌ، وَقَدْ حَضَّ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عَلَى مُبَاضَعَةِ الرَّجُلِ امْرَأَتَهُ، وَصَحَّ أَنَّهُ مَأْجُورٌ فِي ذَلِكَ، وَمَا خَصَّ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِذَلِكَ مَنْ حُكْمُهُ التَّيَمُّمُ مِمَّنْ حُكْمُهُ الْغُسْلُ أَوْ الْوُضُوءُ.

L4321–4323 Ali said: As for the division of the stipend, there is no basis for it, as neither the Quran nor the Sunnah has obligated this ruling. The same applies to al-Zuhri's division. As for Mālik's opinion, it is likewise, because it is a division not mandated by the Quran, nor by a Sunnah of sound or weak authenticity, nor by consensus, nor by an uncontradicted statement of a Companion, nor by analogy, nor by precaution. This is because Allah the Exalted has designated tayammum as purification, and prayer performed with it is permissible. Moreover, Allah the Exalted has enjoined... A man's sexual intercourse with his wife is permissible, and it is valid that he is rewarded for it. Allah the Exalted has not specified this ruling to those whose obligation is Tayammum over those whose obligation is Ghusl or Wudu.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: وَالْعَجَبُ أَنَّهُ يَرَى أَنَّهُ يُجْزِئُ لِلْجَنَابَةِ وَلِلْوُضُوءِ وَلِلْحَيْضِ تَيَمُّمٌ وَاحِدٌ، ثُمَّ يَمْنَعُ الْمُحْدِثَةَ وَالْمُتَطَهِّرَةَ مِنْ الْحَيْضِ بِالتَّيَمُّمِ وَالْمُحْدِثَ أَنْ يَطَأَ امْرَأَتَهُ فَقَدْ أَوْجَبَ أَنَّهُمَا عَمَلَانِ مُتَغَايِرَانِ، فَكَيْفَ يُجْزِئُ عِنْدَهُ عَنْهُمَا عَمَلٌ وَاحِدٌ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَلَا حُجَّةَ لِلْمَانِعِ مِنْ ذَلِكَ أَصْلًا، لِأَنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى جَعَلَ نِسَاءَنَا حَرْثًا لَنَا وَلِبَاسًا لَنَا، وَأَمَرَنَا بِالْوَطْءِ فِي الزَّوْجَاتِ وَذَوَاتِ الْأَيْمَانِ، حَتَّى أَوْجَبَ تَعَالَى عَلَى الْحَالِفِ أَنْ يَطَأَ امْرَأَتَهُ أَجَلًا مَحْدُودًا - إمَّا أَنْ يَطَأَ وَإِمَّا أَنْ يُطَلِّقَ، وَجَعَلَ حُكْمَ الْوَاطِئِ وَالْمُحْدِثِ الْغُسْلَ وَالْوُضُوءَ إنْ وَجَدَ الْمَاءَ، وَالتَّيَمُّمَ إنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ الْمَاءَ، لَا فَضْلَ لِأَحَدِ الْعَمَلَيْنِ عَلَى الْآخَرِ، وَلَيْسَ أَحَدُهُمَا بِأَطْهَرَ مِنْ الْآخَرِ وَلَا بِأَتَمَّ صَلَاةً، فَصَحَّ أَنَّ لِكُلِّ وَاحِدٍ حُكْمَهُ، فَلَا مَعْنَى لِمَنْعِ مَنْ حُكْمُهُ التَّيَمُّمُ مِنْ الْوَطْءِ، كَمَا لَا مَعْنَى لِمَنْعِ مَنْ حُكْمُهُ الْغُسْلُ مِنْ الْوَطْءِ، وَكُلُّ ذَلِكَ

L4324 Abu Muhammad said: It is astonishing that he considers a single tayammum sufficient for major impurity, ablution, and menstruation, yet prohibits the woman in minor impurity and the one purified from menstruation via tayammum, as well as the man in minor impurity, from having intercourse with his wife. This necessitates that these are two distinct acts. How then can a single act suffice for both according to him? Ali said: The prohibitor has no valid argument whatsoever, for Allah the Exalted made our wives a tilth for us and a garment for us, commanding intercourse with spouses and bondwomen—even obligating the oath-taker to have intercourse with his wife within a fixed term: either to do so or to divorce. He ordained that the one who has intercourse or is in minor impurity must perform ghusl or wudu if water is available, and tayammum if not. Neither act holds superiority over the other, nor is one purer than the other or more complete in prayer. Thus it is established that each has its own ruling. There is no sense in prohibiting one obligated to tayammum from intercourse, just as none exists for prohibiting one obligated to ghusl. All this stands equal in the text—neither being foundational nor derivative, but equal in the Quran. And success is from Allah, the Exalted.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ يَؤُمُّ الْمُتَيَمِّمُ الْمُتَوَضِّئِينَ وَالْمُتَوَضِّئُ الْمُتَيَمِّمِينَ]

Issue: May a person who has performed tayammum lead those who have performed wudu, and may a person who has performed wudu lead those who have performed tayammum?

٢٤٨ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

248. Question:

وَجَائِزٌ أَنْ يَؤُمَّ الْمُتَيَمِّمُ الْمُتَوَضِّئِينَ، وَالْمُتَوَضِّئُ الْمُتَيَمِّمِينَ، وَالْمَاسِحُ الْغَاسِلِينَ وَالْغَاسِلُ الْمَاسِحِينَ، لِأَنَّ كُلَّ وَاحِدٍ مِمَّنْ ذَكَرْنَا قَدْ أَدَّى فَرْضَهُ، وَلَيْسَ أَحَدُهُمَا بِأَطْهَرَ مِنَ الْآخَرِ، وَلَا أَحَدُهُمَا أَتَمَّ صَلَاةً مِنَ الْآخَرِ، وَقَدْ أَمَرَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إِذَا حَضَرَتْ الصَّلَاةُ أَنْ يَؤُمَّهُمْ أَقْرَؤُهُمْ، وَلَمْ يَخُصَّ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - غَيْرَ ذَلِكَ، وَلَوْ كَانَ هَهُنَا وَاجِبٌ غَيْرُ مَا ذَكَرَهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لَبَيَّنَهُ وَلَا أَهْمَلَهُ، حَاشَا لِلَّهِ مِنْ ذَلِكَ، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ وَأَبِي يُوسُفَ وَزُفَرَ وَسُفْيَانَ وَالشَّافِعِيِّ وَدَاوُد وَأَحْمَدَ وَإِسْحَاقَ وَأَبِي ثَوْرٍ، وَرُوِيَ ذَلِكَ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ وَعَمَّارِ بْنِ يَاسِرٍ وَجَمَاعَةٍ مِنَ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ -، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيِّبِ وَالْحَسَنِ وَعَطَاءٍ وَالزُّهْرِيِّ وَحَمَّادِ بْنِ أَبِي سُلَيْمَانَ.

It is permissible for one who performed dry ablution (tayammum) to lead in prayer those who performed ritual washing (wudu), and for one who performed ritual washing to lead those who performed dry ablution. Likewise, one performing wiping (masah) may lead those performing full bathing (ghusl), and one performing full bathing may lead those performing wiping. This is because each of those we mentioned has fulfilled his obligatory duty. Neither is ritually purer than the other, nor does either pray more completely than the other. The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) commanded that when prayer time arrives, the most proficient in Quran recitation among them should lead them. He (peace be upon him) did not specify any other condition. Had there been an obligation beyond what he mentioned (peace be upon him), he would have clarified it and not neglected it—far is Allah from such neglect. This is the opinion of Abū Ḥanīfah, Abū Yūsuf, Zufar, Sufyān, al-Shāfiʿī, Dāwūd, Aḥmad, Isḥāq, Abū Thawr, and it is reported from Ibn ʿAbbās, ʿAmmār ibn Yāsir, and a group of the Companions (may Allah be pleased with them). It is also the view of Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyab, al-Ḥasan, ʿAṭāʾ, al-Zuhrī, and Ḥammād ibn Abī Sulaymān.

وَرُوِيَ الْمَنْعُ فِي ذَلِكَ عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ، قَالَ: لَا يَؤُمُّ الْمُتَيَمِّمُ الْمُتَوَضِّئِينَ وَلَا الْمُقَيَّدُ الْمُطْلَقِينَ، وَقَالَ رَبِيعَةُ: لَا يَؤُمُّ الْمُتَيَمِّمُ مِنْ جَنَابَةٍ إِلَّا مَنْ هُوَ مِثْلُهُ، وَبِهِ يَقُولُ يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْأَنْصَارِيُّ.

It has been reported that the prohibition regarding this is from ʿAli ibn Abi Talib, who said: "One who performs dry ablution should not lead in prayer those who have performed ablution with water, nor should a person under restrictions lead those who are not restricted." Rabiʿah said: "One who performs dry ablution due to major impurity (janabah) should not lead [in prayer] except someone in the same state as him." Yahya ibn Sa'id al-Ansari also holds this view.

وَقَالَ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْحَسَنِ وَالْحَسَنُ بْنُ حَيٍّ: لَا يَؤُمُّهُمْ.

L4329 Muhammad ibn al-Ḥasan and al-Ḥasan ibn Ḥayyin said: He should not lead them in prayer.

Key refinements: 1. Corrected transliteration of "حَيٍّ" to Ḥayyin (reflecting the genitive tanwīn). 2. Used singular verb "said" to mirror Arabic grammatical structure (قَالَ with compound subject). 3. Retained implied pronoun "he" (from يَؤُمُّهُمْ) without expansion for strict literalness.

وَكَرِهَ مَالِكٌ وَعُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ الْحَسَنِ أَنْ يَؤُمَّهُمْ، فَإِنْ فَعَلَ أَجْزَأَهُ. وَقَالَ الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ: لَا يَؤُمُّهُمْ إِلَّا إِنْ كَانَ أَمِيرًا.

L4330 Mālik and 'Ubayd Allāh ibn al-Ḥasan disliked that someone lead them in prayer. If he does so, it suffices him. Al-Awzā'ī said: He should not lead them unless he is a leader.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: النَّهْيُ عَنْ ذَلِكَ أَوْ كَرَاهَتُهُ لَا دَلِيلَ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ قُرْآنٍ وَلَا مِنْ سُنَّةٍ وَلَا مِنْ إِجْمَاعٍ وَلَا مِنْ قِيَاسٍ، وَكَذَلِكَ تَقْسِيمُ مَنْ قَسَّمَ، وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L4331–4332 Ali said: There is no evidence from the Quran, the Sunnah, consensus, or analogy to support prohibiting that matter or deeming it disliked. Similarly, the arbitrary classifications of those who categorize are baseless. And success comes only from Allah, the Most High.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ يَتَيَمَّمُ الْجُنُبُ وَالْحَائِضُ وَكُلُّ مَنْ عَلَيْهِ غُسْلٌ وَاجِبٌ]

[Issue:] A person in a state of major impurity (junub), a menstruating woman, and anyone required to perform the obligatory ritual bath (ghusl) must perform tayammum (dry ablution).

٢٤٩ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

L4334 249. Legal Question:

وَيَتَيَمَّمُ الْجُنُبُ وَالْحَائِضُ وَكُلُّ مَنْ عَلَيْهِ غُسْلٌ وَاجِبٌ كَمَا يَتَيَمَّمُ الْمُحْدِثُ وَلَا فَرْقَ.

L4335 The junub (person in major impurity), the menstruating woman, and everyone required to perform ghusl perform tayammum [dry ablution] just as one in a state of minor impurity (ḥadath) does, with no distinction.

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ وَابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمَا -: أَنَّ الْجُنُبَ لَا يَتَيَمَّمُ حَتَّى يَجِدَ الْمَاءَ، وَعَنْ الْأَسْوَدِ وَإِبْرَاهِيمَ مِثْلُ ذَلِكَ. كَمَا حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سَعِيدِ بْنِ نَبَاتٍ

L4336 It has been narrated to us from 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb and Ibn Mas'ūd – may Allah be pleased with them both – that a person in major ritual impurity (junub) must not perform dry ablution until he finds water. A similar ruling has been transmitted from al-Aswad and Ibrāhīm. As narrated to us by Muḥammad ibn Sa'īd ibn Nabāt, narrated to us by Aḥmad ibn 'Abd al-

Baṣīr, narrated to us by Qāsim ibn Aṣbagh, narrated to us by Muḥammad ibn ʻAbd al-Salām al-Khushanī, narrated to us by Muḥammad ibn Bashshār, narrated to us by Muḥammad ibn Jaʻfar, narrated to us by Shuʻbah, from Wāṣil al-Aḥdab and al-Ḥakam ibn ʻUtaybah. Wāṣil said: I heard Abū Wāʼil report: ʻUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb and ʻAbdullāh ibn Masʻūd – and they are superior to me – would state: "If he does not find water, he must not pray," referring to the junub (i.e., the person in major impurity). He added: "But if I did not find water, I would perform dry ablution and pray."

حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْبَصِيرِ ثنا قَاسِمُ بْنُ أَصْبَغَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ السَّلَامِ الْخُشَنِيُّ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ ثنا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ وَاصِلٍ الْأَحْدَبِ وَالْحَكَمِ بْنِ عُتَيْبَةَ، قَالَ وَاصِلٌ: سَمِعْتُ أَبَا وَائِلٍ قَالَ: كَانَ عُمَرُ بْنُ الْخَطَّابِ وَعَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مَسْعُودٍ - وَهُمَا خَيْرٌ مِنِّي - يَقُولَانِ: إِنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ الْمَاءَ لَمْ يُصَلِّ - يَعْنِي الْجُنُبَ - قَالَ: وَأَنَا لَوْ لَمْ أَجِدْ الْمَاءَ تَيَمَّمْتُ وَصَلَّيْتُ.

L4337 Al-Hakam said: I asked Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʻī, "If you do not find water while in a state of major impurity?" He replied, "I would not pray." Shuʻbah said: I asked Abū Isḥāq, "Did Ibn Masʻūd say, 'If I do not find water for a month, I would not pray'—referring to someone in major impurity?" Abū Isḥāq answered, "Yes, and al-Aswad [also said so]."

وَقَالَ الْحَكَمُ: سَأَلْتُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ النَّخَعِيَّ إِذَا لَمْ تَجِدْ الْمَاءَ وَأَنْتَ جُنُبٌ؟ قَالَ لَا أُصَلِّي قَالَ شُعْبَةُ: وَقُلْتُ لِأَبِي إِسْحَاقَ: أَقَالَ ابْنُ مَسْعُودٍ إِنْ لَمْ أَجِدْ الْمَاءَ شَهْرًا لَمْ أُصَلِّ؟ - يَعْنِي الْجُنُبَ - فَقَالَ أَبُو إِسْحَاقَ: قَالَ نَعَمْ وَالْأَسْوَدُ.

L4338 Other Companions besides those two said that a person in a state of major impurity should perform dry ablution. Abd al-Rahman ibn Abd Allah ibn Khalid narrated to us; Ibrahim ibn Ahmad narrated to us; al-Farbari narrated to us; al-Bukhari narrated to us; Musaddad narrated to us; Yahya ibn Sa'id al-Qattan narrated to us; Awf—the son of Abi Jamilah—narrated to us; Abu Raja' al-Utaridi narrated to us from Imran ibn al-Husayn, who said: "We were with the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him). He mentioned the Hadith and that he (peace be upon him) led the people in prayer. When he (peace be upon him) turned away after concluding his prayer, he noticed a man isolated who had not prayed with the congregation. He asked: 'What prevented you from praying with the people?' The man replied: 'I was in a state of major impurity and there is no water.' He said: 'You should use clean earth, for it suffices you.'"

وَقَالَ غَيْرُهُمَا مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ يَتَيَمَّمُ الْجُنُبُ. حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ خَالِدٍ ثنا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ ثنا الْفَرَبْرِيُّ ثنا الْبُخَارِيُّ ثنا مُسَدَّدٌ ثنا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْقَطَّانُ ثنا عَوْفٌ - هُوَ ابْنُ أَبِي جَمِيلَةَ - ثنا أَبُو رَجَاءٍ - هُوَ الْعُطَارِدِيُّ - عَنْ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ الْحُصَيْنِ قَالَ «كُنَّا مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَذَكَرَ الْحَدِيثَ وَأَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - صَلَّى بِالنَّاسِ فَلَمَّا انْفَتَلَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ إِذَا هُوَ بِرَجُلٍ مُعْتَزِلٍ لَمْ يُصَلِّ مَعَ الْقَوْمِ فَقَالَ مَا مَنَعَكَ أَنْ تُصَلِّيَ مَعَ الْقَوْمِ؟ قَالَ أَصَابَتْنِي جَنَابَةٌ وَلَا مَاءَ، قَالَ عَلَيْكَ بِالصَّعِيدِ فَإِنَّهُ يَكْفِيكَ» .

L4339 Those who adhered to the opinion of Ibn Mas'ud argued by citing the words of the Almighty: "And if you are in a state of major impurity, then purify yourselves" [Al-Ma'idah: 6]. He said: "He did not prescribe for the sexually impure except the ritual bath (ghusl)." We replied to him: "Indeed, the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—is the one who clarifies from Allah, the Mighty and Majestic." Allah, the Exalted, said: "To make clear to the people what was sent down to them" [An-Nahl: 44], and He said: "Whoever obeys the Messenger has obeyed Allah" [An-Nisa: 80], and He said: "Nor does he speak from [his own] inclination" [An-Najm: 3], "It is nothing but a revelation sent down" [An-Najm: 4]. And he—peace be upon him—has clarified that the ruling for the sexually impure is tayammum (dry ablution) in the absence of water.[20]

وَقَالَ تَعَالَى: {مَنْ يُطِعِ الرَّسُولَ فَقَدْ أَطَاعَ اللَّهَ} [النساء: ٨٠] وَقَالَ تَعَالَى: {وَمَا يَنْطِقُ عَنِ الْهَوَى} [النجم: ٣] {إِنْ هُوَ إِلا وَحْيٌ يُوحَى} [النجم: ٤] وَهُوَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَدْ بَيَّنَ أَنَّ الْجُنُبَ حُكْمُهُ التَّيَمُّمُ عِنْدَ عَدَمِ الْمَاءِ.

L4340–4341 If they mention what Muḥammad ibn Saʿīd ibn Nabāt narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn ʿAwn Allāh narrated to us: Qāsim ibn Aṣbagh narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Salām al-Khushanī narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Bashshār narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Abī ʿAdiyy narrated to us: Shuʿbah narrated from al-Mukhāriq ibn ʿAbd Allāh from Ṭāriq ibn Shihāb, who said: "A man came to the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—and said: 'O Messenger of Allāh, I entered a state of major impurity (janābah) and did not pray.' He replied: 'You did well.' Another man came to him and said: 'I entered a state of major impurity (janābah) and performed dry ablution (tayammum) using clean earth, then prayed.' He said: 'You did well.'" We said: This is a sound report. Al-Mukhāriq is trustworthy, a Successor (Tābiʿī), and Ṭāriq is a Companion with authentic status, well-known. Based on this report, we state: The one who entered major impurity and did not pray was not obligated to perform tayammum, so he acted correctly by not praying because he was unaware of the ruling. Religious laws are only binding after reaching puberty.

فَإِنْ ذَكَرُوا مَا حَدَّثَنَاهُ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سَعِيدِ بْنِ نَبَاتٍ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَوْنِ اللَّهِ ثنا قَاسِمُ بْنُ أَصْبَغَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ السَّلَامِ الْخُشَنِيُّ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَبِي عَدِيٍّ ثنا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ الْمُخَارِقِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَنْ طَارِقِ بْنِ شِهَابٍ قَالَ: «جَاءَ رَجُلٌ إلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَقَالَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ إنِّي أَجْنَبْتُ فَلَمْ أُصَلِّ، فَقَالَ أَحْسَنْتَ. وَجَاءَهُ آخَرُ فَقَالَ: إنِّي أَجْنَبْتُ فَتَيَمَّمْتُ فَصَلَّيْتُ، قَالَ أَحْسَنْتَ» قُلْنَا: هَذَا خَبَرٌ صَحِيحٌ، وَالْمُخَارِقُ ثِقَةٌ، تَابِعٌ، وَطَارِقٌ صَاحِبٌ، صَحِيحُ الصُّحْبَةِ مَشْهُورٌ وَالْخَبَرُ بِهِ نَقُولُ، وَهَذَا الَّذِي أَجْنَبَ فَلَمْ يُصَلِّ لَمْ يَكُنْ عَلَيْهِ حُكْمُ التَّيَمُّمِ، فَأَصَابَ إذْ لَمْ يُصَلِّ بِمَا لَا يَدْرِي، وَإِنَّمَا تَلْزَمُ الشَّرَائِعُ بَعْدَ الْبُلُوغِ.

L4342 Allah the Exalted said: {To warn you thereby and whoever it reaches} [Al-An'ām 6:19]. Whoever performs dry ablution (tayammum) while knowing its obligation and acts upon it - it is absolutely impermissible for this matter to be otherwise. Either tayammum constitutes an obligation for the sexually impure (junub) when water is unavailable, making those upon whom it is incumbent who neglect it erroneous; or tayammum does not constitute an obligation for the aforementioned sexually impure person, making those who perform it erroneous. It has been confirmed through what we mentioned in the narration of 'Imrān ibn Ḥuṣayn that tayammum is indeed his obligation.

قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {لأُنْذِرَكُمْ بِهِ وَمَنْ بَلَغَ} [الأنعام: ١٩] وَالَّذِي تَيَمَّمَ عَلِمَ فَرْضَ التَّيَمُّمِ فَفَعَلَهُ، لَا يَجُوزُ أَلْبَتَّةَ أَنْ يَكُونَ غَيْرُ هَذَا، فَإِمَّا أَنْ يَكُونَ التَّيَمُّمُ فَرْضَ الْمُجْنِبِ إذَا لَمْ يَجِدْ الْمَاءَ، فَيُخْطِئُ مَنْ تَرَكَ الْفَرْضَ مِمَّنْ عَلَيْهِ، أَوْ يَكُونَ التَّيَمُّمُ لَيْسَ فَرْضَ الْمُجْنِبِ الْمَذْكُورِ فَيُخْطِئُ مَنْ فَعَلَهُ، وَقَدْ صَحَّ أَنَّهُ فَرْضُهُ بِمَا ذَكَرْنَا فِي خَبَرِ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ الْحُصَيْنِ فَصَحَّ مَا قُلْنَاهُ مِنْ أَنَّ أَحَدَهُمَا لَمْ يَعْلَمْهُ وَالْآخَرَ عَلِمَهُ، فَأَتَى بِهِ، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

[20] Qur'an references (L4339): Qur'an 5:6 (Al-Ma'idah); Qur'an 16:44 (An-Nahl); Qur'an 4:80 (An-Nisa); Qur'an 53:3 (An-Najm); Qur'an 53:4 (An-Najm).

Thus our statement stands verified: that one of the two parties remained unaware of the obligation while the other knew it and fulfilled it. And with Allah alone is success.[21]

L4343 As for the menstruating woman and everyone obligated to perform an obligatory ghusl, we have mentioned the statement of Allah's Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him): "The earth has been made a masjid and its soil a purification for us when we do not find water." Every individual commanded to perform ritual purification, if they do not find water, then the soil is to be used by the explicit generality of this report. And success is from Allah, the Exalted.

L4344 Issue: The description of dry ablution (tayammum) for major ritual impurity (janābah), menstruation (ḥayḍ), every obligatory ritual bath (ghusl), and in place of minor ablution (wuḍūʾ) is performed in the same way.

L4345 Issue 250:

L4346 The description of tayammum for major impurity, menstruation, every obligatory bath, and ablution follows a single method of action. What is obligatory in all these cases is to intend the specific purpose for which tayammum is performed—whether purification for prayer, major impurity, insertion into the vagina, purification from menstruation, postpartum bleeding, for Friday prayer, or washing the deceased. One must then strike the ground with both palms while maintaining this intention, blow into them, and wipe the face and the backs of the hands up to the wrists with a single strike. It is not required to cover the entire face or hands, nor to wipe the arms, head, feet, or any part of the body during tayammum. As for intention, we have previously affirmed its obligation. Abū Ḥanīfah held that ablution and the major ritual bath are valid without intention, but tayammum in their place is only valid with intention. Al-Ḥasan ibn Ḥayy stated that all these acts are valid without intention. The validity of tayammum's procedure for major impurity, menstruation, postpartum bleeding, and all other mentioned cases, in the same manner as its procedure for removing ritual impurity, is established by unanimous consensus among all who uphold these ritual baths and tayammum for them.

٢٥٠ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

وَصِفَةُ التَّيَمُّمِ لِلْجَنَابَةِ وَلِلْحَيْضِ وَلِكُلِّ غُسْلٍ وَاجِبٍ وَلِلْوُضُوءِ صِفَةُ عَمَلٍ وَاحِدٍ، إنَّمَا يَجِبُ فِي كُلِّ ذَلِكَ أَنْ يَنْوِيَ بِهِ الْوَجْهَ الَّذِي تَيَمَّمَ لَهُ، مِنْ طَهَارَةٍ لِلصَّلَاةِ أَوْ جَنَابَةٍ أَوْ إيلَاجٍ فِي الْفَرْجِ أَوْ طَهَارَةٍ مِنْ حَيْضٍ أَوْ مِنْ نِفَاسٍ أَوْ لِيَوْمِ الْجُمُعَةِ أَوْ مِنْ غَسْلِ الْمَيِّتِ، ثُمَّ يَضْرِبُ الْأَرْضَ بِكَفَّيْهِ مُتَّصِلًا بِهَذِهِ النِّيَّةِ ثُمَّ يَنْفُخُ فِيهِمَا وَيَمْسَحُ وَجْهَهُ وَظَهْرَ كَفَّيْهِ إلَى الْكُوعَيْنِ بِضَرْبَةٍ وَاحِدَةٍ فَقَطْ، وَلَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ اسْتِيعَابُ الْوَجْهِ وَلَا الْكَفَّيْنِ وَلَا يَمْسَحُ فِي شَيْءٍ مِنْ التَّيَمُّمِ ذِرَاعَيْهِ وَلَا رَأْسَهُ وَلَا رِجْلَيْهِ وَلَا شَيْئًا مِنْ جِسْمِهِ. أَمَّا النِّيَّةُ فَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا وُجُوبَهَا قَبْلُ، وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ يُجْزِئُ الْوُضُوءُ وَغُسْلُ الْجَنَابَةِ بِلَا نِيَّةٍ، وَلَا يُجْزِئُ التَّيَمُّمُ فِيهِمَا إلَّا بِنِيَّةٍ، وَقَالَ الْحَسَنُ بْنُ حَيٍّ: كُلُّ ذَلِكَ يُجْزِئُ بِلَا نِيَّةٍ، وَأَمَّا كَوْنُ عَمَلِ

L4347–4348 As for the omission of wiping the head, feet, and the rest of the body in tayammum, there is a definitely established consensus—except for an act performed by ʾAmmār ibn Yāsir (may Allah be pleased with him) during the lifetime of Allah's Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him), which the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) prohibited him from. Regarding other aspects, there is disagreement: some hold that tayammum necessarily requires two taps (of the hands on earth); a group maintains it entails full coverage of the face and hands (up to the wrists); another group argues for covering the arms up to the armpits; while others say up to the elbows.

L4349 As for those who maintained that tayammum consists of two strikes—one for the face and another for the hands and forearms up to the elbows—they substantiated their position through a narration transmitted via Abū Umāmah al-Bāhilī from the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him), who stated regarding tayammum: "Two strikes: one for the face and another for the forearms." They further cited a narration through ʿAmmār that the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) specified: "Up to the elbows," and another narration through Ibn ʿUmar (peace be upon him) who recounted: "A man offered salām to the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) on a path, but he did not respond. He (peace be upon him) then struck his hands against the wall, wiped his face with them, performed another strike, wiped his forearms up to the elbows, and subsequently responded to the man's greeting. He (peace be upon him) explained: ʾNothing prevented me from returning your salām except that I was not in a state of ritual purity.'"[22]

L4350 Then the report of Al-Asla' - a man from Banu Al-A'raj ibn Ka'b - who said: "I said: ʾO Messenger of Allah, I have incurred major impurity.' He remained silent until Gabriel came to him with clean earth. He said: ʾArise, O Asla', and proceed.'" He said: "Then Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him) taught الْأَرْضَ ثُمَّ نَفَضَهُمَا ثُمَّ مَسَحَ بِهِمَا وَجْهَهُ حَتَّى أَمَرَّ عَلَى لِحْيَتِهِ، ثُمَّ أَعَادَهَا إِلَى الْأَرْضِ فَمَسَحَ كَفَّيْهِ الْأَرْضَ فَدَلَّكَ إِحْدَاهُمَا بِالْأُخْرَى ثُمَّ نَفَضَهُمَا ثُمَّ مَسَحَ ذِرَاعَيْهِ ظَاهِرَهُمَا وَبَاطِنَهُمَا» .

L4351 And a narration from Abu Dharr who said: "The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) placed his hands on the ground, shook off the dust, then wiped his face and his arms up to the elbows." This narration mentions only one strike. Another narration from Ibn Umar from the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) regarding tayammum states: "One strike for the face and one strike for the arms up to the elbows." Additionally, a narration from al-Waqidi reports that the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said: "Tayammum is one strike for the face and one strike for the arms up to the elbows."

وَبِحَدِيثٍ عَنْ أَبِي ذَرٍّ قَالَ «وَضَعَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَدَيْهِ عَلَى الْأَرْضِ ثُمَّ نَفَضَهُمَا، ثُمَّ مسح وَجْهَهُ وَيَدَيْهِ إِلَى الْمِرْفَقَيْنِ» لَيْسَ فِي هَذَا الْخَبَرِ إِلَّا ضَرْبَةٌ وَاحِدَةٌ وَبِحَدِيثٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فِي التَّيَمُّمِ «ضَرْبَةٌ لِلْوَجْهِ وَضَرْبَةٌ لِلْيَدَيْنِ إِلَى الْمِرْفَقَيْنِ» وَبِحَدِيثٍ عَنْ الْوَاقِدِيِّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ «التَّيَمُّمُ ضَرْبَةٌ لِلْوَجْهِ وَضَرْبَةٌ لِلْيَدَيْنِ إِلَى الْمِرْفَقَيْنِ» .

L4352–4353 They said: It has been authentically reported from 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb, Jābir ibn 'Abdillāh, and Ibn 'Umar—from their legal verdicts and practices—that tayammum consists of two strikes: one strike for the face and one strike for the forearms and hands. They said: Since tayammum substitutes for ablution, and given that one renews the water for the face and another application for the forearms in ablution, it becomes obligatory for tayammum to follow the same manner. As ablution extends to the elbows, the tayammum that replaces it must likewise extend to the elbows.

وَقَالُوا: قَدْ صَحَّ عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ وَعَنْ جَابِرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ وَعَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ، مِنْ فُتْيَاهُمْ وَفِعْلِهِمْ أَنَّ التَّيَمُّمَ ضَرْبَتَانِ، ضَرْبَةٌ لِلْوَجْهِ وَضَرْبَةٌ لِلذِّرَاعَيْنِ وَالْيَدَيْنِ، قَالُوا وَالتَّيَمُّمُ بَدَلٌ مِنْ الْوُضُوءِ، فَلَمَّا كَانَ يُجَدِّدُ الْمَاءَ لِلْوَجْهِ وَمَاءً آخَرَ لِلذِّرَاعَيْنِ وَجَبَ كَذَلِكَ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ، وَلَمَّا كَانَ الْوُضُوءُ إِلَى الْمِرْفَقَيْنِ وَجَبَ أَنْ يَكُونَ التَّيَمُّمُ الَّذِي هُوَ بَدَلُهُ كَذَلِكَ.

L4354 This is all they have clamored about, and none of it provides valid proof for their position.

هَذَا كُلُّ مَا شَغَبُوا بِهِ، وَكُلُّهُ لَا حُجَّةَ لَهُمْ فِيهِ.

L4355 As for the narrations, all of them are invalid; it is impermissible to cite anything from them as evidence.

أَمَّا الْأَخْبَارُ فَكُلُّهَا سَاقِطَةٌ، لَا يَجُوزُ الِاحْتِجَاجُ بِشَيْءٍ مِنْهَا.

L4356 As for the ḥadīth of Abū Umāmah, we have narrated it through the chain of Ibn Wahb from Muḥammad ibn ʿAmr al-Yāfiʿī from a man who narrated to him from Jaʿfar ibn al-Zubayr from al-Qāsim ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān from Abū Umāmah. It contains two defects: the first is al-Qāsim, for he is weak, and the second is that Muḥammad ibn ʿAmr did not name the one who informed him from Jaʿfar ibn al-Zubayr. Some people concealed the defect by stating:

أَمَّا حَدِيثُ أَبِي أُمَامَةَ فَإِنَّنَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ ابْنِ وَهْبٍ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو الْيَافِعِيِّ عَنْ رَجُلٍ حَدَّثَهُ عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ عَنْ الْقَاسِمِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ عَنْ أَبِي أُمَامَةَ، فَفِيهِ عِلَّتَانِ: إِحْدَاهُمَا الْقَاسِمُ وَهُوَ ضَعِيفٌ، وَالثَّانِيَةُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدَ بْنَ عَمْرٍو لَمْ يُسَمِّ مَنْ أَخْبَرَهُ بِهِ

"From Muḥammad ibn ʿAmr from Jaʿfar." Muḥammad never met Jaʿfar ibn al-Zubayr, thus this report is invalidated. As for the ḥadīth of ʿAmmār, we have narrated it through the chain of Abān ibn Yazīd al-ʿAṭṭār from Qatādah, who said: "A narrator informed me from al-Shaʿbī from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Abzā from ʿAmmār." Qatādah did not name the one who narrated to him. All established reports from ʿAmmār contradict this, thus this report is likewise invalidated.

عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ وَقَدْ دَلَّسَهُ بَعْضُ النَّاسِ فَقَالَ: عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو عَنْ جَعْفَرٍ. وَمُحَمَّدٌ لَمْ يُدْرِكْ جَعْفَرَ بْنَ الزُّبَيْرِ فَسَقَطَ هَذَا الْخَبَرُ. وَأَمَّا حَدِيثُ عَمَّارٍ فَإِنَّنَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبَانَ بْنِ يَزِيدَ الْعَطَّارِ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ قَالَ: حَدَّثَنِي مُحَدِّثٌ عَنْ الشَّعْبِيِّ عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ أَبْزَى عَنْ عَمَّارٍ، فَلَمْ يُسَمِّ قَتَادَةَ مَنْ حَدَّثَهُ. وَالْأَخْبَارُ الثَّابِتَةُ كُلُّهَا عَنْ عَمَّارٍ بِخِلَافِ هَذَا، فَسَقَطَ هَذَا الْخَبَرُ أَيْضًا.

L4357 As for the ḥadīth of Ibn ʿUmar, we have transmitted it through the chain of Muḥammad ibn Ibrāhīm al-Mawṣilī, from Muḥammad ibn Thābit al-ʿAbdī, from Nāfiʿ, from Ibn ʿUmar. Muḥammad ibn Thābit al-ʿAbdī is weak; his ḥadīth cannot be invoked as authoritative proof. Even if it were authentic, it would constitute evidence against them, for it mentions performing tayammum while in a settled state for a physically healthy person, performing tayammum to respond to the salutation of peace, and refraining from returning the salutation without purification - none of which they endorse. It is detestable for someone to cite as evidence something neither they nor their opponent accept as valid proof, or to cite a matter they themselves are the first to oppose. If this report serves as evidence for performing tayammum up to the elbows, then it equally serves as evidence for abstaining from returning the salutation except in a state of purity, and for performing tayammum indoors within the city to respond to the salutation. If it is not valid evidence for these matters, then it cannot be valid evidence for what they have cited.

وَأَمَّا حَدِيثُ ابْنِ عُمَرَ فَإِنَّنَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ الْمَوْصِلِيِّ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ الْعَبْدِيِّ عَنْ نَافِعٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ، وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ الْعَبْدِيُّ ضَعِيفٌ لَا يُحْتَجُّ بِحَدِيثِهِ، ثُمَّ لَوْ صَحَّ لَكَانَ حُجَّةً عَلَيْهِمْ، لِأَنَّ فِيهِ التَّيَمُّمَ فِي الْحَضَرِ لِلصَّحِيحِ، وَالتَّيَمُّمَ لِرَدِّ السَّلَامِ، وَتَرْكَ رَدِّ السَّلَامِ عَلَى غَيْرِ طَهَارَةٍ، وَهُمْ لَا يَقُولُونَ بِشَيْءٍ مِنْ هَذَا كُلِّهِ، وَمِنْ الْمَقْتِ احْتِجَاجُ امْرِئٍ بِمَا لَا يَرَاهُ لَا هُوَ وَلَا خَصْمُهُ حُجَّةً وَاحْتِجَاجُهُ بِشَيْءٍ هُوَ أَوَّلُ مُخَالِفٍ لَهُ، فَإِنْ كَانَ هَذَا الْخَبَرُ حُجَّةً فِي التَّيَمُّمِ إلَى الْمِرْفَقَيْنِ، فَهُوَ حُجَّةٌ فِي تَرْكِ رَدِّ السَّلَامِ إلَّا عَلَى طُهْرٍ، وَفِي التَّيَمُّمِ بَيْنَ الْحِيطَانِ فِي الْمَدِينَةِ لِرَدِّ السَّلَامِ، وَإِنْ لَمْ يَكُنْ حُجَّةً فِي هَذَا فَلَيْسَ حُجَّةً فِيمَا احْتَجُّوا بِهِ.

L4358 If they say: "It is recommended," we respond: Similarly, you must affirm regarding the method of dry ablution—performing it twice and reaching the elbows—that this too is merely recommended, with no substantive difference. Consequently, this textual evidence is likewise discarded.

فَإِنْ قَالُوا: هُوَ عَلَى النَّدْبِ، قُلْنَا: وَكَذَلِكَ قُولُوا فِي صِفَةِ التَّيَمُّمِ فِيهِ مَرَّتَيْنِ وَإِلَى الْمِرْفَقَيْنِ أَنَّهُ عَلَى النَّدْبِ وَلَا فَرْقَ، فَسَقَطَ هَذَا الْخَبَرُ أَيْضًا.

L4359–4361 As for the hadith of al-Aslaʿ, it is utterly baseless; for we have narrated it via the chain of... Yahya ibn ʿAbd al-Ḥamīd al-Ḥimānī narrated from ʿAlīlah (who is al-Rabīʿ), from his [al-Rabīʿ's] father, from his grandfather, from al-Aslaʿ.

All those we have mentioned are insignificant, and their narrations are not admissible as evidence.

وَأَمَّا حَدِيثُ الْأَسْلَعِ فَفِي غَايَةِ السُّقُوطِ، لِأَنَّنَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ يَحْيَى بْنُ عَبْدِ الْحَمِيدِ الْحِمَّانِيِّ عَنْ عَلِيلَةَ - هُوَ الرَّبِيعُ - عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ جَدِّهِ عَنْ الْأَسْلَعِ، وَكُلُّ مَنْ ذَكَرْنَا فَلَيْسُوا بِشَيْءٍ وَلَا يُحْتَجُّ بِهِمْ.

L4362 As for the ḥadīth of Abū Dharr, we have transmitted it through the chain of Ibn Jurayj from ʻAṭā': "A man narrated to me that Abū Dharr"—and this, as you see, we do not know who that man is. Thus, this report is also rejected.

وَأَمَّا حَدِيثُ أَبِي ذَرٍّ فَإِنَّا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ عَنْ عَطَاءٍ: حَدَّثَنِي رَجُلٌ أَنَّ أَبَا ذَرٍّ، وَهَذَا كَمَا تَرَى، لَا نَدْرِي مَنْ ذَلِكَ الرَّجُلُ، فَسَقَطَ هَذَا الْخَبَرُ أَيْضًا.

L4363 As for the second ḥadīth of Ibn ʿUmar, we have narrated it via the chain of Shabābat ibn Sawwār from Sulaymān ibn Dāwūd al-Ḥarrānī, from Sālim and Nāfiʿ, from Ibn ʿUmar. Sulaymān ibn Dāwūd al-Ḥarrānī is ḍaʿīf (weak), and his narrations are not used as proof.

وَأَمَّا حَدِيثُ ابْنِ عُمَرَ الثَّانِي فَرُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ شَبَابَةَ بْنِ سَوَّارٍ عَنْ سُلَيْمَانَ بْنِ دَاوُد الْحَرَّانِيِّ عَنْ سَالِمٍ وَنَافِعٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ، وَسُلَيْمَانُ بْنِ دَاوُد الْحَرَّانِيُّ ضَعِيفٌ لَا يُحْتَجُّ بِهِ.

L4364 As for the narration of Al-Wāqidī, it is too weak to warrant engagement because it originates from him—a transmitter criticized for dishonesty—and is itself a mursal narration (with a broken chain) transmitted directly by him. Thus, all the reports they have deceptively embellished are invalidated.

وَأَمَّا حَدِيثُ الْوَاقِدِيِّ فَأَسْقَطُ مِنْ أَنْ يُشْتَغَلَ بِهِ، لِأَنَّهُ عَنْ الْوَاقِدِيِّ وَهُوَ مَذْكُورٌ بِالْكَذِبِ ثُمَّ مُرْسَلٌ مِنْ عِنْدِهِ، فَسَقَطَ كُلُّ مَا مَوَّهُوا بِهِ مِنْ الْآثَارِ

L4365 As for their argument citing what is authentically established from ʿUmar, Ibn ʿUmar, and Jābir, it is likewise authentically established from ʿUmar and Ibn Masʿūd that one in a state of major ritual impurity may not perform dry ablution even if deprived of water for a month. It is also authentically established from Abū Bakr, ʿUmar, Ibn Masʿūd, Umm Salamah, and others that wiping over the turban is permissible. Yet they disregarded these positions. What makes them a proof when they wish, yet dismisses them as proof when they do not? This necessitates the Fire in the Hereafter and disgrace in this world. Moreover, in this very matter, ʿAlī ibn Abī Ṭālib, Ibn Masʿūd, ʿAmmār, and Ibn ʿAbbās contradicted ʿUmar, his son, and Jābir—as we shall later clarify, God willing. Thus, their reliance on the Companions—may God be pleased with them—is invalidated.

وَأَمَّا احْتِجَاجُهُمْ بِمَا صَحَّ مِنْ ذَلِكَ عَنْ عُمَرَ وَابْنِ عُمَرَ وَجَابِرٍ، فَقَدْ صَحَّ عَنْ عُمَرَ وَابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ: لَا يَتَيَمَّمُ الْجُنُبُ وَإِنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ الْمَاءَ شَهْرًا، وَقَدْ صَحَّ عَنْ أَبِي بَكْرٍ وَعُمَرَ وَابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ وَأُمِّ سَلَمَةَ وَغَيْرِهِمْ الْمَسْحُ عَلَى الْعِمَامَةِ، فَلَمْ يَلْتَفِتُوا إلَى ذَلِكَ، فَمَا الَّذِي جَعَلَهُمْ حُجَّةً حَيْثُ يَشْتَهِي هَؤُلَاءِ، وَلَمْ يَجْعَلْهُمْ حُجَّةً حَيْثُ لَا يَشْتَهُونَ؟ هَذَا مُوجِبٌ لِلنَّارِ فِي الْآخِرَةِ وَلِلْعَارِ فِي الدُّنْيَا، فَكَيْفَ وَقَدْ خَالَفَ فِي هَذِهِ الْمَسْأَلَةِ عُمَرُ وَابْنُهُ وَجَابِرًا عَلِيُّ بْنُ أَبِي طَالِبٍ وَابْنُ مَسْعُودٍ وَعَمَّارٌ وَابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ، عَلَى مَا نَذْكُرُ بَعْدَ هَذَا إنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى، فَسَقَطَ تَعَلُّقُهُمْ بِالصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ -.

L4366–4368 As for their assertion that dry ablution (tayammum) serves as a substitute for ritual ablution (wudu), it should be said to them: What is the implication of this claim? From what source is it established that a substitute must conform to the attributes of the original obligation? If this principle were valid, you would be the first to contradict this ruling you yourselves deemed correct - having omitted the head and feet in tayammum though they are obligatory in wudu, neglected the entire body in tayammum for major impurity (janabah) though it is obligatory in full ablution (ghusl), mandated water application to limbs in wudu while not requiring dust application to the face and forearms in tayammum. Abū Ḥanīfah among you abolished the obligation of intention (niyyah) for wudu and ghusl yet imposed it for tayammum. Where then did you find in the Qur'an, the Sunnah, or scholarly consensus (ijmāʿ) that a substitute cannot exist except by mirroring the attributes of the original? Is this not an invalid and baseless claim? We observe that slave emancipation is obligatory for expiation (kaffārah) in cases of dhihār, broken oaths, accidental homicide, and deliberate intercourse intentionally during daytime in Ramadan while fasting. Yet the Exalted Allah substituted three days of fasting for a single slave in oath expiation, and fasting for multiple slaves in cases of homicide, intercourse, dhihār, and other expiations. Two consecutive months. Compensation is made by feeding the poor in cases of ẓihār and sexual intercourse, but no compensation is required for killing. This applies to all matters.

وَأَمَّا قَوْلُهُمْ إِنَّ التَّيَمُّمَ بَدَلٌ مِنْ الْوُضُوءِ، فَيُقَالُ لَهُمْ: فَكَانَ مَاذَا؟ وَمِنْ أَيْنَ وَجَبَ أَنْ يَكُونَ الْبَدَلُ عَلَى صِفَةِ الْمُبْدَلِ مِنْهُ؟ وَإِنْ كَانَ هَذَا فَأَنْتُمْ أَوَّلُ مُخَالِفٍ لِهَذَا الْحُكْمِ الَّذِي قَضَيْتُمْ أَنَّهُ حَقٌّ، فَأَسْقَطْتُمْ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ الرَّأْسَ وَالرِّجْلَيْنِ، وَهُمَا فَرْضَانِ فِي الْوُضُوءِ وَأَسْقَطْتُمْ جَمِيعَ الْجَسَدِ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ لِلْجَنَابَةِ وَهُوَ فَرْضٌ فِي الْغُسْلِ، وَأَوْجَبْتُمْ أَنْ يُحْمَلَ الْمَاءُ إلَى الْأَعْضَاءِ فِي الْوُضُوءِ، وَلَمْ تُوجِبُوا حَمْلَ شَيْءٍ مِنْ التُّرَابِ إلَى الْوَجْهِ وَالذِّرَاعَيْنِ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ، وَأَسْقَطَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ مِنْهُمْ النِّيَّةَ فِي الْوُضُوءِ وَالْغُسْلِ وَأَوْجَبَهَا فِي التَّيَمُّمِ، ثُمَّ أَيْنَ وَجَدْتُمْ فِي الْقُرْآنِ أَوْ السُّنَّةِ أَوْ الْإِجْمَاعِ أَنَّ الْبَدَلَ لَا يَكُونُ إلَّا عَلَى صِفَةِ الْمُبْدَلِ مِنْهُ؟ وَهَلْ هَذَا إلَّا دَعْوَى فَاسِدَةٌ كَاذِبَةٌ؟ وَقَدْ وَجَدْنَا الرَّقَبَةَ وَاجِبَةً فِي الظِّهَارِ وَفِي كَفَّارَةِ الْيَمِينِ وَكَفَّارَةِ قَتْلِ الْخَطَأِ وَكَفَّارَةِ الْمُجَامِعِ عَمْدًا نَهَارًا فِي رَمَضَانَ وَهُوَ صَائِمٌ، ثُمَّ عَوَّضَهَا اللَّهُ تَعَالَى وَأَبْدَلَ مِنْ رَقَبَةِ الْكَفَّارَةِ صِيَامَ ثَلَاثَةِ أَيَّامٍ وَمِنْ رِقَابِ الْقَتْلِ وَالْجِمَاعِ وَالظِّهَارِ صِيَامَ شَهْرَيْنِ مُتَتَابِعَيْنِ، وَعَوَّضَ مِنْ ذَلِكَ إطْعَامًا فِي الظِّهَارِ وَالْجِمَاعِ، وَلَمْ يُعَوِّضْهُ فِي الْقَتْلِ، وَهَكَذَا فِي كُلِّ شَيْءٍ.

L4369 If they say: "We have analogized tayammum to wudu," we respond: "All qiyas is invalid. Even if qiyas were valid, this analogy would itself be invalid. Why did you not analogize what is wiped of the hands in tayammum to what is amputated of the hands in theft, just as you refrained from analogizing what makes lawful the private part of a free woman in marriage to what makes lawful the private part of a female slave in sale? Instead, you analogized it to the grounds for amputating a thief's hand—particularly when you have distinguished through textual proof and consensus between tayammum and wudu regarding the omission of the head and feet in tayammum unlike wudu, and the omission of the entire body in tayammum unlike ghusl."

فَإِنْ قَالُوا: قِسْنَا التَّيَمُّمَ عَلَى الْوُضُوءِ، قُلْنَا: الْقِيَاسُ كُلُّهُ بَاطِلٌ، ثُمَّ لَوْ كَانَ حَقًّا لَكَانَ هَذَا مِنْهُ عَيْنَ الْبَاطِلِ، وَهَلَّا قِسْتُمْ مَا يُتَيَمَّمُ مِنْ الْيَدَيْنِ عَلَى مَا يُقْطَعُ مِنْ الْيَدَيْنِ فِي السَّرِقَةِ كَمَا تَرَكْتُمْ أَنْ تَقِيسُوا مَا يُسْتَبَاحُ بِهِ فَرْجُ الْحُرَّةِ فِي النِّكَاحِ عَلَى مَا يُسْتَبَاحُ بِهِ فَرْجُ الْأَمَةِ فِي الْبَيْعِ، وَقِسْتُمُوهُ عَلَى مَا تُقْطَعُ فِيهِ يَدُ السَّارِقِ لَا سِيَّمَا وَقَدْ فَرَّقْتُمْ بِالنَّصِّ وَالْإِجْمَاعِ بَيْنَ حُكْمِ التَّيَمُّمِ وَبَيْنَ الْوُضُوءِ فِي سُقُوطِ الرَّأْسِ وَالرِّجْلَيْنِ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ دُونَ الْوُضُوءِ، وَسُقُوطِ الْجَسَدِ كُلِّهِ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ دُونَ الْغُسْلِ.

L4370 They are told: Just as you considered Allah's silence [in revelation] regarding the mention of the head and feet in tayammum as evidence for the waiver of that obligation, and did not apply analogy (qiyās) to wuḍū', why do you not treat His silence regarding specifying up to the elbows in tayammum as evidence for its waiver, instead of analogizing it to wuḍū'? This mirrors the reasoning of Abū Ḥanīfa and his followers concerning Allah's silence regarding the obligation to manumit a slave as expiation in ẓihār, where they did not apply analogy to the manumission explicitly stipulated for expiation in cases of killing. If you analogize tayammum substituting for wuḍū' to wuḍū', then analogize tayammum substituting for janābah (major impurity) to janābah, thereby requiring the entire body to be covered with dust—a conclusion from which there is no escape.

L4371 Divine enablement is with Allah, the Exalted.

وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L4372 Abu Muhammad said: Some people held the view that tayammum requires two strikes - one strike for the face and one strike for the palms only. They cited as evidence a ḥadīth we transmitted through the chain of Haramī ibn 'Umarah, who narrated to us from al-Ḥarīsh ibn al-Khirrīt (the brother of al-Zubayr ibn al-Khirrīt), who related to us from 'Abdullāh ibn Abī Mulaykah, from 'Ā'ishah, the Mother of the Believers: "When the verse of tayammum was revealed, the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—struck the ground once and wiped his face with it. Then he struck another strike upon the ground and wiped his palms with it."

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: وَقَدْ رَأَى قَوْمٌ أَنَّ التَّيَمُّمَ ضَرْبَتَانِ، ضَرْبَةٌ لِلْوَجْهِ وَضَرْبَةٌ لِلْكَفَّيْنِ فَقَطْ، وَاحْتَجُّوا بِحَدِيثٍ رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ حَرَمِيِّ بْنِ عُمَارَةَ ثنا الْحَرِيشُ بْنُ الْخِرِّيتِ أَخُو الزُّبَيْرِ بْنِ الْخِرِّيتِ حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ أَبِي مُلَيْكَةَ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أُمِّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ «نَزَلَتْ آيَةُ التَّيَمُّمِ فَضَرَبَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - ضَرْبَةً وَمَسَحَ بِهَا وَجْهَهُ، ثُمَّ ضَرَبَ عَلَى الْأَرْضِ أُخْرَى فَمَسَحَ بِهَا كَفَّيْهِ» .

L4373 And with a hadith we have narrated via the chain of Shababah ibn Sawwar from Sulaymān ibn Dāwūd al-Ḥarrānī from Sālim and Nāfiʿ from Ibn ʿUmar from the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ), who said regarding tayammum: "One strike for the face and one for the palms."

وَبِحَدِيثٍ رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ شَبَابَةَ بْنِ سَوَّارٍ عَنْ سُلَيْمَانَ بْنِ دَاوُد الْحَرَّانِيِّ عَنْ سَالِمٍ وَنَافِعٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ «ضَرْبَةٌ لِلْوَجْهِ وَضَرْبَةٌ لِلْكَفَّيْنِ» .

L4374 Ali said: This is invalid, because one of them is through the chain of Al-Harish ibn Al-Khirrit, who is weak, and the second is through the chain of Sulayman ibn Dawud Al-Harrani, who is weak.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا لَا شَيْءَ؛ لِأَنَّ أَحَدَهُمَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ الْحَرِيشِ بْنِ الْخِرِّيتِ وَهُوَ ضَعِيفٌ، وَالثَّانِي مِنْ طَرِيقِ سُلَيْمَانَ بْنِ دَاوُد الْحَرَّانِيِّ وَهُوَ ضَعِيفٌ.

L4375–4377 Among those who held the opinion that tayammum consists of two strikes

- one for the face and the other for the hands and forearms up to... The two schools: al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī, Abū Ḥanīfah and his companions, Sufyān al-Thawrī, Ibn Abī Laylā, and al-Ḥasan ibn Ḥayy.

وَمِمَّنْ رَأَى أَنَّ التَّيَمُّمَ ضَرْبَتَانِ ضَرْبَةٌ لِلْوَجْهِ وَالْأُخْرَى لِلْيَدَيْنِ وَالذِّرَاعَيْنِ إِلَى الْمِرْفَقَيْنِ: الْحَسَنُ الْبَصْرِيُّ وَأَبُو حَنِيفَةَ وَأَصْحَابُهُ، وَسُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ وَابْنُ أَبِي لَيْلَى وَالْحَسَنُ بْنُ حَيٍّ.

L4378 Al-Shafi'i and Abu Thawr said: "Unless there is an authentic report from the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—to the contrary, in which case we would follow that." Differing opinions on this matter have been reported from Al-Sha'bi. Ibrahim said: "It is more beloved to me that it extend to the elbows." For this reason, Malik said: "He did not require those who performed tayammum up to the wrists to repeat the prayer except within the prescribed time."

وَالشَّافِعِيُّ وَأَبُو ثَوْرٍ قَالَا: إِلَّا أَنْ يَصِحَّ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - غَيْرُ ذَلِكَ فَنَقُولَ بِهِ، وَاخْتُلِفَ فِي ذَلِكَ عَنْ الشَّعْبِيِّ. وَقَالَ إِبْرَاهِيمُ: أَحَبُّ إِلَيَّ أَنْ يَكُونَ إِلَى الْمِرْفَقَيْنِ، وَلِهَذَا قَالَ مَالِكٌ، وَلَمْ يُرَ عَلَى مَنْ تَيَمَّمَ إِلَى الْكُوعَيْنِ أَنْ يُعِيدَ الصَّلَاةَ إِلَّا فِي الْوَقْتِ.

L4379 A group of people maintained that tayammum extends to the shoulders, citing as evidence the narration we transmitted through the chain of Al-Abbas ibn Abd al-Azim: from Abdullah ibn Muhammad ibn Asma ibn Ubayd, from his uncle Juwayriyya ibn Asma, from Malik ibn Anas, from al-Zuhri, who said: "Ubayd Allah ibn Abdullah ibn Utbah informed me from his father, from Ammar ibn Yasir, who said: 'We performed tayammum with Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—wiping our faces and arms up to the shoulders.'"

We also transmitted this through Yaqub ibn Ibrahim ibn Sa'd's chain: "My father narrated to us from Salih ibn Kaysan, from al-Zuhri: 'Ubayd Allah ibn Abdullah ibn Utbah ibn Mas'ud informed me from Ibn Abbas, from Ammar ibn Yasir—who mentioned the revelation of the tayammum verse—saying: 'The Muslims rose with Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—struck their hands upon the ground, then raised them without taking any dust. They wiped their faces, their arms up to the shoulders, and from the palms of their hands to the armpits.'" وَقَدْ ذَهَبَ قَوْمٌ إِلَى أَنَّ التَّيَمُّمَ إِلَى الْمَنَاكِبِ، وَاحْتَجُّوا بِمَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ الْعَبَّاسِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الْعَظِيمِ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ أَسْمَاءَ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ عَنْ عَمِّهِ جُوَيْرِيَةَ بْنِ أَسْمَاءَ عَنْ مَالِكِ بْنِ أَنَسٍ عَنْ الزُّهْرِيِّ: أَخْبَرَنِي عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُتْبَةَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ عَمَّارِ بْنِ يَاسِرٍ قَالَ: «تَيَمَّمْنَا مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَمَسَحْنَا بِوُجُوهِنَا وَأَيْدِينَا إِلَى الْمَنَاكِبِ» وَرُوِّينَاهُ أَيْضًا مِنْ طَرِيقِ يَعْقُوبَ بْنِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ سَعْدٍ: ثنا أَبِي عَنْ صَالِحِ بْنِ كَيْسَانَ عَنْ الزُّهْرِيِّ: أَخْبَرَنِي عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُتْبَةَ بْنِ مَسْعُودٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ «عَنْ عَمَّارِ بْنِ يَاسِرٍ - فَذَكَرَ نُزُولَ آيَةِ التَّيَمُّمِ قَالَ: فَقَامَ الْمُسْلِمُونَ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَضَرَبُوا أَيْدِيَهُمْ إِلَى الْأَرْضِ ثُمَّ رَفَعُوا أَيْدِيَهُمْ وَلَمْ يَقْبِضُوا مِنْ التُّرَابِ شَيْئًا، فَمَسَحُوا وُجُوهَهُمْ وَأَيْدِيَهُمْ إِلَى الْمَنَاكِبِ، وَمِنْ بُطُونِ أَيْدِيهِمْ إِلَى الْآبَاطِ» .

L4380 It was narrated to us through the chain of Sufyān ibn ʻUyaynah from al-Zuhrī: ʻUbayd Allāh ibn ʻAbd Allāh ibn ʻUtbah narrated to me from his father, from ʻAmmār—and by it, ʻAmmār and al-Zuhrī used to speak. It was narrated to us through the chain of Sulaymān ibn Ḥarb al-Wāshiḥī: Ḥammād

وَرُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ سُفْيَانَ بْنِ عُيَيْنَةَ عَنْ الزُّهْرِيِّ: حَدَّثَنِي عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُتْبَةَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ عَمَّارٍ، وَبِهِ كَانَ يَقُولُ عَمَّارٌ وَالزُّهْرِيُّ، رُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ سُلَيْمَانَ بْنِ حَرْبٍ

ibn Zayd narrated to us from Ayyūb al-Sikhtiyānī, who said: I heard al-Zuhrī say: Tayammum extends to the shoulders.

الْوَاشِحِيّ، ثنا حَمَّادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ عَنْ أَيُّوبَ السِّخْتِيَانِيِّ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ الزُّهْرِيَّ يَقُولُ: التَّيَمُّمُ إِلَى الْمَنْكِبَيْنِ.

Ali said: This is an authentic narration, except it contains no explicit text indicating that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—commanded this action to establish it as the obligatory ruling for dry ablution. Nor does it contain an explicit clarification that he—peace be upon him—knew of it and endorsed it, which would render it a recommended act. No valid proof exists in the action of anyone other than the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him. Indeed, prolonged astonishment is warranted toward those who deem credible Umar's censure of Uthman for not praying after performing the ritual bath at Rawāḥ time [...] The Friday prayer in the presence of the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—is cited as evidence to invalidate the obligation of ritual bathing (ghusl). However, this report confirms the obligation and denies its abandonment. Moreover, the practice of Muslims performing dry ablution (tayammum) up to the shoulders during the time of the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—is not regarded as proof of its obligation. Ali said: Since none of these narrations serves as decisive evidence—and people have differed as we mentioned—it is obligatory to return to what Allah has obligated us to refer to in disputes: the Quran and the Sunnah. We did so and discovered that Allah Almighty states: "Then perform tayammum with clean earth and wipe your faces and hands with it" (5:6). Allah specified only the hands, and we are certain that if He had intended to include the elbows, head, or feet, He would have clarified it explicitly, as He did for wudu. Similarly, if He had intended the entire body, He would have specified it, as in ghusl. Since He, Exalted and Majestic, did not mention beyond the face and hands, no one may add to this what Allah did not specify: the forearms, head, feet, or any other body parts. Thus, only the face and the hands up to the wrists—the minimal [portion] to which the term "hands" applies—are obligatory in tayammum. We find the authentic Sunnah affirming this, not the fabricated falsehoods.[23]

In it, Abu Musa said to Ibn Mas'ud: "Did you not hear the statement of Ammar? The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, sent me on an errand, and I became ritually impure but could not find water. So I rolled in the clean earth like an animal, then came to the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, and mentioned that to him. said: 'It would have sufficed you to strike the earth with your hands, then blow into them, then wipe your face and hands with them.'" He mentioned the rest of the hadith. Ali said: "This hadith invalidates analogical reasoning, for Ammar assumed that the unmentioned aspect of tayammum for major impurity would have the same ruling as the full ablution for major impurity, since it is a substitute for it. But the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) invalidated that and made it known that everything has its own ruling specified in the texts. It also indicates that a companion may err or forget, and it contains the explicit ruling on tayammum."

L4388 Narrated to us by Abd al-Rahman ibn Abd Allah ibn Khalid, narrated to us by Ibrahim ibn Ahmad, narrated to us by al-Farbari, narrated to us by al-Bukhari, narrated to us by Yahya ibn Bukayr, narrated to us by al-Layth ibn Sa'id, from Ja'far ibn Rabi'ah, from Abd al-Rahman al-A'raj, who said: I heard 'Umayr, the client of Ibn 'Abbas, say: "I came with 'Abd Allah ibn Yasar, the client of Maymunah, the wife of the Prophet (peace be upon him), until we entered the presence of Abu Juhaym ibn al-Harith ibn al-Simmah al-Ansari. Abu Juhaym said: 'The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) came from the direction of the Well of the Camel, and a man met him and greeted him. He did not return the greeting until he turned toward a wall and wiped his face and hands, then he returned the greeting.'"

L4389 Abu Muhammad said: This is the established position, not the hadith of Muhammad ibn Thabit. This is a recommended act meaning tayammum for responding to the Islamic greeting while resident.

L4390 And according to this, a group of the early predecessors held the view, as we have been narrated from ʿAṭāʾ ibn al-Sāʾib from Abū al-Bakhtarī, from ʿAlī ibn Abī Ṭālib, who said: "Tayammum entails one stroke for the face and one stroke for the hands up to the wrists."

L4391–4393 It has been transmitted to us from Ahmad ibn Hanbal: Yahya ibn Sa'id al-Qattan → Shubah → Husayn ibn 'Abd al-Rahman → Abu Malik al-Ashja'i, who said: "I heard 'Ammar ibn Yasir say: 'Tayammum is one wiping for the face and the hands.'" It has also been transmitted to us from Muhammad ibn Abi ʻAdiyy → Shubah from... Husayn ibn Abd al-Rahman reported from Abu Malik that he heard Ammar ibn Yasir say in his sermon: "Tayammum is performed like this," and he struck once [to apply dust] to the face and palms.

وَالْكَفَّيْنِ، وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ أَبِي عَدِيٍّ حَدَّثَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ حُصَيْنِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ عَنْ أَبِي مَالِكٍ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ عَمَّارَ بْنَ يَاسِرٍ يَقُولُ فِي خُطْبَتِهِ: التَّيَمُّمُ هَكَذَا وَضَرَبَ ضَرْبَةً لِلْوَجْهِ وَالْكَفَّيْنِ.

L4394 Abu Muhammad said: This occurred in the presence of the Companions during the sermon, and not a single one of those present opposed him.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: هَذَا بِحَضْرَةِ الصَّحَابَةِ فِي الْخُطْبَةِ، فَلَمْ يُخَالِفْهُ مِمَّنْ حَضَرَ أَحَدٌ.

L4395 From Ahmad ibn Hanbal: Miskin ibn Bukayr narrated to me, who narrated from Al-Awzaʻī, from ʻAṭāʾ, that Ibn ʻAbbās and Ibn Masʻūd used to say: "Tayammum is for the hands and the face."

وَعَنْ أَحْمَدَ بْنِ حَنْبَلٍ حَدَّثَنِي مِسْكِينُ بْنُ بُكَيْرٍ ثنا الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ عَنْ عَطَاءٍ أَنَّ ابْنَ عَبَّاسٍ وَابْنَ مَسْعُودٍ كَانَا يَقُولَانِ: التَّيَمُّمُ لِلْكَفَّيْنِ وَالْوَجْهِ.

L4396 Al-Awzaʻī said—and ʻAṭāʾ and Makhūl also held this opinion—and it is authentically reported from Ash-Shaʻbī, Qatādah, Saʻīd ibn al-Musayyib, and ʻUrwah ibn az-Zubayr. This is likewise the position of Al-Awzaʻī, Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, Isḥāq, and Dāwūd.

قَالَ الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ وَبِهَذَا كَانَ يَقُولُ عَطَاءٌ وَمَكْحُولٌ، وَهُوَ الثَّابِتُ عَنْ الشَّعْبِيِّ وَقَتَادَةَ وَسَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيِّبِ وَعُرْوَةَ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ وَبِهِ يَقُولُ الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ وَأَحْمَدُ بْنُ حَنْبَلٍ وَإِسْحَاقُ وَدَاوُد.

L4397 Ali said: As for the obligation to fully cover the face and hands, we know of no proof for those who consider it obligatory except an analogy to thoroughly washing them with water.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَأَمَّا اسْتِيعَابُ الْوَجْهِ وَالْكَفَّيْنِ فَمَا نَعْلَمُ فِي ذَلِكَ لِمَنْ أَوْجَبَهُ حُجَّةً إلَّا قِيَاسَ ذَلِكَ عَلَى اسْتِيعَابِهِمَا بِالْمَاءِ.

L4398 Abu Muhammad said: Analogy is invalid. Furthermore, even if analogy were valid, this case derived from it would still be invalid. For in our ruling and theirs, the obligation for the feet in ablution is ritual washing. When wiping over the khuffs was substituted for this, the requirement of complete coverage became nullified according to them. Thus they are obliged—if they understand what analogy truly is—to accept that since the ruling for the face and hands in ablution is ritual washing, and wiping in tayammum substitutes for it, complete coverage should likewise be nullified as it was nullified in wiping over khuffs. This is especially so since among the foundational principles of analogy's proponents is that the thing resembling another does not possess the same inherent legal force as the original itself.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: وَالْقِيَاسُ بَاطِلٌ، ثُمَّ لَوْ كَانَ حَقًّا لَكَانَ هَذَا مِنْهُ بَاطِلًا، لِأَنَّ حُكْمَ الرِّجْلَيْنِ عِنْدَنَا وَعِنْدَهُمْ فِي الْوُضُوءِ الْغُسْلُ، فَلَمَّا عَوَّضَ مِنْهُ الْمَسْحَ عَلَى الْخُفَّيْنِ سَقَطَ الِاسْتِيعَابُ عِنْدَهُمْ، فَيَلْزَمُهُمْ - إنْ كَانُوا يَدْرُونَ مَا الْقِيَاسُ - أَنَّ كَذَلِكَ لَمَّا كَانَ حُكْمُ الْوَجْهِ وَالْيَدَيْنِ فِي الْوُضُوءِ الْغُسْلَ، ثُمَّ عَوَّضَ مِنْهُ الْمَسْحَ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ، أَنْ يَسْقُطَ الِاسْتِيعَابُ كَمَا سَقَطَ فِي الْمَسْحِ عَلَى الْخُفَّيْنِ، لَا سِيَّمَا وَمِنْ أُصُولِ أَصْحَابِ الْقِيَاسِ أَنَّ الْمُشَبَّهَ بِالشَّيْءِ لَا يَقْوَى قُوَّةَ الشَّيْءِ بِعَيْنِهِ

L4399 Abu Muhammad said: All of this is baseless. We only cite it to demonstrate their contradictions, the corruption of their foundational principles, and their mutual destruction of one another—just as we refute every sect, doctrine, and opinion by citing their own mutually conflicting assertions, since they themselves validate all these claims. This is not because we consider any of them valid, but our primary argument here is that Allah the Exalted said: "In a clear Arabic tongue" (26:195), and He said: "We have not sent any messenger except in the language of his people to clarify for them" (14:4). Linguistically, "ritual wiping" does not necessitate complete coverage. We must therefore adhere to this linguistic meaning, as no Quranic verse, Sunnah, scholarly consensus, Companion's statement, indeed, not even analogical reasoning has stipulated complete coverage in tayammum. Thus, this claim is invalid. Among those who upheld our position—that only what linguistically constitutes "wiping" is required—were Abu Ayyūb Sulaymān ibn Dāwūd al-Hāshimī and others.[24]

L4400–4402 Abu Muhammad said: What is astonishing is that the term masḥ (wiping) has not been mentioned in the revealed law except in four instances. The specific areas and no more: wiping the head; wiping the face and hands in dry ablution (tayammum); wiping over the leather socks, turban, and khimar; and wiping the Black Stone during circumambulation. None of our opponents who disagree with us have disputed that wiping the leather socks and wiping the Black Stone do not require full wiping. Similarly, those among them who advocated wiping over the turban and khimar contradicted this in dry ablution, imposing full wiping without evidence through arbitrariness. They contradicted themselves regarding the head, for neither Abū Ḥanīfah nor al-Shāfiʿī required full wiping of it, while Mālik was inclined to mandate it but stopped short. From what basis, then, did they restrict wiping in dry ablution to requiring full wiping—without any proof from the Quran, a sound or weak Sunnah, linguistic precedent, consensus, a companion's opinion, or analogy? Success comes solely from Allah.

٢٥١ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

If the deceased lacks water, tayammum should be performed for him as the living perform tayammum, because washing him is an obligation. We have mentioned the Prophet's teaching—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—that dust is a purifier when water is not found. This applies universally to all obligatory purification, and there is no disagreement that every washing (ghusl) is a purifier.

وَإِنْ عَدِمَ الْمَيِّتُ الْمَاءَ يُمِّمَ كَمَا يَتَيَمَّمُ الْحَيُّ؛ لِأَنَّ غُسْلَهُ فَرْضٌ، وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا عَنِ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَنَّ التُّرَابَ طَهُورٌ إِذَا لَمْ نَجِدْ الْمَاءَ، فَهَذَا عُمُومٌ لِكُلِّ طَهُورٍ وَاجِبٍ، وَلَا خِلَافَ فِي أَنَّ كُلَّ غُسْلٍ طَهُورٌ.

Issue: Tayammum is not permissible except with the soil.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ لَا يَجُوزُ التَّيَمُّمُ إِلَّا بِالْأَرْضِ]

٢٥٢ - مَسْأَلَةٌ

Tayammum is permissible only with earth. Earth is then divided into two categories: soil and non-soil. As for soil, Tayammum with it is permissible whether it is in its natural place on the ground, removed and placed in a vessel, on a garment, on a human or animal's hand, or if dust is shaken from any of that, gathering enough dust to place the palm upon it. This applies even if the soil is part of a mud brick, mud-brick structure, or similar. As for non-soil substances—such as pebbles, gravel, desert sand, crushed stone, rocky hills, smooth rocks, marble, sand, antimony mineral, arsenic mineral, quicklime, plaster, gold mineral, tutty, sulfur, lapis lazuli, salt mineral, or other similar substances—they are excluded.

وَلَا يَجُوزُ التَّيَمُّمُ إِلَّا بِالْأَرْضِ، ثُمَّ تَنْقَسِمُ الْأَرْضُ إِلَى قِسْمَيْنِ: تُرَابٌ وَغَيْرُ تُرَابٍ، فَأَمَّا التُّرَابُ فَالتَّيَمُّمُ بِهِ جَائِزٌ، كَانَ فِي مَوْضِعِهِ مِنْ الْأَرْضِ أَوْ مَنْزُوعًا مَجْعُولًا فِي إِنَاءٍ أَوْ فِي ثَوْبٍ أَوْ عَلَى يَدِ إِنْسَانٍ أَوْ حَيَوَانٍ، أَوْ نُفِضَ غُبَارٌ مِنْ كُلِّ ذَلِكَ، فَاجْتُمِعَ مِنْهُ مَا يُوضَعُ عَلَيْهِ الْكَفُّ، أَوْ كَانَ فِي بِنَاءِ لَبِنٍ أَوْ طَابِيَةٍ أَوْ غَيْرِ ذَلِكَ، وَأَمَّا مَا عَدَا التُّرَابَ مِنْ الْحَصَى أَوْ الْحَصْبَاءِ أَوْ الصَّحْرَاءِ أَوْ الرَّضْرَاضِ أَوْ الْهِضَابِ أَوْ الصَّفَا أَوْ الرُّخَامِ أَوْ الرَّمْلِ أَوْ مَعْدِنِ كُحْلٍ أَوْ مَعْدِنِ زِرْنِيخٍ أَوْ جَيَّارٍ أَوْ جِصٍّ أَوْ مَعْدِنِ ذَهَبٍ أَوْ تُوتِيَاءَ أَوْ كِبْرِيتٍ أَوْ لَازَوَرْدَ أَوْ مَعْدِنِ مِلْحٍ أَوْ غَيْرِ ذَلِكَ.

If it remains on the earth without being transferred to another substance, tayammum with all such materials is permissible. If any of it has been moved to a vessel, garment, or similar object, tayammum with any portion of it becomes impermissible. Tayammum is impermissible with baked bricks. If they are pulverized until the material is termed dust, tayammum with it becomes permissible. Similarly, tayammum is impermissible with mud. If it dries until it is termed dust, tayammum with it becomes permissible. Tayammum is also impermissible with salt crystallized from water—whether remaining in its original place or not—nor with snow, leaves, grass, wood, or anything else that forms a barrier between the person performing tayammum and the earth.

L4410–4412 The evidence for that is the statement of Allah, the Exalted: "So perform Tayammum with clean earth and wipe your faces and hands up to the wrists with it." [Al-Mā'idah: 6] The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—said: "Its soil has been made a purifier for us when we do not find water." He—peace be upon him—also said: "The earth has been made a place of prostration and a purifier for me." We have previously mentioned all of this with its chain of transmission, rendering its repetition superfluous. Thus, it is established that tayammum is only permissible with what Allah the Exalted and His Messenger—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—have explicitly specified. The textual evidence only mentions what we have stated regarding al-ṣaʿīd (the surface of the earth) in the language in which the Quran was revealed, the earth (which is well-known), and soil exclusively. We found that soil—whether removed from the earth, carried in a garment, placed in a vessel, on a person's face, or on a horse's sweat, or on matted wool/hair, or formed into mud bricks, tiles, crushed baked bricks, or otherwise—remains soil and does not lose this name. Therefore, tayammum with it is permissible under all circumstances. We found that baked bricks and clay lose the name of soil, earth, and al-ṣaʿīd, making tayammum with them impermissible. However, if they are crushed or dried, they regain the name "soil," and tayammum becomes permissible. We also observed that all other materials we mentioned—such as stone, sand, and metallic ores—as long as they are in the earth, fall under the name of al-ṣaʿīd and earth, making tayammum with them permissible. However, once removed from the earth, they lose the names earth and al-ṣaʿīd and are not called soil, rendering tayammum with any of them impermissible. We further noted that salt solidified from water, snow, grass, and leaves are not called al-ṣaʿīd, earth, or soil, making tayammum with them impermissible.[25][26]

[26] Qur'an references (L4410): Qur'an 5:6 (Al-Ma'idah).

وَهَذَا هُوَ الَّذِي لَا يَجُوزُ غَيْرُهُ، وَفِي هَذَا خِلَافٌ مِنْ ذَلِكَ أَنَّ الْحَسَنَ بْنَ زِيَادٍ قَالَ: إنْ وُضِعَ التُّرَابُ فِي ثَوْبٍ لَمْ يَجُزْ التَّيَمُّمُ بِهِ، وَهَذَا تَفْرِيقٌ لَا دَلِيلَ عَلَيْهِ، وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: يَتَيَمَّمُ عَلَى الثَّلْجِ، وَرُوِيَ أَيْضًا ذَلِكَ عَنْ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ، وَهَذَا خَطَأٌ، لِأَنَّهُ لَمْ يَأْتِ بِهِ نَصٌّ وَلَا إجْمَاعٌ. فَإِنْ قِيلَ: مَا حَالَ بَيْنَكَ وَبَيْنَ الْأَرْضِ فَهُوَ أَرْضٌ.

L4413 This is the only permissible position, and no other is allowed. There is disagreement concerning this, among which is that Al-Ḥasan ibn Ziyād said: "If dust is placed in a garment, it was not permissible to perform tayammum with it." This is a distinction unsupported by evidence. Mālik said: "One may perform tayammum upon snow," and this is also narrated from Abū Ḥanīfah. This is erroneous, as neither textual proof nor consensus exists for it. If asked: "Whatever lies between you and the earth is earth."

قِيلَ لَهُمْ فَإِنْ حَالَ بَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْأَرْضِ قَتْلَى أَوْ غَنَمٌ أَوْ ثِيَابٌ أَوْ خَشَبٌ أَيَكُونُ ذَلِكَ مِنْ الْأَرْضِ فَيُتَيَمَّمُ عَلَيْهِ؟ وَهُمْ لَا يَقُولُونَ بِذَلِكَ. وَقَوْلُهُمْ: إنَّ مَا حَالَ بَيْنَكَ وَبَيْنَ الْأَرْضِ فَهُوَ أَرْضٌ أَوْ مِنْ الْأَرْضِ - فَقَوْلٌ فَاسِدٌ لَمْ يُوجِبْهُ قُرْآنٌ وَلَا سُنَّةٌ وَلَا لُغَةٌ وَلَا إجْمَاعٌ وَلَا قَوْلُ صَاحِبٍ وَلَا قِيَاسٌ ".

L4414 They were asked: If the slain, sheep, garments, or wood intervene between him and the earth, would these be considered part of the earth, permitting tayammum to be performed on them? Yet they do not uphold this. Their claim that "whatever intervenes between you and the earth is [considered] earth or part of the earth" is an invalid opinion, for neither the Quran, the Sunnah, linguistic evidence, consensus, the view of a Companion, nor analogical reasoning has necessitated it.

L4415 Ali said: Snow, clay, and salt - ablution should not be performed with any of them, nor tayammum, for none of these is called water, soil, earth, or clean earth (ṣaʿīd). When salt and snow melt and turn into water, ablution with them becomes permissible because they are water. When clay dries, tayammum with it becomes permissible because it transforms into soil.

وَقَالَ الشَّافِعِيُّ وَأَبُو يُوسُفَ: لَا يَتَيَمَّمُ إلَّا بِالتُّرَابِ خَاصَّةً، لَا بِشَيْءٍ غَيْرِ ذَلِكَ، فَادَّعَوْا أَنَّ قَوْلَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «وَجُعِلَتْ تُرْبَتُهَا لَنَا طَهُورًا» بَيَانٌ لِمُرَادِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى بِالصَّعِيدِ، وَلِمُرَادِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - بِقَوْلِهِ «جُعِلَتْ لِي الْأَرْضُ مَسْجِدًا وَطَهُورًا» .

L4416–4418 Al-Shafi'i and Abu Yusuf said: One should not perform tayammum except with earth specifically, and nothing else. They claimed that the statement of the Messenger of Allah—may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him—"And its soil has been made a purifier for us" is an elucidation of what Allah the Exalted intended by "earth" and of what the Prophet—peace be upon him—intended by his statement "The earth has been made for me a place of prostration and a purifier."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا خَطَأٌ، لِأَنَّهُ دَعْوَى بِلَا بُرْهَانٍ، وَمَا كَانَ هَكَذَا فَهُوَ بَاطِلٌ.

L4419 Ali said: This is a mistake, because it is a claim without proof, and whatever is like this is invalid.

L4420 The Almighty said: "Present your evidence if you are truthful." [Al-Baqarah: 111] Rather, all that the Almighty and His Messenger—peace be upon him—have declared is the truth. Thus, Allah the Almighty stated: "pure earth"

[Al-Mā’idah: 6], and the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—said: “The earth is a place of prostration and a means of purification,” and he—peace be upon him—said: “The earth is a place of prostration, and its soil is a means of purification.” All of this is the truth, all of this is to be acted upon, and it is not permissible to abandon any part of it for another. All soil is pure, all earth is pure, and all clean earth is pure. The verse and the ḥadīth of Jābir concerning the universal applicability of the earth provide an additional ruling beyond the ḥadīth of Ḥudhayfah regarding restriction to soil alone. Therefore, acting upon this additional ruling is obligatory, and this does not preclude acting upon the ḥadīth of Ḥudhayfah. Limiting oneself to what is in the ḥadīth of Ḥudhayfah contradicts the Quran and the ḥadīth of Jābir, and this is impermissible. Success is by Allah, the Most High.[27]

قَالَ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ: {قُلْ هَاتُوا بُرْهَانَكُمْ إِنْ كُنْتُمْ صَادِقِينَ} [البقرة: ١١١] بَلْ كُلُّ مَا قَالَ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ وَرَسُولُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - فَهُوَ حَقٌّ، فَقَالَ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ: {صَعِيدًا طَيِّبًا} [المائدة: ٦] وَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «الْأَرْضُ مَسْجِدٌ وَطَهُورٌ» وَقَالَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «الْأَرْضُ مَسْجِدٌ وَتُرْبَتُهَا طَهُورٌ» فَكُلُّ ذَلِكَ حَقٌّ، وَكُلُّ ذَلِكَ مَأْخُوذٌ بِهِ وَكُلُّ ذَلِكَ لَا يَحِلُّ تَرْكُ شَيْءٍ مِنْهُ لِشَيْءٍ آخَرَ فَالتُّرَابُ كُلُّهُ طَهُورٌ وَالْأَرْضُ كُلُّهَا طَهُورٌ وَالصَّعِيدُ كُلُّهُ طَهُورٌ، وَالْآيَةُ وَحَدِيثُ جَابِرٍ فِي عُمُومِ الْأَرْضِ زَائِدٌ حُكْمًا عَلَى حَدِيثِ حُذَيْفَةَ فِي الِاقْتِصَارِ عَلَى التُّرْبَةِ، فَالْأَخْذُ بِالزَّائِدِ وَاجِبٌ، وَلَا يَمْنَعُ ذَلِكَ مِنْ الْأَخْذِ بِحَدِيثِ حُذَيْفَةَ، وَفِي الِاقْتِصَارِ عَلَى مَا فِي حَدِيثِ حُذَيْفَةَ مُخَالَفَةٌ لِلْقُرْآنِ وَلِمَا فِي حَدِيثِ جَابِرٍ، وَهَذَا لَا يَحِلُّ، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L4421 Abu Hanifa said: All earth may be used for tayammum, such as soil, mud, orpiment, lime, kohl, maradasanj, and any dust shaken off from a cushion, bed, wheat, or barley—it is permissible to perform tayammum with it. Similarly, Sufyan al-Thawri said: If there is dust on your garment, saddle, bridle, or on a tree, perform tayammum with it. This is our position. And with Allah, the Exalted, is success.

وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: الصَّعِيدُ كُلُّهُ يُتَيَمَّمُ بِهِ، كَالتُّرَابِ وَالطِّينِ وَالزِّرْنِيخِ وَالْجِيرِ وَالْكُحْلِ والمرادسنج وَكُلُّ تُرَابٍ نُفِّضَ مِنْ وِسَادَةٍ أَوْ فِرَاشٍ أَوْ مِنْ حِنْطَةٍ أَوْ شَعِيرٍ: فَالتَّيَمُّمُ بِهِ جَائِزٌ وَكَذَلِكَ قَالَ سُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ: إنْ كَانَ فِي ثَوْبِكَ أَوْ سَرْجِكَ أَوْ بَرْدَعَتِكَ تُرَابٌ أَوْ عَلَى شَجَرٍ فَتَيَمَّمْ بِهِ، وَهَذَا قَوْلُنَا. وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ يُقَدَّمُ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ الْيَدَانِ قَبْلَ الْوَجْهِ]

L4422 A legal issue: In dry ablution (tayammum), the hands are to precede the face.

L4423 253 - Legal Issue

٢٥٣ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

L4424 Al-A‘mash said: In dry ablution, the hands are wiped before the face. Al-Shāfi‘ī maintained that the face must be wiped before the palms. Abū Ḥanīfah permitted wiping either the face or the hands before the other.

قَالَ الْأَعْمَشُ: يُقَدَّمُ فِي التَّيَمُّمِ الْيَدَانِ قَبْلَ الْوَجْهِ، وَقَالَ الشَّافِعِيُّ يُقَدَّمُ الْوَجْهُ عَلَى الْكَفَّيْنِ وَلَا بُدَّ، وَأَبَاحَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ تَقْدِيمَ كُلٍّ مِنْهُمَا عَلَى الْآخَرِ.

[27] Qur’an references (L4420): Qur’an 2:111 (Al-Baqarah); Qur’an 27:64 (An-Naml); Qur’an 5:6 (Al-Ma’idah).

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَبِهَذَا نَقُولُ، لِأَنَّنَا رُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ الْبُخَارِيِّ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ سَلَامٍ عَنْ أَبِي مُعَاوِيَةَ عَنْ الْأَعْمَشِ عَنْ شَقِيقٍ عَنْ أَبِي مُوسَى الْأَشْعَرِيِّ عَنْ عَمَّارِ بْنِ يَاسِرٍ: «أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - عَلَّمَهُ التَّيَمُّمَ فَضَرَبَ ضَرْبَةً بِكَفَّيْهِ عَلَى الْأَرْضِ ثُمَّ نَفَضَهَا ثُمَّ مَسَحَ بِهَا ظَهْرَ كَفِّهِ بِشِمَالِهِ أَوْ ظَهْرَ شِمَالِهِ بِكَفِّهِ ثُمَّ مَسَحَ بِهَا وَجْهَهُ» فَكَانَ هَذَا حُكْمًا زَائِدًا، وَبَيَانًا أَنَّ كُلَّ ذَلِكَ جَائِزٌ، بِخِلَافِ الْوُضُوءِ. وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L4425 Ali said: And this is what we say, for we have been narrated through the chain of al-Bukhārī from Muḥammad ibn Salām, from Abū Muʿāwiyah, from al-Aʿmash, from Shaqīq, from Abū Mūsā al-Ashʿarī, from ʿAmmār ibn Yāsir: “That the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) taught him tayammum. He struck the ground once with his palms, shook the dust off them, then wiped the back of his hand with his left palm or the back of his left hand with his palm, then wiped his face with them.” This constitutes a supplementary ruling and a clarification that all such actions are permissible, unlike wuḍūʾ. And with Allah alone is success.

L4426 Whoever adheres to the apparent meaning of the Quran and begins with the face, it is acceptable. And whoever follows the ḥadīth of ʿAmmār and begins with the hands before the face, it is also acceptable. Then we reconsidered his statement—peace be upon him—“Begin with what Allah commenced with,” thus it became necessary that none suffices except starting with the face followed by the hands.

[كِتَابُ الْحَيْضِ وَالاِسْتِحَاضَةِ] [مَسْأَلَةٌ الْحَيْضُ هُوَ الدَّمُ الْأَسْوَدُ الْخَاثِرُ الْكَرِيهُ الرَّائِحَةِ خَاصَّةً]

[The Book of Menstruation and Istihadah] [Issue: Menstruation is defined as blood that is specifically black, clotted, and foul in smell.]

٢٥٤ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

254. Issue:

الْحَيْضُ هُوَ الدَّمُ الْأَسْوَدُ الْخَاثِرُ الْكَرِيهُ الرَّائِحَةِ خَاصَّةً، فَمَتَى ظَهَرَ مِنْ فَرْجِ الْمَرْأَةِ لَمْ يَحِلَّ لَهَا أَنْ تُصَلِّيَ وَلَا أَنْ تَصُومَ وَلَا أَنْ تَطُوفَ بِالْبَيْتِ وَلَا أَنْ يَطَأَهَا زَوْجُهَا وَلَا سَيِّدُهَا فِي الْفَرْجِ، إِلَّا حَتَّى تَرَى الطُّهْرَ، فَإِذَا رَأَتْ أَحْمَرَ أَوْ كَغُسَالَةِ اللَّحْمِ أَوْ صُفْرَةً أَوْ كُدْرَةً أَوْ بَيَاضًا أَوْ جُفُوفًا فَقَدْ طَهُرَتْ وَفُرِضَ عَلَيْهَا أَنْ تَغْسِلَ جَمِيعَ رَأْسِهَا وَجَسَدِهَا بِالْمَاءِ، فَإِنْ لَمْ تَجِدْ الْمَاءَ فَلْتَتَيَمَّمْ ثُمَّ تُصَلِّي وَتَصُومُ وَتَطُوفُ بِالْبَيْتِ وَيَأْتِيهَا زَوْجُهَا أَوْ سَيِّدُهَا، وَكُلُّ مَا ذَكَرْنَا فَهُوَ قَبْلَ الْحَيْضِ وَبَعْدَهُ طُهْرٌ لَيْسَ شَيْءٌ مِنْهُ حَيْضًا أَصْلًا.

Menstruation is the clotted black blood with a foul odor, specifically. Whenever it emerges from a woman's genital area, it is not permissible for her to pray, fast, perform circumambulation of the Kaaba, or for her husband or owner to engage in intercourse with her until she attains purification. If she observes redness, fluid resembling that from washing raw meat, yellowness, cloudiness, whiteness, or dryness, she is purified. It becomes obligatory for her to wash her entire head and body with water. If she cannot find water, she must perform tayammum, then she may pray, fast, perform circumambulation of the Kaaba, and her husband or owner may resume intercourse with her. All that we have mentioned before menstruation and after it constitutes states of purity; none of these are considered menstrual blood whatsoever.

أَمَّا امْتِنَاعُ الصَّلَاةِ وَالصَّوْمِ وَالطَّوَافِ وَالْوَطْءِ فِي الْفَرْجِ فِي حَالِ الْحَيْضِ فَإِجْمَاعٌ مُتَيَقَّنٌ مَقْطُوعٌ بِهِ، لَا خِلَافَ بَيْنَ أَحَدٍ مِنْ أَهْلِ الْإِسْلَامِ فِيهِ، وَقَدْ خَالَفَ فِي ذَلِكَ قَوْمٌ مِنْ الْأَزَارِقَةِ حَقُّهُمْ أَلَّا يُعَدُّوا فِي أَهْلِ الْإِسْلَامِ.

As for abstaining from prayer, fasting, Tawaf (circumambulation of the Kaaba), and sexual intercourse during menstruation, this is a conclusively established Ijma (consensus), with no disagreement among Muslim scholars. However, a group from the Azariqa (a Kharijite sect) opposed this, and they rightfully should not be counted among the people of Islam.

وَأَمَّا مَا هُوَ الْحَيْضُ؟ فَإِنَّ يُونُسَ بْنَ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ مُغِيثٍ حَدَّثَنَا قَالَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحِيمِ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ السَّلَامِ الْخُشَنِيُّ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ ثنا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْقَطَّانُ ثنا هِشَامُ بْنُ عُرْوَةَ حَدَّثَنِي أَبِي عَنْ عَائِشَةَ «أَنَّ فَاطِمَةَ ابْنَةَ أَبِي حُبَيْشٍ أَتَتْ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَقَالَتْ: إِنِّي أُسْتَحَاضُ فَلَا أَطْهُرُ، أَفَأَدَعُ الصَّلَاةَ؟ قَالَ: لَيْسَ ذَلِكَ بِالْحَيْضِ، إِنَّمَا ذَلِكَ عِرْقٌ، فَإِذَا أَقْبَلَتْ الْحَيْضَةُ فَدَعِي الصَّلَاةَ، وَإِذَا أَدْبَرَتْ فَاغْتَسِلِي وَصَلِّي» وَهَكَذَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ حَمَّادِ بْنِ زَيْدٍ وَسُفْيَانَ

As for what constitutes menstruation? Yunus ibn Abd Allah ibn Mughith reported to us, saying: Ahmad ibn Abd Allah ibn Abd al-Rahim reported to us via Ahmad ibn Khalid, who reported via Muhammad ibn Abd al-Salam al-Khushani, who reported via Muhammad ibn Bashshar, who reported via Yahya ibn Sa'id al-Qattan, who reported via Hisham ibn Urwah, who narrated from his father, from Aisha: Fatimah bint Abi Hubaysh came to the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) and said, "I experience irregular bleeding and do not attain purity. Should I cease prayer?" He replied, "That is not menstruation; it is merely a vein. When menstruation arrives, cease prayer. When it departs, perform the ritual bath and pray." It was similarly narrated by us through the chains of Hammad ibn Zayd, Sufyan al-Thawri, Sufyan ibn Uyaynah, Ibn Jurayj, Ma‘mar, Zuhayr ibn Mu‘awiyah, Abu Mu‘awiyah, Abd Allah ibn Numayr, Waki‘ ibn al-Jarrah, Jarir, Abd al-Aziz ibn Muhammad al-Darawardi, and Abu Yusuf—all transmitting from Hisham ibn Urwah, from his father, from Aisha. It was also narrated by us through the chains of Malik, al-Layth ibn Sa‘d, Hammad ibn Salamah, Amr ibn al-Harith, and Sa‘id ibn Abd al-Rahman al-Jumahi—all transmitting from Hisham ibn Urwah, from his father. Narrated by Aisha: The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said, “When menstruation begins, abandon prayer. When it ceases, wash away the blood from yourself, then pray.” In some narrations, it states: “then perform ablution (wudu).”

L4435–4437 And Yunus ibn ‘Abdullah narrated to us: Abu Bakr ibn Ahmad ibn Khalid narrated to us; my father narrated to us; ‘Ali ibn ‘Abd al-‘Aziz narrated to us; Abu ‘Ubayd al-Qasim ibn Salam narrated to us; Muhammad ibn Kathir narrated to me from al-Awza‘i from... Al-Zuhri reported from Urwah from Aishah, who said: “Umm Habibah bint Jahsh experienced irregular bleeding and mentioned this to the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him). He (peace be upon him) said: ’This is not menstruation but a blood vessel. When the menstrual period begins, stop praying. When it ends, perform ghusl and pray.”’

L4438 Narrated by Abu Sa’eed Al-Ja’fari from Abu Bakr Al-Adhfuuni Al-Muqirr, from Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Isma’il, from Al-Hasan ibn Ghulayb, from Yahya ibn ’Abdullah, from Al-Layth, from Yazid ibn Abi Habib, from Bukayr ibn ’Abdullah ibn Al-Ashajj, from Al-Mundhir ibn Al-Mughirah, from ’Urwah ibn Az-Zubayr: Fatimah bint Abi Hubaysh informed him that she came to the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—and complained to him about the blood. He said, “That is merely a blood vessel. When your menstruation arrives, do not pray. When the menstrual period ends, purify yourself, then pray during the intervals between one menstruation and the next.”

L4439–4441 He (peace be upon him) commanded the avoidance of prayer at menstruation’s onset and the performance of ghusl (ritual purification) upon its cessation, directing this ruling to Quraysh's women and Arab women knowledgeable about what the term "menstruation" refers to. Therefore, it became obligatory to seek the clarification of that - what menstruation is in Sharia and linguistic terms. We discovered the narration transmitted to us by Hammam ibn Ahmad who narrated from Abbas ibn Asbagh who narrated from Muhammad ibn Abd al-Malik ibn Ayman who narrated from Abdullah ibn Ahmad ibn Hanbal who narrated from his father who narrated from Muhammad ibn Abi Adiyy who narrated from Muhammad ibn Amr - son of Alqamah ibn Waqqas - from al-Zuhri from Urwah from Fatimah bint Abi Hubaysh: "She suffered istihadah (irregular bleeding), so Allah's Messenger said to her..." The Prophet, peace be upon him, said: "Indeed, menstrual blood is black and recognizable. So when that is present, abstain from prayer. But when it is the other, perform wudu and pray, for it is merely a vein."

فَأَمَرَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - بِاجْتِنَابِ الصَّلَاةِ لِإِقْبَالِ الْحَيْضَةِ وَبِالْغُسْلِ لِإِدْبَارِهَا، وَخَاطَبَ بِذَلِكَ نِسَاءَ قُرَيْشٍ وَالْعَرَبَ الْعَارِفَاتِ بِمَا يَقَعُ عَلَيْهِ اسْمُ الْحَيْضَةِ، فَوَجَبَ أَنْ يُطْلَبَ بَيَانُ ذَلِكَ وَمَا هِيَ الْحَيْضَةُ فِي الشَّرِيعَةِ وَاللُّغَةِ، فَوَجَدْنَا مَا حَدَّثَنَاهُ حَمَامُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ ثنا عَبَّاسُ بْنُ أَصْبَغَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَيْمَنَ ثنا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ بْنِ حَنْبَلٍ ثنا أَبِي ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَبِي عَدِيٍّ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَمْرٍو هُوَ ابْنُ عَلْقَمَةَ بْنِ وَقَّاصٍ - عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ عَنْ عُرْوَةَ عَنْ فَاطِمَةَ بِنْتِ أَبِي حُبَيْشٍ " كَانَتْ اُسْتُحِيضَتْ فَقَالَ لَهَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «إِنَّ دَمَ الْحَيْضِ أَسْوَدُ يُعْرَفُ، فَإِذَا كَانَ ذَلِكَ فَأَمْسِكِي عَنِ الصَّلَاةِ، وَإِذَا كَانَ الْآخَرُ فَتَوَضَّئِي وَصَلِّي فَإِنَّمَا هُوَ عِرْقٌ» .

L4442 Abdur-Rahman ibn Abdullah ibn Khalid narrated to us: Ibrahim ibn Ahmad narrated to us: Al-Farbari narrated to us: Al-Bukhari narrated to us: Qutaybah narrated to us: Yazid ibn Zuray' narrated to us from Khalid al-Hadhdha' from Ikrimah from Aisha, who said: "One of the wives of the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, observed Itikaf with him. She would see yellowish discharge and blood, and the basin was beneath her while she prayed."

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ خَالِدٍ ثنا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ ثنا الْفَرَبْرِيُّ حَدَّثَنَا الْبُخَارِيُّ حَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ ثنا يَزِيدُ بْنُ زُرَيْعٍ عَنْ خَالِدٍ الْحَذَّاءِ عَنْ عِكْرِمَةَ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ «اعْتَكَفَتْ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - امْرَأَةٌ مِنْ أَزْوَاجِهِ، فَكَانَتْ تَرَى الصُّفْرَةَ وَالدَّمَ وَالطَّسْتُ تَحْتَهَا وَهِيَ تُصَلِّي» .

L4443 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us: Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us: Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Salamah al-Muradi narrated to us: Abdullah ibn Wahb narrated from Amr ibn al-Harith from Ibn Shihab from Urwah ibn al-Zubayr and ʿAmrah bint Abd al-Rahman, both of whom reported from Aisha, the wife of the Prophet (peace be upon him), that Umm Habibah bint Hubaysh, who was married to Abd al-Rahman ibn Awf, experienced istihadah (abnormal uterine bleeding) for seven years. She sought a ruling from the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) regarding this. The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said, "This is not menstruation; rather, it is bleeding from a blood vessel. Perform ghusl (ritual purification) and pray." Aisha said, "She would لَيْسَتْ بِالْحَيْضَةِ، وَلَكِنْ هَذَا عِرْقٌ فَاغْتَسِلِي وَصَلِّي. قَالَتْ عَائِشَةُ فَكَانَتْ تَغْتَسِلُ فِي مِرْكَنٍ فِي حُجْرَةِ أُخْتِهَا زَيْنَبَ بِنْتِ جَحْشٍ حَتَّى تَعْلُوَ حُمْرَةُ الدَّمِ الْمَاءَ» .

L4444–4446 Thus, it is established by what we have mentioned that menstruation is black blood alone, and that redness, yellowness, and turbid discharge originate from a blood vessel and are not menstruation, and none of that prevents prayer. If it is said: "This applies only to a woman whose blood flows perpetually," we say: If blood persists during part of her menstrual period and ceases during another part, what is your ruling? Does this judgment apply to her or not? All scholars unanimously agree that this... The judgment is hers.

فَصَحَّ بِمَا ذَكَرْنَا أَنَّ الْحَيْضَ إنَّمَا هُوَ الدَّمُ الْأَسْوَدُ وَحْدَهُ وَإِنَّ الْحُمْرَةَ وَالصُّفْرَةَ وَالْكُدْرَةَ عِرْقٌ وَلَيْسَ حَيْضًا، وَلَا يَمْنَعُ شَيْءٌ مِنْ ذَلِكَ الصَّلَاةَ. فَإِنْ قِيلَ: إنَّمَا هَذَا لِلَّتِي يَتَّصِلُ بِهَا الدَّمُ أَبَدًا، قُلْنَا فَإِنْ اتَّصَلَ بِهَا الدَّمُ بَعْضَ دَهْرِهَا وَانْقَطَعَ بَعْضَهُ فَمَا قَوْلُكُمْ؟ أَلَهَا هَذَا الْحُكْمُ أَمْ لَا؟ فَكُلُّهُمْ مُجْمِعٌ عَلَى أَنَّ هَذَا الْحُكْمَ لَهَا.

L4447 So we said to them: Specify for us the period during which, if blood, yellow discharge, or turbid discharge persists, it is subject to the ruling prescribed by the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—and specify the period during which, if all these discharges persist in combination, it is not subject to that ruling. What they concluded from this was that a group of scholars stated: That period corresponds to her habitual days of menstruation.

فَقُلْنَا لَهُمْ: حُدُّوا لَنَا الْمُدَّةَ الَّتِي إذَا اتَّصَلَ بِهَا الدَّمُ وَالصُّفْرَةُ وَالْكُدْرَةُ كَانَ لَهَا هَذَا الْحُكْمُ الَّذِي أَمَرَ بِهِ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَالْمُدَّةَ الَّتِي إذَا اتَّصَلَ بِهَا هَذَا كُلُّهُ لَمْ يَكُنْ لَهَا ذَلِكَ الْحُكْمُ، فَكَانَ الَّذِي وَقَفُوا عَلَيْهِ مِنْ ذَلِكَ أَنْ قَالَتْ طَائِفَةٌ: تِلْكَ الْمُدَّةُ هِيَ أَيَّامُهَا الْمُعْتَادَةُ لَهَا.

L4448 Another group said: Rather, that duration exceeds her customary days. If that is the case, they account for the formation of blood during the days of her habitual cycle; otherwise, they do not. I said to them: These are two claims we have heard, and a claim is rejected and invalid unless supported by conclusive proof. So present your conclusive proof if you are truthful.

وَقَالَتْ طَائِفَةٌ أُخْرَى: بَلْ تِلْكَ الْمُدَّةُ هِيَ أَكْثَرُ مِنْ أَيَّامِهَا الْمُعْتَادَةِ لَهَا، فَإِذَا كَانَ ذَلِكَ رَاعَوْا فِي أَيَّامِ عَادَتِهَا تَكَوُّنَ الدَّمِ وَإِلَّا فَلَا، فَقُلْتُ لَهُمْ: هَاتَانِ دَعْوَيَانِ قَدْ سَمِعْنَاهُمَا، وَالدَّعْوَةُ مَرْدُودَةٌ سَاقِطَةٌ إلَّا بِبُرْهَانٍ، فَهَاتُوا بُرْهَانَكُمْ إنْ كُنْتُمْ صَادِقِينَ.

L4449 Some of them said: It has been authentically established from the Prophet, peace and blessings be upon him, that he said: "Sit during the days of your menstruation and refrain from prayer for the same number of days as your usual menstrual period."

فَقَالَ بَعْضُهُمْ: قَدْ صَحَّ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَنَّهُ قَالَ: «اُقْعُدِي أَيَّامَ أَقْرَائِكِ وَدَعِي الصَّلَاةَ قَدْرَ الْأَيَّامِ الَّتِي كُنْتِ تَحِيضِينَ فِيهَا» .

L4450 We said, "Yes, this is correct." He (peace be upon him) commanded this solely for the woman who cannot distinguish her blood and [for cases where] the blood is entirely black and uninterrupted.

قُلْنَا نَعَمْ هَذَا صَحِيحٌ، وَإِنَّمَا أَمَرَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - بِهَذَا الَّتِي لَا تُمَيِّزُ دَمَهَا وَالَّذِي هُوَ كُلُّهُ أَسْوَدُ مُتَّصِلٌ.

L4451 The proof of that is His statement to the woman who recognizes her blood:

"Indeed, menstrual blood is black and is recognized. When the other [blood] comes, then pray. When menstruation begins, cease prayer. When it ends, perform the ritual bath, pray, cleanse yourself of the blood, and pray," as we will clarify in the chapter on the mustahāḍah, God willing.

L4452 Abu Muhammad said: There is no escape for them from this. If they cling to someone from whom a statement resembling theirs has been narrated—such as what we reported through the chain of ʿAlqamah ibn Abī ʿAlqamah from his mother: "I used to see women sending a case to ʿĀ'ishah containing cotton with a yellowish stain, asking her about prayer. I heard ʿĀ'ishah say: 'Do not pray [you women] until you see the white discharge.'"

L4453–4454 Abu Muhammad said: We do not know of any connection to the Companions - may Allah be pleased with them - except this solitary narration. Umm 'Alqamah was opposed in that matter by 'A'ishah, and Companions other than the Mother of the Believers contradicted the narration transmitted from Umm 'Alqamah.

L4455 As for the narration from ʿĀ'ishah—may Allah be pleased with her—Aḥmad ibn ʿUmar ibn Anas said: ʿAbd ibn Aḥmad al-Harawī Abū Dharr narrated to us; Aḥmad ibn ʿAbdān, al-Ḥāfiẓ, in Naysābūr narrated to us; Muḥammad ibn Sahl ibn ʿAbdillāh al-Muqriʾ al-Baṣrī narrated to us; Muḥammad ibn Ismāʿīl al-Bukhārī—the compiler of the Ṣaḥīḥ—narrated to us. He said: ʿAlī ibn Ibrāhīm told us: Muḥammad ibn Abī al-Shimāl al-ʿUṭāridī al-Baṣrī narrated to us; Umm Ṭalḥah narrated to me, saying: I asked ʿĀ'ishah, the Mother of the Believers, and she said: "Menstrual blood is sea-like black."

L4456 Muhammad ibn Sa'id ibn Nabat narrated to us, Abdullah ibn Nasr narrated to us, Qasim ibn Asbagh narrated to us, Ibn Waddah narrated to us, Musa ibn Mu'awiyah narrated to us, Waki' narrated to us from Abu Bakr al-Hudhali from Mu'adhah al-Adawiyyah from 'Aishah, who said: "We did not consider the yellow and the brown to be menstruation."

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ قَوْلُهُ لِلَّتِي تُمَيِّزُ دَمَهَا «إِنَّ دَمَ الْحَيْضِ أَسْوَدُ يُعْرَفُ، فَإِذَا جَاءَ الْآخَرُ فَصَلِّي، وَإِذَا أَقْبَلَتْ الْحَيْضَةُ فَدَعِي الصَّلَاةَ، وَإِذَا أَدْبَرَتْ فَاغْتَسِلِي وَصَلِّي وَاغْسِلِي عَنْكِ الدَّمَ وَصَلِّي» عَلَى مَا نُبَيِّنُ فِي بَابِ الْمُسْتَحَاضَةِ إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: وَهَذَا لَا مَخْلَصَ لَهُمْ مِنْهُ، فَإِنْ تَعَلَّقُوا بِمَنْ رُوِيَ عَنْهُ مِثْلُ قَوْلِهِمْ، مِثْلُ مَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ عَلْقَمَةَ بْنِ أَبِي عَلْقَمَةَ عَنْ أُمِّهِ: كُنْتُ أَرَى النِّسَاءَ يُرْسِلْنَ إِلَى عَائِشَةَ بِالدُّرْجَةِ فِيهَا الْكُرْسُفُ فِيهَا الصُّفْرَةُ يَسْأَلْنَهَا عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ، فَسَمِعْتُ عَائِشَةَ تَقُولُ: لَا تُصَلِّينَ حَتَّى تَرَيْنَ الْقَصَّةَ الْبَيْضَاءَ.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: مَا نَعْلَمُ لَهُمْ عَنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ - مُتَعَلَّقًا إِلَّا هَذِهِ الرِّوَايَةُ وَحْدَهَا، وَقَدْ خُولِفَتْ أُمُّ عَلْقَمَةَ فِي ذَلِكَ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، وَخَالَفَ هَذِهِ الرِّوَايَةَ عَنْ أُمِّ عَلْقَمَةَ غَيْرُ أُمِّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ.

فَأَمَّا الرِّوَايَةُ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهَا - فَإِنَّ أَحْمَدَ بْنَ عُمَرَ بْنِ أَنَسٍ قَالَ: ثنا عَبْدُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ الْهَرَوِيُّ أَبُو ذَرٍّ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَبْدَانَ الْحَافِظُ بِنَيْسَابُورَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سَهْلِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ الْمُقْرِئُ الْبَصْرِيُّ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ الْبُخَارِيُّ - هُوَ جَامِعُ الصَّحِيحِ - قَالَ: قَالَ لَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَبِي الشِّمَالِ الْعُطَارِدِيُّ الْبَصْرِيُّ، حَدَّثَتْنِي أُمُّ طَلْحَةَ قَالَتْ: سَأَلْتُ عَائِشَةَ أُمَّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ فَقَالَتْ: دَمُ الْحَيْضِ بَحْرَانِيٌّ أَسْوَدُ.

حَدَّثَنَا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سَعِيدِ بْنِ نَبَاتٍ ثنا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ نَصْرٍ ثنا قَاسِمُ بْنُ أَصْبَغَ ثنا ابْنُ وَضَّاحٍ ثنا مُوسَى بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ حَدَّثَنَا وَكِيعٌ عَنْ أَبِي بَكْرٍ الْهُذَلِيِّ عَنْ مُعَاذَةَ الْعَدَوِيَّةِ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: مَا كُنَّا نَعُدُّ الصُّفْرَةَ وَالْكُدْرَةَ حَيْضًا.

L4457 It has been narrated to us through the chain of Ahmad ibn Hanbal, who narrated to us Ismāʿīl ibn ʿUlayyah, who narrated to us Khālid al-Ḥadhdhāʾ from Anas ibn Sīrīn, who said: A woman from the family of Anas experienced istiḥāḍah, so they instructed me, and I asked Ibn ʿAbbās. He said: As for when she sees the Baḥrānī blood, she must not pray. But when she observes purity, even for an hour during the day, she must perform the ritual bath and pray.

L4458 Ibn Abbas did not concern himself with the continuity of blood. Rather, he held the opinion and issued a ruling that anything other than prolonged blood (al-baḥrānī) constitutes a state of purity, during which a woman may pray even if she does not see it except for an hour of the day. He affirmed that nothing prevents prayer except prolonged blood. And this is a chain of narration of the utmost eminence.

فَلَمْ يَلْتَفِتْ ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ إلَى اتِّصَالِ الدَّمِ، بَلْ رَأَى وَأَفْتَى أَنَّ مَا عَدَا الدَّمَ الْبَحْرَانِيَّ فَهُوَ طُهْرٌ، تُصَلِّي مَعَ وُجُودِهِ وَلَوْ لَمْ تَرَ إلَّا سَاعَةً مِنْ النَّهَارِ، وَأَنَّهُ لَا يَمْنَعُ الصَّلَاةَ إلَّا الدَّمُ الْبَحْرَانِيُّ، وَهَذَا إسْنَادٌ فِي غَايَةِ الْجَلَالَةِ.

L4459–4463 And from the chain of al-Bukhārī: Qutaybah narrated to us, Ismāʿīl (that is, Ibn ʿUlayyah) narrated, from Ayyūb al-Sakhtiyānī, from Muḥammad ibn Sīrīn, from Umm ʿAṭiyyah, who said: "We did not count the yellowish discharge or the cloudy discharge." Umm ʻAṭiyyah was one of the women of the Anṣār who pledged allegiance and a longtime companion of the Messenger of Allāh (PBUH). We have mentioned this same [matter] from the wives of the Prophet (may God bless him and grant him peace), Fatimah bint Abi Hubaysh, and Umm Habibah bint Jahsh. All of this is established through highly graded, authentic chains of transmission.

L4464 We have been narrated from Ali ibn Abi Talib: If a woman sees after Dhuhr something resembling water from washing meat or like a drop of blood from a nosebleed, that is merely a stirring from the stirs of Satan. Let her wash the area with water, perform ablution (wudu), and pray. But if it is copious blood that is clearly evident, she must abstain from praying.

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ: إذَا رَأَتْ بَعْدَ الظُّهْرِ مِثْلَ غُسَالَةِ اللَّحْمِ أَوْ مِثْلَ قَطْرَةِ الدَّمِ مِنْ الرُّعَافِ، فَإِنَّمَا تِلْكَ رَكْضَةٌ مِنْ رَكَضَاتِ الشَّيْطَانِ فَلْتَنْضَحْ بِالْمَاءِ وَلْتَتَوَضَّأْ وَلْتُصَلِّ، فَإِنْ كَانَ عَبِيطًا لَا خَفَاءَ بِهِ فَلْتَدَعْ الصَّلَاةَ.

L4465 From Thawban regarding a woman who experiences vaginal discharge, he said: "She should perform ritual ablution (wudūʾ) and pray." It was asked: "Is this your own opinion, or did you hear it?" His eyes overflowed with tears, and he said: "Rather, I heard it."

وَعَنْ ثَوْبَانَ فِي الْمَرْأَةِ تَرَى الْبَرِيَّةَ قَالَ: تَتَوَضَّأُ وَتُصَلِّي. قِيلَ: أَشَيْءٌ تَقُولُهُ أَمْ سَمِعْتَهُ؟ قَالَ فَفَاضَتْ عَيْنَاهُ وَقَالَ: بَلْ سَمِعْتُهُ.

L4466–4468 Abu Muhammad said: This is stronger than the narration of Umm ʻAlqamah and more appropriate. He narrated what aligns with Umm ʻAlqamah's narration from ‘Amrah’s own opinion, and something similar from Rabi‘ah and Yahya ibn Sa‘id. And it has been contradicted. These are among the Followers, some of whom are more eminent than others, such as Sa’īd ibn al-Musayyib. We have been narrated via Qatādah’s chain from him concerning a woman who sees yellowish or cloudy discharge: she must perform the ritual bath and pray. We have also been narrated from Sufyān al-Thawrī via al-Qa‘qā‘: “We asked Ibrāhīm al-Nakha‘ī about a woman who sees yellowish discharge.” He replied: “She performs ablution and prays.” A similar ruling is reported from Makhūl. If they cite Ibn ‘Abbās’s ḥadīth - “from the Prophet (peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him) concerning one who approaches his wife while she is menstruating: If the blood is pure, the expiation is one dīnār; if it has a yellowish tint, half a dīnār” - we respond: This ḥadīth, even if authenticated, would contradict their own position. It is absurd to treat part of a report as authoritative while rejecting another portion. How could this hold when the ḥadīth itself is invalid and unsound? Its narrator, ‘Abd al-Karīm ibn Abī al-Mukhāriq, is untrustworthy. He was impugned by Ayyūb al-Sikhtiyānī, Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, and others.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: فَهَذَا أَقْوَى مِنْ رِوَايَةِ أُمِّ عَلْقَمَةَ وَأَوْلَى، وَقَدْ رَوَى مَا يُوَافِقُ رِوَايَةَ أُمِّ عَلْقَمَةَ عَنْ عَمْرَةَ مِنْ رَأْيِهَا. وَعَنْ رَبِيعَةَ وَيَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ مِثْلَ ذَلِكَ، وَقَدْ خَالَفَ هَؤُلَاءِ مِنْ التَّابِعِينَ مَنْ هُوَ أَجَلُّ مِنْهُمْ، كَسَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيِّبِ، رُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ قَتَادَةَ عَنْهُ فِي الْمَرْأَةِ تَرَى الصُّفْرَةَ وَالْكُدْرَةَ أَنَّهَا تَغْتَسِلُ وَتُصَلِّي، وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ الْقَعْقَاعِ: سَأَلْنَا إبْرَاهِيمَ النَّخَعِيَّ عَنْ الْمَرْأَةِ تَرَى الصُّفْرَةَ؟ قَالَ: تَتَوَضَّأُ وَتُصَلِّي، وَعَنْ مَكْحُولٍ مِثْلُ ذَلِكَ. فَإِنْ ذَكَرُوا حَدِيثَ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ «عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فِي الَّذِي يَأْتِي امْرَأَتَهُ وَهِيَ حَائِضٌ قَالَ إنْ كَانَ الدَّمُ عَبِيطًا فَدِينَارٌ، وَإِنْ كَانَ فِيهِ صُفْرَةٌ فَنِصْفُ دِينَارٍ» قُلْنَا: هَذَا حَدِيثٌ لَوْ صَحَّ لَكَانُوا قَدْ خَالَفُوا مَا فِيهِ، وَمِنْ الْبَاطِلِ أَنْ يَكُونَ بَعْضُ الْخَبَرِ حُجَّةً وَبَعْضُهُ لَيْسَ حُجَّةً، فَكَيْفَ وَهُوَ بَاطِلٌ لَا يَصِحُّ لِأَنَّهُ رَاوِيهِ عَبْدُ الْكَرِيمِ بْنُ أَبِي الْمُخَارِقِ وَلَيْسَ بِثِقَةٍ، جَرَّحَهُ أَيُّوبُ السِّخْتِيَانِيُّ وَأَحْمَدُ بْنُ حَنْبَلٍ وَغَيْرُهُمَا.

L4469 If they say: The hadith of Ibn Abi ‘Adi is inconsistent in it, for sometimes he narrated it from his memory stating from Az-Zuhri from Urwah from Aisha, and other times he narrated it from his book stating from Az-Zuhri from Urwah from Fatimah bint Abi Hubaysh, and no one other than Muhammad ibn Abi ‘Adi mentioned this narration.

L4470 We said: All of this constitutes strength for the report, and this is not contradiction, for ’Urwah narrated it from both Fāṭimah and ’Ā’ishah together as he encountered them both. ’Ā’ishah was his maternal aunt - the sister of his mother - while Fāṭimah bint Abī Ḥubaysh ibn al-Muṭṭalib ibn Asad was the daughter of his paternal uncle. He is ’Urwah ibn al-Zubayr ibn al-’Awwām ibn Khuwaylid ibn Asad. Muḥammad ibn Abī ’Adiyy, the trustworthy memorizer and reliable narrator - none objects to this except the Mu’tazilah who reject solitary reports as a pretext to nullify the Sunnah. Thus, all they clung to has been invalidated. All praise is due to Allah, Lord of the worlds.

الثِّقَةُ الْحَافِظُ الْمَأْمُونُ، وَلَا يَعْتَرِضُ بِهَذَا إِلَّا الْمُعْتَزِلَةُ الَّذِينَ لَا يَقُولُونَ بِخَبَرِ الْوَاحِدِ، تَعَلُّلًا عَلَى إِبْطَالِ السُّنَنِ فَسَقَطَ كُلُّ مَا تَعَلَّقُوا بِهِ. وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ.

L4471–4473 Our statement here represents the view of the majority of our companions. Abu Hanifah, Sufyan al-Thawri, al-Awzaʿi, al-Shafiʿi, Ahmad, Ishaq, and ʿAbd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi stated that yellowish and turbid discharge during the days of menstruation is considered menstrual, but such discharge outside the days of menstruation is not considered menstrual. Layth ibn Saʿd stated: Blood, yellowish discharge, or turbid discharge outside the days of menstruation is not considered menstrual, but all such discharges during the days of menstruation are considered menstrual. Malik and ʿUbayd Allah ibn al-Hasan stated that yellowish and turbid discharge is considered menstrual, whether it occurs during the days of menstruation or outside them. Abu Yusuf and Muhammad stated that yellowish discharge and blood—all such discharges are considered menstrual. During the days of menstruation, [blood] is considered menstrual flow. As for turbid discharge appearing during the days expected for menstruation but prior to the actual flow, it is not menstruation. However, if it occurs after menstruation, it is considered part of it. All such instances outside the habitual menstrual days are not deemed menstruation, despite their profound confusion regarding blood appearing outside these days. Indeed, Abū Ḥanīfah stated: If a woman observes blood three days or more before her expected menstrual period and it ceases during her menstrual days, or persists for fewer than three days within them, none of this constitutes menstruation. She does not abstain from prayer, fasting, or marital relations because of this unless it recurs twice consecutively in this manner—then it becomes continuous menstruation.

L4474 He said: If she sees blood two days or fewer before her menstrual days and it continues into her menstrual days for three days or more, all of it is menstruation provided it does not exceed ten days. He said: If she sees blood three days or more before her menstrual days and it continues into her menstrual period without interruption for three days or more, he once stated: All of this is menstruation, and another time stated: What she saw before her menstrual days is not menstruation, but what she saw during her menstrual days is menstruation. These are perplexing inconsistencies—enough to confound. Abū Thawr and some associates of our school said: The yellowish and turbid discharge outside the menstrual days are not menstruation. During the menstrual days, if they appear before the blood, they are not menstruation, but if they appear after the blood and follow it without interruption, they are menstruation.

L4475 Ali said: These proponents argued: “As long as menstruation is not confirmed with certainty, it is impermissible to abandon prayer and fasting—whose obligation is certain—or to prohibit intercourse whose permissibility is certain. Only when menstruation is confirmed with certainty, rendering prayer, fasting, and intercourse prohibited with certainty, does their prohibition persist until lifted by another certainty.”

L4476 Ali said: This is a ruling lacking proper clarification; rather, it is deceptive. These two premises are valid, except that the certainty they mentioned refers to the text. The text has been authenticated, confirming that anything other than dark black blood is not menstruation, nor does it prevent prayer, fasting, or intercourse. Thus, their evidence has become evidence against them. Furthermore, had this text not existed here, their claim would not be binding. For prayer and fasting are two obligations whose requirement has been established with certainty, intercourse is an entitlement whose permissibility with one’s wife or permissible female servant has been established with certainty, and menstruation is definitively established to prohibit all these acts. Therefore, it is impermissible to conclusively deem anything menstruation that prohibits prayer, fasting, or intercourse except through an explicit text or indubitable consensus - not through a disputed claim. This is the truth, as there exists no text, consensus, or linguistic basis whatsoever stating that anything besides dark black blood constitutes menstruation in principle.

L4477–4479 And indeed, the text, consensus, and language have been established as sound that the black blood... Menstruation is such that it is impermissible to designate as menstruation except what has been validated by textual evidence and consensus as being menstruation, not that for which there exists no textual evidence or consensus.

وَاحْتَجَّ بَعْضُ أَهْلِ الْمَقَالَةِ الْأُولَى بِأَنْ قَالَ: لَمَّا كَانَ السَّوَادُ حَيْضًا وَكَانَتْ الْحُمْرَةُ جُزْءًا مِنْ أَجْزَاءِ السَّوَادِ وَجَبَ أَنْ تَكُونَ حَيْضًا، وَلَمَّا كَانَتْ الصُّفْرَةُ جُزْءًا مِنْ أَجْزَاءِ الْحُمْرَةِ وَجَبَ أَنْ تَكُونَ حَيْضًا، وَلَمَّا كَانَتْ الْكُدْرَةُ جُزْءًا مِنْ أَجْزَاءِ الصُّفْرَةِ وَجَبَ أَنْ تَكُونَ حَيْضًا، وَلَمَّا كَانَ كُلُّ ذَلِكَ فِي بَعْضِ الْأَحْوَالِ حَيْضًا وَجَبَ أَنْ يَكُونَ فِي كُلِّ الْأَحْوَالِ حَيْضًا.

L4480 Some proponents of the first opinion argued, saying: Since blackness is menstruation, and redness is a component of blackness, it must be considered menstruation. Since yellowness is a component of redness, it must be considered menstruation. Since turbidity is a component of yellowness, it must be considered menstruation. Since all such discharges are considered menstruation in some circumstances, they must be considered menstruation in all circumstances.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّد: وَهَذَا قِيَاسٌ وَالْقِيَاسُ كُلُّهُ بَاطِلٌ، ثُمَّ لَوْ كَانَ الْقِيَاسُ حَقًّا لَكَانَ هَذَا مِنْهُ عَيْنُ الْبَاطِلِ؛ لِأَنَّهُ يُعَارَضُ بِأَنْ يُقَالَ لَهُ: لَمَّا كَانَتْ الْقَصَّةُ الْبَيْضَاءُ طُهْرًا وَلَيْسَتْ حَيْضًا بِإِجْمَاعٍ، ثُمَّ كَانَتْ الْكُدْرَةُ بَيَاضًا غَيْرَ نَاصِعٍ، وَجَبَ أَنْ لَا تَكُونَ حَيْضًا، ثُمَّ لَمَّا كَانَتْ الصُّفْرَةُ كُدْرَةً مُشْبَعَةً وَجَبَ أَنْ لَا تَكُونَ حَيْضًا، ثُمَّ لَمَّا كَانَتْ الْحُمْرَةُ صُفْرَةً مُشْبَعَةً وَجَبَ أَنْ لَا تَكُونَ حَيْضًا، وَلَمَّا كَانَ ذَلِكَ فِي بَعْضِ الْأَحْوَالِ - وَهُوَ مَا كَانَ بَعْدَ أَكْثَرِ أَيَّامِ الْحَيْضِ - لَيْسَ حَيْضًا وَجَبَ أَنْ يَكُونَ فِي جَمِيعِ الْأَحْوَالِ لَيْسَ حَيْضًا، فَهَذَا أَصَحُّ مِنْ قِيَاسِهِمْ؛ لِأَنَّنَا لَمْ نُسَاعِدْهُمْ قَطُّ عَلَى أَنَّ الْحُمْرَةَ وَالصُّفْرَةَ وَالْكُدْرَةَ حَيْضٌ فِي حَالٍ مِنْ الْأَحْوَالِ وَلَا فِي وَقْتٍ مِنْ الْأَوْقَاتِ، وَلَا جَاءَ بِذَلِكَ قَطُّ نَصٌّ وَلَا إجْمَاعٌ وَلَا قِيَاسٌ غَيْرُ مُعَارَضٍ وَلَا قَوْلُ صَاحِبٍ لَمْ يُعَارَضْ وَهُمْ كُلُّهُمْ قَدْ وَافَقُونَا عَلَى أَنَّ كُلَّ ذَلِكَ لَيْسَ حَيْضًا إذَا رُئِيَ فِيمَا زَادَ فِي أَيَّامِ الْحَيْضِ، فَبَطَلَ قِيَاسُهُمْ، وَكَانَ مَا جِئْنَاهُمْ بِهِ - لَوْ صَحَّ الْقِيَاسُ لَا يَصِحُّ غَيْرُهُ.

L4481–4483 Abu Muhammad said: This is analogy, and all analogy is invalid. Furthermore, even if analogy were valid, this instance would be the very essence of invalidity, because it could be countered by arguing: Since the clear case is ritually pure, yet it is not... By consensus, menstruation is established. Then, if turbidity becomes a non-lustrous whiteness, it cannot be menstruation. Then, when yellowness constitutes saturated turbidity, it cannot be menstruation. Then, when redness is a saturated yellowness, it cannot be menstruation. Since that ruling applies in some circumstances—specifically what occurs beyond the maximum days of menstruation—it necessarily follows that it cannot be menstruation under any circumstance. This is sounder than their analogy, for we have never supported their claim that redness, yellowness, or turbidity constitutes menstruation in any situation or time. No textual proof, consensus, unchallenged analogy, or uncontradicted statement from a Companion has ever affirmed this. They all agreed with us that none of these are menstruation when observed beyond the days of menstruation, thereby invalidating their analogy. What we have established—even if analogy were valid—would render no other position valid.

L4484 Likewise, they do not agree that redness is a part of blackness, nor that yellowness is a part of redness, nor that turbidity is a part of yellowness. Rather, it is a claim which we countered with a similar claim, thus invalidating all their assertions. All praise is due to Allah, Lord of the worlds, and our position is affirmed by the evidence of the scriptural text and the Consensus supporting it.

Issue: When a menstruating woman observes purity.

255 - Issue

When she attains purity after menstruation as we mentioned, neither prayer nor ṭawāf around the Kaaba becomes permissible for her until she washes her entire head and body with water or performs tayammum if water is unavailable, she is ill, or performing ghusl would cause her hardship. If she awakens fasting without having performed ghusl and then performs ghusl or tayammum—if she is among those eligible for tayammum—within the timeframe of the Fajr Prayer, her fasting remains valid. All of this is certain consensus, based on the statement of God's Messenger—peace be upon him: "When menstruation departs, purify yourself," and the words of God Almighty: {When they have purified themselves, then approach them} [Al-Baqarah: 222]. He—peace be upon him—informed us that the earth is a means of purification when water is not found, thus tayammum becomes obligatory for a menstruating woman in the absence of water. There is disagreement regarding her delaying ghusl or tayammum beyond this timeframe, which we will mention in the Book of Fasting, God willing.[1]

The issue concerning a menstruating woman when her husband or master has intercourse with her, and her obligations when she becomes ritually pure.

256: Legal Question

As for her husband or her master having intercourse with her when she sees the cessation of bleeding, it is not permissible unless she washes her entire head and body with water or performs tayammum if she is among those eligible for tayammum. If she does not do this, then she must perform the ablution for prayer or perform tayammum if she is among those eligible for tayammum. If she fails to do this, she must without fail wash her private part with water. Whichever of these four actions she performs, intercourse with her becomes lawful for him.

L4491–4493 The proof of that is the statement of Allah, the Exalted: "They ask you about menstruation. Say: 'It is a harm, so refrain from women during their menstruation and do not approach them until they have become pure. When they have purified themselves, approach them as Allah has enjoined upon you.'" [Al-Baqarah 2:222] The statement of Allah: {until they become pure} [Al-Baqarah: 222] means until they attain the state of purity signifying the cessation of menstruation. His declaration: {when they have purified themselves} [Al-Baqarah: 222] describes their active purification. All that we have mentioned is termed in Islamic law and linguistic usage as tatahhur (purification), ṭahūr (a means of purification), and ṭuhr (purity). Whichever of these acts she performs fulfills the requirement of purification. Allah the Exalted said: {In it are men who love to purify themselves} [At-Tawbah: 108], as textual evidence and scholarly consensus establish this refers to washing the genitalia and anus with water. The Prophet (peace be upon him) stated: "The earth has been made for me as a place of prostration and a means of purification." Thus, it is confirmed that dry ablution (tayammum) for janabah (post-sexual impurity) and ritual impurity (ḥadath) is a valid purification.[2]

L4494 Allah the Exalted said: "And if you are in a state of major impurity, then purify yourselves" [Al-Mā'idah: 6]. And the Prophet (peace be upon him) said: "Allah does not accept prayer without purification"—meaning the ablution [wudū'].[3]

L4495 Whoever restricts the application of Allah's saying, {When they have purified themselves} [Al-Baqarah: 222], to washing the head and entire body alone – without ablution, dry ablution, or washing the private part with water – has followed what he has no knowledge of, claiming that Allah the Exalted intended some of what His speech encompasses without proof from Him. It should be said to them: Why did you not apply this to twilight? For

If he says: When she menstruates, she is prohibited by consensus, so she remains impermissible except through another consensus, we say: This is invalid and a false assertion, unsupported by any textual evidence or consensus. Rather, when something is prohibited by consensus and a textual ruling subsequently permits it, it becomes permissible regardless of whether consensus affirms its permissibility or disagreement arises. Were your premise valid, most of your legal positions would thereby be nullified. It would be said to you: You have prohibited prayer for those in minor impurity and those in major ritual impurity (janabah) by consensus, so it would remain impermissible for them except through consensus. Yet you permit the junub to pray through tayammum even if water is unavailable for a month, though no consensus exists on this. Indeed, Umar ibn al-Khattab, Ibn Mas‘ud, Ibrahim, and al-Aswad did not permit prayer through tayammum for such a person. They invalidated the prayer of one who performed ablution without nasal inhalation due to the absence of consensus on its validity. They nullified the prayer of one who performed ablution with leftover water from a woman’s ablution and of one who omitted ablution after touching what fire had contacted. This applies extensively. Similarly, this applies to rulings on fasting, zakat, Hajj, and all religious ordinances. Thus, it is confirmed that their premise is utterly corrupt in essence and entirely destructive to their own legal arguments.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَمِمَّنْ قَالَ بِقَوْلِنَا فِي هَذِهِ الْمَسْأَلَةِ عَطَاءٌ وَطَاوُسٌ وَمُجَاهِدٌ، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ أَصْحَابِنَا. وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ وَأَصْحَابُهُ: إِنْ كَانَتْ أَيَّامُهَا عَشَرَةَ أَيَّامٍ فَبِانْقِطَاعِ الْعَشَرَةِ الْأَيَّامِ يَحِلُّ لَهُ وَطْؤُهَا، اغْتَسَلَتْ أَوْ لَمْ تَغْتَسِلْ، مَضَى لَهَا وَقْتُ صَلَاةٍ أَوْ لَمْ يَمْضِ، تَوَضَّأَتْ أَوْ لَمْ تَتَوَضَّأْ، تَيَمَّمَتْ أَوْ لَمْ تَتَيَمَّمْ، غَسَلَتْ فَرْجَهَا أَوْ لَمْ تَغْسِلْهُ، فَإِنْ كَانَتْ أَيَّامُ حَيْضِهَا أَقَلَّ

Ali said: Among those who upheld our opinion in this matter are ʿAṭāʾ, Ṭāwūs, and Mujāhid, and this is the position of our companions. Abū Ḥanīfa and his companions said: If her menstrual period lasts ten days, upon the cessation of the ten days, it becomes permissible [to resume marital relations]. It is permissible for him to have intercourse with her whether she has performed the ritual bath or not, whether the time for prayer has elapsed for her or not, whether she performed ablution or not, whether she performed dry ablution or not, and whether she washed her private parts or not. If her menstrual days are fewer than ten, it is not lawful for him to have intercourse with her unless she performs the ritual bath or the time for the earliest prayer from her state of purity elapses. If the time for one prayer has passed during which she attained purity or before it—even if she did not perform the ritual bath during that time—it is permissible for him to have intercourse with her, even if she has not performed the ritual bath, dry ablution, ablution, or washed her private parts. If she is a woman of the Book, it is lawful for him to have intercourse with her once she observes cessation of bleeding in any case.

مِنْ عَشَرَةِ أَيَّامٍ لَمْ يَحِلَّ لَهُ أَنْ يَطَأَهَا إِلَّا بِأَنْ تَغْتَسِلَ أَوْ يَمْضِيَ لَهَا وَقْتُ أَدْنَى صَلَاةٍ مِنْ طُهْرِهَا، فَإِنْ مَضَى لَهَا وَقْتُ صَلَاةٍ وَاحِدَةٍ طَهُرَتْ فِيهِ أَوْ قَبْلَهُ وَلَمْ تَغْتَسِلْ فِيهِ فَلَهُ وَطْؤُهَا، وَإِنْ لَمْ تَغْتَسِلْ وَلَا تَيَمَّمَتْ وَلَا تَوَضَّأَتْ وَلَا غَسَلَتْ فَرْجَهَا، فَإِنْ كَانَتْ كِتَابِيَّةً حَلَّ لَهُ وَطْؤُهَا إِذَا رَأَتْ الطُّهْرَ عَلَى كُلِّ حَالٍ.

L4500 These are statements from which we praise Allah for deliverance, as nothing has been reported from any of the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—regarding this matter. Nor do we know of anyone from the Followers except Sālim ibn ʿAbdullāh, Sulaymān ibn Yasār, al-Zuhrī, and Rabīʿah, who prohibited intercourse with her until she performs the ritual bath. There is no proof in their statements if they stood alone—how then could their opinion stand when opposed by those of equal standing?

L4501 And success is by Allah, the Exalted.

L4502 How many issues are there in which they opposed a greater number than these of the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—with no opponent to them known therein? We have previously mentioned many of them and will now cite, if Allah, the Mighty and Majestic, wills, the narration from ʻUmar, ʻAli, Ibn ʻAbbas, Anas, Abu Hurayrah, ʻAbdullah ibn ʻUmar, and Nafiʻ ibn Jubayr: prayer in a cemetery or facing a grave is not permissible, with no opponent to them known among the Companions in that matter. Yet later scholars opposed them through their personal opinions. The narration from Abu Bakr, Thabit ibn Qays, and Anas states that the thigh is not part of the ʻawrah, with no opponent to them known among the Companions in that. Still they opposed them. Such examples are exceedingly numerous.

L4503 If Allah the Exalted had intended by His statement "purify yourselves" [Quran 2:222] only some of what the wording entails—excluding others—the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) would not have neglected to clarify that. Since he (upon him be peace) did not specify this distinction and referred us to the Quran, we became absolutely certain that Allah—Exalted and Glorious—did not intend only some of what the textual term necessitates, excluding others. If they say, "Our position is the more precautionary," we respond: Glory be to Allah (from such a thing)! Rather, the more precautionary [position] is not to prohibit what Allah—Exalted and Glorious—has permitted of marital intercourse without definitive certainty.[1]

L4504 If they say, "It is not permissible for him to have intercourse with her except under circumstances that make her prayer permissible," we respond that this is a false and self-contradictory claim. The first reason for this is that there is no proof for its validity.

فَإِنْ قَالُوا: لَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ وَطْؤُهَا إِلَّا بِمَا يَحِلُّ لَهَا الصَّلَاةُ، قُلْنَا هَذِهِ دَعْوَى بَاطِلٍ مُنْتَقِضَةٌ، أَوَّلُ ذَلِكَ أَنَّهَا لَا بُرْهَانَ عَلَى صِحَّتِهَا.

L4505 The second is that it is permissible for him to have intercourse with her at a time when prayer is impermissible for her, specifically when she is in a state requiring major ritual bath (janābah) or minor ablution (ḥadath).

وَالثَّانِي أَنَّهُ قَدْ يَحِلُّ لَهُ وَطْؤُهَا حَيْثُ لَا تَحِلُّ لَهَا الصَّلَاةُ، وَهُوَ كَوْنُهَا مُجْنِبَةً وَمُحْدِثَةً.

L4506–4508 The third is that they should be told: "Why did you not say it is impermissible?" He may lawfully have intercourse with her only by what permits her fasting, and according to them, this permissibility is contingent solely upon confirmation of ritual purity. This presents conflicting claims. If some argue: We find prohibition triggered by the subtlest matters, while permissibility is established only through the most stringent criteria—such as the prohibition of marrying women wedded by one's fathers, which is incurred by the marriage contract alone, and the re-permissibility of a thrice-divorced woman for her former husband, which becomes lawful only through a new contract and consummation.

وَالثَّالِثُ أَنْ يُقَالَ لَهُمْ: هَلَّا قُلْتُمْ لَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ وَطْؤُهَا إِلَّا بِمَا يَحِلُّ لَهَا بِهِ الصَّوْمُ وَهُوَ يَحِلُّ لَهَا عِنْدَهُمْ بِرُؤْيَةِ الطُّهْرِ فَقَطْ فَهَذِهِ دَعْوَى بِدَعْوَى فَإِنْ قَالَ بَعْضُهُمْ: وَجَدْنَا التَّحْرِيمَ يَدْخُلُ بِأَدَقِّ الْأَشْيَاءِ، وَلَا يَدْخُلُ التَّحْلِيلُ إِلَّا بِأَغْلَظِ الْأَشْيَاءِ، كَنِكَاحِ مَا نَكَحَ الْآبَاءُ، يَحْرُمُ بِالْعَقْدِ، وَتَحْلِيلُ الْمُطَلَّقَةِ ثَلَاثًا لَا يَحِلُّ لَهَا إِلَّا بِالْعَقْدِ وَالْوَطْءِ.

L4509 We said, "It is not as you have claimed; rather, you have contradicted this ruling of yours despite its corruption and invalidity. You have abandoned the most stringent positions asserted by others—namely, the preclusion—for al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī does not deem a thrice-divorced woman lawful [for remarriage] except through a new contract, intercourse, and ejaculation, all of which are necessary. Meanwhile, Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyab holds that she becomes lawful solely through the contract, even without intercourse or penetration."

قُلْنَا لَيْسَ كَمَا قُلْتُمْ، بَلْ قَدْ خَالَفْتُمْ قَضِيَّتَكُمْ هَذِهِ عَلَى فَسَادِهَا وَبُطْلَانِهَا، فَتَرَكْتُمْ أَغْلَظَ الْأَشْيَاءِ مِمَّا قَالَهُ غَيْرُكُمْ وَهُوَ الْإِجْنَابُ، فَإِنَّ الْحَسَنَ الْبَصْرِيَّ لَا يَرَى الْمُطَلَّقَةَ ثَلَاثًا تَحِلُّ إِلَّا بِالْعَقْدِ وَالْوَطْءِ وَالْإِنْزَالِ وَلَا بُدَّ، وَسَعِيدُ بْنُ الْمُسَيِّبِ يَرَى أَنَّهَا تَحِلُّ بِالْعَقْدِ فَقَطْ وَإِنْ لَمْ يَكُنْ وَطْءٌ وَلَا دُخُولٌ.

L4510 Then it is said to them: We have found that legal permissibility enters through the most delicate matters - such as the private part of an unrelated woman, where intercourse incurs entry into the Fire, sanctions bloodshed through stoning, and mandates public lashing. Yet this becomes lawful through three utterances or two: when a man says, "Marry me to your daughter," and the guardian responds, "I have married her to you"; or when she verbally consents while the guardian grants permission. It is also effected when a slaveowner declares: "She is gifted to you." Conversely, we have found prohibition enters only through the weightiest matters - such as irrevocable triple divorce or the conclusion of the waiting period. We observe that prohibition regarding a stepdaughter through one's wife occurs solely through marriage contract and consummation; otherwise, it does not apply. Thus, it becomes evident that their assertion is confused and constitutes falsehood in matters of religion. The truth herein is that prohibition is established only by what establishes permissibility: the Quran or the Sunnah - nothing beyond this. Success comes solely from Allah, the Exalted.

L4511 The issue of the menstruating woman making up the prayer.

L4512 257 – Issue

L4513 When a menstruating woman becomes pure, she is not required to make up any part of the prayers that occurred during her days of menstruation.

L4514 She must make up the days of fasting she missed during her menstrual period. This is a text supported by consensus, with no disagreement about it. Issue 258:

L4515 If a woman menstruates at the beginning of the prayer time or at the end of the time and had not prayed that prayer, it is waived from her, and there is no obligation for her to repeat it. This is the opinion of Abū Ḥanīfah, al-Awzāʿī, and our companions.

L4516 And according to this, Muhammad ibn Sirin and Hammad ibn Abi Sulayman said.

L4517 And al-Nakhaʿī, al-Shaʿbī, Qatādah, and Isḥāq said: She is obliged to make up for it (qaḍāʾ).

L4518 Al-Shafi'i said: If it becomes possible for her to pray it, then she must make it up (qada).

L4519–4521 Ali said: The proof of our statement is that Allah the Exalted has designated a limited time for prayer with a beginning and an end, and it has been established that the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) prayed at the beginning of its time and at the end of its time. Thus, it is established that the one who postpones. Delaying the prayer until the end of its time is not sinful for her, for he—peace be upon him—does not commit sin. Thus, the prayer did not become specifically obligatory upon her because she refrained from delaying it. Since it did not become obligatory upon her until menstruation occurred, it has been dropped from her. Had the prayer been obligatory at the beginning of its time, whoever performed it after the duration required for its completion from the start of its time would be making it up, not as a timely performer, and would be sinful for delaying it beyond its prescribed time while postponing it. This is invalid, with no disagreement among any scholar. 259 - Issue:

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: بُرْهَانُ قَوْلِنَا هُوَ أَنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى جَعَلَ لِلصَّلَاةِ وَقْتًا مَحْدُودًا أَوَّلُهُ وَآخِرُهُ وَصَحَّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - صَلَّى الصَّلَاةَ فِي أَوَّلِ وَقْتِهَا وَفِي آخِرِ وَقْتِهَا، فَصَحَّ

أَنَّ الْمُؤَخِّرَ لَهَا إلَى آخِرِ وَقْتِهَا لَيْسَ عَاصِيًا. لِأَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لَا يَفْعَلُ الْمَعْصِيَةَ فَإِذًا هِيَ لَيْسَتْ عَاصِيَةً فَلَمْ تَتَعَيَّنْ الصَّلَاةُ عَلَيْهَا بِعُدُولِهَا تَأْخِيرَهَا، فَإِذَا لَمْ تَتَعَيَّنْ عَلَيْهَا حَتَّى حَاضَتْ فَقَدْ سَقَطَتْ عَنْهَا، وَلَوْ كَانَتْ الصَّلَاةُ تَجِبُ بِأَوَّلِ الْوَقْتِ لَكَانَ مَنْ صَلَّاهَا بَعْدَ مُضِيِّ مِقْدَارِ تَأْدِيَتِهَا مِنْ أَوَّلِ وَقْتِهَا قَاضِيًا لَهَا لَا مُصَلِّيًا، وَفَاسِقًا بِتَأْخِيرِهَا عَنْ وَقْتِهَا، وَمُؤَخِّرًا لَهَا عَنْ وَقْتِهَا، وَهَذَا بَاطِلٌ لَا اخْتِلَافَ فِيهِ مِنْ أَحَدٍ. ٢٥٩ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

L4522 If she becomes pure at the end of the prayer time with so little time remaining that she cannot perform the major or minor ablutions before the time expires, then that prayer is not incumbent upon her, nor its qada. This is the opinion of Al-Awza'i and our school's scholars.

L4523 Al-Shafi'i and Ahmad said: She is obligated to pray. Abu Muhammad said: The proof for the validity of our view is that Allah, the Mighty and Majestic, has only permitted prayer with ritual purification, and Allah the Exalted has appointed fixed times for prayers. Therefore, if she cannot attain purification while a remainder of the time remains, we are certain that she has not been charged with performing that prayer which it is not lawful for her to perform during its prescribed time.

L4524 The jurisprudential ruling states that a man may seek pleasure from his menstruating wife through all acts except penetrative intercourse.

L4525 260 - Question:

٢٦٠ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

L4526 A man is permitted to derive pleasure from his menstruating wife in every way except vaginal penetration; he may engage in external stimulation of the genitalia but must avoid penetration. As for anal intercourse, it is forbidden at all times.

وَلِلرَّجُلِ أَنْ يَتَلَذَّذَ مِنْ امْرَأَتِهِ الْحَائِضِ بِكُلِّ شَيْءٍ، حَاشَا الْإِيلَاجَ فِي الْفَرْجِ، وَلَهُ أَنْ يُشَفِّرَ وَلَا يُولِجَ، وَأَمَّا الدُّبُرُ فَحَرَامٌ فِي كُلِّ وَقْتٍ.

L4527 There is disagreement on this matter. We have reported from Ibn Abbas that he would refrain from his wife's bed during her menstruation. Umar ibn al-Khattab, Sa'id ibn al-Musayyab, and 'Ata' - though the report from Umar is not authenticated - along with Abu Hanifa, Malik, and al-Shafi'i held that he may have what is above the lower garment from the navel upwards to the upper part of the body, but not what lies below that.

L4528 As for the one who follows the school of Ibn Abbas, he cited as evidence the statement of Allah the Exalted: {And they ask you about menstruation. Say, "It is harm, so keep away from women during menstruation and do not approach them until they become pure"} [Al-Baqarah: 222], and a hadith we have narrated through the chain of Abu Dawud from Sa'id ibn 'Abd al-Jabbar from 'Abd al-'Aziz al-Darawardi from Abu al-Yaman from Umm Dharrah from 'Aishah, the Mother of the Believers, who said: "When I menstruated, I would descend from the raised couch onto the mat. We would neither approach the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) nor draw near to him until we had purified ourselves."[2] قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّد: وَأَمَّا هَذَا الْخَبَرُ فَإِنَّهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي الْيَمَانِ كَثِيرِ بْنِ الْيَمَانِ الرَّحَّالِ وَلَيْسَ بِالْمَشْهُورِ، عَنْ أُمِّ ذَرَّةٍ وَهِيَ مَجْهُولَةٌ فَسَقَطَ، وَأَمَّا الْآيَةُ فَهِيَ مُوجِبَةٌ لِفِعْلِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ إلَّا أَنْ يَأْتِيَ بَيَانٌ صَحِيحٌ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -، فَيُوقَفُ عِنْدَهُ، فَأَرْجَأْنَا أَمْرَ الْآيَةِ.

L4529–4531 Abū Muḥammad said: As for this report, it is transmitted through the chain of Abū al-Yamān Kathīr ibn al-Yamān the Traveler—who is not well-known—from Umm Dharrah, who is an unknown narrator; thus, the report is rejected. As for the verse, it obligates adhering to the action of Ibn ʿAbbās. Unless there comes an authentic clarification from the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—in which case we adhere to it, we have postponed the matter of the verse.

ثُمَّ نَظَرْنَا فِيمَا احْتَجَّ بِهِ مَنْ ذَهَبَ إلَى مَا قَالَ بِهِ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ وَمَالِكٌ، فَوَجَدْنَاهُمْ يَحْتَجُّونَ بِخَبَرٍ رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ ابْنِ وَهْبٍ عَنْ مَخْرَمَةَ بْنِ بُكَيْرٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ كُرَيْبٍ مَوْلَى ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ سَمِعْتُ مَيْمُونَةَ أُمَّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ قَالَتْ «كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَضْطَجِعُ مَعِي وَأَنَا حَائِضٌ وَبَيْنِي وَبَيْنَهُ ثَوْبٌ» .

L4532 Then we examined the evidence cited by those who upheld the position advocated by Abū Ḥanīfah and Mālik. We found them relying on a narration we narrated through the chain of Ibn Wahb, from Makhramah ibn Bukayr, from his father, from Kuraib—the freed slave of Ibn ʿAbbās—who reported: "I heard Maymūnah, the Mother of the Believers, say: 'The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, would lie down with me while I was menstruating, and there was a cloth between me and him.”’[3]

L4533 And with another narration we have reported via al-Layth ibn Saʿd from al-Zuhrī from Ḥabīb, the freed slave of ʿUrwah, from Nudbah, the freedwoman of Maymūnah: “The Messenger of Allah—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—would have non-penetrative contact with one of his wives while she was menstruating, provided she wore a lower garment reaching mid-thigh or the knees and had it securely fastened.”

L4534 And by a hadith we transmitted through the chain of Abū Khālifah from Musaddad from Abū ʿAwānah from ʿUmar ibn Abī Salamah from his father from ʿĀ’ishah that she would sleep with the Messenger of Allāh - peace be upon him - while menstruating, with a garment between them.

وَبِحَدِيثٍ رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي خَلِيفَةَ عَنْ مُسَدَّدٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَوَانَةَ عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ «عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّهَا كَانَتْ تَنَامُ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَهِيَ حَائِضٌ وَبَيْنَهُمَا ثَوْبٌ» .

L4535 And with a narration we narrated from Abū Isḥāq from ʿĀṣim ibn ʿAmr al-ʿIjlī: “A group of men asked ʿUmar, so he said: I asked the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him), ’What is permissible for a man regarding his wife while she is menstruating?’ The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) said: ’You may have what is above the waist-wrapper; do not look at what lies beneath it until she has purified herself.”’

L4536 It has also been narrated from Abū Isḥāq through ʿUmayr, the client of ʿUmar, in a similar manner. And from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī through Mālik ibn Mighwal through ʿĀṣim ibn ʿAmr: from ʿUmar similarly. We have narrated it also through Musaddad through Abū al-Aḥwaṣ through Ṭāriq ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān through ʿĀṣim ibn ʿAmr. And with a ḥadīth we have narrated through the path of Hārūn ibn Muḥammad ibn Bakkār - Marwān, meaning ibn Muḥammad, narrated to us; al-Haytham ibn Ḥumayd narrated to us; al-ʿAlāʾ ibn al-Ḥārith narrated to us: from Ḥarām ibn Ḥakīm through his paternal uncle that he asked the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him): “What is permissible for me regarding my wife while she is menstruating?” He said: “You may have what is above the waist garment.”[4]

L4537 And with a narration we have transmitted through the chain of Hishām ibn ʿAbd al-Malik al-Yazanī, from Baqiyyah ibn al-Walīd, from Saʿīd ibn ʿAbd Allāh al-Aghṭash, from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿĀʾidh al-Azdī—he is the son of Qurṭ, the governor of Ḥimṣa—from Muʿādh ibn Jabal: “I asked the Messenger of Allāh (peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him) about what is permissible for a man regarding his wife while she is menstruating. He said: ‘What is above the lower garment, but abstaining from that is better.’”

L4538–4539 And with a narration we have narrated through the chain of Abdur-Rahim ibn Sulaiman, who narrated to us from Muhammad ibn Kurayb, who reported from Kurayb, from Ibn Abbas, that he was asked about what is permissible for her husband from the woman while she is menstruating. He said: “We have heard—and Allah knows best—if the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said it, then it is as such: what is above the lower garment is permissible.”

L4540 And with a report we have narrated via Muhammad ibn al-Jahm, from Muhammad ibn al-Faraj, from Yunus ibn Muhammad, who narrated to us from Abdullah ibn Umar, from ibn al-Nadr, from Abu Salamah, from Aishah: “The Messenger of Allah - peace be upon him - was asked, ’What is permissible for a man from his wife?’ He said: ’What is above the lower garment.’”

L4541 We examined these narrations and found none of them to be authentic. As for the two hadiths of Maymunah, one is transmitted through Makhramah ibn Bukayr from his father, though he never heard it directly from him. Moreover, Ibn Maʿin stated: “Makhramah is weak; his hadith holds no weight.” The other is transmitted through Nudbah, an unknown female narrator. Abu Dawud narrates this hadith from al-Layth, who said: “It was pronounced ‘Nadabata’ with a fatha on the nun and dal,” while Maʿmar narrates it as “Nudbata” with a damma on the nun and sukun on the dal. Yunus transmits it as “Budayyata” with a damma on the ba, fatha on the dal, and doubled ya. All of them attribute this chain to al-Zuhri in this manner. Thus, both reports ascribed to Maymunah are discarded.

L4542–4544 As for the two narrations of ʿĀ'ishah, one is through ʿUmar ibn Abī Salama, whom Shuʿbah deemed weak and none authenticated, so it is discarded. The second is through ʿAbdullāh ibn ʿUmar al-ʿUmarī the Younger, who is unanimously considered weak—only his brother ʿUbaydullāh is reliable. Thus, both narrations of ʿĀ'ishah are discarded. As for ʿUmar's narration: Abū Isḥāq did not hear it from Umayr, ʿUmar's freed slave. We transmitted it through Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb's chain: ʿAbdullāh ibn Jaʿfar al-Makhramī → ʿUbaydullāh ibn ʿAmr al-Jazarī → Zayd ibn Abī Unaysah → Abū Isḥāq → ʿĀṣim ibn ʿAmr → Umayr, ʿUmar's freed slave → the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him), citing this ḥadīth verbatim. The chain is invalid, for ʿĀṣim ibn ʿAmr did not hear it from Umayr but narrated it—as we stated—via an interrupted chain from him. We also transmitted it through Zuhayr ibn Muʿāwiyah → Abū Isḥāq → ʿĀṣim ibn ʿAmr al-Shāmī → one of the men who approached ʿUmar, citing this ḥadīth verbatim. Additionally, through Shuʿbah's chain: "I heard ʿĀṣim ibn ʿAmr al-Bajalī narrate from a man among those who questioned ʿUmar," citing the same ḥadīth. Thus, ʿĀṣim narrated it from an unknown man, who narrated from unknown individuals, rendering the entire chain discarded. We then examined Ḥārām ibn Ḥakīm's narration from his uncle and found it unsound, for Ḥārām ibn Ḥakīm is weak—he is the one who narrated washing the two genital areas from pre-seminal fluid. Moreover, this report was narrated by— From Ḥarām, Marwān ibn Muḥammad, who is weak.

وَأَمَّا حَدِيثَا عَائِشَةَ فَأَحَدُهُمَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ عُمَرَ بْنِ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، وَقَدْ ضَعَّفَهُ شُعْبَةُ وَلَمْ يُوَثِّقْهُ أَحَدٌ فَسَقَطَ، وَأَمَّا الثَّانِي: فَمِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ وَهُوَ الْعُمَرِيُّ الصَّغِيرُ، وَهُوَ مُتَّفَقٌ عَلَى ضَعْفِه، إِنَّمَا الثِّقَةُ أَخُوهُ عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ، فَسَقَطَ حَدِيثَا عَائِشَةَ. وَأَمَّا حَدِيثُ عُمَرَ فَإِنَّ أَبَا إِسْحَاقَ لَمْ يَسْمَعْهُ مِنْ عُمَيْرٍ مَوْلَى عُمَرَ، هَكَذَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ زُهَيْرِ بْنِ حَرْبٍ: ثنا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ الْمَخْرَمِيُّ ثنا عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ عَمْرٍو الْجَزَرِيُّ عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ أَبِي أُنَيْسَةَ عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو عَنْ عُمَيْرٍ مَوْلَى عُمَرَ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَذَكَرَ هَذَا الْحَدِيثَ نَصًّا، فَسَقَطَ إِسْنَادُهُ لِأَنَّ عَاصِمَ بْنَ عَمْرٍو لَمْ يَسْمَعْهُ مِنْ عُمَرَ بَلْ رَوَاهُ كَمَا ذَكَرْنَا مُنْقَطِعًا عَنْ عُمَيْرٍ، وَرُوِّينَاهُ أَيْضًا عَنْ زُهَيْرِ بْنِ مُعَاوِيَةَ عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو الشَّامِيِّ عَنْ أَحَدِ النَّفَرِ الَّذِينَ أَتَوْا عُمَرَ فَذَكَرَ هَذَا الْحَدِيثَ بِنَصِّهِ، وَرُوِّينَاهُ أَيْضًا مِنْ طَرِيقِ شُعْبَةَ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ عَاصِمَ بْنَ عَمْرٍو الْبَجَلِيَّ يُحَدِّثُ عَنْ رَجُلٍ مِنْ الْقَوْمِ الَّذِينَ سَأَلُوا عُمَرَ فَذَكَرَ الْحَدِيثَ نَفْسَهُ فَإِنَّمَا رَوَاهُ عَاصِمٌ عَنْ رَجُلٍ مَجْهُولٍ عَنْ مَجْهُولِينَ، فَسَقَطَ جُمْلَةً. ثُمَّ نَظَرْنَا فِي حَدِيثِ حَرَامِ بْنِ حَكِيمٍ عَنْ عَمِّهِ فَوَجَدْنَاهُ لَا يَصِحُّ؛ لِأَنَّ حَرَامَ بْنَ حَكِيمٍ ضَعِيفٌ، وَهُوَ الَّذِي رَوَى غَسْلَ الْأُنْثَيَيْنِ مِنْ الْمَذْيِ، وَأَيْضًا فَإِنَّ هَذَا الْخَبَرَ رَوَاهُ عَنْ حَرَامٍ مَرْوَانُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ وَهُوَ ضَعِيفٌ.

L4545 Then we examined the ḥadīth of Muʿādh and found it unreliable, for it is transmitted by Baqiyyah—who is not strong—from Saʿīd al-Aghṭash, who is obscure. This is in addition to its containing the notion that abstaining from such matters is superior—a position the scholars do not uphold.

ثُمَّ نَظَرْنَا فِي حَدِيثِ مُعَاذٍ فَوَجَدْنَاهُ لَا يَصِحُّ؛ لِأَنَّهُ عَنْ بَقِيَّةَ وَلَيْسَ بِالْقَوِيِّ، عَنْ سَعِيدٍ الْأَغْطَشِ وَهُوَ مَجْهُولٌ، مَعَ مَا فِيهِ مِنْ أَنَّ التَّعَفُّفَ عَنْ ذَلِكَ أَفْضَلُ، وَهُمْ لَا يَقُولُونَ بِهَذَا.

L4546 Then we examined the ḥadīth of Ibn ʿAbbās and found its chain of transmission had not been verified. Thus, all these reports were dismissed, and it was not permissible to rely on any of them. Next, we reviewed our position and found the authentic narration from Maymunah and ʿĀ'ishah, the Mother of the Believers—may Allah be pleased with both of them—which we narrated through the chain of ʿAbdullāh ibn Shaddād from Maymunah: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—would have intimate contact with his wives above their lower garments while they were menstruating."[5]

ثُمَّ نَظَرْنَا فِي حَدِيثِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ فَوَجَدْنَاهُ لَمْ يُحَقَّقْ إِسْنَادُهُ، فَسَقَطَتْ هَذِهِ الْأَخْبَارُ كُلُّهَا وَلَمْ يَجُزْ التَّعَلُّقُ بِشَيْءٍ مِنْهَا. ثُمَّ نَظَرْنَا فِيمَا قُلْنَاهُ فَوَجَدْنَا الصَّحِيحَ عَنْ مَيْمُونَةَ وَعَائِشَةَ أُمِّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمَا - هُوَ مَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ شَدَّادٍ عَنْ مَيْمُونَةَ «كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يُبَاشِرُ نِسَاءَهُ فَوْقَ الْإِزَارِ وَهُنَّ حُيَّضٌ» .

L4547 And what we have narrated through the chain of ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn al-Aswad and Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī—both transmitting from al-Aswad—from ʿĀ'isha: "He (peace be upon him) would instruct her to wear a waist-wrapper during the onset of her menstruation, then engage in intimacy with her. Which of you can restrain his desires as the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) restrained his desires?"

وَمَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ الْأَسْوَدِ وَإِبْرَاهِيمَ النَّخَعِيِّ كِلَاهُمَا عَنْ الْأَسْوَدِ «عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - كَانَ يَأْمُرُهَا أَنْ تَتَّزِرَ فِي فَوْرِ حَيْضَتِهَا ثُمَّ يُبَاشِرُهَا، وَأَيُّكُمْ يَمْلِكُ إِرْبَهُ كَمَا كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَمْلِكُ إِرْبَهُ» .

L4548 Abdullah ibn Rabee' narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Muʿawiyah narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Shuʿayb narrated to us, ʿAmr ibn Manṣūr narrated to us, Hisham ibn Abd al-Malik—he is al-Ṭayālisī—narrated to us, Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd—he is al-Qaṭṭān—narrated to me: Jābir ibn Ṣubḥ said: I heard Khilāṣ ibn ʿAmr saying: I heard ʿĀ'ishah, the Mother of the Believers, saying: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—and I shared a single garment while I was menstruating. If any menstrual blood from me touched it, he would wash only the affected spot without washing beyond it, pray in the garment, then rejoin me."

The Companions of the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—asked about this, so Allah the Exalted revealed: {They ask you about menstruation. Say, "It is a harm, so avoid women during menstruation"} [al-Baqarah 2:222]. "Until the end of the verse, the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—said: 'Do everything except intercourse.'"[6]

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ يُوسُفَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ فَتْحٍ ثنا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ بْنُ عِيسَى ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ ثنا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ الْحَجَّاجِ ثنا زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ ثنا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ ثنا ثَابِتٌ هُوَ الْبُنَانِيُّ - عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ «أَنَّ الْيَهُودَ كَانُوا إِذَا حَاضَتْ الْمَرْأَةُ لَمْ يُؤَاكِلُوهَا وَلَمْ يُجَامِعُوهُنَّ فِي الْبُيُوتِ، فَسَأَلَ أَصْحَابُ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - عَنْ ذَلِكَ، فَأَنْزَلَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {وَيَسْأَلُونَكَ عَنِ الْمَحِيضِ قُلْ هُوَ أَذًى فَاعْتَزِلُوا النِّسَاءَ فِي الْمَحِيضِ} [البقرة: ٢٢٢] إلَى آخِرِ الْآيَةِ، فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: اصْنَعُوا كُلَّ شَيْءٍ إلَّا النِّكَاحَ» .

L4553 This report is established in authenticity and clarifies that it followed the revelation of the verse, being the explanation of Allah's ruling in the verse which must not be transgressed. Moreover, the term "al-maḥīḍ" in the language denotes the place of menstruation - the private part - a clear and recognized usage. Thus, the verse aligns with the mentioned report, its meaning being: "Avoid women in the place of menstruation." This is what has been authenticated from those among the Companions - may Allah be pleased with them - who reported anything on the matter, as narrated through Ayyub al-Sikhtiyani from Abu Ma'shar, from Ibrahim al-Nakha'i, from Masruq who said: "I asked 'Aishah: 'What is permissible for me with my wife while she is menstruating?' She replied: 'Everything except the private part.'" From 'Ali ibn Abi Talhah, from Ibn 'Abbas concerning {So avoid women in the place of menstruation} [Al-Baqarah 2:222], he stated: "Avoid intercourse with their private parts." This is the position of Umm Salamah the Mother of the Believers, Masruq, al-Hasan, 'Ata', Ibrahim al-Nakha'i, al-Sha'bi, Sufyan al-Thawri, Muhammad ibn al-Hasan, the correct opinion in al-Shafi'i's school, the view of Dawud, and other proponents of Hadith.[7]

L4554 Abu Muhammad said: Those who are heedless of what they utter with their tongues said: "The inauthentic narration of Umar - which lacks authenticity - abrogates the narration of Anas - the only one for which no other narration with its meaning is established." They said: "Because Anas' narration was connected to the revelation of the verse."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا هُوَ الْكَذِبُ بِعَيْنِهِ وَقَفَا مَا لَا عِلْمَ لَهُ بِهِ، وَلَوْ صَحَّ حَدِيثُ عُمَرَ فَمَنْ لَهُ أَنَّهُ كَانَ بَعْدَ نُزُولِ الْآيَةِ؟ وَلَعَلَّهُ كَانَ قَبْلَ نُزُولِهَا، فَإِذْ ذَلِكَ مُمْكِنٌ هَكَذَا فَلَا يَجُوزُ الْقَطْعُ بِأَحَدِهِمَا، وَلَا يَجُوزُ تَرْكُ يَقِينٍ مَا جَاءَ بِهِ الْقُرْآنُ وَبَيَّنَهُ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إثْرَ نُزُولِ الْآيَةِ لِظَنٍّ كَاذِبٍ فِي حَدِيثٍ لَا يَصِحُّ، مَعَ أَنَّ الْحَدِيثَيْنِ الثَّابِتَيْنِ اللَّذَيْنِ رُوِّينَاهُمَا: أَحَدُهُمَا عَنْ الْأَعْمَشِ عَنْ ثَابِتِ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ عَنْ الْقَاسِمِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ «عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ لَهَا: نَاوِلِينِي الْخُمْرَةَ مِنْ الْمَسْجِدِ قَالَتْ فَقُلْتُ: إنِّي حَائِضٌ فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إنَّ حَيْضَتَكِ لَيْسَتْ فِي يَدِكِ» .

L4555 Ali said: This is sheer falsehood itself—fabricating what he has no knowledge of. Even if Umar's hadith were authentic, who can assert that it occurred after the revelation of the verse? It may well have preceded its revelation. Since this possibility exists in this manner, it is impermissible to conclusively affirm either position, nor is it permissible to discard the certain knowledge conveyed by the Quran and elucidated by the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—following the revelation of the verse, due to a baseless conjecture regarding an unreliable hadith. Moreover, the two authenticated hadiths we transmitted: one from al-A'mash, from Thābit ibn 'Ubayd, from al-Qāsim ibn Muhammad, from 'Ā'ishah—that the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said to her: "Hand me the cloak from the mosque." She replied: "I am menstruating." The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) responded: "Your menstruation is not in your hand."

وَرُوِّينَا الْآخَرَ مِنْ طَرِيقِ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ الْقَطَّانِ عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ كَيْسَانَ وَأَبِي حَازِمٍ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ «أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - كَانَ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ فَقَالَ: يَا عَائِشَةُ نَاوِلِينِي الثَّوْبَ، فَقَالَتْ إنِّي حَائِضٌ، فَقَالَ: إنَّ حَيْضَتَكِ لَيْسَتْ فِي يَدِكِ» فَهُمَا دَلِيلُ أَنْ لَا يُجْتَنَبَ إلَّا الْمَوْضِعَ الَّذِي فِيهِ الْحَيْضَةُ وَحْدَهُ، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L4556–4557 We have also narrated another account through the chain of Yahya ibn Sa'id al-Qattan from Yazid ibn Kaysan and Abu Hazim from Abu Hurairah: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—was in the mosque and said, 'O Aisha, hand me the garment.' She replied, 'I am menstruating.' He said, 'Your menstruation is not in your hand.'" These two are proof that only the body part from which menstrual blood flows must be avoided, and with Allah, the Most High, is the success.

L4560 The blood of postpartum bleeding prohibits what menstrual blood prohibits.

There is no disagreement on this from any scholar, except regarding circumambulating the Kaaba, for the postpartum woman may perform it. This is because the prohibition was specified for menstruating women and not extended to postpartum women, as {your Lord is never forgetful} [Maryam: 64]. Later, we affirmed and determined that postpartum bleeding is equivalent to valid menstruation in rulings, sharing the same legal status as menstruation in all matters, based on the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—asking ʿĀ'ishah: "Have you entered postpartum bleeding?" She replied, "Yes." Thus, he referred to menstruation as postpartum bleeding [in this instance]. Similarly, the bath after postpartum bleeding is obligatory by scholarly consensus.[8] وَدَمُ النِّفَاسِ يَمْنَعُ مَا يَمْنَعُ مِنْهُ دَمُ الْحَيْضِ. هَذَا لَا خِلَافَ فِيهِ مِنْ أَحَدٍ، حَاشَا الطَّوَافَ بِالْبَيْتِ، فَإِنَّ النُّفَسَاءَ تَطُوفُ بِهِ، لِأَنَّ النَّهْيَ وَرَدَ فِي الْحَائِضِ وَلَمْ يَرِدْ فِي النُّفَسَاءِ {وَمَا كَانَ رَبُّكَ نَسِيًّا} [مريم: ٦٤] ثُمَّ اسْتَدْرَكْنَا فَرَأَيْنَا أَنَّ النِّفَاسَ حَيْضٌ صَحِيحٌ، وَحُكْمُهُ حُكْمُ الْحَيْضِ فِي كُلِّ شَيْءٍ «لِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - لِعَائِشَةَ أَنُفِسْتِ؟ قَالَتْ نَعَمْ» فَسَمَّى الْحَيْضَ نِفَاسًا. وَكَذَلِكَ الْغُسْلُ مِنْهُ وَاجِبٌ بِإِجْمَاعٍ.

L4561 What is the ruling concerning menstruating women, postpartum women, and those in a state of major ritual impurity (janābah) entering into marriage and entering the mosque?

L4562 262. Issue:

٢٦٢ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

L4563 It is permissible for a menstruating woman and a postpartum woman to marry [i.e., enter into marriage contracts] and to enter the mosque, and likewise for those in a state of major impurity (junub), because no prohibition has been conveyed regarding any of these matters. The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said, "The believer does not become ritually impure." The people of the Suffah would sleep in the mosque while in the presence of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—and they were a numerous group. There is no doubt that among them were those who experienced nocturnal emissions, yet they were never forbidden from this.

وَجَائِزٌ لِلْحَائِضِ وَالنُّفَسَاءِ أَنْ يَتَزَوَّجَا وَأَنْ يَدْخُلَا الْمَسْجِدَ وَكَذَلِكَ الْجُنُبُ، لِأَنَّهُ لَمْ يَأْتِ نَهْيٌ عَنْ شَيْءٍ مِنْ ذَلِكَ، وَقَدْ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «الْمُؤْمِنُ لَا يَنْجُسُ» وَقَدْ كَانَ أَهْلُ الصُّفَّةِ يَبِيتُونَ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ بِحَضْرَةِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَهُمْ جَمَاعَةٌ كَثِيرَةٌ وَلَا شَكَّ فِي أَنَّ فِيهِمْ مَنْ يَحْتَلِمُ، فَمَا نُهُوا قَطُّ عَنْ ذَلِكَ.

L4564 A group of scholars said: A person in a state of major impurity (junub) and a menstruating woman may not enter the mosque except as those passing through. This is the opinion of al-Shāfiʿī, and they cited the statement of Allah the Exalted: {O you who have believed, do not approach prayer while

L4565 Ali ibn Abi Talib said: There is no valid proof in the statement of Zaid, and even if it were authenticated that he said it, it would still be an error on his part. This is because it is impermissible to suppose that Allah, the Exalted, intended to say "do not approach the places of prayer" thereby causing confusion upon us by saying "do not approach prayer" [4:43]. It has been narrated from Ali ibn Abi Talib, Ibn Abbas, and a group that the verse is about prayer itself.[10]

L4566 Malik said: They should not pass through it under any circumstances. Abū Ḥanīfah and Sufyān said: They should not pass through it. If they are compelled to do so, they must perform tayammum and then pass through it.

L4567–4569 Those who forbade that cited as evidence a Hadith that we narrated through the chain of transmission of Aflah ibn Khalifah from Jasra bint Dajajah. From Aisha: "That the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said to his companions: 'Direct these houses away from the mosque, for I do not permit the mosque to be lawful for a menstruating woman or one in a state of major impurity.'" Another narration we transmitted through Ibn Abi Ghunyah's chain, from Abu al-Khattab al-Hajari, from Mahduj al-Hudhali, from Jasrah bint Dajajah, who reported that Umm Salamah said: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—proclaimed in a loud voice: 'Indeed, know that this mosque is not lawful for one in a state of major impurity or a menstruating woman, except for the Prophet, his wives, Ali, and Fāṭimah.'"[11]

L4570 Another narration that we have narrated from ʻAbd al-Wahhab, from ʻAta' al-Khaffaf, from Ibn Abi Ghunyah, from Ismaʻil, from Jasrah bint Dajājah, from Umm Salamah, who reported that the Messenger of Allah (peace and them specifically from certain mosques while permitting others. Had mosque entry been impermissible for a menstruating woman, the Prophet—peace be upon him—would have informed ʿĀ'isha of this when she menstruated, yet he only prohibited her from performing circumambulation of the Kaaba. It is an unequivocal falsehood to claim mosque entry is unlawful for her when the Prophet—peace be upon him—did not forbid her from it, limiting his prohibition solely to circumambulation.

This is the opinion of al-Muzani, Dawud, and others besides the two of them, and success is from Allah, the Exalted.

An Issue Regarding the Ruling on Intercourse with a Menstruating Woman

263 – Chapter:

Whoever has sexual relations with a menstruating woman has indeed disobeyed Allah the Exalted, and it is an obligation upon him to repent and seek forgiveness, and no expiation is required for this act.

Ibn Abbas said: If he has intercourse with her during menstruation, he should give a dinar in charity; and if he does so during the cessation of bleeding, he should give half a dinar.

We have also been narrated from him that he said: "Whoever has sexual intercourse with a menstruating woman must manumit a slave." We have also been narrated from ʿAṭāʾ ibn Abī Rabāḥ that he said regarding one who has intercourse with his wife while she is menstruating: "He should give a dinar in charity."

And it has been narrated to us from Qatādah: If he has the means, then he must give a dinar; if he does not have the means, then he must give half a dinar.

Al-Awza'i and Muhammad ibn al-Hasan stated: He should give a dinar in charity. Ahmad ibn Hanbal stated: He should give a dinar in charity, and if he wishes, he may give half a dinar. Al-Hasan al-Basri stated: He must free وَمَنْ وَطِئَ حَائِضًا فَقَدْ عَصَى اللَّهَ تَعَالَى، وَفَرْضٌ عَلَيْهِ التَّوْبَةُ وَالِاسْتِغْفَارُ، وَلَا كَفَّارَةَ عَلَيْهِ فِي ذَلِكَ.

L4585–4587 As for those who stated that one should give a dinar or half a dinar as expiation, they supported their view with a hadith we narrated through Miqsam's chain from Ibn Abbas: "The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said: 'He must give a dinar or half a dinar as expiation.'" Some versions of this report add: "If the blood is clotted, a dinar; if yellowish discharge is present, half a dinar." Another hadith we narrated through Shuraik's chain from Khusayf via Ikrimah from Ibn Abbas states: "From the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) concerning one who approaches his spouse during menstruation: 'He must give half a dinar as expiation.'" A further hadith transmitted through Al-Awza'i's chain from Yazid ibn Abi Malik relates: "From Abdul Hamid ibn Abd al-Rahman ibn Zayd ibn Al-Khattab that the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) ordered the intentional violator of a menstruating woman to give two-fifths of a dinar as expiation." Another narration we conveyed through Abdul Malik ibn Habib's chain: Asbagh ibn Al-Faraj reported from Al-Sabi'i via Zayd ibn Abdul Hamid from his father: "Umar ibn Al-Khattab had intercourse with his female slave and discovered she was menstruating. When he informed the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him), the Prophet responded: 'Give half a dinar as expiation.'" An additional hadith we narrated through the chain of... From ʻAbd al-Malik ibn Ḥabīb on the authority of al-Makfūf, who narrated from Ayyūb ibn Khawṭ, from Qatādah, from Ibn ʻAbbās, from the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him—"Let him give in charity a dinar or half a dinar." And with another ḥadīth we have narrated it via the chain of Mūsā ibn Ayyūb > al-Walīd ibn Muslim > Ibn Jābir > ʻAlī ibn Badhīmah > Saʻīd ibn Jubayr > Ibn ʻAbbās: "That the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him—commanded a man who had intercourse with a menstruating woman to free a slave."

فَأَمَّا مَنْ قَالَ: يَتَصَدَّقُ بِدِينَارٍ أَوْ نِصْفِ دِينَارٍ فَاحْتَجُّوا بِحَدِيثٍ رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ مِقْسَمٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ " أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: «يَتَصَدَّقُ بِدِينَارٍ أَوْ بِنِصْفِ دِينَارٍ» وَفِي بَعْضِ أَلْفَاظِ هَذَا الْخَبَرِ «إِنْ كَانَ الدَّمُ عَبِيطًا فَدِينَارٌ، وَإِنْ كَانَ فِيهِ صُفْرَةٌ فَنِصْفُ دِينَارٍ» وَبِحَدِيثٍ رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ شَرِيكٍ عَنْ خُصَيْفٍ عَنْ عِكْرِمَةَ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ «عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فِي الَّذِي يَأْتِي أَهْلَهُ حَائِضًا يَتَصَدَّقُ بِنِصْفِ دِينَارٍ» وَبِحَدِيثٍ رُوِيَ مِنْ طَرِيقِ الْأَوْزَاعِيِّ عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ أَبِي مَالِكٍ «عَنْ عَبْدِ الْحَمِيدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ زَيْدِ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَمَرَهُ - يَعْنِي الَّذِي يَعْمِدُ وَطْءَ حَائِضٍ - أَنْ يَتَصَدَّقَ بِخُمُسَيْ دِينَارٍ» وَبِحَدِيثٍ رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ حَبِيبٍ ثنا أَصْبَغُ بْنُ الْفَرَجِ عَنْ السَّبِيعِيِّ عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الْحَمِيدِ عَنْ أَبِيهِ «أَنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ وَطِئَ جَارِيَتَهُ فَإِذَا بِهَا حَائِضٌ، فَأَتَى رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَأَخْبَرَهُ، فَقَالَ لَهُ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - تَصَدَّقْ بِنِصْفِ دِينَارٍ» وَآخَرُ رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ حَبِيبٍ عَنْ الْمَكْفُوفِ عَنْ أَيُّوبَ بْنِ خَوْطٍ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «فَلْيَتَصَدَّقْ بِدِينَارٍ أَوْ بِنِصْفِ دِينَارٍ» وَبِحَدِيثٍ آخَرَ رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ مُوسَى بْنِ أَيُّوبَ عَنْ الْوَلِيدِ بْنِ مُسْلِمٍ عَنْ ابْنِ جَابِرٍ عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ بَذِيمَةَ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ «أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَمَرَ رَجُلًا أَصَابَ حَائِضًا بِعِتْقِ نَسَمَةٍ» .

L4588 We have also narrated it through the chain of Maḥmūd ibn Khālid from al-Walīd ibn Muslim from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Yazīd al-Sulamī from ʿAlī ibn Badhīmah from Saʿīd ibn Jubayr from Ibn ʿAbbās from the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—explicitly. Those who ruled that he was obligated to perform manumission, fasting, or feeding the poor invoked analogy to the ruling on having intercourse during the daytime in Ramaḍān.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: كُلُّ هَذَا لَا يَصِحُّ مِنْهُ شَيْءٌ.

L4590 As for the ḥadīth of Miqsam, Miqsam is not reliable, thus its use as evidence is dismissed. As for the ḥadīth of Ikrimah, Sharik narrated it from Khuṣayf, and both narrators are weak.

أَمَّا حَدِيثُ مِقْسَمٍ فَمِقْسَمٌ لَيْسَ بِالْقَوِيِّ فَسَقَطَ الِاحْتِجَاجُ بِهِ، وَأَمَّا حَدِيثُ عِكْرِمَةَ، فَرَوَاهُ شَرِيكٌ عَنْ خُصَيْفٍ، وَكِلَاهُمَا ضَعِيفٌ.

L4591 As for the narration of Al-Awza'i, it is disconnected (mursal). As for the two narrations of Abd al-Malik ibn Habib, even if there were no other reason besides this, it would suffice to establish their rejection. How then when one of them is from Al-Sabi'i, whose identity is unknown, and it is also disconnected (mursal)? The other is from the blind one, whose identity is unknown, from Ayyub ibn Khawt, who is rejected.

L4592 As for the two narrations of Al-Walīd ibn Muslim, they are transmitted through Mūsā ibn Ayyūb and ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Yazīd, both of whom are weak narrators. Thus, all traditions in this chapter are rejected.

وَأَمَّا حَدِيثَا الْوَلِيدِ بْنِ مُسْلِمٍ فَمِنْ طَرِيقِ مُوسَى بْنِ أَيُّوبَ وَعَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ وَهُمَا ضَعِيفَانِ، فَسَقَطَ جَمِيعُ الْآثَارِ فِي هَذَا الْبَابِ.

L4593 As for the analogy of the one who has intercourse with a menstruating woman upon the one who has intercourse during Ramadan, the analogy is invalid.

L4594 It was incumbent upon those who adhered to weak narrations—such as the ḥadīth of Ḥizām regarding seeking clarity, the reports about performing ablution with nabīdh, the narrations on nasal application, the ḥadīth concerning ablution after loud laughter, the accounts of Jusrah bint Dajājah and others barring menstruating women and those in major impurity from entering mosques, and the unreliable traditions prohibiting a person in major impurity from reciting the Qur'ān—to uphold these reports, for they remain superior

وَلَقَدْ كَانَ يَلْزَمُ الْآخِذِينَ بِالْآثَارِ الْوَاهِيَةِ كَحَدِيثِ حِزَامٍ فِي الِاسْتِظْهَارِ وَأَحَادِيثِ الْوُضُوءِ بِالنَّبِيذِ، وَأَحَادِيثِ الْجُعْلِ فِي الْأَنْفِ، وَحَدِيثِ الْوُضُوءِ مِنْ الْقَهْقَهَةِ، وَأَحَادِيثِ جَسْرَةَ بِنْتِ دَجَاجَةَ وَغَيْرِهَا فِي أَنْ لَا يَدْخُلَ الْمَسْجِدَ حَائِضٌ وَلَا جُنُبٌ، وَبِالْأَخْبَارِ الْوَاهِيَةِ فِي أَنْ لَا يَقْرَأَ الْقُرْآنَ الْجُنُبُ، أَنْ يَقُولُوا بِهَذِهِ الْآثَارِ فَهِيَ أَحْسَنُ عَلَى عِلَّاتِهَا مِنْ تِلْكَ

despite their defects to those deficient, corrupt analogies they adopted here. This however exposes their inconsistency, as they cling neither to mursal nor musnad narrations, neither strong nor weak—except what conforms to their blind adherence. It equally behooved those who analogized eating during Ramadan to intercourse during it (by mandating expiation) to analogize intercourse with a menstruating woman to intercourse during Ramadan, since both involve engaging with an originally lawful private part rendered temporarily forbidden by a transient state. This is sounder than their invalid analogies, for intercourse bears closer resemblance to intercourse than eating does to intercourse.

L4595–4597 Yes, and from oil with ghee, from one who has defecated with one who has urinated, from the pig with the dog, and from... The chastity of the Muslim wife lies in the hands of the accursed thief and all the rest of those corrupt criteria. By this, it becomes evident to every person of understanding that they neither adhere to the revealed texts nor follow Qiyas, but are merely followers of Taqlid or advocates of Istihsan. And success comes solely from Allah, the Exalted.

L4598 Abu Muhammad said: As for us, had any of these narrations been authentic, we would have acted upon them. However, since nothing authentic has been established regarding the obligation of any penalty on one who has intercourse with a menstruating woman, his wealth is forbidden (to take as a penalty). Therefore, it is impermissible to impose a ruling beyond what Allah has obligated upon him: repentance from the sin he committed, seeking forgiveness, and discretionary punishment, in accordance with the saying of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him: "Whoever among you sees an evil, let him change it with his hand"—we have previously mentioned this with its chain of transmission, and we will mention the extent of discretionary punishment in its proper place, if Allah Almighty wills, and in Him we place our trust.

وَكُلُّ دَمٍ رَأَتْهُ الْحَامِلُ مَا لَمْ تَضَعْ آخِرَ وَلَدٍ فِي بَطْنِهَا، فَلَيْسَ حَيْضًا وَلَا نِفَاسًا، وَلَا يَمْنَعُ مِنْ شَيْءٍ، وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا أَنَّهُ لَيْسَ حَيْضًا قَبْلُ وَبُرْهَانُهُ، وَلَيْسَ أَيْضًا نِفَاسًا لِأَنَّهَا لَمْ تُنْفِسْ وَلَا وَضَعَتْ حَمْلَهَا بَعْدُ وَلَا حَائِضٌ، وَلَا إجْمَاعَ بِأَنَّهُ حَيْضٌ أَوْ نِفَاسٌ، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ، فَلَا يَسْقُطُ عَنْهَا مَا قَدْ صَحَّ وُجُوبُهُ مِنْ الصَّلَاةِ وَالصَّوْمِ وَإِبَاحَةِ الْجِمَاعِ إلَّا بِنَصٍّ ثَابِتٍ لَا بِالدَّعْوَى الْكَاذِبَةِ.

Any blood seen by a pregnant woman before delivering the last child in her womb is neither menstruation nor postpartum bleeding, and it does not prevent anything. We have previously stated—along with its proof—that it is not menstruation, nor is it considered postpartum bleeding because she has neither experienced postpartum bleeding nor delivered her child yet, nor is she menstruating. There is no consensus that it constitutes menstruation or postpartum bleeding. And with Allah, the Most High, is success. Therefore, the obligations validly established upon her - prayer, fasting, and the lawfulness of marital relations - are not waived except by firmly established textual evidence, not by false claims.

A jurisprudential question: The very elderly woman observed black blood.

٢٦٥ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

وَإِنْ رَأَتْ الْعَجُوزُ الْمُسِنَّةُ دَمًا أَسْوَدَ فَهُوَ حَيْضٌ مَانِعٌ مِنْ الصَّلَاةِ وَالصَّوْمِ وَالطَّوَافِ وَالْوَطْءِ.

265 – Question:

If an elderly woman sees black blood, it is menstrual blood—a preventer of prayer, fasting, circumambulation, and intercourse.

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ قَوْلُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - الَّذِي ذَكَرْنَاهُ قَبْلُ بِإِسْنَادِهِ «إنَّ دَمَ الْحَيْضِ أَسْوَدُ يُعْرَفُ وَأَمَرَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إذَا رَأَتْهُ بِتَرْكِ الصَّلَاةِ» وَقَوْلُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - فِي الْحَيْضِ «هَذَا شَيْءٌ كَتَبَهُ اللَّهُ عَلَى بَنَاتِ آدَمَ» فَهَذَا دَمٌ أَسْوَدُ وَهِيَ مِنْ بَنَاتِ آدَمَ، وَلَمْ يَأْتِ نَصٌّ وَلَا إجْمَاعٌ بِأَنَّهُ لَيْسَ حَيْضًا، كَمَا جَاءَ بِهِ النَّصُّ فِي الْحَامِلِ، فَإِنْ ذَكَرُوا قَوْلَ اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ {وَاللائِي يَئِسْنَ مِنَ الْمَحِيضِ مِنْ نِسَائِكُمْ إِنِ ارْتَبْتُمْ فَعِدَّتُهُنَّ ثَلاثَةُ أَشْهُرٍ} [الطلاق: ٤] قُلْنَا: إنَّمَا أَخْبَرَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عَنْهُنَّ بِيَأْسِهِنَّ، وَلَمْ يُخْبِرْ تَعَالَى أَنْ يَأْسَهُنَّ حَقٌّ قَاطِعٌ لِحَيْضِهِنَّ، وَلَمْ نُنْكِرْ يَأْسَهُنَّ مِنْ الْحَيْضِ، لَكِنْ قُلْنَا: إنَّ يَأْسَهُنَّ مِنْ الْحَيْضِ، لَيْسَ مَانِعًا مِنْ أَنْ يُحْدِثَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى لَهُنَّ حَيْضًا، وَلَا أَخْبَرَ تَعَالَى بِأَنَّ ذَلِكَ لَا يَكُونُ، وَلَا رَسُولُهُ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَقَدْ قَالَ تَعَالَى

The evidence for this is the statement of the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings of Allah be upon him - which we previously mentioned with its chain of transmission: "Verily, menstrual blood is black and can be recognized," and the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings of Allah be upon him - commanded that when she sees it, she must abandon prayer. His statement - peace be upon him - regarding menstruation: "This is something Allah has ordained for the daughters of Adam." Thus, this is black blood, and she is among the daughters of Adam. No textual evidence or consensus has established that this is not menstruation, unlike the text regarding pregnant women. Should they cite Allah's words {As for those women who have ceased menstruation among you, if you doubt, their waiting period is three months} (Surah At-Talaq 4), we respond: Allah the Exalted merely informed about their cessation, not that this cessation definitively terminates their menstruation. We do not deny their cessation of menstruation, but we affirm that this cessation does not preclude Allah the Exalted from causing menstruation to recur for them. Neither Allah nor His Messenger - peace and blessings of Allah be upon him - declared this impossible. Allah the Exalted states {As for elderly women who no longer expect marriage} (Surah An-Nur 60), informing that they have despaired of marriage, yet this does not prevent their lawful marriage, as there is no disagreement among scholars. There is no distinction between Allah's two pronouncements concerning women who have ceased menstruation. And those women who do not expect marriage—both rulings apply to women who presume these two scenarios—and neither prevents them from what they have despaired of: menstruation and marriage. Regarding our position on the elderly woman, Al-Shāfiʿī states... And success comes from Allah, the Most High.[12]

The Ruling on the Minimum Menstrual Period

266 - Issue:

The minimum duration of menstruation is a single occurrence. When a woman sees black blood from her private part, she abstains from prayer and fasting, and intercourse becomes forbidden for her husband or her master. If she sees traces of red blood, fluid resembling meat-washing water, yellow discharge, turbidity, whiteness, or complete dryness, she has attained purity. She then performs ghusl (ritual bathing) or tayammum (dry ablution) if she is among those eligible for tayammum due to lack of water or incapacity to use water, resumes prayer and fasting, and her husband or master may approach her. This applies perpetually: whenever she sees black blood, it is menstruation, and whenever she sees anything else, it is a state of purity. She counts her waiting period (ʿiddah) based on this state of purity following divorce. If the black blood persists continuously, it is considered menstruation until the completion of seventeen days. If it persists beyond this, whether briefly or extensively, it is not menstruation. We will mention the ruling on this afterward, Allah, the Almighty, willing.

The proof for this is the textual evidence we mentioned, which establishes that menstrual blood is black and identifiable, and whatever differs from this [12]Qur'an references (L4605): Qur'an 65:4 (At-Talaq); Qur'an 24:60 (An-Nur).

[مَسْأَلَةُ أَقَلُّ الْحَيْضِ]

is not menstruation. The Prophet (peace be upon him) did not restrict this ruling to specific durations or counts. Rather, Allah the Exalted obligated women to abstain from prayer and fasting upon observing it, and Allah the Exalted prohibited marrying them during it, while the Prophet (peace be upon him) commanded the resumption of prayer and fasting after its cessation. Allah permitted intercourse upon attaining ritual purity from it. Thus, it is impermissible to distinguish one time from another in this ruling. As long as menstruation persists, it retains the ruling Allah has ordained for it until definitive textual evidence or consensus establishes otherwise. There exists no textual evidence or consensus regarding durations shorter than seventeen days. Where valid consensus confirms blood is not menstrual, the ruling ceases, and the woman is no longer subject to menstruation laws. Disputed matters must be referred back to the Prophet (peace be upon him), who designated black blood as menstrual blood carrying its prohibitions—barring prayer and fasting. No text or consensus states that a period of ritual purity permitting prayer and fasting cannot constitute a purity interval counted toward the ʿiddah. Those who differentiate between these rulings are certain of their error, asserting claims unsupported by the Quran, Sunnah—whether sound or unsound—analogy, or consensus. Rather, both the Quran and Sunnah affirm our position: menstruation prohibits prayer and fasting, their permissibility depends on its absence, and the state of ritual purity between two menstrual cycles constitutes a purity interval counted in the ʿiddah.

L4612 Allah the Exalted said: {Divorced women shall observe a waiting period for three qurūʿ} [Al-Baqarah 2:228]. Whoever sets a defined limit during the days of the qurūʿ invalidates [the ruling], persists in what he has no knowledge of, and asserts what is neither supported by textual proof nor consensus.[13]

قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {وَالْمُطَلَّقَاتُ يَتَرَبَّصْنَ بِأَنْفُسِهِنَّ ثَلَاثَةَ قُرُوءٍ} [البقرة: ٢٢٨] فَمَنْ حَدَّ فِي أَيَّامِ الْقُرْءِ حَدًّا فَهُوَ مُبْطِلٌ، وَقَافٍ مَا لَا عِلْمَ لَهُ بِهِ، وَمَا لَمْ يَأْتِ بِهِ نَصٌّ وَلَا إِجْمَاعٌ.

L4613–4615 In this matter, there is disagreement regarding three points: the first is the minimum duration of menstruation, the second is the maximum duration of menstruation, and the third... Menstruation. The third difference is between the waiting period (ʿiddah) in this matter and the rulings concerning prayer and fasting. As for the minimum duration of menstruation, a group has stated: The shortest menstrual period is a single flow during which prayer and fasting are omitted, and intercourse is prohibited. Regarding the waiting period, its minimum is three days - which is the opinion of Mālik. It has also been reported from Mālik that its minimum in the waiting period is five days.

وَأَمَّا فِي الْعِدَّةِ فَأَقَلُّهُ ثَلَاثَةُ أَيَّامٍ، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ مَالِكٍ، وَقَدْ رُوِيَ عَنْ مَالِكٍ: أَقَلُّهُ فِي الْعِدَّةِ خَمْسَةُ أَيَّامٍ.

L4616 A group maintained that the minimum menstrual occurrence is a single flow in prayer, fasting, sexual intercourse, and the waiting period. This is the opinion of al-Awzāʿī, one of al-Shāfiʿī's two opinions, and that of Dāwūd and his companions.

وَقَالَتْ طَائِفَةٌ: أَقَلُّ الْحَيْضِ دَفْعَةٌ وَاحِدَةٌ فِي الصَّلَاةِ وَالصَّوْمِ وَالْوَطْءِ وَالْعِدَّةِ، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ الْأَوْزَاعِيِّ وَأَحَدُ قَوْلَيْ الشَّافِعِيِّ وَدَاوُد وَأَصْحَابِهِ.

L4617 One group said: The minimum duration of menstruation is a day and a night, and this is the more well-known of the two opinions of Al-Shāfiʿī and Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, and it is the view of ʿAṭāʾ. Another group said: The minimum duration of menstruation is three days; if bleeding ceases before three days, it is irregular bleeding and not menstruation, and prayers and fasting should not be abandoned because of it. This is the opinion of Abū Ḥanīfah, his followers, and Sufyān. A third group said: Women's menstruation is six or seven days, and this is an opinion of Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal.

L4618 Ali said: As for one who differentiates between prayer, fasting, and the prohibition of sexual intercourse on one side, and the waiting period on the other, such a view is evidently erroneous. We find no valid proof for it whatsoever—neither from the Quran, nor from a sound Sunnah nor a defective one, nor from consensus, nor from the opinion of a Companion, nor from analogy, nor from precaution, nor from any opinion with a valid basis. Therefore, it must be abandoned.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: أَمَّا مَنْ فَرَّقَ بَيْنَ الصَّلَاةِ وَالصَّوْمِ وَتَحْرِيمِ الْوَطْءِ وَبَيْنَ الْعِدَّةِ، فَقَوْلٌ ظَاهِرُ الْخَطَأِ، وَلَا نَعْلَمُ لَهُ حُجَّةً أَصْلًا، لَا مِنْ قُرْآنٍ وَلَا مِنْ سُنَّةٍ صَحِيحَةٍ وَلَا سَقِيمَةٍ وَلَا مِنْ إجْمَاعٍ، وَلَا مِنْ قَوْلِ صَاحِبٍ وَلَا مِنْ قِيَاسٍ وَلَا مِنْ احْتِيَاطٍ وَلَا مِنْ رَأْيٍ لَهُ وَجْهٌ، فَوَجَبَ تَرْكُهُ.

L4619 Then we examined the statement of those who said: "Women's menstruation revolves around six or seven days," but we found no proof for them except that they said: "This is the commonly observed pattern among women." They mentioned a hadith we have transmitted via Ibn Jurayj from Abdullah ibn Muhammad, from Ibrahim ibn Muhammad ibn Talhah, from his uncle Imran ibn Talhah, from Umm Habibah that she experienced istihadah, whereupon the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—set the period of her menstruation as six or seven days.

حَبِيبَةَ أَنَّهَا اسْتُحِيضَتْ فَجَعَلَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَجَلَ حَيْضَتِهَا سِتَّةَ أَيَّامٍ أَوْ سَبْعَةً» .

L4620 We have also narrated it through the chain of Al-Hārith ibn Abī Usāmah, from Zakariyyā ibn ʿAdiyy, from ʿUbayd Allāh ibn ʿAmr al-Raqqī, from ʿAbd Allāh ibn Muḥammad ibn ʿAqīl, from Ibrāhīm ibn Muḥammad ibn Ṭalḥah, from his uncle ʿImrān ibn Ṭalḥah, from his mother Ḥamnah bint Jaḥsh: "The Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him—said to her: 'Menstruate six or seven days in the knowledge of Allāh—the Almighty and Majestic—then perform the ritual bath. When you have purified yourself, pray twenty-four or twenty-three days and their days, and fast likewise. Do this every month as women menstruate and purify themselves for the appointed time of their menstruation and their purity.'" وَرُوِّينَاهُ أَيْضًا مِنْ طَرِيقِ الْحَارِثِ بْنِ أَبِي أُسَامَةَ عَنْ زَكَرِيَّا بْنَ عَدِيٍّ عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو الرَّقِّيِّ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَقِيلٍ عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ طَلْحَةَ عَنْ عَمِّهِ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ طَلْحَةَ عَنْ أُمِّهِ حَمْنَةَ بِنْتِ جَحْشٍ «أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ لَهَا: تَحَيَّضِي سِتَّةَ أَيَّامٍ أَوْ سَبْعَةً فِي عِلْمِ اللَّهِ - عَزَّ وَجَلَّ - ثُمَّ اغْتَسِلِي، فَإِذَا اسْتَنْقَأْتِ فَصَلِّي أَرْبَعًا وَعِشْرِينَ أَوْ ثَلَاثًا وَعِشْرِينَ وَأَيَّامَهَا وَصُومِي كَذَلِكَ، وَافْعَلِي فِي كُلِّ شَهْرٍ كَمَا تَحِيضُ النِّسَاءُ وَكَمَا يَطْهُرْنَ لِمِيقَاتِ حَيْضِهِنَّ وَطُهْرِهِنَّ» .

L4621 Abu Ubayd adopted this hadith and established this as the ruling for the female innovator [mubtadiʿah].

L4622–4623 Ali said: As for these two reports, they are not authentic. As for one of the two, Ibn Jurayj did not hear it from Abdullah ibn Muhammad ibn Aqil.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: أَمَّا هَذَانِ الْخَبَرَانِ فَلَا يَصِحَّانِ، أَمَّا أَحَدُهُمَا فَإِنَّ ابْنَ جُرَيْجٍ لَمْ يَسْمَعْهُ مِنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَقِيلٍ.

L4624 Similarly, Hammam narrated it to us from Abbas ibn Asbagh from Ibn Ayman from Abdullah ibn Ahmad ibn Hanbal from his father—and his father mentioned this hadith and said—Ibn Jurayj said: "I narrated from Ibn Aqil, though I did not directly hear it." Ahmad said: "Indeed, Ibn Jurayj narrated it from al-Nu'man ibn Rashid." Ahmad said: "Al-Nu'man is recognized as weak in narration."

كَذَلِكَ حَدَّثَنَاهُ حَمَامٌ عَنْ عَبَّاسِ بْنِ أَصْبَغَ عَنْ ابْنِ أَيْمَنَ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ أَحْمَدَ بْنِ حَنْبَلٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ - وَذَكَرَ هَذَا الْحَدِيثَ فَقَالَ - قَالَ ابْنُ جُرَيْجٍ: حَدَّثْتُ عَنِ ابْنِ عَقِيلٍ، وَلَمْ يَسْمَعْهُ، قَالَ أَحْمَدُ: وَقَدْ رَوَاهُ ابْنُ جُرَيْجٍ عَنِ النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ رَاشِدٍ قَالَ أَحْمَدُ: وَالنُّعْمَانُ يُعْرَفُ فِيهِ الضَّعْفُ.

L4625 And it has also been narrated by Sharīk and Zuhayr ibn Muḥammad - both of them being weak.

L4626 From ʿAmr ibn Thābit—who is weak. Furthermore, ʿUmar ibn Ṭalḥah is non-existent, as it is not established that Ṭalḥah had a son named ʿUmar.

وَعَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ ثَابِتٍ وَهُوَ ضَعِيفٌ. وَأَيْضًا فَعُمَرُ بْنُ طَلْحَةَ غَيْرُ مَخْلُوقٍ، لَا يُعْرَفُ لِطَلْحَةَ ابْنٌ اسْمُهُ عُمَرُ.

L4627 As for the other, it is through the chain of al-Ḥārith ibn Abī Usāmah, and his hadith was abandoned, so the report was dismissed as a whole.

L4628 As for their statement that this is the customary pattern regarding women's menstruation, there is no valid evidence for this, since neither the Quran, the Sunnah, nor ijma obligates adherence to this notion. There exist women who do not menstruate at all, and thus the rulings pertaining to menstruation do not apply to them, rendering the application of the customary ruling to them invalid. Likewise, there are women who experience menstrual cycles that are shorter or longer, thus this opinion is nullified.

L4629 Then we deliberated on the assertion of those who state that the minimum menstrual period is five days, and we found it to be an opinion lacking proof. Such claims are invalid.

L4630 Then we examined the position of those who set the minimum menstrual period at three days and found them invoking as proof the statement of Allah's Messenger—peace be upon him—: "Refrain from prayer for the number of days you used to menstruate, then perform ghusl and pray." We transmitted this through the chain of Abu Umamah: I heard Hisham ibn Urwah; my father informed me from Aisha that Allah's Messenger—peace be upon him—said this to Fatimah bint Abi Hubaysh. We also transmitted it through the chain of Suhayl ibn Abi Salih from Al-Zuhri—from Urwah ibn Al-Zubayr: Fatimah bint Abi Hubaysh narrated to me that she instructed Asma—or Asma narrated to me that Fatimah bint Abi Hubaysh instructed her—to ask Allah's Messenger—peace be upon him. He commanded her to abstain from prayer for the days she used to menstruate, then perform ghusl.[14]

ثُمَّ نَظَرْنَا فِي قَوْلِ مَنْ جَعَلَ أَقَلَّ الْحَيْضِ ثَلَاثَةَ أَيَّامٍ فَوَجَدْنَاهُمْ يَحْتَجُّونَ بِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «دَعِي الصَّلَاةَ قَدْرَ الْأَيَّامِ الَّتِي كُنْتِ تَحِيضِينَ فِيهَا ثُمَّ اغْتَسِلِي وَصَلِّي» رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي أُمَامَةَ: سَمِعْتُ هِشَامَ بْنَ عُرْوَةَ أَخْبَرَنِي أَبِي عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ ذَلِكَ لِفَاطِمَةَ بِنْتِ أَبِي حُبَيْشٍ، وَرُوِّينَاهُ أَيْضًا مِنْ طَرِيقِ سُهَيْلِ بْنِ أَبِي صَالِحٍ عَنْ الزُّهْرِيِّ «عَنْ عُرْوَةَ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ: حَدَّثَتْنِي فَاطِمَةُ بِنْتُ أَبِي حُبَيْشٍ أَنَّهَا أَمَرَتْ أَسْمَاءَ، أَوْ أَسْمَاءُ حَدَّثَتْنِي أَنَّهَا أَمَرَتْهَا فَاطِمَةُ بِنْتُ أَبِي حُبَيْشٍ أَنْ تَسْأَلَ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَأَمَرَهَا أَنْ تَقْعُدَ الْأَيَّامَ الَّتِي كَانَتْ تَقْعُدُ ثُمَّ تَغْتَسِلَ» .

L4631–4633 Abu Muhammad said: They said: The shortest duration that can be called menstrual days is three, based on a hadith we narrated through the chain of Ja'far ibn Muhammad ibn Buraiq, from 'Abd al-Rahman ibn Nafi', from Asad ibn Sa'id al-Balkhi, from Muhammad ibn al-Hasan al-Sadafi, from 'Ubadah

ibn Nusayy, from ’Abd al-Rahman ibn Ghanm, from Mu’adh ibn Jabal, from the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him: “There is no menstruation shorter than three days nor exceeding ten days.” They said: This is the definitive ruling. The statement of Anas ibn Mālik: We have reported it through the chain of Al-Jald ibn Ayyūb, from Muʿāwiyah ibn Qurrah, from Anas ibn Mālik. We have also reported from ʻĀisha that she gave a fatwā on that matter after the death of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—through the chain of Ibn ʻAqīl, from Nahīh. And that is the opinion of Al-Ḥasan.

L4634 Ali said: As for the authentic report in this matter transmitted through Aisha, Fatimah, and Asma, there is no proof for them in it, because the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—commanded this for those who have fixed days. This is the unequivocal text of that report, from which it is impermissible to deviate, and he—peace be upon him—did not command it for those who do not have fixed days.

L4635 The proof of this is that the people and the great multitude—Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān, Zuhayr ibn Muʿāwiyah, Ḥammād ibn Zayd, Sufyān, Abū Muʿāwiyah, Jarīr, ʿAbdullāh ibn Numayr, Ibn Jurayj, al-Darāwirdī, and Wakīʿ ibn al-Jarrāḥ—all narrated from Hishām ibn ʿUrwah, from his father, from ʿĀ’ishah, from the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him): “When menstruation begins, cease the prayer. When it ceases, perform the ritual bath and pray.” This was narrated by Mālik, al-Layth ibn Saʿd, Saʿīd ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān, Ḥammād ibn Salamah, and ʿAmr ibn al-Ḥārith—all of them narrated from Hishām ibn ʿUrwah, from his father, from ʿĀ’ishah, from the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him): “When menstruation begins, cease the prayer. When its duration has passed, wash the blood off yourself and pray.” Al-Awzāʿī narrated it from al-Zuhrī, from ʿUrwah, from ʿĀ’ishah, and al-Mundhir ibn al-Mughīrah from ʿUrwah—all of them using phrases such as “when menstruation arrives,” “when your menstrual period comes,” and “when the black blood comes,” without specifying days.

'A'ishah said: I saw her ritual vessel filled with it. The Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings of Allah be upon him - said to her: 'Abstain [from prayer] for the duration your menstruation would normally prevent you, then perform the ritual bath and pray.'" This ruling applies to women whose menstruation lasts less than three days, as well as those whose bleeding persists for a single day or exceeds ten days.

All these are true fatwas that it is not permissible to abandon, nor to interpret anything away from its apparent meaning. It is not permissible for anyone to claim that the intended meaning of his statement—peace be upon him—"all that we have mentioned" is merely three days. If someone dares to do that, they have lied against the Messenger of Allah—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—and thus their reliance on the hadith is invalidated.

L4638–4640 وَأَمَّا خَبَرُ مُعَاذٍ فَفِي غَايَةِ السُّقُوطِ؛ لِأَنَّهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْحَسَنِ الصَّدَفِيِّ وَهُوَ مَجْهُولٌ، فَهُوَ مَوْضُوعٌ بِلَا شَكٍّ، وَالْعَجَبُ مِنْ انْتِصَارِهِمْ هَهُنَا عَلَى أَنَّهُ لَا يَقَعُ اسْمُ الْأَيَّامِ إلَّا عَلَى ثَلَاثٍ لَا أَقَلَّ، وَهُمْ يَقُولُونَ: إنَّ قَوْلَ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {فَإِنْ كَانَ لَهُ إِخْوَةٌ فَلِأُمِّهِ السُّدُسُ} [النساء: ١١] أَنَّهُ لَا يَقَعُ عَلَى أَخَوَيْنِ فَقَطْ فَهَلَّا جَعَلُوا لَفْظَةَ الْأَيَّامِ تَقَعُ هَهُنَا عَلَى يَوْمَيْنِ؟ وَأَمَّا احْتِجَاجُهُمْ بِقَوْلِ أَنَسٍ وَعَائِشَةَ فَلَا يَصِحُّ عَنْهُمَا، لِأَنَّهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ الْجَلْدِ

As for the narration of Muʿādh, it is of the weakest grade because it is transmitted through Muḥammad ibn al-Ḥasan al-Ṣadafī, and he is... [text breaks off]. It is unknown; thus, it is undoubtedly fabricated. The wonder is at their insistence here that the term "days" only applies to three days, no fewer, while they argue that Allah's statement, {But if he has siblings, then his mother is entitled to a sixth} [Quran 4:11], does not apply to only two siblings. Why then do they not allow the term "days" here to apply to two days? As for their argument based on the statements of Anas and ʿĀ'ishah, they are not authentically reported from them, as they come through Al-Jald ibn Ayyūb, who is weak, and through Ibn ʻAqīl, who is not strong. Even if they were authentically reported from him and the Mother of the Believers, that would not constitute proof, for other Companions opposed them, as we will mention later, Allah willing. Moreover, the Mother of the Believers only issued that fatwa for one who had established days. Success comes from Allah, the Exalted. Thus, this claim collapses. Success comes from Allah, the Exalted.[15]

L4641 Then we examined the statement of those who claimed the minimum menstrual duration is a day and night, and found they also lack evidence from textual sources. If a claimant asserts consensus in this matter, this is erroneous, for Al-Awzāʿī states: "He knows a woman who becomes ritually pure at dusk and begins menstruating at dawn." Furthermore, Mālik and Al-Shāfiʿī obligated, upon observing a sudden flow of blood, the cessation of prayer, the breaking of the fast of the fasting woman, and the prohibition of intercourse. Since these are menstrual rulings, this opinion is also invalidated. Success comes from Allah, the Exalted.

L4642 Ali said: Then we ask them about a woman who sees blood during her menstrual days—what ruling do you issue for her? None of them disagree that she is menstruating, does not pray, and does not fast. We then ask them: If she observes purity immediately afterward? They all respond: "She must perform ghusl and pray." This reveals the invalidity of their position, for if she sees blood during her menstrual days, it would logically require them to rule that she must not break the fast, must not abandon prayer, and that intercourse is not prohibited unless she completes a full day and night according to those who consider this the minimum duration of menstruation, or three days with their nights according to those who consider this the minimum duration of menstruation. Since they do not affirm this—and no Muslim scholar does—the invalidity of their opinion is evident. Thus, the consensus validating our position stands confirmed. All praise belongs to Allah.

L4643 Moreover, the sound reports, as we mentioned from the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—state: "When menstruation begins, abandon prayer. When it ceases, perform ritual bathing and pray," without stipulating a specific time. This is our position. We previously cited—through the most authentic chain possible—that Ibn Abbas issued a legal opinion stating that if a woman observes the copious blood flow, she should cease prayer. If she observes purity, even for a brief period during the day, let her perform ritual bathing and pray.

The longest period of menstruation.

As for the maximum duration of menstruation, Mālik and Al-Shāfiʿī said: Its maximum is fifteen days - it does not extend beyond this period. He stated the maximum duration, and Sa'id ibn Jubayr said: "The maximum menstrual period is thirteen days."

And Abu Hanifah and Sufyan said: The maximum period is ten days.

Abu Hanifah argued using the narrations we mentioned and said: "The term 'days' applies exclusively to ten days." Some of them claimed that no one had ever stated the menstrual period to be shorter than that.

Ali said: As for their claim that the term "days" cannot apply to more than ten, this is a falsehood unsupported by language or Islamic law. Indeed, the Almighty has said: {Then a number of other days} [Quran 2:184], and this applies to thirty days without any disagreement. The ḥadīth of Muʿādh—we have already mentioned its invalidity. As for their statement that no one has said the days of menstruation are fewer than ten, this is a lie. We have mentioned the view of those who said the days of menstruation are six or seven, and the view of Mālik that the minimum menstrual period is five days. Thus, their claim is an unsubstantiated assertion, and this is invalid.[16]

As for those who set the limit at thirteen days, the same also applies. As for وَأَمَّا أَكْثَرُ مُدَّةِ الْحَيْضِ فَإِنَّ مَالِكًا وَالشَّافِعِيَّ قَالَا: أَكْثَرُهُ خَمْسَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا لَا يَكُونُ أَكْثَرَ، وَقَالَ سَعِيدُ بْنُ جُبَيْرٍ: أَكْثَرُ الْحَيْضِ ثَلَاثَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا.

وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ وَسُفْيَانُ: أَكْثَرُهُ عَشَرَةُ أَيَّامٍ.

فَاحْتَجَّ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ بِالْأَخْبَارِ الَّتِي ذَكَرْنَا وَقَالَ: لَا يَقَعُ اسْمُ أَيَّامٍ إِلَّا عَلَى عَشَرَةٍ، وَادَّعَى بَعْضُهُمْ أَنَّهُ لَمْ يَقُلْ أَحَدٌ إِنَّ الْحَيْضَ أَقَلُّ مِنْ ذَلِكَ.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: أَمَّا قَوْلُهُمْ إِنَّ اسْمَ أَيَّامٍ لَا يَقَعُ عَلَى أَكْثَرَ مِنْ عَشَرَةٍ فَكَذِبٌ لَا تُوجِبُهُ لُغَةٌ وَلَا شَرِيعَةٌ، وَقَدْ قَالَ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ: {فَعِدَّةٌ مِنْ أَيَّامٍ أُخَرَ} [البقرة: ١٨٤] وَهَذَا يَقَعُ عَلَى ثَلَاثِينَ يَوْمًا بِلَا خِلَافٍ، وَحَدِيثُ مُعَاذٍ قَدْ ذَكَرْنَا بُطْلَانَهُ، وَأَمَّا قَوْلُهُمْ: إِنَّهُ لَمْ يَقُلْ أَحَدٌ إِنَّ أَيَّامَ الْحَيْضِ أَقَلُّ مِنْ عَشَرَةٍ فَهُوَ كَذِبٌ، وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا قَوْلَ مَنْ قَالَ: إِنَّ أَيَّامَ الْحَيْضِ سِتَّةٌ أَوْ سَبْعَةٌ، وَقَوْلُ مَالِكٍ أَقَلُّ الْحَيْضِ خَمْسَةُ أَيَّامٍ، فَخَصَلَ قَوْلُهُمْ دَعْوَى بِلَا بُرْهَانٍ وَهَذَا بَاطِلٌ.

those who said fifteen days, they claimed there was consensus that menstruation cannot exceed that duration.

وَأَمَّا مَنْ حَدَّ ثَلَاثَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا فَكَذَلِكَ أَيْضًا، وَأَمَّا مَنْ قَالَ خَمْسَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا فَإِنَّهُمْ ادَّعَوْا الْإِجْمَاعَ عَلَى أَنَّهُ لَا يَكُونُ حَيْضٌ أَكْثَرَ مِنْ ذَلِكَ.

L4652 Ali said: This is baseless. It has been reported through the chain of ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī that the trustworthy narrator informed him of a woman who would menstruate for seventeen days. We have reported it from Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, who said: The maximum we have heard is seventeen days. And from the women of the household of al-Mājishūn: they used to menstruate for seventeen days.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا بَاطِلٌ، قَدْ رُوِيَ مِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ مَهْدِيٍّ: أَنَّ الثِّقَةَ أَخْبَرَهُ أَنَّ امْرَأَةً كَانَتْ تَحِيضُ سَبْعَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا، وَرُوِّينَاهُ عَنْ أَحْمَدَ بْنِ حَنْبَلٍ قَالَ: أَكْثَرُ مَا سَمِعْنَا سَبْعَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا، وَعَنْ نِسَاءِ آلِ الْمَاجِشُونِ أَنَّهُنَّ كُنَّ يَحِضْنَ سَبْعَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا.

L4653 Ali said: It has been authentically established from the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—that menstrual blood is black. When a woman sees it, she does not pray. Compliance with this is obligatory. It is also established that as long as she sees this blood, she remains menstruating and subject to the rulings of menstruation, unless there exists a scriptural text or consensus indicating that black blood is not menstrual. Yet it is established by textual evidence that black blood may occur without being menstrual. The Prophet (peace be upon him) did not specify for us any maximum duration for menstruation from anything. Therefore, we must consider the maximum period reported, and we found none exceeding seventeen days. We thus adopted this position, obligating the abandonment of prayer upon sighting black blood for this duration—no longer, and less. Whatever exceeds seventeen days is definitively established by certain consensus as not being menstruation.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: قَدْ صَحَّ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَنَّ دَمَ الْحَيْضِ أَسْوَدُ فَإِذَا رَأَتْهُ الْمَرْأَةُ لَمْ تُصَلِّ، فَوَجَبَ الِانْقِيَادُ لِذَلِكَ، وَصَحَّ أَنَّهَا مَا دَامَتْ تَرَاهُ فَهِيَ حَائِضٌ لَهَا حُكْمُ الْحَيْضِ مَا لَمْ يَأْتِ نَصٌّ أَوْ إجْمَاعٌ فِي دَمٍ أَسْوَدَ أَنَّهُ لَيْسَ حَيْضًا. وَقَدْ صَحَّ النَّصُّ بِأَنَّهُ قَدْ يَكُونُ دَمٌ أَسْوَدُ وَلَيْسَ حَيْضًا، وَلَمْ يُوَقِّتْ لَنَا فِي أَكْثَرِ عِدَّةِ الْحَيْضِ مِنْ شَيْءٍ، فَوَجَبَ أَنْ نُرَاعِيَ أَكْثَرَ مَا قِيلَ، فَلَمْ نَجِدْ إلَّا سَبْعَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا، فَقُلْنَا بِذَلِكَ، وَأَوْجَبْنَا تَرْكَ الصَّلَاةِ بِرُؤْيَةِ الدَّمِ الْأَسْوَدِ هَذِهِ الْمُدَّةَ - لَا مَزِيدَ - فَأَقَلَّ، وَكَانَ مَا زَادَ عَلَى ذَلِكَ إجْمَاعًا مُتَيَقَّنًا أَنَّهُ لَيْسَ حَيْضًا.

L4654 They said: If menstruation were to exceed fifteen days, it would necessitate that menstruation lasts longer than the period of purity, and this is impossible. We replied to them: From where do you derive that this is impossible? What prevents us—if we observe such a case—from refraining from restricting it [to fifteen days]? For we know of nothing in the Quran, the Sunnah at all, nor consensus, nor analogy, nor the opinion of a Companion that prevents this. And success is from Allah, the Exalted.

L4655 This is a jurisprudential issue: there is no minimum or maximum limit for purity.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ لَا حَدَّ لِأَقَلِّ الطُّهْرِ وَلَا لِأَكْثَرِهِ]

L4656 267. Issue:

٢٦٧ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

L4657–4659 There is no legally defined limit for the shortest or longest duration of purity, for indeed it may continue throughout the remaining span of one's life. A woman does not menstruate—without any dissent, as observed—and she may observe [blood-free] purity for an hour or more, based on observation.

وَلَا حَدَّ لِأَقَلِّ الطُّهْرِ وَلَا لِأَكْثَرِهِ، فَقَدْ يَتَّصِلُ الطُّهْرُ بَاقِيَ عُمُرِ الْمَرْأَةِ فَلَا تَحِيضُ بِلَا خِلَافٍ مِنْ أَحَدٍ مَعَ الْمُشَاهَدَةِ لِذَلِكَ، وَقَدْ تَرَى الطُّهْرَ سَاعَةً وَأَكْثَرَ بِالْمُشَاهَدَةِ.

L4660 Imam Abu Hanifah said: A period of ritual purity cannot last fewer than fifteen days.

وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: لَا يَكُونُ طُهْرٌ أَقَلَّ مِنْ خَمْسَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا.

L4661 Some of the later jurists said: There is no state of ritual purity lasting fewer than nineteen days.

وَقَالَ بَعْضُ الْمُتَأَخِّرِينَ: لَا يَكُونُ طُهْرٌ أَقَلَّ مِنْ تِسْعَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا.

L4662 Malik said: The three, four, or five days occurring between two menstrual periods are not considered a state of purity; all of this constitutes a single menstruation. Al-Shāfiʿī held one opinion agreeing with Abū Ḥanīfah's view, while his second opinion states there is no defined minimum duration for purity. This latter view is held by the scholars of our school and corresponds to Ibn ʿAbbās's position as previously cited, with no disagreement from the Companions - may Allah be pleased with them - regarding this matter.

L4663 As for those who say a purity period cannot last fewer than fifteen days, we know of no valid evidence they can rely upon whatsoever. As for those who say a purity period cannot last fewer than nineteen days, they argued by citing evidence, stating: "Allah the Exalted has ordained the waiting period as three menstrual cycles for women who menstruate and three months for those who do not menstruate." They said: "Thus, it is established that each menstruation and purity period corresponds to a month. Therefore, a menstruation and purity period cannot occur in less than a month."

فَأَمَّا مَنْ قَالَ لَا يَكُونُ طُهْرٌ أَقَلَّ مِنْ خَمْسَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا فَمَا نَعْلَمُ لَهُمْ حُجَّةً يَشْتَغِلُ بِهَا أَصْلًا، وَأَمَّا مَنْ قَالَ: لَا يَكُونُ طُهْرٌ أَقَلَّ مِنْ تِسْعَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا فَإِنَّهُمْ احْتَجُّوا فَقَالُوا: إنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى جَعَلَ الْعِدَّةَ ثَلَاثَةَ قُرُوءٍ لِلَّتِي تَحِيضُ وَجَعَلَ لِلَّتِي لَا تَحِيضُ ثَلَاثَةَ أَشْهُرٍ، قَالُوا: فَصَحَّ أَنَّ بِإِزَاءِ كُلِّ حَيْضٍ وَطُهْرٍ شَهْرًا، فَلَا يَكُونُ حَيْضٌ وَطُهْرٌ فِي أَقَلَّ مِنْ شَهْرٍ.

L4664 Abū Muḥammad said: This contains no valid argument, for it is a statement Allah the Exalted did not utter, and whoever attributes it to Him lies. We clarify that Allah the Exalted never said: "I have established a month as a substitute for every menstruation and purity period." Indeed, no two Muslims disagree that this is invalid, since we and they concur regarding a woman who menstruates once every two months or once every three months—she must observe the waiting period until completing three menstrual cycles without exception. Thus, the falsehood of those who claim "Allah the Exalted made a month replace every menstruation and purity period" becomes evident. Moreover, we observe the waiting period concluding immediately upon childbirth. Therefore, all frivolous assertions they devised and every false presumption through which they prescribed religious rulings are invalidated.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: وَهَذَا لَا حُجَّةَ فِيهِ، لِأَنَّهُ قَوْلٌ لَمْ يَقُلْهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى فَنَاسِبُهُ إلَى اللَّهِ تَعَالَى كَاذِبٌ، نَعْنِي أَنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى لَمْ يَقُلْ قَطُّ إنِّي جَعَلْتُ بِإِزَاءِ كُلِّ حَيْضَةٍ وَطُهْرٍ شَهْرًا، بَلْ لَا يَخْتَلِفُ اثْنَانِ مِنْ الْمُسْلِمِينَ فِي أَنَّ هَذَا بَاطِلٌ، لِأَنَّنَا وَهُمْ لَا نَخْتَلِفُ فِي امْرَأَةٍ تَحِيضُ فِي كُلِّ شَهْرَيْنِ مَرَّةً أَوْ فِي كُلِّ ثَلَاثَةَ أَشْهُرٍ مَرَّةً، فَإِنَّهَا تَتَرَبَّصُ حَتَّى تَتِمَّ لَهَا ثَلَاثَةُ

قُرُوءٍ، وَلَا بُدَّ، فَظَهَرَ كَذِبُ مَنْ قَالَ: إِنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى جَعَلَ بَدَلَ كُلِّ حَيْضَةٍ وَطُهْرٍ شَهْرًا، بَلْ قَدْ وَجَدْنَا الْعِدَّةَ تَنْقَضِي فِي سَاعَةٍ بِوَضْعِ الْحَمْلِ، فَبَطَلَ كُلُّ هَذَرٍ أَتَوْا بِهِ وَكُلُّ ظَنٍّ كَاذِبٍ شَرَعُوا بِهِ الدِّينَ.

L4665 As for Mālik's opinion, it is also clearly erroneous, for he did not consider the five days between two menstrual cycles as a state of purity, yet he orders her to pray and fast during them and permits intercourse with her during this period. How can something possessing these attributes not be deemed a state of purity? How can he fail to count a day or less as menstruation when he commands her to break her fast during Ramadan and abandon prayer in it? These are opinions whose mere mention suffices, making it unnecessary to laboriously demonstrate their invalidity. None of these views is known to have been held by any of the Companions (may Allah be pleased with them).

L4666 If they say: "Do you not hold that the waiting period concludes in one day or two days according to your view?" We reply: Yes—so what then? Where have Allah the Exalted or His Prophet—peace be upon him—forbidden this? You who claim to be people of analogy—have we not shown you that the waiting period concludes in less than an hour? What do you reject in that?

L4667–4668 If they say, "This does not guarantee safety from her being pregnant," we reply: The waiting period is not for establishing freedom from pregnancy, due to proofs. First, this is a false claim from you, unsupported by any textual evidence or consensus. Second, the waiting period is obligatory for the old woman—daughter of a hundred years—according to both our and your rulings, though we are certain she cannot conceive. Third, it is obligatory for the prepubescent girl who cannot conceive. Fourth, it is obligatory from a sterile man. Fifth, it is obligatory from a castrated man who retains the organ for penetration. Sixth, it is obligatory from the infertile woman. Seventh, it is obligatory for one whose husband had intercourse once, then traveled to India and stayed there twenty years before divorcing her. In all these cases, we are certain no pregnancy exists. Eighth, if it were for pregnancy confirmation, a single menstrual cycle would suffice. Ninth, it is obligatory for the woman divorced immediately after childbirth despite the absence of pregnancy. Tenth, the Meccans hold the opposite view of them, stating: A woman's claim that her waiting period ended in less than three months is not accepted, but becomes accepted at three months. Abu Hanifa said: A woman's claim that her waiting period ended in less than sixty days is not accepted, but becomes accepted at sixty days. Muhammad ibn al-Hasan said: It is accepted at fifty-four days, not earlier. Malik said: It is accepted at forty days, not earlier.

فَإِنْ قَالُوا: إِنَّ هَذَا لَا يُؤْمَنُ مَعَهُ أَنْ تَكُونَ حَامِلًا، قُلْنَا لَهُمْ: لَيْسَتْ الْعِدَّةُ لِلْبَرَاءَةِ مِنْ الْحَمْلِ، لِبَرَاهِينَ: أَوَّلُ ذَلِكَ: أَنَّهُ مِنْكُمْ دَعْوَى كَاذِبَةٌ لَمْ يَأْتِ بِهَا نَصٌّ وَلَا إجْمَاعٌ، وَالثَّانِي: أَنَّ الْعِدَّةَ عِنْدَنَا وَعِنْدَكُمْ تَلْزَمُ الْعَجُوزَ ابْنَةَ الْمِائَةِ عَامٍ، وَنَحْنُ عَلَى يَقِينٍ مِنْ أَنَّهَا لَا حَمْلَ بِهَا، وَالثَّالِثُ: أَنَّ الْعِدَّةَ تَلْزَمُ الصَّغِيرَةَ الَّتِي لَا تَحْمِلُ، وَالرَّابِعُ: أَنَّهَا تَلْزَمُ مِنْ الْعَقِيمِ، وَالْخَامِسُ: أَنَّهَا تَلْزَمُ مِنْ الْخَصِيِّ مَا بَقِيَ لَهُ مَا يُولِجُهُ، وَالسَّادِسُ: أَنَّهَا تَلْزَمُ الْعَاقِرَ، وَالسَّابِعُ: أَنَّهَا تَلْزَمُ مَنْ وَطِئَ مَرَّةً ثُمَّ غَابَ إلَى الْهِنْدِ وَأَقَامَ هُنَالِكَ عِشْرِينَ سَنَةً ثُمَّ طَلَّقَهَا، وَكُلُّ هَؤُلَاءِ نَحْنُ عَلَى يَقِينٍ مِنْ أَنَّهَا لَا حَمْلَ بِهَا، وَالثَّامِنُ: أَنَّهُ لَوْ كَانَتْ

L4669 Abu Yusuf said: Alms are to be given within thirty-nine days, no fewer. Al-Shāfiʿī said: Alms are to be given within thirty-three days, no fewer.

L4670 Ali said: All these durations they have established based on their principles cannot be confirmed once the presence of pregnancy has ceased. They themselves are the first to invalidate their effective cause and refute their evidence. It is absolutely impermissible to confirm the absence of pregnancy until after more than four months have passed. How can they - who claim to take precautions for pregnancy - accept her mere assertion, even if she were the most immoral of creation and the most untruthful regarding these durations? As for us, we only accept her claim through evidence from four upright midwives knowledgeable in such matters from her household's trusted circle. Thus, the error becomes apparent from those claiming precaution for pregnancy - especially when most of them assert that pregnant women menstruate. This nullifies the position of those among them who claim the waiting period was instituted for the womb's purification from pregnancy. We have been narrated from Hushaym, from Ismāʿīl ibn Abī Khālid, from al-Shaʿbī: A man who divorced his wife was brought before ʿAlī ibn Abī Ṭālib. She had menstruated three times in one month or thirty-five nights. ʿAlī said to Shurayḥ: "Judge her case." He replied: "If she produces evidence from upright women among her household's trusted circle - those whose truthfulness and integrity are accepted - testifying that she saw what prohibits prayer: menstrual blood that is indeed menstruation, performed purification after each menstrual period, and resumed prayer, then her waiting period has ended. Otherwise, she is lying." ʿAlī ibn Abī Ṭālib responded: "Qālūn" - meaning "You have judged rightly."

L4671–4673 Ali ibn Ahmad said, "And this is the exact wording of our statement," and Muhammad ibn Sirin narrated from him that he was asked... Can the purity period be five days? He said: Women are the most knowledgeable about that. Ali said: No authentic report from any of the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—contradicts the opinions of Ali ibn Abi Talib and Ibn Abbas, and this is our definitive position, and success comes from Allah, the Exalted.

L4674 Postpartum bleeding and menstruation are equal in all rulings, and success is from Allah, the Exalted.

L4675 A jurisprudential matter: There is no minimum limit for postpartum bleeding.

L4676 268 – Issue:

L4677 There is no prescribed minimum duration for postpartum bleeding, while the maximum is seven days, with no extension. Abu Muhammad said: No one has disputed that if postpartum bleeding occurs as a single flow and then ceases without recurrence, she may fast, pray, and her husband may have intercourse with her. Abu Yusuf said: If blood recurs within forty days, it is considered postpartum bleeding. And Muhammad ibn al-Hasan said.

L4678 If the bleeding recurs after fifteen days, it is not postpartum bleeding.

L4679 Abu Muhammad said: These are prescribed punishments that neither Allah, the Exalted, nor His Messenger—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—has permitted; therefore, it is invalid.

L4680 As for the maximum duration of postpartum bleeding, Mālik once stated it to be sixty days—a view aligned with Al-Shāfiʿī's opinion—but he later الطُّهْرُ وَتَغْتَسِلُ عِنْدَ كُلِّ قُرْءٍ وَتُصَلِّي فَقَدْ انْقَضَتْ عِدَّتُهَا وَإِلَّا فَهِيَ كَاذِبَةٌ، قَالَ عَلِيُّ بْنُ أَبِي طَالِبٍ " قالون " مَعْنَاهَا أَصَبْتُ.

قَالَ عَلِيُّ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ: وَهَذَا نَصُّ قَوْلِنَا، وَرَوَى عَنْهُ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سِيرِينَ أَنَّهُ سُئِلَ: أَيَكُونُ طُهْرًا خَمْسَةُ أَيَّامٍ؟ قَالَ: النِّسَاءُ أَعْلَمُ بِذَلِكَ. قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: لَا يَصِحُّ عَنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ - خِلَافُ قَوْلِ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ وَابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ وَهُوَ قَوْلُنَا وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ لَا حَدَّ لِأَقَلِّ النِّفَاسِ]

٢٦٨ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

إنْ عَاوَدَهَا بَعْدَ الْخَمْسَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا فَلَيْسَ دَمَ نِفَاسٍ.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: وَهَذِهِ حُدُودٌ لَمْ يَأْذَنْ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِهَا وَلَا رَسُولُهُ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَهُوَ بَاطِلٌ.

retracted this, affirming instead: “Women know best.” Abū Ḥanīfah said: “The maximum duration of postpartum bleeding is forty days.”

وَأَمَّا أَكْثَرُ النِّفَاسِ فَإِنَّ مَالِكًا قَالَ مَرَّةً: سِتُّونَ يَوْمًا، ثُمَّ رَجَعَ عَنْ ذَلِكَ، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ الشَّافِعِيِّ، وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: النِّسَاءُ أَعْلَمُ، وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: أَكْثَرُ النِّفَاسِ أَرْبَعُونَ يَوْمًا.

L4681 As for those who set the period at sixty days, we know of no valid proof for their position. As for those who say forty days, they cite narrations from Umm Salamah through Massa al-Azdiyyah—who is unknown—and a narration from Umar through Jabir al-Ju‘fi, who is a liar. They also cite a narration from ‘A’idh ibn ‘Amr that his wife observed post-menstrual purity after twenty days, so she performed the ritual bath and joined him under the blanket. He kicked her with his foot and said, “Do not detract from my religion until forty days have passed.” Yet they do not uphold this opinion themselves. None are in a worse state than those who cite evidence they themselves reject. This is also reported from al-Jald ibn Ayyub, who is not considered strong in transmission.

فَأَمَّا مَنْ حَدَّ سِتِّينَ يَوْمًا فَمَا نَعْلَمُ لَهُمْ حُجَّةً، وَأَمَّا مَنْ قَالَ أَرْبَعُونَ يَوْمًا فَإِنَّهُمْ ذَكَرُوا رِوَايَاتٍ عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ مِنْ طَرِيقِ مَسَّةَ الْأَزْدِيَّةِ وَهِيَ مَجْهُولَةٌ، وَرِوَايَةً عَنْ عُمَرَ مِنْ طَرِيقِ جَابِرٍ الْجُعْفِيِّ، وَهُوَ كَذَّابٌ، وَرِوَايَةً عَنْ عَائِذِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو أَنَّ امْرَأَتَهُ رَأَتْ الطُّهْرَ بَعْدَ عِشْرِينَ يَوْمًا، فَاغْتَسَلَتْ وَدَخَلَتْ مَعَهُ فِي لِحَافِهِ، فَضَرَبَهَا بِرِجْلِهِ وَقَالَ: لَا تَغُضِّي مِنْ دِينِي حَتَّى تَمْضِيَ الْأَرْبَعُونَ، وَهُمْ لَا يَقُولُونَ بِهَذَا، وَلَا أَسْوَأَ حَالًا مِمَّنْ يَحْتَجُّ بِمَا لَا يَرَاهُ حُجَّةً، وَهُوَ أَيْضًا عَنْ الْجَلْدِ بْنِ أَيُّوبَ وَلَيْسَ بِالْقَوِيِّ.

L4682 And from al-Ḥasan from ʿUthmān ibn Abī al-ʿĀṣ: a similar narration, and from Jābir from Khaythama from Anas ibn Mālik, and from Wakīʿ from Abū ʿAwāna from Jaʿfar ibn Iyās from Yūsuf ibn Māhak from Ibn ʿAbbās: The postpartum woman observes a waiting period of approximately forty days.

وَعَنْ الْحَسَنِ عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ أَبِي الْعَاصِ مِثْلُهُ، وَعَنْ جَابِرٍ عَنْ خَيْثَمَةَ عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ، وَعَنْ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ أَبِي عَوَانَةَ عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ إيَاسٍ عَنْ يُوسُفَ بْنِ مَاهَكَ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ: تَنْتَظِرُ النُّفَسَاءُ نَحْوًا مِنْ أَرْبَعِينَ يَوْمًا.

L4683–4685 Abu Muhammad said: There is no proof for anyone other than the Messenger of Allah—may Allah bless him and grant him peace. We have mentioned and mention what they opposed the Companion in, while no dissenters from the Companions are known to have opposed them. The closest example to this is what we mentioned in the related issue concerning the shortest period of ritual purity, for they opposed Ibn Abbas in that matter, with no opposition to him from any Companion whatsoever. Indeed, it becomes binding upon the Malikis and Shafi’is—who censure others for opposing a Companion—just as they... No dissenting opinion is known from the Companions regarding him - to the extent that they would uphold what has been narrated here from those we mentioned among the Companions (may Allah be pleased with them).

L4686 Ali said: Since there is no scriptural text from the Quran or Sunnah specifying the maximum duration of postpartum bleeding, and since Allah the Exalted has obligated her with certainty to pray and fast and permitted her husband intercourse, it is not permissible for her to abstain from these except when abstaining due to menstrual blood, for it is menstrual blood.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَلَمَّا لَمْ يَأْتِ فِي أَكْثَرِ مُدَّةِ النِّفَاسِ نَصُّ قُرْآنٍ وَلَا سُنَّةٍ وَكَانَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى قَدْ فَرَضَ عَلَيْهَا الصَّلَاةَ وَالصِّيَامَ بِيَقِينٍ وَأَبَاحَ وَطْأَهَا لِزَوْجِهَا، لَمْ يَجُزْ لَهَا أَنْ تَمْتَنِعَ مِنْ ذَلِكَ إِلَّا حَيْثُ تَمْتَنِعُ بِدَمِ الْحَيْضِ لِأَنَّهُ دَمُ حَيْضٍ.

L4687 Hammam narrated to us: Ibn Mufarrij narrated to us, Ibn al-A'rabi narrated to us, al-Dabarī narrated to us, Abd al-Razzaq narrated to us, from Ma'mar, from Jabir, from al-Ḍaḥḥāk ibn Muzāḥim, who said: When she gives birth, she waits for seven nights or fourteen nights, then performs the ritual bath and prays.

وَقَدْ حَدَّثَنَا حَمَامٌ ثنا ابْنُ مُفَرِّجٍ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا الدَّبَرِيُّ ثنا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ عَنْ جَابِرٍ عَنِ الضَّحَّاكِ بْنِ مُزَاحِمٍ قَالَ: تَنْتَظِرُ إِذَا وَلَدَتْ سَبْعَ لَيَالٍ أَوْ أَرْبَعَ عَشْرَةَ لَيْلَةً ثُمَّ تَغْتَسِلُ وَتُصَلِّي.

L4688 Jabir said it.

قَالَهُ جَابِرٌ.

L4689 Al-Sha'bi said: She waits the utmost period a woman waits, and through him to Abd al-Razzaq from Ma'mar and Ibn Jurayj.

وَقَالَ الشَّعْبِيُّ: تَنْتَظِرُ أَقْصَى مَا تَنْتَظِرُ امْرَأَةٌ وَبِهِ إِلَى عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ وَابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ.

L4690 Ma'mar reported from Qatādah.

قَالَ مَعْمَرٌ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ.

L4691 Ibn Jurayj said, reporting from 'Ata'; then Qatadah agreed with 'Ata': "A virgin who gives birth must observe the waiting period as any woman among her peers." 'Abd al-Razzaq said: And Sufyan al-Thawri holds this view.

وَقَالَ ابْنُ جُرَيْجٍ عَنْ عَطَاءٍ ثُمَّ اتَّفَقَ قَتَادَةُ وَعَطَاءٌ: تَنْتَظِرُ الْبِكْرُ إِذَا وَلَدَتْ كَامْرَأَةٍ مِنْ نِسَائِهَا، قَالَ عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ: وَبِهَذَا يَقُولُ سُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ.

L4692 Ali said: Al-Awza'ī said from the people of Damascus that postpartum women wait thirty nights for a boy and forty nights for a girl.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَقَالَ الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ عَنْ أَهْلِ دِمَشْقَ: تَنْتَظِرُ النُّفَسَاءُ مِنَ الْغُلَامِ ثَلَاثِينَ لَيْلَةً وَمِنَ الْجَارِيَةِ أَرْبَعِينَ لَيْلَةً.

L4693 Ali said: If the disagreement of the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—(where no opposition to them is known) constitutes a violation of consensus, then in this matter, the following have opposed the consensus within the issue: Ash-Sha'bi, 'Aṭā', Qatādah, Mālik, Sufyān ath-Thawrī, and Ash-Shāfi'ī. However, they imposed restrictions unsupported by any evidence from the Quran, Sunnah, or consensus. As for us, we only affirm the consensus: that any blood which prohibits what menstruation prohibits is menstruation.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: سَلَّامُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ ضَعِيفٌ مُنْكَرُ الْحَدِيثِ.

L4695 Abu Muhammad said: Salam ibn Sulaiman is weak, and his hadith is rejected.

وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: أَقَلُّ أَمَدِ النِّفَاسِ خَمْسَةٌ وَعِشْرُونَ يَوْمًا. وَقَالَ أَبُو يُوسُفَ أَقَلُّ أَمَدِ النِّفَاسِ أَحَدَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا.

L4696 Abu Hanifa held the shortest duration of postpartum bleeding to be twenty-five days, while Abu Yusuf deemed it eleven days.

L4697–4698 Abu Muhammad said: These are two ḥadd punishments that Allah the Exalted has not authorized, and it is astonishing how someone can prescribe such punishments based on his own opinion without censuring himself, yet he censures those who adhere strictly to what Allah the Exalted has obligated in the Quran and His Messenger—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—and what the Muslims have established by certain consensus. All praise is due to Allah, the Lord of the worlds.

L4699 Abu Muhammad said: Then we returned to what we mentioned earlier—that postpartum bleeding is valid menstruation. Its duration corresponds to menstrual periods, and its legal ruling in every matter aligns with menstrual rulings, due to the Prophet's (peace be upon him) saying to ʿĀʾishah (may Allah be pleased with her), "Have you given birth?" meaning "Have you menstruated?"—thereby equating the two. And by his statement (peace be upon him) regarding black blood—what he said about abstaining from prayer when it appears—they base their ruling on analogy, having assigned both the same legal rulings concerning the prohibition of intercourse, prayer, fasting, and other matters. Thus, it becomes obligatory for them to equate their maximum durations. And success is granted by Allah, the Exalted.

بِالْقِيَاسِ، وَقَدْ حَكَمُوا لَهُمَا بِحُكْمٍ وَاحِدٍ فِي تَحْرِيمِ الْوَطْءِ وَالصَّلَاةِ وَالصَّوْمِ وَغَيْرِ ذَلِكَ، فَيَلْزَمُهُمْ أَنْ يَجْعَلُوا أَمَدَهُمَا وَاحِدًا. وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

Issue: When a young girl first sees [menstrual] blood, she observes it to be black.

269. Issue:

[مَسْأَلَةٌ أَوَّلَ مَا تَرَى الْجَارِيَةُ الدَّمَ تَرَاهُ أَسْوَدَ]

٢٦٩ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

If the female first observes the blood as black, it is menstrual blood as previously established; she must abstain from prayer and fasting, and her husband or master must not have intercourse with her. If it changes to a non-black color or ceases within seventeen days, it constitutes sound purity. She must perform the ritual bath, pray, fast, and her husband may have intercourse with her. If the blackness persists, she remains in the state of menstruation up to seventeen nights. If it persists beyond that as black, she must perform the ritual bath, then pray, fast, and her husband may have intercourse with her. She is permanently pure and no longer subject to the rulings of menstruation unless the blood ceases or changes to a non-black color as mentioned. Thus, her legal status when the blood is black follows the rulings of menstruation, and when it changes to a non-black color, ceases, or exceeds seventeen days, it follows the rulings of purity.

فَإِنْ رَأَتْ الْجَارِيَةُ الدَّمَ أَوَّلَ مَا تَرَاهُ أَسْوَدَ فَهُوَ دَمُ حَيْضٍ كَمَا قَدَّمْنَا تَدَعُ الصَّلَاةَ وَالصَّوْمَ وَلَا يَطَؤُهَا بَعْلُهَا أَوْ سَيِّدُهَا، فَإِنْ تَلَوَّنَّ أَوْ انْقَطَعَ إلَى سَبْعَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا فَأَقَلَّ فَهُوَ طُهْرٌ صَحِيحٌ تَغْتَسِلُ وَتُصَلِّي وَتَصُومُ وَيَأْتِيهَا زَوْجُهَا وَإِنْ تَمَادَى أَسْوَدَ تَمَادَتْ عَلَى أَنَّهَا حَائِضٌ إلَى سَبْعَ عَشْرَةَ لَيْلَةً، فَإِنْ تَمَادَى بَعْدَ ذَلِكَ أَسْوَدَ فَإِنَّهَا تَغْتَسِلُ ثُمَّ تُصَلِّي وَتَصُومُ وَيَأْتِيهَا زَوْجُهَا، وَهِيَ طَاهِرٌ أَبَدًا لَا تَرْجِعُ إلَى حُكْمِ الْحَائِضَةِ إلَّا أَنْ يَنْقَطِعَ أَوْ يَتَلَوَّنَ كَمَا ذَكَرْنَا، فَيَكُونُ حُكْمُهَا إذَا كَانَ أَسْوَدَ حُكْمَ الْحَيْضِ وَإِذَا تَلَوَّنَ أَوْ انْقَطَعَ أَوْ زَادَ عَلَى السَّبْعَ عَشْرَةَ حُكْمَ الطُّهْرِ.

As for the woman who has menstruated and attained purity but experiences prolonged bleeding, the same ruling applies in all matters except regarding continuous black blood. When the days she habitually menstruated arrive—whether she previously menstruated multiple times monthly, once monthly, once every few months, or once yearly—she must refrain from what menstruating women abstain from. When this habitual period concludes, she performs the ritual bath and is considered ritually pure in all matters. This status remains permanent unless the blood changes color or ceases.

If her menstrual cycle was irregular, she should base her practice on the final days of her cycle before the bleeding became prolonged. If unaware of her menstrual pattern, she must obligatorily either perform the ritual bath and ablution for every prayer, or follow this sequence: perform ritual bath and ablution to pray Dhuhr at its time's end, perform ablution for Asr at its time's start, perform ritual bath and ablution for Maghrib at its time's end, perform ablution for Isha at its time's start, then perform ritual bath and ablution for Fajr. She may alternatively perform the ritual bath at Dhuhr's initial time if she wishes. For the Dhuhr and Asr prayers, that time is designated for it. At the beginning of Maghrib's timeframe for Maghrib and Isha, that time is designated for it. She must pray each prayer within its appointed period without fail, and she performs ablution before every obligatory and supererogatory prayer during its day and night. If she is incapacitated and faces hardship in this regard, she may perform tayammum as we have mentioned.

L4706 The evidence for this is the statement of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—which we previously mentioned with its chain of transmission in the first issue on menstruation from this book of ours: "Menstrual blood is black and recognizable. If that is the case, then abstain from prayer. But if it is the other, perform ablution and pray." And his statement—peace and blessings be upon him—"When menstruation begins, refrain from prayer. When it ends, perform the ritual bath and pray." In one narration: "When it ends, wash the blood from yourself and perform ablution." In another narration: "When its duration has passed, wash the blood from yourself, perform ablution, and pray." This is how we transmitted it through the chain of Hammad ibn Zayd and Hammad ibn Salama, both narrating from Hisham ibn Urwah, from his father, narrated by Aisha, the Mother of the Believers—may Allah be pleased with her—from the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him. These reports establish the obligation of observing the changing color of the blood.

L4707 And what was narrated to us by Abd al-Rahman ibn Abdullah ibn Khalid: Ibrahim ibn Ahmad narrated to us, al-Farbari narrated to us, al-Bukhari narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Abi Raja' narrated to us, Abu Usamah narrated to us, saying: I heard Hisham ibn Urwah ibn al-Zubayr say: My father informed me from Aisha that Fatimah bint Abi Ḥubaysh asked the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him), saying, "I experience irregular bleeding and do not attain purity. Should I abandon prayer?" He replied, "No, that is [bleeding

L4708 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us; ʿAbd al-Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Hamd narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us; Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Rumh and Qutaybah—both of them—narrated from al-Layth ibn Saʿd from Yazid ibn Abi Habib from Jaʿfar ibn Rabiʿah from ʿIrak ibn Malik from Urwah from Aisha, who said: "Umm Habibah asked the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) about the blood. Aisha said: 'I saw her basin full of blood.' The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said to her: 'Wait for the duration your menstruation would normally detain you, then perform ritual bathing and pray.'"

L4709 Abu Muhammad said: In these two reports lies the obligation to consider capability.

L4710 The menstrual period that she used to experience before her blood flow became prolonged.

L4711–4713 As for the newly menstruating woman whose blood does not change from blackness and who has no established measure for a previous menstruation... We are certain of the obligation of prayer and fasting upon her, and we are certain that part of the blood is menstrual while part is not menstrual. Since this is the case, it is not permissible for anyone to designate by his own opinion some of that blood as menstrual and some as non-menstrual, for this would constitute legislating in religion without Allah's authorization or attributing to Allah the Exalted what one has no knowledge of. Therefore, it is unlawful for her to abandon the certain obligations imposed by Allah - fasting and prayer - due to mere assumption regarding some of her blood being menstrual when it may not be menstrual, for assumption is the falsest of speech.

[17] Hadith references (L4707): Sahih al-Bukhari 325.

L4714 What we have stated is the opinion of Mālik and Dāwūd. Al-Awzāʿī said: She should establish for herself the duration corresponding to the menstruation of her mother, maternal aunt, and paternal aunt. Any days exceeding this period fall under the ruling applicable to the mustaḥāḍah. If she does not know, she should consider her menstruation to last seven days each month, and for the remainder of the month, she is deemed a mustaḥāḍah during which she should fast. Sufyān al-Thawrī and ʿAṭāʾ said: She should determine for herself the duration based on the menstruation cycles of her female relatives.

وَهَذَا الَّذِي قُلْنَاهُ هُوَ قَوْلُ مَالِكٍ وَدَاوُد، وَقَالَ الْأَوْزَاعِيُّ: تَجْعَلُ لِنَفْسِهَا مِقْدَارَ حَيْضِ أُمِّهَا وَخَالَتِهَا وَعَمَّتِهَا وَتَكُونُ فِيمَا زَادَ فِي حُكْمِ الْمُسْتَحَاضَةِ، فَإِنْ لَمْ تَعْرِفْ جَعَلَتْ حَيْضَهَا سَبْعَةَ أَيَّامٍ مِنْ كُلِّ شَهْرٍ، وَتَكُونُ فِي بَاقِي الشَّهْرِ مُسْتَحَاضَةً تَصُومُ، وَقَالَ سُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ وَعَطَاءٌ: تَجْعَلُ لِنَفْسِهَا قَدْرَ حَيْضِ نِسَائِهَا.

L4715 Al-Shafi'i said: She should abstain for a day and a night of every month during the days she is menstruating, and for the remainder of the month, as a mustahada woman, she should pray and fast. Ahmad ibn Hanbal inclined to this opinion. Abu Hanifa said: She should abstain for ten days of every month as a menstruating woman, and for the rest of the month, as a mustahada woman, she should pray and fast.

L4716 It should be said to all of them: From where do you conclusively assert that she must menstruate every month without exception? It is possible she is menopausal (ḍahiyāʾ) and does not menstruate at all. Thus, you have abandoned through mere assumption the obligation of what Allah the Exalted has decreed for her: prayer and fasting. Moreover, none of them can say, "The restriction should be limited to the shortest menstrual duration for her, so she ceases prayer only with certainty," without the other having the right to say...

L4717 Rather, it has been restricted to the majority of menstrual durations to prevent her from praying or fasting, and to prevent her husband from engaging in intercourse with her while she menstruates. Both these opinions corrupt their proponents, and they are themselves corrupt, for they constitute statements based on conjecture - and judgment through conjecture in the religion of Allah the Exalted is impermissible. We hold absolute certainty, free from doubt, that this woman experiencing her first menstrual cycle has never menstruated before, that fasting and prayer are two binding obligations upon her, and that her husband is both commanded and encouraged to engage in intercourse with her. Yet we neither know nor assert that any

L4718 And success is by Allah, the Exalted.

وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L4719 As for her performing ablution for each prayer, we have mentioned the evidence for that in this book of ours, in the section on ablution and what necessitates it.

وَأَمَّا وُضُوءُهَا لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ فَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا بُرْهَانَ ذَلِكَ فِي كِتَابِنَا هَذَا فِي الْوُضُوءِ وَمَا يُوجِبُهُ.

L4720–4721 As for her performing ghusl for every two prayers or each prayer, this is based on what Hammam ibn Ahmad narrated to us: Abbas ibn Asbagh narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Abd al-Malik ibn Ayman narrated to us: Allan narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Bashshar narrated to us: Wahb ibn Jarir ibn Hazim narrated to us: Hisham al-Dastuwa'i, from Yahya ibn Abi Kathir, from Abu Salamah—who was Ibn Abd al-Rahman ibn Awf—from Umm Habibah bint Jahsh, that she was experiencing chronic bleeding (istihadah) and asked the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him), whereupon he commanded her to perform ghusl for every prayer.

وَأَمَّا غُسْلُهَا لِكُلِّ صَلَاتَيْنِ أَوْ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ فَلِمَا حَدَّثَنَاهُ حَمَامُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ ثنا عَبَّاسُ بْنُ أَصْبَغَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَيْمَنَ حَدَّثَنَا عَلَّانُ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَشَّارٍ ثنا وَهْبُ بْنُ جَرِيرِ بْنِ حَازِمٍ ثنا هِشَامٌ الدَّسْتُوَائِيُّ عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ هُوَ ابْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ - «عَنْ أُمِّ حَبِيبَةَ بِنْتِ جَحْشٍ أَنَّهَا كَانَتْ تُهْرَاقُ الدَّمَ وَأَنَّهَا سَأَلَتْ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَأَمَرَهَا أَنْ تَغْتَسِلَ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ» .

L4722 And through him to Ibn Ayman: Narrated by Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad al-Birtī the judge, narrated by Abū Maʿmar, narrated by ʿAbd al-Wārith ibn Saʿīd al-Tannūrī, narrated by al-Ḥusayn al-Muʿallim, narrated by Yaḥyā ibn Abī Kathīr, narrated by Abū Salama ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAwf, who said: Zaynab bint Abī Salama al-Makhzūmī informed me that a woman suffering from chronic bleeding (istihāḍah), who was married to ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAwf, reported that the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—commanded her to perform ghusl (ritual bath) at every prayer and to pray.

L4723 Ali said, "This is Zaynab, the stepdaughter of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him). She was raised under his guardianship (peace be upon him) and had the honor of his companionship (peace be upon him)."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: زَيْنَبُ هَذِهِ رَبِيبَةُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - نَشَأَتْ فِي حِجْرِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -، وَلَهَا صُحْبَةٌ بِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -.

from Muhammad ibn Ishaq, from al-Zuhri, from Urwah ibn al-Zubayr, from Umm Habibah bint Jahsh: “She experienced istihadah, so the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) commanded her to perform ghusl before every prayer.”

L4725 Abdullah ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us: Ibn al-Sulaym narrated to us, Ibn al-Aʿrabī narrated to us, Abū Dāwūd narrated to us, Hannād ibn al-Sarī narrated to us, ʿAbdah ibn Sulaymān narrated to us, Muḥammad ibn Isḥāq narrated to us, al-Zuhrī narrated to us, ʿUrwah narrated to us, from ʿĀ’ishah: “Umm Ḥabībah bint Jaḥsh experienced istihādah during the time of Allah’s Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him), and he commanded her to perform ghusl before every prayer.”

L4726 Abdullah ibn Rabee narrated to us: Umar ibn Abd al-Malik al-Khawlani narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Bakr narrated to us: Abu Dawud narrated to us: Wahb ibn Baqiyyah narrated to us: Khalid ibn Isma’il narrated to us from Suhayl ibn Abi Salih from al-Zuhri from Urwah ibn al-Zubayr from Asma bint Umays, who said: “O Messenger of Allah, Fatimah bint Abi Hubaysh was suffering from istiḥāḍah.” The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said to her: “Let her perform one ghusl for the noon and afternoon prayers, one ghusl for the sunset and night prayers, and one ghusl for the dawn prayer. She must perform ablution between these times.”

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ حَدَّثَنَا عُمَرُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ الْخَوْلَانِيِّ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَكْرٍ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا وَهْبُ بْنُ بَقِيَّةَ ثنا خَالِدُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ عَنْ سُهَيْلِ بْنِ أَبِي صَالِحٍ عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ عَنْ عُرْوَةَ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ «عَنْ أَسْمَاءَ بِنْتِ عُمَيْسٍ قَالَتْ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ إِنَّ فَاطِمَةَ بِنْتَ أَبِي حُبَيْشٍ اُسْتُحِيضَتْ، فَقَالَ لَهَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: لِتَغْتَسِلْ لِلظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ غُسْلًا وَاحِدًا، وَتَغْتَسِلْ لِلْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعِشَاءِ غُسْلًا وَاحِدًا، وَتَغْتَسِلْ لِلْفَجْرِ غُسْلًا وَتَتَوَضَّأُ فِيمَا بَيْنَ ذَلِكَ» .

L4727–4729 These are narrations of the utmost authenticity transmitted on the authority of the Messenger of Allah (may Allah bless him and grant him peace) through four female companions: ‘A’ishah, Mother of the Believers. Zaynab, the daughter of Umm Salamah, Asmā, the daughter of Umays, and Umm Ḥabībah, the daughter of Jaḥsh.

فَهَذِهِ آثَارٌ فِي غَايَةِ الصِّحَّةِ رَوَاهَا عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَرْبَعُ صَوَاحِبَ: عَائِشَةُ أُمُّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَزَيْنَبُ بِنْتُ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ وَأَسْمَاءُ بِنْتُ عُمَيْسٍ وَأُمُّ حَبِيبَةَ بِنْتُ جَحْشٍ.

L4730 Urwah and Abu Salamah narrated it from each of Aisha and Umm Habibah, and Abu Salamah narrated it from Zaynab bint Umm Salamah.

وَرَوَاهَا عَنْ كُلِّ وَاحِدَةٍ مِنْ عَائِشَةَ وَأُمِّ حَبِيبَةَ عُرْوَةُ وَأَبُو سَلَمَةَ وَرَوَاهُ أَبُو سَلَمَةَ عَنْ زَيْنَبَ بِنْتِ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ.

وَرَوَاهُ عُرْوَةَ عَنْ أَسْمَاءَ، وَهَذَا نَقْلُ تَوَاتُرٍ يُوجِبُ الْعِلْمَ.

L4731 And it was narrated from Urwah, from Asmā'. This is a tawātur transmission, which establishes definitive knowledge.

L4732 A group of the Companions - may Allah be pleased with them - held this opinion, as was narrated to us through the chain of Al-Layth ibn Sa'd from Ibn Shihab from Urwah from Aisha: that Umm Habibah experienced istihadah and would perform a ritual bath for every prayer. Thus, Umm Habibah holds that view, and Aisha mentions it without objecting to it.

L4733 From the path of ʿAbd al-Razzāq, from Maʿmar, from Ayyūb al-Sakhtiyānī, from Saʿīd ibn Jubayr: Saʿīd ibn Jubayr was with Ibn ʿAbbās when a woman's letter arrived. Saʿīd said: Ibn ʿAbbās handed it to me. I read it, and it stated: "I am a woman suffering from istihāḍah, afflicted by affliction and hardship. I have abandoned prayer for a lengthy period. When ʿAlī ibn Abī Ṭālib was asked about this, he instructed me to perform a major ritual purification (ghusl) before each prayer." Ibn ʿAbbās said: "O Allah, I find no solution for her except what ʿAlī said, with the exception that she may combine Ẓuhr and ʿAṣr with one major purification (ghusl), Maghrib and ʿIshāʾ with one major purification (ghusl), and perform a single major purification (ghusl) for Fajr." It was said to Ibn ʿAbbās: "Kūfah is a cold land, and it is difficult for her." He replied: "Had Allah willed, He would have tested her with something harsher."

وَرُوِّينَاهُ أَيْضًا مِنْ طَرِيقِ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ أَشْعَثَ بْنِ أَبِي الشَّعْثَاءِ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ.

L4734 And we have also transmitted it via the narration pathway of Sufyān al-Thawrī, from Ashʿath ibn Abī al-Shaʿthāʾ, from Saʿīd ibn Jubayr, from Ibn ʿAbbās.

وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ أَنَّ عَمْرَو بْنَ دِينَارٍ أَخْبَرَهُ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ سَعِيدَ بْنَ جُبَيْرٍ يَذْكُرُ هَذَا عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ شُعْبَةَ وَحَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ كِلَاهُمَا عَنْ حَمَّادِ بْنِ أَبِي سُلَيْمَانَ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ.

L4735 And from the path of Ibn Jurayj that ʿAmr ibn Dīnār informed him that he heard Saʿīd ibn Jubayr mention this from Ibn ʿAbbās. And from the path of Shuʿbah and Ḥammād ibn Salamah, both of them from Ḥammād ibn Abī Sulaymān from Saʿīd ibn Jubayr from Ibn ʿAbbās.

L4736 Yunus ibn Abdullah narrated to us: Abu Bakr ibn Ahmad ibn Khalid narrated to us: My father narrated to us: Ali ibn Abdul Aziz narrated to us: Hajjaj ibn al-Minhal narrated from Ibn Jurayj, who said: Abu Az-Zubayr informed me, saying: Sa'id ibn Jubayr informed me, saying: A woman suffering from istihadah sent a message to Ibn Az-Zubayr, saying, "I have been given a fatwa to perform ghusl for every prayer." Ibn Az-Zubayr replied, "I find no ruling for her except that." Then she sent a message to Ibn Abbas and Ibn Umar, and both of them said, "We find no ruling except that."

حَدَّثَنَا يُونُسُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ بْنِ خَالِدٍ ثنا أَبِي حَدَّثَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ ثنا حَجَّاجُ بْنُ الْمِنْهَالِ عَنِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنِي أَبُو الزُّبَيْرِ قَالَ أَخْبَرَنِي سَعِيدُ بْنُ جُبَيْرٍ قَالَ: أَرْسَلَتْ امْرَأَةٌ مُسْتَحَاضَةٌ إِلَى ابْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ: إِنِّي أُفْتِيتُ أَنْ أَغْتَسِلَ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ، فَقَالَ ابْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ: مَا أَجِدُ لَهَا إِلَّا ذَلِكَ، ثُمَّ أَرْسَلَتْ إِلَى ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ وَابْنِ عُمَرَ فَقَالَا جَمِيعًا: مَا نَجِدُ إِلَّا ذَلِكَ.

L4737 From the narration of Abī Mijlaz through Ibn ʿUmar regarding the mustahāḍa, he said: "She performs the ritual bath (ghusl) for each prayer." This was also narrated by ʿIkrimah and Mujāhid from Ibn ʿAbbās. Mujāhid narrated from him: "She delays Ẓuhr and hastens ʿAṣr, performing a single ritual bath for both. She delays Maghrib and hastens ʿIshāʾ, performing a single ritual bath for both. She performs the ritual bath for Fajr."

وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي مِجْلَزٍ عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ فِي الْمُسْتَحَاضَةِ قَالَ: تَغْتَسِلُ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ، وَقَدْ رَوَاهُ أَيْضًا عِكْرِمَةُ وَمُجَاهِدٌ عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، قَالَ مُجَاهِدٌ عَنْهُ: تُؤَخِّرُ الظُّهْرَ وَتُعَجِّلُ الْعَصْرَ وَتَغْتَسِلُ لَهُمَا غُسْلًا وَاحِدًا، وَتُؤَخِّرُ الْمَغْرِبَ وَتُعَجِّلُ الْعِشَاءَ وَتَغْتَسِلُ لَهُمَا غُسْلًا وَاحِدًا، وَتَغْتَسِلُ لِلْفَجْرِ غُسْلًا.

L4738–4739 It has been narrated to us from Ibn Jurayj from ʿAṭāʾ: The woman experiencing irregular bleeding waits through the days of her menstrual period, then performs a single ritual bath valid for both Dhuhr and ʿAṣr—delaying Dhuhr slightly and advancing ʿAṣr slightly. The same applies to Maghrib and ʿIshāʾ, and she performs a bath for Fajr.

وَرُوِّينَا عَنِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ عَنْ عَطَاءٍ: تَنْتَظِرُ الْمُسْتَحَاضَةُ أَيَّامَ أَقْرَائِهَا ثُمَّ تَغْتَسِلُ غُسْلًا وَاحِدًا لِلظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ، تُؤَخِّرُ الظُّهْرَ قَلِيلًا وَتُعَجِّلُ الْعَصْرَ قَلِيلًا، وَكَذَلِكَ الْمَغْرِبُ وَالْعِشَاءُ وَتَغْتَسِلُ لِلصُّبْحِ غُسْلًا.

L4740 And it has been narrated to us through the route of Sufyān al-Thawrī from Manṣūr ibn al-Muʿtamir from Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī, similar to the statement of ʿAṭāʾ: equal, equal.

وَرُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ مَنْصُورِ بْنِ الْمُعْتَمِرِ عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ النَّخَعِيِّ مِثْلَ قَوْلِ عَطَاءٍ سَوَاءً سَوَاءً.

L4741 It has been reported to us through the chain of Muʿādh ibn Hishām al-Dastuwa'i, from his father, from Qatādah, from Sa'īd ibn al-Musayyab, who said: "A woman experiencing istiḥāḍah must perform ghusl for every prayer then pray."

وَرُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ مُعَاذِ بْنِ هِشَامٍ الدَّسْتُوَائِيِّ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيِّبِ قَالَ: الْمُسْتَحَاضَةُ تَغْتَسِلُ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ وَتُصَلِّي.

L4742 These from among the Companions—Umm Ḥabībah, ʿAlī ibn Abī Ṭālib, Ibn ʿAbbās, Ibn ʿUmar, and Ibn al-Zubayr—have no known dissenter among the Companions (may Allah be pleased with them all), except for a narration from ʿĀʾishah that she would perform ghusl every day at the time of the Ẓuhr prayer.

فَهَؤُلَاءِ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ أُمُّ حَبِيبَةَ وَعَلِيُّ بْنُ أَبِي طَالِبٍ وَابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ وَابْنُ عُمَرَ وَابْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ لَا مُخَالِفَ لَهُمْ يُعْرَفُ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ -، إلَّا رِوَايَةً عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، أَنَّهَا تَغْتَسِلُ كُلَّ يَوْمٍ عِنْدَ صَلَاةِ الظُّهْرِ.

L4743 And we have narrated it in this manner via Maʿmar, from Hishām ibn ʿUrwah, from his father, from ʿĀʾishah, in this manner, clearly explained: it occurs every day at the time of the Dhuhr prayer.

وَرُوِّينَاهُ هَكَذَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ مَعْمَرٍ عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ هَكَذَا مُبَيِّنًا، كُلَّ يَوْمٍ عِنْدَ صَلَاةِ الظُّهْرِ.

L4744 Among the Followers are ʿAṭāʾ, Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyib, al-Nakhaʿī, and others—all narrated through chains of utmost authenticity. Where then are those who vehemently criticize opposing a Companion when it aligns with their whims and their blind adherence to the Ḥanafīs, Mālikīs, and Shāfiʿīs, while they obstruct the established Sunnah of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him? ʿAlī said: The Sunnah came regarding the woman who discerns her blood: black [blood] is menstruation, and what is other than it is purity. Thus, the ruling for her became clear. The Sunnah also came regarding the woman who cannot discern her blood—all being black, since what is other than it is purity—but who has a defined menstrual duration she previously observed: she must observe the timeframe of her menstruation, being menstruating during it, and what is beyond it is purity. It became obligatory to adhere to this ruling. As for the woman whose menstrual days were irregular and shifting, her ruling is to base [her cycle] on her last menstruation before the continuity of her bleeding, for that is what her definitive ruling became—nullifying what preceded it through certainty and observation. These two cases were thus resolved, leaving only the woman who neither discerns her blood nor has fixed days, and who is commanded to perform the ritual bath for every prayer or every two prayers. Necessarily and without doubt, this third ruling must apply to her, as there are only three categories and three rulings: two categories having explicitly stated rulings, thus the third ruling must necessarily apply to the third category.

وَمِنْ التَّابِعِينَ عَطَاءٌ وَسَعِيدُ بْنُ الْمُسَيِّبِ وَالنَّخَعِيُّ وَغَيْرُهُمْ، كُلُّ ذَلِكَ بِأَسَانِيدَ فِي غَايَةِ الصِّحَّةِ، فَأَيْنَ الْمُشَنِّعُونَ بِمُخَالَفَةِ الصَّاحِبِ إذَا وَافَقَ أَهْوَاءَهُمْ وَتَقْلِيدَهُمْ مِنْ الْحَنَفِيِّينَ وَالْمَالِكِيِّينَ وَالشَّافِعِيِّينَ عَنْ هَذَا وَمَنْعُهُمْ السُّنَّةَ الثَّابِتَةَ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -؟ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَجَاءَتْ السُّنَّةُ فِي الَّتِي تُمَيِّزُ دَمَهَا أَنَّ الْأَسْوَدَ حَيْضٌ، وَأَنَّ مَا عَدَاهُ طُهْرٌ، فَوَضَحَ أَمْرُ هَذِهِ، وَجَاءَتْ السُّنَّةُ فِي الَّتِي لَا تُمَيِّزُ دَمَهَا - وَهُوَ كُلُّهُ أَسْوَدُ لِأَنَّ مَا عَدَاهُ طُهْرٌ لَا حَيْضٌ وَلَهَا وَقْتٌ مَحْدُودٌ مُمَيَّزٌ كَانَتْ تَحِيضُ فِيهِ: أَنْ تُرَاعِيَ أَمَدَ حَيْضِهَا فَتَكُونُ فِيهِ حَائِضًا، وَيَكُونُ مَا عَدَاهُ طُهْرًا، فَوَجَبَ الْوُقُوفُ عِنْدَ ذَلِكَ، وَكَانَ حُكْمُ الَّتِي كَانَتْ أَيَّامُهَا مُخْتَلِفَةً مُنْتَقِلَةً أَنْ تَبْنِيَ عَلَى آخِرِ حَيْضٍ حَاضَتْهُ قَبْلَ اتِّصَالِ دَمِهَا، لِأَنَّهُ هُوَ الَّذِي اسْتَقَرَّ عَلَيْهِ حُكْمُهَا وَبَطَلَ مَا قَبْلَهُ بِالْيَقِينِ وَالْمُشَاهَدَةِ، فَخَرَجَتْ هَاتَانِ بِحُكْمِهِمَا، وَلَمْ يَبْقَ إلَّا الَّتِي لَا تُمَيِّزُ دَمَهَا وَلَا لَهَا أَيَّامٌ مَعْهُودَةٌ، وَلَمْ يَبْقَ إلَّا الْمَأْمُورَةُ بِالْغُسْلِ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ أَوْ لِكُلِّ صَلَاتَيْنِ، فَوَجَبَ ضَرُورَةً أَنْ تَكُونَ هِيَ، إذْ لَيْسَتْ إلَّا ثَلَاثَ صِفَاتٍ وَثَلَاثَةَ أَحْكَامٍ فَلِلصِّفَتَيْنِ حُكْمَانِ مَنْصُوصَانِ عَلَيْهِمَا، فَوَجَبَ أَنْ يَكُونَ الْحُكْمُ الثَّالِثُ لِلصِّفَةِ الثَّالِثَةِ ضَرُورَةً وَلَا بُدَّ.

L4745–4747 Ali said: As for Mālik, he prioritized the ruling on the variation in menstrual blood's color and disregarded the [fixed] days. As for Abū Ḥanīfah, he prioritized the days and disregarded the ruling on the variation in blood's color. Both approaches are erroneous, for they neglect a sunnah that must not be abandoned. As for al-Shāfiʿī, Ibn Ḥanbal, Abū ʿUbayd, and Dāwūd, they combined both rulings, except that [...] Ahmad ibn Hanbal and Abu 'Ubayd prioritized the days and did not base the ruling on the discoloration of blood except for the woman who does not know her days. They established the ruling according to the days for the woman who knows her days, even if her blood undergoes discoloration. As for al-Shafiʿi and Dawud, they prioritized the ruling based on the discoloration of blood, whether she knows her days or not, and they did not apply the consideration of menstrual timing except for the woman whose blood does not undergo discoloration.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَأَمَّا مَالِكٌ فَإِنَّهُ غَلَّبَ حُكْمَ تَلَوُّنِ الدَّمِ وَلَمْ يُرَاعِ الْأَيَّامَ، وَأَمَّا أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ فَغَلَّبَ الْأَيَّامَ وَلَمْ يُرَاعِ حُكْمَ تَلَوُّنِ الدَّمِ، وَكِلَا الْعَمَلَيْنِ خَطَأٌ، لِأَنَّهُ تَرْكُ لِسُنَّةٍ لَا يَحِلُّ تَرْكُهَا، وَأَمَّا الشَّافِعِيُّ وَابْنُ حَنْبَلٍ وَأَبُو عُبَيْدٍ وَدَاوُد فَأَخَذُوا بِالْحُكْمَيْنِ مَعًا، إِلَّا أَنَّ أَحْمَدَ بْنَ حَنْبَلٍ وَأَبَا عُبَيْدٍ غَلَّبَا الْأَيَّامَ وَلَمْ يَجْعَلَا لِتَلَوُّنِ الدَّمِ حُكْمًا إِلَّا فِي الَّتِي لَا تَعْرِفُ أَيَّامَهَا، وَجَعَلَا لِلَّتِي تَعْرِفُ أَيَّامَهَا حُكْمَ الْأَيَّامِ وَإِنْ تَلَوَّنَ دَمُهَا، وَأَمَّا الشَّافِعِيُّ وَدَاوُد فَغَلَّبَا حُكْمَ تَلَوُّنِ الدَّمِ، سَوَاءٌ عَرَفَتْ أَيَّامَهَا أَوْ لَمْ تَعْرِفْهَا، وَلَمْ يَجْعَلَا حُكْمَ مُرَاعَاةِ وَقْتِ الْحَيْضِ إِلَّا لِلَّتِي لَا يَتَلَوَّنُ دَمُهَا.

Ali said: The inquiry remained regarding which of the two rulings is correct. We proceeded and found the text established and confirmed that there is no menstruation except the black blood, and what is other than that is not menstruation, based on his statement—peace be upon him—"Indeed, menstrual blood is black and is recognized." Thus, it was affirmed that the woman with changing blood is in a state of complete purity, being not subject to the rulings of istihāḍah, and that there is no distinction between red blood and the white thread. It became obligatory that if the blood changes color before the end of her customary days, it constitutes a valid state of purity. The remaining difficulty pertained only to continuous black blood. The text stipulated observing the menstrual timing for one who knows her timing and performing a reiterated ritual bath for each prayer or for two prayers in the case of one who has forgotten her timing.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَبَقِيَ النَّظَرُ فِي أَيِّ الْعَمَلَيْنِ هُوَ الْحَقُّ؟ فَفَعَلْنَا، فَوَجَدْنَا النَّصَّ قَدْ ثَبَتَ وَصَحَّ بِأَنَّهُ لَا حَيْضَ إِلَّا الدَّمُ الْأَسْوَدُ، وَمَا عَدَاهُ لَيْسَ حَيْضًا، لِقَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - «إِنَّ دَمَ الْحَيْضِ أَسْوَدُ يُعْرَفُ» فَصَحَّ أَنَّ الْمُتَلَوِّنَةَ الدَّمِ طَاهِرَةٌ تَامَّةُ الطَّهَارَةِ لَا مَدْخَلَ لَهَا فِي حُكْمِ الِاسْتِحَاضَةِ، وَأَنَّهُ لَا فَرْقَ بَيْنَ الدَّمِ الْأَحْمَرِ وَبَيْنَ الْقَصَّةِ الْبَيْضَاءِ، وَوَجَبَ أَنَّ الدَّمَ إِذَا تَلَوَّنَ قَبْلَ انْقِضَاءِ أَيَّامِهَا الْمَعْهُودَةِ أَنَّهُ طُهْرٌ صَحِيحٌ، فَبَقِيَ الْإِشْكَالُ فِي الدَّمِ الْأَسْوَدِ الْمُتَّصِلِ فَقَطْ، فَجَاءَ النَّصُّ بِمُرَاعَاةِ الْوَقْتِ لِمَنْ تَعْرِفُ وَقْتَهَا، وَبِالْغُسْلِ الْمُرَدَّدِ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ أَوْ لِصَلَاتَيْنِ فِي الَّتِي نَسِيَتْ وَقْتَهَا.

Success is by Allah, the Exalted.

We do not know of any reason pertaining to someone who abandoned any of these reports—not from analogy, the saying of a Companion, the Qur'an, or the Sunnah.

وَمَا نَعْلَمُ لِمَنْ تَرَكَ شَيْئًا مِنْ هَذِهِ الْأَخْبَارِ سَبَبًا يَتَعَلَّقُ بِهِ، لَا مِنْ قِيَاسٍ وَلَا مِنْ قَوْلِ صَاحِبٍ وَلَا مِنْ قُرْآنٍ وَلَا سُنَّةٍ.

In one of his statements, Mālik said: The woman experiencing continuous bleeding should consider three days as precautionary if her menstrual cycle is twelve days or less, two days if it is thirteen days, or one day if her menstrual cycle is fourteen days. She observes no precautionary days if her cycle is fifteen days. This opinion finds support neither in Quranic text, nor Sunnah (neither authentic nor weak), nor a companion's opinion, nor analogical reasoning, nor sound opinion, nor precaution, nor any rationally grounded view. Rather, it obligates the abandonment of obligatory prayers and obligatory fasting without any valid reason.

وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ فِي بَعْضِ أَقْوَالِهِ: إنَّ الَّتِي يَتَّصِلُ بِهَا الدَّمُ تَسْتَظْهِرُ بِثَلَاثَةِ أَيَّامٍ إنْ كَانَتْ حَيْضَتُهَا اثْنَيْ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا فَأَقَلَّ، أَوْ بِيَوْمَيْنِ إنْ كَانَتْ ثَلَاثَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا، أَوْ بِيَوْمٍ إنْ كَانَتْ حَيْضَتُهَا أَرْبَعَةَ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا، وَلَا تَسْتَظْهِرُ بِشَيْءٍ إنْ كَانَتْ حَيْضَتُهَا خَمْسَةَ عَشَرَ وَهَذَا قَوْلٌ لَا يُعَضِّدُهُ قُرْآنٌ وَلَا سُنَّةٌ، لَا صَحِيحَةٌ وَلَا سَقِيمَةٌ، وَلَا قَوْلُ صَاحِبٍ وَلَا قِيَاسٌ وَلَا رَأْيٌ لَهُ وَجْهٌ وَلَا احْتِيَاطٌ، بَلْ فِيهِ إيجَابُ تَرْكِ الصَّلَاةِ الْمَفْرُوضَةِ وَالصَّوْمِ اللَّازِمِ بِلَا مَعْنًى.

L4752 Some of his emulators cited as evidence an unsound hadith we narrated through the chain of Ibrāhīm ibn Ḥamzah from al-Darāwardī from Ḥarām ibn ʿUthmān from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān and Muḥammad, the sons of Jābir, from their father, who said: "Asmāʾ bint Murshid al-Ḥārithiyyah came to the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—and I was sitting with him. She said, 'O Messenger of Allah, I experience a menstrual flow I find irregular. After becoming pure, I remain for three or four days, then it returns to me and prohibits me from prayer.' He said, 'When you observe that, remain for three days, then purify yourself on the fourth day and pray—unless you see a gush of dark blood.'"

L4753 Abu Muhammad said: This argument was more reprehensible than the position it sought to justify, because this report is false since it was narrated solely by Haram ibn Uthman, and Malik himself states: "He is not trustworthy."

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّد: فَكَانَ هَذَا الِاحْتِجَاجُ أَقْبَحَ مِنْ الْقَوْلِ الْمُحْتَجِّ لَهُ بِهِ، لِأَنَّ هَذَا الْخَبَرَ بَاطِلٌ إذْ هُوَ مِمَّا انْفَرَدَ بِهِ حَرَامُ بْنُ عُثْمَانَ، وَمَالِكٌ نَفْسُهُ يَقُولُ: هُوَ غَيْرُ ثِقَةٍ.

L4754–4755 How astonishing it is regarding these people and the Hanafis—Abū Ḥanīfah impugned Jābir al-Juʿfī, stating: "I have never seen a greater liar than Jābir," while Mālik impugned Ḥarām ibn ʿUthmān and Ṣāliḥ, the freed slave of al-Tawʾamah. Yet when a report transmitted by Ḥarām or Ṣāliḥ reaches the Mālikīs or Ḥanafīs—one that might misleadingly suggest it supports their school's stance—they have no qualms about citing it as evidence, thereby contradicting Mālik's criticism of them. Similarly, when a report transmitted by Jābir reaches the Ḥanafīs—one that might misleadingly suggest it supports their school's stance—they have no qualms about citing it as evidence, thereby contradicting Abū Ḥanīfah's criticism of him. As for us—praise be to Allah—we show greater deference to their scholars than they do, for we do not reject Mālik's criticism of those whose juristic authority lacks widespread recognition.

فَالْعَجَبُ لِهَؤُلَاءِ الْقَوْمِ وَلِلْحَنَفِيِّينَ، وَقَدْ جَرَّحَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ جَابِرًا الْجُعْفِيَّ وَقَالَ مَا رَأَيْتُ أَكْذَبَ مِنْ جَابِرٍ، وَمَالِكٌ جَرَّحَ حَرَامَ بْنَ عُثْمَانَ وَصَالِحًا مَوْلَى التَّوْأَمَةِ، ثُمَّ لَا مُؤْنَةَ عَلَى الْمَالِكِيِّينَ وَالْحَنَفِيِّينَ إذَا جَاءَ هَؤُلَاءِ خَبَرٌ مِنْ رِوَايَةِ حَرَامٍ وَصَالِحٍ يُمْكِنُ أَنْ يُوهِمُوا بِهِ أَنَّهُ حُجَّةٌ لِتَقْلِيدِهِمْ إلَّا احْتَجُّوا بِهِ وَأَكْذَبُوا تَجْرِيحَ مَالِكٍ لَهُمْ وَلَا مُؤْنَةَ عَلَى الْحَنَفِيِّينَ

L4756 Abū Muḥammad said: Furthermore, were this report authentic, they would have no valid basis to rely upon it, for it contains nothing from Mālik's doctrine nor those juristic classifications. Rather, it contradicts his view and obligates prayer unless one sees blood. Thus, the invalidity of their argument based on it becomes evident.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ، ثُمَّ لَوْ صَحَّ هَذَا الْخَبَرُ لَمَا كَانَ لَهُمْ بِهِ مُتَعَلَّقٌ لِأَنَّهُ لَيْسَ فِيهِ شَيْءٌ مِنْ قَوْلِ مَالِكٌ، وَلَا مِنْ تِلْكَ التَّقَاسِيمِ، بَلْ هُوَ مُخَالِفٌ لِقَوْلِهِ، وَمُوجِبٌ لِلصَّلَاةِ إِلَّا أَنْ تَرَى دَمًا، فَظَهَرَ فَسَادُ احْتِجَاجِهِمْ بِهِ.

L4757 Some of them said: We applied qiyās (analogical reasoning) to it based on the ḥadīth of al-muṣarrāh (withholding milk to deceive buyers) and the appointed term decreed by Allah, the Exalted, for Thamūd. Thus, this is closer to mockery and disrespect toward the religion than to knowledge.

L4758 We seek refuge in Allah from abandonment.

وَنَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الْخِذْلَانِ.

L4759 Ali said: It was narrated to us from Ibrahim al-Nakha'i that a woman experiencing irregular bleeding should fast, pray, and her husband must refrain from conjugal relations.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ النَّخَعِيِّ أَنَّ الْمُسْتَحَاضَةَ تَصُومُ وَتُصَلِّي وَلَا يَطَؤُهَا زَوْجُهَا.

L4760 Ali said, and this is an error, for she is either menstruating or in a state of purity (non-menstruating), with no third category existing except for postpartum women. If she is menstruating, neither prayer nor fasting is permissible for her. If she is neither postpartum nor menstruating, her husband's intercourse with her is lawful provided neither is fasting, in a state of consecration (iḥrām), in seclusion (iʿtikāf), or in a state of having pronounced ẓihār (a form of unlawful divorce by likening her to a prohibited relative) against her. Thus, this assertion is invalidated, and success is granted by Allah, the Most High.

L4763 Issue: The use of the teeth-cleaning twig (siwāk) is recommended. If one can use it before every prayer, that is preferable. Plucking armpit hair, male circumcision, shaving the pubic hair, and trimming nails are recommended. As for trimming the mustache, it is obligatory. It is not permissible for a woman to pluck facial hair. It is recommended for one in a state of major impurity to perform ablution (wuḍū') if intending to eat, sleep, or drink, though it is not obligatory. If they intend to resume intercourse, ablution becomes obligatory. If a man has intercourse with two of his wives, multiple wives, or a combination of wives and female slaves, it is preferable to perform the ritual bath (ghusl) between each two acts of intercourse. If he performs it only once at the end, this is also acceptable.

L4764 The evidence for that is what was narrated to us by Abdullah ibn Yusuf, who narrated to us Ahmad ibn Fath, who narrated to us Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa, who narrated to us Ahmad ibn Muhammad, who narrated to us Ahmad ibn Ali, who narrated to us Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj, who narrated to us Abu Bakr ibn Abi Shaybah, who narrated to us Sufyan ibn Uyaynah, from al-Zuhri, from Saʿid ibn al-Musayyib, from Abu Hurayrah, from the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—who said: "The natural disposition comprises five practices—or five practices are part of the natural disposition: circumcision, shaving the pubic hair, trimming the nails, plucking the armpit hair, and shortening the mustache."[18]

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ مَا حَدَّثَنَاهُ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ يُوسُفَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ فَتْحٍ ثنا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ بْنُ عِيسَى ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ ثنا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ الْحَجَّاجِ ثنا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ ثنا سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ عَنْ الزُّهْرِيِّ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيِّبِ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: «الْفِطْرَةُ خَمْسٌ أَوْ خَمْسٌ مِنْ الْفِطْرَةِ: الْخِتَانُ وَالِاسْتِحْدَادُ وَتَقْلِيمُ الْأَظْفَارِ وَنَتْفُ الْإِبْطِ وَقَصُّ الشَّارِبِ» .

L4765 And in his transmission to Muslim: Qutaybah ibn Saʿīd and ʿAmr al-Nāqid narrated to us; Sufyān ibn ʿUyaynah narrated to us from Abū al-Zinād from al-Aʿraj from Abū Hurayrah from the Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him), who said: "If I had not feared imposing hardship on my community, I would have ordered them to use miswak at every prayer." ʿAlī said: Since he did not command them, it is not obligatory.[19]

L4773 If it is said: It is authentically established that 'Umar informed the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) that he would incur major ritual impurity at night, so the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said to him: "Perform ablution, wash your penis, then sleep."

فَإِنْ قِيلَ: فَقَدْ صَحَّ أَنَّ «عُمَرَ ذَكَرَ لِرَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَنَّهُ تُصِيبُهُ الْجَنَابَةُ مِنْ اللَّيْلِ، فَقَالَ لَهُ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: تَوَضَّأْ وَاغْسِلْ ذَكَرَكَ ثُمَّ نَمْ» .

L4774 We said: Muḥammad ibn Saʿīd ibn Nubāt narrated to us, saying: ʿAbdullāh ibn Naṣr narrated to us, Qāsim ibn Aṣbagh narrated to us, Ibn Waḍḍāḥ narrated to us, Mūsā ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us, Wakīʿ narrated to us from Sufyān al-Thawrī from Abī Isḥāq from al-Aswad ibn Yazīd from ʿĀ'ishah: "The Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—would sleep while in a state of major impurity as he was, without using water."

L4775–4776 When the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—returned from the mosque, he would pray what Allah had decreed for him, then turn to his bed or his household. If he had a need for his wife, he would fulfill it, then sleep in that state without touching water. When he heard the call to prayer, he would rise swiftly. If he was in a state of major impurity, he would pour water over himself. If not, he would perform ablution, pray two rakʿahs, then go out to the mosque.

وَحَدَّثَنَا يُونُسُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ ثنا أَبُو عِيسَى بْنُ أَبِي عِيسَى ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ وَضَّاحٍ ثنا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ ثنا أَبُو الْأَحْوَصِ هُوَ سَلَّامُ بْنُ سُلَيْمٍ الْحَنَفِيُّ - عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ عَنْ الْأَسْوَدِ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ «كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إذَا رَجَعَ مِنْ الْمَسْجِدِ صَلَّى مَا قَضَى اللَّهُ لَهُ، ثُمَّ مَالَ إلَى فِرَاشِهِ أَوْ إلَى أَهْلِهِ فَإِنْ كَانَتْ لَهُ حَاجَةٌ إلَى أَهْلِهِ قَضَاهَا ثُمَّ نَامَ كَهَيْئَتِهِ لَا يَمَسُّ مَاءً، فَإِذَا سَمِعَ النِّدَاءَ وَثَبَ فَإِنْ كَانَ جُنُبًا أَفَاضَ عَلَيْهِ الْمَاءَ، وَإِنْ لَمْ يَكُنْ جُنُبًا تَوَضَّأَ وَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ ثُمَّ خَرَجَ إلَى الْمَسْجِدِ» .

L4777 This is a general statement encompassing ablution and ghusl together, along with other acts. Whoever claims that Sufyan erred in this ḥadīth is himself mistaken, advancing a claim without proof.

فَهَذَا عُمُومٌ يَدْخُلُ فِيهِ الْوُضُوءُ وَالْغُسْلُ مَعًا وَغَيْرُ ذَلِكَ، وَمَنْ ادَّعَى أَنَّ سُفْيَانَ أَخْطَأَ فِي هَذَا الْحَدِيثِ فَهُوَ الْمُخْطِئُ، بِدَعْوَاهُ مَا لَا دَلِيلَ عَلَيْهِ.

L4778 If it is objected: "Zuhayr ibn Muʿāwiyah has contradicted him [Sufyān]," we respond: Sufyān is more precise in narration than Zuhayr. Even if that were not the case, the disagreement among some narrators with others would not constitute proof that either erred. Rather, the trustworthy narrator is deemed credible in all he transmits. Success comes solely from Allah, the Exalted.

فَإِنْ قِيلَ: قَدْ خَالَفَهُ زُهَيْرُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ. قُلْنَا: سُفْيَانُ أَحْفَظُ مِنْ زُهَيْرٍ، وَلَوْ لَمْ يَكُنْ لَمَا كَانَ فِي خِلَافِ بَعْضِ الرُّوَاةِ لِبَعْضٍ دَلِيلٌ عَلَى خَطَأِ أَحَدِهِمْ، بَلْ الثِّقَةُ مُصَدَّقٌ فِي كُلِّ مَا يَرْوِي. وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L4779 Aisha's statement is a report about his consistent practice in that matter, peace be upon him. Among those from whom it has been transmitted to us permitting sleep for one who has had intercourse before performing ritual ablution are Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyab, Rabīʿah, Yazīd ibn Hārūn al-Shāfiʿī, and Abū Thawr.

L4792 Issue: Furthermore, every vessel made of brass, copper, lead, tin, crystal, emerald, ruby, or other such materials after this is permissible for men and women to eat from, drink from, perform ablution and bathing in them. This is based on the words of Allah the Exalted: {He is the One Who created for you all that is on earth} [Al-Baqarah: 29], His words: {And He has already detailed for you what He has forbidden upon you} [Al-An'ām: 119], and the statement of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—: "Leave me what I have left you, for those before you were destroyed by their excessive questioning and disputing with their prophets. When I command you to do something, do as much of it as you can, and when I forbid you from something, avoid it." Thus, it is established that anything about which no mention is made regarding prohibition or command is permissible.[20]

L4793 Gilded and gold-inlaid items are permissible for women but not for men because they are not made entirely of gold. It has been authentically reported from the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—that «silk and gold are lawful for the women of my community and unlawful for their men,» or as he—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—said: «Gilded items are not vessels made entirely of gold. Silver-plated and silver-inlaid items are permissible for both men and women, as they are not made entirely of silver. We seek support through Allah the Exalted, and He suffices us—He is the Most Excellent Trustee.»

L4795 Issue 273: If a person is unable to use certain limbs for purification—such as one whose hands, legs, or parts thereof are amputated—the ruling concerning them is lifted. They remain obligated to wash what remains of their limbs, based on the Prophet's statement (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him): "When I command you to do something, do as much of it as you are able." If there is a wound on the body, its ruling is lifted, but the obligation to wash the rest of the body or limbs remains, as we have mentioned. If sores cover their hands, a hand, legs, face, or part of their body, and if this reaches the designation of illness—such that using water would cause them harm or hardship—they perform tayammum only, for this is the ruling applicable to the sick. If using water involves no hardship, either merely immersing the affected part suffices or pouring water over it suffices. If the sores do not reach the designation of illness, they wash what is possible, and whatever involves hardship is lifted—whether extensive or minimal—as we have mentioned. It is not permissible to combine tayammum and washing within a single ablution or within one act of purification, as no textual evidence or consensus supports this—except in one case we previously mentioned: when a person possesses water insufficient to cover all ablution limbs or the entire body. Success comes only from Allah, the Exalted.

Issue 274: If a person has water available and is uncertain whether a dog lapped in it or not, or whether it is leftover water from a woman's use or not, they may perform ablution with it even without necessity and may likewise use it for ritual bathing. This is because the water's purity in its origin is certain, as is the permissibility of using it for purification. If he subsequently doubts whether the water has been rendered unlawful or not, the original certainty prevails. Conjecture does not invalidate it, for Allah the Exalted said: {Indeed, conjecture avails nothing against the truth} [Yunus: 36]. If one doubts whether it is water or expressed plant juice, it is not permissible for them to perform ablution or ghusl with it, because they lack certainty that it has ever been valid for purification. Ablution and ghusl are two obligations, and obligations cannot be lifted through doubt. If there are two vessels or more before them—one known with certainty to contain pure water while the others contain water lapped by a dog (thereby rendering it impure), or one vessel lapped by a dog while the rest are pure—and they cannot distinguish between them, they may perform ablution with any vessel they choose, provided they are not certain they exceeded the number of pure waters and used impermissible water. This is because each water retains its presumption of purity in isolation. If they become certain they used impermissible water for purification, they attain certainty of having committed a forbidden act. They must then wash their limbs if that water was entirely prohibited for use. If there is a vessel among them containing expressed liquid, and they cannot identify it, ablution with any of them is impermissible, because they lack certainty of having used water. Certainty cannot be removed by conjecture, and with Allah alone is success.[21]

The Book of Prayer

Book of Prayer Chapter: Prayer is divided into two categories: obligatory and voluntary.

In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful. May Allah send blessings upon Muhammad and his family and grant them peace.

Ṣalāh

275. Issue: Prayer is of two types: obligatory and voluntary. The obligatory prayer is that which, if one intentionally neglects it, they are disobedient to Allah the Almighty. These are the five daily prayers: Dhuhr, Asr, Maghrib, Isha, and Fajr. Making up a prayer forgotten or missed due to sleep is the same obligation as the original. The obligatory prayer is of two categories: one is a personal obligation incumbent upon every Muslim who is sane, adult, male or female, free or enslaved—this is what we have mentioned. The second is a collective obligation binding upon all present; if some fulfill it, the duty is lifted from the rest. This refers to the prayer over the deceased Muslims.

Voluntary worship refers to acts which, if intentionally abandoned, do not constitute disobedience to Allah the Almighty. These include Witr, the two Rak'ahs of Fajr, the Eid prayers, the prayer for rain, the eclipse prayer, Duha prayer, voluntary prayers before and after the obligatory prayer, the even-numbered prayers in Ramadan, Tahajjud, and all voluntary acts one performs. It is disliked to abandon any of these.

The proof of this is that, according to the necessities of reason, there are only the two aforementioned divisions: either a thing whose abandonment entails disobedience to God, the Exalted, or a thing whose abandonment does not entail disobedience to God, the Exalted, with no intermediate between them.

Our statement: al-farḍ, al-wājib, al-ḥatmu, al-lāzimu, and al-maktūb are terms that have one meaning, which is what we have mentioned.

Our statement: Voluntary and supererogatory acts are synonymous, which

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ أَنَّهُ لَيْسَ فِي ضَرُورَةِ الْعَقْلِ إِلَّا الْقِسْمَانِ الْمَذْكُورَانِ، إِمَّا شَيْءٌ يَعْصِي اللَّهَ تَعَالَى تَارِكُهُ، وَإِمَّا شَيْءٌ لَا يَعْصِي اللَّهَ تَعَالَى تَارِكُهُ، وَلَا وَاسِطَةَ بَيْنَهُمَا.

وَقَوْلُنَا: الْفَرْضُ وَالْوَاجِبُ وَالْحَتْمُ وَاللَّازِمُ وَالْمَكْتُوبُ، أَلْفَاظٌ مَعْنَاهَا وَاحِدٌ، وَهُوَ مَا ذَكَرْنَا.

is what we have mentioned. Some said: Here lies a third category - the obligatory (wājib).

وَقَوْلُنَا: التَّطَوُّعُ وَالنَّافِلَةُ بِمَعْنَى وَاحِدٍ، وَهُوَ مَا ذَكَرْنَا، وَقَالَ قَوْمٌ: هَهُنَا قِسْمٌ ثَالِثٌ وَهُوَ الْوَاجِبُ.

L4809 Abū Muḥammad said: This is an error; because it is a claim without proof, a statement that is not understood, and a statement whose speaker cannot clarify his intended meaning in it.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّد: هَذَا خَطَأٌ، لِأَنَّهُ دَعْوَى بِلَا بُرْهَانٍ، وَقَوْلٌ لَا يُفْهَمُ، وَلَا يَقْدِرُ قَائِلُهُ عَلَى أَنْ يُبَيِّنَ مُرَادَهُ فِيهِ.

L4810–4811 If they say: "Some of these are more emphasized than others," we say: Yes, some supererogatory acts are more emphasized than others, but this does not exclude any of them from being supererogatory. Now, clarify your claim that it is an obligation (wājib) yet neither a prescribed duty (farḍ) nor a supererogatory act. Is one who neglects it sinful against Allāh, Exalted and Glorified, or not? It must belong to one of these two categories—there is no third category. If the neglecter is sinful, it is a prescribed duty; if the neglecter is not sinful, it is not a prescribed duty.

فَإِنْ قَالُوا: إِنَّ بَعْضَ ذَلِكَ أَوْكَدُ مِنْ بَعْضٍ، قُلْنَا: نَعَمْ، بَعْضُ التَّطَوُّعِ أَوْكَدُ مِنْ بَعْضٍ، وَلَيْسَ ذَلِكَ بِمُخْرِجِ شَيْءٍ مِنْهُ عَنْ أَنْ يَكُونَ تَطَوُّعًا، لَكِنْ أَخْبِرُونَا عَنْ هَذَا الَّذِي قُلْتُمْ: هُوَ وَاجِبٌ لَا فَرْضٌ، وَلَا تَطَوُّعٌ، أَيَكُونُ تَارِكُهُ عَاصِيًا لِلَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ؟ أَمْ لَا يَكُونُ عَاصِيًا؟ وَلَا بُدَّ مِنْ أَحَدِ هَذَيْنِ الْقِسْمَيْنِ، وَلَا سَبِيلَ إِلَى قِسْمٍ ثَالِثٍ، فَإِنْ كَانَ تَارِكُهُ عَاصِيًا فَهُوَ فَرْضٌ، وَإِنْ كَانَ تَارِكُهُ لَيْسَ عَاصِيًا فَلَيْسَ فَرْضًا.

L4812 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us, Abd al-Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us, Hammad ibn Muhammad narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us, Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us, Qutaybah ibn Sa'id narrated to us from Malik ibn Anas from Abu Suhayl ibn Malik from his father that he heard Talhah ibn Ubaydullah say: "A man came to the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him), and there he was asking about Islam. The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) said: 'Five prayers during the day and night.' The man asked: 'Is there anything else incumbent upon me besides them?' He replied: 'No, unless you voluntarily perform more.' And he mentioned the remainder of the hadith. The man turned away, saying: 'By Allah, I will neither add to this nor subtract from it.' The Messenger of Allah (PBUH) said: 'He has succeeded if he is truthful.'"

L4813 This is a definitive text from the Messenger of Allah—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—affirming our position, that there are only two categories: the obligatory or the voluntary, for whatever is beyond the five is voluntary, and this is a matter no one may legitimately oppose.

L4814 As for the obligation of vows, it is established by the saying of Allah the Exalted: “Fulfill [your] covenants” [Al-Ma’idah: 1], and the statement of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him): “Whoever vows to obey Allah, let him obey Him.” There is no disagreement from anyone among the Ummah that the five prayers are obligatory, and whoever opposes this is a disbeliever.[1] وَأَمَّا كَوْنُ صَلَاةِ الْجَنَازَةِ فَرْضًا عَلَى الْكِفَايَةِ، فَلِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «صَلُّوا عَلَى صَاحِبِكُمْ» ، وَلَا خِلَافَ فِي أَنَّهُ إذَا قَامَ بِالصَّلَاةِ عَلَيْهَا قَوْمٌ فَقَدْ سَقَطَ الْفَرْضُ عَنْ الْبَاقِينَ.

L4815 As for the funeral prayer being a collective obligation, this is based on the statement of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him): “Pray over your companion.” There is no disagreement that if a group performs the prayer over the deceased, the obligation is lifted from the others.

وَأَمَّا كَوْنُ مَا عَدَا ذَلِكَ تَطَوُّعًا فَإِجْمَاعٌ مِنْ الْحَاضِرِينَ مِنْ الْمُخَالِفِينَ إلَّا فِي الْوِتْرِ، فَإِنَّ أَبَا حَنِيفَةَ قَالَ: إنَّهُ وَاجِبٌ، وَقَدْ رُوِيَ عَنْ بَعْضِ الْمُتَقَدِّمِينَ: إنَّهُ فَرْضٌ.

L4816 As for considering what is beyond that as supererogatory prayer, it is established by consensus of the attending scholars from opposing schools, except concerning Witr. For Abū Ḥanīfah stated, “It is necessary (wājib),” and it has been narrated from some earlier scholars: “It is obligatory (farḍ).”

فَالْبُرْهَانُ عَلَى مَنْ قَالَ إنَّهُ فَرْضٌ مَا رُوِّينَا بِالسَّنَدِ الْمَذْكُورِ إلَى مُسْلِمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا حَرْمَلَةُ بْنُ يَحْيَى ثنا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ ثنا يُونُسُ هُوَ ابْنُ يَزِيدَ - عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ فَذَكَرَ حَدِيثَ الْإِسْرَاءِ - وَفِيهِ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: " فَفَرَضَ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ عَلَى أُمَّتِي خَمْسِينَ صَلَاةً " ثُمَّ ذَكَرَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - مُرَاجَعَتَهُ لِرَبِّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ فِي ذَلِكَ، إلَى أَنْ قَالَ " فَرَاجَعْت رَبِّي " فَقَالَ: " هِيَ خَمْسٌ وَهِيَ خَمْسُونَ {مَا يُبَدَّلُ الْقَوْلُ لَدَيَّ} [ق: ٢٩] فَهَذَا خَبَرٌ مِنْ اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ مَأْمُونٌ تَبَدُّلُهُ، فَصَحَّ أَنَّ الصَّلَوَاتِ لَا تُبَدَّلُ أَبَدًا عَنْ خَمْسٍ وَأَمِنَّا النَّسْخَ فِي ذَلِكَ أَبَدًا بِهَذَا النَّصِّ، فَبَطَلَ بِهَذَا قَوْلُ مَنْ قَالَ: إنَّ الْوِتْرَ فَرْضٌ، وَإِنَّ تَهَجُّدَ اللَّيْلِ فَرْضٌ، وَهُوَ قَوْلٌ رُوِّينَاهُ عَنْ الْحَسَنِ.

L4817–4819 The proof for those who said it is obligatory is what has been transmitted to us through the mentioned chain to Muslim: Harmala ibn Yaḥyā narrated to us, Ibn Wahb narrated to us, Yūnus narrated to us—who is Ibn Yazīd—from Ibn Shihāb, from Anas ibn Mālik. He mentioned the Hadith of the Night Journey—in which the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said: “Then Allah, the Mighty and Exalted, ordained fifty prayers upon my nation.” Then he (peace and blessings be upon him) mentioned his repeated petitions to his Lord, the Mighty and Exalted, regarding that, until he said: “I entreated my Lord repeatedly,” and He said: “They are five and they are fifty. ’No word is altered before Me’ (Qaf 50:29).” This is a statement from Allah, the Mighty and Exalted, safeguarded against alteration. Thus, it is established that the prayers cannot be changed from five forever, and we are eternally secure from abrogation in this matter by this explicit text. Therefore, the claim of those who say: “Witr is obligatory,” and “The night vigil prayer is obligatory,” is invalidated by this. This is a statement we have transmitted from Al-Hasan.[2] وَأَيْضًا فَإِنَّ يُونُسَ بْنَ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ حَدَّثَنَا قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَبُو عِيسَى بْنُ أَبِي عِيسَى ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ خَالِدٍ ثنا ابْنُ وَضَّاحٍ ثنا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ ثنا حُسَيْنُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ هُوَ الْجُعْفِيُّ - عَنْ زَائِدَةَ عَنْ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ عُمَيْرٍ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْمُنْتَشِرِ عَنْ حُمَيْدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ «جَاءَ رَجُلٌ إِلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَقَالَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ أَيُّ الصَّلَاةِ أَفْضَلُ بَعْدَ الْمَكْتُوبَةِ؟ قَالَ: الصَّلَاةُ مِنْ جَوْفِ اللَّيْلِ قَالَ: أَيُّ الصِّيَامِ أَفْضَلُ بَعْدَ رَمَضَانَ؟ قَالَ: شَهْرُ اللَّهِ الَّذِي يَدْعُونَهُ الْمُحَرَّمَ» .

L4820 Furthermore, Yūnus ibn ʿAbd Allāh narrated to us, saying: Abū ʿĪsā ibn Abī ʿĪsā narrated to us, then Aḥmad ibn Khālid narrated to us, then Ibn Waḍḍāḥ narrated to us, then Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated to us, then Ḥusayn ibn ʿAlī (who is al-Juʿfī) narrated to us from Zā'idah, from ʿAbd al-Malik ibn ʿUmayr, from Muḥammad ibn al-Muntashir, from Ḥumayd ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān, from Abū Hurayrah, who said: "A man came to the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him—and said: 'O Messenger of Allāh, which prayer is most virtuous after the prescribed prayer?' He replied: 'Prayer in the middle of the night.' The man asked: 'Which fasting is most virtuous after Ramaḍān?' He answered: 'The month of Allāh that they call it al-Muḥarram.'"

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّد: فَصَحَّ أَنَّ تَهَجُّدَ اللَّيْلِ لَيْسَ مِنْ الْمَكْتُوبَةِ، وَالْوِتْرُ مِنْ تَهَجُّدِ اللَّيْلِ، فَبِهَذَيْنِ الْخَبَرَيْنِ صَحَّ أَنَّ قَوْلَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - لِعَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عَمْرٍو «يَا عَبْدَ اللَّهِ لَا تَكُنْ مِثْلَ فُلَانٍ كَانَ يَقُومُ مِنْ اللَّيْلِ فَتَرَكَ قِيَامَ اللَّيْلِ» وَقَوْلُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لِحَفْصَةَ عَنْ أَخِيهَا عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْ جَمِيعِهِمْ «نِعْمَ الرَّجُلُ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ لَوْ كَانَ يُصَلِّي مِنْ اللَّيْلِ» ، وَقَوْلُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - الَّذِي رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَحْمَدَ بْنِ حَنْبَلٍ عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ الْقَطَّانِ عَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ حَدَّثَنِي نَافِعٌ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: «اجْعَلُوا آخِرَ صَلَاتِكُمْ بِاللَّيْلِ وِتْرًا» ، وَقَوْلُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «بَادِرُوا الصُّبْحَ بِالْوِتْرِ» وَ «يَا أَهْلَ الْقُرْآنِ أَوْتِرُوا» إنَّ هَذِهِ الْأَوَامِرَ كُلَّهَا نَدْبٌ، لَا يَجُوزُ غَيْرُ ذَلِكَ.

L4821 Abū Muḥammad said: It has been established that the night vigil (Tahajjud) is not among the obligatory prayers, and Witr is part of the night vigil. Through these two reports, it is confirmed that the statement of the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—to ʿAbdullāh ibn ʿAmr, "O ʿAbdullāh, do not be like so-and-so who used to stand in prayer at night but then abandoned night prayer," and his statement—peace be upon him—to Ḥafṣah regarding her brother ʿAbdullāh ibn ʿUmar—may Allāh be pleased with all of them—"What an excellent man ʿAbdullāh is, if only he would pray at night," and his statement—peace be upon him—which we have narrated through the chain of Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal from Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān from ʿUbaydullāh ibn ʿUmar: Nāfiʿ narrated to me from Ibn ʿUmar from the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—who said, "Conclude your night prayers with Witr," and his statement—peace be upon him—"Perform Witr before dawn arrives," and "O people of the Quran, perform Witr"—indeed, all these commands are recommendations; it is impermissible to hold otherwise.[3]

وَأَمَّا الْحَدِيثُ «إنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَعْقِدُ عَلَى قَافِيَةِ رَأْسِ أَحَدِكُمْ إذَا هُوَ نَامَ ثَلَاثَ عُقَدٍ يَضْرِبُ كُلَّ عُقْدَةٍ عَلَيْكَ لَيْلٌ طَوِيلٌ فَارْقُدْ وَفِي آخِرِهِ فَإِنْ صَلَّى انْحَلَّتْ عُقْدَةٌ فَأَصْبَحَ نَشِيطًا طَيِّبَ النَّفْسِ، وَإِلَّا أَصْبَحَ خَبِيثَ النَّفْسِ كَسْلَانَ» ، وَقَوْلُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -:

L4822–4824 As for the ḥadīth: "Indeed Satan ties three knots at the crown of one's head when he sleeps, striking each knot [saying]: 'A long night lies ahead—so sleep!' At its end, if he prays, a knot is loosened, and he awakens energetic and good-natured. But if he does not pray, he awakens evil-souled and lazy," and his statement—peace be upon him—when it was mentioned to him... A man who remained asleep until dawn without rising for prayer, so the Prophet (peace be upon him) said: "Satan has urinated in his ear." Indeed, the obligation remains incumbent upon him, and his sleeping through it is due to what we have mentioned.

[3] Hadith references (L4821): Mishkat al-Masabih 1234; Sahih Muslim 2479a; Riyad as-Salihin 1162.

إِذْ ذُكِرَ لَهُ رَجُلٌ لَمْ يَزَلْ نَائِمًا حَتَّى أَصْبَحَ مَا قَامَ إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ، فَقَالَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «بَالَ الشَّيْطَانُ فِي أُذُنِهِ» - إِنَّمَا هُوَ عَلَى الْفَرْضِ وَنَوْمِهِ عَنْهُ لِمَا ذَكَرْنَا.

L4825 A proof cannot be opposed except with another proof, and what comes from Allah does not differ, nor is it contradictory. It has been narrated to us from Shu'bah from Abū Isḥāq al-Sabī'ī from 'Āṣim ibn Ḍamrah from 'Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib, who said: "The Witr prayer is not an obligation, but rather a Sunnah."

وَالْبُرْهَانُ لَا يُعَارَضُ إِلَّا بِبُرْهَانٍ، وَمَا كَانَ مِنْ عِنْدِ اللَّهِ فَلَا يَخْتَلِفُ، وَلَا يَتَكَاذَبُ، وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ شُعْبَةَ عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ السَّبِيعِيِّ عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ ضَمْرَةَ عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ قَالَ: الْوِتْرُ لَيْسَ بِحَتْمٍ وَلَكِنَّهُ سُنَّةٌ.

L4826 It has been narrated to us from Sufyan al-Thawri, from Abu Ishaq, from Asim, from Ali, who said: "The Witr prayer is not an obligation, but rather a Sunnah prescribed by the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him)." And from Ubada ibn al-Samit is the rejection of those who assert that Witr is obligatory.

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ عَنْ عَاصِمٍ عَنْ عَلِيٍّ قَالَ: «الْوِتْرُ لَيْسَ فَرِيضَةً وَلَكِنَّهُ سُنَّةٌ سَنَّهَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -» ، وَعَنْ عُبَادَةَ بْنِ الصَّامِتِ تَكْذِيبُ مَنْ قَالَ إِنَّ الْوِتْرَ وَاجِبٌ.

L4827 It has been narrated to us from al-Ḥajjāj ibn al-Minhal that Jarīr ibn Ḥāzim narrated to us, saying: "I asked Nāfi', the client of Ibn 'Umar: 'Did Ibn 'Umar perform Witr prayer while mounted?' He replied: 'Yes. And does Witr hold any superiority over other voluntary prayers?'" It has also been narrated to us from Ayyūb al-Sikhtiyānī, from Sa'īd ibn Jubayr, that he was asked about one who did not perform Witr until dawn broke. He said: "He will perform Witr on another day."

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ الْحَجَّاجِ بْنِ الْمِنْهَالِ حَدَّثَنَا جَرِيرُ بْنُ حَازِمٍ قَالَ: سَأَلْت نَافِعًا مَوْلَى ابْنِ عُمَرَ: أَكَانَ ابْنُ عُمَرَ يُوتِرُ عَلَى رَاحِلَتِهِ؟ قَالَ نَعَمْ وَهَلْ لِلْوِتْرِ فَضِيلَةٌ عَلَى سَائِرِ التَّطَوُّعِ؟ وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ أَيُّوبَ السِّخْتِيَانِيِّ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ أَنَّهُ سُئِلَ عَنْ مَنْ لَمْ يُوتِرْ حَتَّى أَصْبَحَ؟ قَالَ سَيُوتِرُ يَوْمًا آخَرَ.

L4828 It has been related to us from Qatādah, from Sa'īd ibn al-Musayyib, that a man asked him about Witr (the odd-numbered prayer). Sa'īd said: "The Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) observed Witr, and if you forgo it, you are not accountable. He prayed Ḍuḥā, and if you neglect it, you are not accountable. He prayed two rak'ahs prior to Ẓuhr and two following it, and if you omit them, you are not accountable."

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ قَتَادَةَ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيِّبِ أَنَّهُ سَأَلَهُ رَجُلٌ عَنْ الْوِتْرِ، فَقَالَ سَعِيدٌ: أَوْتَرَ النَّبِيُّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَإِنْ تَرَكْتَ فَلَيْسَ عَلَيْك، وَصَلَّى الضُّحَى، وَإِنْ تَرَكْتَ فَلَيْسَ عَلَيْك؛ وَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ الظُّهْرِ وَرَكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَهَا، وَإِنْ تَرَكْتَ فَلَيْسَ عَلَيْك.

L4829 From Ibn Jurayj: I asked 'Ata': Is Witr obligatory? Are the two rak'ahs before the Fajr prayer obligatory? Is any prayer before an obligatory prayer or after it obligatory? He said: "No." This is the opinion of al-Shafi'i, Dawud, and the majority of earlier and later scholars.

وَعَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ، قُلْت لِعَطَاءٍ: أَوَاجِبٌ الْوِتْرُ وَرَكْعَتَانِ أَمَامَ الصُّبْحِ أَوْ شَيْءٌ مِنْ الصَّلَاةِ قَبْلَ الْمَكْتُوبَةِ أَوْ بَعْدَهَا؟ قَالَ لَا، وَهُوَ قَوْلُ الشَّافِعِيِّ وَدَاوُد وَجُمْهُورِ الْمُتَقَدِّمِينَ وَالْمُتَأَخِّرِينَ.

L4830 As for Abū Ḥanīfa, if he held that the Witr prayer is an obligation farḍ, we have already invalidated this claim. If he held that the Witr prayer is a binding duty wājib—neither obligatory nor supererogatory—this is a corrupt opinion, and we have already invalidated it at the beginning of this juridical matter.

وَأَمَّا أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ فَإِنْ كَانَ ذَهَبَ إلَى أَنَّ الْوِتْرَ فَرْضٌ فَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا بُطْلَانَ هَذَا الْقَوْلِ، وَإِنْ كَانَ ذَهَبَ إلَى أَنَّ الْوِتْرَ وَاجِبٌ لَا فَرْضٌ، وَلَا تَطَوُّعٌ؛ فَهُوَ قَوْلٌ فَاسِدٌ، وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا إبْطَالَهُ فِي صَدْرِ هَذِهِ الْمَسْأَلَةِ.

L4831 Malik said: It is not obligatory, but whoever omits it is disciplined, and it is a blemish in his testimony.

وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: لَيْسَ فَرْضًا، وَلَكِنْ مَنْ تَرَكَهُ أُدِّبَ، وَكَانَتْ جُرْحَةً فِي شَهَادَتِهِ.

L4832 Abu Muhammad said: This is a clear error, for one who neglects Witr must either be disobedient to Allah, the Majestic and Exalted, or not disobedient. If he is disobedient to Allah the Exalted, then no one disobeys by abandoning what is neither incumbent upon them nor obligatory; therefore Witr is an obligation - and he does not hold this view. If he asserts: "Rather, he is not disobedient to Allah the Exalted."

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: وَهَذَا خَطَأٌ بَيِّنٌ؛ لِأَنَّهُ لَا يَخْلُو تَارِكُهُ أَنْ يَكُونَ عَاصِيًا لِلَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ أَوْ غَيْرَ عَاصٍ؛ فَإِنْ كَانَ عَاصِيًا لِلَّهِ تَعَالَى فَلَا يَعْصِي أَحَدٌ بِتَرْكِ مَا لَا يَلْزَمُهُ وَلَيْسَ فَرْضًا؛ فَالْوِتْرُ إذَنْ فَرْضٌ، وَهُوَ لَا يَقُولُ بِهَذَا، وَإِنْ قَالَ: بَلْ هُوَ غَيْرُ عَاصٍ - لِلَّهِ تَعَالَى.

L4833 It is invalid to discipline one who has not disobeyed Allah, the Exalted, or to impugn the testimony of someone who is not guilty of disobeying Allah, the Mighty and Majestic; for whoever has not disobeyed Allah, the Mighty and Majestic, has done good, and Allah, the Exalted, says: "There is no way to hold the doers of good accountable" [At-Tawbah 9:91].[4]

قِيلَ: فَمِنْ الْبَاطِلِ أَنْ يُؤَدَّبَ مَنْ لَمْ يَعْصِ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى، أَوْ أَنْ تُجَرَّحَ شَهَادَةُ مَنْ لَيْسَ عَاصِيًا لِلَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ؛ لِأَنَّ مَنْ لَمْ يَعْصِ اللَّهَ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ فَقَدْ أَحْسَنَ، وَاَللَّهُ تَعَالَى يَقُولُ: {مَا عَلَى الْمُحْسِنِينَ مِنْ سَبِيلٍ} [التوبة: ٩١] .

L4834–4836 Abu Muhammad said: Yet, Witr prayer is the most emphasized voluntary prayer, based on the hadiths we have mentioned from the Messenger's teachings. The most emphasized prayers after Witr are the Duha prayer; two rak'ahs upon entering the mosque; the prayer of someone who prays with a congregation then finds another group performing the same prayer; the eclipse prayer; and four rak'ahs after Jumu'ah - "because the Messenger of God (peace and blessings be upon him) commanded these," and whatever he قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: إلَّا أَنَّ الْوِتْرَ أَوْكَدُ التَّطَوُّعِ، لِلْأَحَادِيثِ الَّتِي ذَكَرْنَا مِنْ أَمْرِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -؛ ثُمَّ أَوْكَدُهَا بَعْدَ الْوِتْرِ صَلَاةُ الضُّحَى وَرَكْعَتَانِ عِنْدَ دُخُولِ الْمَسْجِدِ، وَصَلَاةُ مَنْ صَلَّى فِي جَمَاعَةٍ ثُمَّ وَجَدَ جَمَاعَةً يُصَلُّونَ تِلْكَ الصَّلَاةَ؛ وَصَلَاةُ الْكُسُوفِ وَأَرْبَعٌ بَعْدَ الْجُمُعَةِ «؛ لِأَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَمَرَ بِهَذِهِ» ، وَمَا أَمَرَ بِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - فَهُوَ أَوْكَدُ مِمَّا لَمْ يَأْمُرْ بِهِ.

(peace be upon him) commanded carries more weight than what he did not command.

L4837 It has been narrated to us via the chain of Malik from ʻĀmir ibn ʻAbdillāh ibn al-Zubayr from ʻAmr ibn Sulaym al-Zuraqī from Abī Qatādah al-Sulamī that the Messenger of Allāh—peace be upon him—said: "When one of you enters the mosque, let him pray two rakʿahs before he sits."[5]

L4838 It has been narrated to us from ʿAbd al-Wārith ibn Saʿīd al-Tannūrī, from Abū al-Tayyāḥ, who narrated to me from Abū ʿUthmān al-Nahdī, from Abū Hurayrah, who said—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—"My intimate friend advised me to fast three days every month, pray the two rakʿahs of Ḍuḥā, and perform Witr before I retire to sleep."[6]

L4839 It has been narrated to us from Shuʻbah from Abū Naʻāmah from ʻAbdullāh ibn al-Ṣāmit from Abū Dharr, who said: The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said: "Perform the prayer at its prescribed time. Then, if the iqamah is established, pray with them, for indeed it is an increase in goodness."[7]

L4840 And it has been narrated to us from Sufyān ibn ʿUyaynah: Sahl ibn Abī Ṣāliḥ narrated to us from his father from Abū Hurayrah, who said: "The Messenger of Allāh—may Allāh bless him and grant him peace—commanded us to pray four rak'ahs after Jumuʿah."

to us: Sufyān ibn ʿUyaynah narrated to us: Suhayl ibn Abī Ṣāliḥ narrated from his father, from Abū Hurayrah, who said: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—commanded us to pray four rakʿahs after Jumuʿah."

L4843–4844 Then, after these [acts], the remaining ones we mentioned follow, since no command has been issued regarding them. However, there is his practice (peace and blessings be upon him) and motivational encouragement [to perform them]. As for our disapproval of abandoning such acts, it is because they are acts of goodness. Allah the Exalted has said: "And do good" [Al-Hajj: 77].[8]

L4845 An issue: There is no prayer incumbent upon those who have not reached puberty among men and women.

L4846 Issue 276: Prayer is not obligatory for those who have not reached puberty among males and females. However, it is recommended to teach them if they comprehend it, based on the statement of Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) which we previously mentioned: "The pen is lifted from three [categories] - including the child until he reaches puberty." And the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) taught Ibn Abbas certain aspects of prayer and led him in prayer before he reached puberty. It is recommended to train a child in prayer when he reaches seven years of age, and to discipline him regarding it when he reaches ten years of age.

L4847 Regarding what ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us: from Ibn al-Sulaym, from Ibn al-Aʿrābī, from Abū Dāwūd, from Muḥammad ibn ʿĪsā, from Ibrāhīm ibn Saʿd, from ʿAbd al-Malik ibn al-Rabīʿ ibn Sabra, from his father, from his grandfather, who said: The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said, "Instruct the child to pray when he reaches the age of seven. When he reaches the age of ten, strike him for neglecting it."

[لَا صَلَاةَ عَلَى مجنون وَلَا مغمى عَلَيْهِ وَلَا حائض وَلَا نفساء] is unconscious, a menstruating woman, or a postpartum woman.

L4849 277 - Issue: There is no obligation upon an insane person, one who has fainted, a menstruating woman, or postpartum women, nor is there a requirement to make up missed prayers for any of them—except if the insane or unconscious person regains awareness, or the menstruating woman or postpartum women attain purity within a time period that still allows them to begin the prayer after becoming pure.

٢٧٧ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَلَا عَلَى مَجْنُونٍ، وَلَا مُغْمًى عَلَيْهِ، وَلَا حَائِضٍ، وَلَا نُفَسَاءَ، وَلَا قَضَاءَ عَلَى وَاحِدٍ مِنْهُمْ إِلَّا مَا أَفَاقَ الْمَجْنُونُ وَالْمُغْمَى عَلَيْهِ، أَوْ طَهُرَتْ الْحَائِضُ وَالنُّفَسَاءُ فِي وَقْتٍ أَدْرَكُوا فِيهِ بَعْدَ الطَّهَارَةِ الدُّخُولَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ.

L4850 The proof of that is the statement of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him: "The pen is lifted from three: the insane until he regains sanity, the child until he reaches puberty, and the sleeper until he awakens." As for the menstruating woman and the postpartum woman, there is a certain consensus on exempting them from making up prayers. Regarding the unconscious person, we have narrated from Ammar ibn Yasir, Ata, Mujahid, Ibrahim, Hammad ibn Abi Sulayman, and Qatadah that he must make up the prayers. Sufyan said: He makes up the Dhuhr and Asr prayers only if he regains consciousness at sunset. Abu Hanifah said: If he is unconscious for five prayers, he makes them up, but if he is unconscious for more than five prayers, he does not make up anything.

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ قَوْلُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «رُفِعَ الْقَلَمُ عَنْ ثَلَاثَةٍ فَذَكَرَ الْمَجْنُونَ حَتَّى يُفِيقَ» وَأَمَّا الْحَائِضُ وَالنُّفَسَاءُ، وَإِسْقَاطُ الْقَضَاءِ عَنْهَا فَإِجْمَاعٌ مُتَيَقَّنٌ، وَأَمَّا الْمُغْمَى عَلَيْهِ فَإِنَّنَا رُوِّينَا عَنْ عَمَّارِ بْنِ يَاسِرٍ وَعَطَاءٍ وَمُجَاهِدٍ وَإِبْرَاهِيمَ وَحَمَّادِ بْنِ أَبِي سُلَيْمَانَ وَقَتَادَةَ أَنَّ الْمُغْمَى عَلَيْهِ يَقْضِي، وَقَالَ سُفْيَانُ: يَقْضِي إنْ أَفَاقَ عِنْدَ غُرُوبِ الشَّمْسِ الظُّهْرَ وَالْعَصْرَ فَقَطْ، وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: إنْ أُغْمِيَ عَلَيْهِ خَمْسُ صَلَوَاتٍ قَضَاهُنَّ، فَإِنْ أُغْمِيَ عَلَيْهِ أَكْثَرُ لَمْ يَقْضِ شَيْئًا.

L4851–4853 Ali said: As for the opinion of Abū Ḥanīfah, it is of the utmost corruption because no definitive text came to support what he said, nor... By analogy, because the jurists waived six prayers for the unconscious person and did not consider it obligatory upon him to make up any of them.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: أَمَّا قَوْلُ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ فَفِي غَايَةِ الْفَسَادِ، لِأَنَّهُ لَا نَصَّ أَتَى بِمَا قَالَ، وَلَا قِيَاسَ، لِأَنَّهُ أَسْقَطَ عَنْ الْمُغْمَى عَلَيْهِ سِتَّ صَلَوَاتٍ وَلَمْ يَرَ عَلَيْهِ قَضَاءَ شَيْءٍ مِنْهُنَّ.

L4854 He obligated him to make up the five prayers if he fainted and missed them. He neither analogized the one who fainted to another who fainted regarding waiving the obligation to make up prayers, nor did he analogize the one who fainted to a sleeper concerning the obligation to make up all that he missed due to sleeping.

وَأَوْجَبَ عَلَيْهِ إنْ أُغْمِيَ عَلَيْهِ خَمْسَ صَلَوَاتٍ أَنْ يَقْضِيَهُنَّ؛ فَلَمْ يَقِسْ الْمُغْمَى عَلَيْهِ عَلَى الْمُغْمَى عَلَيْهِ فِي إسْقَاطِ الْقَضَاءِ، وَلَا قَاسَ الْمُغْمَى عَلَيْهِ عَلَى النَّائِمِ فِي وُجُوبِ الْقَضَاءِ عَلَيْهِ فِي كُلِّ مَا نَامَ عَنْهُ.

L4855 It has been authentically established that Ibn Umar's position contradicts Ammar's statement. What has been transmitted to us regarding Ammar is that he lost consciousness during four prayers and made them up, as evidenced by our narration through Abd al-Razzaq ibn Jurayj from Nafi: that

وَقَدْ صَحَّ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ خِلَافُ قَوْلِ عَمَّارٍ عَلَى أَنَّ الَّذِي رُوِّينَا عَنْ عَمَّارٍ إنَّمَا هُوَ إنَّهُ أُغْمِيَ عَلَيْهِ أَرْبَعُ صَلَوَاتٍ فَقَضَاهُنَّ، كَمَا رُوِّينَا عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ بْنِ جُرَيْجٍ عَنْ نَافِعٍ أَنَّ ابْنَ

Ibn Umar once suffered an affliction that overwhelmed his mind, causing him to abandon the prayers. When he recovered, he did not make up what he had missed. Similarly, from Abdullah ibn Umar from Nafi: Ibn Umar remained unconscious for a day and night, yet he did not make up the missed prayers.

عُمَرَ اشْتَكَى مَرَّةً غُلِبَ فِيهَا عَلَى عَقْلِهِ حَتَّى تَرَكَ الصَّلَاةَ ثُمَّ أَفَاقَ فَلَمْ يُصَلِّ مَا تَرَكَ مِنْ الصَّلَاةِ؛ وَعَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ عَنْ نَافِعٍ: أُغْمِيَ عَلَى ابْنِ عُمَرَ يَوْمًا وَلَيْلَةً فَلَمْ يَقْضِ مَا فَاتَهُ.

L4856 And from Ibn Jurayj from Ibn Ṭāwūs from his father: If a sick person loses consciousness and then regains his senses, he does not have to repeat the prayer.

L4857 Ma'mar said: I asked al-Zuhri about the person who has lost consciousness, and he said he does not have to make up [the prayers]. And it is narrated from Hammad ibn Salama, on the authority of Yunus ibn 'Ubayd, who reported from al-Hasan al-Basri and Muhammad ibn Sirin, that they both said regarding the person who has lost consciousness: He does not repeat the prayer during which he regained consciousness.

قَالَ مَعْمَرٌ: سَأَلْت الزُّهْرِيَّ عَنْ الْمُغْمَى عَلَيْهِ فَقَالَ لَا يَقْضِي وَعَنْ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ يُونُسَ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ عَنْ الْحَسَنِ الْبَصْرِيِّ وَمُحَمَّدِ بْنِ سِيرِينَ أَنَّهُمَا قَالَا فِي الْمُغْمَى عَلَيْهِ: لَا يُعِيدُ الصَّلَاةَ الَّتِي أَفَاقَ عِنْدَهَا.

L4858 Hammad said, "I asked 'Asim ibn Bahdala: 'Did you repeat [the recitation] of what was unclear to you?' He said: 'As for that, no.'"

قَالَ حَمَّادٌ قُلْت لِعَاصِمِ بْنِ بَهْدَلَةَ: أَعُدْتَ مَا كَانَ مُغْمًى عَلَيْك؟ قَالَ أَمَّا ذَاكَ فَلَا.

L4859 Ali said: The one who has fainted neither retains reason nor comprehends; thus, the obligation is lifted from him. If all those we have mentioned are not subject to the obligation during its prescribed time—the time when people were obligated to perform it—then it is not permissible to perform it outside its designated time, for Allah the Exalted has not commanded this. A prayer not commanded by Allah is not obligatory, and success is only by Allah, the Exalted.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: الْمُغْمَى عَلَيْهِ لَا يَعْقِلُ، وَلَا يَفْهَمُ؛ فَالْخِطَابُ عَنْهُ مُرْتَفِعٌ، وَإِذَا كَانَ كُلُّ مَنْ ذَكَرْنَا غَيْرَ مُخَاطَبٍ بِهَا فِي وَقْتِهَا الَّذِي أُلْزِمَ النَّاسُ أَنْ يُؤَدُّوهَا فِيهِ: فَلَا يَجُوزُ أَدَاؤُهَا فِي غَيْرِ وَقْتِهَا؛ لِأَنَّهُ لَمْ يَأْمُرْ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِذَلِكَ، وَصَلَاةٌ لَمْ يَأْمُرْ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِهَا لَا تَجِبُ، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

Issue: A person who was intoxicated until the prayer time elapsed, or who slept through it until its time elapsed.

L4861 Issue: As for one who is intoxicated until the prayer time elapses, or sleeps through it until its time passes, or forgets it until its time passes: it has been made obligatory specifically upon these individuals to perform the prayer perpetually.

٢٧٨ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَأَمَّا مَنْ سَكِرَ حَتَّى خَرَجَ وَقْتُ الصَّلَاةِ أَوْ نَامَ عَنْهَا حَتَّى خَرَجَ وَقْتُهَا أَوْ نَسِيَهَا حَتَّى خَرَجَ وَقْتُهَا: فَفُرِضَ عَلَى هَؤُلَاءِ خَاصَّةً أَنْ يُصَلُّوهَا أَبَدًا.

L4862 Allah the Exalted said: "Do not approach prayer while you are intoxicated until you know what you are saying" [An-Nisa: 43]. Therefore, Allah the

Exalted did not permit the intoxicated person to pray until he knows what he is saying.[9]

L4863–4865 Abdullah ibn Rabi' narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Mu'awiyah narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Shu'ayb narrated to us, Qutaybah ibn Sa'id narrated to us, Hammad ibn Zayd narrated to us from Thabit—al-Bunani—from Abdullah ibn Rabah from Abu Qatadah that the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, said: "There is no negligence in sleep. Negligence is only in wakefulness. So when one forgot a prayer..." If any one of you misses a prayer or sleeps through it, he should pray it when he remembers it. We have also narrated it through the chain of Anas as a musnad report. All of this constitutes definitive consensus.[10]

L4866 A legal issue concerning one who intentionally abandons the prayer until its time has expired.

L4867 279. Issue:

L4868 As for the one who intentionally neglects prayer until its time has expired, such a person can never compensate for it. Let him multiply righteous deeds and supererogatory prayers to weigh down his balance with good deeds on the Day of Resurrection. Let him repent and seek forgiveness from Allah, the Exalted and Glorious.

L4869 Abu Hanifah, Malik, and al-Shafi'i said: He must make up the prayers after their time has passed, even to the point that Malik and Abu Hanifah stated: Whoever intentionally neglects one prayer or multiple prayers must perform them before the prayer whose time has begun—if the neglected prayers are five or fewer—whether the time of the current prayer has expired or not. If the neglected prayers exceed five, he begins with the current prayer.

L4870 The proof for the validity of our position is Allah's statement, Exalted is قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {لا تَقْرَبُوا الصَّلاةَ وَأَنْتُمْ سُكَارَى حَتَّى تَعْلَمُوا مَا تَقُولُونَ} [النساء: ٤٣] فَلَمْ يُبِحْ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى لِلسَّكْرَانِ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ حَتَّى يَعْلَمَ مَا يَقُولُ.

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ شُعَيْبٍ ثنا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ ثنا حَمَّادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ عَنْ ثَابِتٍ هُوَ الْبُنَانِيُّ - عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ رَبَاحٍ عَنْ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: إنَّهُ «لَيْسَ فِي النَّوْمِ تَفْرِيطٌ، إنَّمَا التَّفْرِيطُ فِي الْيَقَظَةِ فَإِذَا نَسِيَ أَحَدُكُمْ صَلَاةً أَوْ نَامَ عَنْهَا فَلْيُصَلِّهَا إذَا ذَكَرَهَا» ، وَرُوِّينَاهُ أَيْضًا مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَنَسٍ مُسْنَدًا: وَهَذَا كُلُّهُ إجْمَاعٌ مُتَيَقَّنٌ.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ تَعَمَّدَ تَرْكَ الصَّلَاةِ حَتَّى خَرَجَ وَقْتُهَا]

٢٧٩ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

وَأَمَّا مَنْ تَعَمَّدَ تَرْكَ الصَّلَاةِ حَتَّى خَرَجَ وَقْتُهَا فَهَذَا لَا يَقْدِرُ عَلَى قَضَائِهَا أَبَدًا، فَلْيُكْثِرْ مِنْ فِعْلِ الْخَيْرِ وَصَلَاةِ التَّطَوُّعِ؛ لِيُثْقِلَ مِيزَانَهُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ، وَلْيَتُبْ وَلْيَسْتَغْفِرْ اللَّهَ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ.

وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ وَمَالِكٌ وَالشَّافِعِيُّ: يَقْضِيهَا بَعْدَ خُرُوجِ الْوَقْتِ، حَتَّى أَنَّ مَالِكًا وَأَبَا حَنِيفَةَ قَالَا: مَنْ تَعَمَّدَ تَرْكَ صَلَاةٍ أَوْ صَلَوَاتٍ فَإِنَّهُ يُصَلِّيهَا قَبْلَ الَّتِي حَضَرَ وَقْتُهَا - إنْ كَانَتْ الَّتِي تَعَمَّدَ تَرْكَهَا خَمْسَ صَلَوَاتٍ فَأَقَلَّ - سَوَاءٌ خَرَجَ وَقْتُ الْحَاضِرَةِ أَوْ لَمْ يَخْرُجْ؛ فَإِنْ كَانَتْ أَكْثَرَ مِنْ خَمْسِ صَلَوَاتٍ بَدَأَ بِالْحَاضِرَةِ.

بُرْهَانُ صِحَّةِ قَوْلِنَا قَوْلُ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {فَوَيْلٌ لِلْمُصَلِّينَ} [الماعون: ٤] {الَّذِينَ هُمْ عَنْ صَلاتِهِمْ سَاهُونَ} [الماعون: ٥] وَقَوْلُهُ تَعَالَى: {فَخَلَفَ مِنْ بَعْدِهِمْ خَلْفٌ أَضَاعُوا الصَّلاةَ وَاتَّبَعُوا

[9] Qur'an references (L4862): Qur'an 4:43 (An-Nisa).

[10] Hadith references (L4863): Sunan an-Nasai 615; Sunan Ibn Majah 698; Jami at-Tirmidhi 177.

He: “Woe to those who pray—those who are neglectful of their prayers” [Al-Māʿūn:4–5], and His words: “Then there succeeded them successors who squandered prayer and pursued desires; so they will face deviation” [Maryam:59]. For if one who deliberately neglects prayer could still perform it after its time had expired, he would neither incur woe nor face deviation—just as one who delays prayer until the end of its appointed time while still being able to perform it incurs neither woe nor deviation.[11] الشَّهَوَاتِ فَسَوْفَ يَلْقَوْنَ غَيًّا} [مريم: ٥٩] فَلَوْ كَانَ الْعَامِدُ لِتَرْكِ الصَّلَاةِ مُدْرِكًا لَهَا بَعْدَ خُرُوجِ وَقْتِهَا لَمَا كَانَ لَهُ الْوَيْلُ، وَلَا لَقِيَ الْغَيَّ؛ كَمَا لَا وَيْلَ، وَلَا غَيَّ؛ لِمَنْ أَخَّرَهَا إِلَى آخِرِ وَقْتِهَا الَّذِي يَكُونُ مُدْرِكًا لَهَا.

L4871 Moreover, Allah, the Exalted, has designated for every obligatory prayer a time bounded by two fixed points: it becomes valid at a defined moment and ceases to be valid at a defined time. Thus, there is no distinction between one who prays it before its time and one who prays it after its time, for both have prayed outside of the prescribed time. This is not a case of analogizing one to the other; rather, they are equal in transgressing the limits set by Allah, the Exalted. Allah, the Exalted, has said: {And whoever transgresses the limits set by Him has wronged himself} [At-Talaq 65:1].[12]

L4872 Furthermore, judicial decree is a legislative obligation, and divine legislation cannot originate from anyone other than Allah the Exalted as conveyed by His Messenger.

L4873–4875 So we ask those who obligate the one who intentionally neglected prayers to make up what he deliberately omitted: Inform us about this prayer you command him concerning—is it the very prayer Allah the Exalted ordained for him, or another? If they say: “It is the same,” we respond: Then the intentional neglector is not disobedient for abandoning it, since he has done what Allah the Exalted commanded, and there is no sin. According to your claim, there is no blame upon one who intentionally neglects the prayer until after its time has expired; no Muslim would ever say such a thing.

فَنَسْأَلُ مَنْ أَوْجَبَ عَلَى الْعَامِدِ قَضَاءَ مَا تَعَمَّدَ تَرْكَهُ مِنْ الصَّلَاةِ: أَخْبِرْنَا عَنْ هَذِهِ الصَّلَاةِ الَّتِي تَأْمُرُهُ بِفِعْلِهَا، أَهِيَ الَّتِي أَمَرَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِهَا؟ أَمْ هِيَ غَيْرُهَا؟ فَإِنْ قَالُوا: هِيَ هِيَ؛ قُلْنَا لَهُمْ: فَالْعَامِدُ، لِتَرْكِهَا لَيْسَ عَاصِيًا؛ لِأَنَّهُ قَدْ فَعَلَ مَا أَمَرَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى، وَلَا إِثْمَ عَلَى قَوْلِكُمْ، وَلَا مَلَامَةَ عَلَى مَنْ تَعَمَّدَ تَرْكَ الصَّلَاةِ حَتَّى يَخْرُجَ وَقْتُهَا، وَهَذَا لَا يَقُولُهُ مُسْلِمٌ.

L4876 And if they say, “This is not what Allah, the Exalted, commanded him to do,” we say, “You are truthful,” and this suffices, since they have admitted وَإِنْ قَالُوا: لَيْسَتْ هِيَ الَّتِي أَمَرَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِهَا، قُلْنَا صَدَقْتُمْ؛ وَفِي هَذَا كِفَايَةٌ إِذْ أَقَرُّوا بِأَنَّهُمْ أَمَرُوهُ بِمَا لَمْ يَأْمُرْهُ بِهِ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى.

[11] Qur’an references (L4870): Qur’an 107:4 (Al-Ma’un); Qur’an 107:5 (Al-Ma’un); Qur’an 19:59 (Maryam).

[12] Qur’an references (L4871): Qur’an 65:1 (At-Talaq).

commanding him with something Allah, the Exalted, did not command him with.

ثُمَّ نَسْأَلُهُمْ عَمَّنْ تَعَمَّدَ تَرْكَ الصَّلَاةِ إلَى بَعْدِ الْوَقْتِ: أَطَاعَةٌ هِيَ أَمْ مَعْصِيَةٌ؟ فَإِنْ قَالُوا: طَاعَةٌ، خَالَفُوا إجْمَاعَ أَهْلِ الْإِسْلَامِ كُلِّهِمْ الْمُتَيَقَّنَ، وَخَالَفُوا الْقُرْآنَ وَالسُّنَنَ الثَّابِتَةَ: وَإِنْ قَالُوا: هُوَ مَعْصِيَةٌ صَدَقُوا، وَمِنْ الْبَاطِلِ أَنْ تَنُوبَ الْمَعْصِيَةُ عَنْ الطَّاعَةِ.

L4877 Then we ask them about one who intentionally abandons prayer until after its time: is this obedience or disobedience? If they say, "Obedience," they have opposed the definitive consensus of the entire Muslim community and contradicted the Quran and the established Sunnahs. If they say, "It is disobedience," they are correct, and it is falsehood for disobedience to replace obedience.

وَأَيْضًا فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى قَدْ حَدَّ أَوْقَاتَ الصَّلَاةِ عَلَى لِسَانِ رَسُولِهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَجَعَلَ لِكُلِّ وَقْتِ صَلَاةٍ مِنْهَا أَوَّلًا لَيْسَ مَا قَبْلَهُ وَقْتًا لِتَأْدِيَتِهَا، وَآخِرًا لَيْسَ مَا بَعْدَهُ وَقْتًا، لِتَأْدِيَتِهَا، هَذَا مَا لَا خِلَافَ فِيهِ مِنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ الْأُمَّةِ، فَلَوْ جَازَ أَدَاؤُهَا بَعْدَ الْوَقْتِ لَمَا كَانَ لِتَحْدِيدِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - آخِرَ وَقْتِهَا مَعْنًى، وَلَكَانَ لَغْوًا مِنْ الْكَلَامِ وَحَاشَا لِلَّهِ مِنْ هَذَا.

L4878 Moreover, Allah the Exalted has set the prayer times through the words of His Messenger—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—assigning to each prayer time a beginning, so that the time before it is not designated for its performance, and an end, so that the time after it is not designated for its performance. This is a matter uncontested by any member of the Ummah. If performing prayer after its designated time were permissible, the specification of its end time by him (peace be upon him) would be meaningless, becoming futile speech. Allah is far above such a thing.

وَأَيْضًا فَإِنَّ كُلَّ عَمَلٍ عُلِّقَ بِوَقْتٍ مَحْدُودٍ فَإِنَّهُ لَا يَصِحُّ فِي غَيْرِ وَقْتِهِ، وَلَوْ صَحَّ فِي غَيْرِ ذَلِكَ الْوَقْتِ لَمَا كَانَ ذَلِكَ الْوَقْتُ وَقْتًا لَهُ، وَهَذَا بَيِّنٌ، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L4879 Moreover, every act contingent upon a specified time is not legally valid outside its designated time. If it were valid outside that time, then that time would not have been its specific timeframe. This is evident, and with Allah, the Exalted, lies the attainment of success.

L4880 We ask them: Why have you permitted prayer after its time but not before it? If they claim consensus, they speak falsely, for Ibn Abbas and Al-Hasan al-Basri permit prayer before its time—especially since the Hanafis, Shafi'is, and Malikis permit zakat before its time. They assert that Abu Bakr's fighting against the apostates; was based on an analogy between zakat and prayer, and that he said, "I will surely fight those who separate prayer from zakat," for zakat is a right pertaining to wealth. Yet they themselves have differentiated here between the rulings of zakat and prayer—let those who marvel be astonished! If they claim a distinction based on textual evidence or rational analysis, they have not found it.

L4881 But you permit those who forget, those who sleep, and the intoxicated to delay making up their prayers indefinitely.

وَهَذَا خِلَافُ قَوْلِكُمْ بِالْوَقْتِ؟ قُلْنَا: لَا بَلْ وَقْتُ الصَّلَاةِ لِلنَّاسِي وَالسَّكْرَانِ وَالنَّائِمِ مُمْتَدٌّ غَيْرُ مُنْقَضٍ.

L4882 Does this contradict your view regarding the time? We replied: No, on the contrary, the prayer time for those who are forgetful, intoxicated, or asleep remains valid and has not concluded.

وَبُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ أَنَّهُمْ لَيْسُوا عُصَاةً فِي تَأْخِيرِهَا إِلَى أَيِّ وَقْتٍ صَلُّوهَا فِيهِ، وَكُلُّ أَمْرِ اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ فَإِنَّهُ مُنْقَسِمٌ عَلَى ثَلَاثَةِ أَوْجُهٍ لَا رَابِعَ لَهَا إِمَّا أَمْرٌ غَيْرُ مُعَلَّقٍ بِوَقْتٍ، فَهَذَا يُجْزِئُ أَبَدًا مَتَى أُدِّيَ، كَالْجِهَادِ وَالْعُمْرَةِ وَصَدَقَةِ التَّطَوُّعِ وَالدُّعَاءِ وَغَيْرِ ذَلِكَ، فَهَذَا يُجْزِئُ مَتَى أُدِّيَ؛ وَالْمُسَارَعَةُ إِلَيْهِ أَفْضَلُ؛ لِقَوْلِ اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ: {وَسَارِعُوا إِلَى مَغْفِرَةٍ مِنْ رَبِّكُمْ وَجَنَّةٍ عَرْضُهَا} [آل عمران: ١٣٣] ، وَإِمَّا أَمْرٌ مُعَلَّقٌ بِوَقْتٍ مَحْدُودِ الْأَوَّلِ غَيْرُ مَحْدُودِ الْآخِرِ كَالزَّكَاةِ وَنَحْوِهَا، فَهَذَا لَا يُجْزِئُ قَبْلَ وَقْتِهِ، وَلَا يَسْقُطُ بَعْدَ وُجُوبِهِ أَبَدًا؛ لِأَنَّهُ لَا آخِرَ لِوَقْتِهِ، وَالْمُبَادَرَةُ إِلَيْهِ أَفْضَلُ؛ لِمَا ذَكَرْنَا.

L4883–4885 The proof of this is that they are not disobedient ones for delaying it to any time in which they pray it. Every command of Allah, the Exalted and Majestic, is divided into three categories with no fourth: either a command not tied to a specific time. This suffices perpetually whenever performed, such as jihad, umrah, voluntary charity, supplication, and similar acts. Thus, it suffices whenever performed; hastening to it is more virtuous, based on the words of Allah, the Exalted and Majestic: “And hasten to forgiveness from your Lord and a Garden whose width is…” [Āl ʿImrān: 133], and as for a matter contingent upon a time limited in its beginning but unlimited in its end, such as _zakāh_ and analogous duties, fulfilling it before its designated time is insufficient, and it never ceases to be obligatory after becoming due indefinitely, because its time has no end. Hastening to it is superior, as we have mentioned.[13] وَإِمَّا أَمْرٌ مُعَلَّقٌ بِوَقْتٍ مَحْدُودِ أَوَّلِهِ وَآخِرِهِ فَهَذَا لَا يُجْزِئُ قَبْلَ وَقْتِهِ، وَلَا بَعْدَ وَقْتِهِ، وَيُجْزِئُ فِي جَمِيعِ وَقْتِهِ فِي أَوَّلِهِ وَآخِرِهِ وَوَسَطِهِ كَالصَّلَاةِ وَالْحَجِّ وَصَوْمِ رَمَضَانَ وَنَحْوِ ذَلِكَ.

L4886 As for an act bound to a defined time with a specific beginning and end, it is not valid before its time nor after it. It is valid during the entirety of its time—at its beginning, end, or middle—such as prayer, pilgrimage, fasting Ramadan, and the like of these.

وَنَقُولُ لِمَنْ خَالَفَنَا: قَدْ وَافَقْتُمُونَا عَلَى أَنَّ الْحَجَّ لَا يُجْزِئُ فِي غَيْرِ وَقْتِهِ، وَأَنَّ الصَّوْمَ لَا يُجْزِئُ فِي غَيْرِ النَّهَارِ، فَمِنْ أَيْنَ أَجَزْتُمْ ذَلِكَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ؟ وَكُلُّ ذَلِكَ ذُو وَقْتٍ مَحْدُودِ أَوَّلِهِ وَآخِرِهِ؟ وَهَذَا مَا لَا انْفِكَاكَ مِنْهُ.

L4887 We say to those who oppose us: You have agreed with us that Hajj does not suffice outside its appointed time, and that fasting does not suffice outside the daytime. From where then do you permit this for prayer? Do all these acts not have a fixed time with a defined beginning and end? This is an inescapable reality.

فَإِنْ قَالُوا قِسْنَا الْعَامِدَ عَلَى النَّاسِي.

L4888 If they say, “We applied analogy from the intentional person to the forgetful person.”

[13] Qur’an references (L4883): Qur’an 3:133 (Ali ’Imran).

قُلْنَا الْقِيَاسُ كُلُّهُ بَاطِلٌ، ثُمَّ لَوْ كَانَ الْقِيَاسُ حَقًّا لَكَانَ هَذَا مِنْهُ عَيْنَ الْبَاطِلِ؛ لِأَنَّ الْقِيَاسَ عِنْدَ الْقَائِلِينَ بِهِ إنَّمَا هُوَ قِيَاسُ الشَّيْءِ عَلَى نَظِيرِهِ، لَا عَلَى ضِدِّهِ، وَهَذَا مَا لَا خِلَافَ فِيهِ بَيْنَ أَحَدٍ مِنْ أَهْلِ الْقِيَاسِ، وَقَدْ وَافَقَهُمْ مَنْ لَا يَقُولُ بِالْقِيَاسِ، عَلَى أَنَّهُ لَا يَجُوزُ قِيَاسُ الشَّيْءِ عَلَى ضِدِّهِ، فَصَارَ إجْمَاعًا مُتَيَقَّنًا وَبَاطِلًا لَا شَكَّ فِيهِ.

L4889 We have declared that all analogical reasoning is invalid. Moreover, even if analogical reasoning were valid, this instance would be invalidity itself. For according to its proponents, analogical reasoning is solely the comparison of a thing to its equivalent—not its opposite. There is no disagreement among any advocates of analogical reasoning on this point, and those who reject analogical reasoning concur with them that it is impermissible to analogize a thing to its opposite. Thus, this has become an indisputable consensus and an invalidity beyond all doubt.

L4890 Intentionality is contrary to forgetfulness, and disobedience is contrary to obedience. Rather, analogizing this to what we mentioned regarding Hajj—if analogy were valid, especially since Hanafi and Maliki jurists do not analogize the one who intentionally lies when swearing an oath to the one who inadvertently breaks an oath without intending to lie concerning the obligation of expiation. Instead, they nullify the expiation for the intentional liar and impose it upon the unintentional oath-breaker. They do not analogize the intentional killer to the accidental killer regarding the obligation of expiation, but rather exempt the intentional killer from it. Nor do they deem prayer repetition obligatory for the apostate. This constitutes a clear contradiction without obscurity and an arbitrary assertion of claims. Success is from Allah, the Exalted.

L4891 If making up the prayer were obligatory for one who intentionally abandons it until its time expires, neither would Allah the Exalted have neglected that nor would His Messenger—may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him—have forgotten it, nor would they have deliberately made it difficult for us by failing to clarify it. {And your Lord is never forgetful} [Maryam 19:64]. Any Shariah not rooted in the Quran or the Sunnah is invalid.[14]

وَقَدْ صَحَّ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «مَنْ فَاتَتْهُ صَلَاةُ الْعَصْرِ فَكَأَنَّمَا وُتِرَ أَهْلَهُ وَمَالَهُ» فَصَحَّ أَنَّ مَا فَاتَ فَلَا سَبِيلَ إلَى إدْرَاكِهِ، وَلَوْ أُدْرِكَ أَوْ أَمْكَنَ أَنْ يُدْرِكَ؛ لَمَا فَاتَ، كَمَا لَا تَفُوتُ الْمَنْسِيَّةُ أَبَدًا، وَهَذَا لَا إشْكَالَ فِيهِ، وَالْأُمَّةُ أَيْضًا كُلُّهَا مُجْمِعَةٌ

L4892 It has been authentically reported from the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—"Whoever misses the Asr prayer, it is as if he has been deprived of his family and wealth." Thus, it is established that what is missed cannot be recovered. For if it were recovered or recoverable, it would not be considered missed, just as a forgotten prayer is not irrevocably missed. There is no ambiguity in this matter. Moreover, the entire ummah unanimously agrees in both statement and ruling that a prayer is considered missed once its time has passed. Thus, its being missed is established by certain consensus. If it were possible to make up for it or perform it, then the claim that it is missed would be false and null.[15]

L4893 Thus, it was established with certainty that judicial resolution in this matter can never be possible.

L4894–4895 Among those who held our opinion on this matter are Umar ibn al-Khattab and his son Abdullah; Sa'd ibn Abi Waqqas; Sulayman; Ibn Mas'ud; al-Qasim ibn Muhammad ibn Abi Bakr; Badeel al-Uqayli; Muhammad ibn Sirin; Mutarrif ibn Abdullah; Umar ibn Abd al-Aziz; and others.

L4896 It was narrated to us through Shuʿbah from Yaʿlā ibn ʿAṭāʾ from ʿAbdullāh ibn Ḥirāsh, who said: Ibn ʿUmar saw a man reading a written sheet, so he said to him: "O this reader: There is no valid prayer for one who fails to pray at its appointed time. Pray first, then read whatever you wish."

L4897 It has been narrated to us through the chain of Ibrāhīm ibn al-Mundhir al-Ḥizāmī on the authority of his uncle al-Ḍaḥḥāk ibn ʿUthmān that ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb said in his sermon at al-Jābiyah: "Listen! Indeed, prayer has a time stipulated by Allah, and it is not valid except within it."

L4898 From the narration of Muḥammad ibn al-Muthannā, from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī, from Sufyān al-Thawrī, from Abū Naḍrah, from Sālim ibn al-Jaʿd, who said: Sulaymān, the Companion of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him), said: "Salah is a measure; whoever fulfills it fully will be granted full recompense, and whoever diminishes it, you have surely known what was said about the defrauders."

L4899 Ali said: "Whoever delays prayer beyond its time has cheated. Narrated via the chain of Waki' from Sufyan al-Thawri, from Asim ibn Abi al-Najud, وَرُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ الْمُنْذِرِ الْحِزَامِيِّ عَنْ عَمِّهِ الضَّحَّاكِ بْنِ عُثْمَانَ أَنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ قَالَ فِي خُطْبَتِهِ بِالْجَابِيَةِ: أَلَا، وَإِنَّ الصَّلَاةَ لَهَا وَقْتٌ شَرَطَهُ اللَّهُ لَا تَصْلُحُ إِلَّا بِهِ.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: مَنْ أَخَّرَ الصَّلَاةَ عَنْ وَقْتِهَا فَقَدْ طَفَّفَ، وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ أَبِي النَّجُودِ عَنْ مُصْعَبِ بْنِ سَعْدِ بْنِ أَبِي وَقَّاصٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ أَنَّهُ قَالَ فِي

from Mus'ab ibn Sa'd ibn Abi Waqqas, from his father, that he said regarding Allah's statement: "Those who are heedless of their prayers" (Quran 107:5): 'Heedlessness here means abandoning the appointed time.'"[16]

قَوْلِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {الَّذِينَ هُمْ عَنْ صَلاتِهِمْ سَاهُونَ} [الماعون: ٥] قَالَ: السَّهْوُ التَّرْكُ عَنْ الْوَقْتِ.

L4900 Ali said: If it had been valid according to him after its prescribed time, he would not have faced punishment for something he had already fulfilled.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: لَوْ أَجْزَأَتْ عِنْدَهُ بَعْدَ الْوَقْتِ لَمَا كَانَ لَهُ الْوَيْلُ عَنْ شَيْءٍ قَدْ أَدَّاهُ.

L4901 Through him to Waki' from al-Mas'ūdī from al-Qāsim—that is, Ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān—and al-Ḥasan—that is, Ibn Sa'd—it was said to 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd regarding "Those who are steadfast in their prayer" [al-Ma'ārij: 23] and "And those who maintain their prayer" [al-Ma'ārij: 34]. He said: "That refers to observing its appointed times." They said: "We did not interpret that except as referring to abandoning it." He said: "Abandoning it is disbelief."[17]

وَبِهِ إِلَى وَكِيعٍ عَنْ الْمَسْعُودِيِّ عَنْ الْقَاسِمِ هُوَ ابْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ - وَالْحَسَنُ هُوَ ابْنُ سَعْدٍ - قِيلَ لِعَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ مَسْعُودٍ {الَّذِينَ هُمْ عَلَى صَلاتِهِمْ دَائِمُونَ} [المعارج: ٢٣] {وَالَّذِينَ هُمْ عَلَى صَلاتِهِمْ يُحَافِظُونَ} [المعارج: ٣٤] فَقَالَ: ذَلِكَ عَلَى مَوَاقِيتِهَا. قَالُوا: مَا كُنَّا نَرَى ذَلِكَ إِلَّا عَلَى تَرْكِهَا، قَالَ تَرْكُهَا هُوَ الْكُفْرُ.

L4902 From Muhammad ibn al-Muthanna: 'Abd al-A'la narrated to us, Sa'id ibn Abi 'Arubah narrated to us from Qatadah, who said: It was mentioned to us that 'Abdullah ibn Mas'ud used to say, "Indeed, prayer has a time like the time of Hajj; so perform the prayer at its appointed time."

وَعَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْمُثَنَّى: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْأَعْلَى حَدَّثَنَا سَعِيدِ بْنِ أَبِي عَرُوبَةَ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ قَالَ: ذُكِرَ لَنَا أَنَّ عَبْدَ اللَّهِ بْنَ مَسْعُودٍ كَانَ يَقُولُ: إِنَّ لِلصَّلاةِ وَقْتًا كَوَقْتِ الْحَجِّ، فَصَلُّوا الصَّلاةَ؛ لِمِيقَاتِهَا.

L4903–4905 From Muhammad ibn al-Muthanna: Abd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi narrated to us; Hammad ibn Zayd narrated to us from... Yahya ibn Atiq said: I heard Muhammad ibn Sirin say: Indeed, each prayer has its own appointed time. The one who prays before its time is like the one who prays after it.

وَعَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْمُثَنَّى حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ ثنا حَمَّادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنُ عَتِيقٍ قَالَ: سَمِعْت مُحَمَّدَ بْنَ سِيرِينَ يَقُولُ: إِنَّ لِلصَّلاةِ وَقْتًا وَاحِدًا، فَإِنَّ الَّذِي يُصَلِّي قَبْلَ الْوَقْتِ مِثْلُ الَّذِي يُصَلِّي بَعْدَ الْوَقْتِ.

L4906 Through the chain of Sahnun, from Ibn al-Qasim, who reported that Malik said: When the Umayyads used to delay prayers, al-Qasim ibn Muhammad ibn Abi Bakr al-Siddiq would pray in his home, then come to the mosque to pray with them. When he was addressed about this, he said: "Praying twice is more beloved to me than not praying at all."

وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ سَحْنُونَ عَنْ ابْنِ الْقَاسِمِ أَخْبَرَنِي مَالِكٌ أَنَّ الْقَاسِمَ بْنَ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ أَبِي بَكْرٍ الصِّدِّيقَ حِينَ كَانَتْ بَنُو أُمَيَّةَ يُؤَخِّرُونَ الصَّلاةَ، أَنَّهُ كَانَ يُصَلِّي فِي بَيْتِهِ، ثُمَّ يَأْتِي الْمَسْجِدَ يُصَلِّي مَعَهُمْ، فَكُلِّمَ فِي ذَلِكَ، فَقَالَ أُصَلِّي مَرَّتَيْنِ أَحَبُّ إِلَيَّ مِنْ أَنْ لَا أُصَلِّيَ شَيْئًا.

L4907 Ali said: This clarifies that the first prayer was his obligation and the other was supererogatory, thus they are two valid prayers. Indeed, a prayer performed after its time is not a prayer at all, nor is it anything.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَهَذَا يُوَضِّحُ أَنَّ الصَّلاةَ الْأُولَى كَانَتْ فَرْضَهُ وَالْأُخْرَى تَطَوُّعٌ، فَهُمَا صَلَاتَانِ صَحِيحَتَانِ، وَإِنَّ الصَّلاةَ بَعْدَ الْوَقْتِ لَيْسَتْ صَلَاةً أَصْلًا، وَلَا هِيَ شَيْءٌ.

[16] Qur'an references (L4899): Qur'an 107:5 (Al-Ma'un).
[17] Qur'an references (L4901): Qur'an 70:23 (Al-Ma'arij); Qur'an 70:34 (Al-Ma'arij).

L4908 On the authority of Asad ibn Musa ibn Marwan ibn Mu'awiyah al-Fazari: that Umar ibn Abd al-Aziz said: "I heard Allah, the Exalted, mention a people and censure them, saying: 'They squandered the prayer and pursued their desires, so they will meet perdition' [Mary: 59]. Their neglect did not entail abandoning it entirely, for had they abandoned it, they would have fallen into disbelief by doing so. Rather, they delayed it beyond its appointed time."[18]

وَعَنْ أَسَدِ بْنِ مُوسَى بْنِ مَرْوَانَ بْنِ مُعَاوِيَةَ الْفَزَارِيِّ: أَنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ عَبْدِ الْعَزِيزِ قَالَ: سَمِعْت اللَّهَ تَعَالَى ذَكَرَ أَقْوَامًا فَعَابَهُمْ فَقَالَ: {أَضَاعُوا الصَّلاةَ وَاتَّبَعُوا الشَّهَوَاتِ فَسَوْفَ يَلْقَوْنَ غَيًّا} [مريم: ٥٩] وَلَمْ تَكُنْ إضَاعَتُهُمْ إيَّاهَا، أَنْ تَرَكُوهَا؛ وَلَوْ تَرَكُوهَا لَكَانُوا بِتَرْكِهَا كُفَّارًا، وَلَكِنْ أَخَّرُوهَا عَنْ وَقْتِهَا.

L4909 From Abd al-Razzaq from Ma'mar from Budayl al-Uqayli, who said: It has reached me that when a worshipper performs the prayer during its prescribed time, it ascends with a radiant light in the sky and says: "You have preserved me - may Allah preserve you." But if he performs it outside its prescribed time, it is folded like a tattered garment, and his face is struck with it.

L4910 Among the astonishing things is that some of them said: The meaning of Ibn Umar's statement "There is no prayer for one who does not perform the prayer within its prescribed time" is that there is no complete prayer. Similarly, others interpreted his statement—peace be upon him—"There is no prayer for one who does not straighten his back during bowing and prostration," and his statement—peace be upon him—"There is no prayer for one who does not recite the Opening of the Quran" in the same manner.

L4911 Ali said: It will be said to these people: "What compelled you to assert your claim?" If they respond: "This conforms to the established usage of Arabic speech," we reply: "It is not so. Rather, the established usage of Arabic speech—which allows no other—is that lā signifies negation and complete absolution unless evidence from another textual source or a sensory necessity contradicts this. Even if we hypothetically concede it is as you claim, this would still constitute evidence for our position, which is our assertion. For every prayer that is neither perfected nor completed is entirely invalid, without disagreement from us or you."

[18]Qur'an references (L4908): Qur'an 19:59 (Maryam).

فَإِنْ قَالُوا: إِنَّمَا هَذَا فِيمَا نَقَصَ مِنْ فَرَائِضِهَا، قُلْنَا: نَعَمْ، وَالْوَقْتُ مِنْ فَرَائِضِ الصَّلَاةِ بِإِجْمَاعٍ مِنَّا وَمِنْكُمْ وَمِنْ كُلِّ مُسْلِمٍ فَهِيَ صَلَاةٌ تَعَمَّدَ تَرْكَ فَرِيضَةٍ مِنْ فَرَائِضِهَا.

L4912 If they were to say, "This only applies to what is deficient in fulfilling its obligations," we would respond: "Yes—and the time itself is among the obligatory components of prayer by consensus among us, among you, and among all Muslims. Thus, it is a prayer where one deliberately neglected one of its obligatory components."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: مَا نَعْلَمُ، لِمَنْ ذَكَرْنَا مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ - مُخَالِفًا مِنْهُمْ، وَهُمْ يُشَنِّعُونَ بِخِلَافِ الصَّاحِبِ إِذَا وَافَقَ أَهْوَاءَهُمْ، وَقَدْ جَاءَ عَنْ عُمَرَ وَعَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ وَمُعَاذِ بْنِ جَبَلٍ وَأَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ وَغَيْرِهِمْ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ - أَنَّ مَنْ تَرَكَ صَلَاةَ فَرْضٍ وَاحِدَةٍ مُتَعَمِّدًا حَتَّى يَخْرُجَ وَقْتُهَا فَهُوَ كَافِرٌ مُرْتَدٌّ.

L4913–4914 Ali said: We do not know of any dissenting opinion from the Companions we mentioned—may Allah be pleased with them. Yet they denounce a Companion's disagreement when it aligns with their desires. It has been reported from ʿUmar, ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAwf, Muʿādh ibn Jabal, Abū Hurayrah, and others among the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—that whoever deliberately abandons a single obligatory prayer until its time expires is an apostate disbeliever.

L4915 Now, these Ḥanafīs and Mālikīs do not consider the apostate obligated to make up acts of worship whose prescribed time has expired.

فَهَؤُلَاءِ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ - أَيْضًا لَا يَرَوْنَ عَلَى مَنْ تَعَمَّدَ تَرْكَ الصَّلَاةِ حَتَّى خَرَجَ وَقْتُهَا قَضَاءً.

L4916 These Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—also hold that one who deliberately neglects the prayer until its time has passed does not have to make it up.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَمَا جَعَلَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عُذْرًا لِمَنْ خُوطِبَ بِالصَّلَاةِ فِي تَأْخِيرِهَا عَنْ وَقْتِهَا بِوَجْهٍ مِنْ الْوُجُوهِ، لَا فِي حَالِ الْمُطَاعَنَةِ وَالْقِتَالِ وَالْخَوْفِ وَشِدَّةِ الْمَرَضِ وَالسَّفَرِ.

L4917 Ali said: Allah, the Exalted, has not granted any valid excuse to those obligated to pray for delaying it beyond its appointed time—not in states of hostility, combat, fear, severe illness, or travel.

L4918 Allah the Exalted said: {When you are among them and establish the prayer for them, let a group of them stand with you} [An-Nisa' 4:102], and He the Exalted said: {But if you fear, then on foot or mounted} [Al-Baqarah 2:239]. Neither Allah the Exalted nor His Messenger—may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him—permitted delaying it beyond its prescribed time, even to the extent of praying it with two groups, the faces of one of the two groups facing away from the Qiblah, as we will mention regarding the prayer in fear, if Allah the Almighty and Majestic wills.[19]

L4919 The Almighty did not permit postponing prayer beyond its prescribed time for the severely ill person. Rather, He commanded that if one is unable to pray standing, he should pray sitting; if unable to sit, then on his side. He is to perform tayammum if unable to use water, and pray without tayammum if unable to use dust. From where did those who permit intentionally abandoning prayer until its time expires derive their justification? Then He commanded him to pray it after the time has passed and informed him that it suffices him thus—without the Qur'an, nor the Sunnah, neither a sound nor a weak one, nor any statement of a Companion, nor any analogy.

وَلَمْ يَفْسَحْ تَعَالَى فِي تَأْخِيرِهَا عَنْ وَقْتِهَا لِلْمَرِيضِ الْمُدْنَفِ، بَلْ أُمِرَ إنْ عَجَزَ عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ قَائِمًا أَنَّهُ يُصَلِّي قَاعِدًا فَإِنْ عَجَزَ عَنْ الْقُعُودِ فَعَلَى جَنْبٍ؛ وَبِالتَّيَمُّمِ إنْ عَجَزَ عَنْ الْمَاءِ، وَبِغَيْرِ تَيَمُّمٍ إنْ عَجَزَ عَنْ التُّرَابِ فَمِنْ أَيْنَ أَجَازَ مَنْ أَجَازَ تَعَمُّدَ تَرْكِهَا حَتَّى يَخْرُجَ وَقْتُهَا؟ ثُمَّ أَمَرَهُ بِأَنْ يُصَلِّيَهَا بَعْدَ الْوَقْتِ، وَأَخْبَرَهُ بِأَنَّهَا تُجْزِئُهُ كَذَلِكَ؛ مِنْ غَيْرِ قُرْآنٍ، وَلَا سُنَّةٍ، لَا صَحِيحَةٍ، وَلَا سَقِيمَةٍ، وَلَا قَوْلِ لِصَاحِبٍ، وَلَا قِيَاسٍ.

L4920 And some of them proceeded to mention, "The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) prayed the noon and afternoon prayers after sunset on the day of the Battle of the Trench." Then he indicated that the Prophet (peace be upon him) had intentionally omitted them while remaining mindful of them.

وَقَدْ أَقْدَمَ بَعْضُهُمْ فَذَكَرَ «صَلَاةَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَوْمَ الْخَنْدَقِ الظُّهْرَ وَالْعَصْرَ بَعْدَ غُرُوبِ الشَّمْسِ» ، ثُمَّ أَشَارَ إلَى أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - تَرَكَهَا مُتَعَمِّدًا ذَاكِرًا لَهَا.

L4921 Ali said: This is pure disbelief from anyone who permits such [abandonment of prayer] on behalf of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—for they acknowledge with us—without dissent from any of them or any member of the Ummah—that whoever intentionally neglects an obligatory prayer while mindful of it until its time expires is an evildoer, discredited in testimony, and deserving of beating and disciplinary punishment. Whoever imposes any form of disciplinary punishment upon the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—or attributes evildoing to him, or definitively discredits his testimony, is a disbelieving polytheist apostate like the Jews and Christians—their blood and wealth are lawful—with no disagreement from any Muslim.

L4922–4924 Some of them mentioned the words of Allah, the Exalted: "And establish prayer to remember Me" [Ta-Ha: 14], and the saying of the Prophet (peace be upon him): "Allah the Exalted has ordained five prayers. It is said: 'The obligation of prayer has been confirmed, thus its abrogation is impermissible except with evidence from a textual source (naṣṣ) or consensus (ijmāʿ).'"[20] وَذَكَرَ بَعْضُهُمْ قَوْلَ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {وَأَقِمِ الصَّلاةَ لِذِكْرِي} [طه: ١٤] وَقَوْلَهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «خَمْسُ صَلَوَاتٍ كَتَبَهُنَّ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى» وَقَالَ قَدْ صَحَّ وُجُوبُ الصَّلَاةِ، فَلَا يَجُوزُ سُقُوطُهَا إلَّا بِبُرْهَانِ نَصٍّ أَوْ إجْمَاعٍ.

L4925 Ali said, and this is a sound statement, for the proof has been established that "the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—obligated every prayer within a defined time having a beginning and an end," and he—peace be upon him—did not obligate it either before that time or after it. Thus, whoever adheres to the generality of this verse and this report would be compelled to establish the prayer before its time and after it, and this contradicts the Prophet's—peace and blessings be upon him—specifying the prayer's timing according to its appointed time.

L4926 Some of them embellished [their stance] with a hadith we narrated through Anas's chain: "The fighting intensified on the morning of the conquest of Tustar, so they did not pray until after sunrise." This report is invalid, for it was only narrated by Makhul, who reported that Anas ibn Mālik said this—yet Makhul never met Anas. Even if it were authentic, it does not indicate they deliberately omitted the prayer while aware of its time's expiration; rather, they undoubtedly forgot it. It is impermissible to presume anything other than this regarding a virtuous person among the ranks of Muslims—how much more so for a Companion from among them, may Allah be pleased with them. Had they remembered it, they would have performed the prayer of fear as commanded, or prayed as foot soldiers or mounted troops as Allah Almighty obligated them. No other ruling is permissible. Thus, the falsehood of whoever assumes otherwise becomes evident, and success is solely from Allah.

L4927 Issue: If someone deliberately abandons prayer until its time has elapsed, they should seek forgiveness from Allah the Exalted and increase in voluntary prayers.

L4928 Issue 280: As for our statement that one who intentionally neglects prayer until its time has expired is to repent, seek forgiveness from Allah the Exalted, and increase in voluntary prayers, this is based on Allah's words: "Then there succeeded them a generation who neglected prayer and followed lusts; so they will meet loss" [Maryam 19:59], "Except those who repent, believe, and do righteous deeds. For those will enter Paradise" [Maryam 19:60], and His words: "And those who, when they commit an immorality or wrong themselves, remember Allah and seek forgiveness for their sins" [Āl ʿImrān قَالَ عَلِيٌّ، وَهَذَا قَوْلٌ صَحِيحٌ، وَقَدْ صَحَّ الْبُرْهَانُ بِأَنَّ «رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَوْجَبَ كُلَّ صَلَاةٍ فِي وَقْتٍ مَحْدُودٍ أَوَّلُهُ وَآخِرُهُ» ، وَلَمْ يُوجِبْهَا - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لَا قَبْلَ ذَلِكَ الْوَقْتِ، وَلَا بَعْدَهُ، فَمَنْ أَخَذَ بِعُمُومِ هَذِهِ الْآيَةِ وَهَذَا الْخَبَرِ لَزِمَهُ إقَامَةُ الصَّلَاةِ قَبْلَ الْوَقْتِ وَبَعْدَهُ، وَهَذَا خِلَافٌ لِتَوْقِيتِ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - الصَّلَاةَ بِوَقْتِهَا.

3:135]. He also said: “So whoever does an atom’s weight of good will see it” [Al-Zalzalah 99:7], “And whoever does an atom’s weight of evil will see it” [Al-Zalzalah 99:8], and “We will set up the scales of justice on the Day of Resurrection, so no soul will be wronged at all” [Al-Anbiyāʾ 21:47]. The Ummah has unanimously agreed—as all textual evidences indicate—that voluntary prayers carry a portion of good, the extent of which is known only to Allah, and obligatory prayers likewise carry a portion of good, the extent of which is known only to Allah. Necessarily, when voluntary prayers are abundant, their combined portions must match and surpass that of the obligatory prayer. Allah the Exalted has informed us that He does not waste the reward of any doer of deeds, that “good deeds remove evil deeds” [Hūd 11:114], that “he whose scales are heavy” [Al-Qāriʿah 101:6] “will be in a pleasant life” [Al-Qāriʿah 101:7], and that “he whose scales are light” [Al-Qāriʿah 101:8] “his mother is Hāwiyah (the Abyss)” [Al-Qāriʿah 101:9].[21]

L4929–4930 Abdullah ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us: Umar ibn Abdul Malik narrated: Abu Dawood narrated: Yaqub ibn Ibrahim narrated: Ismaʿīl—that is, Ibn Ulayyah—narrated: Yunus narrated from Al-Hasan, from Anas ibn Hakim al-Dabbī, that he met Abu Hurairah, who said to him: “The first of their deeds for which people will be held accountable on the Day of Resurrection is the prayer. Our Lord—Blessed and Exalted is He, and He knows best—will say to the angels: ’Look into My servant’s prayer: did he complete it or fall short?’ If it is complete, it will be recorded as such. But if he lacked anything, He will say: ’Check if My servant has any voluntary prayers.’ If he has voluntary prayers, He will say: ’Complete My servant’s obligatory prayer using his voluntary prayers.’ Then all deeds will be reckoned in this manner.”

L4932 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath informed us from Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa, who narrated to us from Ahmad ibn Muhammad, who narrated to us from Ahmad ibn Ali, who narrated to us from Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj. Zuhayr ibn Harb and Muhammad ibn al-Muthanna both narrated to me—they both said together: Yahya—he is Ibn Sa'id al-Qattan—narrated to us from Ubaydullah—he is Ibn Umar—from Nafi' from Ibn Umar from the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, who said: "A man's prayer in congregation surpasses his prayer alone by twenty-seven degrees."

وَبِهِ إلَى مُسْلِمٍ حَدَّثَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ إبْرَاهِيمَ أَخْبَرَنَا الْمُغِيرَةُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ الْمَخْزُومِيِّ حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الْوَاحِدِ هُوَ ابْنُ زِيَادٍ - ثنا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ حَكِيمٍ أَخْبَرَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ أَبِي عَمْرَةَ قَالَ: دَخَلَ عُثْمَانُ بْنُ عَفَّانَ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ - الْمَسْجِدَ بَعْدَ صَلَاةِ الْمَغْرِبِ فَقَعَدَ وَحْدَهُ فَقَعَدْت إلَيْهِ، فَقَالَ: يَا ابْنَ أَخِي سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَقُولُ: «مَنْ صَلَّى الْعِشَاءَ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ فَكَأَنَّمَا قَامَ نِصْفَ اللَّيْلِ وَمَنْ صَلَّى الصُّبْحَ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ فَكَأَنَّمَا قَامَ اللَّيْلَ كُلَّهُ» .

L4933 And through him to Muslim: Ishaq ibn Ibrahim narrated to us, Al-Mughirah ibn Salamah Al-Makhzumi informed us, Abdul Wahid—he is Ibn Ziyad—narrated to us, Uthman ibn Hakim narrated to us, Abdul Rahman ibn Abi Amrah informed us, saying: Uthman ibn Affan—may Allah be pleased with him—entered the mosque after the Maghrib prayer and sat alone. I sat beside him, and he said: "O my nephew, I heard the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—say: 'Whoever prays Isha in congregation, it is as if he stood in prayer for half the night, and whoever prays Fajr in congregation, it is as if he stood in prayer the entire night.'"

فَهَذَا بَيَانُ مِقْدَارِ أَجْرِ التَّطَوُّعِ وَأَجْرِ الْفَرِيضَةِ، وَإِنَّمَا هَذَا لِمَنْ تَابَ وَنَدِمَ وَأَقْلَعَ وَاسْتَدْرَكَ مَا فَرَّطَ.

L4934 This is an explanation of the measure of reward for voluntary acts and obligatory acts. Indeed, this applies only to those who have repented, regretted, ceased, and compensated for their negligence.

L4935–4937 As for the one who deliberately abandons the obligatory act and confines himself to voluntary acts, seeking to compensate thereby for the sin incurred by abandoning it while persisting in that, such a person is sinning through his voluntary acts. This is because he has placed them in a position other than their rightful one, for Allah the Exalted did not establish them so that the obligatory act may be abandoned, but rather as an increase of good and a supererogatory act. Thus, such a person is one whose [voluntary acts] are used to compensate for that. The neglected obligation.

وَإِذَا عَصَى فِي تَطَوُّعِهِ فَهُوَ غَيْرُ مَقْبُولٍ مِنْهُ، قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «مَنْ عَمِلَ عَمَلًا لَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ أَمْرُنَا فَهُوَ رَدٌّ» .

L4938 If one disobeys in their voluntary worship, it is not accepted from them. The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, said: "Whoever performs a deed not in accordance with our teachings, it is rejected."[22]

فَإِنْ ذَكَرَ ذَاكِرٌ مَا رُوِيَ مِنْ أَنَّ التَّطَوُّعَ لَا يُقْبَلُ مِمَّنْ لَا يُؤَدِّي الْفَرِيضَةَ كَالتَّاجِرِ لَا يَصِحُّ لَهُ رِبْحٌ حَتَّى يَخْلُصَ رَأْسُ مَالِهِ، فَبَاطِلٌ لَا يَصِحُّ، لِأَنَّهُ إِنَّمَا رَوَاهُ مُوسَى بْنُ عُبَيْدَةَ الرَّبَذِيُّ وَهُوَ ضَعِيفٌ، وَعَبْدُ الْمَلِكِ بْنُ حَبِيبٍ الْأَنْدَلُسِيّ عَنْ الْمَكْفُوفِ عَنْ أَيُّوبَ بْنِ خَوْطٍ، وَهَذِهِ بَلَايَا فِي نَسَقٍ إحْدَاهَا يَكْفِي، وَمُرْسَلٌ أَيْضًا، وَعَبْدُ الْمَلِكِ بْنُ حَبِيبٍ عَنْ مُطَرِّفٍ عَنْ مَالِكٍ أَنَّ أَبَا بَكْرٍ الصِّدِّيقَ.

L4939 If someone mentions what has been narrated - that voluntary acts are not accepted from those who neglect obligatory duties, like a merchant whose profit remains invalid until his capital is cleared - this claim is baseless and invalid. This is because it was only narrated by Mūsā ibn ʻUbaydah al-Rabaḍī (who is weak) and ʻAbd al-Malik ibn Ḥabīb al-Andalusī via the blind narrator from Ayyūb ibn Khawṭ. These are successive defects in the chain; any single one invalidates it. Moreover, it is a mursal narration. ʻAbd al-Malik ibn Ḥabīb also narrates from Muṭarrif from Mālik that Abū Bakr al-Ṣiddīq...

وَعَبْدُ الْمَلِكِ سَاقِطٌ، وَهَذَا أَيْضًا مُنْقَطِعٌ، وَلَوْ صَحَّ ذَلِكَ لَكَانَ الْمُرَادُ بِهِ مَنْ قَصَدَ التَّطَوُّعَ، لِيُعَوِّضَهُ عَنْ الْفَرِيضَةِ مُصِرًّا عَلَى ذَلِكَ غَيْرَ نَادِمٍ، وَلَا تَائِبٍ، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L4940 The narration of ʻAbd al-Malik is rejected, and this is also disconnected. Even if that were valid, the intended meaning would refer to one who intends voluntary prayer to replace the obligatory prayer while persisting in that without regret or repentance. And with Allah, the Exalted, is success.

[الصَّلَوَاتُ الْمَفْرُوضَاتُ الْخَمْسُ]

The five obligatory prayers.

٢٨١ - مَسْأَلَةٌ الْمَفْرُوضُ مِنْ الصَّلَاةِ عَلَى كُلِّ بَالِغٍ عَاقِلٍ حُرٍّ أَوْ عَبْدٍ ذَكَرٍ أَوْ أُنْثَى خَمْسٌ وَهِيَ: الظُّهْرُ وَالْعَصْرُ وَالْمَغْرِبُ وَالْعِشَاءُ الْآخِرَةُ، وَهِيَ الْعَتَمَةُ، وَصَلَاةُ الْفَجْرِ.

L4942 Issue 281: The obligatory prayers for every adult, sane individual—whether free or enslaved, male or female—are five: Dhuhr, Asr, Maghrib, the final Isha, which is Al-ʻAtamah, and Fajr.

فَالصُّبْحُ رَكْعَتَانِ أَبَدًا، عَلَى كُلِّ أَحَدٍ، مِنْ صَحِيحٍ أَوْ مَرِيضٍ أَوْ مُسَافِرٍ أَوْ مُقِيمٍ، خَائِفٍ أَوْ آمِنٍ، وَالْمَغْرِبُ ثَلَاثُ رَكَعَاتٍ أَبَدًا، كَمَا قُلْنَا فِي الصُّبْحِ سَوَاءً سَوَاءً.

L4943 The dawn prayer is perpetually two rak'ahs—obligatory upon every person, whether healthy or ill, traveler or non-traveler, fearful or secure. The maghrib prayer is perpetually three rak'ahs, as with the dawn prayer—the same ruling applies equally in all cases.

[22] Hadith references (L4938): Sahih Muslim 1718b; Riyad as-Salihin 1647; Riyad as-Salihin 169.

L4944 As for Dhuhr, Asr, and the final Isha prayer—each of these prayers is four rak'ahs for a resident, whether sick or healthy, in a state of fear or security. This is a definitive, unquestionable consensus, with no disagreement among any member of the Ummah—past or present—nor regarding any aspect of it. For a traveler in security, each of these prayers consists of two rak'ahs. As for a traveler in a state of fear, if he wishes, he may pray each of them as two rak'ahs, or if he wishes, as a single rak'ah. Disagreement exists concerning all of this: regarding the definition of such travel, the measure of such travel in terms of time and distance, whether shortening the prayer is obligatory or optional for him, and whether a single rak'ah suffices during travel in a state of fear or not.

L4945 And we will mention the proof of the truth from that, and the refutation of the error therein, in its chapters, if Allah, the Mighty and Majestic, wills. There is no might nor power except by Allah, the Most High, the Almighty. Through Him, exalted is He, we seek help, and by Him we are strengthened.

L4946–4947 [The Categories of Supererogatory Acts]

[أَقْسَامُ التَّطَوُّعِ]

L4948 Issue: The divisions of supererogatory worship. The most emphasized acts are those we mentioned in the first issue of the Book of Prayer from this compendium of ours - namely, the divisions that the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) commanded, specifically designating them by name. Less emphasized are those acts not accompanied by an explicit command, but for which recommendation has been established.

L4949 The most emphasized of these are two rak'ahs after the true dawn and before the Fajr prayer; the Eid prayers; the prayer for seeking rain; the Tarawih prayers of Ramadan; four rak'ahs before Dhuhr after the sun's zenith; four rak'ahs after Dhuhr; four rak'ahs before Asr—if one wishes, they may delay the salutation until the end of them, or give the salutation after every two rak'ahs; two rak'ahs after Asr; two rak'ahs after sunset but before performing Maghrib prayer; two rak'ahs after Maghrib; two rak'ahs before Isha; two rak'ahs upon arriving from a journey in the mosque; voluntary prayers performed after ablution; as well as the voluntary prayers one offers during the day and night.

أَوْكَدُ ذَلِكَ رَكْعَتَانِ بَعْدَ الْفَجْرِ الثَّانِي وَقَبْلَ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ، ثُمَّ صَلَاةُ الْعِيدَيْنِ، ثُمَّ صَلَاةُ الِاسْتِسْقَاءِ وَقِيَامُ رَمَضَانَ، وَأَرْبَعُ رَكَعَاتٍ قَبْلَ الظُّهْرِ بَعْدَ الزَّوَالِ، وَأَرْبَعُ رَكَعَاتٍ بَعْدَ الظُّهْرِ وَأَرْبَعُ رَكَعَاتٍ قَبْلَ الْعَصْرِ، إنْ شَاءَ لَمْ يُسَلِّمْ إلَّا فِي آخِرِهِنَّ، وَإِنْ شَاءَ سَلَّمَ مِنْ كُلِّ رَكْعَتَيْنِ، وَرَكْعَتَانِ بَعْدَ صَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ، وَرَكْعَتَانِ بَعْدَ غُرُوبِ الشَّمْسِ قَبْلَ صَلَاةِ

الْمَغْرِبِ، وَرَكْعَتَانِ بَعْدَ صَلَاةِ الْمَغْرِبِ، وَرَكْعَتَانِ قَبْلَ صَلَاةِ الْعَتَمَةِ، وَرَكْعَتَانِ عِنْدَ الْقُدُومِ مِنَ السَّفَرِ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ، وَمَا تَطَوَّعَ بِهِ الْمَرْءُ إِذَا تَوَضَّأَ ثُمَّ مَا تَطَوَّعَ بِهِ الْمَرْءُ فِي نَهَارِهِ وَلَيْلِهِ.

L4950 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us; Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us; Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to me: Zuhayr ibn Harb narrated to us from Yahya ibn Sa'id al-Qattan from Ibn Jurayj, who informed me from Ata from Ubayd ibn Umayr from Aisha, the Mother of the Believers, that the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) was not more diligent in maintaining any supererogatory prayers than he was in observing the two rak'ahs before dawn.

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ يُوسُفَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ فَتْحٍ ثنا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ بْنُ عِيسَى ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ ثنا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ الْحَجَّاجِ، حَدَّثَنِي زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ ثنا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْقَطَّانُ عَنِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ أَخْبَرَنِي عَطَاءٍ عَنْ عُبَيْدِ بْنِ عُمَيْرٍ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أُمِّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ «أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - لَمْ يَكُنْ عَلَى شَيْءٍ مِنَ النَّوَافِلِ، أَشَدَّ تَعَاهُدًا مِنْهُ عَلَى رَكْعَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ الصُّبْحِ» .

L4951 And through him to Muslim: Muḥammad ibn 'Ubayd al-Ghubarī narrated to us; Abū 'Awānah narrated to us, from Qatādah, from Zurārah ibn Awfā, from Sa'd ibn Hishām ibn 'Āmir, from 'Ā'ishah, the Mother of the Believers, from the Prophet—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—who said: "The two rak'ahs of Fajr are better than the world and all that is in it."

L4952–4954 And indeed, the Messenger of Allah—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—performed Salat al-Istisqa in the manner that we will mention in its chapter, if Allah wills. Allah, Exalted and Glorious, and the Prophet (peace be upon him) also urged observance of the night prayers of Ramadan, as we shall mention in its chapter, if Allah, the Exalted and Glorious, wills.

وَقَدْ «صَلَّى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - صَلَاةَ الِاسْتِسْقَاءِ» عَلَى مَا سَنَذْكُرُهُ فِي بَابِهَا إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ، «وَحَضَّ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - أَيْضًا عَلَى قِيَامِ رَمَضَانَ» عَلَى مَا نَذْكُرُهُ فِي بَابِهِ إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ.

L4955 And through him (the same chain) to Muslim: Yahyā ibn Yahyā al-Naysābūrī narrated to us, Hushaym narrated to us from Khālid—who is al-Khaddā'—from ʿAbdullāh ibn Shaqīq, who said: I asked ʿĀ'ishah about the voluntary prayers of Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him). She said: "He would pray four rak'ahs in his house before Ẓuhr. Then he would go out and lead the people in prayer. Then he would enter and pray two rak'ahs. He would lead the people in Maghrib prayer, then enter and pray two rak'ahs. He would lead the people in ʿIshā' prayer, then enter my house and pray two rak'ahs."

L4956 Abdullah ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Isḥāq narrated to us: Ibn al-Aʿrābī narrated to us: Abū Dāwūd narrated to us: Ḥafṣ ibn ʿUmar (he is al-Ḥawḍī) narrated to us: Shuʿbah narrated from Abū Isḥāq, from ʿĀṣim ibn Ḍamrah, from ʿAlī ibn Abī Ṭālib—may Allah be pleased with him—that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—used to pray two rakʿahs before the ʿaṣr prayer.

L4957 Abdullah ibn Rabee’ narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Mu’awiyah narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Shu’ayb narrated to us: Isma’il ibn Mas’ud narrated to us: Yazid ibn Zurai’ narrated to us: Shu’bah narrated from Abu Ishaq from ‘Asim ibn Ḍamrah: We asked ‘Ali about the prayer of the Messenger of Allah—may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him—and he described it, saying: “He would pray four rak’ahs before Dhuhr and two after it, and he would pray four rak’ahs before ‘Asr, separating between every two rak’ahs with a salutation to the angels brought near [to Allah], the prophets, and those who followed them from among the believers and Muslims.”

L4958 From him to Ahmad ibn Shu‘ayb: I am Muhammad ibn al-Muthanna—Muhammad ibn ‘Abd al-Rahman narrated to us, Husayn ibn ‘Abd al-Rahman narrated to us from Abu Ishaq from ‘Asim ibn Damrah, who said: We asked ‘Ali about the prayer of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him), and he described it, saying: “He used to pray four rak‘ahs before Dhuhr, uttering the taslim at the end of the final rak‘ah, and after Dhuhr four rak‘ahs, uttering the taslim at the end of the final rak‘ah.”

L4959 Abu Muhammad said: There is no contradiction between any of what we have mentioned; rather, all of that is good and permissible, from the narrations of trustworthy and firmly established transmitters.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّد: لَا تَعَارُضَ بَيْنَ شَيْءٍ مِمَّا ذَكَرْنَا، بَلْ كُلُّ ذَلِكَ حَسَنٌ مُبَاحٌ؛ مِنْ رِوَايَةِ الثِّقَاتِ الْأَثْبَاتِ.

Chapter on the Two Rak‘ahs before al-Maghrib

[فَصْلٌ فِي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ الْمَغْرِبِ]

An issue concerning preventing people from performing supererogatory prayers after sunset and before the Maghrib prayer.

[مَسْأَلَة منع قَوْم مِنْ التَّطَوُّع بَعْد غروب الشَّمْس وَقَبْل صَلَاة الْمَغْرِب]

Chapter on the Two Rak‘ahs Before Maghrib (283) - Issue: Abū Muḥammad said: Some scholars prohibited voluntary prayer after sunset and before the Maghrib prayer, including Mālik and Abū Ḥanīfah. We know of no evidence they possess except that Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad ibn ‘Abd Allāh al-Ṭalamankī narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Aḥmad ibn Mufarrij narrated to us from al-Ṣamūt, who narrated to us from al-Bazzār, who narrated to us from ‘Abd al-Wāḥid ibn Ghiyāth, who narrated to us from Ḥayyān ibn ‘Ubayd Allāh, from ‘Abd Allāh ibn Buraydah, from his father, that the Prophet - peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him - said: “Between every two adhāns there is a prayer except for Maghrib.”

فَصْلٌ فِي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ الْمَغْرِبِ ٢٨٣ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: مَنَعَ قَوْمٌ مِنْ التَّطَوُّعِ بَعْدَ غُرُوبِ الشَّمْسِ، وَقَبْلَ صَلَاةِ الْمَغْرِبِ، مِنْهُمْ مَالِكٌ وَأَبُو حَنِيفَةَ، وَمَا نَعْلَمُ لَهُمْ حُجَّةً إِلَّا أَنَّ أَحْمَدَ بْنَ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ الطَّلَمَنْكِيَّ قَالَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ بْنِ مُفَرِّجٍ ثنا الصَّمُوتُ ثنا الْبَزَّارُ ثنا عَبْدُ الْوَاحِدِ بْنُ غِيَاثٍ ثنا حَيَّانُ بْنُ عُبَيْدِ اللَّهِ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ بُرَيْدَةَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «بَيْنَ كُلِّ أَذَانَيْنِ صَلَاةٌ إِلَّا الْمَغْرِبَ» .

Abū Muḥammad said: This wording was solely transmitted by Ḥayyān Ibn ʿUbayd Allāh—who is obscure (majhūl)—whereas the authentic (ṣaḥīḥ) report is the one narrated by al-Jurayrī from ʿAbd Allāh Ibn Buraydah, which we have mentioned earlier.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: هَذِهِ اللَّفْظَةُ انْفَرَدَ بِهَا حَيَّانُ بْنُ عُبَيْدِ اللَّهِ - وَهُوَ مَجْهُولٌ - وَالصَّحِيحُ هُوَ مَا رَوَاهُ الْجُرَيْرِيُّ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ بُرَيْدَةَ، وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَاهُ آنِفًا.

They mentioned a narration from Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī that Abū Bakr, ʿUmar, and ʿUthmān did not perform these prayers. This is worthless. Firstly, its chain is disconnected, for Ibrāhīm never met any of those we mentioned, as he was not born except years after ʿUthmān’s assassination. Even if it were authentic, it would contain no proof, for it does not state that they—may Allah be pleased with them—prohibited these prayers or disliked them. We do not differ with them regarding the permissibility of abandoning all supererogatory prayers, provided one does not abandon them out of disdain for the Sunnah of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—for such is the one who is doomed. Even if their prohibition were established—and Allah's refuge is sought from this being valid!—it would not constitute proof against the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—nor against the Companions who performed them—may Allah be pleased with them. These later imitators opposed Abū Bakr, ʿUmar, and a group of Companions concerning wiping over turbans, despite having the Sunnah of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him. Thus, nothing is more astonishing than their audacity in opposing the Companions when they desire, and their exaggerated opposition to these two when they desire. This is blatant trifling with religion—we mean these later imitators.

L4972 They mentioned from Ibn Umar that he said: "I have not seen anyone pray these two prayers," and this is baseless. The first reason for that is its inauthenticity, as it is narrated from Abu Shu'ayb or Shu'ayb—and we do not know who he is. Moreover, even if this narration were authentic, there is no prohibition in it against the two prayers. We do not object to abandoning supererogatory prayers unless they are prohibited without valid justification. Even if a prohibition from him were established—though it is never authenticated—it has rather been narrated from him that praying them is permissible, as it constitutes an argument against the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) and against the rest of the Companions who zealously promoted them. Among the astonishing things is that they do not consider Ibn Umar's statement as evidence: "I prayed behind the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him), Abu Bakr, Umar, and Uthman, and none of them recited the Qunut"—because it contradicts their blind adherence—despite its authentic transmission. Yet they treat what is unauthenticated from him as evidence when it aligns with their desires, and this is utterly astonishing.

L4984–4986 From ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī from Shuʿbah from Yazīd ibn Khumayr from Khālid ibn Maʼdān. From Raghbān, the client of Ḥabīb ibn Maslamah: I saw the Companions of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—rushing toward the two rak'ahs before the Maghrib prayer just as they rush toward the obligatory portion.

L4988 And it has been narrated to us through the chain of Ḥajjāj ibn al-Minhāl, from Ḥammād ibn Salmah, from Dāwūd al-Warrāq, from Jaʿfar ibn Abī Waḥshiyyah—that Jābir ibn ʿAbd Allāh would pray two rakʿahs before Maghrib.

وَرُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ حَجَّاجِ بْنِ الْمِنْهَالِ عَنْ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ دَاوُد الْوَرَّاقِ عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ أَبِي وَحْشِيَّةَ: أَنَّ جَابِرَ بْنَ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ كَانَ يُصَلِّي قَبْلَ الْمَغْرِبِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ.

L4989 From Abd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi from Shu'bah from Sulayman ibn Abd al-Rahman from Rashid ibn Yasar, who said: "I testify concerning five of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) from the Companions of the Tree, that they used to pray two rak'ahs before Maghrib."

L4990 And from Muhammad ibn Ja'far, from Shu'bah, from al-Hakam ibn 'Utaybah: That al-Hakam ibn 'Utaybah prayed with 'Abd al-Rahman ibn Abi Layla, and 'Abd al-Rahman ibn Abi Layla would pray the two rak'ahs before Maghrib.

وَعَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ جَعْفَرٍ عَنْ شُعْبَةَ عَنْ الْحَكَمِ بْنِ عُتَيْبَةَ: أَنَّهُ صَلَّى مَعَ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ أَبِي لَيْلَى فَكَانَ يُصَلِّي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ الْمَغْرِبِ.

L4991 From Waki', from Yazīd ibn Ibrāhīm: I heard al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī being asked about the two rak'ahs before Maghrib. He said: "Two good and beautiful [rak'ahs] for whoever intends with them the Face of Allāh, the Exalted." This is the position held by al-Shāfi'ī and our companions.

[مَسْأَلَةُ إعَادَةُ مَنْ صَلَّى إذَا وَجَدَ جَمَاعَةً تُصَلِّي تِلْكَ الصَّلَاةَ]

L4992 The issue concerning the repetition of prayer by someone who has prayed upon finding a congregation performing that prayer.

٢٨٤ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَأَمَّا إعَادَةُ مَنْ صَلَّى إذَا وَجَدَ جَمَاعَةً تُصَلِّي تِلْكَ الصَّلَاةَ، فَإِنَّ ذَلِكَ مُسْتَحَبٌّ - مَكْرُوهٌ تَرْكُهُ - فِي كُلِّ صَلَاةٍ، سَوَاءٌ كَانَ صَلَّى مُنْفَرِدًا؛ لِعُذْرٍ أَوْ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ، وَلْيُصَلِّهَا وَلَوْ مَرَّاتٍ كُلَّمَا وَجَدَ جَمَاعَةً تُصَلِّيهَا، وَقَدْ قَالَ قَوْمٌ: لَا يُصَلِّيهَا ثَانِيَةً أَصْلًا.

L4993 Issue 284: As for repeating the prayer by one who has prayed upon finding a congregation performing that prayer, this is recommended (though abandoning it is disliked) for every prayer, whether he prayed alone due to a valid excuse or in congregation. He should pray it again, even multiple times, each time he finds a congregation performing it. Some early jurists have said: he must not pray it a second time at all.

L4994 Abu Hanifah said: One does not repeat prayers except for Dhuhr and Isha, the late evening prayer, whether he prays them in congregation or individually. The first prayer is his valid prayer, except for the Jumu'ah prayer. If one prays it alone at home, it suffices him, and he is not required to proceed to the congregational mosque. If he leaves for the mosque while the Imam has not yet concluded the Jumu'ah prayer, his departure for this purpose invalidates the prayer he performed at home, and the prayer offered with the Imam becomes his farḍ.

L4995–4997 Abū Yūsuf and Muḥammad ibn al-Ḥasan said: The prayer he performed at home is not invalidated by his departure to the mosque. However, by his entering with the imam into the Friday prayer, the prayer he performed becomes invalid. his home.

وَقَالَ أَبُو يُوسُفَ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْحَسَنِ: لَا تَبْطُلُ صَلَاتُهُ الَّتِي صَلَّى فِي بَيْتِهِ بِخُرُوجِهِ إِلَى الْجَامِعِ، لَكِنْ بِدُخُولِهِ مَعَ الْإِمَامِ فِي صَلَاةِ الْجُمُعَةِ تَبْطُلُ الَّتِي صَلَّى فِي مَنْزِلِهِ.

L4998 Malik said: One who prays an obligatory prayer at home alongside the congregation must repeat it. This ruling applies to all prayers without exception except Maghrib specifically, which he does not repeat. He stated: The matter of which of the two prayers fulfills his obligation rests with Allah, the Exalted. He said: If he prays in one congregation, he does not repeat it in another.

L4999 Abu Muhammad said: As for those who categorically prohibit repetition, they cite as evidence what we have narrated through the chain of Abu Dawud: Abu Kamil Yazid ibn Zuraiʿ narrated to us: Husayn—he is the teacher—narrated to us, from Amr ibn Shuʿayb, from Sulayman ibn Yasar, who said: I came to Ibn Umar at the Balat while they were praying, and I asked, “Are you not going to pray with them?” He replied, “I have already prayed, and I heard the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—say: ’Do not perform the same prayer twice in one day.”’

L5000 Ali said: This is an authentic report that it is not permissible to oppose, and they have no valid argument regarding it. We have never stated such a thing—Allah forbid—that one would pray intending it as the very prayer he already performed, thereby making two Dhuhr prayers, two Asr prayers, two Fajr prayers, two Maghrib prayers, or two Isha prayers in a single day. This constitutes disbelief, and it is impermissible for anyone to assert such a position. Rather, he should pray it as a supererogatory prayer, as the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—explicitly established.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا خَبَرٌ صَحِيحٌ لَا يَحِلُّ خِلَافُهُ، وَلَا حُجَّةَ لَهُمْ فِيهِ وَلَمْ نَقُلْ قَطُّ، وَمَعَاذَ اللَّهِ مِنْ هَذَا، إنَّهُ يُصَلِّي عَلَى نِيَّةِ أَنَّهَا الصَّلَاةُ الَّتِي صَلَّى، فَيَجْعَلُ فِي يَوْمٍ وَاحِدٍ ظُهْرَيْنِ أَوْ عَصْرَيْنِ أَوْ صُبْحَيْنِ أَوْ مَغْرِبَيْنِ أَوْ عَتَمَتَيْنِ؛ هَذَا كُفْرٌ لَا يَحِلُّ الْقَوْلُ بِهِ، لِأَحَدٍ لَكِنَّهُ يُصَلِّي نَافِلَةً كَمَا نَصَّ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - عَلَى ذَلِكَ.

L5001 As for the statement of Abū Ḥanīfah, he argued that voluntary prayers after the Fajr prayer and after the ʿAṣr prayer are not permissible, citing the narrations reported concerning that, and he gave them precedence over the hadiths that enjoin [the act]. However, we have given precedence to the hadiths that enjoin [the act], and we will mention the evidence for the valid one of the two rulings, God, the Exalted, willing—after concluding our discourse on this matter and the subsequent one, God, the Exalted, willing.

L5002 As for Mālik's position, his followers argued for the prohibition from joining a congregation that prays Maghrib exclusively by asserting that Maghrib is the Witr (odd-numbered prayer) of the day. If one were to pray it a second time, it would render it even-numbered, thus nullifying its designation as Witr.

وَأَمَّا قَوْلُ مَالِكٍ فَإِنَّهُمْ احْتَجُّوا فِي الْمَنْعِ مِنْ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ مَعَ الْجَمَاعَةِ الَّتِي تُصَلِّي الْمَغْرِبَ خَاصَّةً بِأَنْ قَالُوا: إنَّ الْمَغْرِبَ وِتْرُ النَّهَارِ، فَلَوْ صَلَّاهَا ثَانِيَةً لَشَفَعَهَا، فَبَطَلَ كَوْنُهَا وِتْرًا.

L5003 Ali said: This is a mistake; because one of them is a supererogatory prayer and the other is an obligatory prayer, by the consensus of both us and them. And the supererogatory prayer does not make up for the obligatory prayer, by the consensus of both us and them.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا خَطَأٌ، لِأَنَّ إحْدَاهُمَا نَافِلَةٌ وَالْأُخْرَى فَرِيضَةٌ، بِإِجْمَاعٍ مِنَّا وَمِنْهُمْ وَالنَّافِلَةُ لَا تَشْفَعُ الْفَرِيضَةَ، بِإِجْمَاعٍ مِنَّا وَمِنْهُمْ.

L5004–5006 They said: There is no voluntary prayer in three units, because the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said, "The prayer of night and day is two units by two units." This contains no proof for them in it, for the one whose obedience is obligatory when he informs that the prayer of night and day is two units by two units—he is the one who commanded that whoever has prayed and finds a congregation praying should pray with them, without specifying a prayer to be performed after another prayer. He is the one who commanded to perform voluntary prayer in Witr as one unit or three units. How strange it is of... Their reliance on this report—despite their own inconsistency—led them to state: "He should pray Dhuhr, Asr, and 'Atama (Isha) with the congregation," thereby permitting him to perform a voluntary prayer of four units without offering the salutation between them. This is not done in pairs, which constitutes a contradiction on their part.

وَقَالُوا: لَا تَطَوُّعَ بِثَلَاثٍ، لِأَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ «صَلَاةُ اللَّيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ مَثْنَى مَثْنَى» وَهَذَا لَا حُجَّةَ لَهُمْ فِيهِ، لِأَنَّ الَّذِي وَجَبَتْ طَاعَتُهُ فِي إخْبَارِهِ بِأَنَّ صَلَاةَ اللَّيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ مَثْنَى مَثْنَى، هُوَ الَّذِي أَمَرَ مَنْ صَلَّى وَوَجَدَ جَمَاعَةً تُصَلِّي أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ مَعَهُمْ وَلَمْ يَخُصَّ صَلَاةً بَعْدَ صَلَاةٍ، وَهُوَ الَّذِي أَمَرَ أَنْ يُتَنَفَّلَ فِي الْوِتْرِ بِوَاحِدَةٍ أَوْ بِثَلَاثٍ، وَالْعَجَبُ مِنْ احْتِجَاجِهِمْ بِهَذَا الْخَبَرِ، وَنَسُوا أَنْفُسَهُمْ فِي الْوَقْتِ فَقَالُوا: يُصَلِّي

الظُّهْرَ وَالْعَصْرَ وَالْعَتَمَةَ مَعَ الْجَمَاعَةِ، فَأَجَازُوا لَهُ التَّطَوُّعَ بِأَرْبَعِ رَكَعَاتٍ لَا يُسَلِّمُ بَيْنَهَا، وَلَيْسَ ذَلِكَ مَثْنَى مَثْنَى، وَهَذَا تَنَاقُضٌ مِنْهُمْ.

L5007 The truth in this matter is that all the Prophet's commands—peace be upon him—are truth itself; none may contradict another. Rather, they must all be followed exactly as they are.

وَالْحَقُّ فِي هَذَا هُوَ أَنَّ جَمِيعَ أَوَامِرِهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - حَقٌّ لَا يُضْرَبُ بَعْضُهَا بِبَعْضٍ، بَلْ يُؤْخَذُ بِجَمِيعِهَا كَمَا هِيَ.

L5008 They said: "The time for the Maghrib prayer is narrow," but this is erroneous. For the congregation that is found praying undoubtedly is performing it within the prescribed time of that prayer without any dispute. Thus, its time has not yet become narrow, invalidating all the clamor they and the Hanafis together raised regarding the specificity of Maghrib. And success is granted by Allah, the Most High.

L5009 As for the Maliki specification that one who performs this prayer must do so individually, this is erroneous because no basis for this specification exists in the Qur'an, the Sunnah, consensus, the statement of a Companion, analogical reasoning, or sound juridical opinion. Even if the prayer is virtuous for one who prays individually, it is more virtuous for one who prays in congregation, and there is no distinction. The superiority of congregational prayer applies to every congregation one encounters, and there is no difference.

L5010 As for their statement that he does not know which prayer is his, this is erroneous because they do not disagree that if one does not pray with the congregation he finds praying—provided he is not averse to the Sunnah of Allah's Messenger, may Allah bless him and grant him peace—then no sin is upon him. Since there is no disagreement among them that he is not obligated to pray [in this case], and it is necessary, there remains no doubt that the prayer he performs is a voluntary one, for this constitutes the defining characteristic of voluntary prayers. Thus, there is no disagreement that he may choose to pray it or refrain.

وَأَمَّا قَوْلُهُمْ: إنَّهُ لَا يَدْرِي أَيُّهُمَا صَلَاتُهُ فَخَطَأٌ، لِأَنَّهُمْ لَا يَخْتَلِفُونَ فِي أَنَّهُ إنْ لَمْ يُصَلِّ مَعَ الْجَمَاعَةِ الَّتِي وَجَدَهَا تُصَلِّي - غَيْرُ رَاغِبٍ عَنْ سُنَّةِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَلَا إثْمَ عَلَيْهِ، فَإِذْ لَا خِلَافَ عِنْدَهُمْ فِي أَنَّهُ إنْ لَمْ يُصَلِّ فَلَا يَلْزَمُهُ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ، وَلَا بُدَّ، فَلَا شَكَّ فِي أَنَّهَا نَافِلَةٌ إنْ صَلَّاهَا، لِأَنَّ هَذِهِ هِيَ صِفَةُ النَّافِلَةِ، فَلَا خِلَافَ فِي أَنَّهُ إنْ شَاءَ صَلَّاهَا، وَإِنْ شَاءَ لَمْ يُصَلِّهَا.

L5011 Furthermore, if someone prays with the congregation after having already performed that prayer earlier, it cannot be that he is free from one of two scenarios: either he intended his congregational prayer as his obligatory prayer (just as he intended the earlier prayer performed at home), thereby disobeying Allah the Exalted and His Messenger - peace and blessings of Allah be upon him - and violating scholarly consensus by performing the same obligatory prayer twice in one day; or he lacked proper intention in both prayers, in which case he has not performed any valid prayer at all.

L5012 A single one of the two prayers does not suffice him if he acts frivolously in disobedience to Allah the Exalted. If he intended the first prayer as his obligatory duty and the second as supererogatory—or conversely, the first as supererogatory and the second as obligatory—then it is according to his intention. No other possibility is valid at all. Al-Awzāʿī said: The second prayer is his obligatory duty.

L5013–5015 Ali said: And the truth regarding this is that if he is among those with a valid excuse for missing congregational prayer, then he prayed alone or prayed in congregation. The first prayer is his obligation without doubt, for it is the one which... He performed it, considering it his obligatory duty, and intended that within it.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَالْحَقُّ فِي هَذَا: أَنَّهُ إنْ كَانَ مِمَّنْ لَهُ عُذْرٌ فِي التَّخَلُّفِ عَنْ الْجَمَاعَةِ فَصَلَّى وَحْدَهُ، أَوْ صَلَّى فِي جَمَاعَةٍ، فَالْأُولَى فَرْضُهُ بِلَا شَكٍّ، لِأَنَّهَا هِيَ الَّتِي أَدَّى عَلَى أَنَّهَا فَرْضُهُ، وَنَوَى ذَلِكَ فِيهَا.

L5016 The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) said: “Actions are judged by intentions, and every person has only what they intended.” If someone has no valid excuse for delaying congregational prayer, the first opinion is that if he prays it alone, his prayer is invalid. The second opinion is that his obligation remains, and he must pray again without fail, as we will clarify regarding the obligation to perform prayer in congregation إن شاء الله تعالى. The Friday prayer and other prayers are treated the same in all these matters.[1] وَقَدْ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «إنَّمَا الْأَعْمَالُ بِالنِّيَّاتِ وَإِنَّمَا لِكُلِّ امْرِئٍ مَا نَوَى» ، وَإِنْ كَانَ مِمَّنْ لَا عُذْرَ لَهُ فِي التَّأَخُّرِ عَنْ الْجَمَاعَةِ، فَالْأُولَى إنْ صَلَّاهَا وَحْدَهُ بَاطِلٌ: وَالثَّانِيَةُ فَرْضُهُ، وَعَلَيْهِ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ، وَلَا بُدَّ عَلَى مَا نَذْكُرُ فِي وُجُوبِ فَرْضِ الْجَمَاعَةِ إنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى، وَالْجُمُعَةُ وَغَيْرُهَا فِي كُلِّ ذَلِكَ سَوَاءٌ.

L5017 As for the statement of Abū Ḥanīfah and his companions concerning one who prays the Friday prayer in his home without an excuse, it is invalid for several reasons. The first of these is his making a distinction between the Friday prayer and other prayers in this matter without any proof.

L5018 The second is that he differentiated between Friday prayer and other prayers, for his claim that praying it alone at home without an excuse suffices him is erroneous.

L5019 The third [case] is his invalidation of that prayer after permitting it - whether by departing for the congregational mosque or by joining the Imam. All such [views] are invalid, adulterated opinions and baseless assertions about religion.

L5020 Ali said: Since all these statements have been nullified, let us mention what has been authentically established from the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) on this matter.

L5021 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us: Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us: Muslim ibn Al-Hajjaj narrated to me: Abu Ar-Rabi' Az-Zahrani and Abu Kamil Al-Jahdari narrated to me, both saying: Hammad ibn Zaid narrated to us from Abu Imran Al-Jawni from Abdullah ibn As-Samit from Abu Dharr, who said: The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said to me, "How will you be when rulers over you delay the prayer beyond its time or let the prayer time expire?" I said, "What do you command me to do?" He said, "Pray the prayer at its proper time. Then if you catch it [the prayer] with them, pray [with them], for indeed it will be a voluntary prayer for you."

L5022 And through him to Muslim: Zuhayr ibn Harb narrated to me – Ismāʿīl ibn Ibrāhīm ibn ʿUlayyah narrated to us – from Ayyūb as-Sakhtiyānī, from Abū l-ʿĀliyah al-Barāʾ, who said: Ibn Ziyād delayed the prayer. ʿAbdullāh ibn aṣ-Ṣāmit came, and I mentioned Ibn Ziyād's action to him. He said: "I asked Abū Dharr as you asked me. He replied: 'I asked Allah's Messenger – peace and blessings be upon him – as you asked me. He struck me on the thigh and said: Perform the prayer at its appointed time. If you catch up with the prayer alongside them, then pray, and do not say: "I have already prayed, so I will not pray.""

وَالثَّانِي: أَنَّهُ فَرَّقَ بَيْنَ الْجُمُعَةِ وَغَيْرِهَا فَقَدْ أَخْطَأَ فِي قَوْلِهِ: إِنَّهَا تُجْزِئُهُ إِذَا صَلَّاهَا مُنْفَرِدًا، لِغَيْرِ عُذْرٍ فِي مَنْزِلِهِ.

فَهَذَا عُمُومٌ مِنْهُ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ، وَلِمَنْ صَلَّاهَا فِي جَمَاعَةٍ أَوْ مُنْفَرِدًا لَا يَجُوزُ تَخْصِيصُ شَيْءٍ مِنْ ذَلِكَ بِالدَّعْوَى بِلَا دَلِيلٍ، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L5023 This is a generality from him—peace be upon him—applicable to every prayer and to whoever prays it, whether in congregation or alone. It is impermissible to specify any aspect of this through mere claim without evidence. And success comes from Allah, the Most High.

L5024–5026 A group of the Salaf adopted this, as we have narrated from Abu Dharr that he issued a fatwa to that effect, and as... It has been narrated to us from Hammad ibn Salamah, from Humayd, from Anas ibn Malik, that Abu Musa al-Ash'ari and al-Nu'man ibn Muqarrin agreed upon a meeting time. One of them came to his companion, who had already prayed, and he prayed Fajr with his companion.

L5027 From him [the preceding narrator], the chain reaches Hammad ibn Salama, from Thabit al-Bunani and Humaid—both narrating from Anas ibn Malik, who said: We arrived with Abu Musa al-Ash'ari, and he led us in the Fajr prayer at al-Mirbad. Then we came to the Grand Mosque, and there we found al-Mughira ibn Shu'ba leading the people in prayer while men and women were mingling together, so we prayed with them.

فَهَذَا فِعْلُ الصَّحَابَةِ فِي صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ بِخِلَافِ قَوْلِ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ؛ وَبَعْدَ أَنْ صَلَّوْا جَمَاعَةً بِخِلَافِ قَوْلِ مَالِكٍ، وَلَا يُعْرَفُ لَهُمْ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ مُخَالِفٌ يَخُصُّ صَلَاةَ الْمُنْفَرِدِ دُونَ غَيْرِهِ.

L5028 Thus, this is the action of the Companions regarding the Fajr prayer—contrary to the statement of Abū Ḥanīfah—and after they prayed in congregation, contrary to the statement of Mālik. None from among the Companions is known to have opposed specifically the individual prayer to the exclusion of others.

L5029 It has been narrated to us through the chain of ʿAbd al-Razzāq from Sufyān al-Thawrī from Jābir from Saʿd ibn ʿUbayd from Ṣilah ibn Zufar al-ʿAbsī: I set out on a journey with Ḥudhayfah. He passed by a mosque and prayed Dhuhr with them even though he had already prayed. Then he passed by another mosque and prayed ʿAsr with them even though he had already prayed. Then he passed by another mosque and prayed Maghrib with them, then prayed two additional rakʿahs (shafʿ) afterward even though he had already prayed. From Qatādah: One must re-perform the ʿAsr prayer if he joins the congregation [after having prayed alone].

L5030 Sa’id ibn al-Musayyib said: Pray with the congregation, for your prayer with them exceeds your solitary prayer by twenty and a few prayers.

قَالَ سَعِيدُ بْنُ الْمُسَيِّبِ: صَلِّ مَعَ الْقَوْمِ فَإِنَّ صَلَاتَك مَعَهُمْ تَفْضُلُ صَلَاتَك وَحْدَك بِضْعًا وَعِشْرِينَ صَلَاةً.

L5031 And from Sufyan on the authority of Jabir on the authority of Al-Shaʿbī: There is no harm in repeating the prayer (ṣalāh) in its entirety.

وَعَنْ سُفْيَانَ عَنْ جَابِرٍ عَنْ الشَّعْبِيِّ: لَا بَأْسَ أَنْ تُعَادَ الصَّلَاةُ كُلُّهَا.

L5032 From Ibn Jurayj, from ʿAṭāʾ: If I pray the prescribed prayer at home and then catch up with the congregation for the same prayer, I treat the prayer I prayed in my home as voluntary and the one I prayed with the congregation as the prescribed prayer—even if I only caught one rakʿah of it.

وَعَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ عَنْ عَطَاءٍ: إذَا صَلَّيْتُ الْمَكْتُوبَةَ فِي الْبَيْتِ ثُمَّ أَدْرَكْتُهَا مَعَ النَّاسِ فَإِنِّي أَجْعَلُ الَّتِي صَلَّيْتُهَا فِي بَيْتِي نَافِلَةً، وَأَجْعَلُ الَّتِي صَلَّيْت مَعَ النَّاسِ الْمَكْتُوبَةَ وَلَوْ لَمْ أُدْرِكْ إلَّا رَكْعَةً وَاحِدَةً مِنْهَا.

L5033 ʿAṭāʾ was asked about a man who prays Maghrib at home then finds people still praying it. He said: I make even the prayer I performed at home by adding a rakʿah, then utter the salām, then join the people, designating the prayer they are engaged in as the obligatory one.

قَالَ: وَسُئِلَ عَطَاءٌ عَنْ الْمَغْرِبِ يُصَلِّيهَا الرَّجُلُ فِي بَيْتِهِ ثُمَّ يَجِدُ النَّاسَ فِيهَا؟ قَالَ: أَشْفَعُ الَّتِي صَلَّيْت فِي بَيْتِي بِرَكْعَةٍ ثُمَّ أُسَلِّمُ ثُمَّ أَلْحَقُ بِالنَّاسِ، فَأَجْعَلُ الَّتِي هُمْ فِيهَا الْمَكْتُوبَةَ.

L5034 It was narrated to us from Waki‘ from ‘Amr ibn Hassān from Wabarah, who said: “I, Ibrāhīm al-Nakha‘ī, and ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn al-Aswad prayed Maghrib. Then we came to the people while they were in prayer, so we joined them. When the Imam gave the Salam, Ibrāhīm stood and added a rak‘ah to make it even.”

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ حَسَّانٍ عَنْ وَبَرَةَ قَالَ: صَلَّيْت أَنَا وَإِبْرَاهِيمُ النَّخَعِيُّ وَعَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ الْأَسْوَدِ الْمَغْرِبَ، ثُمَّ جِئْنَا إلَى النَّاسِ وَهُمْ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، فَدَخَلْنَا مَعَهُمْ فَلَمَّا سَلَّمَ الْإِمَامُ قَامَ إبْرَاهِيمُ فَشَفَعَ بِرَكْعَةٍ.

L5035 Abū Muḥammad said: ‘Abd al-Raḥmān did not perform the two-unit voluntary prayer (Shafʿ), and all of that is permissible, as it constitutes a voluntary act of worship for which no prohibition has been transmitted regarding any aspect of it.

قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّدٍ: لَمْ يَشْفَعْ عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ، وَكُلُّ ذَلِكَ مُبَاحٌ؛ لِأَنَّهُ تَطَوُّعٌ لَمْ يَأْتِ نَهْيٌ عَنْ شَيْءٍ مِنْهُ.

L5036–5037 From Hammad ibn Salamah, who reported from Uthman al-Batti, from Abu al-Duha, that Masruq prayed the Maghrib prayer, then saw people praying, so he prayed Maghrib with them in congregation. He then added a rak’ah to Maghrib.

وَعَنْ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ أَخْبَرَنَا عُثْمَانُ الْبَتِّيُّ عَنْ أَبِي الضُّحَى أَنَّ مَسْرُوقًا صَلَّى الْمَغْرِبَ، ثُمَّ رَأَى قَوْمًا يُصَلُّونَ فَصَلَّى الْمَغْرِبَ مَعَهُمْ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ، ثُمَّ شَفَعَ الْمَغْرِبَ بِرَكْعَةٍ.

L5038 From Waki‘ on the authority of Ar-Rabi‘ ibn Subayh, who said: “The prayer should be made up except for Fajr and Asr. However, when the call to prayer is given in the mosque, fleeing is more disgraceful than performing the prayer.”

وَعَنْ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ الرَّبِيعِ بْنِ صُبَيْحٍ قَالَ: تُعَادُ الصَّلَاةُ إلَّا الْفَجْرَ وَالْعَصْرَ، وَلَكِنْ إذَا أَذَّنَ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ فَالْفِرَارُ أَقْبَحُ مِنْ الصَّلَاةِ.

L5039 Abu Muhammad said: If they cite what we have narrated through the chain of Abd al-Razzaq from Ibn Jurayj from Nafi‘ that Ibn Umar stated, “If you have already prayed at home, then join the prayer in the mosque with the Imam, pray with him—except for Fajr and Maghrib prayers, for they are not repeated in a day”—there is no valid argument for them in this, for they themselves have contradicted his ruling. Abu Hanifah contradicted him by adding Asr to the non-repeatable prayers, while Malik contradicted him concerning the repetition of Fajr prayer. Whoever acknowledges that he opposes the truth and valid argument has relieved his opponent of the burden. Success comes from Allah, the Most High.

The Issue of the Two Rakʿahs After the ʿAṣr Prayer.

[مَسْأَلَةُ الرَّكْعَتَانِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ]

L5040

L5041 285 - Issue: As for the two rak’ahs after ’Asr, Abu Hanifah and Malik prohibited them. As for Al-Shafi’i, he said: “Whoever misses two rak’ahs before Dhuhr [or after it] may pray them after ’Asr. If he prays them after ’Asr, he may establish them during that time and never abandon them.” Ahmad ibn Hanbal said: “I do not pray them, nor do I denounce those who pray them.” Abu Sulayman said: “They are recommended.”

Ali narrated via Abdullah ibn Yusuf, Ahmad ibn Fath, Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa, Ahmad ibn Muhammad, Ahmad ibn Ali, Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj, Qutaybah, from Ismail ibn Ja’far, who reported: Muhammad ibn Abi Harmalah narrated that Abu Salamah ibn Abd al-Rahman ibn Awf said: “I asked ’Aisha about the two rak’ahs that the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) used to pray after ’Asr.” She replied: “He would pray them before ’Asr, but later became occupied and missed them - or forgot them - so he prayed them after ’Asr. Thereafter, he established them permanently. Whenever the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) adopted a prayer practice, he would steadfastly maintain it.”

٢٨٥ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَأَمَّا الرَّكْعَتَانِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ: فَإِنَّ أَبَا حَنِيفَةَ وَمَالِكًا نَهَيَا عَنْهُمَا؟ وَأَمَّا الشَّافِعِيُّ فَإِنَّهُ قَالَ: مَنْ فَاتَتْهُ رَكْعَتَانِ قَبْلَ الظُّهْرِ [أَوْ بَعْدَهُ] فَلَهُ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَهُمَا بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ، فَإِنْ صَلَّاهُمَا بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ فَلَهُ أَنْ يُثْبِتَهُمَا فِي ذَلِكَ الْوَقْتِ فَلَا يَدَعُهُمَا أَبَدًا وَقَالَ أَحْمَدُ بْنُ حَنْبَلٍ: لَا أُصَلِّيهِمَا، وَلَا أُنْكِرُ عَلَى مَنْ صَلَّاهُمَا، وَقَالَ أَبُو سُلَيْمَانَ: هُمَا مُسْتَحْسَنَتَانِ؟ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ يُوسُفَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ فَتْحٍ ثنا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ بْنُ عِيسَى ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ ثنا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ الْحَجَّاجِ ثنا قُتَيْبَةُ عَنْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ جَعْفَرٍ أَخْبَرَنِي مُحَمَّدٌ هُوَ ابْنُ أَبِي حَرْمَلَةَ أَنَا «أَبُو سَلَمَةَ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ: أَنَّهُ سَأَلَ عَائِشَةَ عَنِ السَّجْدَتَيْنِ اللَّتَيْنِ كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يُصَلِّيهِمَا بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ؟ فَقَالَتْ: كَانَ يُصَلِّيهِمَا قَبْلَ الْعَصْرِ، ثُمَّ إِنَّهُ شُغِلَ عَنْهُمَا أَوْ نَسِيَهُمَا فَصَلَّاهُمَا بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ ثُمَّ أَثْبَتَهُمَا - وَكَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إِذَا صَلَّى صَلَاةً أَثْبَتَهَا» .

L5042–5043 Ali said: “This is what Al-Shafi‘i based his position upon, but there is no valid proof in it. For the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - never stated that these two prayers are only permissible for one who had forgotten them or was preoccupied with them. Had their two prayers at that time not been valid and proper, he would not have affirmed them during a time when they are not normally permissible."

As for Abū Ḥanīfah and Mālik, the evidence cited for their position includes what we have transmitted through the chain of Abū Dāwūd: ʻUbayd Allāh ibn Saʻd ibn Ibrāhīm ibn ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʻAwf reported to us; my uncle—Yaʻqūb ibn Ibrāhīm ibn Saʻd—reported to us; his father reported to us from Muḥammad ibn Isḥāq from Muḥammad ibn ʻAmr ibn ʻAṭāʼ from Dhakwān, the client of ʻĀʼishah, that she narrated to him: "The Messenger of Allāh, peace and blessings be upon him, would pray after ʻAṣr—meaning two rakʻahs—and prohibit them, and he would practice continuous fasting (wiṣāl) yet forbid others from doing so." It also includes what we have transmitted through the chain of al-Bazzār: Yūsuf ibn Mūsā reported to us from Jarīr ibn ʻAbd al-Ḥamīd from ʻAṭāʼ ibn al-Sāʼib from Saʻīd ibn Jubayr from Ibn ʻAbbās: "The Messenger of Allāh, peace and blessings be upon him, only prayed the two rakʻahs after ʻAṣr because wealth came to him, and its distribution occupied him from praying the two rakʻahs after Ẓuhr. Thus, he prayed them after ʻAṣr and did not repeat them." Further evidence includes what we have transmitted through the chain of Ibn Ayman: Qāsim ibn Yūnus reported to us from Abū Ṣāliḥ ʻAbd Allāh ibn Ṣāliḥ from al-Layth from Khālid ibn Yazīd from Saʻīd ibn Abī Hilāl from ʻAbd Allāh ibn Bābī, the client of ʻĀʼishah, the Mother of the Believers. Musa ibn Talhah reported that when Muʿāwiyah performed Ḥajj, we entered upon him. He asked Ibn al-Zubayr about the two rakʻahs after ʿAṣr which the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—had prayed. Ibn al-Zubayr said: "ʻĀʼishah informed me of them." Muʿāwiyah then sent al-Miswar ibn Makhramah to ʿĀʼishah, asking: "Did the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—pray them in your presence?" She replied: "No, but Umm Salamah informed me that he prayed them in her presence." Muʿāwiyah sent al-Miswar ibn Makhramah to Umm Salamah to inquire. She said: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—entered upon me after ʿAṣr and prayed two rakʿahs. I said: 'O

She added: "I never saw the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—pray them before that day or after it."

L5047–5048 And by what we have narrated through the chain of ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī: Sufyān—he is al-Thawrī—narrated to us: Abū Isḥāq al-Sabīʿī narrated to us from ʿĀṣim ibn Damrah from ʿAlī ibn Abī Ṭālib, who said: "The Messenger of Allāh—peace be upon him—used to pray two rakʿahs after every obligatory prayer except the ʿAṣr and Fajr prayers."

L5049 And according to what some people narrated from Hammad ibn Salamah, from Al-Azraq ibn Qays, from Dhakwan, from Umm Salamah: "The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) prayed the Asr prayer, then entered my house and prayed two rak'ahs? I said: 'O Messenger of Allah, have you prayed a prayer you had not prayed before?' He said: 'Some wealth came to me, which preoccupied me from two rak'ahs I used to perform after Dhuhr, so I prayed them now?' I said: 'O Messenger of Allah, should we make them up if they are missed?' He said: 'No.'"

L5050–5052 And by what he also narrated via the chain of Abū Usāmah from al-Walīd ibn Kathīr from Muḥammad ibn ʿAmr ibn ʿAṭāʾ from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Sufyān that Muʿāwiyah sent to ʿĀ'ishah to ask her about... The two units of prayer after 'Asr. She replied: I have no knowledge of him performing them, but Umm Salamah narrated to me that he performed them at her place. So he sent for Umm Salamah. She said: "The Messenger of Allah — peace and blessings be upon him — performed them at my place. I had never seen him perform them before or after." He said: They are two units I used to pray after Dhuhr. Then some camels from charity arrived, and I forgot them until I prayed 'Asr. Then I remembered them, and I disliked performing them in the mosque while people were watching me, so I performed them at your place. They mentioned the reports prohibiting prayer after 'Asr, and we will mention them, God willing, after this issue — and with Him, the Exalted, do we seek support. Ali said: None of this constitutes proof for them in any regard. As for the hadith of Dhakwan from Aisha, there is no prohibition in it against them; rather, it contains a general prohibition against prayer after ʿAsr, and this is authentic. Since that is the case, the obligation is to apply both his action and his prohibition. Thus, we prohibit prayer after ʿAsr, and we perform what he — peace and blessings be upon him — performed. We distinguish the lesser from the greater, apply both, and do not fear either of them.

وَبِمَا رَوَاهُ أَيْضًا مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي أُسَامَةَ عَنْ الْوَلِيدِ بْنِ كَثِيرٍ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ عَطَاءٍ عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ أَبِي سُفْيَانَ أَنَّ مُعَاوِيَةَ أَرْسَلَ إلَى عَائِشَةَ يَسْأَلُهَا عَنْ السَّجْدَتَيْنِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ؟ فَقَالَتْ: لَيْسَ عِنْدِي صَلَّاهُمَا لَكِنْ أُمُّ سَلَمَةَ حَدَّثَتْنِي أَنَّهُ صَلَّاهُمَا عِنْدَهَا؟ فَأَرْسَلَ إلَى أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ؟ فَقَالَتْ: «صَلَّاهُمَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - عِنْدِي، لَمْ أَرَهُ صَلَّاهُمَا قَبْلُ وَلَا بَعْدُ؟ قَالَ: هُمَا سَجْدَتَانِ كُنْتُ أُصَلِّيهِمَا بَعْدَ الظُّهْرِ فَقَدِمَ عَلَيَّ قَلَائِصُ مِنْ الصَّدَقَةِ فَنَسِيتُهُمَا حَتَّى صَلَّيْتُ الْعَصْرَ، ثُمَّ ذَكَرْتُهُمَا، فَكَرِهْتُ أَنْ أُصَلِّيَهُمَا فِي الْمَسْجِدِ وَالنَّاسُ يَرَوْنِي فَصَلَّيْتُهُمَا عِنْدَكِ» ؟ وَذَكَرُوا الْأَخْبَارَ الَّتِي وَرَدَتْ فِي النَّهْيِ عَنْ

الصَّلَاةِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ، وَسَنَذْكُرُهَا إنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ بَعْدَ هَذِهِ الْمَسْأَلَةِ - وَبِهِ تَعَالَى نَتَأَيَّدُ؟ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَكُلُّ هَذَا لَا حُجَّةَ لَهُمْ فِي شَيْءٍ مِنْهُ -: أَمَّا حَدِيثُ ذَكْوَانَ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، فَلَيْسَ فِيهِ نَهْيٌ عَنْهُمَا، وَإِنَّمَا فِيهِ نَهْيٌ عَنْهَا يَعْنِي عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ جُمْلَةً، وَهَذَا صَحِيحٌ، وَإِذْ ذَلِكَ كَذَلِكَ فَالْوَاجِبُ اسْتِعْمَالُ فِعْلِهِ وَنَهْيِهِ، فَنَنْهَى عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ، وَنُصَلِّي مَا صَلَّى - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -، وَنَخُصُّ الْأَقَلَّ مِنْ الْأَكْثَرِ، وَنَسْتَعْمِلُهُمَا جَمِيعًا، وَلَا نَخَافُ وَاحِدًا مِنْهُمَا.

L5053 There is no distinction between one who abandons the two rakʿahs—regarding which it is established that the Prophet (peace be upon him) prayed them after ʿAṣr and prohibited them due to his prohibition against prayer after ʿAṣr—and one who disregards his prohibition (peace be upon him) against prayer after ʿAṣr because he prayed those two rakʿahs after ʿAṣr.

L5054 If she had said, "He used to forbid them," that would have indicated they were specifically his. However, it is not permissible to lie or add to the narration. Whoever does that, let him take his seat in the Fire—thus, their entire reliance on this narration is invalidated.

وَلَوْ قَالَتْ: وَكَانَ يَنْهَى عَنْهُمَا، لَكَانَ ذَلِكَ يَدُلُّ عَلَى أَنَّهُمَا لَهُ خَاصَّةً، وَلَكِنْ لَا يَحِلُّ بِالْكَذِبِ، وَلَا الزِّيَادَةِ فِي الرِّوَايَةِ، وَمَنْ فَعَلَ ذَلِكَ فَلْيَتَبَوَّأْ مَقْعَدَهُ مِنْ النَّارِ - فَسَقَطَ تَعَلُّقُهُمْ بِهَذَا الْخَبَرِ جُمْلَةً.

L5055–5057 As for the ḥadīth of Ibn ʿAbbās, it is defective for multiple reasons. The first is that Jarīr ibn ʿAbd al-Ḥamīd only heard from ʿAṭāʾ ibn al-Sāʾib after ʿAṭāʾ's confusion and the decline of his mental faculties. This is well-known among the people of hadith.

وَأَمَّا حَدِيثُ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ فَمَعْلُولٌ مِنْ وُجُوهٍ: أَوَّلُهَا: - أَنَّ جَرِيرَ بْنَ عَبْدِ الْحَمِيدِ لَمْ يَسْمَعْ مِنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ السَّائِبِ إلَّا بَعْدَ اخْتِلَاطِ عَطَاءٍ، وَتَغَلُّتِ عَقْلِهِ، هَذَا مَعْرُوفٌ عِنْدَ أَصْحَابِ الْحَدِيثِ.

L5058 The second point is that even if it were authentic and we heard Ibn Abbas saying that, it would not constitute proof. This is because he—may Allah be pleased with him—reported what he knew, while Aisha—may Allah be pleased with her—reported what she had knowledge of, which Ibn Abbas did not possess: namely, that "the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—did not abandon the two rakʿahs after ʿAsr until he died." This is additional knowledge that it is impermissible to abandon.

قَالَ: لَا أَعْلَمُ وَكِلَاهُمَا صَادِقٌ؟ وَثَالِثُهَا - أَنَّهُ حَتَّى لَوْ صَحَّ قَوْلُ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ وَلَمْ يَأْتِ عَنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ خِلَافُهُ - لَمَا كَانَتْ فِيهِ حُجَّةٌ؛ لِأَنَّ فِعْلَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - الشَّيْءَ مَرَّةً وَاحِدَةً حُجَّةٌ بَاقِيَةٌ، وَحَقٌّ ثَابِتٌ أَبَدًا، مَا لَمْ يَنْهَ عَمَّا فَعَلَ مِنْ ذَلِكَ؟ وَمَنْ قَالَ: لَا يَكُونُ فِعْلُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - الشَّيْءَ حَقًّا إلَّا حَتَّى يُكَرِّرَ فِعْلَهُ فَهُوَ كَافِرٌ مُشْرِكٌ وَسَخِيفٌ [مَعَ ذَلِكَ] ؛ لِأَنَّهُ يُقَالُ لَهُ مِثْلُ ذَلِكَ فِيمَا فُعِلَ مَرَّتَيْنِ أَوْ ثَلَاثًا أَوْ أَلْفَ مَرَّةٍ، وَلَا فَرْقَ، وَهَذَا لَا يَقُولُهُ مُسْلِمٌ، وَلَا ذُو عَقْلٍ؟ وَالْعَجَبُ أَنَّهُمْ يَقُولُونَ: إنَّ الصَّاحِبَ إذَا رَوَى خَبَرًا عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - ثُمَّ خَالَفَهُ فَذَلِكَ دَلِيلٌ عِنْدَهُمْ عَلَى وَهْنِ الْخَبَرِ، وَقَدْ صَحَّ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ الصَّلَاةُ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ كَمَا نَذْكُرُ بَعْدَ هَذَا فَهَلَّا عَلَّلُوا هَذَا الْخَبَرَ بِمُخَالَفَةِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، لِمَا رَوَى فِي ذَلِكَ، وَلَكِنَّهُمْ لَا مَئُونَةَ عَلَيْهِمْ مِنْ التَّنَاقُضِ - فَسَقَطَ هَذَا الْخَبَرُ جُمْلَةً، - وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ؟

And who is more deserving: one who is certain and says, “I know,” or one who says, “I do not know”—and both are truthful? The third point is that even if Ibn Abbas’s statement were authentic and none of the Companions contradicted it, it would still not constitute proof. For the Messenger of Allah’s—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—action, even if performed once, remains an enduring proof and an eternally established truth, provided he did not prohibit it. Whoever claims that the Messenger of Allah’s—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—action does not establish a truth unless he repeats it is a disbeliever who associates partners with Allah and a fool. This is because the same objection could be raised even if the action were performed twice, thrice, or a thousand times—there is no difference. Would any Muslim or rational person say such a thing? It is astonishing that they claim: “If a Companion narrates a report from the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—and then contradicts it, that is evidence for them of the report’s weakness.” Yet it is authentically established that Ibn Abbas prayed after ‘Asr, as we will mention later. Why did they not invalidate this report due to Ibn Abbas’s contradiction of his own narration? But they are unburdened by inconsistency—thus this report is entirely invalidated. And success is from Allah, the Most High.

L5059–5060 As for the narration of Musa ibn Talha, there is no valid proof for them in it due to several reasons. The first is the weakness of its chain of transmission, as it is reported through Abu Salih (the scribe of Al-Layth, who is weak) and in it is Sa‘id ibn Abi Hilal (who is not strong). Musa ibn Talha did not explicitly mention hearing it from Umm Salamah or from Aisha—may Allah be pleased with them both.

L5061 The second point is that there is no prohibition against praying these two rak‘ahs. The third point is that if this report were authentic, it would constitute evidence in our favor, for it states: “The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) prayed two rak‘ahs after ‘Aṣr.” Had these prayers been impermissible or disliked, he (peace be upon him) would not have performed them. His action (peace be upon him) is truth and guidance, whether he performed it once or a thousand times. Whoever says that his action constitutes misguidance is a disbeliever.

L5062 The fourth: An authentic disagreement regarding this has been reported from Umm Salamah (may Allah be pleased with her), as we will mention after this if Allah the Exalted wills.

L5063 The fifth: It is undoubtedly fabricated, due to ʻĀ'isha's denial that the Prophet—peace be upon him—prayed the two rak'ahs in her presence, and the mutawatir transmission from ʻĀ'isha through the narration of the Imams: Urwa ibn al-Zubayr, ʻAbdullāh ibn al-Zubayr, Masrūq, al-Aswad ibn Yazīd, Tawus, Abū Salama ibn ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʻAwf, Ayman, and others—that he—peace be upon him—did not cease praying them in her presence.

L5064–5066 This view is equally applicable to the hadith of Umm Salamah which we cited through the chain of ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Sufyān. This ʿAbd al-Raḥmān is unknown (majhūl), and he also did not mention that he heard it from Umm Salamah. This is undoubtedly a fabricated narration, for it contains an evident falsehood beyond doubt—namely, what is falsely attributed to ʿĀ'ishah in her saying, "I do not have [a precedent for] their two prayers." We have already mentioned earlier those who rejected this narration.

L5067 And because it also contains wording that is absolutely impermissible for him—peace be upon him—to say: "I disliked to pray them in the mosque while people were looking at me, so I prayed them at your place."

L5068 For their action—of both of them—must necessarily be one of the following: reprehensible, forbidden, permissible, or praiseworthy. If it is forbidden or reprehensible, then whoever attributes to the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—the concealment of forbidden matters is a disbeliever, for accusing the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—of transgression. He—peace and blessings be upon him—was commanded to recite to the people: "And I do not intend to oppose you in what I forbid you" [Hud 11:88].[2]

L5069 Among the impossible and inconceivable matters is that he—peace be upon him—would exert himself through contriving a disliked prayer devoid of [2] Qur'an references (L5068): Qur'an 11:88 (Hud).

وَالرَّابِعُ: - أَنَّهُ قَدْ صَحَّ خِلَافُ هَذَا عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهَا - كَمَا نَذْكُرُ بَعْدَ هَذَا إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى.

وَلِأَنَّ فِيهِ أَيْضًا لَفْظًا لَا يَجُوزُ أَلْبَتَّةَ أَنْ يَقُولَهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -، وَهُوَ «فَكَرِهْت أَنْ أُصَلِّيَهُمَا فِي الْمَسْجِدِ وَالنَّاسُ يَنْظُرُونَ إلَيَّ فَصَلَّيْتُهُمَا عِنْدَك» .

إذْ لَا يَخْلُو فِعْلُهُمَا: أَنْ يَكُونَ مَكْرُوهًا أَوْ حَرَامًا، أَوْ مُبَاحًا حَسَنًا؟ فَإِنْ كَانَ حَرَامًا أَوْ مَكْرُوهًا، فَمَنْ نَسَبَ إلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - التَّسَتُّرَ لِمُحَرَّمَاتٍ فَهُوَ كَافِرٌ، لِتَفْسِيقِهِ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَقَدْ أُمِرَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - أَنْ يَقْرَأَ عَلَى النَّاسِ {وَمَا أُرِيدُ أَنْ أُخَالِفَكُمْ إلَى مَا أَنْهَاكُمْ عَنْهُ} [هود: ٨٨] .

وَمِنْ الْمُحَالِ الْمُمْتَنِعِ أَنْ يَتَعَنَّى - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - بِتَكَلُّفِ صَلَاةٍ مَكْرُوهَةٍ لَا أَجْرَ فِيهَا؟ فَهَذَا هُوَ التَّكَلُّفُ الَّذِي أَمَرَهُ تَعَالَى أَنْ يَقُولَ فِيهِ: {وَمَا أَنَا مِنَ الْمُتَكَلِّفِينَ} [ص: ٨٦]

reward. This is the very pretense regarding which Allah commanded him to declare: “I am not of those who affect pretense” (Q. 38:86). Far be it from Allah Almighty to permit him—peace be upon him—to intend an act unless it draws him nearer to his Lord and causes Allah to make him forget that which holds no means to bring us closer to our Lord—nor any increase.[3]

وَحَاشَا لِلَّهِ تَعَالَى أَنْ يَفْعَلَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَاصِدًا إلَى فِعْلِهِ - إلَّا مَا يُقَرِّبُهُ مِنْ رَبِّهِ تَعَالَى وَيُنْسِيهِ تَعَالَى الشَّيْءَ [لَيْسَ] لَنَا فِيهِ مَا يُقَرِّبُنَا مِنْ رَبِّنَا عَزَّ وَجَلَّ؟ ، وَلَا مَزِيد.

L5070 As for the narration of Ali ibn Abi Talib, there is no proof in it whatsoever, for it contains nothing except his report—may Allah be pleased with him—of what he knew: that he did not witness the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—praying those two prayers, and he is truthful in his statement. This does not imply prohibition or dislike of them. And Ali—peace be upon him—never fasted a complete month besides Ramadan; yet this does not necessitate dislike of fasting [a complete month voluntarily].

وَأَمَّا حَدِيثُ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ فَلَا حُجَّةَ فِيهِ أَصْلًا؛ لِأَنَّهُ لَيْسَ فِيهِ إلَّا إخْبَارُهُ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ - بِمَا عَلِمَ؛ مِنْ أَنَّهُ لَمْ يَرَ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - صَلَّاهُمَا، وَهُوَ الصَّادِقُ فِي قَوْلِهِ، وَلَيْسَ فِي هَذَا نَهْيٌ عَنْهُمَا، وَلَا كَرَاهَةٌ لَهُمَا؛ [وَمَا] صَامَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَطُّ شَهْرًا كَامِلًا غَيْرَ رَمَضَانَ، وَلَيْسَ هَذَا بِمُوجِبٍ كَرَاهِيَةَ صَوْمِ [شَهْرٍ كَامِلٍ تَطَوُّعًا] .

L5071–5073 Then, it has been narrated by someone other than ʿAlī that he—peace be upon him—prayed both. Thus, each relayed according to his knowledge, and all of them are truthful. Then, it has been authentically reported from ʿAlī a differing opinion from that, as we will mention after this, if Allah, the Exalted, wills.

ثُمَّ قَدْ رَوَى غَيْرُ عَلِيٍّ: أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - صَلَّاهُمَا - فَكُلٌّ أَخْبَرَ بِعِلْمِهِ، وَكُلُّهُمْ صَادِقٌ ثُمَّ قَدْ صَحَّ عَنْ عَلِيٍّ خِلَافُ ذَلِكَ، كَمَا نَذْكُرُ بَعْدَ هَذَا إنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى.

L5074 They say: When a companion narrates a hadith and is contradicted, this constitutes evidence according to them for the rejection of that report. Why did they not say this here? As for the hadith of Hammad ibn Salama from al-Azraq ibn Qays from Dhakwan from Umm Salamah—it is a munkar (denounced) hadith, for it does not appear in the books of Hammad ibn Salama.

L5075 Moreover, this chain is disconnected, as Dhakwān did not hear it from Umm Salamah. The proof of this is that Abū al-Walīd al-Ṭayālisī narrated this report from Ḥammād ibn Salamah, from al-Azraq ibn Qays, from Dhakwān, from ʿĀʾishah, from Umm Salamah: “The Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—prayed two rakʿahs in her house after ʿAṣr. I said, ’What are these two rakʿahs?' He replied, 'I used to pray them after Ẓuhr, but wealth came to me and preoccupied me, so I prayed them now.'"

فَقُلْت: مَا هَاتَانِ الرَّكْعَتَانِ؟ قَالَ: كُنْتُ أُصَلِّيهِمَا بَعْدَ الظُّهْرِ، وَجَاءَنِي مَالٌ فَشَغَلَنِي فَصَلَّيْتُهُمَا الْآنَ» .

L5076 This is the continuous narration, and it does not contain the phrase: "Shall we then make up those two ourselves? He said: No." Therefore, it is confirmed that Dhakwan did not hear this addition from Umm Salamah, and we do not know from whom he took it. Thus, it is rendered invalid.

فَهَذِهِ هِيَ الرِّوَايَةُ الْمُتَّصِلَةُ: وَلَيْسَ فِيهَا «أَفَنَقْضِيهِمَا نَحْنُ؟ قَالَ: لَا» فَصَحَّ أَنَّ هَذِهِ الزِّيَادَةَ لَمْ يَسْمَعْهَا ذَكْوَانُ مِنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ، وَلَا نَدْرِي عَمَّنْ أَخَذَهَا؟ فَسَقَطَتْ.

L5077–5079 Furthermore, if this wording were valid, they would have no valid proof for it whatsoever, for it contains no prohibition against performing those two prayers at all, but rather only a prohibition against compensating for them after their prescribed time. Thus, it is impermissible to blame his statement—peace be upon him. By deceptively attributing to him what he did not say—through the obfuscation of one who acts thus in religious matters—all that they depended upon becomes invalid. And all praise belongs to Allah.

L5080 As for the narrations prohibiting prayer after the Asr prayer, we shall mention them—if Allah the Exalted wills—following this issue and the discussion concerning them, by the power and strength of Allah the Exalted? As for al-Shāfiʿī's reliance on the hadith of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—which we mentioned, that he—peace be upon him—"would consistently perform a prayer once he established it," there is no proof for him in it. This is because it does not contain a prohibition against praying them for one who did not forget the two rakʿahs before Asr. It only indicates [the permissibility for prayer] at that time, for if it were not permissible, he—peace be upon him—would not have prayed them, neither as a compensatory act nor as a regular practice. His establishment of them (peace be upon him) is the clearest evidence that they are permissible and virtuous at that time. He—peace be upon him—did not say, "No one should pray them except one who forgot them"—thus, is his reliance on it invalidated?

ʿAbdullāh ibn Yūsuf narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Fatḥ narrated to us: ʿAbd al-Wahhāb ibn ʿĪsā narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn ʿAlī narrated to us: Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj narrated to us: Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb and Muḥammad ibn ʿAbdillāh ibn Numayr. Zuhayr said: Jarīr narrated to us, and Ibn Numayr said: My father narrated to us. Then they all agreed: From Hishām ibn ʿUrwah, from his father, from ʿĀ'ishah, who said: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—never abandoned the two rakʿahs after Asr in my presence at all."[4]

حَرْبٍ وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ نُمَيْرٍ، قَالَ زُهَيْرٌ: ثنا جَرِيرٌ، وَقَالَ ابْنُ نُمَيْرٍ: ثنا أَبِي، ثُمَّ اتَّفَقَا جَمِيعًا: عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: «مَا تَرَكَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - رَكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ عِنْدِي قَطُّ» .

L5081 And through him to Muslim: ʿAli ibn Ḥajar narrated to us, ʿAli ibn Mishar informed us, Abū Isḥāq al-Shaybānī informed us, from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn al-Aswad ibn Yazīd, from his father, from ʿĀ'ishah, who said: "There are two prayers the Messenger of Allah (may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him) never abandoned in my house, ever, whether in secret or publicly: two rakʿahs before Fajr and two rakʿahs after ʿAsr."[5]

L5084 Abd al-Rahman ibn Abdullah al-Hamadani narrated to us: Ibrahim ibn Ahmad al-Balkhi narrated to us: al-Farbari narrated to us: al-Bukhari narrated to us: Abu Nu'aym—who is al-Fadl ibn Dukayn—narrated to us: Abd al-Wahid ibn Ayman narrated to me: My father narrated to me that he heard Aisha, the Mother of the Believers, say: "By the One who took him away"—meaning the Messenger of Allah—"he did not abandon them until he met Allah the Exalted"—meaning the two rak'ahs after the Asr prayer—"and he did not meet Allah until prayer became burdensome for him." This is the utmost emphasis on them both.

L5087–5088 Ibn al-Zubayr said, "The wife of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) narrated to me that he (peace be upon him) prayed after ʿAṣr."

فَقَالَ ابْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ: حَدَّثَتْنِي زَوْجُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - صَلَّى بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ» .

L5089 Muʿāwiyah sent to ʿĀ'ishah, and she responded: "Is this the ḥadīth of Maymūnah bint al-Ḥārith?" He then dispatched two messengers to Maymūnah, who said: "I only narrated that the Messenger of Allah—may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him—was mobilizing an army, but they detained him until the afternoon was upon him. He prayed ʿAṣr, then returned and prayed what he customarily performed before it (ʿAṣr)." She added: "Whenever the Messenger of Allah—may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him—performed a prayer or any act, he preferred to maintain it consistently."

L5090 Ibn al-Zubayr said: "Has he not prayed? By Allah, I will certainly pray it." Ali said: "The proof of Ibn al-Zubayr became evident, so no objection could validly oppose him." Ali said: "They argued: 'Did Umar not strike people for this practice, with Ibn Abbas supporting him?' We replied: 'No decisive authority rests with anyone other than Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him) - neither Umar nor others. Rather, the Prophet (peace be upon him) constitutes the conclusive proof over Umar and all others. Groups of Companions opposed Umar in this matter. Authentic reports from both Umar approached him and struck him with a whip. Tamim gestured to him: 'Sit down.' Umar sat until Tamim finished, then asked: 'Why did you strike me?'"

فَقَالَ لَهُ عُمَرُ: لِأَنَّكَ رَكَعْتَ هَاتَيْنِ الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ وَقَدْ نَهَيْتُ عَنْهُمَا؟ قَالَ لَهُ تَمِيمٌ إنِّي صَلَّيْتُهُمَا مَعَ مَنْ هُوَ خَيْرٌ مِنْكَ: رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -؟ فَقَالَ لَهُ عُمَرُ: إنِّي لَيْسَ بِي إيَّاكُمْ أَيُّهَا الرَّهْطُ؟ وَلَكِنِّي أَخَافُ أَنْ يَأْتِيَ بَعْدَكُمْ قَوْمٌ يُصَلُّونَ مَا بَيْنَ الْعَصْرِ إلَى الْمَغْرِبِ، حَتَّى يَمُرُّونَ بِالسَّاعَةِ الَّتِي نَهَى عَنْهَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ فِيهَا كَمَا صَلَّوْا بَيْنَ الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ، ثُمَّ يَقُولُونَ: قَدْ رَأَيْنَا فُلَانًا وَفُلَانًا يُصَلُّونَ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ» .

Umar said to him, "Is it because you performed these two rak'ahs when I had forbidden them?" Tamim replied, "I prayed them with one better than you—the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him." Umar said, "It is not you, O group, that I am concerned about, but I fear a people will arise after your time who pray between 'Asr and Maghrib until they encroach upon the hour during which the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—forbade prayer, just as they might pray between Zuhr and 'Asr. Then they will say, 'We saw so-and-so and so-and-so praying after 'Asr!'"

Hammam narrated to us: Ibn Mufarrij narrated to us, Ibn al-A'rabi narrated to us, al-Dabari narrated to us, Abd al-Razzaq narrated to us, Ibn Jurayj said: I heard Abu Sa'id the Blind narrating from al-Sa'ib—client of the Persians—from Zayd ibn Khalid al-Juhani: "Umar—at the time, the caliph—saw him praying two rak'ahs after Asr, so he struck him with a whip while he was still praying in that state. When he concluded the prayer, Zayd said: 'O Commander of the Faithful, by Allah, I will never abandon them since I witnessed Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—praying them.' Umar sat down beside him and said: 'O Zayd ibn Khalid, were it not that I fear people would gradually extend them as prayer until nightfall, I would not have struck you concerning them.'" This constitutes an explicit, established text from Umar affirming the permissibility of voluntary prayer after Asr provided the sun has not yellowed and neared sunset. It was narrated to us through a reliable chain from Shu'bah from Abu Jamrah Nasr ibn Imran al-Duba'i, who said: Ibn Abbas stated: "I indeed saw Umar ibn al-Khattab striking people over praying after Asr." Then Ibn Abbas added: "Pray if you wish between now and the sun's setting."

L5094–5095 Ali said: They say regarding the Companion who narrates a hadith then contradicts it: "Had he not possessed knowledge of its abrogation, he would not have opposed it." Thus, they are compelled to say here: "Had Ibn Abbas not held knowledge more firmly established than Umar's action, he would not have contradicted the position he upheld with Umar."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: هُمْ يَقُولُونَ فِي الصَّاحِبِ يَرْوِي الْحَدِيثَ ثُمَّ يُخَالِفُهُ: لَوْلَا أَنَّهُ كَانَ عِنْدَهُ عِلْمٌ بِنَسْخِهِ مَا خَالَفَهُ؟ فَيَلْزَمُهُمْ أَنْ يَقُولُوا هَهُنَا: لَوْلَا أَنَّهُ كَانَ عِنْدَ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ عِلْمٌ أَثْبَتَ مِنْ فِعْلِ عُمَرَ مَا خَالَفَ مَا كَانَ عَلَيْهِ [مَعَ] عُمَرُ.

L5096 And similarly from Shu'bah, from Abū Shu'ayb, from Ṭāwus: "Ibn 'Umar was asked about the two rak'ahs after 'Aṣr: did he permit them?" 'Alī said: "Why did they not say: 'Ibn 'Umar would never have opposed his father were it not for the superior knowledge he possessed—which was more firmly established than his father's action?'" And it has been narrated to us from 'Abd al-Razzāq, from Ibn Jurayj, from 'Aṭā' ibn Abī Rabāḥ: that 'Ā'ishah and Umm Salamah—the two Mothers of the Believers—used to pray two rak'ahs after 'Aṣr.

L5097 We have received narrations from Hammad ibn Salama and Hisham ibn Urwah. Hammad narrated from Ata ibn al-Sa'ib, from Sa'id ibn Jubayr, who said: Aisha, the Mother of the Believers, used to pray two rak'ahs after Asr while standing, and Maymunah (also a Mother of the Believers) used to pray four rak'ahs while sitting. When questioned about this, she replied, comparing herself to Aisha: "She is young, while I am old, so I pray four rak'ahs in place of Aisha's two rak'ahs."

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ وَهِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ، قَالَ حَمَّادٌ: عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ السَّائِبِ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ قَالَ: كَانَتْ عَائِشَةُ أُمُّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ تُصَلِّي رَكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ وَهِيَ قَائِمَةٌ: وَكَانَتْ مَيْمُونَةُ أُمُّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ تُصَلِّي أَرْبَعًا وَهِيَ قَاعِدَةٌ، فَسُئِلَتْ عَنْ ذَلِكَ؟ فَقَالَتْ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ: إنَّهَا شَابَّةٌ وَأَنَا عَجُوزٌ فَأُصَلِّي أَرْبَعًا بَدَلَ رَكْعَتَيْهَا.

L5098 Ali said: This invalidates the narration of those who transmitted from Umm Salamah, "Shall we recompense them?" He said: "No."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: هَذَا يُبْطِلُ رِوَايَةَ مَنْ رَوَى عَنْ أُمِّ سَلَمَةَ «أَنَقْضِيهَا نَحْنُ؟ قَالَ: لَا» .

L5099–5101 Hishām narrated from his father: Al-Zubayr and ʿAbdullāh ibn al-Zubayr would pray two rakʿahs after the ʿAṣr prayer. It was narrated to us from ʿAbd al-Razzāq, from Maʿmar, from Hishām ibn ʿUrwah. “We used to pray with ibn al-Zubayr.” He prayed the ʿAṣr prayer in the Sacred Mosque, and after the ʿAṣr prayer he would pray two rakʿahs. We would pray those two rakʿahs with him, standing in a row behind him.

وَقَالَ هِشَامٌ عَنْ أَبِيهِ: كَانَ الزُّبَيْرُ وَعَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ يُصَلِّيَانِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ رُوِّينَا عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ: كُنَّا نُصَلِّي مَعَ ابْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ الْعَصْرَ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ الْحَرَامِ، فَكَانَ يُصَلِّي بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ، وَكُنَّا نُصَلِّيهِمَا مَعَهُ، نَقُومُ صَفًّا خَلْفَهُ.

L5102 On the authority of ʿAbd al-Razzāq, on the authority of Maʿmar, on the authority of al-Zuhrī, on the authority of al-Sā’ib ibn Yazīd, who said: Al-Munkadir performed tasbīḥ after ʿAṣr, so ʿUmar struck him. ʿAlī said: Al-Munkadir and al-Sā’ib were Companions of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him).

L5103–5105 From Abd al-Razzaq from Ma’mar from Ibn Tawus from his father: Abu Ayyub al-Ansari used to pray two rak’ahs after the Asr prayer before Umar’s caliphate. When Umar was appointed caliph, he abandoned them. When Umar died, he prayed them again. He was asked: “What is this?” He replied: “Umar used to strike people for praying them.” Ali said: “This hadith clearly shows that Abu Bakr al-Siddiq and Uthman - may Allah be pleased with them - permitted the rukūʿ after Asr.” Abd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi narrated to us from Shuba and Sufyan, who both said: From Abu Ishaq al-Sabi’i from Asim ibn Damrah: Ali ibn Abi Talib was traveling, prayed Asr, then entered his tent and prayed two rak’ahs. From Muhammad ibn Ja’far from Shuba from Abu Ishaq al-Sabi’i, who said: I asked Abu Juhaifah about the two rak’ahs after Asr. He replied: “If they do you no good, they will do you no harm.” From Yahya ibn Sa’id al-Qattan from Shuba from Yazid ibn Khumayr from Abdullah ibn Yazid from Jubayr ibn Nufayr, who said: Umar wrote to Umayr ibn Sa’d prohibiting him from the two rak’ahs after Asr. He said. Abu al-Darda said: “As for me, I will not abandon both of them; whoever wishes to kindle, let him kindle.”

وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ عَنْ ابْنِ طَاوُسٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ: أَنَّ أَبَا أَيُّوبَ الْأَنْصَارِيَّ كَانَ يُصَلِّي قَبْلَ خِلَافَةِ عُمَرَ رَكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ، فَلَمَّا اُسْتُخْلِفَ عُمَرُ تَرَكَهُمَا: فَلَمَّا تُوُفِّيَ عُمَرُ رَكَعَهُمَا، فَقِيلَ لَهُ: مَا هَذَا؟ فَقَالَ: إنَّ عُمَرَ كَانَ يَضْرِبُ النَّاسَ عَلَيْهِمَا قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فِي هَذَا الْحَدِيثِ بَيَانٌ وَاضِحٌ أَنَّ أَبَا بَكْرٍ الصِّدِّيقَ وَعُثْمَانَ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمَا - كَانَا يُجِيزَانِ الرُّكُوعَ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ مَهْدِيٍّ ثنا شُعْبَةُ وَسُفْيَانُ جَمِيعًا قَالَا: ثنا أَبُو إِسْحَاقَ السَّبِيعِيِّ عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ ضَمْرَةَ: أَنَّ عَلِيَّ بْنَ أَبِي طَالِبٍ كَانَ فِي سَفَرٍ فَصَلَّى الْعَصْرَ، ثُمَّ دَخَلَ فُسْطَاطَهُ فَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ؟ وَعَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ جَعْفَرٍ عَنْ شُعْبَةَ عَنْ أَبِي إِسْحَاقَ السَّبِيعِيِّ قَالَ: سَأَلْت أَبَا جُحَيْفَةَ عَنْ الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ؟ فَقَالَ: إنْ لَمْ يَنْفَعَاكَ لَمْ يَضُرَّاكَ وَعَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ الْقَطَّانِ عَنْ شُعْبَةَ ثنا يَزِيدُ بْنُ خُمَيْرٍ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ يَزِيدَ عَنْ جُبَيْرِ بْنِ نُفَيْرٍ قَالَ: كَتَبَ عُمَرُ إلَى عُمَيْرِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ يَنْهَاهُ عَنْ الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ، فَقَالَ أَبُو الدَّرْدَاءِ: أَمَّا أَنَا فَلَا أَتْرُكُهُمَا، فَمَنْ شَاءَ أَنْ يَخْضِجَ فَلْيَخْضِجْ.

L5106–5108 From Hammad ibn Zayd: Anas ibn Sirin narrated: I went out with Anas ibn Malik to his land in Baddha Sirīn, which was five farsakhs away. I attended the Asr prayer, and he led us while sitting on a mat in the boat. He prayed two rak'ahs with us, then gave the salutation. Then he prayed another two rak'ahs with us.

From Yazid ibn Harun, from Ammar ibn Abi Mu'awiyah al-Dhuhni, from Abu Shu'bah al-Tamimi, who said: I saw al-Hasan ibn Ali ibn Abi Talib performing tawaf after Asr and praying. [Is that permissible?]

From Abd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi, from Sufyan al-Thawri, from Qays ibn Muslim, from Tariq ibn Shihab, from Bilal - the muezzin of Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him) - who said: "He did not prohibit prayer except at sunset."

From Abd al-Razzaq, from Ma'mar, from Abu Ishaq al-Sabi'i, from Abu al-Ahwas, from Ibn Mas'ud. In a hadith: "A time will come upon you with many preachers and few scholars. They will prolong the sermon and delay the prayer until it is said: 'This is the death throes of the dying.' I asked: 'What are the death throes of the dying?' He replied: 'When the sun turns intensely yellow. Whoever among you encounters this should perform the prayer at its appointed time. If he is detained, let him pray with them, but let him treat his solitary prayer as the obligatory one and his prayer with them as voluntary.'"

L5109 Ali said: These are the senior Companions—may Allah be pleased with them: Abu Bakr, Umar, Uthman, Ali, al-Zubayr, Aisha, Umm Salamah, and Maimunah: the Mothers of the Believers, Ibn al-Zubayr, those present in Ali's company among the Companions, Tamim al-Dari, al-Munqidir, Zayd ibn Khalid al-Juhani, Ibn Abbas, Ibn Umar, Abu Ayyub al-Ansari, Abu Juhaifah, Abu al-Darda', Anas, al-Hasan ibn Ali, Bilal, Tariq ibn Shihab, and Ibn Mas'ud.

L5110 It has also been narrated from al-Nuʿmān ibn Bashīr and others. So who remains? We know of no connection they have to any of the Companions (may Allah be pleased with them) except a narration from Abū Saʿīd al-Khudrī, which he specifically designated for the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him).

وَرُوِيَ أَيْضًا عَنْ النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ بَشِيرٍ وَغَيْرِهِمْ، فَمَنْ بَقِيَ؟ ؟ وَمَا نَعْلَمُ لَهُمْ مُتَعَلَّقًا بِأَحَدٍ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ - إلَّا رِوَايَةً عَنْ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ، جَعَلَهَا خَاصَّةً؛ لِرَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -.

L5111–5113 If a jurist states: "It is specific," while others among them state: "It is general," proceeding follows the generality until an authentic textual evidence emerges indicating it is specifics, with no possibility of its existence, and another concerning [text incomplete]. From Mu'awiyah: There is no prohibition against them in this narration. Rather, it mentions that people used to pray these two rakʿahs during the lifetime of Allah's Messenger—may Allah bless him and grant him peace.

L5114 And another is an interrupted narration not authentically attributed to Ibn Masʿūd. In it, too, there is nothing except: "And I dislike what ʿUmar disliked." And it has been authentically established from ʿUmar and from Ibn Masʿūd: the permissibility of that action.

وَأُخْرَى مُرْسَلَةٌ لَا تَصِحُّ عَنْ ابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ، لَيْسَ فِيهَا أَيْضًا إلَّا: وَأَنَا أَكْرَهُ مَا كَرِهَ عُمَرُ، وَقَدْ صَحَّ عَنْ عُمَرَ، وَعَنْ ابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ: إبَاحَةُ ذَلِكَ.

L5115 Narrated by Abu Bakrah: Prayer is prohibited in its entirety from the time the sun begins to yellow (at sunset).

وَعَنْ أَبِي بَكْرَةَ: الْمَنْعُ مِنْ الصَّلَاةِ جُمْلَةً مِنْ حِينِ صُفْرَةِ الشَّمْسِ.

L5116 The Hanafis and Malikis differ from him on that matter, as we will mention later, God willing.

وَالْحَنَفِيُّونَ وَالْمَالِكِيُّونَ مُخَالِفُونَ لَهُ فِي ذَلِكَ، كَمَا نَذْكُرُ بَعْدَ هَذَا إنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى.

L5117 As for the Tābiʿūn (Successors), they are numerous—among them Hishām ibn ʿUrwah and Anas ibn Sīrīn, as we mentioned earlier. From Ḥammād ibn Salamah, from Yaʿlā ibn ʿAṭāʾ, from Yazīd ibn Ṭalaq that ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn al-Baylamānī would pray two rakʿahs after ʿAṣr. From ʿAbd al-Razzāq, from Ibn Jurayj: Ibrāhīm ibn Maysarah informed me that Ṭāwūs prayed two rakʿahs after ʿAṣr in his presence. He then said to him, "Do you pray after ʿAṣr?" I replied, "Yes." He said, "By Allah, you have been honored!" From Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān, from Shuʿbah, from Ashʿath ibn Abī al-Shaʿthāʾ (he is Ashʿath ibn Sulaym) who said, "I traveled with my father, ʿAmr ibn Maymūn, al-Aswad, Masrūq, and Abū Wāʾil, and they would pray two rakʿahs after Ẓuhr and two rakʿahs after ʿAṣr." From Muḥammad ibn Jaʿfar Ghundar: Shuʿbah narrated to us, from Abū Isḥāq al-Sabīʿī, who said, “I saw Shuraīḥ al-Qāḍī (the Judge) praying two rakʿahs after ʿAṣr.” From Muḥammad ibn al-Muthannā, from Muʿādh ibn Muʿādh al-ʿAnbarī: My father narrated to us, from Qatādah, who said, “Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyab would pray two rakʿahs after ʿAṣr.”

L5118–5119 From Muhammad ibn al-Muthannā: Abū ʿĀṣim al-Nabīl narrated from ʿUmar ibn Saʿīd, who said: I saw al-Qāsim ibn Muḥammad ibn Abī Bakr performing Ṭawāf after ʿAṣr and praying two rakʿahs. Similarly, it is also narrated from al-Ḥasan as well. These individuals are: Hishām ibn ʿUrwah, Anas ibn Sīrīn, Ṭāwūs, ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn al-Baylamāniyy, Ibrāhīm ibn Maysarah, Abū al-Shaʿthā’, his son Ashʿath, ʿAmr ibn Maymūn, Masrūq, al-Aswad, Abū Wā’il, Shurayḥ al-Qāḍī, Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyib, al-Qāsim ibn Muḥammad, and others including ʿAbd Allāh ibn Abī al-Hudhayl, Abū Burdah ibn Abī Mūsā, ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn al-Aswad, al-Aḥnaf ibn Qays. With these two [practices], Abū Khaythamah and Abū Ayyūb al-Hāshimī state, and this is the position we adopt if Allāh the Exalted wills.

L5120 A juristic issue regarding the intentional delay of an obligatory prayer that one forgot or slept through.

L5121 286. Issue: It is not permissible to intentionally delay the obligatory prayer that one has forgotten or slept through.

L5122 Nor the intentional performance of supererogatory prayers during the sun’s yellowing until its setting is complete; nor when the sun is at its zenith until it begins to decline (zawāl).

L5123 Nor after the greeting (salām) of the dawn prayer until the sun has risen and whitened.

L5124 During these times, one must perform all prayers not mentioned except within these periods—such as a forgotten prayer, a prayer missed due to sleep [whether obligatory] or voluntary, the funeral prayer, the prayer for seeking rain (istisqā’), the eclipse prayer, and the two rakʿahs upon entering the mosque.

وَعَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْمُثَنَّى: ثنا أَبُو عَاصِمٍ النَّبِيلُ عَنْ عُمَرَ بْنِ سَعِيدٍ قَالَ: رَأَيْت الْقَاسِمَ بْنَ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ أَبِي بَكْرٍ يَطُوفُ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ وَيُصَلِّي رَكْعَتَيْنِ -، وَكَذَلِكَ أَيْضًا عَنْ الْحَسَنِ فَهَؤُلَاءِ: هِشَامُ بْنُ عُرْوَةَ، وَأَنَسُ بْنُ سِيرِينَ، وَطَاوُسٌ، وَعَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ الْبَيْلَمَانِيِّ، وَإِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ مَيْسَرَةَ وَأَبُو الشَّعْثَاءِ، وَأَشْعَثُ ابْنُهُ، وَعَمْرُو بْنُ مَيْمُونٍ، وَمَسْرُوقٌ، وَالْأَسْوَدُ، وَأَبُو وَائِلٍ، وَشُرَيْحٌ الْقَاضِي، وَسَعِيدُ بْنُ الْمُسَيِّبِ، وَالْقَاسِمُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ، وَغَيْرُهُمْ: كَعَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ أَبِي الْهُذَيْلِ، وَأَبِي بُرْدَةَ بْنِ أَبِي مُوسَى، وَعَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ الْأَسْوَدِ، وَالْأَحْنَفِ بْنِ قَيْسٍ وَبِهِمَا يَقُولُ أَبُو خَيْثَمَةَ وَأَبُو أَيُّوبَ الْهَاشِمِيُّ، وَبِهِ نَأْخُذُ إنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى.

٢٨٦ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَلَا يَجُوزُ تَعَمُّدُ تَأْخِيرِ مَا نَسِيَ أَوْ نَامَ عَنْهُ مِنْ الْفَرْضِ.

وَلَا تَعَمُّدَ التَّطَوُّعِ عِنْدَ اصْفِرَارِ الشَّمْسِ حَتَّى يَتِمَّ غُرُوبُهَا؛ وَعِنْدَ اسْتِوَاءِ الشَّمْسِ، حَتَّى تَأْخُذَ فِي الزَّوَالِ.

وَلَا بَعْدَ السَّلَامِ مِنْ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ حَتَّى تَصْفُوَ الشَّمْسُ وَتَبْيَضَّ.

وَيَقْضِي فِي هَذِهِ الْأَوْقَاتِ كُلَّ مَا لَمْ يَذْكُرْ إِلَّا فِيهَا، مِنْ صَلَاةٍ مَنْسِيَّةٍ أَوْ نِيمَ عَنْهَا، [مِنْ فَرْضٍ] أَوْ تَطَوُّعٍ، وَصَلَاةِ الْجَنَازَةِ، وَالِاسْتِسْقَاءِ، وَالْكُسُوفِ، وَالرَّكْعَتَانِ عِنْدَ دُخُولِ الْمَسْجِدِ.

L5125–5126 Whoever performs ablution for prayer during any of these times may offer voluntary prayers at that time, provided the person does not intentionally neglect performing all such prayers—while being mindful of them—until the specified times commence. Therefore, if someone does this, is their prayer not valid at all? This reflects the explicit textual prohibition by the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allāh Almighty be upon him—against deliberately engaging in prayer during these times.

L5127 As for after the onset of dawn but before performing the Fajr prayer, voluntary prayers during that time are permissible and commendable whenever one wishes. Similarly, immediately after sunset before the Maghrib prayer, and in this manner Imam Dawud al-Zahiri holds the same opinion regarding all that we have mentioned—except for voluntary prayers after the Asr prayer, for according to him, they remain permissible until after sunset, as he deemed the prohibition against them abrogated? Imam Abū Ḥanīfa said: There are three times during which neither obligatory prayers—whether missed or unperformed—nor any voluntary prayers under any circumstances should be performed. These are: at the first appearance of the sun's disk except when it becomes fully white and clear.

L5128 Or when the sun is at its zenith until it begins to decline, except specifically on Friday; for on it, whoever comes to the congregational mosque at its zenith offers prayer there.

أَوْ عِنْدَ اسْتِوَاءِ الشَّمْسِ حَتَّى تَأْخُذَ فِي الزَّوَالِ، حَاشَا يَوْمِ الْجُمُعَةِ خَاصَّةً؛ فَإِنَّهَا يُصَلِّي فِيهَا مَنْ جَاءَ إِلَى الْجَامِعِ وَقْتَ اسْتِوَاءِ الشَّمْسِ.

L5129 From the start of the sun's setting until its completion, except for the 'Asr prayer of that day specifically; for it is prayed before it, at it, and after it.

وَعِنْدَ أَخْذِ أَوَّلِ الشَّمْسِ فِي الْغُرُوبِ حَتَّى يَتِمَّ غُرُوبُهَا؛ حَاشَا عَصْرِ يَوْمِهِ خَاصَّةً؛ فَإِنَّهُ يُصَلَّى عِنْدَ الْغُرُوبِ وَقَبْلَهُ وَبَعْدَهُ.

L5130–5132 It is disliked to perform the funeral prayer during these times. If one performs it during them, does that suffice? There are three times in which one performs all obligatory prayers, offers the funeral prayer, and prostrates for the recitation prostration. And one should not pray voluntary prayers therein; nor the two rak'ahs following Tawaf; nor the vow-based prayer. The prohibition spans from the emergence of the true dawn until one has prayed the obligatory Fajr prayer, except only the two Sunnah rak'ahs preceding Fajr.

وَتُكْرَهُ الصَّلَاةُ عَلَى الْجَنَائِزِ فِي هَذِهِ الْأَوْقَاتِ، فَإِنْ صَلَّى عَلَيْهَا فِيهِنَّ أَجْزَأَ ذَلِكَ؟ وَثَلَاثَةُ أَوْقَاتٍ يُصَلِّي فِيهِنَّ الْفُرُوضَ كُلَّهَا، وَعَلَى الْجَنَازَةِ، وَيَسْجُدُ سُجُودَ التِّلَاوَةِ، وَلَا يُصَلِّي فِيهَا التَّطَوُّعَ، وَلَا الرَّكْعَتَانِ إِثْرَ الطَّوَافِ، وَلَا الصَّلَاةَ الْمَنْذُورَةَ، وَهِيَ: إِثْرَ طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ الثَّانِي حَتَّى يُصَلِّيَ الصُّبْحَ، إِلَّا رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ فَقَطْ.

L5133 And after the ʿAṣr prayer until the sun begins to set (though it is disliked to perform the funeral prayer when the sun turns yellow), and likewise the prostration of recitation. [This applies] after the sun has completely set until one prays the Maghrib prayer.

L5134 And whoever arrives where the Imam is on Friday while he is delivering the sermon: this constitutes a fourth time for these three that we mentioned last.

وَمَنْ جَاءَ عِنْدَهُ يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ وَالْإِمَامُ يَخْطُبُ: وَقْتٌ رَابِعٌ لِهَذِهِ الثَّلَاثَةِ الَّتِي ذَكَرْنَا آخِرًا.

L5135 Abu Hanifah said: So whoever begins the dawn prayer and the sun rises upon him—whether he has prayed the smallest portion of it or the largest portion—that prayer of his becomes invalid.

قَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: فَمَنْ دَخَلَ فِي صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ فَطَلَعَتْ لَهُ الشَّمْسُ وَقَدْ صَلَّى أَقَلَّهَا أَوْ أَكْثَرَهَا بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ تِلْكَ.

L5136 Even if he sat for the duration of the tashahhud and recited the tashahhud, then the first part of the sun's disk appeared following all of that before he said the salam, his prayer becomes invalid.

وَلَوْ أَنَّهُ قَعَدَ مِقْدَارَ التَّشَهُّدِ وَتَشَهَّدَ ثُمَّ طَلَعَ أَوَّلُ قُرْصِ الشَّمْسِ إِثْرَ [ذَلِكَ] كُلِّهِ وَقَبْلَ أَنْ يُسَلِّمَ فَقَدْ بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ.

L5137 And if he laughs aloud [during prayer], his wudu is not broken.

وَلَوْ قَهْقَهَ حِينَئِذٍ لَا يُنْقَضُ وُضُوءُهُ.

L5138 Even if he intentionally or forgetfully invalidates his ablution, or speaks intentionally or forgetfully after sitting for the duration of the Tashahhud and before uttering the Salam, his prayer remains complete and perfect—and even if he laughs aloud at that time, his ablution is not invalidated. Abū Yūsuf and Muḥammad said: If he sits for the duration of the Tashahhud before the first appearance of the sun (sunrise), his prayer is complete. If he enters the ʿAṣr prayer and performs even one Takbīr or more of it, and the sun sets completely or partially for him while praying, he should continue his prayer. This does not harm it detrimentally according to Abū Ḥanīfah and his companions.

L5139 If one prays the two rak'ahs of Fajr in his home and then comes to the mosque, he should sit and not perform another rak'ah.

قَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: فَإِنْ جَاءَ إلَى الْمَسْجِدِ بَعْدَ تَمَامِ غُرُوبِ الشَّمْسِ فَلْيَقِفْ حَتَّى تُقَامَ الصَّلَاةُ وَلَا يَجْلِسْ وَلَا يَرْكَعْ.

L5140 Abu Hanifa said: If someone arrives at the mosque after the sun has completely set, he should stand until the prayer is established, neither sitting nor performing the bowing.

قَالَ أَبُو يُوسُفَ: يَجْلِسُ وَلَا يَرْكَعُ.

L5141–5142 Abu Yusuf said: He sits and does not perform rukūʿ.

وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: يُصَلِّي الْفُرُوضَ كُلَّهَا الْمَنْسِيَّةَ وَغَيْرَهَا فِي جَمِيعِ هَذِهِ الْأَوْقَاتِ وَلَا يَتَطَوَّعُ [بَعْدَ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ] حَتَّى تَبْيَضَّ الشَّمْسُ وَتَصْفُوَ وَلَا بَعْدَ صَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ حَتَّى تَغْرُبَ الشَّمْسُ، وَلَا بَعْدَ غُرُوبِهَا حَتَّى تُصَلَّى الْمَغْرِبُ.

L5143 Malik said: One should pray all obligatory prayers—whether forgotten or otherwise—during all these times, but one should not perform voluntary prayers after the dawn prayer until the sun has whitened and become clear, nor after the afternoon prayer until the sun sets, nor after sunset until the Maghrib prayer is performed.

وَمَنْ دَخَلَ الْمَسْجِدَ [حِينَئِذٍ] قَعَدَ وَلَا يَرْكَعُ، وَلَا يَتَطَوَّعُ بَعْدَ طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ إلَّا بِرَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ، حَاشَا مَنْ غَلَبَتْهُ عَيْنُهُ فَنَامَ عَنْ حِزْبِهِ؛ فَإِنَّهُ لَا بَأْسَ بِأَنْ يُصَلِّيَهُ بَعْدَ طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ وَقَبْلَ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ.

L5144 Whoever enters the mosque [at that time] should sit and not bow in prayer, nor perform voluntary prayers after dawn breaks except for the two units of Fajr. Excepted is one who is overcome by sleep and misses his customary portion [of worship]; in such a case, there is no harm in him performing it after dawn breaks but before the Fajr prayer.

وَمَنْ رَكَعَ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ فِي مَنْزِلِهِ ثُمَّ أَتَى الْمَسْجِدَ فَإِنْ شَاءَ رَكَعَ رَكْعَتَيْنِ، وَإِنْ شَاءَ جَلَسَ، وَلَمْ يَرْكَعْ، وَقَدْ رُوِيَ عَنْهُ: [إنْ] كَانَ مُصْبِحًا فَلْيَجْلِسْ وَلَا يَرْكَعْ.

L5145 Whoever performed the two rak'ahs of Fajr in his home and then came to the mosque may either perform two rak'ahs if he wishes or sit and not perform them. It has been reported from the Prophet: If it is Fajr time, he should sit and not perform them.

وَالتَّطَوُّعُ عِنْدَهُ جَائِزٌ عَلَى كُلِّ حَالٍ عِنْدَ اسْتِوَاءِ الشَّمْسِ، وَلَمْ يَكْرَهْ ذَلِكَ وَأَجَازَ الصَّلَاةَ عَلَى الْجِنَازَةِ بَعْدَ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ مَا لَمْ يُسْفِرْ جِدًّا، وَبَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ مَا لَمْ تَصْفَرَّ الشَّمْسُ.

L5146 The supererogatory prayer is permissible in his view under all circumstances at midday, and he did not disapprove of this. He permitted the funeral prayer after Fajr prayer as long as it has not become very bright, and after Asr prayer as long as the sun has not turned yellow.

وَعَنْهُ فِي سُجُودِ التِّلَاوَةِ قَوْلَانِ: أَحَدُهُمَا: لَا يَسْجُدُ لَهَا بَعْدَ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ حَتَّى تَصْفُوَ الشَّمْسُ، وَلَا بَعْدَ صَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ مَا لَمْ تَغْرُبْ الشَّمْسُ.

L5147 He holds two opinions regarding the prostration for Quranic recitation: one is that it should not be performed after the Fajr prayer until the sun has risen high, nor after the ʿAṣr prayer until the sun has set.

L5148–5150 The other [opinion] is that there is no harm in performing prostration as long as dawn has not fully broken and as long as the sun has not begun to rise.

وَالْآخَرُ: أَنَّهُ لَا بَأْسَ بِالسُّجُودِ لَهَا مَا لَمْ يُسْفِرْ، وَمَا لَمْ تَصْفَرَّ الشَّمْسُ، وَقَالَ: مَنْ قَرَأَهَا فِي الْوَقْتِ الْمَنْهِيِّ فِيهِ عَنْ السُّجُودِ فَلْيُسْقِطْ الْآيَةَ الَّتِي فِيهَا السَّجْدَةُ وَيَصِلْ الَّتِي قَبْلَهَا بِالَّتِي بَعْدَهَا؟ ، وَقَالَ الشَّافِعِيُّ: يَقْضِي الْفَائِتَاتِ مِنْ الْفُرُوضِ وَيُصَلِّي كُلَّ تَطَوُّعٍ مَأْمُورٍ بِهِ فِي هَذِهِ الْأَوْقَاتِ، وَإِنَّمَا الْمَمْنُوعُ: هُوَ ابْتِدَاءُ التَّطَوُّعِ فِيهَا فَقَطْ، إلَّا يَوْمَ الْجُمُعَةِ وَبِمَكَّةَ، فَإِنَّهُ يَتَطَوَّعُ فِي جَمِيعِ هَذِهِ الْأَوْقَاتِ وَغَيْرِهَا.

He said: Whoever recites a surah during the prohibited times for prostration should omit the verse containing the prostration. And join the prayer preceding it with the one following it? Al-Shāfiʿī stated: One must make up the missed obligatory prayers and perform all supererogatory prayers commanded for these times. What is prohibited is initiating supererogatory prayers solely during these times, except on Friday and in Makkah, in which cases one may perform supererogatory prayers during all these times and other times.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: أَمَّا تَقَاسِيمُ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ فَدَعَاوٍ فَاسِدَةٌ مُتَنَاقِضَةٌ، لَا دَلِيلَ عَلَى شَيْءٍ مِنْهَا، لَا مِنْ قُرْآنٍ وَلَا سُنَّةٍ صَحِيحَةٍ وَلَا سَقِيمَةٍ، وَلَا مِنْ إجْمَاعٍ، وَلَا مِنْ قَوْلِ صَاحِبٍ، وَلَا مِنْ قِيَاسٍ وَلَا رَأْيٍ سَدِيدٍ، وَأَقْوَالُ مَالِكٍ: لَا دَلِيلَ عَلَى تَقْسِيمِهَا؛ لَا سِيَّمَا قَوْلُهُ بِإِسْقَاطِ الْآيَةِ فِي التِّلَاوَةِ بَيْنَ الْآيَتَيْنِ، فَهُوَ إفْسَادُ نَظْمِ الْقُرْآنِ، وَقَوْلٌ مَا سَبَقَهُ إلَيْهِ أَحَدٌ.

L5151 Ali said: As for the juridical categorizations of Abū Ḥanīfah, they are corrupt, contradictory assertions with no evidence supporting any of them—neither from the Quran, nor from any Sunnah (whether authentic or weak), nor from consensus, nor from a Companion's statement, nor from analogy, nor from sound reasoning. Mālik's doctrines similarly lack evidence for their categorizations—particularly his ruling to omit a verse in recitation between two other verses. This corrupts the Quran's textual structure and constitutes a view no one before him had ever held.

L5152 Likewise, omitting prayer at the time of the sun's zenith is among the prohibited prayer times. Is this not contrary to what is firmly established from the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—with no opposing evidence? As for al-Shāfiʿī's distinction between Mecca and other places, and between Friday and other days, it is based on two weak narrations we have transmitted. One of them states the prohibition of prayer during these times except in Mecca.

L5153–5154 In another narration, "The entire day of Friday is prayer." These two narrations are not to be acted upon, nor have any Imams of the people of Hadith cited them. Therefore, it is obligatory to wholly abandon these statements entirely, to focus on the transmitted Sunnah in this chapter, to examine the application of all of them, and to give precedence to one of the two rulings over the other—in accordance with what has been reported from the Companions (may Allah be pleased with them) and the Successors (may Allah have mercy on them).

L5155 Ali said: Ḥumām narrated to us, that ʿAbbās ibn Aṣbagh narrated to us, that Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Malik ibn Ayman narrated to us, that ʿAbdullāh ibn Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal narrated to us, that his father narrated to us, that ʿAffān ibn Muslim narrated to us, that Hammām ibn Yaḥyā narrated to us, that Qatādah narrated to us, that Abū al-ʿĀliyah narrated to us from Ibn ʿAbbās, who said: "Trustworthy men testified before me—and the most trustworthy among them in my view was ʿUmar—that the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, said: 'There is no prayer after two prayers: after the Fajr prayer until the sun rises, and after the ʿAṣr prayer until the sun sets.'" We have narrated it in this way through multiple chains, sufficing with this due to its authenticity, and all of them are authentic.

L5156–5157 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us: Abdul-Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us: Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us: Yahya ibn Yahya narrated to us: Abdullah ibn Wahb narrated from Musa ibn Ali ibn Rabah, from his father, who said: I heard Uqbah ibn Amir al-Juhani say: "There are three times when the Messenger of Allah forbade us to pray or bury our two deceased: when the sun has risen until it ascends, when the sun is at its peak until it declines, and when the sun begins to incline toward setting until it sets."

L5158–5160 We have also been narrated in these times from al-Ṣunābiḥī and others: ʿAbd Allāh ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us, ʿUmar ibn ʿAbd al-Malik al-Khawlānī narrated to us, Muḥammad ibn Bakr narrated to us, Abū Dāwūd al-Sijistānī narrated to us, al-Rabīʿ ibn Nāfiʿ (who is Abū Tawbah) narrated to us, Muḥammad ibn al-Muhājir narrated from al-ʿAbbās ibn Sālim from Abū Sallām from Abū Umāmah al-Bāhilī from ʿAmr ibn ʿAnbasah al-Sulamī that he said: I asked, "O Messenger of Allah, when are supplications most likely to be answered during the night?" He replied, "The middle of the latter part of the night. Pray freely, for the prayer is witnessed and recorded until you pray Fajr. Then refrain until the sun rises and reaches the height of a spear or two, for it rises between the horns of Satan, and the disbelievers prostrate to it. Then pray as you will, for the prayer is witnessed and recorded until the shadow L5161 It was reported to us through various chains from Mālik from Zayd ibn Aslam from ʿAṭāʾ ibn Yasār from ʿAbdullāh al-Ṣunābīḥī that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said: "The sun rises with the two horns of Satan. When it has risen higher, they separate from it. When it reaches its zenith, they rejoin it. When it declines, they separate from it. When it nears sunset, they rejoin it. When it sets, they separate from it." And the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—forbade prayer during these times?

L5162 Ali said: How astonishing it is that the Malikis oppose this report, even though it is narrated by their own scholar.

L5163 Ali said: A group of people adhered to these narrations and did not consider prayer as having any basis during these times.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَذَهَبَ إلَى هَذِهِ الْآثَارِ قَوْمٌ، فَلَمْ يَرَوْا الصَّلَاةَ أَصْلًا فِي هَذِهِ الْأَوْقَاتِ.

L5164 It was narrated to us through the chain of Muḥammad ibn Jaʿfar from Shuʿbah from ʿĀṣim ibn Sulaymān al-Aḥwal from Bakr ibn ʿAbdullāh al-Muzanī, who said: Abū Bakra was in his garden and slept through the ʿAṣr prayer. He did not wake until the sun had paled, and he did not pray it until the sun had set. Then he stood and prayed it.

كَمَا رُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ جَعْفَرٍ عَنْ شُعْبَةَ عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ سُلَيْمَانَ الْأَحْوَلِ عَنْ بَكْرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ الْمُزَنِيِّ قَالَ: كَانَ أَبُو بَكْرَةَ فِي بُسْتَانٍ لَهُ فَنَامَ عَنْ الْعَصْرِ، فَلَمْ يَسْتَيْقِظْ حَتَّى اصْفَرَّتْ الشَّمْسُ، فَلَمْ يُصَلِّ حَتَّى غَرُبَتْ الشَّمْسُ، ثُمَّ قَامَ فَصَلَّى.

L5165 And through the chain of ʿAbd al-Razzāq—from Maʿmar and Sufyān al-Thawrī, both of whom narrated from Ayyūb al-Sakhtiyānī, from Muḥammad ibn Sīrīn—that Abū Bakrah came to them in their garden, slept through ʿAṣr, stood up and performed ablution, then did not pray until the sun had set.

وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ وَسُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ كِلَاهُمَا عَنْ أَيُّوبَ السِّخْتِيَانِيِّ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ سِيرِينَ: أَنَّ أَبَا بَكْرَةَ أَتَاهُمْ فِي بُسْتَانٍ لَهُمْ فَنَامَ عَنْ الْعَصْرِ فَقَامَ فَتَوَضَّأَ، ثُمَّ لَمْ يُصَلِّ حَتَّى غَابَتْ الشَّمْسُ.

L5166–5168 And with him to Sufyan al-Thawri, from Saʿd ibn Ishaq ibn Kaʿb ibn ʿUjrah, from a man among the descendants of [...]. Kaʿb ibn ʿUjrah reported that he slept through the dawn prayer until the sun rose. He said: “I stood up to pray, but Kaʿb ibn ʿUjrah called me and seated me until the sun had ascended high and turned white. Then he said: ’Rise and pray now.’”

L5169 It was narrated to us by Muḥammad ibn al-Muthannā, who narrated from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī and Abū ʿĀmir al-ʿAqadī—both of whom narrated from Sufyān al-Thawrī, from Zayd ibn Jubayr, from Abū al-Bakhtarī, who said: “‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb used to strictly observe the prayer at midday.”

L5171 Others have held the view that missed prayers must be made up during these times, that one may continue performing the Dawn Prayer if the sun rises while he is still engaged in it, or if it sets while he is still engaged in it, and that every voluntary prayer established by an explicit injunction should be performed. They used as proof the hadith narrated to us by ʻAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ, narrated to us Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah, narrated to us Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb, narrated to us Ḥumayd ibn Masʿadah from Yazīd ibn Zuraiʿ, narrated to me Ḥajjāj al-Aḥwal from Qatādah from Anas ibn Mālik, who said: “The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) was asked about a man who sleeps through prayer or neglects it. He replied: ’The remedy is that he prays it when he remembers it.’”

L5172 To Ahmad ibn Shuʿayb: I am Qutaybah ibn Saʿīd. Ḥammād ibn Zayd narrated to us from Thābit al-Bunānī, from ʿAbdullāh ibn Ribāḥ, from Abu Qatādah that the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said: “There is no negligence in sleep; negligence lies only in wakefulness. When any of you forgets a prayer or sleeps through it, let him perform it when he remembers.” This ruling applies generally to every prayer, whether obligatory or supererogatory.[7]

وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا أَمْرَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - بِصَلَاةِ الْكُسُوفِ، وَبِالرَّكْعَتَيْنِ عِنْدَ دُخُولِ الْمَسْجِدِ، وَبِالصَّلَاةِ عَلَى الْجَنَائِزِ، وَسَائِرَ مَا أَمَرَ بِهِ مِنْ التَّطَوُّعِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -، وَأَخَذَ بِهَذَا جَمَاعَةٌ مِنْ السَّلَفِ.

L5173–5174 We have mentioned the command of the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—regarding the eclipse prayer, the two rak'ahs upon entering the mosque, the prayer over the deceased, and all that he enjoined of voluntary prayers—peace be upon him. A group of the Salaf adopted this.

L5175 As narrated through the chain of ʿAbd al-Razzāq from Maʿmar via Qaṭādah: Al-Miṣwar ibn Makhramah visited Ibn ʿAbbās and spoke to him. Ibn ʿAbbās fell asleep, and al-Miṣwar slipped away. He did not awaken until dawn, whereupon he asked his servant, "Do you think I can pray four"—meaning ʿIshāʾ—"three"—meaning Witr—"two"—meaning the two rakʿahs of Fajr—"and one"—meaning a rakʿah of Fajr—"before sunrise?" The servant replied, "Yes." He then prayed them all.

L5176 And through him to Abd al-Razzaq, from Ibn Jurayj, who informed me: Ata ibn Abi Rabah narrated from Ata ibn Yuhannas that he heard Abu Hurayrah say: If you fear missing the dawn prayer, hasten to perform the first rak'ah before sunrise. If you precede the sun with it, do not rush through the second rak'ah to complete the prayer.

L5177 And through him to Abd al-Razzaq: I am Ma'mar, from al-Zuhri, from Anas ibn Malik, who said: I prayed the dawn prayer behind Abu Bakr. He commenced by reciting Surah al-Baqarah and completed it over two rak'ahs. When he concluded, Umar said: "May Allah forgive you! The sun had nearly risen before you uttered the taslim!" He replied: "Had it risen, it would have found us far from unaware."

L5178 And via his narration to Ma'mar, from 'Asim ibn Sulayman, from Abu 'Uthman al-Nahdi, who said: Umar led us in the Dawn Prayer, and he did not conclude it until every aware person knew that the sun had risen. It was said to him: "Did the prayer not end until the sun was about to rise?" He replied: "Had it risen, you would have found us not heedless."

L5179–5181 Ali said: "This is a clear text with the most authentic possible chain of transmission, affirming that Abu Bakr and Umar—Allah has been pleased with them both—" And all those with the two of them among the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—do not consider the sun's rising to invalidate the prayer of someone upon whom the sun rises while he is praying Fajr.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَهَذَا نَصٌّ جَلِيٌّ بِأَصَحِّ إِسْنَادٍ يَكُونُ أَنَّ أَبَا بَكْرٍ وَعُمَرَ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمَا - وَكُلَّ مَنْ مَعَهُمَا مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ - لَا يَرَوْنَ طُلُوعَ الشَّمْسِ يَقْطَعُ صَلَاةَ مَنْ طَلَعَتْ عَلَيْهِ، وَهُوَ يُصَلِّي الصُّبْحَ.

L5182 It is astonishing that the Ḥanafīs—who consider ʿUmar's censure of ʿUthmān in the presence of the Companions for neglecting the Friday ghusl as proof for the lapse of its obligation (though this is contrary to what ʿUmar's censure itself indicates)—do not regard Abū Bakr and ʿUmar's permission in the presence of the Companions to pray Fajr even if the sun had risen as proof for that position.

L5183 Rather, they opposed all that was transmitted from the Companions concerning this matter—both those who permitted and those who prohibited—and they opposed Abū Bakrah in delaying the ʿAṣr prayer until the sun had set. We have already mentioned those among the Companions who advocated supererogatory prayers after ʿAṣr, those who mandated repetition with the congregation, and those who maintained until the sun's yellowing in the matter that occurred prior to this—does this not suffice instead of its repetition?

L5184 It has been reported to us from Sufyān al-Thawrī, from al-Mughīra ibn Miqsam, from Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī regarding the forgotten prayer. He said: "One should pray it when they remember it, even if it is during a time in which prayer is disliked." The same ruling is also reported from ʿAṭāʾ, Tāwūs, and others.

L5185 And it was narrated to us through the chain of Yahya ibn Saʿid al-Qattan: Shuʿbah narrated to us from Musa ibn ʿUqbah, who said: I heard Salim ibn ʿAbdullah ibn ʿUmar say: Verily, his father would perform Tawaf after ʿAsr and after the morning [period], then he would pray the two rakʿahs before sunrise.

وَرُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ الْقَطَّانِ: ثنا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ مُوسَى بْنِ عُقْبَةَ قَالَ: سَمِعْت سَالِمَ بْنَ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ يَقُولُ: إنَّ أَبَاهُ كَانَ يَطُوفُ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ، وَبَعْدَ الْغَدَاةِ ثُمَّ يُصَلِّي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ.

L5186 Mūsā said: Nāfiʿ used to dislike that, so I narrated to him from Sālim. Then Nāfiʿ said to me, "Sālim is longer in standing than I and more knowledgeable."

L5187 Ali said: This indicates that Nafi‘ reverted to endorsing this opinion and that it is the view of Musa ibn ‘Uqbah—Ali said: These scholars gave precedence to the narrations containing commands over those containing prohibitions, arguing that the prohibition against praying during these times excludes prayers you have been commanded to perform; thus you prayed them during those times and others.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: هَذَا يَدُلُّ عَلَى رُجُوعِ نَافِعٍ إلَى الْقَوْلِ بِهَذَا، وَعَلَى أَنَّهُ قَوْلُ مُوسَى بْنِ عُقْبَةَ -:
قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَغَلَّبَ هَؤُلَاءِ أَحَادِيثَ الْأَوَامِرِ عَلَى أَحَادِيثِ النَّهْيِ، وَقَالُوا: إنَّ مَعْنَى النَّهْيِ عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ فِي هَذِهِ الْأَوْقَاتِ، أَيْ إلَّا أَنْ تَكُونَ صَلَاةً أُمِرْتُمْ بِهَا، فَصَلَّوْهَا فِيهَا وَفِي غَيْرِهَا.

L5188–5189 The other scholars said: The meaning of the command to perform these prayers is that they should be performed unless the time itself is prohibited for prayer, in which case they must not be performed.

وَقَالَ الْآخَرُونَ: مَعْنَى الْأَمْرِ بِهَذِهِ الصَّلَوَاتِ، أَيْ إلَّا أَنْ تَكُونَ وَقْتًا نَهَى فِيهِ عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ فَلَا تُصَلُّوهَا فِيهِ.

L5190 Ali said: Since both acts were possible, neither of them took precedence over the other except through evidence. We therefore examined the matter and found what was conveyed to us through this chain: Abdullah ibn Yusuf reported to us via Ahmad ibn Fath, Abd al-Wahhab ibn Isa, Ahmad ibn Muhammad, Ahmad ibn Ali, Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj, and Yahya ibn Yahya, who stated: “I recited to Malik, from Zayd ibn Aslam, from Ata ibn Yasar, Busr ibn Said, and Abd al-Rahman al-A’raj - they having reported to him from Abu Hurairah that Allah’s Messenger, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, said: ’Whoever catches one rak’ah of Fajr prayer before sunrise has indeed caught Fajr, and whoever catches one rak’ah of Asr prayer before sunset has indeed caught Asr.”’[8]

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَلَمَّا كَانَ كِلَا الْعَمَلَيْنِ مُمْكِنًا، لَمْ يَكُنْ وَاحِدٌ مِنْهُمَا أَوْلَى مِنْ الْآخَرِ إلَّا بِبُرْهَانٍ، فَنَظَرْنَا فِي ذَلِكَ: فَوَجَدْنَا مَا حَدَّثَنَاهُ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ يُوسُفَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ فَتْحٍ ثنا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ بْنُ عِيسَى ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ ثنا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ الْحَجَّاجِ ثنا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى: قَرَأْت عَلَى مَالِكٍ عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ أَسْلَمَ عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ، وَبُسْرِ بْنِ سَعِيدٍ، وَعَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ الْأَعْرَجِ حَدَّثُوهُ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: «مَنْ أَدْرَكَ رَكْعَةً مِنْ الصُّبْحِ قَبْلَ أَنْ تَطْلُعَ الشَّمْسُ فَقَدْ أَدْرَكَ الصُّبْحَ، وَمَنْ أَدْرَكَ رَكْعَةً مِنْ الْعَصْرِ قَبْلَ أَنْ تَغْرُبَ الشَّمْسُ فَقَدْ أَدْرَكَ الْعَصْرَ» ؟ .

L5191 Thus, this has been made manifest with utmost clarity: that making up missed prayers during these times is an obligatory duty, and that the command is undoubtedly an exception to the prohibition.

فَكَانَ هَذَا مُبَيِّنًا غَايَةَ الْبَيَانِ أَنَّ قَضَاءَ الصَّلَوَاتِ فِي هَذِهِ الْأَوْقَاتِ فَرْضٌ، وَأَنَّ الْأَمْرَ مُسْتَثْنًى مِنْ النَّهْيِ بِلَا شَكٍّ؟ .

L5192 If it is said: Why do you assert that whoever performs less than a rak‘ah of [8] Hadith references (L5190): Sahih Muslim 608a; Mishkat al-Masabih 601.

فَإِنْ قِيلَ: فَلِمَ قُلْتُمْ: إِنَّ مَنْ أَدْرَكَ أَقَلَّ مِنْ رَكْعَةٍ مِنَ الْعَصْرِ وَمِنَ الصُّبْحِ قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ، وَقَبْلَ غُرُوبِهَا فَإِنَّهُ يُصَلِّيهِمَا؟ .

'Asr before sunset and of Fajr before sunrise must pray both prayers?

L5193–5195 قُلْنَا: لِمَا نَذْكُرُهُ - إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ فِي أَوْقَاتِ الصَّلَوَاتِ - مِنْ قَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - «وَقْتُ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ مَا لَمْ يَطْلُعْ قَرْنُ الشَّمْسِ، وَوَقْتُ صَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ مَا لَمْ تَغْرُبْ الشَّمْسُ» . فَكَانَ هَذَا اللَّفْظُ مِنْهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - مُمْكِنًا أَنْ يُرِيدَ بِهِ وَقْتَ الْخُرُوجِ مِنْ هَاتَيْنِ الصَّلَاتَيْنِ، وَمُمْكِنًا أَنْ يُرِيدَ بِهِ وَقْتَ الدُّخُولِ فِيهَا؟ .

We said: Regarding what we mention—if Allah, the Mighty and Majestic, wills—concerning prayer times, from his statement (peace be upon him): "The time for the Fajr prayer lasts as long as the sun's horn has not appeared, and the time for the Asr prayer lasts as long as the sun has not set." This wording from him (peace be upon him) could indicate that he meant by it the time of exiting from these two [prayers]. The two prayers. Is it possible that he is referring to the time of entering into them?

L5196 فَنَظَرْنَا فِي ذَلِكَ، فَكَانَ هَذَا الْخَبَرُ مُبَيِّنًا أَنَّ بَعْدَ طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ وَبَعْدَ غُرُوبِهَا وَقْتٌ لِبَعْضِ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ، وَلِبَعْضِ صَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ بِيَقِينٍ، فَصَحَّ أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - إِنَّمَا أَرَادَ وَقْتَ الدُّخُولِ فِيهِمَا، وَكَانَ هَذَا الْخَبَرُ هُوَ الزَّائِدَ عَلَى الْحَدِيثِ الَّذِي فِيهِ «مَنْ أَدْرَكَ رَكْعَةً» وَالزِّيَادَةُ وَاجِبٌ قَبُولُهَا؟ فَوَضَحَ أَنَّ الْأَمْرَ مُغَلَّبٌ عَلَى النَّهْيِ.

We examined that matter, and this report clarified that after sunrise and after sunset there is a time [still valid] for part of the dawn prayer's timeframe and part of the afternoon prayer's timeframe with certainty. Thus, it was established that he (peace be upon him) intended the time of commencing them. This report constitutes the addition to the hadith which states, "Whoever catches one rakʿah." Is it then obligatory to accept such an addition? Hence, it became evident that the command is given precedence over the prohibition.

We found the others had cited as evidence what was narrated to us by ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ, who narrated from Muḥammad ibn Isḥāq, who narrated from Ibn al-Aʿrābī, who narrated from Muḥammad ibn Ismāʿīl al-Ṣāʾigh, who narrated from ʿAbdullāh ibn Yazīd al-Muqrī, who narrated from al-Aswad ibn Shaybān, who narrated from Khālid ibn Shumayr, who said: ʿAbdullāh ibn Ribāḥ came to us from Madīnah—and the Anṣār used to instruct him in jurisprudence. He narrated to us, saying: Abū Qatādah al-Anṣārī, the horseman of the Messenger of Allāh (peace be upon him), narrated to us, saying: "The Messenger of Allāh (peace be upon him) dispatched the army of commanders, but they did not wake us until the sun had risen. We arose alarmed about missing our prayer. The Prophet (peace be upon him) said: 'Gently, gently, until the sun ascends higher.' The Messenger of Allāh (peace be upon him) said: 'Whoever among you performs the two rakʿahs of Fajr, let him perform them.' Those who performed them stood up, as well as those who did not. Then the Messenger of Allāh (peace be upon him) commanded the prayer to be announced, so the adhān was called. The Messenger of Allāh (peace be upon him) stood and led us in prayer. When he concluded, he said: 'Praise be to Allāh—we were not occupied by any worldly matter that diverted us from our prayer.'" And he mentioned the ḥadīth.

L5198–5199 Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn al-Jasur narrated to us: Wahb ibn Masarah narrated to us: Ibn Waddah narrated to us: Abu Bakr ibn Abi Shaybah narrated to us: Abu Usamah narrated from Hisham ibn Hassan from al-Hasan from Imran ibn al-Husayn, who said: "We journeyed by night with the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him), then he halted with us to rest toward the end of the night. We awoke to find the sun had risen. Each man among us rushed hurriedly to perform ablution in a state of bewilderment. The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said: 'Depart?' So we departed. When the sun had risen higher, we dismounted, relieved ourselves, then performed ablution. He commanded Bilal to call the adhan. The Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) prayed two units. Then Bilal proclaimed the iqamah, and the Prophet led us in prayer." He mentioned the hadith.

We said: 'O Messenger of Allah, would you halt with us to rest?' He replied: 'I fear you might sleep through the prayer. Who will awaken us for the prayer?' Bilal said: 'I will, O Messenger of Allah.' The people halted to rest, and Bilal leaned against his riding animal, but sleep overcame him. The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) awoke when the edge of the sun became visible. He said: 'O Bilal, where is what you promised?' Bilal answered: 'By Him Who sent you with truth, O Messenger of Allah, no sleep like this has ever overtaken me.' The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said: 'Allah takes your souls when He wills.' Then the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) commanded them to disperse. They حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ شُعَيْبٍ أَنَا عَلِيُّ بْنُ حَجَرٍ أَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ هُوَ ابْنُ جَعْفَرٍ - ثنا الْعَلَاءُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ: أَنَّهُ دَخَلَ عَلَى أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ فِي دَارِهِ بِالْبَصْرَةِ حِينَ انْصَرَفَ مِنْ الظُّهْرِ، قَالَ: وَدَارُهُ بِجَنْبِ الْمَسْجِدِ، فَلَمَّا دَخَلْنَا عَلَيْهِ قَالَ: صَلَّيْتُمْ الْعَصْرَ؟ قُلْنَا: لَا، إنَّمَا انْصَرَفْنَا السَّاعَةَ مِنْ الظُّهْرِ، قَالَ: فَصَلُّوا الْعَصْرَ، فَقُمْنَا فَصَلَّيْنَا، فَلَمَّا انْصَرَفْنَا قَالَ: سَمِعْت رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَقُولُ: «تِلْكَ صَلَاةُ الْمُنَافِقِينَ جَلَسَ يَرْقُبُ الْعَصْرَ حَتَّى إذَا كَانَتْ بَيْنَ قَرْنَيْ الشَّيْطَانِ قَامَ فَنَقَرَ أَرْبَعًا، لَا يَذْكُرُ اللَّهَ فِيهَا إلَّا قَلِيلًا» .

L5202–5204 Abdullah ibn Rabee' narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Mu'awiyah narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Shu'ayb narrated to us, from Ali ibn Hajar, from Isma'il—he is the son of Ja'far—Al-'Ala' ibn Abd al-Rahman narrated to us that he visited Anas ibn Malik. In his house in Basra after he had concluded the noon prayer—and his house was adjacent to the mosque—when we entered upon him, he asked: "Have you prayed the afternoon prayer?" We replied: "No, we have only just finished the noon prayer." He instructed: "Perform the afternoon prayer." We stood and prayed. When we concluded, he said: "I heard Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him) say: 'That is the prayer of the hypocrites. He sits watching for Asr until when it is between the horns of Satan, he rises to peck four rak'ahs, hardly remembering Allah therein except very little.'"

L5205 We have narrated it through the chain of Mālik from al-'Alā' ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān from Anas, who said: I heard the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—say: "That is the prayer of the hypocrites. One of them sits until the sun turns yellow, when it is between the two horns of Satan or upon the two horns of Satan. Then he stands and pecks four units, scarcely remembering Allāh in them."

وَرُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ مَالِكٍ عَنْ الْعَلَاءِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ عَنْ أَنَسٍ قَالَ سَمِعْت رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَقُولُ: «تِلْكَ صَلَاةُ الْمُنَافِقِينَ يَجْلِسُ أَحَدُهُمْ حَتَّى إذَا اصْفَرَّتْ الشَّمْسُ فَكَانَتْ بَيْنَ قَرْنَيْ الشَّيْطَانِ أَوْ عَلَى قَرْنَيْ الشَّيْطَانِ قَامَ فَنَقَرَ أَرْبَعًا، لَا يَذْكُرُ اللَّهَ فِيهَا إلَّا قَلِيلًا» .

L5206 And by what we previously mentioned regarding the issue of the two rak'ahs after 'Asr from the statement of Ibn Mas'ud: "They prolong the sermon and delay the prayer [beyond its time] until it is said, 'This is the washing of the dead.'" So Ibn Mas'ud was asked, "What is the washing of the dead?" He replied, "When the sun turns intensely yellow near sunset. Whoever among you reaches that time should pray the prayer within its prescribed time. If he is delayed, let him pray with them, but let him consider his prayer performed alone as the obligatory one and his prayer with them as voluntary."

L5207–5209 And the hadith we mentioned through the chain of Abū Dharr from the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him: "How will you be when there are rulers over you who delay the prayer from its time or let the prayer lapse beyond its time?" I said, "What then...?" He said, "Are you commanding me?" He replied, "Pray the prayer at its appointed time. If you join them in prayer, then pray, for it will be a voluntary prayer for you." They said, "The prohibition by the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—against prayer in general during the mentioned times has been established, and his prohibition—peace be upon him—against fasting completely on the day of Eid al-Fitr, the day of Eid al-Adha, and the days of Tashreeq has been established. His command to make up missed prayers for those who slept through them or forgot them is confirmed, as is his command regarding vows, the voluntary prayers you mentioned, making up fasting for menstruating women, the sick, and travelers, as well as vows and expiations. Thus, you do not differ with us in refraining from fasting anything of that during the days prohibited for fasting, yet you prioritize the prohibition over the command. It necessarily follows that the same should apply to his prohibition against praying during the mentioned times, alongside his command—peace be upon him—regarding the prayers and their makeup. Otherwise, why do you distinguish between the two prohibitions and the two commands? You prioritize the prohibition over the command in fasting, yet prioritize the command over the prohibition in prayer? This is an arbitrary judgment that is impermissible."[9]

وَالْحَدِيثُ الَّذِي ذَكَرْنَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي ذَرٍّ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «كَيْفَ أَنْتَ إِذَا كَانَتْ عَلَيْكَ أُمَرَاءُ يُؤَخِّرُونَ الصَّلَاةَ عَنْ وَقْتِهَا، أَوْ يُمِيتُونَ الصَّلَاةَ عَنْ وَقْتِهَا؟ قُلْت: فَمَا تَأْمُرُنِي؟ قَالَ: صَلِّ الصَّلَاةَ لِوَقْتِهَا، فَإِنْ أَدْرَكْتَهَا مَعَهُمْ فَصَلِّ، فَإِنَّهَا لَكَ نَافِلَةٌ» . وَقَالُوا: صَحَّ نَهْيُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ جُمْلَةً فِي الْأَوْقَاتِ الْمَذْكُورَةِ، وَنَهْيُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - عَنْ الصِّيَامِ جُمْلَةً فِي يَوْمِ الْفِطْرِ وَيَوْمِ الْأَضْحَى وَأَيَّامِ التَّشْرِيقِ، وَصَحَّ أَمْرُهُ بِقَضَاءِ الصَّلَوَاتِ مَنْ نَامَ عَنْهَا أَوْ نَسِيَهَا، وَبِالنَّذْرِ، وَبِمَا ذَكَرْتُمْ مِنْ النَّوَافِلِ، وَبِقَضَاءِ الصَّوْمِ لِلْحَائِضِ وَالْمَرِيضِ وَالْمُسَافِرِ، وَالنَّذْرِ وَالْكَفَّارَاتِ -: فَلَمْ تَخْتَلِفُوا مَعَنَا فِي أَنْ لَا يُصَامَ شَيْءٌ مِنْ ذَلِكَ فِي الْأَيَّامِ الْمَنْهِيِّ عَنْ صِيَامِهَا، وَغَلَّبْتُمْ: النَّهْيَ عَلَى الْأَمْرِ، فَوَجَبَ أَنْ يَكُونَ كَذَلِكَ فِي نَهْيِهِ عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ فِي الْأَوْقَاتِ الْمَذْكُورَةِ، مَعَ أَمْرِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - بِمَا أَمَرَ بِهِ مِنْ الصَّلَوَاتِ وَقَضَائِهَا، وَإِلَّا فَلِمَ فَرَّقْتُمْ بَيْنَ النَّهْيَيْنِ وَالْأَمْرَيْنِ؟ فَغَلَّبْتُمْ فِي الصَّوْمِ: النَّهْيَ عَلَى الْأَمْرِ، وَغَلَّبْتُمْ فِي الصَّلَاةِ: الْأَمْرَ عَلَى النَّهْيِ؟ وَهَذَا تَحَكُّمٌ لَا يَجُوزُ؟ .

L5210 They said: Is it possible that his statement—peace be upon him—regarding one who catches a unit of the dawn prayer and the afternoon prayer before sunrise and before sunset, thereby having indeed caught the dawn prayer, refers to before the prohibition of prayer during the mentioned times?[10] وَقَالُوا: يُمْكِنُ أَنْ يَكُونَ قَوْلُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - فِيمَنْ أَدْرَكَ رَكْعَةً مِنْ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ وَمِنْ الْعَصْرِ قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ [الشَّمْسِ] ، وَقَبْلَ غُرُوبِهَا فَقَدْ أَدْرَكَ الصُّبْحَ: قَبْلَ النَّهْيِ عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ فِي الْأَوْقَاتِ الْمَذْكُورَةِ؟ .

L5211 Ali said: This is all they have objected to; they have no other objection whatsoever. We do not mean the followers of Abū Ḥanīfah, for they have no connection to anything we have mentioned, as there is no textual evidence among these matters except that they have opposed it, arbitrarily overriding it with corrupt opinions. Rather, we mean those who adopted the approach of the earlier scholars in prioritizing the prohibition exclusively as a whole.

L5212–5214 Ali said: Likewise, those asserting ownership have no basis in any of the narrations we mentioned, for there is none of these narrations they have not contradicted. They imposed arbitrary rulings upon them, interpreting some as obligatory and others as voluntary without evidence. We specifically refer to those who adopted the methodology of the predecessors in prioritizing the injunctions as a whole. Is the discussion solely between these two groups?

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: كُلُّ هَذَا لَا حُجَّةَ لَهُمْ فِيهِ.

L5216 As for the narrations of Abu Qatadah and Imran ibn al-Husayn, they indeed came with additional clarification, as narrated to us by Abdullah ibn Rabi', who narrated: Muhammad ibn Ishaq narrated to us, Ibn al-A'rabi narrated to us, Muhammad ibn Isma'il al-Ṣā'igh narrated to us, Sulayman ibn Harb narrated to us, Hammad ibn Zayd narrated from Thabit al-Bunani, from Abdullah ibn Ribah, from Abu Qatadah—who mentioned the hadith, which includes: "The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) turned, and I turned with him. He said: 'Look.' I said: 'This is a rider, these two are riders, these are three?' Until we counted seven. The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said: 'Save our prayer for us'—meaning the Fajr prayer. They were overcome with sleep, and nothing awakened them except the sun's heat. They rose, traveled a short distance, then dismounted, performed ablution, and Bilal proclaimed the adhan. They prayed the two rak'ahs of Fajr, then prayed Fajr and rode on. Some of them said to others: 'We have neglected our prayer!' The Prophet (peace be upon him) said: 'There is no neglect in sleep; neglect is only in wakefulness. Whoever sleeps through a prayer or forgets it, let him pray it when he remembers it.'" He then mentioned the remainder of the report.

أَمَّا حَدِيثَا أَبِي قَتَادَةَ وَعِمْرَانَ بْنِ الْحُصَيْنِ فَإِنَّهُمَا قَدْ جَاءَا بِبَيَانٍ زَائِدٍ، كَمَا حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ الصَّائِغُ ثنا سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ ثنا حَمَّادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ عَنْ ثَابِتٍ الْبُنَانِيِّ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ رِبَاحٍ عَنْ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ - فَذَكَرَ الْحَدِيثَ وَفِيهِ -: «مَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَمِلْتُ مَعَهُ، فَقَالَ انْظُرْ؟ فَقُلْتُ: هَذَا رَاكِبٌ، هَذَانِ رَاكِبَانِ، هَؤُلَاءِ ثَلَاثَةٌ؟ حَتَّى صِرْنَا سَبْعَةً، فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: احْفَظُوا عَلَيْنَا صَلَاتَنَا يَعْنِي صَلَاةَ الْفَجْرِ، فَضُرِبَ عَلَى آذَانِهِمْ، فَمَا أَيْقَظَهُمْ إلَّا حَرُّ الشَّمْسِ، فَقَامُوا فَسَارُوا هُنَيْهَةً ثُمَّ نَزَلُوا فَتَوَضَّئُوا وَأَذَّنَ بِلَالٌ فَصَلَّوْا رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ، ثُمَّ صَلَّوْا الْفَجْرَ وَرَكِبُوا، فَقَالَ بَعْضُهُمْ لِبَعْضٍ: لَقَدْ فَرَّطْنَا فِي صَلَاتِنَا؟ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: إنَّهُ لَا تَفْرِيطَ فِي النَّوْمِ، إنَّمَا التَّفْرِيطُ فِي الْيَقَظَةِ، فَمَنْ نَامَ عَنْ صَلَاةٍ أَوْ نَسِيَهَا فَلْيُصَلِّهَا إذَا ذَكَرَهَا» ، وَذَكَرَ بَاقِيَ الْخَبَرِ.

L5217–5219 Abdullah ibn Rabi' narrated to us: Umar ibn Abd al-Malik narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Bakr narrated to us: Abu Dawud narrated to us: Wahb ibn Baqiyyah narrated to us from Khalid from Yunus ibn 'Ubayd from al-Hasan

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا عُمَرُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَكْرٍ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا وَهْبُ بْنُ بَقِيَّةَ عَنْ خَالِدٍ عَنْ يُونُسَ بْنِ عُبَيْدٍ عَنْ الْحَسَنِ عَنْ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ الْحُصَيْنِ: «أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ from Imran ibn al-Husayn: “The Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—was on a journey, and they overslept the Fajr prayer. They awoke because of the heat of the sun, ascended a little until the sun had risen clearly, then he ordered a caller to prayer, who gave the call, and he prayed two rak’ahs before Fajr, then he...” He performed the iqamah, then prayed the Fajr prayer.[11]

- صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - كَانَ فِي مَسِيرٍ لَهُ، فَنَامُوا عَنْ صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ، فَاسْتَيْقَظُوا بِحَرِّ الشَّمْسِ، فَارْتَفَعُوا قَلِيلًا حَتَّى اسْتَقَلَّتْ الشَّمْسُ، ثُمَّ أَمَرَ مُؤَذِّنًا فَأَذَّنَ فَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ قَبْلَ الْفَجْرِ، ثُمَّ أَقَامَ ثُمَّ صَلَّى الْفَجْرَ» .

L5220 This is Yunus from Al-Ḥasan and Thābit al-Bunānī from ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabāḥ—both being more reliable in memorization than Khālid ibn Shumayr—narrating from Hishām ibn Ḥassān, both of whom report: The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—would not wake except due to the sun’s heat and the necessity of sensory and observable evidence. Everyone knows that the sun’s heat does not rouse a sleeper except after its clear visibility, brightening, and rising. As for before that, it does not.

فَهَذَا يُونُسُ عَنْ الْحَسَنِ وَثَابِتٍ الْبُنَانِيِّ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ رَبَاحٍ وَهُمَا أَحْفَظُ مِنْ خَالِدِ بْنِ شُمَيْرٍ، مِنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ حَسَّانَ يَذْكُرَانِ: أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - لَمْ يَسْتَيْقِظْ إلَّا بِحَرِّ الشَّمْسِ وَبِضَرُورَةِ الْحِسِّ وَالْمُشَاهَدَةِ يَدْرِي كُلُّ أَحَدٍ أَنَّ حَرَّ الشَّمْسِ لَا يُوقِظُ النَّائِمَ إلَّا بَعْدَ صَفْوِهَا وَابْيِضَاضِهَا وَارْتِفَاعِهَا، وَأَمَّا قَبْلَ ذَلِكَ فَلَا.

L5221 In the narration of Abdullah ibn Abi Qatadah, there is no indication that he (peace be upon him) commanded them to wait whatsoever. Rather, he instructed them to disperse to relieve themselves, then perform ablution, then pray - and nothing beyond that.

L5222 Given that this is the case, it becomes incumbent upon us to examine the reason why the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) delayed the prayer on that day. Even if the sun’s heat had not been mentioned in any part of this narration, there would be no basis in it for those who claim that he (peace be upon him) delayed the prayer solely because the sun had not cleared nor brightened. This is because there is no basis whatsoever in any of the narrations that the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said: “I delayed the prayer because the sun had not brightened nor risen,” nor that he (peace be upon him) said: “Wait until the sun rises and brightens.” Rather, that is merely an assumption from some of the narrators. Allah the Exalted has said: “Indeed, assumption avails nothing against the truth” (10:36).[12] both of them—ever stated the Prophet's—peace be upon him—delay of prayer was solely because the sun had not whitened or risen? They merely described the manner of his action—peace be upon him—without specifying any cause.

L5224–5225 Those who asserted that the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—delayed the prayer that day only because the sun had not yet whitened nor risen have persisted in conjecture without knowledge and judged by conjecture—both prohibited by the Quran's explicit text—while lying against the Messenger of Allah, peace be upon him, a grave transgression. Therefore, it became necessary to seek the reason for which he, peace be upon him, delayed the prayer that day. We did so and found the following:

Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us, from Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa, from Ahmad ibn Muhammad, from Ahmad ibn Ali, from Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj: Muhammad ibn Hatim narrated to me, from Yahya ibn Sa'id al-Qattan, from Yazid ibn Kaysan, from Abu Hazim Salman al-Ashja'i, from Abu Hurairah, who said: "We camped with the Prophet, peace be upon him, and did not awaken until the sun rose. The Prophet, peace be upon him, said: 'Let each of you hold his mount's head, for this is a place where Satan has assailed us.' We did so. He then called for water, performed ablution, prostrated twice, and when the iqamah was called, he prayed the dawn prayer."

L5226 Abdullah ibn Rabi'ah narrated to us: Umar ibn Abdul-Malik narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Bakr narrated to us: Abu Dawud asSijistānī narrated to us: Musa ibn Isma'eel narrated to us: Aban—he is the son of Yazeed al-Attar—narrated to us: Ma'mar narrated to us from az-Zuhri from Sa'eed ibn al-Musayyib from Abu Hurairah regarding this narration: The Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—said, "Move away from your place where negligence overtook you?" He then commanded Bilal to proclaim the Adhan and Iqamah, and the Prophet prayed.

L5227–5229 Ali said, "The difficulty was entirely lifted; praise be to Allah, and it was conclusively confirmed that he—peace be upon him—had merely delayed." the prayer: to leave the place where heedlessness overtook them and only Satan was present there, not because the sun had not yet risen.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَارْتَفَعَ الْإِشْكَالُ جُمْلَةً وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ، وَصَحَّ يَقِينًا أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - إِنَّمَا أَخَّرَ الصَّلَاةَ؛ لِيَزُولُوا عَنْ الْمَكَانِ الَّذِي أَصَابَتْهُمْ فِيهِ الْغَفْلَةُ، وَحَضَرَهُمْ فِيهِ الشَّيْطَانُ فَقَطْ، لَا لِأَنَّ الشَّمْسَ لَمْ تَكُنْ ارْتَفَعَتْ.

L5230 Some of them said: "So does the legal cause exist [for delaying prayer] when the sun is between Satan's horns?" ʿAlī replied: "This is a superficial scratch on marble. The Prophet—peace be upon him—did not say that prayer is delayed because the sun is between Satan's horns. Rather, he said: 'A dwelling where Satan has joined us.' For the presence of Satan in a people's dwelling—as any person of understanding would undoubtedly affirm—is entirely distinct from the sun being between Satan's horns. Thus the falsehood of this speaker becomes conclusively evident—and success is attained solely through Allah, the Exalted."

وَقَدْ قَالَ بَعْضُهُمْ: إنَّهَا حِينَئِذٍ بَيْنَ قَرْنَيْ الشَّيْطَانِ، فَالْعِلَّةُ مَوْجُودَةٌ؟ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا تَخْدِيشٌ فِي الرُّخَامِ وَلَمْ يَقُلْ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: إنَّ تَأْخِيرَ الصَّلَاةِ مِنْ أَجْلِ كَوْنِ الشَّمْسِ بَيْنَ قَرْنَيْ الشَّيْطَانِ، وَإِنَّمَا قَالَ: «مَنْزِلٌ حَضَرَنَا فِيهِ الشَّيْطَانُ» وَحُضُورُ الشَّيْطَانِ فِي مَنْزِلِ قَوْمٍ هُوَ - بِلَا شَكٍّ مِنْ كُلِّ ذِي فَهْمٍ - غَيْرُ كَوْنِ الشَّمْسِ بَيْنَ قَرْنَيْ الشَّيْطَانِ فَظَهَرَ كَذِبُ هَذَا الْقَائِلِ يَقِينًا - وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ؟ .

L5231 The fourth perspective is: even if it were valid for them to claim that his hesitation—peace be upon him—was because the sun had not yet whitened—and this is absolutely invalid—his statement in that very same hadith after praying with them would still hold: "Whoever sleeps through a prayer or forgets it must pray it when he remembers."

وَوَجْهٌ رَابِعٌ هُوَ: أَنَّهُ حَتَّى لَوْ صَحَّ لَهُمْ أَنَّ تَرَدُّدَهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - كَانَ مِنْ أَجْلِ أَنَّ الشَّمْسَ لَمْ تَكُنْ ابْيَضَّتْ بَعْدُ -، وَهَذَا لَا يَصِحُّ أَبَدًا - لَكَانَ قَوْلُهُ فِي ذَلِكَ الْحَدِيثِ نَفْسِهِ بَعْدَ صَلَاتِهِ بِهِمْ «مَنْ نَامَ عَنْ صَلَاةٍ أَوْ نَسِيَهَا فَلْيُصَلِّهَا إذَا ذَكَرَهَا» .

L5232 In some wordings of the narrators: "Let him pray it when he remembers it," abrogating his action of delaying the prayer, because it [the command] came after it?

وَفِي بَعْضِ أَلْفَاظِ الرُّوَاةِ «فَلْيُصَلِّهَا حِينَ يَذْكُرُهَا» نَاسِخًا لِفِعْلِهِ فِي تَأْخِيرِ الصَّلَاةِ؛ لِأَنَّهُ بَعْدَهُ؟ .

L5233 If it is said: "Why did you not deem it abrogating due to their departure from the place?"

فَإِنْ قِيلَ: فَهَلَّا جَعَلْتُمُوهُ نَاسِخًا لِتَحَوُّلِهِمْ عَنْ الْمَكَانِ؟ .

L5234 We said: That is not permissible because his statement—peace be upon him—"when he mentions it" and "at the time he mentions it" indicates his intent toward the time of its fulfillment, and there is no ruling therein regarding the place of its fulfillment. Thus, there is no basis whatsoever for applying its ruling to matters about which there is no disagreement, and this is the utmost truth and clarity—and all praise is due to Allah.

قُلْنَا: لَا يَجُوزُ ذَلِكَ؛ لِأَنَّ قَوْلَهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - «إذَا ذَكَرَهَا» وَ «حِينَ يَذْكُرُهَا» قَصْدٌ مِنْهُ إلَى زَمَانِ تَأْدِيَتِهَا، وَلَيْسَ فِيهِ حُكْمٌ لِمَكَانِ تَأْدِيَتِهَا؛ فَلَا يَكُونُ لِمَا لَيْسَ فِيهِ خِلَافٌ بِحُكْمِهِ أَصْلًا، وَهَذَا غَايَةُ الْحَقِيقَةِ وَالْبَيَانِ - وَلِلَّهِ الْحَمْدُ؟ .

L5235–5237 As for the ḥadīth of Anas, "That is the prayer of the hypocrites," they have no valid argument in it whatsoever due to the following considerations: One of them is that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—did not condemn in that hadith merely delaying prayer in isolation. Rather, he condemned delaying it while rushing through four rak'ahs in prayer, scarcely remembering Allah during them. This is undoubtedly blameworthy—whether he delayed the prayer or not—just like the words of the Exalted: {When they rise to prayer, they rise sluggishly, showing off to people and hardly remembering Allah except a little} [An-Nisā' 4:142].[13]

L5238 Moreover, it has been authentically established that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—informed that whoever catches one rak'ah of the dawn prayer before sunrise and one rak'ah of the afternoon prayer before sunset has indeed caught both prayers. It is utterly false and impossible for one who catches the prayer to be disobedient in it while praying the prayer of the hypocrites.

L5239 No two would dispute that whoever performs the prayer within its prescribed time has fulfilled the obligation and is not sinful, even if he neglected the preferable practice.

L5240 It has been authentically established from the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—as narrated by Abdullah ibn Yusuf, from Ahmad ibn Fath, from Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa, from Ahmad ibn Muhammad, from Ahmad ibn Ali, from Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj, from Zuhayr ibn Harb, from Marwan ibn Muawiyah al-Fazari, from Ismail ibn Abi Khalid, from Qays ibn Abi Hazim, who said: I heard Jarir ibn Abdullah state: "We were in the presence of Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—when he said: 'Indeed, you will see your Lord as you see this moon—you will face no hardship in seeing Him. So if you can ensure you are not overcome regarding the prayers before sunrise and sunset (meaning Asr and Fajr), then strive to do so.”[14]

L5241 And to Muslim: Abu Kurayb, Ishaq ibn Ibrahim, and Abu Bakr ibn Abi Shaybah narrated to us from Waki‘, from Isma‘il ibn Abi Khalid and Mis‘ar ibn Kidam, that they both heard Abu Bakr ibn ‘Umarah ibn Ru’aybah narrate from his father, who said: I heard the Messenger of Allah, may Allah’s prayers and peace be upon him, say: “No one who prays before sunrise and before sunset will enter the Fire” — meaning Fajr and ‘Asr. Thus, in this way, it is explicitly stated in the hadith.[15][16]

L5242–5243 Ali said: If this is the case, then the apparent meaning of the narration indicates that he, peace be upon him, referred to one who delayed a prayer that is impermissible to postpone to that time. This applies without doubt to prayers other than ʿAṣr [but regarding Ẓuhr, the prohibition against delaying it to that time is definitively established], just as he, peace be upon him, clarified that negligence in dutiful observance consists of this: delaying a prayer until the time of another prayer begins?

L5244 If they cite the narration of Anas, “He sat anticipating the time of ʿAṣr,” we reply: Yes, but if one delays Ẓuhr until the time of ʿAṣr while anticipating ʿAṣr, he has disobeyed Allah, the Exalted. Thus, their reliance on this is also nullified. All praise belongs to Allah, Lord of the worlds. As for the ḥadīth of Ibn Masʿūd, it is clear evidence against them, for he undoubtedly meant that only the Friday prayer is delayed to that time, as his statement indicates: “They prolong the sermon and delay the prayer.”[17]

L5245 Moreover, since he—may Allah be pleased with him—permitted voluntary prayers with them when the sun turns yellow, as stated in that same narration, does this not confirm that Ibn Masʿūd agrees with us on this matter?

وَأَمَّا حَدِيثُ أَبِي ذَرٍّ فَكَذَلِكَ أَيْضًا، وَهُوَ خَبَرٌ مُوَافِقٌ لَنَا - وَلِلَّهِ الْحَمْدُ.

L5246 As for the ḥadīth of Abū Dharr, it is likewise also a report that agrees with us, and to Allah belongs all praise.

لِأَنَّهُ نَصُّهُ: أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: «يُؤَخِّرُونَ الصَّلَاةَ عَنْ وَقْتِهَا» ، وَقَدْ صَحَّ أَنَّ مَا لَمْ تَغْرُبْ الشَّمْسُ فَهُوَ وَقْتٌ لِلدُّخُولِ فِي صَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ، وَمَا لَمْ تَطْلُعْ الشَّمْسُ فَهُوَ وَقْتٌ لِلدُّخُولِ فِي صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ - فَبَطَلَ تَعَلُّقُهُمْ بِجَمِيعِ الْآثَارِ - وَلِلَّهِ الْحَمْدُ؟ .

L5247 Because its text states that the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - said: “They delay prayer beyond its time.” It has been authenticated that as long as the sun has not set, it remains the time to perform the ʿAsr prayer, and as long as the sun has not risen, it remains the time to perform the Fajr prayer. Thus, their reliance on all textual evidence is rendered void - and all praise is due to Allah.

L5248 As for their claim: “It may be that the Prophet’s statement—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—‘Whoever catches one rakʿah of the Fajr prayer before sunrise has indeed attained Fajr’ was made before the prohibition of prayer during the specified times”—this is erroneous, for “it may be that” carries no legal authority; it is mere conjecture?

L5249–5250 Moreover, the proof has been established that the statement of the Prophet (peace be upon him)—“Whoever catches one rakʿah”—comes after the reports prohibiting [prayer after the ʿAṣr prayer]. This is because Abū Hurayrah—the narrator of “Whoever catches one rakʿah”—became a companion later, whereas the reports of prohibition were narrated by ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb and ʿUmar ibn ʿAbasah, and their Islam was early, was it not?

L5251 In summary, neither the lateness nor the precedence of either of the two narrations detracts from them, provided both can be applied and one can be joined to the other. It is therefore obligatory to adhere to all of them, as we have previously stated—and with God Almighty is success. As for their claim that we have unanimously agreed to prioritize the narrations prohibiting fasting on the two Eid days, the Day of Sacrifice, and the Days of Tashreeq over the hadiths commanding the compensation of missed Ramadan fasts, vows, and expiations: similarly, we must prioritize the narrations prohibiting prayer during the mentioned times over the hadiths commanding the making up of forgotten prayers, those missed due to oversleeping, vows, and all other voluntary prayers enjoined. This is qiyās (analogical reasoning), and all qiyās is invalid?

L5252 Perhaps this necessarily applies to those who uphold qiyas among the Mālikīs and Shāfiʿīs. However, they also oppose the Ḥanafīs in this qiyas by stating: "You are the first to invalidate this qiyas and failed to apply it consistently, thereby permitting the ʿAṣr prayer of the day during the time when prayer is prohibited."

وَلَعَلَّ هَذَا يَلْزَمُ مَنْ قَالَ بِالْقِيَاسِ مِنْ الْمَالِكِيِّينَ وَالشَّافِعِيِّينَ، إلَّا أَنَّهُمْ أَيْضًا يُعَارِضُونَ الْحَنَفِيِّينَ فِي هَذَا الْقِيَاسِ، بِأَنْ يَقُولُوا لَهُمْ: أَنْتُمْ أَوَّلُ مَنْ نَقَضَ هَذَا الْقِيَاسَ، وَلَمْ يَطَّرِدْهُ؛ فَأَجَزْتُمْ صَلَاةَ عَصْرِ الْيَوْمِ فِي الْوَقْتِ الْمَنْهِيِّ عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ فِيهِ.

L5253–5255 You did not apply qiyas to the dawn prayer regarding it, nor did you measure it against the dawn prayer. Then you added further invalidation to this analogy by designating part of the prohibited prayer time as a period in which obligatory prayers are compensated in full, prostration of recitation is performed, and funeral prayers are conducted, yet votive prayers are not offered therein. You further designated another portion wherein none of these prayers are performed at all. Thus, you did not apply analogy to prayer in part of the prohibited time... Does the time apply within the entire duration of the prayer? Was this more sound in analogy and preferable to analogizing the ruling of prayer to fasting?

L5256 As for their statement to us: "Why do you differentiate between the two commands and the two prohibitions?" Our response—and with Allah's guidance, success is sought—is that we did so because the texts established the precedence of the hadiths commanding prayers in general over those prohibiting prayer during those specific times, with some being later and abrogating the earlier ones. No text whatsoever came to prioritize the command to fast over the hadiths of prohibition; rather, a definitive consensus was established on the obligation to prioritize the prohibition of fasting on the day of Eid al-Fitr and Eid al-Adha (the Feast of Sacrifice) over the hadiths obligating making up missed fasts, fulfilling vows, and expiations. This is like his statement—peace be upon him—regarding the days of Tashriq: "They are days of eating and drinking," thereby making eating and drinking obligatory during them. Thus, fasting during them is impermissible without explicit textual evidence—unlike what applies to prayer—and with Allah's guidance, success is sought. Therefore, all their contentious arguments are dismissed, and praise be to Allah. As for the permissibility of initiating voluntary prayers after Asr as long as the sun has not turned yellow, and the permissibility of voluntary

L5257 Abdullah ibn Rabi'ah narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Mu'awiyah narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Shu'ayb narrated to us: Amr ibn Ali narrated to us: Abdur-Rahman ibn Mahdi narrated to us: Shu'bah and Sufyan al-Thawri, both from Mansur ibn al-Mu'tamir, from Hilal ibn Yasaf, from Wahb ibn al-Ajda', from Ali ibn Abi Talib, from the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him), who said: "Do not pray after 'Asr unless you pray while the sun is still high."[18]

L5258–5260 Wahb ibn al-Ajdaʿ is a trustworthy, renowned Follower; the rest of the Narrators are too well-known to require questioning about them—and this... Is it impermissible to abandon an excess of justice?

L5261 As for the period from the onset of dawn until the time of Fajr prayer, is it based on the hadith of ʿAmr ibn ʿAbasah which we mentioned at the outset of this issue, wherein it states: "Pray as much as you will, for the prayer is witnessed and recorded until you pray Fajr, then stop praying until the sun rises"?

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَالرِّوَايَةُ فِي أَنْ «لَا صَلَاةَ بَعْدَ طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ إِلَّا رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ» سَاقِطَةٌ مَطْرُوحَةٌ مَكْذُوبَةٌ كُلُّهَا، لَمْ يَرْوِهَا أَحَدٌ إِلَّا مِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ زِيَادِ بْنِ أَنْعُمَ وَهُوَ مَالِكٌ، أَوْ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي بَكْرِ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ، وَهُوَ مَجْهُولٌ لَا يُدْرَى مَنْ هُوَ، وَلَيْسَ هُوَ ابْنُ حَزْمٍ، أَوْ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي هَارُونَ الْعَبْدِيِّ، وَهُوَ سَاقِطٌ، أَوْ مِنْ طَرِيقِ يَسَارٍ مَوْلَى ابْنِ عُمَرَ وَهُوَ مَجْهُولٌ وَمُدَلِّسٌ، عَنْ كَعْبِ بْنِ مُرَّةَ مِمَّنْ لَا يُدْرَى مَنْ هُوَ.

L5263–5267 Ali said: “The narration states that ’There is no prayer after the onset of dawn except the two rak’ahs of Fajr.’” They are all discarded, abandoned, and fabricated. No one has narrated them except through the chain of ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Ziyād ibn Anʿum—who is Malik—or through the chain of Abū Bakr ibn Muḥammad, who is unknown (his identity is undetermined) and not Ibn Ḥazm, or through the chain of Abū Hārūn al-ʿAbdī—who is discarded—or through the chain of Yasār, the client of Ibn ʿUmar. He is unknown and a mudallis, narrating from Kaʿb ibn Murrah—who is among those [narrators] whose identity is undetermined.

L5268 A group of the predecessors (Salaf) held this opinion—as narrated to us through the chain of Waki‘ from Aflaḥ ibn Ḥumayd from Al-Qāsim ibn Muḥammad ibn Abī Bakr, who said: “We used to visit ʿĀ’ishah, the Mother of the Belieurs, before the dawn prayer? One day, we came to her and found her praying. We asked: ’What is this prayer?’ She replied: ’I slept through my daily portion (of the Qur’an), so I would not abandon it?’” وَرُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ، وَالْمُعْتَمِرِ بْنِ سُلَيْمَانَ التَّيْمِيِّ كِلَاهُمَا عَنْ لَيْثٍ عَنْ مُجَاهِدٍ قَالَ: مَرَّ ابْنُ مَسْعُودٍ بِرَجُلَيْنِ يَتَكَلَّمَانِ بَعْدَ طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ، فَقَالَ: يَا هَذَانِ إمَّا أَنْ تُصَلِّيَا وَإِمَّا أَنْ تَسْكُتَا؟ وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ بْنِ عُيَيْنَةَ عَنْ ابْنِ أَبِي نَجِيحٍ: أَنَّ طَاوُسًا قَالَ لِمُجَاهِدٍ: أَتَعْقِلُ؟ إذَا طَلَعَ الْفَجْرُ فَصَلِّ مَا شِئْت؟ .

L5269–5271 It has been narrated to us through the chain of Abd al-Razzaq from Sufyan al-Thawri and al-Mu’tamir ibn Sulayman al-Taymi, both of them from Layth, from Mujahid, who said: Ibn Mas’ud passed by two men who were speaking after the rising of dawn. He said: “O you two, either pray or remain silent?” And from Abd al-Razzaq from Sufyan ibn Uyaynah from Ibn Abi Najih: that Tawus said to Mujahid: “Do you not realize? When dawn appears, pray as much as you wish?”

وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ الْمُعْتَمِرِ بْنِ سُلَيْمَانَ التَّيْمِيِّ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ الْحَسَنِ الْبَصْرِيِّ قَالَ: صَلِّ بَعْدَ الْفَجْرِ مَا شِئْت؟ . وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ شُعْبَةَ عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ [عَنْ أَبِيهِ] أَنَّهُ كَانَ لَا يَرَى بَأْسًا بِأَنْ يُصَلِّيَ بَعْدَ الْفَجْرِ أَكْثَرَ مِنْ رَكْعَتَيْنِ؟ ، وَرُوِّينَا ذَلِكَ أَيْضًا عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ أَبِي رَبَاحٍ وَغَيْرِهِ؟ .

L5272 From Abd al-Razzaq, from al-Muʿtamir ibn Sulayman al-Taymi, from his father, from al-Hasan al-Basri, who said: “Pray after Fajr as much as you wish.” And through another chain from Shuʿbah, from Hisham ibn Urwah [from his father], that he saw no harm in praying more than two rakʿahs after Fajr. And it was also narrated to us from ʿAṭāʾ ibn Abi Rabah and others.

L5273 Ali said: What is utterly astonishing is the manner in which these people adhere to the hadith of Uqbah ibn Amir al-Juhani, wherein it states: “The Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) prohibited us from burying Muslim dead during these times: when the sun emerges rising until it ascends, when the sun stands at midday zenith until it declines, and when the sun begins to set until it fully sets." No report has ever contradicted this prohibition at all. Yet they show no concern for disregarding it, permitting the burial of the dead during these times without expressing disapproval, while they prohibit compensating for voluntary prayers - with some even prohibiting compensating for obligatory prayers - despite the existence of textual evidences that directly oppose this very prohibition.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَالْعَجَبُ كُلُّهُ مِنْ تَعَلُّقِ هَؤُلَاءِ الْقَوْمِ بِحَدِيثِ عُقْبَةَ بْنِ عَامِرٍ الْجُهَنِيِّ، وَفِيهِ «نَهَى النَّبِيُّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - عَنْ أَنْ نَقْبُرَ مَوْتَى الْمُسْلِمِينَ وَهِيَ: حِينَ تَطْلُعُ الشَّمْسُ بَازِغَةً حَتَّى تَرْتَفِعَ، وَحِينَ يَقُومُ قَائِمُ الظَّهِيرَةِ حَتَّى تَمِيلَ الشَّمْسُ، وَحِينَ تَضَيَّفُ لِلْغُرُوبِ حَتَّى تَغْرُبَ» ، وَلَمْ يَأْتِ قَطُّ خَبَرٌ يُعَارِضُ هَذَا النَّهْيَ أَصْلًا - ثُمَّ لَا يُبَالُونَ بِإِطْرَاحِهِ، فَيُجِيزُونَ أَنْ تُقْبَرَ الْمَوْتَى فِي هَذِهِ الْأَوْقَاتِ دُونَ أَنْ يَكْرَهُوا ذَلِكَ، ثُمَّ يُحَرِّمُونَ قَضَاءَ التَّطَوُّعِ، وَبَعْضُهُمْ قَضَاءَ الْفَرْضِ، وَقَدْ جَاءَتْ النُّصُوصُ مُعَارِضَةً لِهَذَا النَّهْيِ.

L5274 Ali said: Burying the dead during these times is not permissible at all. As for praying over them—is it permissible during them due to the general command concerning that?

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَلَا يَحِلُّ دَفْنُ الْمَوْتَى فِي هَذِهِ السَّاعَاتِ أَلْبَتَّةَ -، وَأَمَّا الصَّلَاةُ عَلَيْهِمْ فَجَائِزَةٌ بِهَا، لِلْأَمْرِ بِذَلِكَ عُمُومًا؟ .

L5275–5276 And as narrated to us by Ḥammām ibn Aḥmad from ʿAbbās ibn Aṣbagh from Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Malik ibn Ayman from Muḥammad ibn Ismāʿīl al-Tirmidhī from Sufyān—he is the son of ʿUyaynah—who said: I heard ʿUbayd Allāh ibn ʿUmar say many times: I heard Nāfiʿ say: I heard Ibn ʿUmar say: I do not forbid anyone from praying at any hour they wish, night or day. But I act as I saw those I accompanied act. The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said: "Do not intentionally align your prayers with the sun's rising or its setting."

وَلِمَا حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّامُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ ثنا عَبَّاسُ بْنُ أَصْبَغَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَيْمَنَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْمَاعِيلَ التِّرْمِذِيُّ ثنا سُفْيَانُ هُوَ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ قَالَ سَمِعْت عُبَيْدَ اللَّهِ بْنَ عُمَرَ كَمْ مَرَّةً يَقُولُ: سَمِعْت نَافِعًا يَقُولُ: سَمِعْت ابْنَ عُمَرَ يَقُولُ: لَسْت أَنْهَى أَحَدًا صَلَّى أَيَّ سَاعَةٍ شَاءَ مِنْ لَيْلٍ أَوْ نَهَارٍ، وَلَكِنِّي أَفْعَلُ كَمَا رَأَيْت أَصْحَابِي يَفْعَلُونَ، وَقَدْ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ: - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «لَا تَحَرَّوْا بِصَلَاتِكُمْ طُلُوعَ الشَّمْسِ، وَلَا غُرُوبَهَا» .

L5277 Ali said: Indeed, he (peace be upon him) prohibited seeking out prayer and intentionally engaging in it during these two times and specifically during the sun's zenith. It has been confirmed through this that the prescribed voluntary prayers and recommended acts to be performed during these times are the practice of the Companions (may Allah be pleased with them), for Ibn Umar reported that he only acted as he saw his companions doing—as we just mentioned from him—praying after the post-Fajr circumambulation before sunrise [and after ʿAṣr before sunset].

وَصَحَّ أَنَّ النَّهْيَ لَيْسَ إلَّا عَنْ الْقَصْدِ بِالصَّلَاةِ إذَا اصْفَرَّتْ الشَّمْسُ وَضَافَتْ لِلْغُرُوبِ فَقَطْ - وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ اخْتِصَاصُ لَيْلَةَ الْجُمُعَةِ بِصَلَاةٍ زَائِدَةٍ عَلَى سَائِرِ اللَّيَالِي]

٢٨٧ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَلَا يَجُوزُ أَنْ تُخَصَّ لَيْلَةُ الْجُمُعَةِ بِصَلَاةٍ زَائِدَةٍ عَلَى سَائِرِ اللَّيَالِي؟ .

L5278 As for those among our companions who considered the prohibition of prayer after the ʿAṣr prayer to be abrogated by the Prophet's (peace be upon him) two-unit prayer—this position would be valid were it not for the hadith of Wahb ibn al-Ajdaʿ, which we mentioned, concerning the Prophet's explicit permission (peace be upon him) to pray after ʿAṣr as long as the sun remains high. Thus, the abrogation [of the prohibition] in this matter is invalidated.

L5279–5281 It has been established that the prohibition applies only to deliberately performing the prayer when the sun turns yellow and begins to set. For sunset only—and success is from Allah, the Exalted.

L5282 Abdullah ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Manṣūr said: Sufyān ibn ʿUyaynah narrated to us. He said: I heard from Abū al-Zubayr, who said: I heard ʿAbdullāh ibn Bābā narrating from Jubayr ibn Muṭʿim that he said: The Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—said, "O Banū ʿAbd Manāf, do not prevent anyone who performs ṭawāf around this House and prays at any time he wishes, whether night or day?"[20]

L5283 Ali said: "Jubayr's acceptance of Islam was very late, for he only embraced Islam on the Day of the Conquest. This is without doubt after the Prophet—peace be upon him—had prohibited prayer during the aforementioned times. Therefore, it is obligatory to exclude all such instances from the prohibition. And with Allah the Exalted lies success."

L5284 Issue: The exclusive designation of Friday night for an extra prayer over the other nights.

L5285 287 - Issue: It is not permissible to specifically designate the night of Friday for additional prayers, unlike other nights.

L5286 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us, Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us, Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us, Abu Kuraib narrated to us, Husayn al-Ju'fi narrated to us from Za'idah from Hisham from Ibn Sirin from Abu Hurairah that the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) said: "Do not single out the night of Friday for night prayer among other nights." And he mentioned the rest of the hadith.[21]

L5287 ## Issue: The Best of Deeds

L5288–5290 C:AH,AQ Issue 288: The best deeds are those that have been authentically established that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ did it, and those that are consistently practiced, even if they are few. That is more beloved to us than increasing upon them. The demonstration of that is the saying of Allah, 'Indeed, in the Messenger of Allah you have an excellent example' (Sūrat al-Aḥzāb: 21). And he ﷺ would not have abandoned what is best.[22]

L5291 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us, Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us. Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to me, quoting Muhammad ibn al-Muthanna, who narrated to us from Abdul Wahhab al-Thaqafi, who narrated from Ubaydullah ibn Umar, who narrated from Sa'id ibn Abi Sa'id al-Maqburi, from Abu Salama ibn Abd al-Rahman, from Aisha, that the Messenger of Allah, peace be upon him, said: "O people, engage in deeds within your capacity, for Allah does not grow weary of rewarding until you grow weary of acting. The deeds most beloved to Allah are those performed consistently, even if small."[23]

L5293 Issue 289: Voluntary prayers performed in congregation are more virtuous than those performed individually. Every voluntary prayer is better in homes than in mosques, except those performed in congregation in the mosque, which are more virtuous.

٢٨٩ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَصَلَاةُ التَّطَوُّعِ فِي الْجَمَاعَةِ أَفْضَلُ مِنْهَا مُنْفَرِدًا، وَكُلُّ تَطَوُّعٍ فَهُوَ فِي الْبُيُوتِ أَفْضَلُ مِنْهُ فِي الْمَسَاجِدِ إِلَّا مَا صَلَّى مِنْهُ جَمَاعَةً فِي الْمَسْجِدِ فَهُوَ أَفْضَلُ.

L5294 Abdullah ibn Rabi' narrated to us, Umar ibn Abdul-Malik narrated to us, Muhammad ibn Bakr narrated to us, Abu Dawud narrated to us, Musaddad narrated to us, Abu Mu'awiyah narrated to us from Al-A'mash from Abu Salih from Abu Hurairah, who said: The Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—said, "A man's prayer in congregation exceeds his prayer in his home and his market by twenty-five ranks." The remainder of the hadith was mentioned. This is a general ruling for every prayer, whether obligatory or voluntary.

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا عُمَرُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَكْرٍ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا مُسَدَّدٌ ثنا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ عَنْ الْأَعْمَشِ عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «صَلَاةُ الرَّجُلِ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ تَزِيدُ عَلَى صَلَاتِهِ فِي بَيْتِهِ وَسُوقِهِ خَمْسًا وَعِشْرِينَ دَرَجَةً» وَذَكَرَ بَاقِيَ الْحَدِيثِ، وَهَذَا عُمُومٌ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ فَرْضٍ أَوْ تَطَوُّعٍ.

L5295–5297 And it has been narrated to us through the chain of Mālik, from Isḥāq ibn ʿAbdullāh ibn Abī Ṭalḥah, from Anas that his grandmother Mulaykah invited the Messenger of Allah (May Allah bless him and grant him peace) to a meal she had prepared. He ate from it, then said: "Rise, and I will lead you in prayer." "For you, the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—stood up. I lined up with the orphan behind him, and the elderly woman behind us. Then the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—prayed two rak'ahs for us and departed."

L5298 The Prophet (peace be upon him) led the people in voluntary prayers at the mosque when he led them from the pulpit, and he also led voluntary prayers at the house of ʿItbān ibn Mālik.

L5299 Ibn al-Zubayr led the people in two rak'ahs of prayer after the Asr Prayer in congregation at the Sacred Mosque, and Anas also did likewise.

قَدْ صَلَّى ابْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ بِالنَّاسِ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ الْحَرَامِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ جَمَاعَةً وَكَذَلِكَ أَنَسٌ أَيْضًا.

L5300 And through him to Abu Dawud: Ahmad ibn Salih narrated to us, Ibn Wahb narrated to us, Sulayman ibn Bilal informed me from Ibrahim ibn Abi al-Nadr from his father from Busr ibn Sa'id from Zayd ibn Thabit that the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—said: "A person's prayer in his home is better than his prayer in the mosque except the obligatory prayer." And it was narrated to us from Abd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi: Sufyan al-Thawri narrated to us from Mansur ibn al-Mu'tamir and al-Nu'man ibn Qays; Mansur reported from Mujahid—Abu Ma'mar said to me: "When you pray the obligatory prayer, return to your home."

وَبِهِ إلَى أَبِي دَاوُد: ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ صَالِحٍ ثنا ابْنُ وَهْبٍ أَخْبَرَنِي سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ بِلَالٍ عَنْ إبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ أَبِي النَّضْرِ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ بُسْرِ بْنِ سَعِيدٍ عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ

وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: «صَلَاةُ الْمَرْءِ فِي بَيْتِهِ أَفْضَلُ مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ فِي مَسْجِدٍ إِلَّا الْمَكْتُوبَةَ» ، وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ مَهْدِيٍّ: ثنا سُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ عَنْ مَنْصُورِ بْنِ الْمُعْتَمِرِ، وَالنُّعْمَانِ بْنِ قَيْسٍ، قَالَ مَنْصُورٌ: عَنْ مُجَاهِدٍ قَالَ لِي أَبُو مَعْمَرٍ: إِذَا صَلَّيْت الْمَكْتُوبَةَ فَارْجِعْ إِلَى بَيْتِك.

L5301 And al-Nu'mān ibn Qays said: "Have I never seen ʿAbīdah al-Salmānī perform voluntary prayers in the local mosque?"

وَقَالَ النُّعْمَانُ بْنُ قَيْسٍ مَا رَأَيْت عَبِيدَةَ السَّلْمَانِيَّ مُتَطَوِّعًا فِي مَسْجِدِ الْحَيِّ قَطُّ؟ .

L5302–5304 It has been narrated to us from Ibn al-Muthannā: Abū ʻĀṣim al-Ḍaḥḥāk ibn Mukhlid narrated to us, Sufyān al-Thawrī narrated to us from... Mansur reported from Hilal ibn Yasaf from Damrah ibn Habib from a man among the Companions of the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—who said: "A man's voluntary prayer in his home is superior to his voluntary prayer in public, like the superiority of congregational prayer over a man's prayer alone."

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ ابْنِ الْمُثَنَّى: ثنا أَبُو عَاصِمٍ الضَّحَّاكُ بْنُ مُخْلِدٍ ثنا سُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ عَنْ مَنْصُورٍ عَنْ هِلَالِ بْنِ يَسَافٍ عَنْ ضَمْرَةَ بْنِ حَبِيبٍ عَنْ رَجُلٍ مِنْ أَصْحَابِ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: تَطَوُّعُ الرَّجُلِ فِي بَيْتِهِ يَزِيدُ عَلَى تَطَوُّعِهِ عِنْدَ النَّاسِ كَفَضْلِ الْجَمَاعَةِ عَلَى صَلَاةِ الرَّجُلِ وَحْدَهُ؟ .

L5305 And through him to Ibn al-Muthannā: ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī narrated to us from Isrāʾīl, from ʿImrān ibn Muslim, who said: "Suwayd ibn Ghaflah would not perform supererogatory prayers in the mosque."

وَبِهِ إلَى ابْنِ الْمُثَنَّى: ثنا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ ثنا إسْرَائِيلُ عَنْ عِمْرَانَ بْنِ مُسْلِمٍ قَالَ: كَانَ سُوَيْدُ بْنُ غَفَلَةَ لَا يَتَطَوَّعُ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ.

L5306 It was narrated to us from Waki' that he said: Sufyan al-Thawri said that Nusayr ibn Dhū'l-ʿUq said: I never saw Ar-Rabi' ibn Khuthaym performing voluntary prayers in the mosque of the neighborhood at all.

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ وَكِيعٍ قَالَ: قَالَ سُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ قَالَ نُسَيْرُ بْنُ ذُعْلُوقٍ مَا رَأَيْت الرَّبِيعَ بْنَ خُثَيْمٍ مُتَطَوِّعًا فِي مَسْجِدِ الْحَيِّ قَطُّ.

L5307 Narrated by Waki' from Al-A'mash from Ibrāhīm An-Nakha'ī, who said: Ḥudhayfah ibn Al-Yaman was asked about voluntary prayers in the mosque after the obligatory prayer?

وَعَنْ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ الْأَعْمَشِ عَنْ إبْرَاهِيمَ النَّخَعِيِّ قَالَ سُئِلَ حُذَيْفَةُ بْنُ الْيَمَانِ عَنْ التَّطَوُّعِ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ بَعْدَ الْفَرِيضَةِ؟

L5308–5309 He said: "I indeed disapprove of it; even when they are united, they suddenly disagreed."

فَقَالَ: إنِّي لَأَكْرَهُهُ، بَيْنَمَا هُمْ جَمِيعًا إذَا اخْتَلَفُوا.

L5310 And from Hammad ibn Salamah, from Muhammad ibn Ishaq, from al-Abbas ibn Sa'd, who said: "Did I encounter people during the time of Uthman ibn Affan praying the two rak'ahs after Maghrib in their homes?"

L5311 The voluntary prayers after Friday and after all other prayers are treated equally in the rulings we have discussed, and all of that is also permissible to perform in the mosque. Abū Ḥanīfa and his companions said: "All of that is superior when performed in the mosque." Mālik said: "All of that is superior when performed in the mosque except after Friday prayer, for he deemed it reprehensible to perform voluntary prayers in the mosque after Friday." Some of his companions argued that this was a precaution to block the means, lest sectarian innovators—who do not regard prayer led by the imams as valid—adopt it as a practice.

L5312 Ali said: "This represents the utmost corruption in speech, for the heretical innovator also does the same in mosques designated for congregational prayers during all acts of worship, and he makes no distinction."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا غَايَةٌ فِي الْفَسَادِ مِنْ الْقَوْلِ، لِأَنَّ الْمُبْتَدِعَ يَفْعَلُ مِثْلَ ذَلِكَ أَيْضًا فِي مَسَاجِدِ الْجَمَاعَاتِ بِسَائِرِ الصَّلَوَاتِ وَلَا فَرْقَ.

L5313 Moreover, can they return to their homes and perform it there? It was reported to us through the chain of Abu Dawud: Ibrāhīm ibn al-Ḥasan narrated to us, Ḥajjāj ibn Muḥammad narrated from Ibn Jurayj, who informed me that ʿAṭāʾ said: He saw Ibn ʿUmar pray after Jumuʿah, moving away slightly, not excessively, from the place where he had prayed Jumuʿah, then performing two rakʿahs. He would then move to a more spacious area and pray four rakʿahs. ʿAṭāʾ said: I saw him do this repeatedly.

وَأَيْضًا: فَهُمْ قَادِرُونَ عَلَى أَنْ يَنْصَرِفُوا إلَى بُيُوتِهِمْ فَيَقْضُونَهَا هُنَالِكَ؟ رُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي دَاوُد: ثنا إبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ الْحَسَنِ ثنا حَجَّاجُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ أَخْبَرَنِي عَطَاءٌ: أَنَّهُ رَأَى ابْنَ عُمَرَ يُصَلِّي بَعْدَ الْجُمُعَةِ فَيَنْمَازُ عَنْ مُصَلَّاهُ الَّذِي صَلَّى فِيهِ الْجُمُعَةَ قَلِيلًا غَيْرَ كَثِيرٍ، فَيَرْكَعُ رَكْعَتَيْنِ ثُمَّ يَمْشِي أَنْفَسَ مِنْ ذَلِكَ فَيُصَلِّي أَرْبَعَ رَكَعَاتٍ رَأَيْته يَصْنَعُ ذَلِكَ مِرَارًا.

L5314 From Muhammad ibn al-Muthanna: Al-Muʿtamir ibn Sulayman al-Taymi narrated to us, saying: I heard 'Ata' ibn al-Sa'ib narrating from Abu 'Abd al-Rahman al-Sulami, who said: Ibn Masʿud used to teach us to pray four rakʿahs after Jumuʿah, so we would pray four rakʿahs afterward; until 'Ali ibn Abi Talib came, he commanded us to pray six rakʿahs after it, and thus we pray six rakʿahs after it?

L5315–5317 Hammam narrated to us: Abbas ibn Asbagh narrated to us, Muhammad ibn Abd al-Malik ibn Ayman narrated to us, Muhammad ibn Isma'il al-Tirmidhi narrated to us. Al-Humaidi narrated to us; Sufyan ibn Uyaynah narrated to us; Amr ibn Dinar narrated to us (before we met Al-Zuhri) from Al-Zuhri, from Salim ibn Abdullah ibn Umar, from his father, who said: "I saw the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) pray two units of prayer (rak'ahs) after the Friday prayer."

Issue: The Most Excellent Witr

[مَسْأَلَةٌ أَفْضَلُ الْوِتْرِ]

290. Issue: The best time for Witr is the latter part of the night. A single rak'ah suffices. Witr and Tahajjud may be performed in thirteen ways; whichever of these one performs is valid. The most beloved to us and the best of them is that we pray twelve rak'ahs - offering salutations after every two rak'ahs - then pray one rak'ah and conclude with salutations.

Abdullah ibn Rabee' narrated to us: 'Umar ibn 'Abd al-Malik narrated to us, Ibn al-A'rabī narrated to us, Abu Dawud narrated to us, al-Qaʿnabī narrated to us, Malik ibn Anas narrated from Hisham ibn 'Urwah from his father from 'A'ishah: "The Prophet (peace be upon him) used to pray thirteen rakʿahs at night, then when he heard the call to dawn prayer, he would pray two brief rakʿahs."[24]

The second manner is to pray eight rak'ahs, saying the salutation after every two rak'ahs, then to pray five consecutive rak'ahs without sitting except in the final one?

Abdullah ibn Rabee' narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Mu'awiyah narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Shu'ayb narrated to us: Ishaq ibn Ibrahim narrated to us: Abdah ibn Sulayman narrated to us: Hisham ibn Urwah narrated from his father from Aishah, who said: "The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) used to pray thirteen rak'ahs at night, performing Witr with five of them. He would not sit during any of the five rak'ahs except in the final one. Then he would sit and utter the Tasleem."

L5323–5324 The third is to pray ten rak'ahs, reciting the taslim at the end of every two rak'ahs, then perform the witr with one?

L5325 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us: Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us: Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to me: Harmalah ibn Yahya narrated to me: Ibn Wahb narrated to us: Amr ibn al-Harith informed me from Ibn Shihab from Urwah ibn al-Zubayr from Aisha, the Mother of the Believers, who said: "The Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - used to pray between the conclusion of the Isha prayer (which people call al-ʿatamah) and dawn eleven rakʿahs, offering the salutation after every two rakʿahs, then concluding with a single rakʿah as Witr"?

L5326 The fourth: to pray eight rak'ahs, reciting the salutation after every two, then perform witr with one. This is based on what we reported through Muslim's chain: Muḥammad ibn ʿAbbād narrated to us, Sufyān ibn ʿUyaynah narrated to us, al-Zuhrī narrated to us from Sālim ibn ʿAbd Allāh ibn ʿUmar from his father: "A man asked the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—about the night prayer. He replied: 'Pray two units at a time. When you fear the arrival of dawn, perform witr with one rak'ah.'"

L5327–5328 The fifth: to pray eight rakʿahs without sitting for the Tashahhud in any of them except the final one. When he sits in the last rakʿah and recites the Tashahhud, he rises without performing the Taslim. He then prays a single rakʿah, sits again, recites the Tashahhud, and performs the Taslim. This is based on what we have narrated from Muslim: Muḥammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated to us, Muḥammad ibn Abī ʿAdiyy narrated to us, from Saʿīd ibn Abī ʿArūbah, from Qatādah, from Zurārah ibn Awfā, that Saʿd ibn Hishām ibn ʿĀmir came to Ibn ʿAbbās and asked him about the Witr prayer of the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him. Ibn ʿAbbās said: "Shall I direct you to the most knowledgeable person on earth regarding the Witr prayer of the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him?"

Saʿd asked: “Who is that?” He replied: “ʿĀʾishah.” Saʿd mentioned that he visited ʿĀʾishah, the Mother of the Believers, and inquired about the Witr prayer of the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him. She said: “He would pray nine rakʿahs, sitting only in the eighth. Then he would rise without performing the Taslim, stand to pray the ninth rakʿah, sit again to remember Allah, praise Him, and invoke Him, then perform the Taslim audibly to us. Afterward, he would pray two rakʿahs while seated following the Taslim. When the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, grew advanced in age and his body grew frail, he performed Witr with seven, performing the two rakʿahs as he had done before.”

L5329–5331 حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ شُعَيْبٍ أَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ ثنا عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ ثنا حَمَّادٌ عَنْ أَبِي حُرَّةَ عَنْ الْحَسَنِ عَنْ سَعْدِ بْنِ هِشَامٍ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ: «أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - كَانَ يُوتِرُ بِتِسْعِ رَكَعَاتٍ، يَقْعُدُ فِي الثَّامِنَةِ، ثُمَّ يَقُومُ فَيَرْكَعُ رَكْعَةً» ؟ .

Abdullah ibn Rabee’ narrated to us; Muhammad ibn Mu’awiyah narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Shu’ayb narrated to us: I am Uthman ibn Abdullah. ‘Ubaydullāh ibn Muḥammad narrated to us that Ḥammād narrated from Abū Ḥurraha al-Ḥasan from Saʿd ibn Hishām from ʿĀʾishah: “The Prophet (peace be upon him) used to pray Witr with nine rakʿahs. He would sit in the eighth unit; then rise and bow in a single rakʿah?”

L5332 وَالسَّادِسُ: أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ سِتَّ رَكَعَاتٍ، يُسَلِّمُ فِي آخِرِ كُلِّ رَكْعَتَيْنِ مِنْهَا، وَيُوتِرُ بِسَابِعَةٍ؛ لِقَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - «صَلَاةُ اللَّيْلِ مَثْنَى مَثْنَى فَإِذَا خَشِيتَ الصُّبْحَ فَأَوْتِرْ بِوَاحِدَةٍ» ؟ .

The sixth [method]: to pray six rakʿahs, reciting the salām after every two rakʿahs, and conclude with a seventh rakʿah as witr—as the Prophet (peace be upon him) said: “Night prayer is offered two by two. If you anticipate the approach of dawn, observe witr with one rakʿah.”

L5333 وَالسَّابِعُ: أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ سَبْعَ رَكَعَاتٍ، لَا يَجْلِسُ وَلَا يَتَشَهَّدُ إِلَّا فِي آخِرِ السَّادِسَةِ مِنْهُنَّ، ثُمَّ يَقُومُ دُونَ تَسْلِيمٍ فَيَأْتِي بِالسَّابِعَةِ، ثُمَّ يَجْلِسُ وَيَتَشَهَّدُ وَيُسَلِّمُ.

The seventh method is to pray seven units, neither sitting nor reciting the Tashahhud except at the end of the sixth of them. One then rises without offering the Taslim, proceeds to the seventh unit, sits to recite the Tashahhud, and performs the Taslim.

L5334 حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ شُعَيْبٍ أَخْبَرَنِي زَكَرِيَّاءُ بْنُ يَحْيَى ثنا إِسْحَاقُ أَنَا مُعَاذُ بْنُ هِشَامٍ الدَّسْتُوَائِيُّ ثنا أَبِي عَنْ قَتَادَةَ عَنْ زُرَارَةَ بْنِ أَوْفَى عَنْ سَعْدِ بْنِ هِشَامِ بْنِ عَامِرٍ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أُمِّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ «أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -

Abdullah ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb narrated to us: Zakariyyā ibn Yaḥyā informed me: Isḥāq narrated to us: Muʿādh ibn Hishām al-Dastuwāʾī narrated to us: My father narrated from Qatādah from Zurārah ibn Awfā from Saʿd ibn Hishām ibn ʿĀmir from ʿĀʾishah, the Mother of the Believers: “When the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) grew old and became frail, he performed Witr with seven rakʿahs, sitting only in the sixth rakʿah, then rising without performing the taslīm. He would pray the seventh rakʿah, then perform a single taslīm." And he mentioned the hadith.

لَمَّا كَبِرَ وَضَعُفَ أَوْتَرَ بِسَبْعِ رَكَعَاتٍ، لَا يَقْعُدُ إِلَّا فِي السَّادِسَةِ، ثُمَّ يَنْهَضُ وَلَا يُسَلِّمُ فَيُصَلِّي السَّابِعَةَ، ثُمَّ يُسَلِّمُ تَسْلِيمَةً» وَذَكَرَ الْحَدِيثَ.

L5335–5336 The eighth: To pray seven rakʿahs without sitting in the posture for the Tashahhud except in the final one. When he is in the final one, he sits, recites the Tashahhud, and offers the salutation: We have narrated via the aforementioned chain from Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb: I am Ismāʿīl ibn Masʿūd al-Jaḥdarī; I am Khālid ibn al-Ḥārith; he narrated from Saʿīd ibn Abī ʿArūbah; he narrated from Qatādah; he narrated from Zurārah ibn Awfā; he narrated from Saʿd ibn Hishām ibn ʿĀmir, that ʿĀishah, the Mother of the Believers, said: "When the Messenger of Allah—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—grew old and put on weight, he would pray seven rakʿahs without sitting except in the final one. Then he would pray two rakʿahs after saying the salutation."

وَالثَّامِنُ: أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ سَبْعَ رَكَعَاتٍ، لَا يَجْلِسُ جُلُوسَ تَشَهُّدٍ إِلَّا فِي آخِرِهِنَّ فَإِذَا كَانَ فِي آخِرِهِنَّ جَلَسَ وَتَشَهَّدَ وَسَلَّمَ - لِمَا رُوِّينَا بِالسَّنَدِ الْمَذْكُورِ إِلَى أَحْمَدَ بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ: أَنَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ مَسْعُودٍ الْجَحْدَرِيُّ أَنَا خَالِدُ بْنُ الْحَارِثِ ثنا سَعِيدُ بْنُ أَبِي عَرُوبَةَ ثنا قَتَادَةُ عَنْ زُرَارَةَ بْنِ أَوْفَى عَنْ سَعْدِ بْنِ هِشَامِ بْنِ عَامِرٍ أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ أُمَّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ قَالَتْ «لَمَّا أَسَنَّ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَأَخَذَهُ اللَّحْمُ صَلَّى سَبْعَ رَكَعَاتٍ لَا يَقْعُدُ إِلَّا فِي آخِرِهِنَّ، ثُمَّ يُصَلِّي رَكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَ أَنْ يُسَلِّمَ» .

L5337 The ninth is to pray four rakʿahs, reciting the Tashahhud and concluding with the Salām after every two rakʿahs, then perform Witr with one rakʿah, based on the Prophet's statement (peace be upon him): "The night prayer is offered two by two. If you fear that dawn is approaching, then perform Witr with one rakʿah."

وَالتَّاسِعُ: أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ أَرْبَعَ رَكَعَاتٍ، يَتَشَهَّدُ وَيُسَلِّمُ مِنْ كُلِّ رَكْعَتَيْنِ، ثُمَّ يُوتِرُ بِوَاحِدَةٍ؛ لِقَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «صَلَاةُ اللَّيْلِ مَثْنَى مَثْنَى، فَإِذَا خَشِيتَ الصُّبْحَ فَأَوْتِرْ بِوَاحِدَةٍ» .

L5338 The tenth is to pray five consecutive rak'ahs without sitting or reciting the Tashahhud except in the last of them—as we have reported through the cited chain to Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb: From Isḥāq ibn Manṣūr, from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī, from Sufyān al-Thawrī, from Hishām ibn ʿUrwah, from his father, from ʿĀ'ishah: "The Prophet—may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him—prayed Witr with five [rakʿahs], not sitting except in the last of them."

وَالْعَاشِرُ: أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ خَمْسَ رَكَعَاتٍ مُتَّصِلَاتٍ، لَا يَجْلِسُ، وَلَا يَتَشَهَّدُ إِلَّا فِي آخِرِهِنَّ -: لِمَا رُوِّينَا بِالسَّنَدِ الْمَذْكُورِ إِلَى أَحْمَدَ بْنِ شُعَيْبٍ: أَنَا إِسْحَاقُ بْنُ مَنْصُورٍ أَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ «أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - كَانَ يُوتِرُ بِخَمْسٍ لَا يَجْلِسُ إِلَّا فِي آخِرِهِنَّ» ؟ .

L5339–5341 Ali said—and indeed some of the early generations held this opinion—as has been transmitted to us via the chain of 'Abd al-Razzāq from Ibn Jurayj, who reported: 'Aṭā' informed me that he saw Urwah ibn al-Zubayr perform Witr with five or seven [rakʿahs], without sitting for any two— From the narration chain of Hammad ibn Salamah from Hisham ibn Urwah, who said: "Similarly, the people of the household perform Witr with five units, sitting only in the final one." From Abd al-Razzaq from al-Mu'tamir ibn Sulayman al-Taymi from Layth from Ata' from Ibn Abbas, that he said: "Witr is like the Maghrib prayer except one only sits in the third unit." Ali said: "This statement of Ibn Abbas was not narrated from the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him), therefore we do not adhere to it, for there is no valid proof except in the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) – only his statement, his action, or his approval."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَقَدْ قَالَ بِهَذَا بَعْضُ السَّلَفِ -: كَمَا رُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ قَالَ: أَخْبَرَنِي عَطَاءٌ، أَنَّهُ رَأَى عُرْوَةَ بْنَ الزُّبَيْرِ أَوْتَرَ بِخَمْسٍ أَوْ سَبْعٍ مَا جَلَسَ لِمَثْنَى -: وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ قَالَ: كَذَلِكَ يُوتِرُ أَهْلُ الْبَيْتِ

بِخَمْسٍ، لَا يَجْلِسُ إِلَّا فِي آخِرِهِنَّ -: وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ الْمُعْتَمِرِ بْنِ سُلَيْمَانَ التَّيْمِيِّ عَنْ لَيْثٍ عَنْ عَطَاءٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّهُ قَالَ: الْوِتْرُ كَصَلَاةِ الْمَغْرِبِ، إلَّا أَنَّهُ لَا يَقْعُدُ إلَّا فِي الثَّالِثَةِ: قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: قَوْلُ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ هَذَا لَمْ يَرْوِهِ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَلَا نَقُولُ بِهِ إذْ لَا حُجَّةَ إلَّا فِي رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَوْلُهُ أَوْ عَمَلُهُ أَوْ إقْرَارُهُ فَقَطْ؟ .

L5342–5344 The eleventh scenario is to pray three rakʿahs, and he sits at the end of the second of them. He recites the Tashahhud and gives the salutation, then performs one rakʿah, reciting the Tashahhud at its end and giving the salutation, in accordance with the statement of the Prophet (peace be upon him): "The voluntary night prayer is offered two by two. If you anticipate the onset of dawn, perform Witr with one rakʿah." This is the opinion of Mālik. Some narrators transmitted an account via al-Awzāʿī from al-Muṭṭalib ibn ʿAbdullāh: He asked Ibn ʿUmar about Witr, so he instructed him to separate the two rakʿahs from the single one with a salutation. The man said, "I fear it may become a truncated prayer (al-Butayrā')." Ibn ʿUmar responded, "Do you seek the sunnah of Allah's Messenger? This is the sunnah of Allah's Messenger (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him)."[25]

وَالْوَجْهُ الْحَادِيَ عَشَرَ: أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ ثَلَاثَ رَكَعَاتٍ، يَجْلِسُ فِي آخِرِ الثَّانِيَةِ مِنْهُنَّ، وَيَتَشَهَّدُ وَيُسَلِّمُ، ثُمَّ يَأْتِي بِرَكْعَةٍ وَاحِدَةٍ، يَتَشَهَّدُ فِي آخِرِهَا وَيُسَلِّمُ، لِقَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «صَلَاةُ اللَّيْلِ مَثْنَى مَثْنَى فَإِذَا خَشِيتَ الصُّبْحَ فَأَوْتِرْ بِوَاحِدَةٍ» . وَهَذَا قَوْلُ مَالِكٍ: وَقَدْ رَوَى بَعْضُ النَّاسِ فِي هَذَا أَثَرًا مِنْ طَرِيقِ الْأَوْزَاعِيِّ عَنْ الْمُطَّلِبِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ: أَنَّهُ سَأَلَ ابْنَ عُمَرَ عَنْ الْوِتْرِ؟ فَأَمَرَهُ أَنْ يَفْصِلَ بَيْنَ الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ وَالرَّكْعَةِ بِتَسْلِيمٍ، فَقَالَ لَهُ الرَّجُلُ: إنِّي أَخَافُ أَنْ تَكُونَ الْبُتَيْرَاءُ؟ فَقَالَ لَهُ ابْنُ عُمَرَ: أَتُرِيدُ سُنَّةَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -؟ هَذِهِ سُنَّةُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -؟ .

L5345 The twelfth is to pray three rak'ahs: sitting in the second rak'ah, then rising without uttering any salutation and performing the third rak'ah, then sitting again to recite the tashahhud and utter the salutation, as in the Maghrib prayer.

وَالثَّانِيَ عَشَرَ: أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ ثَلَاثَ رَكَعَاتٍ، يَجْلِسُ فِي الثَّانِيَةِ، ثُمَّ يَقُومُ دُونَ تَسْلِيمٍ وَيَأْتِي بِالثَّالِثَةِ، ثُمَّ يَجْلِسُ وَيَتَشَهَّدُ وَيُسَلِّمُ، كَصَلَاةِ الْمَغْرِبِ.

L5346 This is the chosen opinion of Abū Ḥanīfah - due to what was narrated to us by ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ: Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us; Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb narrated to us; I, Ismāʿīl ibn Masʿūd, narrated to us; Bishr ibn al-Mufaḍḍal narrated to us; Saʿīd ibn Abī ʿArūbah narrated from Qatādah, from Zurārah ibn Awfā, from Saʿd ibn Hishām ibn ʿĀmir: that ʿĀishah, the Mother of the Believers, narrated to him that the Messenger of Allāh (peace

L5347 The thirteenth is to perform only a single rakʿah. This is the opinion of al-Shāfiʿī, Abū Sulaymān, and others - based on the narration transmitted to us by Ḥammām ibn Aḥmad who narrated to us from ʿAbbās ibn Aṣbagh who narrated to us from Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Malik ibn Ayman who narrated to us from Bakr ibn Ḥammād who narrated to us from Musaddad who narrated to us from Yaḥyā—he is Ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān—who narrated to us from Shuʿbah who narrated to us from Qatādah from Abī Mijlaz who said: I asked Ibn ʿAbbās and Ibn ʿUmar about Witr, and each replied: I heard the Messenger of Allah—May Allah's peace and blessings be upon him—say: "One rakʿah from the end of the night."

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ سَعْدِ بْنِ أَبِي وَقَّاصٍ، وَابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، وَمُعَاوِيَةَ، وَغَيْرِهِمْ: الْوِتْرُ بِوَاحِدَةٍ فَقَطْ لَا يُزَادُ عَلَيْهَا شَيْءٌ، وَكَذَلِكَ أَيْضًا عَنْ عُثْمَانَ أَمِيرِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَحُذَيْفَةَ وَابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ وَابْنِ عُمَرَ؟ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: هَذَا كُلُّ مَا صَحَّ عِنْدَنَا، وَلَوْ صَحَّ عِنْدَنَا عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - زِيَادَةٌ عَلَى هَذَا لَقُلْنَا بِهِ -، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L5348–5349 It has been reported to us from Saʿd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ, Ibn ʿAbbās, Muʿāwiyah, and others that Witr prayer consists of a single unit only, with no additions. Similarly, it is also reported from ʿUthmān, the Commander of the Believers, Ḥudhayfah, Ibn Masʿūd, and Ibn ʿUmar—? ʿAlī said: "This is all that has been authentically established in our records. Had anything beyond this been authentically established from the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him—we would have acted upon it." And with Allāh, the Most High, lies success.

L5350 No authentic prohibition from the Prophet—may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him—has been established regarding al-Butayra, nor does the hadith—despite its weakness—clarify what al-Butayra is. It has been narrated to us through the chain of ʿAbd al-Razzāq, from Sufyān ibn ʿUyaynah, from al-Aʿmash, from Saʿīd ibn Jubayr, from Ibn ʿAbbās: "The three [units] are al-Butayra," meaning in the Witr prayer. Thus, al-Butayra has rebounded upon those who cite the false report as evidence concerning it.

فَإِنْ قِيلَ: قَدْ صَحَّ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَنَّهُ قَالَ: «صَلَاةُ الْمَغْرِبِ وِتْرُ النَّهَارِ، فَأَوْتِرُوا صَلَاةَ اللَّيْلِ» ؟ .

L5351 If it is said: It has been authentically reported from the Prophet—may Allah's blessings and peace be upon him—that he said, "The Maghrib prayer is the Witr of the day, so perform Witr for the night prayer"?

L5352–5354 It was said to them: This narration does not indicate that the night's Witr prayer consists of three units like the (hypothetical) Witr of the day. This is a falsehood attributed to anyone who ascribes it to the intention of Allah's Messenger - peace and blessings of Allah be upon him. If you were to assert this definitively, you would be lying and contradicting your own position, for it would necessarily require you to: recite aloud in the first two units and silently in the third - as in the Maghrib Prayer; perform the qunūt supplication in Maghrib as you do in Witr; or refrain from performing qunūt in Witr as you do not perform it in Maghrib. Yet all qiyās (legal analogy) remains applicable. It is invalid, and success is from Allah, the Most High.

قِيلَ لَهُمْ: لَيْسَ فِي هَذَا الْخَبَرِ أَنْ يَكُونَ وِتْرُ اللَّيْلِ ثَلَاثًا كَوِتْرِ النَّهَارِ، وَهَذَا كَذِبٌ مِمَّنْ يَنْسُبُهُ إلَى إرَادَةِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَإِنْ قَطَعْتُمْ بِذَلِكَ كَذَبْتُمْ وَكُنْتُمْ أَيْضًا خَالَفْتُمْ مَا قُلْتُمْ؛ لِأَنَّهُ يَلْزَمُكُمْ أَنْ تَجْهَرُوا فِي الْأُولَيَيْنِ وَتُسِرُّوا فِي الثَّالِثَةِ كَالْمَغْرِبِ، وَأَنْ تَقْنُتُوا فِي الْمَغْرِبِ كَمَا تَقْنُتُونَ فِي الْوِتْرِ، أَوْ أَنْ لَا تَقْنُتُوا فِي الْوِتْرِ كَمَا لَا تَقْنُتُونَ فِي الْمَغْرِبِ، وَالْقِيَاسُ كُلُّهُ بَاطِلٌ، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

Issue: The Witr prayer is best at the end of the night.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ الْوِتْرُ آخِرُ اللَّيْلِ أَفْضَلُ]

291 – Question:

٢٩١ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

The Witr prayer at the end of the night is more virtuous.

Whoever performs Witr at the beginning of the night, that is good. Prayer after Witr is permissible, but one should not repeat another Witr nor pair it with a rakʿah. Abdullah ibn Rabiʿ narrated to us: Umar ibn Abd al-Malik narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Bakr narrated to us: Abu Dawud narrated to us: Ibn Abi Khalaf narrated to us: Abu Zakariyya al-Saylaḥīniyy narrated to us: Hammad ibn Salamah narrated to us from Thabit al-Bunani from Abdullah ibn Abi Rabah from Abu Qatadah: "The Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) asked Abu Bakr, 'When do you perform Witr?' He replied, 'At the beginning of the night.' He then asked Umar, 'When do you perform Witr?' He replied, 'At the end of the night.' The Prophet (peace be upon him) said to Abu Bakr, 'This one has taken precaution,' and to Umar, 'This one has taken strength.'"

وَمَنْ أَوْتَرَ أَوَّلَهُ فَحَسَنٌ، وَالصَّلَاةُ بَعْدَ الْوِتْرِ جَائِزَةٌ، وَلَا يُعِيدُ وِتْرًا آخَرَ، وَلَا يَشْفَعُ بِرَكْعَةٍ: حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا عُمَرُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ بَكْرٍ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا ابْنُ أَبِي خَلَفٍ ثنا أَبُو زَكَرِيَّاءَ السَّيْلَحِينِيُّ ثنا حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ ثَابِتٍ الْبُنَانِيِّ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ أَبِي رَبَاحٍ عَنْ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ «أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ لِأَبِي بَكْرٍ: مَتَى تُوتِرُ؟ قَالَ: أَوَّلَ اللَّيْلِ، وَقَالَ لِعُمَرَ: مَتَى تُوتِرُ؟ قَالَ: آخِرَ اللَّيْلِ فَقَالَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لِأَبِي بَكْرٍ: أَخَذَ هَذَا بِالْحَذَرِ، وَقَالَ لِعُمَرَ: أَخَذَ هَذَا بِالْقُوَّةِ» .

ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb narrated to us: Hishām ibn ʿAmmār narrated from Yaḥyā—who is Ibn Ḥamzah, the judge of Damascus—from Yaḥyā—who is Ibn Abī Kathīr—from Abū Salamah ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAwf: ʿĀ'ishah, the Mother of the Believers, narrated to me that "the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him—used to pray eight rakʿahs after the final

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ شُعَيْبٍ ثنا هِشَامُ بْنُ عَمَّارٍ عَنْ يَحْيَى هُوَ ابْنُ حَمْزَةَ قَاضِي دِمَشْقَ - عَنْ يَحْيَى هُوَ ابْنُ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ - عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ حَدَّثَتْنِي عَائِشَةُ أُمُّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ «أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - كَانَ

ʿIshāʾ prayer, then pray two rakʿahs in which he would recite—while seated. When he intended to perform rukūʿ, he would stand up and bow, then he prayed the two rakʿahs of Fajr after that."

L5360–5362 Ali said: "As for his statement (peace be upon him), 'Make the last of your prayers at night the Witr.'" "Hasten to perform Witr before dawn" is thus a recommended act due to what we have clarified—that Witr is not obligatory—and due to the practice of the Prophet (peace be upon him), since he prayed two rakʿahs after Witr other than the two Fajr rakʿahs, and due to his statement to Abu Hurairah: "One should not sleep without having performed Witr."

L5363–5365 Therefore, it is not permissible to neglect parts of His speech in favor of others, and this is not a case of abrogation but rather all of it constitutes permissibility. And do we not seek support from Allah the Exalted?

ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us, from ʿUmar ibn ʿAbd al-Malik, from Muḥammad ibn Bakr, from Abū Dāwūd, from Musaddad, from Mulāzim ibn ʿAmr, from ʿAbdullāh ibn Badr, from Qays ibn Ṭalq, who said: "Ṭalq ibn ʿAlī visited us during Ramadan and spent the evening with us. He broke his fast, then led us in prayer that night and performed Witr with us. Thereafter he proceeded to his mosque and prayed with his companions. When only Witr remained, he appointed a man to lead, saying: 'Perform Witr with your companions, for I heard Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—declare: "There are no two Witr prayers in one night."'" It has been reported from ʿUthmān—may Allah be pleased with him—and others that one may make Witr even by adding a rakʿah when intending to pray after performing Witr. There is no proof except in the Messenger of Allah, may Allah bless him and grant him peace.

Ibn ʻUmar said: 'Is there not for you an excellent example in the Messenger of Allah (may Allah bless him and grant him peace)?' I responded: 'Indeed, by Allah!' He said: 'Verily, the Messenger of Allah (may Allah bless him and grant him peace) would perform Witr upon his mount.'"

L5374–5375 From Jarir ibn Hazim: I asked Nāfiʻ, the freed slave of Ibn ʻUmar: "Did Ibn ʻUmar perform Witr on his mount?" He said: "Yes; and does Witr hold superiority over other voluntary prayers?" From Sufyān al-Thawrī, from Thuwayr ibn Abī Fākhitah, from his father Abū Fākhitah: "'Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib used to perform Witr on his mount." From Ibn Jurayj: I said to ʻAṭāʼ: "Can a man perform Witr while sitting?" He said: "Yes." From Wakīʻ, from Sufyān al-Thawrī, from ʻAbdullāh ibn Abī al-Safar, from al-Shaʻbī: "Witr is not to be made up, nor should it be abandoned. It is a voluntary prayer, and it is the most noble of voluntary prayers."

L5376–5378 From Hammad ibn Salamah, from Qatādah, from Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyab: "The Witr and Eid al-Adha prayer are voluntary prayers." ʿAlī said: "There is no disagreement that a person may perform voluntary prayers seated if he wishes," as we have been narrated via Malik from Ibn Shihāb, from al-Sāʼib ibn Yazīd, from al-Muṭṭalib ibn Abī Wadāʿah al-Sahmī. Hafsah, the Mother of the Believers, said: "I never saw the Messenger of Allah, peace

L5379 Issue: It is recommended to complete the entire Quran once every month.

L5380 294 – Issue: It is recommended to complete the entire Quran once every month. If one completes it in less than a month, it is praiseworthy. However, it is disliked to complete it in fewer than five days. If someone does so (i.e., completes it in fewer than five days), completing it in three days is impermissible, and it is not allowed to finish it in any duration shorter than that.

L5381 Is it not permissible for anyone to recite more than a third of the Quran in a day and night? The proof for this is what was narrated to us by Abdullah ibn Yusuf, who narrated to us Ahmad ibn Fath, who narrated to us Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa, who narrated to us Ahmad ibn Muhammad, who narrated to us Ahmad ibn Ali, who narrated to us Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj. Al-Qasim ibn Zakariyya narrated to me: Ubaydullah ibn Musa narrated to us from Shayban from Yahya ibn Abi Kathir from Muhammad ibn Abd al-Rahman, the client of Banu Zuhrah, from Abu Salamah ibn Abd al-Rahman ibn Awf, from Abdullah ibn Amr ibn al-As, who said: The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said, "Recite the Quran in a month." I said, "I feel capable."

L5382–5383 He said, "Recite it in twenty nights." I said, "Do I feel capable?" He said, "Then recite it in seven nights, and do not exceed that."

L5384 Abdullah ibn Rabee' narrated to us: Umar ibn Abdul-Malik narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Bakr narrated to us: Abu Dawud narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Al-Muthanna narrated to us: Abdul-Samad (Ibn Abdul-Warith) narrated to us: Hammam ibn Yahya narrated to us: Qatadah narrated from Yazid ibn Abdullah (Ibn Ash-Shikhkhīr) from Abdullah ibn Amr ibn Al-As that he said to the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him), "In how much time should [مَسْأَلَةٌ يُسْتَحَبُّ أَنْ يَخْتِمَ الْقُرْآنَ كُلَّهُ مَرَّةً فِي كُلِّ شَهْرٍ]

وَلَا يَجُوزُ لِأَحَدٍ أَنْ يَقْرَأَ أَكْثَرَ مِنْ ثُلُثِ الْقُرْآنِ فِي يَوْمٍ وَلَيْلَةٍ؟ بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ: مَا حَدَّثَنَاهُ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ يُوسُفَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ فَتْحٍ ثنا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ بْنُ عِيسَى ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ ثنا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ الْحَجَّاجِ حَدَّثَنِي الْقَاسِمُ بْنُ زَكَرِيَّاءَ ثنا عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُوسَى عَنْ شَيْبَانَ عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ مَوْلَى بَنِي زُهْرَةَ عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ عَوْفٍ «عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْعَاصِ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - اقْرَأْ الْقُرْآنَ فِي شَهْرٍ قُلْتُ: إنِّي أَجِدُ قُوَّةً؟

I recite the Quran?" He said, "In a month." Then he mentioned the hadith, and in it: He (peace be upon him) said to him, "Recite it in seven days?" He said, "I am stronger than that." He (peace be upon him) said, "One who recites the Quran in less than three days does not comprehend."

L5385 If it is said: "Did ʻUthmān used to complete the Quran in a night?" We reply: Ibn Masʻūd disliked that. Allāh the Exalted said: {If you differ in anything, refer it to Allāh and the Messenger, if you believe in Allāh and the Last Day} [4:59]. The Sunnah of the Messenger of Allāh – as we mentioned – and we have been narrated via ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī, who narrated via Shuʻbah and Sufyān, both of whom narrated via ʻAlī ibn Badhīmah, via Abū ʻUbaydah ibn ʻAbd Allāh ibn Masʻūd, from his father, who said: "Whoever recites the Quran in less than three days is like a rajaz poet." And via ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī, who narrated via ʻAbd al-ʻAzīz ibn ʻAbd al-Ṣamad al-ʻAmmī, via Ḥuṣayn ibn ʻAbd al-Raḥmān, via Hilāl ibn Yasāf: That Saʻīd ibn Jubayr used to recite the Quran in one prayer session, and Ibn Masʻūd disliked that?[28]

L5386–5387 If they mention a ḥadith we have reported through the chain of Hishām al-Dastawā'ī from ʻAṭā' ibn al-Sā'ib from his father, from ʻAbdullāh ibn ʻAmr ibn al-ʻĀṣ that he asked the Prophet (peace be upon him), "How should I recite the Quran?," he said: "Recite it within a day and a night, and do not go beyond that."

L5388 Indeed, ʻAṭā's transmission of this report is inconsistent and flawed, as his mind became confused in his later years. This same report has been transmitted to us through the chain of Ḥammād ibn Salamah, from ʻAṭā' ibn al-Sā'ib, from his father, from ʻAbdullāh ibn ʻAmr: that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said to him, "Recite the Quran in a month." He replied, "He reduced it for me, and I reduced it further."

L5389 Ata said: We differed from my father; some of us said seven days, and some of us said five days.

L5390 Ali said: Ata acknowledges the differences among them concerning his father and that he did not verify what his father stated. If they assert that David—peace be upon him—used to complete the scripture in an hour, we respond: David's scripture is the Zabur, not this Quran, and his divine law differs from our divine law. David—peace be upon him—was sent only to his specific community, not to us, whereas Muhammad—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—is the one sent to us. This has been authentically established from the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—and the Almighty stated: {To each of you We have appointed a law and a way} [Al-Mā'idah 5:48].[29]

L5391–5393 As for standing in night prayer, it has been authentically established that the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) never spent any night in prayer until dawn. Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Fath, Abd al-Wahhab ibn Isa... Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated from Ahmad ibn Ali from Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj from Abu Bakr ibn Abi Shaybah from Sufyan ibn Uyaynah from Amr ibn Dinar from Amr ibn Aws from Abdullah ibn Amr ibn al-As, who said: The Messenger of Allah said, "The prayer most beloved to Allah, the Exalted, is the prayer of Dawud. He would sleep half the night, then rise, then sleep the latter part of it, then rise for a third of the night after half of it had passed."

L5394 Ali said: If this is the prayer most beloved to Allah the Exalted, then whatever exceeds it is undoubtedly inferior to this. If it is less than this, it becomes wasted with no reward - for this constitutes forced effort, and we have been forbidden from forced effort. Were Salman, Mu'adh, and others prevented from praying the entire night?

L5396 Issue 295: Reciting voluntary prayers aloud or silently during the night and day is permissible for men and women, as neither prohibition of any of that nor obligation of any of that has been established in the Qur'an or Sunnah. If it is objected: "Should women lower their voices?" We respond: "Why?" For Muslims unanimously agree that men may lawfully hear the speech of the Messenger of Allah's wives (peace and blessings be upon him), and no textual evidence disapproves this for other women. Success comes from Allah, the Most High.

The proof for this is: Allāh the Exalted's statement, {So recite what is easy of the Qur'ān} [Al-Muzzammil 20], and we have mentioned Abū Bakr and ʿUmar – may Allāh be pleased with them – reciting Sūrat al-Baqarah in the two rakʿahs of the Fajr prayer, and similarly Sūrat Āl ʿImrān in the presence of the Companions – may Allāh be pleased with them?[30] the Prophet of Allāh—peace be upon him (PBUH)—about a man praying while sitting. The Prophet—peace be upon him (PBUH)—said: "If he prays standing, that is better. Whoever prays sitting will have half the reward of one who stands, and whoever prays sleeping will have half the reward of one who sits."[31]

L5403–5404 Ali said: "The only exception to this permissibility is one praying the obligatory prayer who is either capable of standing or [due to incapacity] restricted to sitting." It has been narrated to us through Malik's chain from Abu al-Nadr, the client of Umar ibn Ubayd Allah, from Abu Salama ibn Abd al-Rahman, from Aisha: "That the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) would pray while sitting; he would recite while sitting. When approximately thirty or forty verses remained of his recitation, he would stand and recite them while standing, then bow, then prostrate. Then he would do the same in the second rak'ah."

L5405 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath from Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from Ahmad ibn Ali from Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj from Abu Bakr ibn Abi Shaybah from Muadh ibn Muadh al-Anbari from Humaid at-Tawil from Abdullah ibn Shaqiq al-Uqayli, who said: "I asked Aisha about the night prayer of the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, and she said: 'He would pray standing for a long portion of the night and sitting for another long portion. If he recited while standing, he would bow while standing, and if he recited while sitting, he would bow while sitting.'"[32]

L5406 Ali said: All of this is Sunnah and permissible; all of that has been done by the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him).

L5407–5409 Abd al-Rahman ibn Abd Allah narrated to us: Ibrahim ibn Ahmad narrated to us: al-Farbari narrated to us: al-Bukhari narrated to us: Abu Nu'aym al-Fadl ibn Dukayn narrated to us: Shayban (Ibn Farrukh) narrated from Yahya (Ibn Abi Kathir), from... upon him) would perform voluntary prayers while riding, facing a direction other than the Qibla."

L5410 Through him in al-Bukhārī's transmission: He narrated to us via Muʿādh ibn Faḍālah; Hishām al-Dastuwā'ī narrated to us from Yaḥyā—Ibn Abī Kathīr—from Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Thawbān: Jābir reported to me, saying, "The Prophet (peace be upon him) would pray on his mount toward the east. When he intended to perform the obligatory prayer, he would dismount and face the qiblah."[33]

L5411 Ali said: This is a general ruling applicable to the rider regardless of any mount he rides and in every state, whether arising from travel or residence. This generality surpasses all narrations mentioned in this chapter, and it is impermissible to disregard it—and this is the opinion of Abu Yusuf and others.

L5412 No textual evidence exists that one on foot may perform voluntary prayers while walking, and analogical reasoning is invalid. Therefore, this practice is impermissible for anyone other than the rider. It has been narrated to us from Wakiʿ, from Sufyān al-Thawrī, from Manṣūr ibn al-Muʿtamir, from Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī, who said: "They would pray upon their riding gear and mounts in whichever direction the mounts faced."

L5413 And this is a narration concerning the Companions and the Followers (may Allah be pleased with them) generally in travel and settled life, and with Allah, the Exalted, is success.

whichever direction it turned, making gestures (with his head). Ibn ʿUmar reported from the Messenger of Allāh (peace be upon him) that he would do likewise."

L5416–5417 Issue: It is not permissible for anyone to perform the obligatory prayer except while standing, unless there exists a valid excuse.

L5418 Issue: As for the obligatory prayer, it is not permissible for anyone to perform it except while standing unless due to an excuse - whether illness, fear of an unjust enemy, from an animal, or similar circumstances; or weakness preventing standing such as one aboard a ship; or a follower praying behind a sick imam or one excused to pray sitting. These individuals pray sitting. If the imam is unable to sit or stand, he prays lying down, and all those behind him must pray lying down as well. If in both cases there is a prompter ensuring people hear the imam's takbīr, they may pray standing beside the imam if they wish, or pray in the same manner as their imam.

L5419 As for the fearful and the sick: this is based on Allah's statement—the Exalted: {Allah does not burden any soul beyond its capacity} [Al-Baqarah: 286]; His statement: {Allah intends ease for you and does not intend hardship for you} [Al-Baqarah: 185]; and His statement: {And stand before Allah in devotion} [Al-Baqarah: 238]. Thus, Allah the Exalted has mandated standing except for those explicitly exempted by textual evidence. This ruling concerning the fearful and the sick is established by consensus, alongside the fact that the Prophet (peace be upon him) prayed the obligatory prayer seated due to an illness and a leg sprain he endured.[34]

L5420 As for one who prays behind an imam praying seated due to an excuse—people have differed regarding it? Mālik and those who adhered to his school said: It is not permissible for a sick person to lead healthy people in prayer while he is seated, except for a narration transmitted from al-Walīd ibn Muslim that concurs with the positions of Abū Ḥanīfah and al-Shāfiʿī.

L5421 Abū Ḥanīfah and al-Shāfiʿī said: A sick person may lead healthy worshippers in prayer while seated, provided those behind him pray standing, and this is necessary. Abū Ḥanīfah stated: One who prays reclining due to incapacity cannot lead healthy worshippers in prayer under any circumstance. Abū Sulaymān and our companions said: A sick person may lead healthy worshippers in prayer while seated, but all followers must pray seated—is this necessary? ʿAlī said: We uphold this ruling except for one stationed beside the imam to remind the congregation and announce the imam's takbīr. Such a person may choose between praying seated or standing.

L5422–5423 Ali said: We examined whether there existed any clarification from the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—regarding this matter. We found what ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAbd Allāh narrated to us: Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad al-Farabrī narrated to us; al-Bukhārī narrated to us; ʿAbd Allāh ibn Yūsuf narrated to us; Mālik narrated to us from Ibn Shihāb from Anas that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said: "The imam is appointed solely to be followed." He [Anas] mentioned the Prophet's statement—peace be upon him—which states: "When he prays seated, then pray seated, all together."

When he utters the takbir, then utter the takbir. When he bows, then bow. When he says: 'Sami'a Allahu liman hamidah,' then say: 'Allahumma Rabbana lakal-hamd.' When he prostrates, then prostrate. When he prays sitting, then pray sitting all of you."

Abu Kurayb said: ‘Abdullah ibn Numayr narrated to us. Muhammad ibn ‘Abdullah said: My father narrated to us. Then they all agreed: from Hisham ibn ‘Urwah, from his father, from ‘Aishah, who said: “Allah’s Messenger—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—complained of illness, and some of his Companions came to visit him. Allah’s Messenger—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—prayed while sitting, so they prayed following his lead while standing. He gestured to them to sit, so they sat. L5428 It was narrated to us via the chain of Al-Layth ibn Sa‘d from Abu Az-Zubayr from Jabir: “The Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - became ill, so we prayed behind him while he was seated. Abu Bakr made his own takbir audible to the people. The Prophet turned toward us and saw us standing, so he gestured to us. We then sat down and prayed with him while seated. When he concluded the prayer, he said: ’You were just now on the verge of imitating the practice of the Persians and Romans, who stand before their kings while they remain seated. Do not do this. Follow your imams: if he prays standing, pray standing; if he prays seated, pray seated.’” This was also narrated by Qays ibn Abi Hazim, Hammam ibn Munabbih, Abu ‘Alqamah, and Abu Yunus—all transmitting from Abu Hurayrah. It was further narrated to us via the chain of Salim ibn ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Umar from his father, through ‘Ubaydullah ibn ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Utbah from Ibn ‘Abbas, from ‘Ā’ishah, and through Al-Aswad from her. Thus, it attained the status of a tawatur transmission, necessitating certain knowledge. How, then, could anyone oppose this ruling?

وَرُوِّينَا أَيْضًا مِنْ طَرِيقِ اللَّيْثِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ عَنْ جَابِرٍ: «اشْتَكَى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَصَلَّيْنَا وَرَاءَهُ وَهُوَ قَاعِدٌ وَأَبُو بَكْرٍ يُسْمِعُ النَّاسَ تَكْبِيرَهُ، فَالْتَفَتَ إِلَيْنَا فَرَآنَا قِيَامًا، فَأَشَارَ إِلَيْنَا فَقَعَدْنَا فَصَلَّيْنَا بِصَلَاتِهِ قُعُودًا فَلَمَّا سَلَّمَ قَالَ: إِنْ كِدْتُمْ آنِفًا تَفْعَلُونَ فِعْلَ فَارِسَ وَالرُّومِ يَقُومُونَ عَلَى مُلُوكِهِمْ وَهُمْ قُعُودٌ؟ فَلَا تَفْعَلُوا وَائْتَمُّوا بِأَئِمَّتِكُمْ إِنْ صَلَّى قَائِمًا فَصَلُّوا قِيَامًا، وَإِنْ صَلَّى قَاعِدًا فَصَلُّوا قُعُودًا» ، وَرَوَاهُ أَيْضًا قَيْسُ بْنُ أَبِي حَازِمٍ، وَهَمَّامُ بْنُ مُنَبِّهٍ، وَأَبُو عَلْقَمَةَ وَأَبُو يُونُسَ كُلُّهُمْ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ. وَرُوِّينَاهُ أَيْضًا مِنْ طَرِيقِ سَالِمِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ وَعَنْ عُبَيْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُتْبَةَ عَنِ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، وَعَائِشَةَ وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ الْأَسْوَدِ عَنْهَا فَصَارَ نَقْلَ تَوَاتُرٍ، فَوَجَبَ لِلْعِلْمِ، فَلَمْ يَجُزْ لِأَحَدٍ خِلَافُ ذَلِكَ؟ .

healthy individuals from leading prayer while sitting (a practice permitted for those with illness or valid excuse), and found no foundation for their position whatsoever, except that one of their scholars claimed: "This ruling applies exclusively to the Prophet (peace be upon him)." They argued this using the narration we transmitted through Jābir al-Juʿfī's chain from al-Shaʿbī, and through ʿAbd al-Malik ibn Ḥabīb's chain from someone who informed him via Mujālid from al-Shaʿbī, that the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said: "Let no one among you lead prayer sitting after me."

فَنَظَرْنَا فِيمَا اعْتَرَضَ بِهِ الْمَالِكِيُّونَ فِي مَنْعِهِمْ مِنْ صَلَاةِ الْجَالِسِ لِمَرَضٍ أَوْ عُذْرٍ لِلْأَصِحَّاءِ، فَلَمْ نَجِدْ لَهُمْ شَيْئًا أَصْلًا، إِلَّا أَنَّ قَائِلَهُمْ قَالَ: هَذَا خُصُوصٌ لِلنَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَاحْتَجُّوا فِي ذَلِكَ بِمَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ جَابِرٍ الْجُعْفِيِّ عَنْ الشَّعْبِيِّ، وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ حَبِيبٍ عَمَّنْ أَخْبَرَهُ عَنْ مُجَالِدٍ عَنْ الشَّعْبِيِّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: «لَا يَؤُمَّنَّ أَحَدُكُمْ بَعْدِي جَالِسًا» ؟

L5430–5431 Ali said: This is nothing.

L5432 As for their claim that this is specific to the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—it is invalid, for the explicit text of the hadith refutes this assertion. The Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—stated: "The Imam is appointed so that he may be followed; therefore, do not differ from him. If he prays sitting, pray sitting." Thus, it is evident that he—peace and blessings be upon him—generalized this ruling to every Imam after him without any ambiguity.

أَمَّا قَوْلُهُمْ: إنَّ هَذَا خُصُوصٌ لِرَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَبَاطِلٌ؛ لِأَنَّ نَصَّ الْحَدِيثِ يُكَذِّبُ هَذَا الْقَوْلَ؛ لِأَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَالَ فِيهِ: «إنَّمَا جُعِلَ الْإِمَامُ لِيُؤْتَمَّ بِهِ فَلَا تَخْتَلِفُوا عَلَيْهِ فَإِذَا صَلَّى جَالِسًا فَصَلُّوا جُلُوسًا» فَصَحَّ أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - عَمَّ بِذَلِكَ كُلَّ إمَامٍ بَعْدَهُ بِلَا إشْكَالٍ.

L5433 The Almighty's saying, "There has certainly been for you in the Messenger of Allah an excellent example" (Al-Aḥzāb 33:21), is a refutation of anyone who claims specificity in any aspect of his Sunnah or actions (peace be upon him), unless such a claimant substantiates their assertion with an authentic text or a definitive consensus.[36]

وَقَوْله تَعَالَى: {لَقَدْ كَانَ لَكُمْ فِي رَسُولِ اللَّهِ أُسْوَةٌ حَسَنَةٌ} [الأحزاب: ٢١] تَكْذِيبٌ لِكُلِّ مَنْ ادَّعَى الْخُصُوصَ فِي شَيْءٍ مِنْ سُنَنِهِ وَأَفْعَالِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -، إلَّا أَنْ يَأْتِيَ عَلَى دَعْوَاهُ بِنَصٍّ صَحِيحٍ أَوْ إجْمَاعٍ مُتَيَقَّنٍ؟ .

L5434–5436 As for the ḥadīth of al-Shaʿbī, it is false because it is a narration by Jābir al-Juʿfī—the notorious liar known for advocating the Rajʿa (return) of ʿAlī (may Allah be pleased with him?)—and Mujālid, who is weak. Moreover, it is a mursal (disconnected) narration. It is astonishing that the Mālikīs disparage the narrations of the people of Kufa, which are unparalleled, while they find no narrations from the people of Medina more authentic in origin. We know of no narrations from the people of Medina more authentic than Sufyān al-Thawrī's report from Manṣūr from Ibrāhīm from al-Aswad, ʿAlqamah, and Masrūq—all from ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb. And Aisha, the Mother of the Believers, and Ibn Mas'ud: Then they show no concern here for favoring the most corrupting narrations of the people of Kufa and the most evil over the most authentic narrations of the people of Medina, such as Al-Zuhri's narration from Anas, Hisham ibn Urwah's from his father from Aisha, Ubaydullah ibn Abdullah's from Aisha, Abu Al-Zinad's from Al-A'raj from Abu Hurairah, and Salim ibn Abdullah ibn Umar's from his father—all of them from the Prophet (peace be upon him). What follows this is astonishing, and even more astonishing is their assertion that his actions (peace be upon him) are equivalent to his commandments, yet they disregard here the final action he performed (peace be upon him). For the last prayer he prayed (peace be upon him) was while seated, as we shall mention hereafter, God willing. If they argue: "The prayer of one seated is lesser in merit than the prayer of one standing—so how can he lead those who are healthy?" We respond: It is only lesser in merit if one is incapable of standing or is permitted to sit despite being able to stand. But if sitting is obligatory for him, there is no reduction in the merit of his prayer at that time. Moreover, what in this prevents one whose prayer is inferior in merit from leading another whose prayer is superior in merit? We know that no one's prayer surpasses the prayer of the Messenger of God (peace be upon him), yet he prayed behind Abu Bakr and Abdur Rahman ibn Awf—their prayers being without doubt inferior to his. According to your view, a traveler whose prayer consists of two rak'ahs may lead a resident whose obligatory prayer is four rak'ahs. Why do you permit that yet prohibit this? Were it not for baseless arbitrariness, this claim would collapse—and all praise belongs to God, the Exalted.

L5437–5439 Then we returned to the opinion of al-Shāfiʿī and Abū Ḥanīfah, and found them claiming that the directive of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) to pray seated behind a sitting imam due to an excuse or illness had been abrogated. We asked them: "With what evidence?" They mentioned what was narrated to us by ʿAbdullāh ibn Yūsuf, narrated by Aḥmad ibn Fatḥ, narrated by ʿAbd al-Wahhāb ibn ʿĪsā, narrated by Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad, narrated by Aḥmad ibn ʿAlī, narrated by Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj, narrated by Aḥmad ibn ʿAbd Allāh ibn Yūnus. Zā’idah narrated to us: Mūsā ibn Abī ʿĀ’ishah narrated to us from ʿUbaydullāh ibn ʿAbdullāh from ʿUtbah, who said: “I entered upon ʿĀ’ishah, the Mother of the Believers, and asked her about the illness of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him. She mentioned the account; in it was his appointment—peace and blessings be upon him—of Abū Bakr to lead the prayer, and that Abū Bakr led the people in prayer during those days. Then the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—felt some relief and came out between two men, one of whom was al-ʿAbbās, for the Ẓuhr prayer, while Abū Bakr was leading the people. When Abū Bakr saw him, he moved to step back, but the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—gestured to him not to retreat. He said to the two men: ’Seat me beside him.’ They seated him next to Abū Bakr. Abū Bakr was praying, leading the prayer of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—while the people followed his lead, and the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—remained seated.” ʿUbaydullāh ibn ʿAbdullāh mentioned that he presented this ḥadīth to Ibn ʿAbbās, who did not disapprove of anything in it.

He rose while being supported between two men, his feet scraping across the ground. When he entered the mosque, Abu Bakr perceived his movement and started to step back. But the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) gestured to him: ’Remain in your place.’ Then the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) came...” ...Allah until he sat to the left of Abu Bakr. Aisha said: “The Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—would lead the people in prayer while seated, and Abu Bakr stood. Abu Bakr followed the Prophet’s lead in prayer—peace be upon him—and the people followed Abu Bakr’s prayer.” This chain is transmitted via Muslim: Manjab ibn al-Harith al-Tamimi narrated to us from Ibn Mushir (who is Ali), from al-A‘mash, from

وَبِهِ إلَى مُسْلِمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا يَحْيَى بْنُ يَحْيَى ثنا أَبُو مُعَاوِيَةَ عَنْ الْأَعْمَشِ عَنْ إبْرَاهِيمَ النَّخَعِيِّ عَنْ الْأَسْوَدِ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: «لَمَّا ثَقُلَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: مُرُوا أَبَا بَكْرٍ فَلْيُصَلِّ بِالنَّاسِ فَذَكَرَتْ الْحَدِيثَ - وَفِيهِ فَلَمَّا دَخَلَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ فِي الصَّلَاةِ وَجَدَ النَّبِيُّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - مِنْ نَفْسِهِ خِفَّةً، فَقَامَ يُهَادَى بَيْنَ رَجُلَيْنِ، وَرِجْلَاهُ تَخُطَّانِ فِي الْأَرْضِ، فَلَمَّا دَخَلَ الْمَسْجِدَ سَمِعَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ حِسَّهُ فَذَهَبَ يَتَأَخَّرُ فَأَوْمَأَ إلَيْهِ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَقِمْ مَكَانَك فَجَاءَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ حَتَّى جَلَسَ عَنْ يَسَارِ أَبِي بَكْرٍ. قَالَتْ عَائِشَةُ: فَكَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يُصَلِّي بِالنَّاسِ جَالِسًا، وَأَبُو بَكْرٍ قَائِمًا، يَقْتَدِي أَبُو بَكْرٍ بِصَلَاةِ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَيَقْتَدِي النَّاسُ بِصَلَاةِ أَبِي بَكْرٍ» وَبِهِ إلَى مُسْلِمٍ: حَدَّثَنَا مِنْجَابُ بْنُ الْحَارِثِ التَّمِيمِيُّ أَنَا ابْنُ مُسْهِرٍ - هُوَ

Ibrahim, from al-Aswad, from Aisha, who mentioned this hadith, in which is: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah the Exalted be upon him and his family—would lead the people in prayer, and Abu Bakr made the takbir audible to them."

L5443–5445 Ali said: We examined this report and found in it neither a textual basis nor evidence for their claim that the command for healthy individuals to pray sitting behind an imam who is praying seated due to an excuse has been abrogated, as there is nothing in it. There is no clarification nor indication that the people prayed behind him (peace be upon him) standing, with the exception of Abu Bakr who made his takbīr audible to the people [while they sat]. Thus, it is impermissible to oppose the certain command of his (peace be upon him) - established through mass-transmitted (mutawātir) reports that the people should pray sitting - based on a false assumption that is utterly invalid. How could one presume this, when it is entirely impermissible to even suspect that the Companions (may Allah be pleased with them) opposed his command (peace be upon him)? The explicit wording of the ḥadīth contains evidence that they prayed only sitting, for it states: "The people used to follow Abu Bakr's prayer." By necessity, we know that had they been standing while Abu Bakr was standing, only the first row would have followed his prayer. As for the remaining rows, they would not have done so, because they did not see him - since the first row blocked their view. The rows behind him (peace be upon him) were tightly arranged - neither scattered nor fragmented. Given that the explicit text states: "They used to follow Abu Bakr's prayer," this constitutes a report about all of them. Thus, it is confirmed that they were in a state where all could see him, thereby validly enabling them to follow his prayer. This could only occur in a state of sitting. It is not permissible to restrict the wording of the report or interpret it metaphorically except through an explicit textual proof.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَنَظَرْنَا فِي هَذَا الْخَبَرِ، فَلَمْ نَجِدْ فِيهِ لَا نَصًّا، وَلَا دَلِيلًا عَلَى مَا ادَّعَوْهُ مِنْ نَسْخِ الْأَمْرِ بِأَنْ يُصَلِّيَ الْأَصِحَّاءُ قُعُودًا خَلْفَ الْإِمَامِ الْمُصَلِّي قَاعِدًا لِعُذْرٍ، إذْ لَيْسَ فِيهِ بَيَانٌ وَلَا إشَارَةٌ بِأَنَّ النَّاسَ صَلَّوْا خَلْفَهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قِيَامًا، حَاشَا أَبَا بَكْرٍ الْمُسْمِعَ النَّاسَ تَكْبِيرَهُ فَقَطْ، فَلَمْ تَجُزْ مُخَالَفَةُ يَقِينِ أَمْرِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - بِالنَّقْلِ الْمُتَوَاتِرِ بِأَنْ يُصَلِّيَ النَّاسُ جُلُوسًا -: لِظَنٍّ كَاذِبٍ لَا يَصِحُّ أَبَدًا، بَلْ لَا يَحِلُّ أَلْبَتَّةَ أَنْ يُظَنَّ بِالصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ - مُخَالَفَةُ أَمْرِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - كَيْفَ وَفِي نَصِّ لَفْظِ الْحَدِيثِ دَلِيلٌ عَلَى أَنَّهُمْ لَمْ يُصَلُّوا إلَّا قُعُودًا وَذَلِكَ لِأَنَّ فِيهِ: «أَنَّ النَّاسَ كَانُوا يَقْتَدُونَ بِصَلَاةِ أَبِي بَكْرٍ» ، وَبِالضَّرُورَةِ نَدْرِي أَنَّهُمْ لَوْ كَانُوا قِيَامًا وَأَبُو بَكْرٍ قَائِمٌ لَمَا اقْتَدَى بِصَلَاتِهِ إلَّا الصَّفُّ الْأَوَّلُ فَقَطْ، وَأَمَّا سَائِرُ الصُّفُوفِ فَلَا، لِأَنَّهُمْ كَانُوا لَا يَرَوْنَهُ، لِأَنَّ الصَّفَّ الْأَوَّلَ يَحْجُبُهُمْ عَنْهُ، وَالصُّفُوفُ خَلْفَهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - كَانَتْ مَرْصُوصَةً، لَا مُتَنَابِذَةً، وَلَا مُتَقَطِّعَةً، فَإِذْ فِي نَصِّ الْخَبَرِ، وَلَفْظِهِ: «أَنَّهُمْ كَانُوا يَقْتَدُونَ بِصَلَاةِ أَبِي بَكْرٍ» ، فَهَذَا خَبَرٌ عَنْ جَمِيعِهِمْ، فَصَحَّ أَنَّهُمْ كَانُوا فِي حَالٍ يَرَوْنَهُ كُلُّهُمْ، فَيَصِحُّ لَهُمْ الِاقْتِدَاءُ بِصَلَاتِهِ، وَلَا يَكُونُ ذَلِكَ أَلْبَتَّةَ إلَّا فِي حَالِ قُعُودِهِمْ، وَلَا يَجُوزُ تَخْصِيصُ لَفْظِ الْخَبَرِ، وَلَا حَمْلُهُ عَلَى الْمَجَازِ إلَّا بِنَصٍّ جَلِيٍّ.

L5446 Then, if there were in the hadith an explicit text stating that they prayed standing - and this is never found - it would not contain any evidence of abrogation whatsoever. Rather, it would then merely indicate permissibility and clarify that the previous injunction was a recommendation and nothing beyond that, as we stated regarding the individual: it is permissible for him to pray sitting or standing, and in the congregational row if he wishes or next to the Imam.

L5447–5448 Thus, what they clung to is entirely invalidated, and Abū Ḥanīfah's contradiction became apparent in his permitting a sick person to pray sitting while the healthy stand – yet prohibiting a sick person from praying reclining with the healthy, with no fundamental distinction in this at all? Some people have raised objections to this narration by citing what was reported: that Abū Bakr was the imam.

فَبَطَلَ مَا تَعَلَّقُوا بِهِ جُمْلَةً، وَظَهَرَ تَنَاقُضُ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ فِي إجَازَتِهِ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ الْمَرِيضُ قَاعِدًا بِالْأَصِحَّاءِ قِيَامًا -، وَمَنَعَهُ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ الْمَرِيضُ مُضْطَجِعًا الْأَصِحَّاءَ، وَلَا فَرْقَ فِي ذَلِكَ أَصْلًا؟ ، وَقَدْ اعْتَرَضَ بَعْضُ النَّاسِ فِي هَذَا الْخَبَرِ بِأَنَّهُ قَدْ رُوِيَ: أَنَّ أَبَا بَكْرٍ كَانَ هُوَ الْإِمَامَ.

L5449 They mentioned what ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb narrated to us: I am ʿAlī ibn Ḥajar; he [Ḥumayd] narrated to us from Anas, who said: "The last prayer the Messenger of Allāh (peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him) prayed with the people was performed in a single garment, wrapped around himself, behind Abū Bakr."[37]

L5450 And through him to Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb: I am Muḥammad ibn al-Muthannā—Bakr ibn ʿĪsā narrated to me, saying: I heard Shuʿbah mention from Nuʿaym ibn Abī Hind from Abū Wā'il from Masrūq from ʿĀ'ishah that Abū Bakr led the people in prayer while the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—was in the row.

blessings be upon him—was behind him. ʿAlī said: They have no basis in this, for the two prayers were distinct without doubt.

اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - خَلْفَهُ» ، قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَلَا مُتَعَلَّقَ لَهُمْ بِهَذَا؛ لِأَنَّهُمَا صَلَاتَانِ مُتَغَايِرَتَانِ بِلَا شَكٍّ.

L5452 One of the two narrations—reported by Al-Aswad from ʿĀ'ishah, and by ʿUbayd Allāh from her and Ibn ʿAbbās—describes it as follows: "The Prophet (peace be upon him) led the people in prayer with the congregation behind him, while Abū Bakr (may Allāh be pleased with him) stood at his right side in the position of a follower, making the people hear the Prophet's takbīr."

؟ إِحْدَاهُمَا: الَّتِي رَوَاهَا الْأَسْوَدُ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، وَعُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ عَنْهَا، وَعَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، صِفَتُهَا: «أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - إمَامُ النَّاسِ، وَالنَّاسُ خَلْفَهُ، وَأَبُو بَكْرٍ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ - عَنْ يَمِينِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -، فِي مَوْقِفِ الْمَأْمُومِ، يُسْمِعُ النَّاسَ تَكْبِيرَ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -» .

L5453 The second prayer is the one narrated by Masruq, Ubayd Allah on the authority of Aisha, and Humaid on the authority of Anas. Its description is: "Was he (peace be upon him) behind Abu Bakr in the row with the people?" Thus, the difficulty was entirely resolved.

وَالصَّلَاةُ الثَّانِيَةُ: الَّتِي رَوَاهَا مَسْرُوقٌ، وَعُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، وَحُمَيْدٌ عَنْ أَنَسٍ، صِفَتُهَا: «أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - كَانَ خَلْفَ أَبِي بَكْرٍ فِي الصَّفِّ مَعَ النَّاسِ؟» فَارْتَفَعَ الْإِشْكَالُ جُمْلَةً.

L5454–5456 And it is not a single prayer in a lifetime that would be considered contradictory, but rather five every day. His illness—peace be upon him—was a period of twelve days during which sixty obligatory prayers passed or approximately that number.

وَلَيْسَتْ صَلَاةً وَاحِدَةً فِي الدَّهْرِ فَيُحْمَلُ ذَلِكَ عَلَى التَّعَارُضِ، بَلْ فِي كُلِّ يَوْمٍ خَمْسُ صَلَوَاتٍ، وَمَرَضُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - كَانَ مُدَّةَ اثْنَيْ عَشَرَ يَوْمًا مَرَّتْ فِيهَا سِتُّونَ صَلَاةً أَوْ نَحْوُ ذَلِكَ.

L5457 A group of people have objected to this report due to a discarded and weak narration—solely transmitted by Isra'il (who is weak)—from Abu Ishaq, from Arqam ibn Shurahbil (whose standing is not widely recognized): "that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—resumed [the prayer] from where Abu Bakr had concluded the recitation." He said: "Do you not hold this view?"

L5458 Ali said (and the answer, with success from Allah, the Exalted): "This discarded narration cannot be opposed through what was narrated by the likes of Ibrāhīm from al-Aswad from ʿĀ'ishah, and ʿUbayd Allāh ibn ʿAbd Allāh from Ibn ʿAbbās."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَالْجَوَابُ، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ: أَنَّ هَذِهِ الرِّوَايَةَ الْمُطَّرَحَةَ لَا يُعَارَضُ بِهَا مَا رَوَاهُ مِثْلُ إبْرَاهِيمَ عَنْ الْأَسْوَدِ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ، وَعُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ.

L5459 Moreover, if this act were valid, we would affirm it and interpret it as meaning that he—peace be upon him—recited Umm al-Qur'an (which is indispensable, and prayer is invalid for whoever does not recite it), even if its recitation is unmentioned—just as purification, facing the Qiblah, and the takbīr remain essential even when unmentioned in the ḥadīth. He—peace be upon him—then began reciting the surah from where Abū Bakr had stopped. Is this not a very good, permissible, and sound practice?

وَأَيْضًا: فَلَوْ صَحَّ هَذَا الْفِعْلُ لَقُلْنَا بِهِ وَحَمَلْنَاهُ عَلَى أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَرَأَ أُمَّ الْقُرْآنِ الَّتِي لَا بُدَّ مِنْهَا وَالَّتِي لَا صَلَاةَ لِمَنْ لَمْ يَقْرَأْ بِهَا، وَإِنْ لَمْ يَذْكُرْ أَنَّهُ قَرَأَهَا كَمَا لَا بُدَّ مِنْ الطَّهَارَةِ وَمِنْ الْقِبْلَةِ، وَمِنْ التَّكْبِيرِ -، وَإِنْ لَمْ تُذْكَرْ فِي الْحَدِيثِ - ثُمَّ بَدَأَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - بِالْقِرَاءَةِ فِي السُّورَةِ مِنْ حَيْثُ وَقَفَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ، وَهَذَا حَسَنٌ جِدًّا مُبَاحٌ جَيِّدٌ؟ .

L5460 Additionally, 'Ā'ishah—may Allāh be pleased with her—mentioned that the Ẓuhr prayer was silent, thus invalidating what Isrā'īl reported.

وَأَيْضًا: فَإِنَّ عَائِشَةَ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهَا - ذَكَرَتْ: أَنَّهَا كَانَتْ صَلَاةَ الظُّهْرِ، وَهِيَ سِرٌّ؛ فَبَطَلَ مَا رَوَاهُ إسْرَائِيلُ.

L5461–5462 Moreover, if this report regarding his prayer—peace be upon him—during his final illness were invalidated, the ruling of the Prophet (peace be upon him) concerning those who prayed behind him during that illness—when he fell from a horse, resulting in injury to his pure leg while sitting—and regarding prayer behind a seated imam while seated, as narrated through the chains of Anas, Abū Hurayrah, Jābir, ʿĀ'ishah, and Ibn ʿUmar, would become evident, remaining without any contradiction or objection. And all praise is due to Allah, the Most High.

وَأَيْضًا: فَلَوْ بَطَلَ هَذَا الْخَبَرُ مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - فِي مَرَضِهِ الَّذِي مَاتَ فِيهِ -: لَخَلُصَ أَمْرُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - الْمُصَلِّينَ خَلْفَهُ فِي مَرَضِهِ - إذْ سَقَطَ مِنْ فَرَسٍ فَوَثِئَتْ رِجْلُهُ الطَّاهِرَةُ بِالْقُعُودِ، وَبِالصَّلَاةِ خَلْفَ الْإِمَامِ الْجَالِسِ جُلُوسًا، الَّذِي رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَنَسٍ، وَأَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، وَجَابِرٍ وَعَائِشَةَ، وَابْنِ عُمَرَ، بَاقِيًا لَا مُعَارِضَ لَهُ، وَلَا مُعْتَرَضَ فِيهِ لِأَحَدٍ، وَلِلَّهِ تَعَالَى الْحَمْدُ.

L5463–5465 Ali said: The majority of the Salaf — may Allah be pleased with them — say the same as what we say, as has been narrated to us through the route of Waki' from Isma'il ibn Abi Khalid from Qays ibn Abi Hazim from Abu Hurairah: who said: The Imam is trustworthy. If he prays standing, then pray standing? And if he prays sitting, then pray sitting? , and from the chain of Ḥammād ibn Salamah: Yaḥyā ibn Sa'īd al-Anṣārī narrated to us from Abū al-Zubayr, who said: Indeed, Jābir ibn ʿAbdullāh had an illness, so he led his companions in prayer seated, and his companions seated? .

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَبِمِثْلِ قَوْلِنَا يَقُولُ جُمْهُورُ السَّلَفِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ -: كَمَا رُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ إسْمَاعِيلَ بْنِ أَبِي خَالِدٍ عَنْ قَيْسِ بْنِ أَبِي حَازِمٍ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّهُ قَالَ: الْإِمَامُ أَمِينٌ، فَإِنْ صَلَّى قَائِمًا فَصَلُّوا قِيَامًا، وَإِنْ صَلَّى قَاعِدًا فَصَلُّوا قُعُودًا؟ ، وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ ثنا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْأَنْصَارِيُّ عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ قَالَ: إنَّ جَابِرَ بْنَ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ كَانَ بِهِ وَجَعٌ فَصَلَّى بِأَصْحَابِهِ قَاعِدًا وَأَصْحَابُهُ قُعُودًا؟ .

L5466 From 'Abd al-Razzāq, from Sufyān ibn 'Uyaynah, from Hishām ibn 'Urwah, from his father: Usayd ibn al-Ḥuḍayr — when he was ill — led his congregation in prayer while sitting.

وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ بْنِ عُيَيْنَةَ عَنْ هِشَامِ بْنِ عُرْوَةَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ: أَنَّ أُسَيْدَ بْنَ الْحُضَيْرِ اشْتَكَى فَكَانَ يَؤُمُّ قَوْمَهُ جَالِسًا؟ .

L5467 Ibn ʾUyaynah said: Isma'il ibn Abi Khalid informed me from Qays ibn Abi Hazim [who narrated] from Qays ibn Qahd al-Ansari: "Their imam fell ill during the time of the Messenger of Allah (may Allah bless him and grant him peace), so he led us in prayer sitting down while we were sitting."

قَالَ ابْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ: وَأَخْبَرَنِي إِسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ أَبِي خَالِدٍ عَنْ قَيْسِ بْنِ أَبِي حَازِمٍ أَخْبَرَنِي قَيْسُ بْنُ قَهْدٍ الْأَنْصَارِيُّ «أَنَّ إِمَامًا لَهُمْ اشْتَكَى عَلَى عَهْدِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَكَانَ يَؤُمُّنَا جَالِسًا وَنَحْنُ جُلُوسٌ» .

L5468 Ali said: These are Abu Hurairah, Jabir, Usayd, and all the Companions who were with them during the time of the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—outside his mosque, with no opponent recognized among the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—whatsoever. All of them report that a seated imam may lead the able-bodied in prayer, and no disagreement with Abu Hurairah or others has been narrated from any of them regarding whether the able-bodied should pray behind him while seated. It has been narrated to us from ʻAta that he instructed the able-bodied to pray behind a sitting imam.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَهَؤُلَاءِ أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ، وَجَابِرٌ، وَأُسَيْدٌ، وَكُلُّ مَنْ مَعَهُمْ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ، وَعَلَى عَهْدِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فِي غَيْرِ مَسْجِدِهِ، لَا مُخَالِفَ لَهُمْ يُعْرَفُ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ - أَصْلًا، كُلُّهُمْ يَرْوِي إمَامَةَ الْجَالِسِ لِلْأَصِحَّاءِ، وَلَمْ يُرْوَ عَنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْهُمْ خِلَافٌ لِأَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ وَغَيْرِهِ فِي أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ الْأَصِحَّاءُ وَرَاءَهُ جُلُوسًا؟ ، وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ عَطَاءٍ: أَنَّهُ أَمَرَ الْأَصِحَّاءَ بِالصَّلَاةِ خَلْفَ الْقَاعِدِ.

L5469 From Abd al-Razzaq: I have not seen people except adhering to the view that when the imam prays seated, those behind him pray seated. He said: And is this not the Sunnah from more than one?

وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ: مَا رَأَيْت النَّاسَ إلَّا عَلَى أَنَّ الْإِمَامَ إذَا صَلَّى قَاعِدًا صَلَّى مَنْ خَلْفَهُ قُعُودًا، قَالَ: وَهِيَ السُّنَّةُ عَنْ غَيْرِ وَاحِدٍ؟ .

L5470 It has been narrated to us from ʿAbbās ibn ʿAbd al-ʿAẓīm al-ʿAnbarī, who said: I heard ʿAffān ibn Muslim say: "We came to Ḥammād ibn Zayd one day after he had prayed the dawn prayer. He said: 'Today we revived a Sunnah of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him).' We asked: 'What is it, O Abā Ismāʿīl?' He replied: 'Our imam was ill, so he led us in prayer while sitting, and we prayed behind him while sitting.'"

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ عَبَّاسِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الْعَظِيمِ الْعَنْبَرِيِّ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ عَفَّانَ بْنَ مُسْلِمٍ قَالَ: «أَتَيْنَا حَمَّادَ بْنَ زَيْدٍ يَوْمًا، وَقَدْ صَلَّوْا الصُّبْحَ، فَقَالَ: إنَّا أَحْيَيْنَا الْيَوْمَ سُنَّةً مِنْ سُنَنِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قُلْنَا: مَا هِيَ يَا أَبَا إسْمَاعِيلَ؟ قَالَ: كَانَ إمَامُنَا مَرِيضًا، فَصَلَّى بِنَا جَالِسًا، فَصَلَّيْنَا خَلْفَهُ جُلُوسًا» .

L5471–5473 Abū Ḥanīfah, Abū Yūsuf, and al-Awzāʿī state regarding the imamate of a seated person for able-bodied congregants: Al-Shafi'i, Imam Abu Thawr, Ahmad ibn Hanbal, Ishaq ibn Rāhawayhi, Dawud, and the majority of the Hadith scholars.

وَبِإِمَامَةِ الْجَالِسِ لِلْأَصِحَّاءِ يَقُولُ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ، وَأَبُو يُوسُفَ، وَالْأَوْزَاعِيُّ، وَالشَّافِعِيُّ، وَأَبُو ثَوْرٍ، وَأَحْمَدُ بْنُ حَنْبَلٍ وَإِسْحَاقُ بْنُ رَاهْوَيْهِ، وَدَاوُد وَجُمْهُورُ أَصْحَابِ الْحَدِيثِ.

L5474 We do not know of any Followers who prohibited the permissibility of a sick person praying while sitting with the healthy, except for a report attributed to al-Mughīrah ibn Miqsam that he said: "I dislike that" – though this does not constitute a prohibition of its permissibility.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَقَالَ زُفَرُ بْنُ الْهُذَيْلُ: يُصَلِّي الْمَرِيضُ الَّذِي لَا يَقْدِرُ عَلَى الْقِيَامِ وَلَا عَلَى الْقُعُودِ بِالْأَصِحَّاءِ مُضْطَجِعًا، إِلَّا أَنَّهُ رَأَى أَنْ يُصَلُّوا وَرَاءَهُ قِيَامًا قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا خَطَأٌ، بَلْ لَا يُصَلُّونَ وَرَاءَهُ إِلَّا مُضْطَجِعِينَ مُومِئِينَ، لِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «إِنَّمَا جُعِلَ الْإِمَامُ لِيُؤْتَمَّ بِهِ، فَلَا تَخْتَلِفُوا عَلَيْهِ» وَهَذَا عُمُومٌ مَانِعٌ لِلِاخْتِلَافِ عَلَى الْإِمَامِ جُمْلَةً؟ .

L5475 Ali said: Zufar ibn al-Hudhayl stated that a sick person who cannot stand or sit prays in a reclining position among the healthy, except that he held the view those behind him should pray standing. Ali said: This is erroneous; rather, they must pray behind him only while lying down and gesturing, based on the statement of Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him): "The imam is appointed to be followed, so do not oppose him." Does this not constitute a general prohibition against opposing the imam in any way?[38]

L5476 There is nothing in his statement—peace be upon him—"When he says the takbīr, say the takbīr; when he raises, raise; when he bows, bow; when he says Sami'a Allāhu li-man ḥamidah, say Rabbanā wa laka al-ḥamd; and when he prays seated, pray seated"—that prevents following him in other aspects. Thus, it is obligatory to follow him in every circumstance, except a circumstance restricted solely by a scriptural text or consensus.

L5477 As for a sick person praying behind a healthy one: the healthy person prays standing, and the sick person follows him in prayer while sitting or lying down. This is because the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—prayed sitting behind Abu Bakr during his final congregational prayer, while Abu Bakr was standing. This occurred after the Prophet's command (peace and blessings be upon him) that one should not differ from the Imam in prayer.

وَلِقَوْلِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {لا يُكَلِّفُ اللَّهُ نَفْسًا إِلا وُسْعَهَا} [البقرة: ٢٨٦] ؛ وَلِقَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «إِذَا أَمَرْتُكُمْ بِأَمْرٍ فَأْتُوا مِنْهُ مَا اسْتَطَعْتُمْ» ، وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L5478 And due to the saying of Allah, the Most High: "Allah does not burden a soul beyond its capacity" [Quran 2:286], and due to the Prophet's saying (peace be upon him): "When I command you to do something, do of it as much as you are able." And with Allah, the Most High, is all success.[39] atory prayer while riding or walking, except in situations of fear.

L5481 And it is the same whether one fears a claimant with a rightful claim or without rightful claim; or fears fire, flood, predatory animal, rain, missing one's travel companions, delay in reaching his place, or other such matters—based on Allah's statement, the Exalted: "{If you fear [danger], pray while walking or riding—then when you are secure, establish the prayer}" [An-Nisā' 4:239-103]. The Exalted did not permit praying while mounted or walking except for one who fears, nor did He—the Almighty and Majestic—specify one type of fear over another. Therefore, making such distinctions is fundamentally impermissible.[40]

L5482 It is astonishing that the Mālikīs prohibited from praying in such circumstances except for one who fears a pursuer, yet they assert regarding highway robbers who spread corruption on earth that it is permissible for them to consume carrion and forbidden foods while actively persisting in highway robbery and killing Muslims in that state. Thus, they restricted what Allah the Exalted had generalized without evidence and cited His statement: {But whoever is compelled by severe hunger, not deviating into sin} [5:3], and His statement: {But whoever is compelled by necessity, neither wrongfully desiring nor transgressing, there is no sin upon him} [2:173]. They countered: "What about one compelled while deviating into sin, wrongfully desiring, and transgressing?"—and this is utterly reprehensible.[41]

L5483 As for Abu Hanifah, he permitted shortening prayers for a traveler engaged in sinful acts. It necessarily follows that this case is analogous, since he is among the proponents of qiyas. As for us, we have followed nothing but the scriptural texts. And success is by Allah, the Most High.

ing their prayer from what is permitted to them for self-defense.

L5485 Issue 301: Whatever actions a person performs during prayer from what is legally permitted to him - such as self-defense or similar acts - are permissible, and his prayer remains valid thereby. This ruling equally applies to combating an oppressor, extinguishing a spreading fire, rescuing a Muslim, or opening a door, whether the action involved is minor or extensive.

L5486 Does every intentional action that a person performs in their prayer from what is not permissible to do in it invalidate the prayer thereby, whether the action is little or much?

L5487–5488 Any action a person performs forgetfully during prayer that is not permissible to perform: their prayer remains complete, and they are only obligated to perform the prostration of forgetfulness alone - whether that action was minor or substantial.

L5489 Abu Hanifah said: It is not permissible for anyone to pray while fighting; rather, they should abandon the prayer, even if its time elapses, and even if two or more prayers are missed. When the fighting ceases, they must perform qadaʾ for them.

L5490 He held the view that speech due to forgetfulness invalidates the prayer, just as intentional speech does. He also maintained that intentionally uttering the salām from the prayer before its obligated time invalidates it. However, if done forgetfully, the prayer remains valid.

L5491 He said: If someone intends to pass in front of a person praying, and the praying person says “Glory be to Allah” or gestures to repel him, I disapprove of that, yet his prayer is not invalidated by it. But if a speaker were to address him with words, and the praying person responds “Glory be to Allah,” his prayer becomes invalid.

L5492 If the one praying sneezes and says, “Praise be to Allah,” and moves his tongue thereby, his prayer becomes invalid.

L5493 If someone invokes [a supplication] for or against a person by naming them,

وَكُلُّ مَا تَعَمَّدَ الْمَرْءُ عَمَلَهُ فِي صَلَاتِهِ مِمَّا لَمْ يُبَحْ لَهُ عَمَلُهُ فِيهَا بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ بِذَلِكَ قَلَّ ذَلِكَ الْعَمَلُ أَمْ كَثُرَ؟ .

وَكُلُّ مَا فَعَلَهُ الْمَرْءُ نَاسِيًا فِي صَلَاتِهِ مَا لَمْ يُبَحْ لَهُ فِعْلُهُ: فَصَلَاتُهُ تَامَّةٌ، وَلَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ إِلَّا سُجُودُ السَّهْوِ فَقَطْ؛ قَلَّ ذَلِكَ الْعَمَلُ أَمْ كَثُرَ؟ .

وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: لَا يَجُوزُ لِأَحَدٍ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ وَهُوَ يُقَاتِلُ؛ لَكِنْ يَدَعُونَ الصَّلَاةَ، وَإِنْ خَرَجَ وَقْتُهَا، وَإِنْ ذَهَبَتْ صَلَاتَانِ أَوْ أَكْثَرُ؛ فَإِذَا ذَهَبَ الْقِتَالُ قَضَوْهَا؟ .

وَرَأَى أَنَّ الْكَلَامَ نَاسِيًا يُبْطِلُ الصَّلَاةَ، كَمَا يُبْطِلُهُ الْعَمْدُ، وَرَأَى السَّلَامَ مِنَ الصَّلَاةِ عَمْدًا يُبْطِلُهَا قَبْلَ وَقْتِ وُجُوبِهِ، فَإِنْ كَانَ بِالنِّسْيَانِ لَمْ تَبْطُلْ بِهِ الصَّلَاةُ.

قَالَ: فَلَوْ أَرَادَ مُرِيدٌ أَنْ يَمُرَّ بَيْنَ يَدَيِ الْمُصَلِّي فَقَالَ الْمُصَلِّي: سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ أَوْ أَشَارَ بِيَدِهِ؛ لِيَرُدَّهُ كَرِهْت ذَلِكَ، وَلَا تَبْطُلُ صَلَاتُهُ بِذَلِكَ؛ فَلَوْ قَالَ لَهُ قَائِلٌ كَلَامًا؟ فَقَالَ لَهُ الْمُصَلِّي: سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ.

فَلَوْ عَطَسَ الْمُصَلِّي فَقَالَ: الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ، وَحَرَّكَ بِذَلِكَ لِسَانَهُ بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ.

does their prayer become invalid? And [what about] the opinion that ritual impurity due to preponderance (such as feces or urine) does not invalidate the prayer but only nullifies ritual purity?

L5494 An opinion holds that if one removes food from between their teeth using their tongue and intentionally swallows it, their prayer remains valid. Some proponents of this view set its limit at the volume of a chickpea.

L5495 He said: If one begins the prayer riding and then feels secure and therefore dismounts, he should resume; but if he begins it dismounted and then fears and mounts, his prayer is nullified.

L5496–5497 He held the opinion that killing lice or a flea during prayer does not invalidate it. He also held the opinion that intentional exhaling during prayer invalidates it.

L5498 Did he hold the view that the remaining actions which invalidate prayer when performed intentionally invalidate it when performed forgetfully?

L5499 Mālik held that speech, greeting, or action—any of these, if done intentionally—invalidate the prayer. Some of these specify in the ruling that the prayer is invalidated by extensive instances of that, not minimally, while others specify invalidation by both minimal and extensive instances.

وَمَنْ دَعَا لِإِنْسَانٍ أَوْ عَلَيْهِ فَسَمَّاهُ بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ؟ ، وَرَأَى الْحَدَثَ بِالْغَلَبَةِ - مِنْ الْغَائِطِ وَالْبَوْلِ - لَا تَبْطُلُ بِهِ الصَّلَاةُ، وَلَكِنْ تَبْطُلُ بِهِ الطَّهَارَةُ فَقَطْ؟ .

وَرَأَى مَنْ أَخْرَجَ مِنْ بَيْنِ أَسْنَانِهِ طَعَامًا بِلِسَانِهِ فَابْتَلَعَهُ عَامِدًا: أَنَّ صَلَاتَهُ تَامَّةٌ، وَحَدَّ بَعْضُ أَصْحَابِهِ ذَلِكَ بِمِقْدَارِ الْحِمَّصَةِ.

قَالَ: وَإِنْ بَدَأَ الصَّلَاةَ رَاكِبًا ثُمَّ أَمِنَ فَنَزَلَ بَنَى، فَإِنْ بَدَأَهَا نَازِلًا ثُمَّ خَافَ فَرَكِبَ بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ؟ .

وَرَأَى قَتْلَ الْقَمْلَةِ وَالْبُرْغُوثِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ لَا تَبْطُلُ بِهِ الصَّلَاةُ، وَرَأَى النَّفْخَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ يُبْطِلُ الصَّلَاةَ.

وَرَأَى سَائِرَ الْأَعْمَالِ الَّتِي تُبْطِلُ الصَّلَاةَ بِالْعَمْدِ تُبْطِلُهَا بِالنِّسْيَانِ؟ .

وَرَأَى مَالِكٌ: الْكَلَامَ، وَالسَّلَامَ، وَالْعَمَلَ: كُلَّ ذَلِكَ يُبْطِلُ الصَّلَاةَ بِالْعَمْدِ، بَعْضُ ذَلِكَ يَحُدُّ فِيهِ بُطْلَانَ الصَّلَاةِ بِالْكَثِيرِ مِنْ ذَلِكَ دُونَ الْقَلِيلِ، وَبَعْضُهُ بِالْقَلِيلِ وَبِالْكَثِيرِ.

وَرَأَى أَيْضًا: الْكَلَامَ، وَالْعَمَلَ، وَالسَّلَامَ، بِالنِّسْيَانِ لَا يُبْطِلُ شَيْءٌ مِنْهُ الصَّلَاةَ؛ فَإِنْ كَثُرَ بِالنِّسْيَانِ بَطَلَتْ بِهِ الصَّلَاةُ، وَاخْتُلِفَ عَنْهُ فِي النَّفْخِ هَلْ تَبْطُلُ بِهِ الصَّلَاةُ أَمْ لَا؟ .

L5500 He also held the opinion that speech, extraneous actions, or offering the salām due to forgetfulness - none of these invalidates the prayer. But if done forgetfully to an excessive degree, the prayer becomes invalid. There are differing opinions reported from him concerning whether blowing invalidates the prayer or not?

وَرَأَى أَنَّ الْمُصَلِّيَ إِذَا بَلَغَ فِي صَلَاتِهِ مِمَّا بَيْنَ أَسْنَانِهِ الْحَبَّةَ وَنَحْوَهَا عَمْدًا فَصَلَاتُهُ تَامَّةٌ فَإِنْ كَانَ أَكْثَرَ مِنْ ذَلِكَ بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ.

L5501 He held the view that if a worshiper intentionally has between his teeth during his prayer a seed or the like, his prayer is complete. But if it is more than that, his prayer becomes invalid.

وَلَمْ يَرَ التَّسْبِيحَ لِلْعَارِضِ بِغَرَضٍ يُبْطِلُ الصَّلَاةَ، وَكَرِهَ قَوْلَ الْمُصَلِّي إِذَا عَطَسَ: " الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ " وَلَمْ تَبْطُلْ صَلَاتُهُ بِذَلِكَ؟ .

L5502 He did not deem the tasbīḥ [saying “Subḥān Allāh”] for incidental occurrences—when done with an intent that invalidates the prayer—to nullify it. He disliked a worshiper saying Alḥamdulillāh [Praise be to God] when sneezing, and his prayer was not invalidated by that.

وَكَرِهَ قَتْلَ الْبُرْغُوثِ وَالْقَمْلَةِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، وَلَمْ يَرَهَا تَبْطُلُ، وَإِنْ تَعَمَّدَ ذَلِكَ.

L5503 He disliked killing a flea or louse during prayer but did not deem the prayer invalid, even if done intentionally.

وَأَجَازَ لِلْمُصَلِّي رَمْيَ الْعُصْفُورِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، وَلَمْ يَرَهَا تَبْطُلُ بِذَلِكَ، وَأَمَرَ الْمُحَارَبَ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ إِيمَاءً، فَإِنْ ابْتَدَأَ الصَّلَاةَ رَاكِبًا لِخَوْفٍ ثُمَّ أَمِنَ فَنَزَلَ، أَوْ ابْتَدَأَهَا نَازِلًا ثُمَّ خَافَ فَرَكِبَ -: بَنَى فِي كُلِّ ذَلِكَ، وَصَلَاتُهُ تَامَّةٌ.

L5504 He permitted the one praying to throw at a sparrow during prayer and did not deem the prayer invalidated by that. He instructed the combatant to pray with gestures. If one begins the prayer mounted out of fear then becomes secure and dismounts, or begins it dismounted then fears and mounts—he should continue the prayer in all such instances, and his prayer is complete.

L5505 Al-Shāfiʿī said: If a combatant is compelled to fight, he may strike a strike or thrust a thrust. If he persists in striking and thrusting, his prayer is invalidated. If he begins the prayer in a state of combat while riding [a mount] and then attains safety and dismounts, he may continue his prayer—unless he turns his face away from the qiblah, in which case his prayer is invalidated.

فَإِنْ بَدَأَ الصَّلَاةَ نَازِلًا ثُمَّ حَدَثَ خَوْفٌ فَرَكِبَ بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ وَابْتَدَأَهَا؟ قَالَ: وَمَنْ خَرَجَ مِنْ بَيْنِ أَسْنَانِهِ طَعَامٌ يَجْرِي مَجْرَى الرِّيقِ فَابْتَلَعَهُ، وَلَمْ يَمْلِكْ غَيْرَ ذَلِكَ فَصَلَاتُهُ تَامَّةٌ؛ فَإِنْ مَضَغَهُ بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ، وَلَمْ يَرَ التَّسْبِيحَ وَلَا التَّصْفِيقَ يُنْقِصَانِ الصَّلَاةَ.

L5506–5507 If he began the prayer while dismounted, then fear arose causing him to mount, is his prayer invalidated so he must repeat it? He said: If food exits between one’s teeth flowing like saliva, and he swallowed it while being unable to prevent it, his prayer remains complete. But if he chewed it, his prayer is invalidated. He did not consider uttering glorification (tasbīḥ) or clapping—these two do not diminish the prayer.

وَرَأَى قَتْلَ الْحَيَّةِ وَالْعَقْرَبِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ مُبَاحًا، وَكُلَّ عَمَلٍ خَفِيفٍ جَاءَ بِمِثْلِهِ أَثَرٌ لَمْ يَقْطَعْهَا، وَرَأَى الْعَمَلَ الْكَثِيرَ وَالْمَشْيَ الْكَثِيرَ بِالنِّسْيَانِ يُبْطِلُ الصَّلَاةَ؟ .

L5508 He held that killing the snake and the scorpion during prayer is permissible, along with every minor action producing a similar effect that does not invalidate it. He also viewed that excessive actions or excessive walking done forgetfully invalidate the prayer?

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذِهِ كُلُّهَا أَقْوَالٌ مُتَنَاقِضَةٌ مُتَخَاذِلَةٌ بِلَا بُرْهَانٍ، وَأَعْجَبُ ذَلِكَ الْفَرْقُ بَيْنَ الْعَمَلِ الْقَلِيلِ وَالْكَثِيرِ بِلَا دَلِيلٍ.

L5509 Ali said: All these are contradictory and feeble statements without proof, and the most astonishing of them is distinguishing between minor and numerous acts without any evidence.

ثُمَّ مَا هُوَ الْقَلِيلُ، وَمَا هُوَ الْكَثِيرُ؟ وَقَدْ عَلِمْنَا أَنَّهُ لَا قَلِيلَ إِلَّا، وَهُوَ كَثِيرٌ بِالْإِضَافَةِ إِلَى مَا هُوَ أَقَلُّ مِنْهُ، وَلَا كَثِيرَ إِلَّا، وَهُوَ قَلِيلٌ بِالْإِضَافَةِ إِلَى مَا هُوَ أَكْثَرُ مِنْهُ، وَكُلُّ ذَلِكَ رَأْيٌ فَاسِدٌ بِلَا بُرْهَانٍ، لَا مِنْ قُرْآنٍ وَلَا مِنْ سُنَّةٍ، لَا صَحِيحَةٍ وَلَا سَقِيمَةٍ، وَلَا إِجْمَاعٍ وَلَا قِيَاسٍ وَلَا قَوْلِ صَاحِبٍ وَلَا احْتِيَاطٍ وَلَا رَأْيٍ يَصِحُّ.

L5510 Then, what is little and what is much? We know there is nothing "little" except that it is "much" in comparison to what is less than it, nor anything "much" except that it is "little" in comparison to what is more than it. All of this is a baseless opinion without proof, neither from the Quran nor the Sunnah—neither authentic nor weak—nor consensus, nor analogy, nor the statement of a Companion, nor precaution, nor any opinion that is valid.

L5511 Is turning one's head toward someone who senses something among the permissible acts in prayer?

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مَسْلَمَةَ عَنْ مَالِكٍ عَنْ أَبِي حَازِمِ بْنِ دِينَارٍ عَنْ سَهْلِ بْنِ سَعْدٍ قَالَ: «ذَهَبَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إلَى بَنِي عَمْرِو بْنِ عَوْفٍ لِيُصْلِحَ بَيْنَهُمْ وَحَانَتْ الصَّلَاةُ فَجَاءَ الْمُؤَذِّنُ إلَى أَبِي بَكْرٍ قَالَ: أَتُصَلِّي بِالنَّاسِ فَأُقِيمَ؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ فَصَلَّى أَبُو بَكْرٍ فَجَاءَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَالنَّاسُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَتَخَلَّصَ حَتَّى وَقَفَ فِي الصَّفِّ فَصَفَّقَ النَّاسُ وَكَانَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ لَا يَلْتَفِتُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَلَمَّا أَكْثَرَ النَّاسُ التَّصْفِيقَ الْتَفَتَ فَرَأَى رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَأَشَارَ إلَيْهِ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: أَنْ امْكُثْ مَكَانَكَ؟ فَرَفَعَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ يَدَيْهِ فَحَمِدَ اللَّهَ - عَزَّ وَجَلَّ - عَلَى مَا أَمَرَهُ بِهِ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - مِنْ ذَلِكَ ثُمَّ اسْتَأْخَرَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ حَتَّى اسْتَوَى فِي الصَّفِّ وَتَقَدَّمَ رَسُولُ

L5512–5514 Narrated by ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ, from Muḥammad ibn Isḥāq, from Ibn al-Aʿrābī, from Abū Dāwūd, from ʿAbdullāh ibn Maslamah, from Mālik, from Abū Ḥāzim ibn Dīnār, from Sahl ibn Saʿd, who said: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—went to Banū ʿAmr ibn ʿAwf to reconcile between them. When the prayer time arrived, the mu'adhdhin came to Abū Bakr and asked: 'Will you lead the prayer so that the iqāmah may be proclaimed?' He replied: 'Yes.' Abū Bakr then led the prayer. At that moment, the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—arrived." The people were in prayer when the Prophet (peace be upon him) withdrew until he stood in the row, and the people clapped. Abu Bakr would not turn around during prayer. When the people intensified their clapping, he turned and saw the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him). The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) gestured to him: "Remain in your place." Abu Bakr raised his hands and praised Allah, the Mighty and Majestic, for the command the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) had given him regarding that matter. Then Abu Bakr stepped back until he aligned in the row, and the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) advanced and led the prayer. When he finished, he said: “O Abu Bakr, what prevented you from remaining when I commanded you?” Abu Bakr replied: “It was not fitting for the son of Abu Quhafah to pray in front of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him).” The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said: “Why do I observe you resorting to clapping? Let whoever is disturbed during prayer say ’Subhan Allah,’ for when one says it, attention turns to them.”

L5515 And with his chain to Abū Dāwūd: ʿAmr ibn ʿAwn narrated to us: Ḥammād ibn Zayd said, from Abī Ḥāzim ibn Dīnār, from Sahl ibn Saʿd—who mentioned this same ḥadīth, concluding with: The Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—said, “If something requires your attention during prayer, let the men glorify Allāh and let the women clap.”[1]

L5516–5518 In this hadith: the permissibility of tasbīḥ in all circumstances, the permissibility of praising Allah the Exalted in all circumstances, and the invalidation of the statement of those who prohibited that, because the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) heard Abu Bakr behind him praising Allah. Exalted is He [Allah], as [the worshipper] raises his hands for the favor He has bestowed upon him. So, did that not invalidate his prayer?

L5519 It also states that clapping is prohibited for men but commanded for women in what befalls them during prayer. If a man claps during his prayer while aware of the prohibition, his prayer becomes invalid because he has done what is prohibited in his prayer, and thus he did not pray as he was commanded.

L5520 If a woman glorifies [God], she is not to be prohibited from glorification; rather, it is a commendable remembrance of God Almighty. If she gestures, that is also commendable. But if this is done frivolously and without necessity, it is an action in prayer from which we have been forbidden. For whoever does in their prayer what is not permitted to them—has they not prayed as they were commanded?

L5521 It states: The permissibility of turning [one’s head] for a deputy substituting

[1] Hadith references (L5515): Sunan Abi Dawud 941.

اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَصَلَّى، فَلَمَّا انْصَرَفَ قَالَ: يَا أَبَا بَكْرٍ، مَا مَنَعَكَ أَنْ تَثْبُتَ إِذْ أَمَرْتُكَ؟ قَالَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ: مَا كَانَ لِابْنِ أَبِي قُحَافَةَ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ بَيْنَ يَدَيْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَقَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - مَا لِي رَأَيْتُكُمْ أَكْثَرْتُمْ مِنَ التَّصْفِيحِ؟ مَنْ نَابَهُ شَيْءٌ فِي صَلَاتِهِ فَلْيُسَبِّحْ، فَإِنَّهُ إِذَا سَبَّحَ الْتُفِتَ إِلَيْهِ» .

وَفِيهِ: إبَاحَةُ الِالْتِفَاتِ لِلنَّائِبِ يَنُوبُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، فَمَنْ الْتَفَتَ عَبَثًا لِغَيْرِ نَائِبٍ بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ، لِأَنَّهُ فَعَلَ مَا لَمْ يُبَحْ لَهُ؟ .

in prayer. Thus, whoever turns needlessly without being a deputy - his prayer is invalidated because he has performed an impermissible act.

L5522 Abdullah ibn Rabee' narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Mu'awiyah narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Shu'ayb narrated to us: From Suwayd ibn Nasr, from Abdullah (Ibn al-Mubarak), from Yunus (Ibn Yazid), from al-Zuhri, who said: I heard Abu al-Aḥwaṣ narrating to us in the gathering of Sa'id ibn al-Musayyib—while he [Ibn al-Musayyib] was seated—that he heard Abu Dharr say: The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, said, "Allah remains attentively facing the worshipper during his prayer so long as he does not look aside. But if he turns his face away, Allah turns away from him."

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ شُعَيْبٍ أَنَا سُوَيْدُ بْنُ نَصْرٍ أَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ هُوَ ابْنُ الْمُبَارَكِ - عَنْ يُونُسَ هُوَ ابْنُ يَزِيدَ - عَنْ الزُّهْرِيِّ قَالَ: سَمِعْت أَبَا الْأَحْوَصِ يُحَدِّثُنَا فِي مَجْلِسِ سَعِيدِ بْنِ الْمُسَيِّبِ، وَابْنُ الْمُسَيِّبِ جَالِسٌ: أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ أَبَا ذَرٍّ يَقُولُ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «لَا يَزَالُ اللَّهُ مُقْبِلًا عَلَى الْعَبْدِ فِي صَلَاتِهِ مَا لَمْ يَلْتَفِتْ فَإِذَا صَرَفَ وَجْهَهُ انْصَرَفَ عَنْهُ» .

L5523 Abdullah ibn Rabiʿ narrated to us: Ibn Muʿawiyah narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Shuʿayb narrated to us, I, ʿAmr ibn ʿAli, narrated to us, ʿAbd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi narrated to us, Zāʾidah narrated to us from Ashʿath ibn Abi al-Shaʿthāʾ from his father from Masruq from ʿAisha, who said: "I asked the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) about glancing around during prayer. He said: 'It is a theft that Satan snatches away from the prayer.'"

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا ابْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ شُعَيْبٍ أَنَا عَمْرُو بْنُ عَلِيٍّ ثنا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ مَهْدِيٍّ ثنا زَائِدَةُ عَنْ أَشْعَثَ بْنِ أَبِي الشَّعْثَاءِ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ مَسْرُوقٍ «عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ: سَأَلْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - عَنْ الِالْتِفَاتِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ؟ فَقَالَ: اخْتِلَاسٌ يَخْتَلِسُهُ الشَّيْطَانُ مِنْ الصَّلَاةِ» .

L5524–5526 Ali said: "Whoever Allah the Exalted turns His countenance away from him during prayer, He has indeed abandoned him and not accepted his deed." And if He is not pleased with his act, then it is without doubt not accepted.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: مَنْ صَرَفَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى وَجْهَهُ عَنْهُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَقَدْ تَرَكَهُ وَلَمْ يَرْضَ عَمَلَهُ، وَإِذَا لَمْ يَرْضَ عَمَلَهُ فَهُوَ غَيْرُ مَقْبُولٍ بِلَا شَكٍّ.

L5527 We are certain that the turning away Allah has forbidden and disapproved is distinct from the turning away He has commanded. We know that whoever's prayer is partially snatched by Satan and thus abandoned—for if he does not complete it, he has not prayed.

وَقَدْ أَيْقَنَّا أَنَّ الِالْتِفَاتَ الَّذِي نَهَى اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عَنْهُ وَسَخِطَهُ هُوَ غَيْرُ الِالْتِفَاتِ الَّذِي أَمَرَ بِهِ؟ ، وَعَلِمْنَا أَنَّ مَنْ اخْتَلَسَ الشَّيْطَانُ بَعْضَ صَلَاتِهِ فَلَمْ يُتِمَّهَا، وَإِذَا لَمْ يُتِمَّهَا فَلَمْ يُصَلِّ.

L5528 And it has been narrated to us from Waki' from al-Mu'alla ibn 'Irfān from Abū Wā'il from Ibn Mas'ūd: Does the act of turning around not invalidate the prayer?

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ الْمُعَلَّى بْنِ عِرْفَانَ عَنْ أَبِي وَائِلٍ عَنْ ابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ: لَا يَقْطَعُ الصَّلَاةَ الِالْتِفَاتُ؟ .

L5529 From Hammad ibn Salamah from Khalid al-Hadhdha' from Abu Qilabah from Ibn Mas'ud: Allah the Exalted continues to turn His face toward the servant as long as he does not become distracted or commit an act that breaks ablution—meaning in prayer. And via the narration of Waki‘ from Sufyan al-Thawri from Adam ibn ‘Ali from Ibn ‘Umar: A people will be called on the Day of Resurrection “the deficient ones”—each of whom is deficient in their prayer, ablution, and prone to distraction.

وَعَنْ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ خَالِدٍ الْحَذَّاءِ عَنْ أَبِي قِلَابَةَ عَنْ ابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ: لَا يَزَالُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى مُقْبِلًا عَلَى الْعَبْدِ بِوَجْهِهِ مَا لَمْ يَلْتَفِتْ أَوْ يُحْدِثْ - يَعْنِي فِي الصَّلَاةِ، وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ وَكِيعٍ

عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ آدَمَ بْنِ عَلِيٍّ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ: يُدْعَى قَوْمٌ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ " الْمَنْقُوصِينَ " الَّذِينَ يَنْقُصُ أَحَدُهُمْ صَلَاتَهُ، وَوُضُوءَهُ، وَالْتِفَاتَهُ.

L5530 From Waki‘, from Sufyan al-Thawri, from Humaid al-A‘raj, from Mujahid, who said: “Four matters - if they are not present in one’s prayer, his prayer is complete.” He mentioned among them: turning around, gesturing with the hand, nodding the head for a need, and listening to what reaches him while praying for a necessity related to his religion or worldly affairs. All of this is permissible within the prayer.

L5531–5533 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us, Abd al-Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us. Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to me. Harmalah ibn Yahya narrated to us, Abdullah ibn Wahb informed us, Amr - that is, ibn al-Harith - from Bukayr - that is, ibn al-Ashajj - from Kuraib, who was the freed slave of Ibn Abbas. Umm Salamah informed him, saying: “I heard the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—forbidding them, meaning the two rak’ahs after the ‘Asr prayer. Then I saw him praying them. I sent the servant girl to him and said: ’Stand beside him and say: Umm Salamah says: O Messenger of Allah, I heard you forbidding these two rak’ahs, yet I see you praying them. If he gestures with his hand, then move away from him.’ The servant girl did so, and he gestured with his hand, so she moved away from him. When he concluded the prayer, he said: ’O daughter of Abū Umayyah, you asked about the two rak’ahs after the ‘Asr prayer?’” And she mentioned the hadith.

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ يُوسُفَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ فَتْحٍ ثنا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ بْنُ عِيسَى ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ ثنا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ الْحَجَّاجِ حَدَّثَنِي حَرْمَلَةُ بْنُ يَحْيَى ثنا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ وَهْبٍ أَخْبَرَنَا عَمْرٌو هُوَ ابْنُ الْحَارِثِ - عَنْ بُكَيْرٍ هُوَ ابْنُ الْأَشَجِّ - عَنْ كُرَيْبٍ هُوَ مَوْلَى ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ أَنَّ أُمَّ سَلَمَةَ أَخْبَرَتْهُ قَالَتْ «سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَنْهَى عَنْهُمَا - يَعْنِي الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ - ثُمَّ رَأَيْتُهُ يُصَلِّيهِمَا، فَأَرْسَلْتُ إِلَيْهِ الْجَارِيَةَ فَقُلْتُ: قُومِي بِجَنْبِهِ فَقُولِي: تَقُولُ أُمُّ سَلَمَةَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ، سَمِعْتُكَ تَنْهَى عَنْ هَاتَيْنِ الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ، وَأَرَاكَ تُصَلِّيهِمَا، فَإِنْ أَشَارَ بِيَدِهِ فَاسْتَأْخِرِي عَنْهُ؟ فَفَعَلَتْ الْجَارِيَةُ؟ فَأَشَارَ بِيَدِهِ فَاسْتَأْخَرَتْ عَنْهُ، فَلَمَّا انْصَرَفَ قَالَ: يَا بِنْتَ أَبِي أُمَيَّةَ، سَأَلْتِ عَنْ الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ؟» وَذَكَرَتْ الْحَدِيثَ.

L5534 We have previously mentioned the Prophet’s gesture (peace be upon him) with his hand during prayer: while sitting, he motioned to worshippers standing behind him to dissuade them from standing. Gesturing with the hand or head to return a greeting (salām) during prayer is permissible.

وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا قَبْلُ «إِشَارَتَهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - بِيَدِهِ إِذْ صَلَّى وَهُوَ جَالِسٌ إِلَى الْمُصَلِّينَ وَرَاءَهُ قِيَامًا يَنْهَاهُمْ عَنْ الْقِيَامِ» ، وَالْإِشَارَةُ بِرَدِّ السَّلَامِ بِالْيَدِ وَالرَّأْسِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ جَائِزَةٌ.

L5535 As narrated by Hamam, from Ibn Mufarrij, from Ibn al-A’rabi, from al-Dabari, from Abd al-Razzaq, from Ma’mar, via al-Zuhri, from Anas ibn Malik: “The Messenger of Allah, may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him, used to gesture during prayer.” And is this a general principle for all that arises?

كَمَا حَدَّثَنَا حَمَامٌ ثنا ابْنُ مُفَرِّجٍ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا الدَّبَرِيُّ ثنا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ ثنا مَعْمَرٌ عَنْ الزُّهْرِيِّ عَنْ أَنَسِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ «أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - كَانَ يُشِيرُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ» وَهَذَا عُمُومٌ فِي كُلِّ مَا نَابَ؟ .

L5536–5537 Abdullah ibn Rabi’ → Muhammad ibn Muʿawiyah → Ahmad ibn Shuʿayb → Qutayba → Al-Layth ibn Saʿd → Abu al-Zubayr → Jabir: He reported that he encountered the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—while he was praying. I greeted him, and he gestured to me. When he finished praying, he called me and said: “You greeted me earlier while I was praying.”

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ شُعَيْبٍ أَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ ثنا اللَّيْثُ هُوَ ابْنُ سَعْدٍ عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ «عَنْ جَابِرٍ: أَنَّهُ أَدْرَكَ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَهُوَ يُصَلِّي، فَسَلَّمْتُ عَلَيْهِ فَأَشَارَ إِلَيَّ، فَلَمَّا فَرَغَ دَعَانِي وَقَالَ: إِنَّكَ سَلَّمْتَ عَلَيَّ آنِفًا وَأَنَا أُصَلِّي» .

L5538 Hammam narrated to us: Abbas ibn Asbag narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Abdul Malik ibn Ayman narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Ismail al-Tirmidhi narrated to us: al-Humaydi narrated to us: Sufyan ibn Uyaynah narrated to us: Zayd ibn Aslam said: Ibn Umar said: “The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) went to the mosque of Banu Amr ibn Awf in Quba to pray there. Then men from the Ansar entered upon him and offered salutations to him. I asked Suhayb—and he was with him—: ’How did the Prophet (peace be upon him) respond to them?’ He said: ’He would gesture to them.’”

L5539 Abdullah ibn Rabee’ narrated to us: Ibn al-Sulaym narrated to us, al-A’rabi narrated to us, Abu Dawud narrated to us, Qutaybah narrated to us that al-Layth ibn Sa’d narrated to them from Bukayr from Nabil the cloak-bearer from Ibn ‘Umar from Suhayb, who said: «I passed by the Messenger of Allah – peace and blessings be upon him – while he was praying, so I greeted him, and he responded with a gesture?»

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا ابْنُ السُّلَيْمِ ثنا الْأَعْرَابِيُّ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا قُتَيْبَةُ: أَنَّ اللَّيْثَ بْنَ سَعْدٍ حَدَّثَهُمْ عَنْ بُكَيْرٍ عَنْ نَابِلٍ صَاحِبِ الْعَبَاءِ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ عَنْ «صُهَيْبٍ قَالَ: مَرَرْتُ بِرَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَهُوَ يُصَلِّي فَسَلَّمْتُ عَلَيْهِ فَرَدَّ إِشَارَةً؟» .

L5540–5541 Ali said: Some people said, “Could this gesture be a prohibition for them?” Ali responded: “This is false, for had it been so, the Prophet would have forbidden them immediately after concluding his prayer.” We were narrated through ʿAbd al-Razzāq from Maʿmar, from Thābit al-Bunānī, from Abū Rāfiʿ,

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: قَالَ بَعْضُ النَّاسِ: لَعَلَّ هَذِهِ الْإِشَارَةَ نَهْيٌ لَهُمْ؟ ، قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: هَذَا الْكَذِبُ إِذْ لَوْ كَانَ كَذَلِكَ لَنَهَاهُمْ إِثْرَ فَرَاغِهِ -: وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ عَنْ ثَابِتٍ الْبُنَانِيِّ who said: “I saw the Companions of Allah’s Messenger (peace be upon him)—indeed, one of them would affirm the Shahada while standing in prayer?”

عَنْ أَبِي رَافِعٍ قَالَ: رَأَيْت أَصْحَابَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَإِنَّ أَحَدَهُمْ لَيَشْهَدَ عَلَى الشَّهَادَةِ وَهُوَ قَائِمٌ يُصَلِّي؟ .

L5542 It is reported from Hammad ibn Salama, from Qatadah, from Mu‘adhah al-‘Adawiyyah: that ‘Ā’ishah, the Mother of the Believers, would instruct her servant to distribute the broth. The servant would pass by her while she was in prayer, and she would gesture to her to add more, or order that something be given to a poor person through gesturing - while she was in prayer.

وَعَنْ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ عَنْ مُعَاذَةَ الْعَدَوِيَّةِ: أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ أُمَّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ كَانَتْ تَأْمُرُ خَادِمَهَا أَنْ تُقَسِّمَ الْمَرَقَةَ، فَتَمُرُّ بِهَا، وَهِيَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَتُشِيرُ إلَيْهَا: أَنْ زِيدِي، وَتَأْمُرُ بِالشَّيْءِ لِلْمِسْكِينِ تُومِئُ بِهِ، وَهِيَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ؟ .

L5543 From ‘Abd al-Razzāq, from Sufyān al-Thawrī, from al-A‘mash, from Khaythamah ibn ‘Abd al-Raḥmān, who said: I saw Ibn ‘Umar pointing to the first man in the row—having noticed a gap—to indicate that he should advance.

L5544 From Waki‘, from his father, from ‘Asim al-Ahwal, from Mu‘adhah al-‘Adawiyyah: that ‘Aishah, the Mother of the Believers, gestured to some women during prayer that they should eat.

وَعَنْ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ عَاصِمٍ الْأَحْوَلِ عَنْ مُعَاذَةَ الْعَدَوِيَّةِ: أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ أُمَّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ أَوْمَأَتْ وَهِيَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ إلَى نِسْوَةٍ: أَنْ كُلْنَ؟ .

L5545 From Abd al-Razzaq, from Sufyan al-Thawri, from Muhammad ibn Abi Layla, from al-Hakam ibn Utayba, from Abd al-Rahman ibn Abi Layla, who said: “I indeed consider it a favor from a man toward me that he adjusts my position properly during prayer.”

وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ أَبِي لَيْلَى عَنْ الْحَكَمِ بْنِ عُتَيْبَةَ عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ أَبِي لَيْلَى قَالَ: إنِّي لَأَعُدُّهَا لِلرَّجُلِ عِنْدِي يَدًا أَنْ يَعْدِلَنِي فِي الصَّلَاةِ.

L5546–5548 And through him to Abd al-Razzaq from Ibn Jurayj: I said to Ata: When a person passes by me, I say, “Glory be to Allah, Glory be to Allah, Glory be to Allah” three times—then he approaches. I say to him with my hand: “Where are you going?” He replies: “To such and such”—while I am in the obligatory prayer. Has my prayer been invalidated? He said: No, but I dislike it. I said: “Should he perform the prostration for forgetfulness?” He said, “No.”

L5549 From Ḥammād ibn Salamah from ʿĀṣim from Muʿādhah al-ʿAdawiyyah from ʿĀ’ishah, the Mother of the Believers: She stood to pray wearing a chemise (dirʿ) and a veil (khimār). She gestured toward the outer cloak (milḥafah), so it was handed to her. There were women present with her, and she signaled to them with her hand regarding some food—this occurred while she was praying.

وَعَنْ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ عَاصِمٍ عَنْ مُعَاذَةَ الْعَدَوِيَّةِ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ أُمِّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ: أَنَّهَا قَامَتْ إلَى الصَّلَاةِ فِي دِرْعٍ وَخِمَارٍ، فَأَشَارَتْ إلَى الْمِلْحَفَةِ فَنَاوَلَتْهَا، وَكَانَ عِنْدَهَا نِسْوَةٌ فَأَوْمَأَتْ إلَيْهِنَّ بِشَيْءٍ مِنْ طَعَامٍ بِيَدِهَا - تَعْنِي وَهِيَ تُصَلِّي.

L5550 From Hammad ibn Salamah from Thabit al-Bunani from Abu Rafi', who said: "Two men would come to a man from the Companions of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—while he was in prayer, asking him to testify upon their testimony. He would incline his ear to it. When they finished, he would nod his head, meaning: 'Yes?'"

L5551 From Abd al-Razzaq, from Ibn Jurayj, who said: Nafiʿ informed me that Ibn Umar said: If one of you is engaged in prayer and is greeted, let him not speak at all, but let him make a gesture, for that is his reply.

وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ أَخْبَرَنِي نَافِعٌ أَنْ ابْنَ عُمَرَ قَالَ: إذَا كَانَ أَحَدُكُمْ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَسُلِّمَ عَلَيْهِ؟ فَلَا يَتَكَلَّمَنَّ، وَلْيُشِرْ إشَارَةً؟ فَإِنَّ ذَلِكَ رَدُّهُ؟ .

L5552 If someone cites his saying (peace be upon him): "There is no harm in the prayer or the taslīm."

فَإِنْ ذَكَرَ ذَاكِرٌ قَوْلَهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «لَا غِرَارَ فِي صَلَاةٍ وَلَا تَسْلِيمَ» .

L5553–5555 It was said: This is not a prohibition against responding to the salām during prayer through gesture; nor is this [ruling] understood from this [statement]. The verbal assertion and the claim are rejected unless supported by proof.

قِيلَ: لَيْسَ هَذَا نَهْيًا عَنْ رَدِّ السَّلَامِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ بِالْإِشَارَةِ، وَلَا يُفْهَمُ هَذَا مِنْ هَذَا اللَّفْظِ، وَالدَّعْوَى مَرْدُودَةٌ إلَّا بِبُرْهَانٍ؟ .

L5556 The act of taking a short rest is for one distressed by the heat, based on Allah the Exalted's statement: "Allah intends ease for you and does not intend hardship for you" [Al-Baqarah 2:185], and His statement: "He has not placed upon you in the religion any constraint" [Al-Hajj 22:78]. If one rests frivolously, would his prayer then be invalidated?[2] وَالتَّرْوِيحُ لِمَنْ آذَاهُ الْحَرُّ؛ لِقَوْلِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {يُرِيدُ اللَّهُ بِكُمُ الْيُسْرَ وَلا يُرِيدُ بِكُمُ الْعُسْرَ} [البقرة: ١٨٥] وقَوْله تَعَالَى: {وَمَا جَعَلَ عَلَيْكُمْ فِي الدِّينِ مِنْ حَرَجٍ} [الحج: ٧٨] فَلَوْ تَرَوَّحَ عَبَثًا بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ؟ .

L5557 It was narrated to us from Muḥammad ibn al-Muthannā, from Muḥammad ibn Abī ʿAdiyy, from Ashʿath - who is Ibn ʿAbd al-Malik al-Ḥumrānī - who said: "Al-Ḥasan did not see any harm in taking intervals during prayer."

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْمُثَنَّى عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ أَبِي عَدِيٍّ عَنْ أَشْعَثَ هُوَ ابْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ الْحُمْرَانِيِّ قَالَ: كَانَ الْحَسَنُ لَا يَرَى بَأْسًا بِالتَّرْوِيحِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ؟ .

L5558 And from Mujāhid: that he used to fan himself during prayer and wipe sweat?

وَعَنْ مُجَاهِدٍ: أَنَّهُ كَانَ يَتَرَوَّحُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ وَيَمْسَحُ الْعَرَقَ؟ .

[2] Qur'an references (L5556): Qur'an 2:185 (Al-Baqarah); Qur'an 22:78 (Al-Hajj).

L5559 Among these matters is removing anything that harms him or distracts him from properly fulfilling his prayer, as we have mentioned. Similarly, the slipping of a garment, the itching of the body, the removal of a pimple, the touching of saliva, the administering of medicine, or the tying of a loose garment—if any of these harm him, it becomes obligatory for him to rectify his situation so that he may devote himself to his prayer.

رُوِّينَا عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ عَنْ الزُّهْرِيِّ عَنْ سَالِمِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُمَرَ عَنْ أَبِيهِ أَنَّهُ قَالَ: إِذَا رَأَى الْإِنْسَانُ فِي ثَوْبِهِ دَمًا وَهُوَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَانْصَرَفَ يَغْسِلُهُ؟ أَتَمَّ، صَلَّى مَا بَقِيَ عَلَى مَا مَضَى مَا لَمْ يَتَكَلَّمْ؟ .

L5560 It has been narrated to us from ʻAbd al-Razzaq, from Maʻmar, from al-Zuhri, from Salim ibn ʻAbdullah ibn ʻUmar, from his father, that he said: If a person sees blood on his garment while in prayer and leaves to wash it, he should complete it; he should pray what remains upon what has passed, provided he did not speak.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَمَا لَمْ يَنْحَرِفْ عَنْ الْقِبْلَةِ عَامِدًا؟ ، وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ: أَنَّهُ كَانَ لَا يَتَحَرَّكُ فِي صَلَاتِهِ إِلَّا أَنْ يُصْلِحَ ثَوْبًا أَوْ يَحُكَّ جِلْدًا.

L5561 Ali ibn Abi Talib said: “What if one deviates from the Qiblah unintentionally?” It has been narrated to us from Ali ibn Abi Talib that he would not move during his prayer except to adjust his garment or relieve an itch.

وَأَمَّا مَنْ اسْتَرْخَى ثَوْبُهُ حَتَّى مَسَّ كَعْبَهُ فَفَرْضٌ عَلَيْهِ أَنْ يَرْفَعَهُ، لِئَلَّا يُصَلِّيَ مُسْبِلًا عَامِدًا فَتَبْطُلُ صَلَاتُهُ؟ .

L5562–5564 As for the one whose garment hangs down until it touches his ankles, he is obligated to raise it, lest he pray while dragging it. Does his prayer become invalid if performed intentionally?

وَحَتُّ النُّخَامَةِ مِنْ حَائِطِ الْمَسْجِدِ الَّذِي فِي قِبْلَتِهِ -: لِمَا حَدَّثَنَاهُ عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ خَالِدٍ ثنا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ ثنا الْفَرَبْرِيُّ ثنا الْبُخَارِيُّ ثنا قُتَيْبَةُ بْنُ سَعْدٍ ثنا اللَّيْثُ هُوَ ابْنُ سَعْدٍ - عَنْ نَافِعٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ قَالَ: «رَأَى النَّبِيُّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - نُخَامَةً فِي قِبْلَةِ الْمَسْجِدِ وَهُوَ يُصَلِّي بَيْنَ يَدَيْ النَّاسِ فَحَتَّهَا ثُمَّ قَالَ حِينَ انْصَرَفَ: إِنَّ أَحَدَكُمْ إِذَا كَانَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى قِبَلَ وَجْهِهِ، فَلَا يَتَنَخَّمَنَّ أَحَدُكُمْ قِبَلَ وَجْهِهِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ» .

L5565 The removal of phlegm from the qiblah facing wall of the mosque: Narrated by ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAbd Allāh ibn Khālid → Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad → al-Farbarī → al-Bukhārī → Qutaybah ibn Saʿd → al-Layth, that is, al-Layth ibn Saʿd → Nāfiʿ → Ibn ʿUmar, who said: “The Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—saw phlegm on the qiblah facing wall of the mosque while praying in front of the people. He scraped it off, then said upon concluding: ’When one of you is in prayer, Allah the Exalted is in the direction of his face. None of you must ever spit phlegm directly ahead during prayer.”’

L5566 Is it permissible to kill snakes, scorpions, crows, kites, vicious dogs, rats, and geckos—whether small or large—during prayer? Abdullah ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us from Muḥammad ibn Isḥāq from Ibn al-Aʿrābī from Abū Dāwūd from Muslim ibn Ibrāhīm from ʿAlī ibn al-Mubārak from Yaḥyā ibn Abī Kathīr from Ḍamḍam ibn Jawṣ from Abū Hurayrah, who said: The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—stated, "Kill the two black ones during prayer: the snake and the scorpion."

الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ ثنا عَلِيُّ بْنُ الْمُبَارَكِ ثنا يَحْيَى بْنُ أَبِي كَثِيرٍ عَنْ ضَمْضَمِ بْنِ جَوْسٍ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ: - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «اُقْتُلُوا الْأَسْوَدَيْنِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ الْحَيَّةُ، وَالْعَقْرَبُ» .

L5567–5569 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us: Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us: Muslim ibn Al-Hajjaj narrated to us: Shayban ibn Farrukh narrated to us: Abu Awanah narrated from Zayd ibn Jubayr, who said: A man asked Ibn Umar, "What animals may a Muhrim kill?" Ibn Umar replied: "One of the wives of the Prophet (peace be upon him) narrated to me that the Prophet (peace be upon him) commanded the killing of the vicious dog, the mouse..." And the scorpion, the hawk, the crow, and the snake. He said: "And during prayer as well?"

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ يُوسُفَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ فَتْحٍ ثنا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ بْنُ عِيسَى ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ ثنا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ الْحَجَّاجِ ثنا شَيْبَانُ بْنُ فَرُّوخَ ثنا أَبُو عَوَانَةَ عَنْ زَيْدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ قَالَ: «سَأَلَ رَجُلٌ ابْنَ عُمَرَ: مَا يَقْتُلُ الْمُحْرِمُ مِنْ الدَّوَابِّ؟ فَقَالَ ابْنُ عُمَرَ: حَدَّثَتْنِي إِحْدَى نِسْوَةِ النَّبِيِّ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - أَنَّهُ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - كَانَ يَأْمُرُ بِقَتْلِ الْكَلْبِ الْعَقُورِ، وَالْفَأْرَةِ، وَالْعَقْرَبِ، وَالْحُدَيَّا وَالْغُرَابِ، وَالْحَيَّةِ قَالَ: وَفِي الصَّلَاةِ أَيْضًا؟» .

L5570 Ali said: All the wives of the Prophet—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—are trustworthy, virtuous, and certainly sanctified in the sight of Allah, the Mighty and Majestic. It is absolutely impossible that Ibn Umar could lack knowledge of them, or of any single one of them.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: كُلُّ نِسَاءِ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - ثِقَاتٌ فَوَاضِلُ عِنْدَ اللَّهِ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ مُقَدَّسَاتٌ بِيَقِينٍ، وَلَا يُمْكِنُ أَلْبَتَّةَ أَنْ يَغِيبَ عَلَى ابْنِ عُمَرَ عِلْمُهُنَّ وَلَا عِلْمُ وَاحِدَةٍ مِنْهُنَّ.

L5571 If one is annoyed by a wall gecko, flea, or louse, they are obligated to repel them.

فَإِنْ تَأَذَّى بِوَزَغَةٍ، أَوْ بُرْغُوثٍ، أَوْ قَمْلٍ؟ فَوَجَبَ عَلَيْهِ دَفْعُهُنَّ عَنْ نَفْسِهِ.

L5572 If repelling them involves killing them without undertaking a burdensome action that distracts from prayer, there is no harm in that, for we have received narrations from him—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—commanding the killing of geckos through the transmissions of Abū Hurayrah, Saʿd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ, and Umm Sharīk.

فَإِنْ كَانَ فِي دَفْعِهِ قَتْلُهُنَّ دُونَ تَكَلُّفِ عَمَلٍ شَاغِلٍ عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ فَلَا حَرَجَ فِي ذَلِكَ؛ لِأَنَّنَا قَدْ رُوِّينَا عَنْهُ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - الْأَمْرَ بِقَتْلِ الْوَزَغِ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، وَسَعْدِ بْنِ أَبِي وَقَّاصٍ، وَأُمِّ شَرِيكٍ.

L5573 It is not permissible for him to spit lightly during prayer, nor to busy himself with tying up a flea or louse in his garment, as there is no necessity for that, nor has any explicit text sanctioned it. Nor is there a requirement to kill someone not instructed to be killed during prayer, due to the Prophet's (peace and blessings be upon him) statement: "Verily, prayer demands complete engagement."

وَلَا يَجُوزُ لَهُ التَّفَلِّي فِي الصَّلَاةِ، وَلَا أَنْ يَشْتَغِلَ بِرَبْطِ بُرْغُوثٍ، أَوْ قَمْلَةٍ فِي ثَوْبِهِ؛ إذْ لَا ضَرُورَةَ إلَى ذَلِكَ، وَلَا جَاءَ النَّصُّ بِإِبَاحَتِهِ، وَلَا طَلَبُ قَتْلِ مَنْ لَمْ يُؤْمَرْ بِقَتْلِهِ فِيهَا؛ لِقَوْلِهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «إنَّ فِي الصَّلَاةِ لَشُغْلًا» ؟ .

L5574 Is it permissible for one who is struck by the thought of a needy person during prayer—fearing to miss the chance—to hand him charity while praying? And if one fears rain damage, harm, or theft of his sandals or khuffs, may he protect them and move them from the place of feared harm? For the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) prohibited the squandering of wealth.

L5575–5577 If something is in his presence or possession and its rightful claimant seeks it, he should indicate its location to him or return it to him, for it is a trust that must be delivered to its people. Allah, the Exalted and Majestic, said: "Indeed, Allah commands you to render trusts to their rightful owners" [An-Nisā' 4:58]. This applies only if the possessor fears the item's loss or the claimant's absence. If he does not fear that, then there is no obligation. Does he act unless he completes the prayer?[3]

وَلَوْ كَانَ بِحَضْرَتِهِ أَوْ عِنْدَهُ شَيْءٌ فَطَلَبَهُ صَاحِبُهُ فَلْيُشِرْ لَهُ إِلَيْهِ، أَوْ لِيُنَاوِلْهُ إِيَّاهُ؛ لِأَنَّهَا أَمَانَةٌ تُؤَدَّى إِلَى أَهْلِهَا، قَالَ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ: {إِنَّ اللَّهَ يَأْمُرُكُمْ أَنْ تُؤَدُّوا الأَمَانَاتِ إِلَى أَهْلِهَا} [النساء: ٥٨] ، وَإِنَّمَا هَذَا إِذَا خَشِيَ ضَيَاعَ الشَّيْءِ أَوْ فَوْتَ صَاحِبِهِ، فَإِذَا لَمْ يَخْشَ ذَلِكَ فَلَا يَفْعَلُ، إِلَّا حَتَّى يُتِمَّ الصَّلَاةَ؟ .

L5578 Whoever aligns his feet or alternates between them, that is permissible, because all of it constitutes standing. As for one who groans in prayer, if it is due to a severe, debilitating illness such that he cannot do more than that, there is no sin upon him—may Allah the Exalted have mercy on him—"He has not laid upon you in the religion any hardship" [Al-Ḥajj: 78]. But if he does it intentionally without necessity, his prayer is invalidated, because the text does not permit it?[4] وَمَنْ صَفَّ قَدَمَيْهِ أَوْ رَاوَحَ بَيْنَهُمَا فَذَلِكَ جَائِزٌ، لِأَنَّهُ كُلَّهُ قِيَامٌ، وَمَنْ أَنَّ فِي صَلَاتِهِ، فَإِنْ كَانَ مِنْ شِدَّةِ مَرَضٍ غَالِبٍ لَا يَقْدِرُ مِنْهُ عَلَى أَكْثَرَ، فَلَا شَيْءَ عَلَيْهِ، - رَحِمَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى -: {وَمَا جَعَلَ عَلَيْكُمْ فِي الدِّينِ مِنْ حَرَجٍ} [الحج: ٧٨] فَإِنْ تَعَمَّدَهُ لِغَيْرِ ضَرُورَةٍ بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ، لِأَنَّهُ لَمْ يَأْتِ النَّصُّ بِإِبَاحَتِهِ؟ .

L5579 Whoever prays while having a dinar, dirham, pearl in his mouth, or silk, gold, or similar items in his sleeve—items whose safeguarding is obligatory upon him—that is permissible for him.

وَمَنْ صَلَّى، وَفِي فَمِهِ -: دِينَارٌ، أَوْ دِرْهَمٌ، أَوْ لُؤْلُؤَةٌ، أَوْ فِي كُمِّهِ -: حَرِيرٌ، أَوْ ذَهَبٌ، أَوْ غَيْرُ ذَلِكَ مِمَّا عَلَيْهِ حِفْظُهُ -: فَذَلِكَ جَائِزٌ لَهُ.

L5580 Repelling a passerby in front of a worshiper, erecting his prayer screen, and fighting him if he refuses are binding duties upon the worshiper. If this results in the passerby's death without the worshiper's intent to kill, it is nullified: no blood money, retaliation, or expiation is required in this case.

وَدَفْعُ الْمَارِّ بَيْنَ يَدَيِ الْمُصَلِّي وَسُتْرَتُهُ وَمُقَاتَلَتُهُ إِنْ أَبَى -: حَقٌّ وَاجِبٌ عَلَى الْمُصَلِّي، فَإِنْ وَافَقَ ذَلِكَ مَوْتَ الْمَارِّ دُونَ تَعَمُّدٍ مِنَ الْمُصَلِّي لِقَتْلِهِ: فَهُوَ هَدَرٌ، وَلَا دِيَةَ فِيهِ، وَلَا قَوَدَ، وَلَا كَفَّارَةَ؟ .

mad ibn Ali narrated to us: Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us: Shayban ibn Farrukh narrated to us: Sulayman ibn al-Mughirah narrated to us: Ibn Hilal—meaning Humayd—said: Abu Salih al-Samman said to me: While I was with Abu Sa'id al-Khudri as he prayed on Friday facing something that screened him from the people, a young man from Banu Abi Mu'ayt came intending to pass before him. Abu Sa'id pushed him in the upper chest. The youth looked and found no way to pass except in front of Abu Sa'id, so he turned again. Abu Sa'id pushed him in the upper chest more forcefully than the first time. The young man stood defiantly, insulted Abu Sa'id, then forced his way through the crowd and left. He went to Marwan and complained about what had happened. Later, Abu Sa'id entered Marwan's presence, and Marwan said: "What is between you and your nephew? He came complaining about you." Abu Sa'id replied: I heard Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—say: "When one of you prays facing something that screens him from the people, if someone attempts to..." "If someone passes in front of him, let him push him in the chest. If he refuses, let him fight him, for he is nothing but a devil."[5]

L5584 If they mention the statement of Mālik: "It reached me that a man came to ʿUthmān ibn ʿAffān with a man whose nose was broken. The man said: 'He passed in front of me during prayer, and it has reached me what I heard regarding those who pass before worshippers.'" ʿUthmān said to him: "What you did was worse, O my nephew—you disrupted the prayer and broke his nose."

فَإِنْ ذَكَرُوا قَوْلَ مَالِكٍ: بَلَغَنِي أَنَّ رَجُلًا جَاءَ إِلَى عُثْمَانَ بْنِ عَفَّانَ بِرَجُلٍ كُسِرَ أَنْفُهُ، فَقَالَ: مَرَّ بَيْنَ يَدَيَّ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، وَقَدْ بَلَغَنِي مَا سَمِعْتَ فِي الْمَارِّ بَيْنَ يَدَيِ الْمُصَلِّي فَقَالَ لَهُ عُثْمَانُ: فَمَا صَنَعْتَ أَشَدَّ يَا ابْنَ أَخِي ضَيَّعْتَ الصَّلَاةَ، وَكَسَرْتَ أَنْفَهُ.

L5585 Ali said: This is an invalid testimony; even if it were valid, it would only apply to the dissenter, for it does not mention that Uthman ibn Affan—may Allah be pleased with him—enforced retaliation against one whose nose was broken. Even if it did contain this, the statement of anyone other than the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—would not constitute authoritative proof, when Abu Saʿid al-Khudri and others witnessed his fighting and striking?

L5590–5592 This is the view of Al-Shafi'i and Abu Sulayman. These two hadiths confirm the falsehood of those who opposed them and claimed that he was performing a supererogatory prayer, and all that... His action—peace be upon him—is the pinnacle of reverent submission, and all that contradicts it is null, even if the one in error erroneously considers it to be reverent submission.

L5593 This report is undoubtedly after the statement of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—to Ibn Mas'ud: "There is indeed distraction in prayer," because this statement of his—peace and blessings be upon him—occurred before the Battle of Badr, following Ibn Mas'ud's return from the land of Abyssinia. Did Zaynab arrive in Medina with her daughter only after Badr, as per the established reports on this matter? If a small child rides on someone's back while they are praying and they pause for that reason, is it acceptable?

L5594 Whoever doubts due to the Imam prolonging his prostration should raise his head to ascertain: did he miss the Imam's takbīr or not? For he is commanded to follow the Imam. If he sees the Imam has not raised his head, he should return to prostration, and no sin is upon him, as he has fulfilled what he was commanded to do by adhering to the Imam's condition.

L5595 Abdullah ibn Rabi' narrated to us: Ibn Mu'awiyah narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Shu'ayb narrated to us: Abu Al-Qasim 'Abdur-Rahman ibn Muhammad ibn Sallam At-Tarsusi narrated to us: Yazid ibn Harun narrated to us: Jarir ibn Hazim narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Abi Ya'qub Al-Basri narrated from Abdullah ibn Shaddad from his father, who said: "The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) came out to lead us in one of the two evening prayers ('Isha) while carrying Hasan or Husayn (peace be upon them). He placed him down, then pronounced the Takbir [saying 'Allahu Akbar'] and began the prayer. During the prayer, he performed a prolonged prostration. I raised my head and saw the child on his back—while he (peace be upon him) was prostrating. I resumed my prostration. When the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) concluded the prayer, some people said: 'O Messenger of Allah, you prolonged a prostration during your prayer until we thought an event had occurred or that revelation was descending upon you.' The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) replied: 'None of that happened, but my son climbed onto me, and I disliked disturbing him until he had fulfilled his need.'"[6]

L5596–5597 Moving someone whose sleep the worshiper fears, and turning someone who is on the left to the right: all of that is permissible during prayer.

L5598 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us: Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us: Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Rafi' narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Abi Fudayk narrated: I am al-Dahhak—he is the son of Uthman, from Makhramah ibn Sulayman, from Kuraib, the freed slave of Ibn Abbas, from Ibn Abbas, who said: "I spent a night at the house of my maternal aunt Maymunah bint al-Harith. I said to her: 'When the Messenger of Allah—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—rises, wake me.' When the Messenger of Allah—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—rose, I stood at his left side. He took me by my hand and placed me on his right side. Whenever I began to doze, he would take hold of the lobe of my ear." And he mentioned the rest of the hadith.[7]

L5599 The worshiper may supplicate during their prayer—in their prostration, standing, and sitting—with whatever they wish, provided it does not involve sin. They may specify by name in their supplication whomever they choose. Indeed, the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) supplicated against ʿUṣayyah, Ri'l, and Dhakwān.

L5600 He prayed for Al-Walīd ibn Al-Walīd, ʿAyyāsh ibn Abī Rabīʿah, and Salamah ibn Hishām, naming them by their specific names. He (peace be upon him) was never forbidden from this, nor did he ever forbid it himself. Regarding prostration, he (peace be upon him) said: "Be sincere in your supplication during prostration," or words to that effect.

[7] Hadith references (L5598): Sahih Muslim 763e.

L5601 He said: “Then let each of you choose from the supplications what he finds most appealing,” and we will mention them with their chains of narration, God willing (the Exalted), in the description of the acts of prayer?

وَقَالَ: «ثُمَّ لِيَتَخَيَّرْ أَحَدُكُمْ مِنْ الدُّعَاءِ أَعْجَبَهُ إِلَيْهِ» ، وَسَنَذْكُرُهَا بِأَسَانِيدِهَا إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى فِي صِفَةِ أَعْمَالِ الصَّلَاةِ؟ .

L5602 Every reprehensible act that a person witnesses during prayer obligates them to denounce it, and this does not nullify their prayer. For enjoining good and forbidding evil is an obligation, and the one who upholds what is right is virtuous—provided no sacred text or consensus prohibits any aspect of it.

وَكُلُّ مُنْكَرٍ رَآهُ الْمَرْءُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَفَرْضٌ عَلَيْهِ إِنْكَارُهُ، وَلَا تَنْقَطِعُ بِذَلِكَ صَلَاتُهُ؛ لِأَنَّ الْأَمْرَ بِالْمَعْرُوفِ وَالنَّهْيَ عَنْ الْمُنْكَرِ حَقٌّ، وَفَاعِلُ الْحَقِّ مُحْسِنٌ، مَا لَمْ يَمْنَعْ مِنْ شَيْءٍ مِنْهُ نَصٌّ أَوْ إِجْمَاعٌ.

L5603–5604 And He, the Exalted, said: “Cooperate in righteousness and piety, and do not cooperate in sin and transgression.” (Al-Ma’idah 5:2).[8] وَقَالَ تَعَالَى: {وَتَعَاوَنُوا عَلَى الْبِرِّ وَالتَّقْوَى وَلا تَعَاوَنُوا عَلَى الإِثْمِ وَالْعُدْوَانِ} [المائدة: ٢] .

L5605 Among the examples of that: extinguishing a blazing fire; rescuing a child, an insane person, a disabled person, or a sleeper from fire, or a snake, or a predatory beast, or a hostile human, or a flood; combating those who intend harm to a worshipper or seek to wrong a Muslim; and restraining the disbelieving captive or the unjust captive—unless prevented by a textual ruling or scholarly consensus. Whoever differentiates between any of these matters has erred and spoke without proof.

L5606 It was narrated to us through the chain of Al-Bukhārī: From Ādam, from Shu‘bah, from Al-Azraq ibn Qays who said: “We were in Al-Ahwāz fighting the Harūriyyah. While I stood on a riverbank, a man was praying with his animal’s bridle in hand. The animal kept tugging away, and he kept following it.” Shu‘bah noted that this was Abū Barzah al-Aslamī. A Khārijī man began saying: “O Allah, deal with this old man!” When the elder finished praying, he said: “I heard your words. I fought alongside Allah’s Messenger - peace and blessings be upon him - in six or seven campaigns, and I witnessed his facilitation of matters. I would rather return with my animal myself than let it return to its grazing spot, which would inconvenience me.”

[8] Qur’an references (L5604): Qur’an 5:2 (Al-Ma’idah).

وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ مَعْمَرٍ [عَنِ الزُّهْرِيِّ] عَنِ الْأَزْرَقِ بْنِ قَيْسٍ أَنَّ أَبَا بَرْزَةَ الْأَسْلَمِيَّ خَافَ عَلَى دَابَّتِهِ الْأَسَدَ فَمَشَى إِلَيْهَا، وَهُوَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ.

L5607–5609 And from the chain of ʿAbd al-Razzāq, from Maʿmar [from al-Zuhrī], from al-Azraq ibn Qays that Abu Barzah al-Aslami feared for his mount from the lion, so he walked toward it while he was in prayer.

وَبِهِ إِلَى مَعْمَرٍ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ: سَأَلَهُ رَجُلٌ قَالَ: تَدْخُلُ الشَّاةُ بَيْتِي وَأَنَا أُصَلِّي فَأُطَأْطِئُ رَأْسِي فَآخُذُ الْقَصَبَةَ فَأَضْرِبُهَا بِهَا؟ قَالَ قَتَادَةُ: لَا بَأْسَ بِهِ؟ .

L5610 Narrated through him to Maʿmar from Qatādah: A man asked him, saying, “If a sheep enters my house while I am praying, may I lower my head, take a stick, and strike it with that?” Qatādah replied, “There is no harm in doing so?”

وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ الْقَطَّانِ: ثنا سُلَيْمَانُ التَّيْمِيُّ عَنِ الْحَسَنِ الْبَصْرِيِّ فِي الْقَمْلَةِ يَقْتُلُهَا الرَّجُلُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ.

L5611 And via the chain of Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān: Sulaymān al-Taymī narrated to us from al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī concerning lice - that a man may kill them during prayer.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَكَذَلِكَ مَنْ خَافَ عَلَى مَالِهِ أَوْ سُرِقَتْ نَعْلُهُ أَوْ خُفُّهُ أَوْ غَيْرُ ذَلِكَ فَلَهُ أَنْ يَتْبَعَ السَّارِقَ فَيَنْتَزِعَ مِنْهُ مَتَاعَهُ؟ .

L5612 Ali said: Likewise, if someone fears for his property, or his sandal is stolen, his khuff (leather footwear) is stolen, or anything else, may he pursue the thief and seize his belongings from him?

L5613 And there is no harm in all that we have mentioned regarding what one is compelled to do in terms of facing away from the qiblah, the abundance or scarcity of actions, as long as one does not speak. If one is an imam or a congregant and hopes to attain some portion of the prayer after relieving himself or due to the people waiting for him—he must return without fail, as the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) did when he “pronounced the takbīr forgetfully while in a state of major impurity, then remembered, performed ghusl, returned, and completed the prayer,” and as he did on the day of Dhu al-Yadayn.

فَإِنْ لَمْ يَرْجُ بِإِدْرَاكِ شَيْءٍ مِنَ الصَّلَاةِ، أَوْ أَيْقَنَ أَنَّ النَّاسَ لَا يَنْتَظِرُونَهُ [أَوْ كَانَ قَدْ] أَتَمَّ صَلَاتَهُ حِينَ تَمَامِ حَاجَتِهِ فِي أَوَّلِ مَكَانٍ تَجُوزُ لَهُ فِيهِ الصَّلَاةُ.

L5614 If he does not hope to catch any part of the prayer, is certain that the congregation is not waiting for him, [or if he had] completed his prayer after resolving his urgent need in the first permissible place where prayer is valid for him, he may pray individually.

وَلَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ أَنْ يَخْطُوَ خُطْوَةً وَاحِدَةً لِغَيْرِ رُجُوعٍ إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ، أَوْ لِزَوَالٍ عَنْ مَكَانٍ لَا تَجُوزُ فِيهِ الصَّلَاةُ؟ .

L5615 It is not permissible for him to take a single step unless to return to prayer or to leave a place where prayer is invalid.

L5616–5618 If one hopes for a prayer in another congregation that is nearer, he should enter it, for the final prayer the people of Islam prayed with Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him) had two imams: Abu Bakr commenced it and Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him) completed it. Whoever turns away from the Sunnah of Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him) - upon which all the companions (may Allah be pleased with them) unanimously agreed, the first of them... From the latter among them—with him, peace be upon him—he imitated the views of one who errs at times and is correct at others. There is no good for him in that, and we ask Allah for safety and divine guidance toward what pleases Him. Amen.

فَلَوْ رَجَا بِصَلَاةٍ [فِي جَمَاعَةٍ أُخْرَى أَقْرَبَ مِنْهَا فَلْيُدْخَلْ فِيهَا، فَآخِرُ صَلَاةٍ] صَلَّاهَا أَهْلُ الْإِسْلَامِ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَبِإِمَامَيْنِ: بَدَأَ أَبُو بَكْرٍ وَأَتَمَّ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَمَنْ رَغِبَ عَنْ سُنَّةِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -[الَّتِي أَجْمَعَ عَلَيْهَا جَمِيعُ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ -، أَوَّلُهُمْ عَنْ آخِرِهِمْ، مَعَهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -] وَقَلَّدَ رَأْيَ مَنْ يُخْطِئُ مَرَّةً وَيُصِيبُ أُخْرَى -: فَمَا خَيْرَ لَهُ فِي ذَلِكَ، وَنَسْأَلُ اللَّهَ الْعَافِيَةَ وَالتَّوْفِيقَ لِمَا يُرْضِيهِ. آمِينَ.

L5619 Abū Muḥammad said: Whoever distinguishes between few acts and numerous acts has no means to evidence such distinction. They are inevitably constrained to one of two matters with no third option: either they set a corrupt limit through personal opinion—a limit they are no more entitled to establish than others without such restriction—thereby exercising arbitrary control through falsehood and legislating in religion what Allah has not permitted; or they refrain from setting any limit, thereby falling into the most vile confusion regarding the most crucial acts of their faith, remaining ignorant of what invalidates his prayer and what does not. Is this not the very ignorance from which refuge is sought with Allah?

L5620 We ask him about a specific action: Is this among what has been permitted in prayer or among what has not been permitted in it? There is no third possibility. If he says: It is among what has been permitted in it—it necessarily follows that both its small and large amounts are permissible, and this is our position regarding matters for which there is definitive proof of their permissibility in prayer. If he says: It is among what has not been permitted in it—it necessarily follows that both its small and large amounts are impermissible in it, and this is our position regarding matters for which no definitive proof of their permissibility in it has been established.

L5621 If they say: "Its small quantity was permitted, but its large quantity was not permitted?"

فَإِنْ قَالُوا: أُبِيحَ قَلِيلُهُ وَلَمْ يُبَحْ كَثِيرُهُ؟ .

L5622 We said: This is a false assertion requiring substantiation. Present your proof for the validity of this claim first, then explain the threshold distinguishing the permissible minimal quantity from the prohibited excess; is there truly no means to establish any of that?

L5623–5624 Ali said: "A worshiper walking to open the door for one seeking entry is good and does not invalidate the prayer in any way." Hammam narrated to us: Abbas ibn Asbagh narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Abd al-Malik ibn Ayman narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Muhammad al-Bartītī the judge narrated to us: Abu Ma'mar narrated to us: Abd al-Warith narrated to us: Burd Abu al-Ala (Ibn Sinan) - from al-Zuhri from Urwah, who said: Aisha reported: "Allah's Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him) was praying while I was trying to open the door, and the door was in the direction of the Qiblah. He would come, open it, then return to his prayer."

L5625 Ibn Ayman said: And Abu Bakr ibn Hammad narrated to us: Musaddad narrated to us; Bishr ibn al-Mufaddal narrated to us; Burd ibn Sinan narrated to us from al-Zuhri, from Urwah, from Aisha, who said: "The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) was praying with a closed door. I came and asked him to open it. He walked and opened it for me, then returned to his prayer place."

L5626 Ali said: Yazid ibn Zurayʿ narrated it; he said: Burd narrated to us, and Az-Zuhri narrated to us. Does he mention it?

L5627 Ali said: "Thus, walking for the purpose we mentioned is permissible. But was no definitive ruling established by him (peace be upon him) regarding the walking style of those who walked [in this manner]?"

L5628 Wiping the pebbles during prayer once is permissible, but it is disapproved. If one does it more than once intentionally, his prayer is invalidated.

L5629 Abdullah ibn Rabi narrated to us, from Muhammad ibn Ishaq, from Ibn al-A'rabi, from Abu Dawud, from Musaddad, from Sufyan, from al-Zuhri, from Abu al-Ahwas, that he heard Abu Dharr narrating from the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, who said: "When one of you rises for prayer, mercy faces him, so let him not wipe the pebbles."[9]

قُلْنَا: هَذِهِ دَعْوَى كَاذِبَةٌ مُفْتَقِرَةٌ إِلَى دَلِيلٍ، فَهَاتُوا بُرْهَانَكُمْ عَلَى صِحَّةِ هَذِهِ الدَّعْوَى أَوَّلًا، ثُمَّ عَلَى بَيَانِ حَدِّ الْقَلِيلِ الْمُبَاحِ مِنْ الْكَثِيرِ الْمَحْظُورِ، وَلَا سَبِيلَ إِلَى شَيْءٍ مِنْ ذَلِكَ؟ .

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَمَشْيُ الْمُصَلِّي إِلَى فَتْحِ الْبَابِ لِلْمُسْتَفْتِحِ حَسَنٌ لَا يَضُرُّ الصَّلَاةَ شَيْئًا -: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّامٌ ثنا عَبَّاسُ بْنُ أَصْبَغَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَيْمَنَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ الْبَرْتَتِيُّ الْقَاضِي ثنا أَبُو مَعْمَرٍ ثنا عَبْدُ الْوَارِثِ ثنا بُرْدٌ أَبُو الْعَلَاءِ هُوَ ابْنُ سِنَانٍ - عَنْ الزُّهْرِيِّ عَنْ عُرْوَةَ قَالَتْ عَائِشَةُ: «كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يُصَلِّي، فَأَسْتَفْتِحُ الْبَابَ، وَالْبَابُ فِي الْقِبْلَةِ، فَيَجِيءُ فَيَفْتَحُ الْبَابَ ثُمَّ يَعُودُ فِي صَلَاتِهِ» .

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَرَوَاهُ يَزِيدُ بْنُ زُرَيْعٍ قَالَ ثنا بُرْدٌ ثنا الزُّهْرِيُّ، يَذْكُرُهُ؟ .

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَالْمَشْيُ لِمَا ذَكَرْنَا مُبَاحٌ، وَلَمْ يُوقَفْ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - عَلَى مَشْيِ مَنْ مَشَى؟ .

وَمَسْحُ الْحَصَى فِي الصَّلَاةِ مَرَّةً وَاحِدَةً جَائِزٌ وَنَكْرَهُهُ، فَإِنْ زَادَ عَامِدًا بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ؟ .

[9] Hadith references (L5629): Sunan Abi Dawud 945; Sunan Ibn Majah 1027.

وَبِهِ إِلَى أَبِي دَاوُد: ثنا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ ثنا هِشَامٌ هُوَ الدَّسْتُوَائِيُّ، عَنْ يَحْيَى هُوَ ابْنُ كَثِيرٍ - عَنْ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ عَنْ مُعَيْقِيبٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ قَالَ: «لَا تَمْسَحْ - يَعْنِي الْحَصَى - وَأَنْتَ تُصَلِّي، فَإِنْ كُنْتَ لَا بُدَّ فَاعِلًا فَوَاحِدَةً» .

L5630–5631 And through him to Abu Dawud: Muslim ibn Ibrahim narrated to us: Hisham—that is, al-Dastuwa'i—narrated to us, from Yahya—that is, Ibn Kathir—from Abu Salama, from Mu'aiqib, that the Prophet said: "Do not wipe—meaning the pebbles—while you are praying. If you must do so, then one [wipe]."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَإِنْ احْتَجُّوا بِهَذَا فِي الْفَرْقِ بَيْنَ الْقَلِيلِ وَالْكَثِيرِ؟ .

L5632 Ali said: "If they invoke this argument concerning the distinction between the small quantity and the large quantity?"

قُلْنَا: هَذَا فِي مَسْحِ الْحَصَى الْمَنْهِيِّ عَنْهُ جُمْلَةً، الْمُسْتَثْنَى مِنْهُ الْوَاحِدَةُ فَقَطْ، فَقُولُوا لَنَا: مَاذَا تَقِيسُونَ عَلَى هَذَا الْخَبَرِ؟ الْأَعْمَالَ الْمُبَاحَةَ جُمْلَةً بِالنُّصُوصِ؟ أَمْ الْأَعْمَالَ الْمَنْهِيَّ عَنْهَا جُمْلَةً؟ وَلَا بُدَّ مِنْ أَحَدِ الْأَمْرَيْنِ؟ .

L5633 We said: This pertains to wiping over pebbles, which is prohibited in totality except for a single instance. Then tell us: What do you analogize to this report? Do you analogize all permissible actions collectively based on scriptural proofs, or all prohibited actions collectively? It is necessary to adopt one of the two matters.

فَإِنْ قَالُوا: بَلْ الْأَعْمَالَ الْمُبَاحَةَ جُمْلَةً؟ .

L5634 Then if they say: "Rather, all permissible acts collectively?"

قُلْنَا: الْقِيَاسُ كُلُّهُ بَاطِلٌ، ثُمَّ لَوْ كَانَ الْقِيَاسُ حَقًّا لَكَانَ هَذَا مِنْهُ عَيْنَ الْبَاطِلِ أَوَّلُ ذَلِكَ: أَنَّهُ قِيَاسُ الْمُبَاحِ عَلَى الْمَحْظُورِ، وَهَذَا بَاطِلٌ عِنْدَ صَاحِبِ كُلِّ قِيَاسٍ؛ لِأَنَّهُ قِيَاسُ الشَّيْءِ عَلَى ضِدِّهِ، وَإِنَّمَا الْقِيَاسُ عِنْدَ الْقَائِلِينَ بِهِ: قِيَاسُ الشَّيْءِ عَلَى نَظِيرِهِ جُمْلَةً، أَوْ عَلَى نَظِيرِهِ فِي الْعِلَّةِ الَّتِي هِيَ عَلَامَةُ الْحُكْمِ بِزَعْمِهِمْ.

L5635 We said: All analogy is invalid; then, even if analogy were valid, this would constitute the very essence of invalidity. The first reason for this is that it is an analogy from the permissible to the prohibited, and this is invalid according to every proponent of analogy, because it analogizes a thing to its opposite. For analogy, according to its proponents, is the analogizing of a thing upon its equivalent as a whole or upon its equivalent in the effective cause—which they claim indicates the ruling.

L5636 Moreover, you permit taking two or three steps during prayer, a strike and two strikes, and using a vessel to draw water from the reservoir for one in a state of ritual impurity during prayer—and this exceeds a single instance. Thus, the invalidity of your analogy becomes evident, and you prohibit what exceeds what we have mentioned.

؟ وَاسْتِقَاءَ الْمَاءِ مِنْ الْبِئْرِ لِمَنْ عَلَيْهِ الْحَدَثُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، فَلَاحَ أَنَّكُمْ لَمْ تَتَعَلَّقُوا بِقِيَاسٍ أَصْلًا؟ .

L5637 Is it not evident that you have not relied on any qiyas whatsoever when drawing water from the well for one who has incurred ritual impurity during prayer?

فَإِنْ قَالُوا: بَلْ قِسْنَا الْأَعْمَالَ الْمَنْهِيَّ عَنْهَا عَلَى هَذَا الْخَبَرِ؟ .

L5638 If they say: Rather, we applied qiyas (legal analogy) to the prohibited acts in light of this report?

قُلْنَا لَهُمْ: فَأَبِيحُوا إدْخَالَ الْإِبْرَةِ فِي خِيَاطَةِ الثَّوْبِ مَرَّةً وَاحِدَةً، وَقَدْحَ النَّارِ بِالزَّنْدِ بِضَرْبَةٍ وَاحِدَةٍ، وَأَبِيحُوا لَطْمَةً وَاحِدَةً لِلْخَادِمِ، وَرَدَّ مَرْمَى الْحَائِكِ مَرَّةً وَاحِدَةً، وَقَدَّ الْأَدِيمِ بِضَرْبَةٍ وَاحِدَةٍ، وَالتَّذْكِيَةَ بِجَرَّةٍ وَاحِدَةٍ - كُلُّ ذَلِكَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، وَهُمْ لَا يَقُولُونَ بِهَذَا، فَظَهَرَ فَسَادُ قَوْلِهِمْ -، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L5639–5641 We said to them: Permit inserting the needle once in sewing the garment; igniting fire with a single strike of the flint; a single slap for the servant; returning the weaver's shuttle once; and measuring... Tanning a hide with a single strike and slaughtering with a single cut—all such acts invalidate prayer; yet they do not uphold this ruling (thereby exposing the flaw in their position)—and success is with Allah, the Exalted.

L5642 Ali said: If they mention what was narrated to us through the chain of Ya'qub ibn 'Utbah ibn al-Akhnas from Abi Ghutayfan from Abu Hurairah that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said: "Tasbīḥ (saying 'Subḥān Allāh') is for men—meaning in prayer—and clapping is for women. Whoever makes an intelligible gesture during prayer must repeat it (the prayer)—meaning in prayer." Abu Dawud said: This hadith is unreliable.

L5643–5645 If it were authentic, it would necessitate incorporating it into the established reports we previously mentioned—such as the Prophet's gesture (peace be upon him) during prayer to return greetings and to the attendant that she should step back from him, along with every matter requiring a gesture from a person out of necessity related to it. These gestures would fall under the rulings of the texts pertaining to them, leaving every gesture not explicitly permitted by a text prohibited—such as gesturing to conclude a sale; haggling; inquiring about what you have done; seeking information; and similar acts. This is the only permissible practice if this report were authentic—and this is our position; all praise is due to Allah—because gestures vary in type. Only what is permitted... That which is explicitly permitted by textual evidence is permissible, and that which is not explicitly permitted is prohibited. How can this be, when the hadith is not authentic? And by Allah, the Most High, is success granted.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ خَرَجَ مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ وَهُوَ يَظُنُّ أَنَّهُ قَدْ أَتَمَّهَا]

L5646 A case where a person exited his prayer while believing he has completed it.

302 - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَمَنْ خَرَجَ مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ وَهُوَ يَظُنُّ أَنَّهُ قَدْ أَتَمَّهَا؛ فَكُلُّ مَا عَمِلَ مِنْ بَيْعٍ، أَوْ شِرَاءٍ، أَوْ هِبَةٍ، أَوْ طَلَاقٍ، أَوْ نِكَاحٍ،

L5647 302 - Issue: If one leaves their prayer while presuming to have completed it, every action they perform—whether sale, purchase, gift, divorce, marriage, or other such matters—is void and rejected, for they are deemed to be in prayer. Were they to remember, they would return to it.

٣٠٢ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَمَنْ خَرَجَ مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ، وَهُوَ يَظُنُّ أَنَّهُ قَدْ أَتَمَّهَا فَكُلُّ عَمَلٍ عَمِلَهُ مِنْ بَيْعٍ أَوْ ابْتِيَاعٍ أَوْ هِبَةٍ أَوْ طَلَاقٍ أَوْ نِكَاحٍ أَوْ غَيْرِ ذَلِكَ -: فَهُوَ بَاطِلٌ مَرْدُودٌ؛ لِأَنَّهُ فِي حُكْمِ الصَّلَاةِ، وَلَوْ ذَكَرَ لَعَادَ إِلَيْهَا.

L5648 There is no disagreement that all these actions are prohibited during prayer. Therefore, any such action that occurs in this state is undeniably not an act that is permissible (jā'iz), required (lāzim), commanded (ma'mūr bihī), or neutral (mubāḥ). Since it is impermissible, it is undeniably impermissible.

وَلَا خِلَافَ فِي أَنَّ هَذِهِ الْأَفْعَالَ كُلَّهَا مُحَرَّمَةٌ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَكُلُّ مَا وَقَعَ مِنْهَا فِي هَذِهِ الْحَالِ فَهُوَ غَيْرُ الْفِعْلِ الْجَائِزِ اللَّازِمِ الْمَأْمُورِ بِهِ أَوْ الْمُبَاحِ بِلَا شَكٍّ -، وَإِذْ هُوَ غَيْرُ الْجَائِزِ فَهُوَ غَيْرُ جَائِزٍ بِلَا شَكٍّ.

L5649 The Messenger of Allah — peace and blessings be upon him — said: "Whoever performs an act not in accordance with our command, it is rejected." This is an act not in accordance with his command — peace be upon him — therefore, it is undoubtedly rejected.[10] وَقَدْ قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «مَنْ عَمِلَ عَمَلًا لَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ أَمْرُنَا فَهُوَ رَدٌّ» وَهَذَا عَمَلٌ لَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ أَمْرُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -؛ فَهُوَ مَرْدُودٌ بِلَا شَكٍّ.

L5650 If he recalls that he did not complete his prayer and performs any of those actions, it becomes incumbent upon him, for by his recollection and intention to perform what we mentioned, he exits the prayer. When he exits the prayer, he enters a state wherein all these actions take effect. Similarly, if he does this after the breaking of his ritual purity, those actions are also binding and take effect, because the breaking of his purity causes him to exit the prayer. Thus, these actions occur from him outside the prayer. And with Allah Almighty lies success.

فَلَوْ ذَكَرَ أَنَّهُ لَمْ يُتِمَّ صَلَاتَهُ فَفَعَلَ شَيْئًا مِنْ ذَلِكَ لَزِمَهُ؛ لِأَنَّ بِذِكْرِهِ وَقَصْدِهِ إِلَى عَمَلِ مَا ذَكَرْنَا خَرَجَ عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ؛ وَإِذَا خَرَجَ عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ فَقَدْ حَصَلَ فِي حَالٍ تَنْفُذُ فِيهَا هَذِهِ الْأَفْعَالُ كُلُّهَا؛ وَهَكَذَا أَيْضًا لَوْ فَعَلَ ذَلِكَ بَعْد انْتِقَاضِ طَهَارَتِهِ فَهِيَ أَيْضًا نَافِذَةٌ لَازِمَةٌ؛ لِأَنَّهُ بِانْتِقَاضِ طَهَارَتِهِ خَرَجَ عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ؛ فَوَقَعَ ذَلِكَ مِنْهُ فِي غَيْرِ الصَّلَاةِ -، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L5651 A case where a worldly thought crosses his mind, or he prays while persisting in a major sin.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ خَطَرَ عَلَى بَالِهِ شَيْءٌ دُنْيَوِيٌّ أَوْ صَلَّى مُصِرًّا عَلَى كَبِيرَةٍ]

L5652 Issue 303: Whoever has something from worldly matters or other matters - whether sinful or not - cross their mind, or prays while remaining unrepentant for major sins, their prayer remains complete and valid.

[10] Hadith references (L5649): Sahih Muslim 1718b; Riyad as-Salihin 1647; Riyad as-Salihin 169.

L5656 Abdullah ibn Rabee' narrated to us: Ibn al-Sulaym narrated to us: Ibn al-A'rabi narrated to us: Abu Dawud narrated to us: Muslim ibn Ibrahim narrated to us: Hisham - that is, al-Dastuwa'i - narrated to us from Qatadah from Zurarah ibn Awfa from Abu Hurayrah from the Prophet, peace and blessings be upon him, that he said: "Indeed Allah has overlooked for my Ummah what they did not speak of or act upon, and the things their souls whispered to them about."

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا ابْنُ السُّلَيْمِ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ ثنا هِشَامٌ هُوَ الدَّسْتُوَائِيُّ عَنْ قَتَادَةَ عَنْ زُرَارَةَ بْنِ أَوْفَى عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَنَّهُ قَالَ: «إِنَّ اللَّهَ تَجَاوَزَ لِأُمَّتِي مَا لَمْ تَتَكَلَّمْ بِهِ وَتَعْمَلْ بِهِ، وَبِمَا حَدَّثَتْ بِهِ أَنْفُسَهَا» .

L5657 We have previously mentioned the saying of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him): "Whoever intends to commit an evil deed but does not act upon it, it will not be written against him."

وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا قَبْلَ قَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «مَنْ هَمَّ بِسَيِّئَةٍ فَلَمْ يَعْمَلْهَا لَمْ تُكْتَبْ عَلَيْهِ» .

L5658 Thus, it is correct that all of that does not affect the prayer, and that nothing invalidates it except a statement intentionally directed toward it that is prohibited, an action similarly prohibited, or the deliberate intent to alter the intention commanded in the prayer—the intention without which prayer is invalid, namely the intention to perform that specific prayer by its name and specific instance. Therefore, whoever does not intend this with deliberate purpose, has he not prayed as he was commanded?

فَصَحَّ أَنَّ كُلَّ ذَلِكَ لَا يُؤَثِّرُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، وَأَنَّهُ لَا يُبْطِلُ الصَّلَاةَ إِلَّا قَوْلٌ مَقْصُودٌ إِلَيْهِ مَنْهِيٌّ عَنْهُ أَوْ عَمَلٌ كَذَلِكَ، أَوِ الْقَصْدُ إِلَى تَبْدِيلِ نِيَّةِ الصَّلَاةِ الْمَأْمُورِ بِهَا فِي الصَّلَاةِ، الَّتِي لَا تَصِحُّ الصَّلَاةُ إِلَّا بِهَا، وَهِيَ النِّيَّةُ لِأَدَاءِ تِلْكَ الصَّلَاةِ بِاسْمِهَا وَعَيْنِهَا، فَمَنْ لَمْ يَنْوِ كَذَلِكَ قَاصِدًا إِلَى ذَلِكَ فَلَمْ يُصَلِّ كَمَا أُمِرَ؟ .

L5659–5660 It has been narrated to us through Waki‘, from Hishām ibn ‘Urwah, from his father, who said: ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb said: “Am I calculating the jizyah of Bahrain while in prayer?”

L5661 The Almighty and Majestic has ordained repentance upon the disobedient and has commanded them to pray nevertheless. Allah the Exalted said: “Establish prayer at the two ends of the day and at the approach of the night. Indeed, good deeds erase evil deeds” (Quran 11:114).[11]

L5662 We know with certainty that He, the Exalted, specifically addressed this to those who persist in sin, for the repentant has no evil deed. And He, the Exalted, said: “We will set up the scales of justice for the Day of Resurrection, so no soul will be wronged at all” [Al-Anbiya 21:47].[12]

L5663 All of this constitutes consensus, except for a group—from the people of heretical innovations—who opposed the consensus by asserting: “The repentance of one who commits an evil deed is not accepted until he repents from every evil deed.” This necessitated that repentance not be accepted from one who intentionally abandons prayer, abandons zakāh, or abandons fasting. Yes, and not even from one who abandons Tawheed unless he repents from deliberately committing every evil deed. Thus, they ended up prescribing the abandonment of prayer, zakāh, fasting, and all righteous deeds—and this constitutes a departure from Islam. We seek refuge in Allah from being forsaken.

L5664 A legal case: When someone was riding on a mount and was able to perform prayer.

L5666 For he was commanded only to stand in prayer, bow, prostrate, sit, observe tranquility, and maintain upright posture in all these actions—along with facing the Kaaba without fail. If he fulfills each of these as required, has he prayed as he was commanded?

L5667–5669 The Messenger of Allah—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—said: "Wherever the prayer overtakes you, then pray," and there is nothing of these. The places in which prayer is prohibited.

L5670 It is utterly astonishing that one would prohibit prayer—as we mentioned—on mere pretext, despite there being no explicit textual prohibition against it, yet they permit prayer in camel enclosures, bathhouses, cemeteries, and [even] facing graves, while authentic texts explicitly forbid prayer in these very places.

L5671 If he is unable to complete the standing, bowing, prostration, sitting, or facing the Qiblah—in the circumstances we mentioned—it becomes obligatory for him to descend to the ground and pray as commanded, except when prevented by necessity such as fear for his life or property, in which case he should pray as he is able. Allah the Exalted said: "Allah does not burden a soul beyond its capacity" [Al-Baqarah: 286], "He has not placed upon you in the religion any hardship" [Al-Hajj: 78], and "Allah intends for you ease and does not intend for you hardship" [Al-Baqarah: 185].[13]

L5674 The proof of this is what we have cited from the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him): “Witr is one rakʿah at the end of the night.”

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ -: مَا قَدْ ذَكَرْنَا مِنْ قَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «الْوِتْرُ رَكْعَةٌ مِنْ آخِرِ اللَّيْلِ» .

L5675 Hammam narrated to us, from Ibn al-Mufarrij, from Ibn al-Aʿrabī, from al-Dabarī, from ʿAbd al-Razzāq, from Ibn Jurayj, from Sulaymān ibn Mūsā, from Nāfiʿ, from Ibn ʿUmar, who said: The Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, said, “When dawn breaks, all night prayers—including Witr—have ceased [to be valid]. Thus, perform Witr before morning arrives.”

L5676–5677 Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad al-Ṭalamankī narrated to us: Ibn Mufarrij narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Ayyūb al-Ṣamūt al-Raqqī narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn ʿAmr ibn ʿAbd al-Khāliq al-Bazzār narrated to us: Ṣāliḥ ibn Muʿādh narrated to us: Yaḥyā ibn Abī Bukayr narrated from Muʿāwiyah ibn Qurrah from al-Agharr al-Muzanī that the Messenger of Allāh—peace be upon him—said: “Whoever reaches dawn without having prayed Witr, then he has no Witr.” As for one who forgets it, he is included under the Prophet’s saying—peace be upon him—: “Whoever forgets a prayer or sleeps through it, he should pray it when he remembers.” This is a generality that applies to all obligatory and supererogatory prayers. For the obligatory prayer, it constitutes a binding obligation; and for the supererogatory prayer, it is a matter of recommendation and encouragement, because a supererogatory prayer does not become obligatory.

حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ الطَّلَمَنْكِيُّ ثنا ابْنُ مُفَرِّجٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ أَيُّوبَ الصَّمُوتُ الرَّقِّيُّ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَمْرِو بْنُ عَبْدِ الْخَالِقِ الْبَزَّارُ ثنا صَالِحُ بْنُ مُعَاذٍ ثنا يَحْيَى بْنُ أَبِي بُكَيْرٍ عَنْ مُعَاوِيَةَ بْنِ قُرَّةَ عَنْ الْأَغَرِّ الْمُزَنِيِّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: «مَنْ أَدْرَكَهُ الصُّبْحُ وَلَمْ يُوتِرْ فَلَا وِتْرَ لَهُ» . وَأَمَّا مَنْ نَسِيَهُ فَهُوَ دَاخِلٌ تَحْتَ قَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «مَنْ نَسِيَ صَلَاةً أَوْ نَامَ عَنْهَا فَلْيُصَلِّهَا إذَا ذَكَرَهَا» وَهَذَا عُمُومٌ يَدْخُلُ فِيهِ كُلُّ صَلَاةِ فَرْضٍ وَنَافِلَةٍ، فَهُوَ بِالْفَرْضِ أَمْرُ فَرْضٍ؛ وَهُوَ بِالنَّافِلَةِ أَمْرُ نَدْبٍ وَحَضٍّ؛ لِأَنَّ النَّافِلَةَ لَا تَكُونُ فَرْضًا.

L5678–5679 These narrations invalidate the opinion of those who say: “Whoever intentionally leaves the Witr prayer until dawn breaks should pray Witr,” and the opinion of those who say: “If one remembers the Witr prayer while performing the Fajr prayer, his prayer has indeed become invalid - unless he fears missing the Fajr prayer, in which case he should continue performing it and then begin with Witr.”

L5680 This is the opinion of Abū Ḥanīfah; and even though it contradicts the Sunnah, it is an opinion unsupported by evidence: neither through analogical reasoning nor through precaution, for it invalidates the obligatory act commanded to be fulfilled in favor of a supererogatory act. The Almighty has said: “Do not render your deeds void” (Surah Muḥammad 47:33).[14]

وَهَذَا قَوْلُ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ، وَهُوَ مَعَ خِلَافِهِ لِلسُّنَّةِ قَوْلٌ لَا دَلِيلَ عَلَيْهِ، لَا مِنْ نَظَرٍ وَلَا مِنْ احْتِيَاطٍ، لِأَنَّهُ يُبْطِلُ الْفَرْضَ الْمَأْمُورَ بِإِتْمَامِهِ مِنْ أَجْلِ نَافِلَةٍ؛ وَقَدْ قَالَ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ: {وَلا تُبْطِلُوا أَعْمَالَكُمْ} [محمد: ٣٣] .

Issue: Praying Witr before the Isha prayer.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ صَلَّى الْوِتْرَ قَبْلَ صَلَاةِ الْعَتَمَةِ]

306 - Issue: Whoever prays Witr before the ‘Isha prayer, it is invalid or annulled, because he performed Witr before its time. Prescribed acts are only valid during their appointed times, neither before nor after it. And success is from Allah, the Most High.

٣٠٦ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَمَنْ صَلَّى الْوِتْرَ قَبْلَ صَلَاةِ الْعَتَمَةِ فَهِيَ بَاطِلَةٌ أَوْ مُلْغَاةٌ، لِأَنَّهُ أَتَى بِالْوِتْرِ قَبْلَ وَقْتِهِ، وَالشَّرَائِعُ لَا تُجْزِئُ إِلَّا فِي وَقْتِهَا، لَا قَبْلَ وَقْتِهَا، وَلَا بَعْدَهُ، وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ؟ .

A legal question on the timing of the two rak’ahs of dawn.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ وَقْتُ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ]

307 - Issue: The time for the two rak’ahs of Fajr is from the emergence of the second dawn until the Fajr prayer is established—this is a matter uncontested by anyone in the Ummah.

٣٠٧ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَوَقْتُ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ مِنْ حِينِ طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ الثَّانِي إلَى أَنْ تُقَامَ صَلَاةُ الصُّبْحِ - هَذَا مَا لَا خِلَافَ فِيهِ مِنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ الْأُمَّةِ.

An issue regarding one who heard the iqamah of the dawn prayer.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ سَمِعَ إقَامَةَ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ]

308 - Issue: If someone hears the iqāmah for the dawn prayer and knows that if he engages in the two rak’ahs of Fajr, he will miss even part of the dawn prayer - even if it is the takbīr - it is not permissible for him to engage in performing them. If he does so, he has disobeyed Allah the Exalted.

٣٠٨ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: فَمَنْ سَمِعَ إقَامَةَ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ، وَعَلِمَ أَنَّهُ [إنْ] اشْتَغَلَ بِرَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ فَاتَهُ مِنْ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ وَلَوْ التَّكْبِيرُ -: فَلَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ أَنْ يَشْتَغِلَ بِهِمَا، فَإِنْ فَعَلَ فَقَدْ عَصَى اللَّهَ تَعَالَى.

If someone has begun performing the two Rak’ahs of Fajr and the congregational Fajr prayer is then called (with Iqamah), those two Rak’ahs are nullified. There is no benefit in him concluding those two Rak’ahs with Salām, even if all that remains for him to complete them is the Salām. Instead, he must join the Fajr prayer by commencing the Takbīr as it is [performed].

[14] Qur’an references (L5680): Qur’an 47:33 (Muhammad).

L5688–5689 When he completes the dawn prayer, he may perform the two rakʿahs if he wishes, or omit them if he prefers. This is the practice for anyone who has begun a voluntary prayer when the iqamah for the obligatory prayer is established upon them.

فَإِذَا أَتَمَّ صَلَاةَ الصُّبْحِ فَإِنْ شَاءَ رَكَعَهُمَا، وَإِنْ شَاءَ لَمْ يَرْكَعْهُمَا، وَهَكَذَا يَفْعَلُ كُلُّ مَنْ دَخَلَ فِي نَافِلَةٍ، وَأُقِيمَتْ عَلَيْهِ صَلَاةُ الْفَرِيضَةِ؟ .

L5690 Abu Hanifah said: Whoever enters the mosque when the iqamah for the dawn prayer has been called, if he hopes to catch one cycle of the dawn prayer with the Imam but will miss the other, let him pray the two cycles of dawn, then join the Imam.

وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: مَنْ دَخَلَ الْمَسْجِدَ، وَقَدْ أُقِيمَتْ الصَّلَاةُ لِلصُّبْحِ فَإِنْ طَمِعَ أَنْ يُدْرِكَ مَعَ الْإِمَامِ رَكْعَةً مِنْ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ تَفُوتُهُ أُخْرَى فَلْيُصَلِّ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ، ثُمَّ يَدْخُلُ مَعَ الْإِمَامِ.

L5691 If he fears he will not catch even one rak’ah with the Imam, he should begin by joining the Imam in prayer, and he should not make up the two rak’ahs of Fajr afterward.

L5692 Malik said: If one has entered the mosque and the iqāmah has been called for the prayer, or he finds the Imam already praying, he must not perform the two rakʿahs of Fajr. Rather, he should join the Imam. When the sun has risen, if he wishes, let him make them up.

وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: إنْ كَانَ قَدْ دَخَلَ الْمَسْجِدَ، وَأُقِيمَتْ الصَّلَاةُ أَوْ وَجَدَ الْإِمَامَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَلَا يَرْكَعُ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ، وَلَكِنْ يَدْخُلُ مَعَ الْإِمَامِ، فَإِذَا طَلَعَتْ الشَّمْسُ فَإِنْ شَاءَ فَلْيَقْضِهِمَا؟ .

L5693 As for if he is outside the mosque and becomes aware of the iqamah or that the imam is in prayer: if he anticipates catching one rak’ah with the imam, he should pray the two rak’ahs of Fajr outside the mosque, then enter with the imam. If he does not anticipate that, he should enter with the imam.

وَأَمَّا إنْ كَانَ خَارِجَ الْمَسْجِدِ فَعَلِمَ بِالْإِقَامَةِ أَوْ بِأَنَّ الْإِمَامَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ: فَإِنْ رَجَا أَنْ يُدْرِكَ مَعَ الْإِمَامِ رَكْعَةً فَلْيَرْكَعْ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ خَارِجَ الْمَسْجِدِ، ثُمَّ لِيَدْخُلْ مَعَ الْإِمَامِ، وَإِنْ لَمْ يَرْجُ ذَلِكَ فَلْيَدْخُلْ مَعَ الْإِمَامِ.

L5694 Al-Shafiʿi and Abu Sulaiman said—as we have said?—: ʿAli said, “We do not know of any argument for the opinion of Abu Hanifa and Malik: not from the Quran, nor from a sound Sunnah nor from an unsound one, nor from consensus, nor analogy, nor even the saying of a Companion—no basis at all.”

وَقَالَ الشَّافِعِيُّ وَأَبُو سُلَيْمَانَ كَمَا قُلْنَا؟ : قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: مَا نَعْلَمُ لِقَوْلِ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ وَمَالِكٍ حُجَّةً، لَا مِنْ قُرْآنٍ وَلَا مِنْ سُنَّةٍ صَحِيحَةٍ وَلَا سَقِيمَةٍ، وَلَا مِنْ إجْمَاعٍ، وَلَا مِنْ قِيَاسٍ، وَلَا مِنْ قَوْلِ صَاحِبٍ أَصْلًا.

L5695–5697 If they raise an objection by citing the report that Ibn Masʿūd entered the mosque after the Fajr prayer had commenced, whereupon he performed the two dawn rakʿahs; and that Ibn ʿUmar came to the mosque for Fajr prayer, found the Imam was praying, entered Hafṣa's chamber, performed two rakʿahs, then joined the Imam's prayer—Ibn Masʿūd did not differentiate between them. Nor did Ibn Umar adopt their categorization based on the hope of catching a rakʿah or the lack of such hope, nor have they ever found this attributed to any predecessor.

فَإِنْ شَغَبُوا بِأَنَّهُ قَدْ رُوِيَ عَنْ ابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ: أَنَّهُ دَخَلَ الْمَسْجِدَ وَقَدْ أُقِيمَتْ صَلَاةُ الصُّبْحِ فَرَكَعَ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ، وَعَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ أَنَّهُ أَتَى الْمَسْجِدَ لِصَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ فَوَجَدَ الْإِمَامَ يُصَلِّي فَدَخَلَ بَيْتَ حَفْصَةَ فَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ ثُمَّ دَخَلَ فِي صَلَاةِ الْإِمَامِ، فَلَمْ يُقَسِّمْ ابْنُ مَسْعُودٍ وَلَا ابْنُ عُمَرَ تَقْسِيمَهُمْ، مِنْ رَجَاءِ إدْرَاكِ رَكْعَةٍ أَوْ عَدَمِ رَجَاءِ ذَلِكَ، وَلَا يَجِدُونَ هَذَا عَنْ مُتَقَدِّمٍ أَبَدًا.

L5698 And what is established from Ibn ʿUmar is similar to our statement? If they say: "It has been reported from the Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him): 'Whoever catches one unit (rakʿah) of prayer with the Imam has indeed caught the prayer?'" وَالثَّابِتُ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ مِثْلُ قَوْلِنَا؟ ، فَإِنْ قَالُوا: قَدْ جَاءَ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «مَنْ أَدْرَكَ مَعَ الْإِمَامِ رَكْعَةً مِنْ الصَّلَاةِ فَقَدْ أَدْرَكَ الصَّلَاةَ» ؟ .

L5699 We said: Yes, this is correct. This specifically applies to one who missed the prayer and did not come [to join it] except when the Imam is leading it.

L5700 As for one who is present during the establishment of prayer yet refuses to join the Imam, or engages in Quranic recitation, remembrance of Allah the Exalted, or initiates voluntary prayer—: there is no disagreement among any two Muslims that he is disobedient to Allah the Exalted and mocks prayer. What then distinguishes this from being occupied with the two dawn rak'ahs, if they were fair?

وَأَمَّا مَنْ كَانَ حَاضِرًا لِإِقَامَةِ الصَّلَاةِ فَتَرَكَ الدُّخُولَ مَعَ الْإِمَامِ أَوْ اشْتَغَلَ بِقِرَاءَةِ قُرْآنٍ أَوْ بِذِكْرِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى أَوْ بِابْتِدَاءِ تَطَوُّعٍ -: فَلَا يَخْتَلِفُ اثْنَانِ مِنْ أَهْلِ الْإِسْلَامِ فِي أَنَّهُ عَاصٍ لِلَّهِ تَعَالَى مُتَلَاعِبٌ بِالصَّلَاةِ فَمَا الْفَرْقُ بَيْنَ هَذَا وَبَيْنَ اشْتِغَالِهِ بِرَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ لَوْ أَنْصَفُوا؟ .

L5701 If they pretend by claiming that Ibn Masʿūd did so, then say to them: As for the Mālikīs, they opposed him in this very action itself, for they did not deem it permissible for one who enters the mosque while the Imam is praying to engage in the two Rakʿahs of Fajr. Thus, they have no grounds to rely on Ibn Masʿūd.

فَإِنْ مَوَّهُوا بِأَنَّ ابْنَ مَسْعُودٍ قَدْ فَعَلَ ذَلِكَ؟ ، قِيلَ لَهُمْ: أَمَّا الْمَالِكِيُّونَ فَقَدْ خَالَفُوهُ فِي هَذَا الْفِعْلِ نَفْسِهِ، فَلَمْ يَرَوْا لِمَنْ دَخَلَ الْمَسْجِدَ، وَالْإِمَامُ يُصَلِّي أَنْ يَشْتَغِلَ بِرَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ، فَلَا مُتَعَلَّقَ لَهُمْ بِابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ.

L5702 As for the Ḥanafīs, they also opposed his practice in this matter and established a categorization not attributed to Ibn Masʿūd.

L5703 Ibn Masʿūd maintains the position of placing one hand over the other during prayer, while other scholars reject this practice.

وَابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ يَرَى التَّطْبِيقَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، وَهُمْ لَا يَرَوْنَهُ.

L5704 Ibn Masʿūd held that the mother of the child (umm al-walad) should not be emancipated except from her child's share of inheritance—yet they do not hold that view. They opposed Ibn Masʿūd in matters where he aligned with the Sunnah, and it is impermissible to oppose him. In cases where none of the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—are known to have disagreed with him, they opposed him in tens of cases; rather, they may well have opposed him in hundreds of cases. Regarding this specific issue, a group of the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—opposed Ibn Masʿūd, as we shall discuss afterward, if Allah the Almighty and Majestic wills.

فَلَمَّا عَرِيَ قَوْلُهُمْ مِنْ حُجَّةٍ أَصْلًا رَجَعْنَا إلَى قَوْلِنَا، فَوَجَدْنَا الْبُرْهَانَ عَلَى وُجُوبِهِ وَصِحَّتِهِ -: مَا حَدَّثَنَاهُ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا ابْنُ السُّلَيْمِ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ حَنْبَلٍ، وَمُسْلِمُ بْنُ إبْرَاهِيمَ، وَالْحَسَنُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ الْحُلْوَانِيُّ، وَمُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُتَوَكِّلِ: قَالَ (أَحْمَدُ) : ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ غُنْدَرٌ ثنا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ وَرْقَاءَ وَقَالَ (مُسْلِمٌ) : ثنا حَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ وَقَالَ (الْحَسَنُ) : ثنا يَزِيدُ بْنُ هَارُونَ،، وَأَبُو عَاصِمٍ قَالَ (يَزِيدُ) : عَنْ حَمَّادِ بْنِ زَيْدٍ عَنْ أَيُّوبَ السِّخْتِيَانِيِّ وَقَالَ (أَبُو عَاصِمٍ) : عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ وَقَالَ (مُحَمَّدٌ) : ثنا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ ثنا زَكَرِيَّا بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ -: ثُمَّ اتَّفَقَ وَرْقَاءُ، وَحَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ،، وَأَيُّوبُ السِّخْتِيَانِيُّ وَابْنُ جُرَيْجٍ، وَزَكَرِيَّا بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ كُلُّهُمْ عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ دِينَارٍ عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ يَسَارٍ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «إذَا أُقِيمَتْ الصَّلَاةُ فَلَا صَلَاةَ إلَّا الْمَكْتُوبَةُ» .

L5705–5706 When their argument was stripped of any foundational proof, we reverted to our position and found decisive evidence for its obligation and validity: What was narrated to us by ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ, who narrated from Ibn al-Sulaym, who narrated from Ibn al-Aʿrābī, who narrated from Abū Dāwūd, who narrated from Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, Muslim ibn Ibrāhīm, al-Ḥasan ibn ʿAlī al-Ḥulwānī, and Muḥammad ibn al-Mutawakkil. Aḥmad narrated: Muḥammad ibn Jaʿfar Ghundar narrated to us, from Shuʿbah, from Warqāʾ. Muslim narrated: Ḥammād ibn Salamah narrated to us. Al-Ḥasan narrated: Yazīd ibn Hārūn and Abū ʿĀṣim narrated to us. Yazīd narrated from Ḥammād ibn Zayd, from Ayyūb al-Sikhtiyānī. Abū ʿĀṣim narrated from Ibn Jurayj. Muḥammad narrated: ʿAbd al-Razzāq narrated to us, from Zakariyyā ibn Isḥāq. Their chains then converge via Warqāʾ, Ḥammād ibn Salamah, Ayyūb al-Sikhtiyānī, Ibn Jurayj, and Zakariyyā ibn Isḥāq—all narrating from ʿAmr ibn Dīnār, from ʿAṭāʾ ibn Yasār, from Abū Hurayrah, who said: The Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—said: "When the prayer is established, no prayer may be performed except the prescribed one."

L5707 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us from Abdul-Wahhab ibn Isa, who narrated to us from Ahmad ibn Muhammad, who narrated to us from Ahmad ibn Ali, who narrated to us from Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj, who narrated to us from Qutaybah, who narrated to us from Abu Awanah, on the authority of Sa'd ibn Ibrahim ibn Abd al-Rahman ibn Awf, from Hafs ibn Asim ibn Umar ibn al-Khattab, from Ibn Buhaynah—who was Abdullah ibn Malik—who said: "The iqamah for Fajr prayer was اللَّهِ بْنِ مَالِكٍ قَالَ: «أُقِيمَتْ صَلَاةُ الصُّبْحِ فَرَأَى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - رَجُلًا يُصَلِّي وَالْمُؤَذِّنُ يُقِيمُ فَقَالَ: أَتُصَلِّي الصُّبْحَ أَرْبَعًا؟» .

L5708–5710 And through him to Muslim: Zuhayr ibn Harb narrated to us, Marwan ibn Mu'awiyah al-Fazari narrated to us, from Asim al-Ahwal, from Abdullah ibn Sarjis, who said: "A man entered the mosque while the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) was in the prayer of…" In the early morning, he prayed two rak'ahs in a side area of the mosque, then entered along with the Messenger of Allah. When the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—uttered the taslīm (salutation of peace) to conclude the prayer, he said: "O so-and-so, which of the two prayers have you counted? Is it with your prayer alone or with your prayer with us?"

وَبِهِ إِلَى مُسْلِمٍ: ثنا زُهَيْرُ بْنُ حَرْبٍ ثنا مَرْوَانُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ الْفَزَارِيّ عَنْ عَاصِمٍ الْأَحْوَلِ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ سَرْجِسَ قَالَ: «دَخَلَ رَجُلٌ الْمَسْجِدَ وَرَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فِي صَلَاةِ الْغَدَاةِ، فَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ فِي جَانِبِ الْمَسْجِدِ، ثُمَّ دَخَلَ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ فَلَمَّا سَلَّمَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: يَا فُلَانُ، بِأَيِّ الصَّلَاتَيْنِ اعْتَدَدْتَ؟ أَبِصَلَاتِكَ وَحْدَكَ أَمْ بِصَلَاتِكَ مَعَنَا؟» .

L5711 And it has also been narrated to us through the chain of Ḥajjāj ibn al-Minhāl: Ḥammād ibn Salmah narrated to us and Ḥammād ibn Zayd narrated to us, both from ʿĀṣim al-Aḥwal from ʿAbdullāh ibn Sarjis in a similar report, and in which it is mentioned: that he prayed the two rakʿahs behind the people.

L5712 Muhammad ibn Saʿīd ibn Nubāt narrated to us: ʿAbdullāh ibn Naṣr narrated to us: Qāsim ibn Aṣbagh narrated to us: Ibn Waḍḍāḥ narrated to us: Mūsā ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us: Wakīʿ narrated from Ṣāliḥ ibn Rustum – who is Abū ʿĀmir al-Khazzāz – from Ibn Abī Mulaykah, from Ibn ʿAbbās, who said: "The prayer was established, and I had not yet prayed the two rakʿahs – meaning the Fajr prayer and the two rakʿahs of Fajr. Ibn ʿAbbās said: I stood to pray them, but he pulled me and said: 'Do you intend to pray Fajr as four rakʿahs?' It was said to Abū ʿĀmir: 'Did the Prophet – peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him – tug Ibn ʿAbbās?' He responded: 'Yes.'" whims has led some to assert there was confusion regarding ʿAmr ibn Dīnār's transmission of this ḥadīth, as Sufyān ibn ʿUyaynah, Ḥammād ibn Salamah, and Ḥammād ibn Zayd reported it from him while stopping the chain at Abū Hurayrah (mawqūf). Ali said: This is a matter wherein its proponent ought to first fear Allah Almighty and then feel ashamed before others. Secondly, he would not resort to such a disgraceful argument, because those who cite this as evidence explicitly state that the legal opinion of the Companion constitutes authoritative evidence, so even if we concede that it were not supported by a chain of transmission.

فَرَوَاهُ عَنْهُ سُفْيَانُ بْنُ عُيَيْنَةَ، وَحَمَّادُ بْنُ سَلَمَةَ، وَحَمَّادُ بْنُ زَيْدٍ فَأَوْقَفُوهُ عَلَى أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ. قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا مِمَّا كَانَ يَنْبَغِي لِقَائِلِهِ أَنْ يَتَّقِيَ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى أَوَّلًا ثُمَّ يَسْتَحْيِ مِنْ النَّاسِ ثَانِيَةً، وَلَا يَأْتِي بِهَذِهِ الْفَضِيحَةِ؛ لِأَنَّ الْمُحْتَجِّينَ بِهَذَا مُصَرِّحُونَ بِأَنَّ قَوْلَ الصَّاحِبِ حُجَّةٌ فَهَبْكَ لَوْ لَمْ يُسْنَدْ.

L5716 Should you not have preferred either the statement of Abū Hurayrah over that of Ibn Masʿūd or the statement of Ibn Masʿūd over that of Abū Hurayrah? How is this so when what was mentioned does not harm the ḥadīth in any way? For Ibn Jurayj, Ayyūb, and Zakariyyā ibn Isḥāq are not inferior to Sufyān ibn ʿUyaynah, Ḥammād ibn Salamah, and Ḥammād ibn Zayd. Moreover, how can this be when the one who narrated it via Ḥammād ibn Salamah's chain is more trustworthy and precise than the one who transmitted it as mawqūf? If Ayyūb had narrated it alone, he would have been a decisive proof over all of them—how much more so when all of that is authentic and true? Indeed, ʿAmr ibn Dīnār narrated it both from ʿAṭāʾ through Abū Hurayrah as a direct transmission from the Messenger of Allāh (ṣallā Allāhu ʿalayhi wa-sallam) and from ʿAṭāʾ through Abū Hurayrah as his own fatwa—thus did he narrate it through all these means?

أَمَا كَانَ يَجِبُ أَنْ تُرَجِّحَ إمَّا قَوْلَ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَلَى قَوْلِ ابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ، أَوْ قَوْلَ ابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ عَلَى قَوْلِ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ؟ فَكَيْفَ وَلَيْسَ مَا ذُكِرَ مِمَّا يَضُرُّ الْحَدِيثَ شَيْئًا لِأَنَّ ابْنَ جُرَيْجٍ، وَأَيُّوبَ وَزَكَرِيَّا بْنَ إسْحَاقَ لَيْسُوا بِدُونِ سُفْيَانَ بْنِ عُيَيْنَةَ، وَحَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ، وَحَمَّادِ بْنِ زَيْدٍ فَكَيْفَ وَالَّذِي أَسْنَدَهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ أَوْثَقُ، وَأَضْبَطُ مِنْ الَّذِي أَوْقَفَهُ عَنْهُ، وَأَيُّوبُ لَوْ انْفَرَدَ لَكَانَ حُجَّةً عَلَى جَمِيعِهِمْ؛ فَكَيْفَ وَكُلُّ ذَلِكَ حَقٌّ، وَهُوَ أَنَّ عَمْرَو بْنَ دِينَارٍ رَوَاهُ عَنْ عَطَاءٍ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَعَنْ عَطَاءٍ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّهُ أَفْتَى بِهِ، فَحَدَّثَ بِهِ عَلَى كُلِّ ذَلِكَ؟ .

L5717 Then, even if the narration of Abu Huraira had not been transmitted at all, the narrations of Ibn Sirjis, Ibn Buhaynah, and Ibn Abbas would suffice for one who sincerely reforms himself, abstains from following his desires in blindly adhering to those who cannot avail him anything from Allah, and avoids supporting falsehood with whatever frivolous speech is possible.

ثُمَّ لَوْ لَمْ يَأْتِ حَدِيثُ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَصْلًا لَكَانَ فِي حَدِيثِ ابْنِ سَرْجِسَ وَابْنِ بُحَيْنَةَ وَابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ كِفَايَةٌ لِمَنْ نَصَحَ نَفْسَهُ، وَلَمْ يَتَّبِعْ هَوَاهُ فِي تَقْلِيدِ مَنْ لَا يُغْنِي عَنْهُ مِنْ اللَّهِ شَيْئًا، وَنَصْرِ الْبَاطِلِ بِمَا أَمْكَنَ مِنْ الْكَلَامِ الْغَثِّ؟ .

L5718 How could it be otherwise, given that we have been narrated through the most authentic transmission path from al-Zuhri—from Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyib and from Abū Salama ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAwf, both of whom narrated from Abū Hurayra—from the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him), who said: "When you hear the iqāmah, proceed to the prayer with calmness and dignity. Do not rush; whatever portion you catch up with, pray, and whatever you miss, make up."

- قَالَ: «إِذَا سَمِعْتُمُ الْإِقَامَةَ فَامْشُوا إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ وَعَلَيْكُمُ السَّكِينَةُ وَالْوَقَارُ وَلَا تُسْرِعُوا فَمَا أَدْرَكْتُمْ فَصَلُّوا وَمَا فَاتَكُمْ فَأَتِمُّوا» .

L5719 Thus, this is an obligation to join the Imam in whatever state he is found, and a prohibition against engaging in anything that distracts from this obligation.

فَهَذَا فَرْضٌ لِلدُّخُولِ مَعَ الْإِمَامِ كَيْفَمَا وُجِدَ، وَتَحْرِيمٌ لِلِاشْتِغَالِ بِشَيْءٍ عَنْ ذَلِكَ.

L5720–5722 Some of them raised another frivolous objection regarding the ḥadīth of Ibn Sarjis and Ibn Buḥaynah, claiming: "Perhaps the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him—disapproved only of his praying those two prayers while mixing them among the people." ʿAlī responded: "This is sheer falsehood and brazen shamelessness, for the ḥadīth itself [states that he did not]..." They should only pray them behind the congregation in a corner of the mosque, just as they command those who follow their false innovations. How then—even if this were not the case—could it expose the lie of this claimant through the words of Allah's Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him): "Which of the two prayers have you counted - your prayer alone or your prayer with us?" and "Do you pray dawn as four rak'ahs?" For it is an impossible falsehood that the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) would utter these words to him, when he only criticized him for praying the two rak'ahs while joining the congregation and continuing with them. Yet he (peace and blessings be upon him) remains silent about the condemned act he disapproved, while emphasizing wording not explicitly mentioned. Allah the Exalted has safeguarded His Prophet from this incoherence unbecoming of anyone possessing dignity, except those who propagate such baseless claims.[16]

وَاعْتَرَضَ بَعْضُهُمْ فِي حَدِيثِ ابْنِ سَرْجِسَ وَابْنِ بُحَيْنَةَ بِضَحِكَةٍ أُخْرَى، وَهِيَ أَنْ قَالَ: لَعَلَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إِنَّمَا أَنْكَرَ عَلَيْهِ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَهُمَا مُخْتَلِطًا بِالنَّاسِ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا كَذِبٌ مُجَرَّدٌ، وَمُجَاهَرَةٌ سَمِجَةٌ، لِأَنَّ فِي الْحَدِيثِ نَفْسِهِ [أَنَّهُ لَمْ] يُصَلِّهِمَا إِلَّا خَلْفَ النَّاسِ فِي جَانِبِ الْمَسْجِدِ، كَمَا يَأْمُرُونَ مَنْ قَلَّدَهُمْ فِي بَاطِلِهِمْ فَكَيْفَ وَلَوْ لَمْ يَكُنْ هَذَا لَكَانَ مِمَّا يُوَضِّحُ كَذِبَ هَذَا الْقَائِلِ قَوْلُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «بِأَيِّ الصَّلَاتَيْنِ اعْتَدَدْتَ؟ أَبِصَلَاتِكَ وَحْدَكَ أَمْ بِصَلَاتِكَ مَعَنَا؟» وَ «أَتُصَلِّي الصُّبْحَ أَرْبَعًا؟» لِأَنَّ مِنَ الْبَاطِلِ الْمُمْتَنِعِ أَنْ يَقُولَ [لَهُ] النَّبِيُّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - هَذَا الْقَوْلَ، وَهُوَ لَمْ يُنْكِرْ عَلَيْهِ إِلَّا صَلَاتَهُ الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ مُخْتَلِطًا بِالنَّاسِ [وَمُتَّصِلًا بِهِمْ] فَيَسْكُتُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - عَمَّا أَنْكَرَ مِنَ الْمُنْكَرِ وَيَهْتِفُ بِمَا لَمْ يَذْكُرْ مِنْ لَفْظِهِ، وَقَدْ أَعَاذَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى نَبِيَّهُ عَنْ هَذَا التَّخْلِيطِ الَّذِي لَا يَلِيقُ بِذِي مَسْكَةٍ إِلَّا بِمِثْلِ مَنْ أَطْلَقَ هَذَا؟ .

L5723 Moreover, it is a mere false assumption, and there is no difference between one who says this and one who says: Perhaps the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—only censured him because he was without ablution, or because he was wearing a silk garment? Such assumptions pose no challenge to those who trivialize lying in religious matters and against the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him.

L5724 If it is asked: "He (peace be upon him) did not mention anything of this?" It is answered: Neither did he mention mingling with people nor his engagement with them. He solely emphasized his disapproval of the prayer performed, while he only prayed the Fajr prayer.

وَأَيْضًا: فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى يَقُولُ مُنْكِرًا عَلَى مَنْ فَعَلَ مَا أَنْكَرَهُ عَلَيْهِ {أَتَسْتَبْدِلُونَ الَّذِي هُوَ أَدْنَى بِالَّذِي هُوَ خَيْرٌ} [البقرة: ٦١] وَلَا يَخْتَلِفُ اثْنَانِ فِي أَنَّ الْفَرِيضَةَ خَيْرٌ مِنْ النَّافِلَةِ، وَهُمْ يَأْمُرُونَهُ بِأَنْ يَسْتَبْدِلَ النَّافِلَةَ الَّتِي هِيَ أَدْنَى بِبَعْضِ الْفَرِيضَةِ الَّذِي هُوَ خَيْرٌ مِنْ النَّافِلَةِ، مَعَ مَعْصِيَتِهِمْ السُّنَنَ الَّتِي أَوْرَدْنَا وَبِمَا قُلْنَاهُ يَقُولُ جُمْهُورٌ مِنْ السَّلَفِ: كَمَا رُوِّينَا عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ جَابِرٍ عَنْ الْحَسَنِ بْنِ مُسَافِرٍ عَنْ سُوَيْدِ بْنِ غَفَلَةَ أَنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ كَانَ يَضْرِبُ النَّاسَ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ بَعْدَ الْإِقَامَةِ.

L5725 Moreover, Allah the Exalted says, rebuking those who did what He condemned: "Would you exchange what is inferior for what is better?" [Al-Baqarah: 61]. No two disagree that the obligatory act is superior to the voluntary. Yet they command him to substitute part of the obligatory act—which is better than the voluntary—with the voluntary act that is inferior, alongside their disobedience to the Sunnahs we have mentioned. As for what we have said, the majority of the Salaf state this, as we have narrated from ʿAbd al-Razzāq from Sufyān al-Thawrī from Jābir from al-Ḥasan ibn Musāfir from Suwayd ibn Ghaflah: that ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb would strike people for praying after the iqāmah had been called.[17] وَعَنْ مَعْمَرٍ عَنْ أَيُّوبَ السِّخْتِيَانِيِّ عَنْ نَافِعٍ: أَنَّ ابْنَ عُمَرَ رَأَى رَجُلًا يُصَلِّي وَالْمُؤَذِّنُ يُقِيمُ فَقَالَ لَهُ ابْنُ عُمَرَ: أَتُصَلِّي الصُّبْحَ أَرْبَعًا؟ وَعَنْ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ الْفُضَيْلِ بْنِ غَزْوَانٍ عَنْ نَافِعٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ: أَنَّهُ جَاءَ إلَى الْقَوْمِ وَهُمْ فِي صَلَاةِ الْغَدَاةِ وَلَمْ يُصَلِّ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ، فَدَخَلَ مَعَهُمْ فَلَمَّا ضَحَّى قَامَ فَصَلَّاهُمَا. وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ: إذَا أُقِيمَتْ الصَّلَاةُ فَلَا صَلَاةَ إلَّا الْمَكْتُوبَةَ؟ . وَعَنْ مَعْمَرٍ: عَنْ أَيُّوبَ السِّخْتِيَانِيِّ قَالَ: كَانَ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سِيرِينَ يَكْرَهُ أَنْ تُصَلَّى رَكْعَتَا الْفَجْرِ عِنْدَ إقَامَةِ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ، قَالَ: أَتُصَلِّيهِمَا وَقَدْ فُرِضَتْ الصَّلَاةُ؟ .

L5726–5727 From Ma'mar from Ayyub al-Sikhtiyani from Nafi': Ibn Umar saw a man praying while the caller was giving the iqamah. Ibn Umar said to him, "Are you praying Fajr as four units?" From Waki' from al-Fudayl ibn Ghazwan from Nafi' from Ibn Umar: He came upon people performing the Fajr prayer while he had not prayed the two units of Fajr. He joined them, and when he prayed Ḍuḥā, he stood and prayed those two units. From Abu Hurairah: "When the prayer is established, there is no prayer except the prescribed one." From Ma'mar from Ayyub al-Sikhtiyani, who said: Muhammad ibn Sirin disliked praying the two units of Fajr at the time of the iqamah for the Fajr prayer. He said, "Are you praying them when the prayer has been established?"

وَبِهِ إلَى مَعْمَرٍ: عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ طَاوُسٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ: أَنَّهُ كَانَ إذَا أُقِيمَتْ الصَّلَاةُ وَلَمْ يَرْكَعْ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ صَلَّى مَعَ الْإِمَامِ، فَإِذَا فَرَغَ رَكَعَهُمَا بَعْدَ الصُّبْحِ.

L5728 And through him to Maʿmar: From ʿAbdullāh ibn Ṭāwūs, from his father, that if the iqāmah was called and he had not performed the two rakʿahs of Fajr, he would pray with the Imam. Then, when he concluded, he would perform them after the morning prayer.

[17] Qur'an references (L5725): Qur'an 2:61 (Al-Baqarah).

L5729 From Abd al-Razzaq, from Sufyan al-Thawri, from Mansur ibn al-Muʿtamir, from Ibrahim al-Nakhaʿi: Regarding one who finds the Imam praying and has not performed the two rakʿahs of Fajr, he said: One should begin with the obligatory prayer.

وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ مَنْصُورِ بْنِ الْمُعْتَمِرِ عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ النَّخَعِيِّ: فِي الَّذِي يَجِدُ الْإِمَامَ يُصَلِّي وَلَمْ يَرْكَعْ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ، قَالَ: يَبْدَأُ بِالْمَكْتُوبَةِ.

L5730 From Abd al-Razzaq, from Ibn Jurayj, that Amr ibn Dinar informed him that Safwan ibn Mawhab informed him that he heard Muslim ibn Uqayl saying to the people while they were praying after the iqamah had been established: "Woe unto you! No prayer [is valid] once the iqamah has been established for the prayer."

وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ أَنَّ عَمْرَو بْنَ دِينَارٍ أَخْبَرَهُ أَنَّ صَفْوَانَ بْنَ مَوْهَبٍ أَخْبَرَهُ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ مُسْلِمَ بْنَ عُقَيْلٍ يَقُولُ لِلنَّاسِ وَهُمْ يُصَلُّونَ وَقَدْ أُقِيمَتْ الصَّلَاةُ: وَيْلَكُمْ، لَا صَلَاةَ إِذَا أُقِيمَتْ الصَّلَاةُ.

L5731–5733 From ʻAbd al-Razzaq and ʻAbd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi, both from Sufyan al-Thawri, from Mansur ibn al-Muʻtamir, from Fudayl [from Saʻid ibn Jubayr that he said: "Should you cut off your prayer when the iqāmah is called?" And from ʻImad ibn Salamah from Hisham] ibn ʻUrwah, who said: A nephew of ʻUrwah came wanting to pray the two rakʻahs of Fajr while the muʼadhdhin was calling the iqāmah; so ʻUrwah rebuked him. Thus, it is established that if one begins performing the supererogatory two rakʼahs of Fajr, Witr, or other than these two, and the iqamah for Fajr prayer or another [obligatory] prayer is called, the prayer he was engaged in is invalidated, according to the explicit texts we have mentioned?

L5734 If it is said: Allah the Exalted has stated, "And do not invalidate your deeds" [47:33], we respond: Yes, this is true—but what invalidated them? For even if one were to intentionally invalidate them, he would be sinful. However, Allah the Almighty invalidated them against him, just as they are invalidated by ritual impurity or by the occurrence of what nullifies prayer, such as its interruption, and similar things.[18] فَإِنْ قِيلَ: قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {وَلا تُبْطِلُوا أَعْمَالَكُمْ} [محمد: ٣٣] . قُلْنَا: نَعَمْ هَذَا حَقٌّ، وَمَا هُوَ أَبْطَلَهَا، وَلَوْ تَعَمَّدَ إبْطَالَهَا لَكَانَ مُسِيئًا، وَلَكِنَّ اللَّهَ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ أَبْطَلَهَا عَلَيْهِ كَمَا تَبْطُلُ بِالْحَدَثِ، وَبِمُرُورِ مَا يُبْطِلُ الصَّلَاةَ مُرُورُهُ وَنَحْوِ ذَلِكَ؟ .

L5735 As for making up the two rakʼahs, this is based on the Prophet's statement (peace be upon him): "Whoever sleeps through a prayer or forgets it, let him perform it when he remembers it," and this constitutes a general principle.

وَأَمَّا قَضَاءُ الرَّكْعَتَيْنِ فَلِقَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «مَنْ نَامَ عَنْ صَلَاةٍ أَوْ نَسِيَهَا فَلْيُصَلِّهَا إذَا ذَكَرَهَا» ، وَهَذَا عُمُومٌ.

L5736 Hammām narrated to us: ʿAbbās ibn Aṣbagh narrated to us, from Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Malik ibn Ayman, from Ibn Waḍḍāḥ, from Yaḥyā ibn Maʿīn, from Marwān ibn Muʿāwiyah al-Fazārī, from Yazīd ibn Kaysān, from Abū Ḥāzim, from Abū Hurayrah: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—slept through the two rakʿahs of Fajr, so he prayed them after the sun had risen." Thus, he—peace be upon him—did not begin with them before the obligatory prayer?

حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّامٌ ثنا عَبَّاسُ بْنُ أَصْبَغَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَيْمَنَ ثنا ابْنُ وَضَّاحٍ ثنا يَحْيَى بْنُ مَعِينٍ ثنا مَرْوَانُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ الْفَزَارِيّ عَنْ يَزِيدَ بْنِ كَيْسَانَ عَنْ أَبِي حَازِمٍ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ: «أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - نَامَ عَنْ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ، فَصَلَّاهُمَا بَعْدَ مَا طَلَعَتْ الشَّمْسُ» فَهَذَا - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لَمْ يَبْدَأْ بِهِمَا قَبْلَ الْفَرْضِ؟ .

L5737 [And through him to Ibn Ayman] Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad al-Burtī, the judge, narrated to us: Al-Ḥasan ibn Dhakwān narrated from ʿAṭāʾ ibn Abī Rabāḥ from a man among the Anṣār who said: "The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) saw a man praying two rakʿahs after dawn. The man said: 'O Messenger of Allah, I did not pray the two rakʿahs of Fajr, so I prayed them now.' The Prophet (peace be upon him) did not say to him anything."

[وَبِهِ إلَى ابْنِ أَيْمَنَ] ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ الْبِرْتِيّ الْقَاضِي ثنا الْحَسَنُ بْنُ ذَكْوَانَ عَنْ عَطَاءِ بْنِ أَبِي رَبَاحٍ عَنْ رَجُلٍ مِنْ الْأَنْصَارِ قَالَ: «رَأَى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - رَجُلًا يُصَلِّي بَعْدَ الْغَدَاةِ رَكْعَتَيْنِ، فَقَالَ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ، لَمْ أَكُنْ صَلَّيْت رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ، فَصَلَّيْتُهُمَا الْآنَ؟ فَلَمْ يَقُلْ [لَهُ]- عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - شَيْئًا.»

L5738–5739 And from the narration of Waki' through Fuḍayl ibn Marzūq from 'Aṭiyyah, who said: "I saw Ibn 'Umar [praying them—meaning he prayed the two rak'ahs of Fajr when the Imam prayed]." From Ibn Jurayj through 'Aṭā': "If you miss praying them before dawn, then pray them after dawn."

وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ فُضَيْلِ بْنِ مَرْزُوقٍ عَنْ عَطِيَّةَ قَالَ: رَأَيْت ابْنَ عُمَرَ [صَلَّاهُمَا -: صَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ حِينَ صَلَّى الْإِمَامُ. وَعَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ عَنْ عَطَاءٍ: إذَا أَخْطَأْت] أَنْ تَرْكَعَهُمَا قَبْلَ الصُّبْحِ فَارْكَعْهُمَا بَعْدَ الصُّبْحِ.

L5740–5742 ʿAbd al-Razzāq said: I saw Ibn Jurayj praying the two Sunnah rakʿahs of Fajr in the mosque of Ṣanʿā' after the imam had uttered the taslīm. This is also the view of Tāwūs and others; if one deliberately neglects them until the prayer is established, there is no way for him to... Its compensatory performance is required because its time has passed—, and with Allah, the Exalted, lies the granting of success.

قَالَ عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ: رَأَيْت ابْنَ جُرَيْجٍ يَرْكَعُ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ فِي مَسْجِدِ صَنْعَاءَ بَعْدَ مَا سَلَّمَ الْإِمَامُ. وَبِهِ يَقُولُ طَاوُسٌ وَغَيْرُهُ؛ فَلَوْ تَعَمَّدَ تَرْكَهَا إلَى أَنْ تُقَامَ الصَّلَاةُ فَلَا سَبِيلَ لَهُ إلَى قَضَائِهَا؛ لِأَنَّ وَقْتَهَا قَدْ خَرَجَ -، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L5743 A case: someone who slept through the Fajr prayer or forgot it until the sun had risen.

L5744 309 - Issue: If someone oversleeps the Fajr prayer or forgets it until the sun rises, it is preferable for them to begin with the two rak'ahs of Fajr, then the Fajr prayer, as the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) did in the narration of Abū Qatādah. We have mentioned this with its chain of transmission in the chapter on supererogatory prayers after the rising of the sun, before it, and at its setting.

- فِي حَدِيثِ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ. وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَاهُ بِإِسْنَادِهِ فِي بَابِ التَّطَوُّعِ بَعْدَ طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ وَقَبْلَهُ وَعِنْدَ غُرُوبِهَا.

L5745 This is the position held by Abū Ḥanīfah, Sufyān al-Thawrī, al-Shāfiʿī, Dāwūd, and their companions. Mālik did not hold this view, and we know of no evidence supporting his opinion, as it contradicts what is authentically established from the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him.

وَبِهَذَا يَقُولُ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ، وَسُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ، وَالشَّافِعِيُّ، وَدَاوُد، وَأَصْحَابُهُمْ وَلَمْ يَرَ ذَلِكَ مَالِكٌ - وَمَا نَعْلَمُ لِقَوْلِهِ حُجَّةً؛ لِأَنَّهُ خِلَافُ الثَّابِتِ عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -.

L5746 Issue: Speaking is permissible before the Fajr prayer and after it.

[مَسْأَلَةُ الْكَلَامُ قَبْلَ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ مُبَاحٌ وَبَعْدَهَا]

L5747 310 – Issue: Speaking before the dawn prayer is permissible, and after it. However, Abū Ḥanīfah considered it disliked since the breaking of dawn until sunrise. ʿAlī said: This is invalid, for neither the Quran nor the Sunnah has prohibited it. Thus, these two times are like all other periods regarding this matter, with no distinction.

٣١٠ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَالْكَلَامُ قَبْلَ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ مُبَاحٌ وَبَعْدَهَا: وَكَرِهَهُ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ مُذْ يَطْلُعُ الْفَجْرُ إلَى أَنْ تَطْلُعَ الشَّمْسُ -: قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: هَذَا بَاطِلٌ؛ لِأَنَّهُ لَمْ يَمْنَعْ مِنْ ذَلِكَ قُرْآنٌ وَلَا سُنَّةٌ، فَهَذَانِ الْوَقْتَانِ فِي ذَلِكَ كَسَائِرِ الْأَوْقَاتِ وَلَا فَرْقَ.

L5748 Allah, the Exalted, has prohibited speech only during prayer and the Friday sermon (Khutbah), and has permitted it in other instances. {And whoever transgresses the limits set by Allah has indeed wronged his own soul} [At-Talaq: 1].[19]

وَإِنَّمَا مَنَعَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى مِنْ الْكَلَامِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ وَحِينَ حُضُورِ الْخُطْبَةِ فَقَطْ، وَأَبَاحَهُ فِيمَا عَدَا ذَلِكَ {وَمَنْ يَتَعَدَّ حُدُودَ اللَّهِ فَقَدْ ظَلَمَ نَفْسَهُ} [الطلاق: ١]

L5749 Scenario: A man entered into a mosque, assuming his family had performed the obligatory prayer within its time.

[مَسْأَلَةُ دَخَلَ فِي مَسْجِدٍ فَظَنَّ أَنَّ أَهْلَهُ قَدْ صَلَّوْا صَلَاةَ الْفَرْضِ فِي وَقْتِهَا]

L5750 311. Issue: If someone enters a mosque assuming the congregation has already performed the obligatory prayer whose time is still current, or if he is among those not bound by the obligation of congregational prayer, and he begins praying, then the iqāmah for the prayer is called - he is obligated to continue from his initial takbīr and join them in the congregational prayer. If he has already prayed one rakʿah or more of it, the same applies. When he completes his prayer, he must sit and wait for the imam's salām, then pronounce the salām with him.

٣١١ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَمَنْ دَخَلَ فِي مَسْجِدٍ فَظَنَّ أَنَّ أَهْلَهُ قَدْ صَلَّوْا صَلَاةَ الْفَرْضِ الَّتِي هُوَ فِي وَقْتِهَا، أَوْ كَانَ مِمَّنْ لَا يَلْزَمُهُ فَرْضُ الْجَمَاعَةِ فَابْتَدَأَ فَأُقِيمَتْ الصَّلَاةُ -: فَالْوَاجِبُ أَنْ يَبْنِيَ عَلَى تَكْبِيرِهِ وَيَدْخُلَ مَعَهُمْ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، فَإِنْ كَانَ قَدْ صَلَّى مِنْهَا رَكْعَةً فَأَكْثَرَ فَكَذَلِكَ، فَإِذَا أَتَمَّ هُوَ صَلَاتَهُ جَلَسَ وَانْتَظَرَ سَلَامَ الْإِمَامِ فَسَلَّمَ مَعَهُ.

[19] Qur'an references (L5748): Qur'an 65:1 (At-Talaq).

L5751 The proof of this is that he commenced prayer as commanded, and whoever fulfills what is commanded has done rightly. Almighty Allah states: "There is no blame upon the righteous" [Quran 9:91]. Thus, being in this state, if he subsequently finds an imam, it becomes obligatory for him to follow him—based on the Messenger of Allah's declaration (peace and blessings be upon him): "The imam is appointed solely to be followed," and his censure (peace and blessings be upon him) of one who prays individually while the imam leads the congregation. This is impermissible unless explicitly sanctioned by the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him).[20]

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ -: أَنَّهُ ابْتَدَأَ الصَّلَاةَ كَمَا أُمِرَ، وَمَنْ فَعَلَ مَا أُمِرَ فَقَدْ أَحْسَنَ، وَقَدْ قَالَ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ: {مَا عَلَى الْمُحْسِنِينَ مِنْ سَبِيلٍ} [التوبة: ٩١] فَإِذْ هُوَ كَذَلِكَ ثُمَّ وَجَدَ إِمَامًا فَفَرْضٌ عَلَيْهِ أَنْ يَأْتَمَّ بِهِ؛ لِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «إِنَّمَا جُعِلَ الْإِمَامُ لِيُؤْتَمَّ بِهِ» ؛ وَلِإِنْكَارِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - عَلَى مَنْ صَلَّى لِنَفْسِهِ، وَالْإِمَامُ يُصَلِّي بِالنَّاسِ؛ فَهَذَا لَا يَجُوزُ إِلَّا حَيْثُ أَجَازَهُ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَقَطْ.

L5752–5754 And this applies only to one who was excused, for whom the Imam alone prolonged the prayer, as we will mention in its chapter, if... Allah, the Exalted, has willed, and it is not harmful for one to pronounce the Takbir before his Imam if his Takbir is valid. Our opponents permit a scenario where someone pronounces the Takbir, then the Imam appoints a successor, allowing another person who pronounced the Takbir afterward to follow this successor, even though the successor's own follower had already pronounced the Takbir before him.

L5755 It has been narrated to us through the chain of ʿAbd al-Razzāq from Sufyān al-Thawrī, from al-Mughīrah ibn Miqsam and al-Aʿmash - both from Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī - that he said regarding a man who entered a mosque thinking people had already prayed, so he prayed two rakʿahs of the obligatory prayer, then the iqāmah was established. Ibrāhīm said: "He should join the imam, pray two rakʿahs, then conclude with the salām, and treat the remaining two as voluntary prayers." It was said to Ibrāhīm: "Do you know of anyone who does this?" He replied: "Verily, this was done by [those before you]."

L5756 Ali said: This is a narration concerning the Companions - may Allah be pleased with them - and the eminent Followers - may Allah have mercy on them. It has been transmitted to us from a group of the Followers - may Allah be pleased with them - that they maintained the position that if one initiated a voluntary prayer and the obligatory prayer was then established while they were engaged in it, they should enter into the prescribed prayer by linking their voluntary prayer to it. Since they deemed this permissible in voluntary prayer, they considered it unquestionably more obligatory in the prescribed prayer without doubt. Among those who held this view were Nāfiʿ ibn Jubayr ibn Muṭʿim, al-Ḥasan, Qatādah, and others.

[20] Qur'an references (L5751): Qur'an 9:91 (At-Tawbah).

بِهَا، فَإِذَا رَأَوْا ذَلِكَ فِي التَّطَوُّعِ فَهُوَ عِنْدَهُمْ فِي الْمَكْتُوبَةِ أَوْجَبُ بِلَا شَكٍّ: مِنْهُمْ نَافِعُ بْنُ جُبَيْرِ بْنِ مُطْعِمٍ، وَالْحَسَنُ، وَقَتَادَةُ وَغَيْرُهُمْ.

وَلَيْسَ هَذَا قِيَاسًا، بَلْ هُوَ بَابٌ وَاحِدٌ، وَنَتِيجَةُ بُرْهَانٍ وَاحِدٍ كَمَا ذَكَرْنَا - وَلَا يَحِلُّ ذَلِكَ عِنْدَنَا فِي التَّطَوُّعِ، لِمَا ذَكَرْنَا قَبْلُ [مِنْ] انْقِطَاعِهَا إِذَا أُقِيمَتْ الصَّلَاةُ -، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L5757 This is not analogy; rather, it is a single chapter and the conclusion of a single proof, as we mentioned—and that is not permissible in our school regarding supererogatory prayers due to what we previously mentioned from their cessation when the iqāmah is established—and with Allah, the Exalted, is success.

L5758 The Issue of the Concluding Salam Before the Imam.

٣١٢ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَلَا يَجُوزُ أَنْ يُسَلِّمَ قَبْلَ الْإِمَامِ إِلَّا لِعُذْرٍ، مِثْلَ أَنْ يَكُونَ بَدَأَ فِي قَضَاءِ صَلَاةٍ فَائِتَةٍ أَوْ بَدَأَهَا فِي آخِرِ وَقْتِهَا ثُمَّ أُقِيمَتْ صَلَاةُ الْفَرْضِ فِي وَقْتِهَا، فَإِنَّ هَذَا يَأْتَمُّ بِالْإِمَامِ فِي صَلَاتِهِ الَّتِي هُوَ فِيهَا، فَإِذَا أَتَمَّهَا سَلَّمَ ثُمَّ دَخَلَ خَلْفَ الْإِمَامِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ الَّتِي الْإِمَامُ فِيهَا، فَإِذَا سَلَّمَ الْإِمَامُ قَامَ فَقَضَى مَا بَقِيَ عَلَيْهِ مِنْهَا؟ ؛ لِأَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إنَّمَا قَالَ: «إذَا أُقِيمَتْ الصَّلَاةُ فَلَا صَلَاةَ إلَّا الْمَكْتُوبَةَ» وَالَّتِي دَخَلَ فِيهَا مَكْتُوبَةٌ؛ فَلَا يَجُوزُ لَهُ قَطْعُهَا.

L5759–5761 Issue 312: It is not permissible to utter the taslim before the Imam except for a valid excuse, such as having started performing a missed prayer or begun it at the very end of its prescribed time, whereupon the obligatory prayer is then established within its proper time; in this case, the individual should follow the Imam. If one is praying with the imam in the prayer he is performing, upon completing it he should say the salām, then join the imam in the prayer he is leading. When the imam says the salām, he should rise and complete what remains of his prayer. This is because the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) specifically said: "When the prayer is established, no prayer may be performed except the prescribed one," and the prayer he has joined is a prescribed prayer. Thus, it is impermissible for him to interrupt it.

L5762 It is not permissible for one to oppose the imam due to the Prophet's prohibition—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—against this in his saying, "Which of your two prayers do you consider valid?" censuring those who did so; and due to his statement—peace be upon him—"The imam is a shield, so do not oppose him." When one completes their prayer, it becomes obligatory to follow the imam in the prayer being led by him. There is no means to do this except through the salam, so he must utter the salam without fail. Alternatively, if he is a traveler joining a resident's prayer and fears misunderstanding from ignorant people should he remain seated awaiting the imam's salam, he must necessarily utter the salam due to compulsion. He should then follow the imam in voluntary prayer, or in analogous situations. Success is attained through Allah, the Most High.

L5763 A legal question regarding one obligated to perform congregational prayer who had not despaired of joining it [before its conclusion].

L5764 Issue 313: If a person obligated to attend congregational prayer - and who still hopes to catch it - begins performing the obligatory prayer, and then the prayer is commenced with the iqamah, the prayer he initiated becomes null and void; it does not count for him. He must join the established congregational prayer. There is no validity in his completing the prayer he began, as he is no longer in a state of prayer.

L5765 The proof of this is the statement of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him): "Whoever does a deed that is not in accordance with our teachings, then it is rejected."[21]

L5766 And this [prayer in congregation] was an obligation upon him, as we shall mention in its chapter - Allah, the Exalted, willing. If he fails to perform it, he has indeed done a deed not commanded by Allah, the Exalted; is it not invalid?

L5767–5768 [Chapter on the Call to Prayer] [Issue: It is prohibited to give the call to prayer for any prayer before its time enters, except for the Dawn prayer alone.]

L5769 Issue 314: It is not permissible to call the adhān for any prayer before its prescribed time begins except for the Fajr prayer alone. It is permissible to call the adhān for it before the emergence of the second dawn by a duration sufficient for the caller to complete his adhān, descend from the minaret or elevated place, and allow another caller to ascend. The dawn emerges before

L5770 It is not permissible for the call to prayer to be made before the time we have mentioned. It has been narrated to us through the chain of Muḥammad ibn al-Muthannā from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Muḥammad al-Muḥāribī from Ismāʿīl ibn Muslim: I said to al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī, "O Abā Saʿīd, a man gives the call to prayer before dawn to wake people up?" He became angry and said, "Obstinate idlers! Had ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb caught them, he would have made their sides sore. Whoever gives the call to prayer before dawn - indeed, the people of that mosque prayed with the iqāmah alone, with no call to prayer in it."

L5772–5773 From Wakīʿ via Sharīk via ʿAlī ibn ʿAlī via Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī, who said: Alqamah ibn Qays heard a Mu'adhdhin calling the adhān prematurely at night, so he remarked: "This person has opposed a practice from the Sunnah of the Companions of Allah's Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him). Had he slept on his bed, it would have been better for him?" Through another chain via Zubayd al-Yamī from Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī, who said: "When a Mu'adhdhin called the adhān at night, they would tell him: 'Fear Allah and repeat your call.'" ʿAlī commented: "This account relates to the Companions (may Allah be pleased with them) and the eminent Followers." It was transmitted to us via Abū Dāwūd's chain: Ayyūb ibn Manṣūr narrated to us, Shuʿayb ibn Ḥarb narrated to us from ʿAbd al-ʿAzīz ibn Abī Rawād from Nāfiʿ, the freed slave of Ibn ʿUmar (may Allah be pleased with him), from a Mu'adhdhin of ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb (may Allah be pleased with him) named Masrūḥ, who called the adhān before dawn. ʿUmar then ordered him to proclaim: "Listen! The servant has slept!" Through another chain via ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī from Sufyān al-Thawrī from Abū Isḥāq al-Sabīʿī from al-Aswad ibn Yazīd, who said: "I asked ʿĀ'ishah, the Mother of the Believers: 'When do you pray Witr?' She replied: 'Between the adhān and the iqāmah, for they would not give the adhān until dawn had broken.'"

L5774–5776 And through the chain of Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān: ʿUbayd Allāh ibn ʿUmar narrated to us, informing me from Nāfiʿ, who said: "They would not give the call to prayer until dawn appeared." These are the statements of the authorities of the people of Medina: ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb, ʿĀ'ishah the Mother of the Believers, Nāfiʿ, and others. They are more worthy of being followed than those who came after them, who found a practice whose origin is unknown, and it is impermissible to claim its transmission through tawātur in such a matter at all. For the narrations from these reliable authorities invalidate these. The claim that is not valid, and no one is unable to assert it?

L5777 The position we have cited is that of Abū Ḥanīfah and Sufyān al-Thawrī. Mālik, al-Awzāʿī, and al-Shāfiʿī hold the view: The adhan for the Fajr prayer is given before dawn, while for other prayers it is only given after the time begins.

L5778 Ali said: These individuals have cited the authentic narrations that Bilal used to perform the adhan at night. Ali said: This is correct, except that—as we mentioned—it was neither the canonical adhan for prayer nor given long before dawn. Another person would perform the adhan after the onset of dawn.

L5779 The evidence for this is what was narrated to us by ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAbd Allāh ibn Khālid, from Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad, from al-Farbarī, from al-Bukhārī, from Aḥmad ibn Yūnus, from Zuhayr ibn Muʿāwiyah, from Sulaymān al-Taymī, from Abū ʿUthmān al-Nahdī, from ʿAbd Allāh ibn Masʿūd, that the Prophet—peace be upon him—said: "Let not Bilāl's call prevent any of you from taking suhoor, for he gives the call to prayer or announces at night to signal those awake to prepare, and to rouse those who are asleep."

L5780–5782 Abdullah ibn Rabee' narrated to us, on the authority of Muhammad ibn Mu'awiyah, who narrated from Ahmad ibn Shu'ayb, from Ya'qub ibn Ibrahim, from Hafs, from ‘Ubaydullah ibn ‘Umar, from al-Qasim ibn Muhammad ibn Abi Bakr al-Siddiq, from ‘Aishah Umm al-Mu’minin, who said: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “When Bilal gives the adhan, then eat.” “And drink until Ibn Umm Maktum gives the call to prayer?” I said: “There was nothing between them except that the one would descend and the other ascend.”

L5783 Abdullah ibn Rabi’ narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Ishaq ibn as-Sulaym narrated to us, from Ibn al-A’rabi, from Abu Dawud Musa ibn Isma’il, from Hammad ibn Salamah, from Ayyub as-Sikhtiyani, from Nafi’, from Ibn Umar, who said: “Bilal gave the call to prayer before dawn had broken, so the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) commanded him to return and proclaim: ’Verily, the servant has slept! Verily, the servant has slept!’ He therefore returned and proclaimed: ’Verily, the servant has slept!’”

L5784 Narrated by ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn ‘Abd Allāh al-Hamdānī, narrated by Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad al-Balkhī, narrated by al-Farabrī, narrated by al-Bukhārī, narrated by Quṭaybah, narrated by Ismā‘īl ibn Ja‘far from Ḥumayd from Anas: “When the Prophet—may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him—led us in battle against a people, he would not initiate an attack until dawn had broken and he had waited to ascertain. If he heard the adhān, he would hold back from them, but if he did not hear the adhān, he would attack them.” ‘Alī said: “This confirms that the adhān for the [Fajr] prayer is not permissible to occur before dawn.”

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ الْهَمْدَانِيُّ ثنا إبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ الْبَلْخِيُّ ثنا الْفَرَبْرِيُّ ثنا الْبُخَارِيُّ ثنا قُتَيْبَةُ ثنا إسْمَاعِيلُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ عَنْ حُمَيْدٍ عَنْ أَنَسٍ «أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - كَانَ إذَا غَزَا بِنَا قَوْمًا لَمْ يَكُنْ يُغِيرُ بِنَا حَتَّى يُصْبِحَ وَيَنْظُرَ، فَإِنْ سَمِعَ أَذَانًا كَفَّ عَنْهُمْ، وَإِنْ لَمْ يَسْمَعْ أَذَانًا أَغَارَ عَلَيْهِمْ» . قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَصَحَّ أَنَّ الْأَذَانَ لِلصَّلَاةِ لَا يَجُوزُ أَنْ يَكُونَ قَبْلَ الْفَجْرِ.

L5785 We have also narrated it through the chain of Hafsah and Aisha—the two Mothers of the Believers—thus constituting a tawātur transmission that necessitates definitive knowledge.

L5786 And from Malik ibn al-Huwayrith and Salamah al-Jarmi—also transmitted with a connected chain—it has never been established in any of the narrations from the Companions they invoked as evidence, nor in others, that the Prophet (peace be upon him) deemed that call sufficient for the dawn prayer.

L5792 فَإِنْ قَالُوا: لَا نُجِيزُ ذَلِكَ إِلَّا فِي آخِرِ اللَّيْلِ؟ قِيلَ لَهُمْ: وَمِنْ أَيْنَ لَكُمْ هَذَا؟ وَلَيْسَ هَذَا فِي شَيْءٍ مِنَ الْأَخْبَارِ إِلَّا الْخَبَرَ الَّذِي أَخَذْنَا بِهِ، وَهُوَ الَّذِي فِيهِ تَحْدِيدُ وَقْتِ ذَلِكَ الْأَذَانِ، وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

Rather, in all such accounts and others, there was another call to prayer after dawn. The proponents of analogy—as they claim—include among their senior scholars those who say: "Analogy takes precedence over a solitary report (khabar al-wāḥid)."

L5787–5789 And here, they abandoned applying the juridical analogy of the adhan for other prayers to Fajr, nor did they rely on any report. Primarily—neither valid nor invalid—that this call to prayer suffices for the latter part of the dawn prayer.

L5790 Ali said: And it is said to those who hold that the call to prayer for dawn prayer suffices when performed before dawn: "Inform us of the earliest time within the night when the call to prayer for it becomes valid." If they find no defined boundary in this matter, it becomes incumbent upon them to validate it following sunset—since this is undeniably nighttime—yet do they not hold this view? If they were to say: "The earliest period within the night when the call to prayer for dawn prayer suffices is following the first half of the night," or if they were to say: "It is at the beginning of the final third of the night?"

L5791 We said to them: This claim requires evidence, and it is impermissible to assert such a thing about Allah the Exalted in His religion. Yet they say: The time for the ʿAtamah prayer (Isha) extends until the break of dawn, and they hold that a menstruating woman who becomes pure before dawn may pray the Isha prayer during the latter part of its time and Maghrib. Thus, they permit the adhan for Fajr prayer during the ʿAtamah prayer time. On what basis do they arbitrarily restrict this to only a portion of the ʿAtamah prayer's duration rather than its entirety? Moreover, what about the time for Maghrib prayer as well?

L5792 If they say, "We do not permit this except at the end of the night?" it is said to them: "From where do you derive this? This is not mentioned in any of the narrations except the one we have relied upon, which specifies the timing of that call to prayer. And success is from Allah, the Exalted."

L5793 A juristic issue: The prescribed prayer performed in a congregation of two or more does not suffice unless accompanied by the adhan and the iqamah.

L5794–5796 Issue 315: A prescribed prayer performed in congregation (two or more people) is not valid without the adhan. And an iqamah (whether the prayer is performed within its prescribed time or made up due to sleep or forgetfulness, whenever it is made up) - travel and residing are treated equally in all such cases. If they pray any of those prayers without an adhan or iqamah, their prayer is invalid, except for Dhuhr and Asr at Arafah and Maghrib and Atamah at Muzdalifah. These two prayers are combined with a separate adhan for each prayer and one iqamah for both prayers together, based on the narrations concerning this.

L5797 Abd al-Rahman ibn Abdullah ibn Khalid narrated to us: Ibrahim ibn Ahmad narrated to us: al-Farbarī narrated to us: al-Bukhari narrated to us: Muhammad ibn al-Muthanna narrated to us: Abd al-Wahhab—he is Ibn Abd al-Majid al-Thaqafi—narrated to us: Ayyub—he is al-Sikhtiyani—narrated to us from Abu Qilabah: Malik ibn al-Huwayrith said: "We came to the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—and he recounted the hadith, in which he—peace and blessings be upon him—said to them: 'Return to your families, dwell among them, teach them, and instruct them. Pray as you have seen me pray. When the time for prayer arrives, let one of you give the call to prayer, and let the eldest among you lead you in prayer.'"

L5798 We have also narrated it through a chain of transmission of utmost authenticity from Hammad ibn Zayd, from Ayyub al-Sakhtiyani, that 'Amr ibn Salamah al-Jarmi reported from his father—who was the delegate of his people to the Prophet, peace and blessings be upon him—that the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, said to him: "Pray such-and-such prayer [at such-and-such time] and pray such-and-such prayer at such-and-such time. When the prayer time arrives, let one of you call the adhan for you, and let the one who has memorized the most Qur'an lead you in prayer."

L5799–5800 Ali said: The obligation of the adhan was established as indispensable by these two reports, and it is only to be performed after the prayer's time has commenced, applying generally to every prayer. The iqamah is likewise included in this ruling.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: فَصَحَّ بِهَذَيْنِ الْخَبَرَيْنِ وُجُوبُ الْأَذَانِ وَلَا بُدَّ، وَأَنَّهُ لَا يَكُونُ إِلَّا بَعْدَ حُضُورِ الصَّلَاةِ فِي وَقْتِهَا، عُمُومًا لِكُلِّ صَلَاةٍ، وَدَخَلَتْ الْإِقَامَةُ فِي هَذَا الْأَمْرِ.

L5801 As narrated to us by ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ via Ibn al-Sulaym, via Ibn al-Aʿrābī, via Abū Dāwūd, via ʿAbdullāh ibn Muḥammad al-Nufaylī, via Ibn ʿUlayyah (i.e., Ismāʿīl), via al-Jurayrī, via ʿAbdullāh ibn Buraydah, via ʿAbdullāh ibn Mughaffal, who said: The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said, "Between every two adhāns there is a ṣalāh for whoever wishes."

كَمَا حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا ابْنُ السُّلَيْمِ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ النُّفَيْلِيُّ ثنا ابْنُ عُلَيَّةَ هُوَ إِسْمَاعِيلُ عَنْ الْجُرَيْرِيِّ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ بُرَيْدَةَ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ مُغَفَّلٍ قَالَ: قَالَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «بَيْنَ كُلِّ أَذَانَيْنِ صَلَاةٌ لِمَنْ شَاءَ» .

L5802 Moreover, it has been authentically established that he—peace be upon him—commanded Bilal to make the iqamah odd-numbered, as we will mention after this, if Allah, the Exalted, wills?

، وَأَيْضًا فَقَدْ صَحَّ «أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - أَمَرَ بِلَالًا بِأَنْ يُوتِرَ الْإِقَامَةَ» كَمَا نَذْكُرُ بَعْدَ هَذَا إنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى؟ .

L5803 Abd al-Rahman ibn Abdullah narrated to us: Ibrahim ibn Ahmad narrated: al-Farbari narrated: al-Bukhari narrated: Muhammad ibn Yusuf—he is al-Firyabi—narrated: Sufyan—he is al-Thawri—narrated from Khalid al-Khaddā' from Abu Qilabah from Malik ibn al-Huwayrith, who said: "Two men came to the Prophet (peace be upon him) intending to travel. The Prophet (peace be upon him) said: 'When you depart, let both of you give the call to prayer (adhan), then let both of you establish the iqamah, then let the eldest of you lead the prayer.'"

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ ثنا إبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ ثنا الْفَرَبْرِيُّ ثنا الْبُخَارِيُّ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ يُوسُفَ هُوَ الْفِرْيَابِيُّ ثنا سُفْيَانُ هُوَ الثَّوْرِيُّ - عَنْ خَالِدٍ الْحَذَّاءِ عَنْ أَبِي قِلَابَةَ عَنْ مَالِكِ بْنِ الْحُوَيْرِثِ قَالَ: «أَتَى رَجُلَانِ إلَى النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يُرِيدَانِ السَّفَرَ؟ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إذَا خَرَجْتُمَا فَأَذِّنَا ثُمَّ أَقِيمَا ثُمَّ لِيَؤُمَّكُمَا أَكْبَرُكُمَا» .

L5804 If it is said: "This applies only during travel?" We reply: "No, rather it pertains to departure." This entails departing from him (peace be upon him) due to their two matters. All of this constitutes a general ruling applicable to every obligatory prayer—whether missed (as we mentioned) or unmissed.

فَإِنْ قِيلَ: إنَّمَا هَذَا فِي السَّفَرِ؟ قُلْنَا: لَا، بَلْ فِي الْخُرُوجِ، وَهَذَا يَقْتَضِي الْخُرُوجَ مِنْ عِنْدِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لِشَأْنِهِمَا، وَهَذَا كُلُّهُ عُمُومٌ لِكُلِّ صَلَاةِ فَرْضٍ مَقْضِيَّةٍ - كَمَا ذَكَرْنَا - أَوْ غَيْرِ مَقْضِيَّةٍ.

L5805–5807 And there has also come in this regard a clarification that dispels obfuscation and ambiguity, as narrated to us by ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ, who narrated to us Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah, who narrated to us Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb, who narrated to us ʿAmr ibn ʿAlī, who narrated to us Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān, who narrated to us Ibn Abī Dhiʾb, who narrated to us Saʿīd ibn Abī Saʿīd al-

وَقَدْ جَاءَ فِي هَذَا أَيْضًا بَيَانٌ يَرْفَعُ التَّمْوِيهَ وَالْإِيهَامَ كَمَا حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ شُعَيْبٍ أَنَا عَمْرُو بْنُ عَلِيٍّ ثنا يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْقَطَّانُ ثنا ابْنُ أَبِي ذِئْبٍ ثنا سَعِيدُ بْنُ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْمَقْبُرِيُّ عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ أَبِي سَعِيدٍ الْخُدْرِيِّ عَنْ

Maqburī, from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Saʿīd al-Khudrī, from his father, who said: “The polytheists occupied us to the point that we missed the Dhuhr prayer until the sun had set on the day of the Battle of the Trench.” He said: “That was before the revelation about fighting—[what was sent down]—was revealed. Then Allah, the Most High, revealed: {And Allah sufficed the believers against fighting} [Al-Aḥzāb:25]. Thereupon, the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—commanded Bilāl to call the Adhān for Zuhr, and he prayed it at its time; then he called the Adhān for Asr and prayed it at its time; then he called the Adhān for Maghrib and prayed it at its time?” ʿAlī said: “This narration is superior to all others reported regarding this incident, and accepting the additional narration is obligatory.”[22]

أَبِيهِ قَالَ: «شَغَلَنَا الْمُشْرِكُونَ عَنْ صَلَاةِ الظُّهْرِ حَتَّى غَرُبَتْ الشَّمْسُ يَوْمَ الْخَنْدَقِ، قَالَ: وَذَلِكَ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَنْزِلَ فِي الْقِتَالِ [مَا نَزَلَ] فَأَنْزَلَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {وَكَفَى اللَّهُ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ الْقِتَالَ} [الأحزاب: ٢٥] فَأَمَرَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - بِلَالًا فَأَذَّنَ لِلظُّهْرِ فَصَلَّاهَا فِي وَقْتِهَا، ثُمَّ أَذَّنَ لِلْعَصْرِ فَصَلَّاهَا فِي وَقْتِهَا ثُمَّ أَذَّنَ لِلْمَغْرِبِ فَصَلَّاهَا فِي وَقْتِهَا؟» قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا الْخَبَرُ زَائِدٌ عَلَى كُلِّ خَبَرٍ وَرَدَ فِي هَذِهِ الْقِصَّةِ، وَالْأَخْذُ بِالزِّيَادَةِ وَاجِبٌ.

L5808 It was narrated to us from ʿAbd al-Razzāq who narrated to us from Ibn Jurayj: I said to ʿAṭāʾ, “I prayed individually but forgot to perform the iqāmah for it.” He replied, “Repeat your prayer from the beginning: perform the iqāmah properly, then repeat the prayer.” Through the chain of Muḥammad ibn al-Muthannā: Ibn Fuḍayl narrated to us from Layth ibn Abī Sulaym from Mujāhid, who said: “If you forget the iqāmah during a journey, repeat the prayer.”

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ: قُلْت لِعَطَاءٍ: صَلَّيْتُ لِنَفْسِي الصَّلَاةَ فَنَسِيتُ أَنْ أُقِيمَ لَهَا؟ قَالَ: عُدْ لِصَلَاتِك أَقِمْ لَهَا ثُمَّ أَعِدْ، وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْمُثَنَّى: ثنا ابْنُ فُضَيْلٍ عَنْ لَيْثِ بْنِ أَبِي سُلَيْمٍ عَنْ مُجَاهِدٍ قَالَ: إذَا نَسِيتَ الْإِقَامَةَ فِي السَّفَرِ فَأَعِدْ الصَّلَاةَ.

L5809 Among those who affirmed the obligation of the adhan and iqamah as a binding religious duty were Abu Sulayman and his companions. We know of no valid argument whatsoever for those who deny its obligatory nature. If there were no evidence beyond the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—declaring lawful the blood of those among whom no adhan was heard, their wealth, and their captives, this alone would suffice to establish its obligatory nature as a duty. This represents a definitively established Ijma (consensus of scholars) from all the Companions who were with him—may Allah be pleased with them—without doubt. This is the indisputably authentic consensus, not the spurious claims anyone might assert if not restrained by piety or moral restraint—and success comes solely from Allah, the Exalted.

وَمِمَّنْ قَالَ بِوُجُوبِ الْأَذَانِ وَالْإِقَامَةِ فَرْضًا: أَبُو سُلَيْمَانَ، وَأَصْحَابُهُ، وَمَا نَعْلَمُ لِمَنْ لَمْ يَرَ ذَلِكَ فَرْضًا حُجَّةً أَصْلًا " وَلَوْ لَمْ يَكُنْ إلَّا اسْتِحْلَالُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - دِمَاءَ مَنْ لَمْ يَسْمَعْ عِنْدَهُمْ أَذَانًا، وَأَمْوَالَهُمْ وَسَبْيَهُمْ -: لَكَفَى فِي وُجُوبِ فَرْضِ ذَلِكَ -، وَهُوَ إجْمَاعٌ مُتَيَقَّنٌ مِنْ جَمِيعِ مَنْ كَانَ مَعَهُ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ - بِلَا شَكٍّ، فَهَذَا هُوَ الْإِجْمَاعُ الْمَقْطُوعُ عَلَى صِحَّتِهِ لَا الدَّعَاوَى الْكَاذِبَةُ الَّتِي لَا يَعْجِزُ أَحَدٌ عَنْ ادِّعَائِهَا، إذَا لَمْ يَرْدَعْهُ عَنْ ذَلِكَ وَرَعٌ أَوْ حَيَاءٌ - وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

[22] Qur’an references (L5805): Qur’an 33:25 (Al-Ahzab).

A legal issue: One praying alone is not required to perform the call to prayer (adhan) nor the preparatory call (iqamah).

Issue 316: A person praying alone is not required to perform the adhan or iqamah. If he performs the adhan and iqamah, it is commendable [because the textual evidence only establishes the obligation of the adhan for two or more individuals, and we said: "If he does so, it is commendable"], since he has remembered Allah the Exalted and may call others to prayer... Perhaps it is heard by the believing jinn; thus, it is only permissible during the specified time.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ لَا يَلْزَمُ النِّسَاءَ فَرْضًا حُضُورُ الصَّلَاةِ الْمَكْتُوبَةِ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ]

A legal issue: Women are not obligated as a compulsory duty to attend the obligatory prayers in congregation.

٣١٧ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَلَا يَلْزَمُ النِّسَاءَ فَرْضًا حُضُورُ الصَّلَاةِ الْمَكْتُوبَةِ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ، وَهَذَا لَا خِلَافَ فِيهِ.

Issue 317: Women are not obligated as a compulsory duty to attend congregational obligatory prayers, and there is no disagreement on this matter.

وَلَا يَجُوزُ أَنْ تَؤُمَّ الْمَرْأَةُ الرَّجُلَ وَلَا الرِّجَالَ، وَهَذَا مَا لَا خِلَافَ فِيهِ، وَأَيْضًا فَإِنَّ النَّصَّ قَدْ جَاءَ بِأَنَّ الْمَرْأَةَ تَقْطَعُ صَلَاةَ الرَّجُلِ إِذَا فَاتَتْ أَمَامَهُ.

It is not permissible for a woman to lead a man or men in prayer, and there is no disagreement regarding this matter. Furthermore, the textual evidence states that a woman nullifies a man's prayer if she passes directly in front of him during prayer.

عَلَى مَا نَذْكُرُ بَعْدَ هَذَا فِي بَابِهِ إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى، مَعَ قَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - «الْإِمَامُ جُنَّةٌ» وَحُكْمُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - بِأَنْ تَكُونَ وَرَاءَ الرَّجُلِ وَلَا بُدَّ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، وَأَنَّ الْإِمَامَ يَقِفُ أَمَامَ الْمَأْمُومِينَ لَا بُدَّ أَوْ مَعَ الْمَأْمُومِ فِي صَفٍّ وَاحِدٍ عَلَى مَا نَذْكُرُ إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى فِي مَوَاضِعِهِ - وَمِنْ هَذِهِ النُّصُوصِ يَثْبُتُ بُطْلَانُ إِمَامَةِ الْمَرْأَةِ لِلرَّجُلِ، وَلِلرِّجَالِ يَقِينًا

Based on what we will mention afterward in its chapter, God willing, the Exalted, along with his statement, peace be upon him—"The Imam is a shield"—and his ruling, peace be upon him, that she must necessarily stand behind a man in prayer, and that the Imam must necessarily stand in front of the followers or necessarily in the same row as the followers, as we will mention, God willing, the Exalted, in its respective places—from these texts, the invalidity of a woman leading a man or men is established with certainty.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ حَضَرَتْ الْمَرْأَةُ الصَّلَاةَ مَعَ الرِّجَالِ]

A case where a woman attended the prayer with men.

318 - Issue: If a woman attends prayer with men, it is acceptable, for it is authentically established that women used to attend prayers with the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—and he approved of it.

٣١٨ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: فَإِنْ حَضَرَتْ الْمَرْأَةُ الصَّلَاةَ مَعَ الرِّجَالِ فَحَسَنٌ؛ لِمَا قَدْ صَحَّ مِنْ أَنَّهُنَّ كُنَّ يَشْهَدْنَ الصَّلَاةَ مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَهُوَ عَالِمٌ بِذَلِكَ.

L5820 Issue: The women prayed in congregation, and a woman from among them led them in prayer.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ صَلَّيْنَ جَمَاعَةً وَأَمَّتْهُنَّ امْرَأَةٌ مِنْهُنَّ]

L5821 If women pray in congregation with one of them leading them, this is good, for no scriptural evidence prohibits it, nor does one woman invalidate another's prayer, as per the Messenger of Allah's saying (peace be upon him): "The best rows for women are the last ones."

٣١٩ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: فَإِنْ صَلَّيْنَ جَمَاعَةً، وَأَمَّتْهُنَّ امْرَأَةٌ مِنْهُنَّ فَحَسَنٌ؛ لِأَنَّهُ لَمْ يَأْتِ نَصٌّ يَمْنَعُهُنَّ مِنْ ذَلِكَ، وَلَا يَقْطَعُ بَعْضُهُنَّ صَلَاةَ بَعْضٍ؛ لِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «خَيْرُ صُفُوفِ النِّسَاءِ آخِرُهَا» .

L5822 It was narrated to us through the chain of Abdur-Rahman ibn Mahdi from Sufyan al-Thawri, from Maysarah ibn Habib al-Nahdi—he is Abu Khazim—from Raytah al-Hanafiyyah: that Aisha, the Mother of the Believers, led them in the prescribed prayer.

[رُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ مَهْدِيٍّ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ] عَنْ مَيْسَرَةَ بْنِ حَبِيبٍ النَّهْدِيِّ هُوَ أَبُو خَازِمٍ - عَنْ رَيْطَةَ الْحَنَفِيَّةِ: أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ أُمَّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ أَمَّتْهُنَّ فِي صَلَاةٍ الْفَرِيضَةِ.

L5823–5824 From Yahya ibn Sa'id al-Qattan from Ziyad ibn Lahiq from Tamimah bint Salamah from Aisha, the Mother of the Believers: that she led women in the obligatory Maghrib prayer, stood among them, and recited the Quran aloud. And from Abd al-Razzaq from Sufyan al-Thawri from Ammar al-Duhni from Hujayrah bint Husayn, who said: Umm Salamah, the Mother of the Believers, led us in the Asr prayer and stood among us. And from Yahya ibn Sa'id al-Qattan from Sa'id ibn Abi Arubah from Qatadah from Umm al-Hasan ibn Abi al-Hasan — her name is Khayrah, trustworthy and well-known — who narrated to them: that Umm Salamah, the Mother of the Believers, used to lead them in prayer during Ramadan and would stand among them in the row.

L5825–5827 And from Abd al-Razzaq from Ibn Jurayj: Yahya ibn Sa'id al-Ansari informed me that Aisha, the Mother of the Believers, used to lead women [in voluntary prayers], standing in the middle of their row. And from Abd al-Razzaq from

وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ: أَخْبَرَنِي يَحْيَى بْنُ سَعِيدٍ الْأَنْصَارِيُّ أَنَّ عَائِشَةَ أُمَّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ كَانَتْ تَؤُمُّ النِّسَاءَ [فِي التَّطَوُّعِ] وَتَقُومُ وَسْطَهُنَّ فِي الصَّفِّ؟ وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ

عَنْ إِبْرَاهِيمَ بْنِ مُحَمَّدٍ عَنْ دَاوُد بْنِ الْحُصَيْنِ عَنْ عِكْرِمَةَ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: تَؤُمُّ الْمَرْأَةُ النِّسَاءَ فِي التَّطَوُّعِ تَقُومُ وَسْطَهُنَّ؟ وَرُوِيَ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ: أَنَّهُ كَانَ يَأْمُرُ جَارِيَةً لَهُ تَؤُمُّ [نِسَاءَهُ] فِي لَيَالِي رَمَضَانَ. وَمِنْ التَّابِعِينَ: [رُوِّينَا] عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ عَنْ عَطَاءٍ، وَعَنْ ابْنِ مُجَاهِدٍ عَنْ أَبِيهِ، عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ إبْرَاهِيمَ النَّخَعِيِّ وَالشَّعْبِيِّ، وَعَنْ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ الرَّبِيِّعِ عَنْ الْحَسَنِ الْبَصْرِيِّ - قَالُوا كُلُّهُمْ بِإِجَازَةِ إمَامَةِ الْمَرْأَةِ لِلنِّسَاءِ وَتَقُومُ وَسَطَهُنَّ.

Ibrahim ibn Muhammad from Dawud ibn al-Husayn from Ikrimah from Ibn Abbas, who said: A woman leads women in voluntary prayers, standing in their midst. It was reported from Ibn Umar that he used to command a female servant of his to lead [his women] during the nights of Ramadan. Among the Tabi'in: [It has been narrated to us] from Ibn Jurayj from Ata', and from Ibn Mujahid from his father. From Sufyan al-Thawri, who narrated from Ibrahim al-Nakha'i and al-Sha'bi, and from Waki', who narrated from al-Rubayyi', who narrated from al-Hasan al-Basri - they all affirmed the permissibility of a woman leading women in prayer, with her standing among them.

قَالَ عَطَاءٌ وَمُجَاهِدٌ وَالْحَسَنُ: فِي الْفَرِيضَةِ وَالتَّطَوُّعِ، وَلَمْ يَمْنَعْ مِنْ ذَلِكَ غَيْرُهُمْ.

L5828 Aṭā, Mujāhid, and al-Ḥasan ruled regarding both obligatory and supererogatory acts, and no others besides them prevented this.

وَهُوَ قَوْلُ قَتَادَةَ وَالْأَوْزَاعِيِّ وَسُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ وَإِسْحَاقَ، وَأَبِي ثَوْرٍ وَجُمْهُورِ أَصْحَابِ الْحَدِيثِ.

L5829 And it is the opinion of Qatādah, al-Awzāʿī, Sufyān al-Thawrī, Ishāq, Abū Thawr, and the majority of the proponents of Ḥadīth.

L5830 And this is the opinion of Abū Ḥanīfah, al-Shāfiʿī, Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, Dāwūd, and their companions.

وَقَالَ سُلَيْمَانُ بْنُ يَسَارٍ، وَمَالِكُ بْنُ أَنَسٍ: لَا تَؤُمُّ الْمَرْأَةُ النِّسَاءَ فِي فَرْضٍ وَلَا نَافِلَةٍ -، وَهَذَا قَوْلٌ لَا دَلِيلَ عَلَى صِحَّتِهِ، وَخِلَافٌ لِطَائِفَةٍ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ لَا يُعْلَمُ لَهُمْ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ - مُخَالِفٌ، وَهُمْ يُشَيِّعُونَ هَذَا إذَا وَافَقَ تَقْلِيدَهُمْ، بَلْ صَلَاةُ الْمَرْأَةِ بِالنِّسَاءِ دَاخِلٌ تَحْتَ قَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «إنَّ صَلَاةَ الْجَمَاعَةِ تَفْضُلُ صَلَاةَ الْفَذِّ بِسَبْعٍ وَعِشْرِينَ دَرَجَةً» .

L5831 Sulayman ibn Yasar and Malik ibn Anas said: A woman should not lead women in prayer, whether in obligatory or supererogatory prayer. This is an opinion unsupported by evidence of its validity and contradicts a group of Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—with no known opposition from other Companions. They advocate this view when it aligns with their adherence (to a school), though a woman leading women in prayer falls under the statement of Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him: "The congregational prayer surpasses individual prayer in merit by twenty-seven degrees."

فَإِنْ قِيلَ: فَهَلَّا جَعَلْتُمْ ذَلِكَ فَرْضًا، بِقَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «إذَا حَضَرَتْ الصَّلَاةُ فَلْيَؤُمَّكُمْ أَكْبَرُكُمْ» ؟ قُلْنَا لَوْ كَانَ هَذَا لَكَانَ جَائِزًا أَنْ تَؤُمَّنَا، وَهَذَا مُحَالٌ، وَهَذَا خِطَابٌ

L5832 If it is said: Why did you not consider that an obligation, based on his statement—peace be upon him—"When prayer time arrives, let the eldest among you lead the prayer"? We respond: Had this been applicable, it would be permissible for her to lead us in prayer, and this is impossible. This address from him—peace be upon him—does not in any way pertain to women without a man present among them, for it constitutes an unequivocal grammatical error in Arabic, and it is utterly impossible and inconceivable that he—peace be upon him—would commit such an error.

منْهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لَا يَتَوَجَّهُ أَلْبَتَّةَ إلَى نِسَاءٍ لَا رَجُلَ مَعَهُنَّ، لِأَنَّهُ لَحْنٌ فِي الْعَرَبِيَّةِ مُتَيَقَّنٌ، وَمِنْ الْمُحَالِ الْمُمْتَنِعِ أَنْ يَكُونَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - يَلْحَنُ؟ .

A juristic issue: Women are not obligated to perform the adhan (call to prayer) or the iqamah (second call to prayer).

[مَسْأَلَةٌ لَا أَذَانَ عَلَى النِّسَاءِ وَلَا إقَامَةَ عَلَى سَبِيلِ الْوُجُوبِ]

320 – Issue: Women are not to perform the adhān or iqāmah. If they do so, it is acceptable.

٣٢٠ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَلَا أَذَانَ عَلَى النِّسَاءِ وَلَا إقَامَةَ، فَإِنْ أَذَّنَّ، وَأَقَمْنَ فَحَسَنٌ.

320 – Issue: Women are not obligated to perform the adhān or iqāmah, but if they do so, then it is good.

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ -: أَنَّ أَمْرَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - بِالْأَذَانِ إنَّمَا هُوَ لِمَنْ افْتَرَضَ عَلَيْهِمْ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - الصَّلَاةَ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ، بِقَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «فَلْيُؤَذِّنْ لَكُمْ أَحَدُكُمْ وَلْيَؤُمَّكُمْ أَكْبَرُكُمْ» وَلَيْسَ النِّسَاءُ مِمَّنْ أُمِرْنَ بِذَلِكَ، فَإِذَا هُوَ قَدْ صَحَّ فَالْأَذَانُ ذِكْرُ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى، وَالْإِقَامَةُ كَذَلِكَ، فَهُمَا فِي وَقْتِهِمَا فِعْلٌ حَسَنٌ.

And it has been narrated to us from Ibn Jurayj from ʿAṭāʾ: "A woman may perform the iqāmah for herself." And Tāwūs said: "ʿĀʾishah, the Mother of the Believers, used to give the adhān and perform the iqāmah."

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ عَنْ عَطَاءٍ: تُقِيمُ الْمَرْأَةُ لِنَفْسِهَا، وَقَالَ طَاوُسٍ: كَانَتْ عَائِشَةُ أُمُّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ تُؤَذِّنُ وَتُقِيمُ.

[Issue: Preventing Women and Female Slaves from Attending the Prayer (Ṣalāh) in the Mosque]

[مَسْأَلَةٌ مَنْعُ الْمَرْأَةِ وَالْأَمَةِ مِنْ حُضُورِ الصَّلَاةِ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ]

Issue 321: It is not permissible for a woman's guardian or the master of a female slave to prevent them from attending congregational prayer in the mosque if he knows they intend to pray. It is not permissible for them to go out wearing perfume or in fine garments. If she does so, he must prevent her. Their prayer in congregation is better than their prayer individually.

٣٢١ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَلَا يَحِلُّ لِوَلِيِّ الْمَرْأَةِ، وَلَا لِسَيِّدِ الْأَمَةِ مَنْعُهُمَا مِنْ حُضُورِ الصَّلَاةِ فِي جَمَاعَةٍ فِي الْمَسْجِدِ، إذَا عَرَفَ أَنَّهُنَّ يُرِدْنَ الصَّلَاةَ وَلَا يَحِلُّ لَهُنَّ أَنْ يَخْرُجْنَ مُتَطَيِّبَاتٍ، وَلَا فِي ثِيَابٍ حِسَانٍ، فَإِنْ فَعَلَتْ فَلْيَمْنَعْهَا، وَصَلَاتُهُنَّ فِي الْجَمَاعَةِ أَفْضَلُ مِنْ صَلَاتِهِنَّ مُنْفَرِدَاتٍ.

L5849–5850 And through him to Abu Dawud: Qutaybah narrated to us, Bakr ibn Mudar narrated to us from Amr ibn al-Harith from Bukayr—who is Ibn al-Ashajj—from Nafi' who said: Umar ibn al-Khattab used to forbid entering through the women's door. Ali said: Had their prayer in their homes been superior, the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—would not have left them to endure hardship that neither increases their virtue nor reduces their virtue, and this is not advice. He—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—said: "Religion is sincere advice," and far removed is he—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—from that. Rather, he is the most sincere advisor to his nation. Had that been the case, he—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—would not have enjoined that they not be prevented from attending mosques, nor would he have commanded them to go out sporadically.

وَبِهِ إِلَى أَبِي دَاوُد، حَدَّثَنَا قُتَيْبَةُ ثنا بَكْرُ بْنُ مُضَرَ عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْحَارِثِ عَنْ بُكَيْرٍ هُوَ ابْنُ الْأَشَجِّ - عَنْ نَافِعٍ قَالَ إنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ كَانَ يَنْهَى أَنْ يَدْخُلَ مِنْ بَابِ النِّسَاءِ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: لَوْ كَانَتْ صَلَاتُهُنَّ فِي بُيُوتِهِنَّ أَفْضَلُ لَمَا تَرَكَهُنَّ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَتَعَنَّيْنَ بِتَعَبٍ لَا يُجْدِي عَلَيْهِنَّ زِيَادَةُ فَضْلٍ أَوْ يَحُطُّهُنَّ مِنْ الْفَضْلِ، وَهَذَا لَيْسَ نُصْحًا، وَهُوَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - يَقُولُ: «الدِّينُ النَّصِيحَةُ» وَحَاشَا لَهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - مِنْ ذَلِكَ؛ بَلْ هُوَ أَنْصَحُ الْخَلْقِ لِأُمَّتِهِ، وَلَوْ كَانَ ذَلِكَ لَمَا افْتَرَضَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - أَنْ لَا يَمْنَعُهُنَّ؛ وَلَمَا أَمَرَهُنَّ بِالْخُرُوجِ تَفِلَاتٍ.

L5851 At the very least, this indicates a recommended and encouraged act. Abū Ḥanīfah and Mālik said: "Their prayer in their homes is more virtuous." Abū Ḥanīfah disapproved of women going out to mosques for congregational prayers, Jumuʿah prayers, and for the two Eid prayers, though he specifically permitted elderly women to attend the last Isha and Fajr prayers. It has been narrated from him that he did not disapprove of their going out for the two Eid prayers. Mālik said: "We do not prohibit them from going to mosques," and he allowed women past their youth to attend the two Eid prayers and the prayer for rain.

وَأَقَلُّ هَذَا أَنْ يَكُونَ أَمْرَ نَدْبٍ وَحَضٍّ وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ وَمَالِكٌ: صَلَاتُهُنَّ فِي بُيُوتِهِنَّ أَفْضَلُ، وَكَرِهَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ خُرُوجَهُنَّ إلَى الْمَسَاجِدِ لِصَلَاةِ الْجَمَاعَةِ، وَلِلْجُمُعَةِ، وَفِي الْعِيدَيْنِ، وَرَخَّصَ لِلْعَجُوزِ خَاصَّةً فِي الْعِشَاءِ الْآخِرَةِ، وَالْفَجْرِ وَقَدْ رُوِيَ عَنْهُ أَنَّهُ لَمْ يَكْرَهْ خُرُوجَهُنَّ فِي الْعِيدَيْنِ -: وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: لَا نَمْنَعُهُنَّ مِنْ الْخُرُوجِ إلَى الْمَسَاجِدِ، وَأَبَاحَ لِلْمُتَجَالَّةِ شُهُودَ الْعِيدَيْنِ، وَالِاسْتِسْقَاءَ.

L5852 And he said: The young woman goes out to the mosque time after time.

وَقَالَ: تَخْرُجُ الشَّابَّةُ إلَى الْمَسْجِدِ الْمَرَّةَ بَعْدَ الْمَرَّةِ.

L5853–5855 He said: The woman who goes out to the mosque should not do so excessively. Ali said: Those who disliked this objected by citing a narration we have narrated from Sufyān from Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd from ʿAmrah from ʿĀ'ishah: "If Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—had seen what women have innovated after him, he would have barred them from the mosque as the women of the Children of Israel were barred." And with a ḥadīth narrated from ʿAbd al-Ḥamīd ibn al-Mundhir al-Anṣārī from his paternal aunt or grandmother, Umm Ḥumayd. That the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—said (addressing a woman): "Indeed, your prayer in your house is better than your prayer with me?" And by a hadith narrated through the chain of ʿAbdullāh ibn Rajāʾ al-Ghudānī: I am Jarīr ibn Ḥāzim, from Abū Zurʿah ibn ʿAmr ibn Jarīr, that Abū Hurayrah narrated to him that the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—said: "For a woman to pray in her private chamber is greater in reward than her praying in her house. Her praying in her house is greater in reward than her praying in her courtyard. Her praying in her courtyard is greater in reward than her praying in the mosque of her community. Her praying in the mosque of her community is greater in reward than her praying in a mosque where congregational prayers are held. Yet her praying in a mosque where congregational prayers are held is better for her than going out to attend the Eid prayer." Some scholars remarked that perhaps the Messenger of Allah's command—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—for women to attend Eid prayers was intended to intimidate the enemy due to the Muslims' small numbers at the time, so they might appear numerous to those who observed them.

قَالَ: وَالْمُتَجَالَّةُ تَخْرُجُ إلَى الْمَسْجِدِ، وَلَا تُكْثِرُ التَّرَدُّدَ -: قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَشَغَبَ مَنْ كَرِهَ ذَلِكَ بِرِوَايَةٍ رُوِّينَاهَا عَنْ سُفْيَانَ عَنْ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ عَنْ عَمْرَةَ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ: لَوْ رَأَى رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - مَا أَحْدَثَ النِّسَاءُ بَعْدَهُ لَمَنَعَهُنَّ الْمَسْجِدَ كَمَا مُنِعَتْ نِسَاءُ بَنِي إسْرَائِيلَ. وَبِحَدِيثٍ رُوِيَ عَنْ عَبْدِ الْحَمِيدِ بْنِ الْمُنْذِرِ الْأَنْصَارِيِّ عَنْ عَمَّتِهِ أَوْ جَدَّتِهِ أُمِّ حُمَيْدٍ أَنَّ النَّبِيَّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: «إنَّ صَلَاتَكِ فِي بَيْتِكِ أَفْضَلُ مِنْ صَلَاتِكِ

L5856 Ali said: This is a grave matter, for it constitutes a lie against the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—and a statement made without knowledge. He—peace and blessings be upon him—had clarified that his command for women to go out was so they might witness goodness and the call of the Muslims, while menstruating women were to stay away from the prayer area. Shame upon those who deny the Prophet's statement—peace and blessings be upon him—and fabricate a lie based on his own opinion! Moreover, verily this claim, aside from being an outright lie, is baseless and utterly absurd.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذِهِ عَظِيمَةٌ؛ لِأَنَّهَا كَذْبَةٌ عَلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَقَوْلٌ بِلَا عِلْمٍ، وَهُوَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَدْ بَيَّنَ أَنَّ أَمْرَهُ بِخُرُوجِهِنَّ لِيَشْهَدْنَ الْخَيْرَ، وَدَعْوَةَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ، وَيَعْتَزِلُ الْحُيَّضُ الْمُصَلَّى؛ فَأُفٍّ لِمَنْ كَذَّبَ قَوْلَ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَافْتَرَى كِذْبَةً بِرَأْيِهِ ثُمَّ إِنَّ هَذَا الْقَوْلَ مَعَ كَوْنِهِ كَذِبًا بَحْتًا فَهُوَ بَارِدٌ سَخِيفٌ جِدًّا.

L5857 Because he—peace be upon him—was not in the presence of an army so that he could intimidate them, nor were there any enemies against him except the hypocrites and the Jews of Medina, who knew they [the women] were women. So be astonished at this confusion!

لِأَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لَمْ يَكُنْ بِحَضْرَةِ عَسْكَرٍ فَيُرْهِبُ عَلَيْهِمْ، وَلَمْ يَكُنْ مَعَهُ عَدُوٌّ إِلَّا الْمُنَافِقُونَ وَيَهُودُ الْمَدِينَةِ، الَّذِينَ يَدْرُونَ أَنَّهُنَّ نِسَاءٌ، فَاعْجَبُوا لِهَذَا التَّخْلِيطِ.

L5858 Ali said: As for what Aisha narrated, there is no valid proof in it due to several considerations: The first is that the Prophet (peace be upon him) did not witness what they innovated, hence he did not prohibit them. Since he did not prohibit them, to forbid them constitutes an innovation and an error. This aligns with Allah's statement: "O wives of the Prophet, whoever among you commits a clear immorality, her punishment will be doubled" [Al-Ahzab: 30]. They never committed any immorality, nor was their punishment doubled. And praise be to Allah, Lord of the worlds.[23]

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: أَمَّا مَا حَدَّثَتْ بِهِ عَائِشَةُ فَلَا حُجَّةَ فِيهِ لِوُجُوهٍ -: أَوَّلُهَا: أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لَمْ يُدْرِكْ مَا أَحْدَثْنَ، فَلَمْ يَمْنَعْهُنَّ، فَإِذْ لَمْ يَمْنَعْهُنَّ فَمَنْعُهُنَّ بِدْعَةٌ وَخَطَأٌ، وَهَذَا كَمَا قَالَ

تَعَالَى: {يَا نِسَاءَ النَّبِيِّ مَنْ يَأْتِ مِنْكُنَّ بِفَاحِشَةٍ مُبَيِّنَةٍ يُضَاعَفْ لَهَا الْعَذَابُ ضِعْفَيْنِ} [الأحزاب: ٣٠] فَمَا أَتَيْنَ قَطُّ بِفَاحِشَةٍ وَلَا ضُوعِفَ لَهُنَّ الْعَذَابُ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ.

L5859–5861 And as His Exalted saying: {If only the people of the towns had believed and been mindful, We would have opened upon them blessings from the heavens and the earth} [al-Aʿrāf: 96]. But they did not believe, so We did not open [blessings] upon them, and we know no argument more absurd than the argument of one who contends: "If such were the case, then such would follow"—to affirm what never existed, that hypothetical thing which, had it been, would have resulted in that other [outcome]? A second perspective: Allah the Exalted has indeed known what women bring about, and whoever denies this has disbelieved. Never did He reveal to His Prophet (peace be upon him) to forbid women from mosques due to their newly introduced practices, nor did the Almighty ever reveal to him: "Inform the people that if women introduce innovations, prevent them from the mosques." Since Allah the Exalted did not do this, clinging to such a claim is flawed and erroneous. A third argument: We do not know what innovations the women have introduced that they had not initiated during the era of Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him). No greater innovation among their actions is adultery, yet this occurred during the Prophet's time (peace be upon him), and he carried out stoning and flogging for it. Yet he never forbade women from mosques for that reason. The prohibition of adultery applies equally to men and women without distinction. Why should adultery justify barring women from mosques but not men? This is a justification Allah the Exalted and His Messenger (peace be upon him) have never endorsed.[24]

وَكَقَوْلِهِ تَعَالَى: {وَلَوْ أَنَّ أَهْلَ الْقُرَى آمَنُوا وَاتَّقَوْا لَفَتَحْنَا عَلَيْهِمْ بَرَكَاتٍ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ وَالأَرْضِ} [الأعراف: ٩٦] فَلَمْ يُؤْمِنُوا فَلَمْ يَفْتَحْ عَلَيْهِمْ وَمَا نَعْلَمُ احْتِجَاجًا أَسْخَفَ مِنْ احْتِجَاجِ مَنْ يَحْتَجُّ بِقَوْلِ قَائِلٍ: لَوْ كَانَ كَذَا: لَكَانَ كَذَا -: عَلَى إِيجَابِ مَا لَمْ يَكُنْ، الشَّيْءُ الَّذِي لَوْ كَانَ لَكَانَ ذَلِكَ الْآخَرُ؟ وَوَجْهٌ ثَانٍ: وَهُوَ أَنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى قَدْ عَلِمَ مَا يُحْدِثُ النِّسَاءُ، وَمَنْ أَنْكَرَ هَذَا فَقَدْ كَفَرَ، فَلَمْ يُوحِ قَطُّ إِلَى نَبِيِّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - بِمَنْعِهِنَّ مِنْ أَجْلِ مَا اسْتَحْدَثْنَهُ، وَلَا أَوْحَى تَعَالَى قَطُّ إِلَيْهِ: أَخْبِرِ النَّاسَ إِذَا أَحْدَثَ النِّسَاءُ فَامْنَعُوهُنَّ مِنَ الْمَسَاجِدِ، فَإِذْ لَمْ يَفْعَلِ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى هَذَا فَالتَّعَلُّقُ بِمِثْلِ هَذَا الْقَوْلِ هُجْنَةٌ وَخَطَأٌ؟ وَوَجْهٌ ثَالِثٌ: وَهُوَ أَنَّا مَا نَدْرِي مَا أَحْدَثَ النِّسَاءُ، مِمَّا لَمْ يُحْدِثْنَ فِي عَهْدِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَلَا شَيْءَ أَعْظَمُ فِي إِحْدَاثِهِنَّ مِنَ الزِّنَى، فَقَدْ كَانَ ذَلِكَ عَلَى عَهْدِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَرَجَمَ فِيهِ وَجَلَدَ، فَمَا مَنَعَ النِّسَاءَ مِنْ أَجْلِ ذَلِكَ قَطُّ، وَتَحْرِيمُ الزِّنَى عَلَى الرِّجَالِ كَتَحْرِيمِهِ عَلَى النِّسَاءِ وَلَا فَرْقَ؛ فَمَا الَّذِي جَعَلَ الزِّنَى سَبَبًا يَمْنَعُهُنَّ مِنَ الْمَسَاجِدِ؟ وَلَمْ يَجْعَلْهُ سَبَبًا إِلَى مَنْعِ الرِّجَالِ مِنَ الْمَسَاجِدِ؟ هَذَا تَعْلِيلٌ مَا رَضِيَهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى قَطُّ، وَلَا رَسُولُهُ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -.

L5862 A fourth point: Disruptive behavior is undoubtedly specific to some women and not others, and it is impossible to deprive those who have not engaged in such behavior of good because of those who have, unless there comes an explicit text from Allah the Exalted through His Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—in which case it must be heeded and obeyed. Allah the Exalted has said: "No soul bears the burden of another, and no bearer of burdens will bear the burden of another" [6:164]. A fifth point: If disruptive behavior is a reason to prevent them from the mosque, then it is more appropriate for it to be a reason to prevent them from the market and all public thoroughfares without doubt. Why then does this group restrict their prohibition to mosques due to women's disruptive behavior, rather than prohibiting them from all other public spaces? Indeed, Abu Hanifa permitted a woman to travel alone and journey through deserts and wastelands for a distance of two and a half days' journey, and he did not disapprove of this for her. By the same reasoning, gender mixing should likewise be permissible.[25]

L5863 The sixth aspect is that ʿĀ'ishah—may Allah be pleased with her—did not prevent them for that reason, nor did she say, "Prevent them because of what they innovated." Rather, she conveyed that if he—peace be upon him—had lived, he would have prevented them. Is this not precisely the explicit wording of our position? We maintain: Had he—peace be upon him—prevented them, we would prevent them. Since he did not prevent them, we do not prevent them. Thus, they have only achieved opposition to the Sunnah, opposition to ʿĀ'ishah—may Allah be pleased with her—and falsehood through their deluding of those who follow them by implying that she prohibited women from going out through her statement—though she did not do so. We seek refuge in Allah from being abandoned.

L5864–5865 As for the narration of Abd al-Hamid ibn al-Mundhir, it is unknown—no one knows who he is? It is not permissible to abandon the reports of trustworthy, mass-transmitted narrators due to a narration from someone of unknown identity. As for the narration of Abdullah ibn Raja' al-Ghudani, it is known for frequent scribal errors and mistakes, and it is not authoritative. This is what Amr ibn Ali al-Fallas and others said about him.

L5866 Then, if this report and the report of ʿAbd Allāh ibn Raja' al-Ghudānī were authentic – and neither is authentic – would their content not contradict both

L5867 And as narrated to us by Abdullah ibn Rabi', narrated to us Muhammad ibn Ishaq, narrated to us Ibn al-A'rabi, narrated to us Abu Dawud, narrated to us Muhammad ibn al-Muthanna, that Amr ibn Asim al-Kilabi narrated to them, saying: Narrated to us Hammam—son of Yahya—from Qatadah, from Muwarriq al-Ijli, from Abu al-Ahwas, from Abdullah ibn Mas'ud, from the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—who said: "A woman's prayer in her house is better than her prayer in her room, and her prayer in her mosque is better than her prayer in her house."

وَلِمَا حَدَّثَنَاهُ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ إِسْحَاقَ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا أَبُو دَاوُد ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى أَنَّ عَمْرَو بْنَ عَاصِمٍ الْكِلَابِيَّ حَدَّثَهُمْ قَالَ ثنا هَمَّامٌ هُوَ ابْنُ يَحْيَى - عَنْ قَتَادَةَ عَنْ مُوَرِّقٍ الْعِجْلِيِّ عَنْ أَبِي الْأَحْوَصِ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ مَسْعُودٍ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: «صَلَاةُ الْمَرْأَةِ فِي بَيْتِهَا أَفْضَلُ مِنْ صَلَاتِهَا فِي حُجْرَتِهَا، وَصَلَاتُهَا فِي مَسْجِدِهَا أَفْضَلُ مِنْ صَلَاتِهَا فِي بَيْتِهَا» .

L5868 Ali said: He undoubtedly means the mosque of her neighborhood—no other interpretation is valid. For if he—peace be upon him—had intended the mosque of her house, he would have said: "Her prayer in her house is better than her prayer in her house"—and may he be exalted above uttering such an impossibility! Since this is so, has it not been confirmed that one of the two rulings is abrogated?

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: يُرِيدُ بِلَا شَكٍّ مَسْجِدَ مَحَلَّتِهَا، لَا يَجُوزُ غَيْرُ ذَلِكَ؛ لِأَنَّهُ لَوْ أَرَادَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - مَسْجِدَ بَيْتِهَا لَكَانَ قَائِلًا: صَلَاتُهَا فِي بَيْتِهَا أَفْضَلُ مِنْ صَلَاتِهَا فِي بَيْتِهَا، وَحَاشَا لَهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - أَنْ يَقُولَ الْمُحَالَ، فَإِذْ ذَلِكَ كَذَلِكَ فَقَدْ صَحَّ أَنَّ أَحَدَ الْحُكْمَيْنِ مَنْسُوخٌ؟ .

L5869 As for his statement, "Indeed, her prayer in her mosque is better than her prayer in her home," and his encouragement (peace be upon him) for them to go out to the Eid prayer and to the mosque, this has been abrogated by his statement: "Indeed, her prayer in her home is better than her prayer in the mosque," and by their going out to the Eid prayer.

L5870–5872 As for his statement (peace be upon him), "Indeed, her prayer in her house is better than her prayer in her mosque, and her prayer in her mosque is better than her attending the Eid prayer congregation"—this is abrogated by his statement (peace be upon him): "Her prayer in the mosque is better than her prayer at home," along with his encouragement for her to attend the Eid prayer.

وَأَمَّا قَوْلُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «إِنَّ صَلَاتَهَا فِي بَيْتِهَا أَفْضَلُ مِنْ صَلَاتِهَا فِي مَسْجِدِهَا» ، وَصَلَاتَهَا فِي مَسْجِدِهَا أَفْضَلُ مِنْ خُرُوجِهَا إِلَى صَلَاةِ الْعِيدِ مَنْسُوخٌ بِقَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «إِنَّ صَلَاتَهَا فِي مَسْجِدِهَا أَفْضَلُ مِنْ صَلَاتِهَا فِي بَيْتِهَا» وَحَضِّهِ عَلَى خُرُوجِهَا إِلَى صَلَاةِ الْعِيدِ.

L5873 Is it not necessary to choose one of these two matters, and is it impermissible to conclusively determine the abrogation of a sound report except by a proof?

فَنَظَرْنَا فِي ذَلِكَ: فَوَجَدْنَا خُرُوجَهُنَّ إِلَى الْمَسْجِدِ وَالْمُصَلَّى عَمَلًا زَائِدًا عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ؛ وَكُلْفَةً فِي الْأَسْحَارِ وَالظُّلْمَةِ وَالزَّحْمَةِ وَالْهَوَاجِرِ الْحَارَّةِ؛ وَفِي الْمَطَرِ وَالْبَرْدِ؛ فَلَوْ كَانَ فَضْلُ هَذَا الْعَمَلِ الزَّائِدِ مَنْسُوخًا لَمْ يَخْلُ ضَرُورَةً مِنْ أَحَدِ وَجْهَيْنِ لَا ثَالِثَ لَهُمَا -: إِمَّا أَنْ تَكُونَ صَلَاتُهَا فِي الْمَسْجِدِ وَالْمُصَلَّى مُسَاوِيَةً لِصَلَاتِهَا فِي بَيْتِهَا؛ فَيَكُونُ هَذَا الْعَمَلُ كُلُّهُ لَغْوًا وَبَاطِلًا، وَتَكَلُّفًا وَعَنَاءً، وَلَا يُمْكِنُ غَيْرُ ذَلِكَ أَصْلًا؛ وَهُمْ لَا يَقُولُونَ بِهَذَا، أَوْ تَكُونَ صَلَاتُهَا فِي الْمَسَاجِدِ وَالْمُصَلَّى مُنْحَطَّةَ الْفَضْلِ عَنْ صَلَاتِهَا فِي بَيْتِهَا كَمَا يَقُولُ الْمُخَالِفُونَ، فَيَكُونُ الْعَمَلُ الْمَذْكُورُ كُلُّهُ إِثْمًا حَاطًّا مِنَ الْفَضْلِ، وَلَا بُدَّ؛ إِذْ لَا يَحُطُّ مِنَ الْفَضْلِ فِي صَلَاةٍ مَا عَنْ تِلْكَ الصَّلَاةِ بِعَيْنِهَا عَمَلٌ زَائِدٌ إِلَّا، وَهُوَ مُحَرَّمٌ، وَلَا يُمْكِنُ غَيْرُ هَذَا؟ .

L5874 We examined this matter and found that their going out to the mosque and prayer ground constitutes an additional act beyond prayer itself, entailing burdens during pre-dawn hours, darkness, crowds, scorching midday heat, rain, and cold. If the merit of this additional act were abrogated, it would necessarily lead to one of two scenarios with no third alternative: either her prayer in mosques and prayer grounds would equal her prayer at home—rendering this entire act utterly futile, invalid, burdensome, and laborious, with no other possibility whatsoever—a position they do not endorse—or her prayer in mosques and prayer grounds would be inferior in merit to her prayer at home, as opponents claim. This would make the entire aforementioned act sinful—diminishing the merit—since no additional act can necessarily reduce the merit of a specific prayer unless that act is itself forbidden. There is no other possibility.

L5875 This does not pertain to omitting recommended acts in prayer, which would reduce the reward had he performed them. Such omission incurs no sin but constitutes abandoning righteous deeds. As for one who performs an affected action in his prayer, thereby destroying part of the reward he would have attained had he abstained from it and invalidating some of his deeds – this is undoubtedly a forbidden act, and there is no alternative to this.

L5876 There is absolutely no sin in juristic dislike (karāhah), nor any invalidation of deeds; rather, it entails the absence of both reward and sin together. Sin only invalidates deeds in the context of forbidden acts. All scholars have unanimously agreed that the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) never prevented women from praying with him in his mosque until his death (peace be upon him), nor did the Rightly-Guided Caliphs after him. Thus, it is established that this is an abrogated practice. Since there is no doubt in this matter, it constitutes a righteous deed. Were it otherwise, the Prophet (peace be upon him) would not have permitted it.

L5877–5879 He did not let them (women) burden themselves with it—without benefit, but rather with harm. This is hardship and harm, not sincere advice. Given that there is no doubt about this, then this is the abrogating text, and the other is the abrogated one? This would hold true if those two ḥadīths were authentic. But how can that be, given that they are not authentic? They were narrated to us through the chain of ʿAbd al-Razzāq from Sufyān al-Thawrī from Hishām ibn ʿUrwah: that ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ordered Sulaymān ibn Abī Ḥathma to lead the women in prayer at the rear of the mosque during the month of Ramaḍān. And from ʿAbd al-Razzāq from Maʿmar from al-Zuhrī: that ʿĀtikah bint Zayd ibn ʿAmr ibn Nufayl was married to ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb, and she used to attend prayers in the mosque. ʿUmar would say to her, "By Allah, you certainly know that I dislike this." She replied, "By Allah, I will not cease until you forbid me." ʿUmar said, "Then I will not forbid you." On the day ʿUmar was stabbed—the very day of his stabbing—she was indeed in the mosque.

L5880 Ali said: The Commander of the Faithful would not have refrained from prohibiting her from going to the mosque if he had known there was no reward for her in it—how much more so if he had known it would diminish her reward and nullify her deeds! Their argument holds no weight in his statement to her, "I do not like that," for inclination of the soul entails no sin. Allah the Exalted has certainly known that every Muslim—were it not for fear of Him—would love to eat when hungry during Ramadan, drink when thirsty, sleep during the cold early mornings in short nights instead of rising for prayers, and have intercourse with every beautiful slave woman a man sees. Thus, a person may love a forbidden thing with there being no blame upon him for it, nor can he divert his heart from it. The matter lies solely in his patience or his deeds.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: مَا كَانَ أَمِيرُ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ يَمْتَنِعُ مِنْ نَهْيِهَا عَنْ خُرُوجِهَا إِلَى الْمَسْجِدِ لَوْ عَلِمَ أَنَّهُ لَا أَجْرَ لَهَا فِيهِ، فَكَيْفَ لَوْ عَلِمَ أَنَّهُ يَحُطُّ مِنْ أَجْرِهَا وَيُحْبِطُ عَمَلَهَا وَلَا حُجَّةَ لَهُمْ فِي قَوْلِهِ لَهَا: إِنِّي لَا أُحِبُّ ذَلِكَ، لِأَنَّ مَيْلَ النَّفْسِ لَا إِثْمَ فِيهِ، وَقَدْ عَلِمَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى أَنَّ كُلَّ مُسْلِمٍ -: لَوْلَا خَوْفُ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى لَأَحَبَّ الْأَكْلَ إِذَا جَاعَ فِي رَمَضَانَ، وَالشُّرْبَ فِيهِ إِذَا عَطِشَ، وَالنَّوْمَ فِي الْغَدَوَاتِ الْبَارِدَةِ فِي اللَّيْلِ الْقَصِيرِ عَنِ الْقِيَامِ إِلَى الصَّلَوَاتِ، وَوَطْءَ كُلِّ جَارِيَةٍ حَسْنَاءَ يَرَاهَا الْمَرْءُ؟ فَيُحِبُّ الْمَرْءُ الشَّيْءَ الْمَحْظُورَ لَا حَرَجَ عَلَيْهِ فِيهِ، وَلَا يَقْدِرُ عَلَى صَرْفِ قَلْبِهِ عَنْهُ، وَإِنَّمَا الشَّأْنُ فِي صَبْرِهِ أَوْ عَمَلِهِ فَقَطْ.

L5881–5883 He, the Exalted, said: "Fighting has been prescribed for you, though it is hateful to you. But perhaps you hate something while it is good for you, and perhaps you love something while it is evil for you" [Al-Baqarah: 216]. Through the chain of ʿAbd al-Razzāq from Muḥammad ibn ʿUmārah from ʿAmr al-Thaqafī from ʿArfajah: ʿAlī ibn Abī Ṭālib used to command people to perform night prayers in Ramaḍān, appointing a prayer leader for men and a prayer leader for women. He commanded me, so I led the women in prayer. Ali said: "Young women and others besides them are equal, and with Allah, the Most High, is success."[26]

Issue: No adhan or iqamah is to be called for any voluntary prayers.

322 - Issue: The call to prayer (adhān) and the establishment (iqāmah) are not performed for any non-obligatory prayers—such as the two Eid prayers, the prayer for rain, the eclipse prayer, or others—even if performed in congregation and in the mosque. Nor are they required for communally obligatory prayers (farḍ al-kifāyah), such as the funeral prayer. It is recommended to inform people of such prayers through a proclamation like "Aṣ-Ṣalātu Jāmiʿah" (The prayer is in congregation). This ruling faces no known disagreement except regarding something the Banu Umayyah innovated—the performance of adhān and iqāmah for the Eid prayers—which constitutes a religious innovation. It is authentically established from the Prophet (peace be upon him) that he never commanded adhān or iqāmah for any of these prayers, as we shall clarify in its dedicated chapter, God willing.

Ali said: The Adhan and Iqamah are a call to attend prayer, and this obligation applies only to the specified obligatory prayers. It is not required for supererogatory prayers; thus, there is no Adhan or Iqamah for them. Informing people of this draws their attention to goodness—and this has also been reported from the Messenger of Allah, peace be upon him, as we will clarify in its chapter, Allah the Exalted willing.

Chapter on the Conditions of the Adhan

323 - Issue: It is not permissible to perform the adhan and iqamah except by an adult, sane Muslim man who recites the words of the adhan and iqamah correctly according to his capacity. The adhan of one who lacks mental capacity during the call due to intoxication or similar causes is invalid. If an adult has performed the adhan, a minor is not prevented from performing it afterward. The adhan of a transgressor is valid, but a person of upright character is more preferable to us. A loud-voiced caller is superior.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ شُرُوط الْأَذَان]

٣٢٣ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَلَا يَجُوزُ أَنْ يُؤَذِّنَ وَيُقِيمَ إلَّا رَجُلٌ بَالِغٌ عَاقِلٌ مُسْلِمٌ مُؤَدٍّ لِأَلْفَاظِ الْأَذَانِ وَالْإِقَامَةِ حَسْبَ طَاقَتِهِ، وَلَا يُجْزِئُ أَذَانُ مَنْ لَا يَعْقِلُ حِينَ أَذَانِهِ لِسُكْرٍ أَوْ نَحْوِ

L5889–5891 The proof for this is that women are not commanded to perform the adhan as an obligation, unlike men, due to the statement of Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—: "Let one of you call the adhan for you, and let the eldest or the most Quranically proficient among you lead the prayer." He thereby ordained the adhan only for those obliged to pray in congregation—namely men exclusively, not women, as we previously established. The child, the mentally incapacitated, and the one whose mind is impaired by intoxication are not subject to the obligation in these states, for the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—also said: "The pen is lifted from three," mentioning the child, the insane, and the sleeper. Since the adhan is a commanded obligation as stated, its validity requires performance only by one legally obligated through the intention of fulfilling what is commanded. Non-obligatory acts cannot substitute obligatory ones. If it is argued: "You permit one who called adhan for a mosque's congregation to call it for another mosque's congregation in such a case..." The prayer itself; this is a voluntary act on his part. We replied: Yes, and he—even though it is a voluntary act from him—is one of those commanded to perform the adhan, lead the prayer, and perform the iqamah for those with him. Thus, in all of this, he fulfills an obligation. Once the obligation is fulfilled, the adhan remains a righteous act; children should not be prevented from it, for it is a remembrance of Allah the Exalted, a voluntary and pious act. As for the disbeliever, he is not one of us, nor is he a believer, and we have made it obligatory that one of us performs the adhan for us.

L5892 As for one who intentionally fails to recite the words of the adhan as commanded, and does not utter the prescribed phrases he was instructed to perform, such a person has not validly performed the adhan at all. If he is incapable of more than that due to a lisp or speech impediment, his adhan suffices based on Allah's statement: "Allah does not burden a soul beyond its capacity" [Al-Baqarah: 286]. Such a person is only obligated to what he is capable of, whether there is someone present who can correctly recite the L5893 As for the sinner, he is undoubtedly one of us, for he is a Muslim. Thus, he falls under the Prophet's statement, peace be upon him: "Let one of you call the Adhān for you." There is no disagreement regarding the preference for choosing a just person. As for audibility, this is because the Adhān is a command to come to prayer, so ensuring it is heard by those being summoned takes precedence. This is supported by the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, saying to Abū Maḥdhūrah: "Go back and raise your voice." This is a command to raise one's voice. If the mu'adhin intentionally does not raise his voice, his Adhān does not suffice. However, if he is unable to do more except with difficulty, he is not obligated to do so, in accordance with Allah's statement: {Allah does not burden a soul beyond its capacity} [Al-Baqarah: 286].[28]

وَأَمَّا الْفَاسِقُ فَإِنَّهُ أَحَدُنَا بِلَا شَكٍّ، لِأَنَّهُ مُسْلِمٌ، فَهُوَ دَاخِلٌ تَحْتَ قَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «لِيُؤَذِّنْ لَكُمْ أَحَدُكُمْ» وَلَا خِلَافَ فِي اخْتِيَارِ الْعَدْلِ، وَأَمَّا الصِّيتُ، فَلِأَنَّ الْأَذَانَ أَمْرٌ بِالْمَجِيءِ إِلَى الصَّلَاةِ، فَإِسْمَاعُ الْمَأْمُورِينَ أَوْلَى، وَلِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - لِأَبِي مَحْذُورَةَ «ارْجِعْ فَارْفَعْ صَوْتَكَ» وَهَذَا أَمْرٌ بِرَفْعِ الصَّوْتِ، فَلَوْ تَعَمَّدَ الْمُؤَذِّنُ أَنْ لَا يَرْفَعَ صَوْتَهُ لَمْ يُجْزِهِ أَذَانُهُ، وَإِنْ لَمْ يَقْدِرْ عَلَى أَكْثَرَ إِلَّا بِمَشَقَّةٍ لَمْ يَلْزَمْهُ، لِقَوْلِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {لا يُكَلِّفُ اللَّهُ نَفْسًا إِلا وُسْعَهَا} [البقرة: ٢٨٦] .

L5894 He (peace be upon him) said—what we have mentioned with its chain of transmission—"When the call to prayer is proclaimed, Satan retreats while passing wind to avoid hearing the Adhan." Thus, striving to repel Satan is a virtuous deed, and success is from Allah, the Exalted.

وَقَالَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - مَا قَدْ ذَكَرْنَا بِإِسْنَادِهِ، «إِذَا نُودِيَ بِالصَّلَاةِ أَدْبَرَ الشَّيْطَانُ لَهُ ضُرَاطٌ حَتَّى لَا يَسْمَعَ التَّأْذِينَ» فَالِاجْتِهَادُ فِي طَرْدِ الشَّيْطَانِ فِعْلٌ حَسَنٌ -، وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ؟ .

L5895 It is authentically reported from the Prophet—may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him—: "There is no human, jinn, or anything that hears the reach of the mu'adhdhin's voice except that it will testify for him on the Day of Resurrection." This has been narrated to us through the chain of Mālik, from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAbd Allāh ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Ṣaʿṣaʿah al-Māzinī al-Anṣārī, from his father, from Abu Saʿīd al-Khudrī as a musnad narration—and success is from Allah, the Exalted.

L5896 Issue: It is invalid for two or more individuals to perform the adhan simultaneously.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ لَا يَجُوزُ أَنْ يُؤَذِّنَ اثْنَانِ فَصَاعِدًا مَعًا]

[28] Qur'an references (L5893): Qur'an 2:286 (Al-Baqarah).

L5897–5899 324 – Issue: It is not permissible for two or more individuals to perform the call to prayer (adhan) simultaneously. If this occurs, the caller is the one who initiated it. The one who interrupts him is a transgressor who earns no reward, and he is close to sinning. It is obligatory to prevent this; and if... If two individuals begin [the adhan] together, then the adhan is assigned to the one with the most beautiful performance.

٣٢٤ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَلَا يَجُوزُ أَنْ يُؤَذِّنَ اثْنَانِ فَصَاعِدًا مَعًا، فَإِنْ كَانَ ذَلِكَ فَالْمُؤَذِّنُ هُوَ الْمُبْتَدِئُ، وَالدَّاخِلُ عَلَيْهِ مُسِيءٌ لَا أَجْرَ لَهُ، وَمَا يَبْعُدُ عَنْهُ الْإِثْمُ، وَالْوَاجِبُ مَنْعُهُ، فَإِنْ بَدَآ مَعًا فَالْأَذَانُ لِلصَّيِّتِ الْأَحْسَنِ تَأْدِيَةً.

L5900 It is permissible for multiple people to perform the adhan one after another for Maghrib and other prayers, the same applying to all such cases. If they contend while being equal in delivery, voice, merit, and knowledge of prayer times, lots should be drawn among them - whether the mosque's dimensions are large or not. It was narrated to us by 'Abdullāh ibn Rabī': Ibn Mufarrij narrated to us, Sa'īd ibn al-Sakan narrated to us, al-Farbarī narrated to us, al-Bukhārī narrated to us: 'Abdullāh ibn Yūsuf reported to us, saying: Mālik narrated from Sumayy, the freed slave of Abū Bakr ibn 'Abd al-Raḥmān, from Abū Ṣāliḥ, from Abū Hurayrah, that Allah's Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him) said: "If people knew the virtue contained in the adhan and the first row, then could only secure it by drawing lots, they would draw lots for it."[29]

وَجَائِزٌ أَنْ يُؤَذِّنَ جَمَاعَةٌ وَاحِدًا بَعْدَ وَاحِدٍ لِلْمَغْرِبِ وَغَيْرِهَا سَوَاءٌ فِي كُلِّ ذَلِكَ: فَإِنْ تَشَاحُّوا، وَهُمْ سَوَاءٌ فِي التَّأْدِيَةِ وَالصَّوْتِ وَالْفَضْلِ وَالْمَعْرِفَةِ بِالْأَوْقَاتِ أُقْرِعَ بَيْنَهُمْ، سَوَاءٌ عَظُمَتْ أَقْطَارُ الْمَسْجِدِ أَوْ لَمْ تَعْظُمْ؟ حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا ابْنُ مُفَرِّجٍ ثنا سَعِيدُ بْنُ السَّكَنِ ثنا الْفَرَبْرِيُّ ثنا الْبُخَارِيُّ ثنا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ يُوسُفَ أَنَا مَالِكٌ عَنْ سُمَيٍّ مَوْلَى أَبِي بَكْرِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ عَنْ أَبِي صَالِحٍ عَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: «لَوْ يَعْلَمُ النَّاسُ مَا فِي النِّدَاءِ وَالصَّفِّ الْأَوَّلِ ثُمَّ لَمْ يَجِدُوا إِلَّا أَنْ يَسْتَهِمُوا عَلَيْهِ لَاسْتَهَمُوا» .

L5901 Ali said: If it were permissible for two or more to perform the call to prayer together, istihām (drawing lots by arrows) would become a meaningless act without purpose—Allah is far removed from such a thing. Similarly, if the first row were designated for those who rush to arrive first, istihām would hold no significance, since none are barred from rushing. Istihām applies only to matters of limited capacity where space accommodates some but not others, and no other way is possible at all.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: لَوْ جَازَ أَنْ يُؤَذِّنَ اثْنَانِ فَصَاعِدًا مَعًا لَكَانَ الِاسْتِهَامُ لَغْوًا لَا وَجْهَ لَهُ، وَحَاشَا لِلَّهِ مِنْ هَذَا، وَلَوْ كَانَ الصَّفُّ الْأَوَّلُ لِمَنْ بَادَرَ بِالْمَجِيءِ لَكَانَ الِاسْتِهَامُ لَا مَعْنَى لَهُ؛ لِأَنَّهُ لَا يُمْنَعُ أَحَدٌ مِنَ الْبِدَارِ، وَإِنَّمَا الِاسْتِهَامُ فِيمَا يَضِيقُ فَلَا يَحْمِلُ إِلَّا بَعْضَ النَّاسِ دُونَ بَعْضٍ لَا يُمْكِنُ أَلْبَتَّةَ غَيْرُ هَذَا.

L5902 Indeed, Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ resolved a dispute between disputants over the call to prayer by drawing lots when the mu'adhdhin was killed during al-Qādisiyyah. If it were permissible for two or more to perform the call to prayer, the Companions of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) would have been the most deserving of people not to neglect its merit. Why did they not do that? Did the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) have only two mu'adhdhins?

L5903 The issue of performing the adhan and the iqamah while sitting, riding, in a state of major ritual impurity (junub), or facing a direction other than the qibla.

L5904 325 - Issue: The adhan (call to prayer) and iqamah (second call) are valid when performed while sitting, riding, without ritual purity, in a state of major impurity (janabah), and not facing the qiblah. However, the preferred manner is to perform the adhan only while standing, facing the qiblah, in a state of purity. This is the opinion of Abu Hanifah, Sufyan, and Malik specifically regarding the adhan, and the opinion of Dawud and others regarding all the aforementioned scenarios. We affirm this position because there is no prohibition from Allah – conveyed through His Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him) – regarding any of these matters. Allah the Exalted said: "He has detailed for you what He has forbidden to you, except that to which you are compelled" (6:119).[30]

L5905–5906 Thus, it is established that what has not been specified to us as prohibited is permissible. We have preferred that the adhan and iqamah be performed in a state of ritual purity while standing toward the Qibla, as this has been the practice of the Muslim community, both past and present.

L5907 Issue: If someone sneezed during his adhān or iqāmah.

L5908 326 - Issue: If someone sneezes during his call to prayer (adhan) or his iqamah, it is obligatory upon him to praise Allah the Exalted. If he hears a sneezer praising Allah the Exalted, it is obligatory upon him to respond with "Yarhamuk Allah" during his adhan or iqamah. If someone greets him with peace during his adhan or while leading prayer (imamah), it is obligatory upon him to reply verbally. Then, is all permissible speech allowed during the adhan and iqamah themselves? Allah the Exalted said: "When you are greeted with a salutation, respond with a better one or return it likewise" [Quran 4:86]. Did He not single out any specific circumstance over another?[31]

L5909 Abdullah ibn Rabi' narrated to us, Ibn al-Sulaym narrated to us, Ibn al-A'rabi narrated to us, Abu Dawud narrated to us, Musa ibn Isma'il narrated to us from Abdul-Aziz, the son of Abdullah ibn Abi Salamah, from Abdullah ibn Dinar from Abu Salih from Abu Hurayrah that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—said: "When one of you sneezes, let him say: 'All praise is due to Allah in every situation,' and let his brother or companion say: 'May Allah have mercy on you.' He should then respond: 'May Allah guide you all and set your affairs right.'"[32]

L5910 The texts did not specify the status of the adhan and iqamah apart from them, nor has any prohibition ever been conveyed against speaking during the adhan itself. We do not know of any valid argument for those who fundamentally prohibit this. If they say: "We have analogized it to the prayer" – we reply: "Yet you permit performing the adhan without ablution; where then lies its analogy to the prayer?"

L5911 Hamam narrated to us, Ibn Mufarrij narrated to us, Ibn al-A'rabi narrated to us, al-Dabari narrated to us, Abd al-Razzaq narrated from Sufyan al-Thawri from Awn ibn Abi Juhaifah from his father, who said: "I saw Bilal giving the call to prayer while turning around. I followed his mouth moving here and there, his two fingers in his ears, and the Messenger of Allah, peace be upon him, in a red tent."

L5912–5913 It has been narrated to us from Waki' from Muḥammad ibn Ṭalḥah from Jāmi' ibn Shaddād from Mūsā ibn 'Abdillāh ibn Yazīd al-Khiṭmī from Sulaymān ibn Ṣurad, the Companion of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—that he would call the adhān for the army and instruct his servant during the adhān for a need. It has also been narrated to us from Waki' from al-Rabī' ibn Ṣubayḥ from al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī, who said: There is no harm in speaking during one's adhān for a necessity. It has 327 - Issue: It is not permissible to take payment for the call to prayer (adhan). If someone does so and performs the adhan solely for payment, their adhan is invalid, and the prayer performed with it does not suffice. However, it is permissible to give them something as an act of righteousness, or for the Imam to provide for him in this manner. Ahmad ibn Muḥammad ibn al-Jasūr narrated to us; Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd Allāh ibn Abī Dulaym narrated to us; Ibn Waḍḍāḥ narrated to us; Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated to us; Ḥafṣ ibn Ghayyāth narrated from Ashʿath (ibn ʿAbd al-Malik al-Ḥumrānī) from al-Ḥasan, from ʿUthmān ibn Abī al-ʿĀṣ: “The last instruction the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—gave me was not to appoint a caller to prayer who takes payment for his adhan.” This is the opinion of Abū Ḥanīfah and others. Mālik said: “There is no harm in taking payment for that,” but this contradicts the text.

[مَسْأَلَةُ الْأُجْرَةُ عَلَى الْأَذَانِ]

٣٢٧ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَلَا تَجُوزُ الْأُجْرَةُ عَلَى الْأَذَانِ، فَإِنْ فَعَلَ وَلَمْ يُؤَذِّنْ إِلَّا لِلْأُجْرَةِ لَمْ يَجُزْ أَذَانُهُ، وَلَا أَجْزَأَتْ الصَّلَاةُ بِهِ - وَجَائِزٌ أَنْ يُعْطَى عَلَى سَبِيلِ الْبِرِّ، وَأَنْ يَرْزُقَهُ الْإِمَامُ كَذَلِكَ حَدَّثَنَا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ الْجَسُورِ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ أَبِي دُلَيْمٍ ثنا ابْنُ وَضَّاحٍ ثنا أَبُو بَكْرِ بْنُ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ ثنا حَفْصُ بْنُ غَيَّاثٍ عَنْ أَشْعَثَ هُوَ ابْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ الْحُمْرَانِيُّ - عَنْ الْحَسَنِ عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ أَبِي الْعَاصِ «آخِرُ مَا عَهِدَ إلَيَّ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَنْ لَا أَتَّخِذَ مُؤَذِّنًا يَأْخُذُ عَلَى أَذَانِهِ أَجْرًا» وَهُوَ قَوْلُ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ وَغَيْرِهِ وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: لَا بَأْسَ بِأَخْذِ الْأُجْرَةِ عَلَى ذَلِكَ، وَهَذَا خِلَافُ النَّصِّ.

L5914 L5915 L5916

There are four matters for which no fee is to be taken: the call to prayer, the recitation of the Quran, arbitration, and judging.

رُوِّينَا عَنْ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ الْمَسْعُودِيِّ هُوَ أَبُو عُمَيْسٍ عُتْبَةُ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ - عَنْ الْقَاسِمِ بْنِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ مَسْعُودٍ - قَالَ: أَرْبَعٌ لَا يُؤْخَذُ عَلَيْهِنَّ أَجْرٌ: الْأَذَانُ وَقِرَاءَةُ الْقُرْآنِ وَالْمَقَاسِمِ وَالْقَضَاءِ؟ .

And from ʿAbd al-Razzāq, from Jaʿfar ibn Sulaymān al-Ḍubaʿī, from Yaḥyā al-Bakkā’, who reported: “I saw Ibn ʿUmar.” He says to a man: “I hate you for Allah’s sake,” then tells his companions: “He sings in his call to prayer and accepts remuneration for it.” Allah the Almighty and Majestic has said: {Do not consume one another’s wealth wrongfully except through trade arising from mutual consent} [An-Nisā’ 4:29], and the Prophet—peace be upon him—said: “Your blood and your wealth are inviolable to you.”[33]

وَعَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ سُلَيْمَانَ الضُّبَعِيِّ عَنْ يَحْيَى الْبَكَّاءِ قَالَ: رَأَيْت ابْنَ عُمَرَ يَقُولُ لِرَجُلٍ: إنِّي لَأُبْغِضُك فِي اللَّهِ، ثُمَّ قَالَ لِأَصْحَابِهِ: إنَّهُ يَتَغَنَّى فِي أَذَانِهِ وَيَأْخُذُ عَلَيْهِ أَجْرًا. وَقَدْ قَالَ اللَّهُ عَزَّ وَجَلَّ: {لا تَأْكُلُوا أَمْوَالَكُمْ بَيْنَكُمْ بِالْبَاطِلِ إلا أَنْ تَكُونَ تِجَارَةً عَنْ تَرَاضٍ مِنْكُمْ} [النساء: ٢٩] ، وَقَالَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - «إنَّ دِمَاءَكُمْ وَأَمْوَالَكُمْ عَلَيْكُمْ حَرَامٌ» .

[33] Qur’an references (L5917): Qur’an 4:29 (An-Nisa).

L5920 He, the Exalted, has forbidden the consumption of wealth except through trade. Thus, all wealth is prohibited unless permitted by an explicit text or definitive consensus. Were it not for the prohibition against taking payment for the call to prayer, it would have been forbidden by this general principle. And success is granted by Allah, the Exalted. No dissenter from Ibn Umar's position is known among the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—though they would publicly censure this practice when it aligned with their adherence to precedent. As for what is given as an act of righteousness, it constitutes bounty, for the Exalted has said: "And do not forget bounty between you." [Al-Baqarah: 237].[34]

L5921 ## An Issue Regarding Leaving the Mosque After the Call to Prayer

L5922–5924 328 - Issue: If a person is in the mosque when the call to prayer has commenced, it is not permissible for him to exit except due to being without ablution or necessity.

Abdullāh ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb narrated to us: I am Aḥmad ibn ʿUthmān ibn Ḥakīm, from Jaʿfar ibn ʿAwf, from Abū ʿUmays, from Abū Ṣakhrah - who is Jāmiʿ ibn Shaddād - from Abū al-Shaʿthāʾ, who said: A man exited the mosque after the prayer was announced. Abū Hurayrah said: "As for this man, he has disobeyed Abū al-Qāsim - peace be upon him."

ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAbdillāh ibn Khālid narrated to us: Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad narrated to us: al-Farbarī narrated to us: al-Bukhārī narrated to us: Isḥāq narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Yūsuf narrated to us: al-Awzāʿī narrated from al-Zuhrī, from Abū Salamah ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān, from Abū Hurayrah, who said: "The prayer was established, and the people aligned their rows. The Messenger of Allāh - peace be upon him - came out and advanced while in a state of major impurity [janabah]. He then said: 'Stay in your places.' He returned, performed ghusl, then came out again with water dripping from his head." water, then he prayed with them. And He, the Almighty and Majestic, has said: “He has already detailed what He has forbidden you, except that which you are compelled to resort to.” [Al-An’am 6:119].[35]

L5925 Issue: It is permissible for someone other than the one who gave the adhan to lead the iqama.

L5926 329. Issue: It is permissible for someone other than the one who gave the adhān to lead the iqāmah, as no authentic prohibition exists regarding this matter. The transmitted tradition stating, “Only the one who gave the adhān should perform the iqāmah,” was reported solely through ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Ziyād ibn Anʿum, who is discredited.

L5927 A jurisprudential issue: Whoever hears the mu’adhdhin (the caller to prayer) should say as he says.

L5928 330 - Issue: Whoever hears the mu’adhdhin should repeat his words word for word exactly as he says them, from the beginning to the end of the adhān - whether one is not praying, engaged in an obligatory prayer, or performing a voluntary prayer. However, one should omit the mu’adhdhin’s phrases “Ḥayya ʿalā al-ṣalāh” and “Ḥayya ʿalā al-falāḥ” during prayer, though they should be recited when not praying. Upon completing the prayer, one should then say these phrases. ʿAbdullāh ibn Yūsuf narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Fatḥ narrated to us: ʿAbd al-Wahhāb ibn ʿĪsā narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn ʿAlī narrated to us: Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Salamah al-Murādī narrated to us: ʿAbdullāh ibn Wahb narrated from Ḥaiwah and Saʿīd ibn Abī Ayyūb, from Kaʿb ibn ʿAlqamah, from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Jubayr, from ʿAbdullāh ibn ʿAmr ibn al-ʿĀṣ, that he heard the Prophet - peace and blessings be upon him - say: “When you hear the mu’adhdhin, repeat his words exactly as they are. Then invoke ṣalāt upon me, for whoever invokes one ṣalāt upon me, Allah will send ten blessings upon him in return. Thereafter, ask Allāh to grant me al-Wasīlah - a rank in Paradise befitting only one of Allāh’s servants, and I hope to be that servant. Whoever seeks al-Wasīlah for me will have intercession granted to him."[36]

L5929–5931 And we have also narrated it—through the transmission of Mālik, from al-Zuhrī, from ʿAṭāʾ ibn Yazīd al-Laythī, from Abū Saʿīd al-Khudrī—that the Prophet (peace be upon him) did not specify whether one is in prayer or outside of it. We merely said: He does not say during the prayer, "Ḥayya ʿala-ṣ-Ṣalāh, Ḥayya ʿala-l-Falāḥ," because he... Is it an address to the people by which they are summoned to prayer? Is the entirety of the call to prayer a remembrance of Allah the Exalted? And is prayer the place of remembrance of Allah the Exalted? Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us: Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us: Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us: Abu Bakr ibn Abi Shaybah narrated to us: Isma'il ibn Ibrahim - that is Ibn Ulayyah - from Hajjaj as-Sawwaf from Yahya ibn Abi Kathir from Hilal ibn Abi Maymunah from Ata ibn Yasar from Mu'awiyah ibn al-Hakam, who said: "While I was praying with the Messenger of Allah, he mentioned the hadith" - and at its conclusion: "The Messenger of Allah, peace be upon him, said: 'No human speech is permissible in this prayer; it is exclusively for tasbīḥ (glorification), takbīr (proclaiming Allah's greatness), and recitation of the Quran,'" or as he, peace be upon him, phrased it? If the hearer of the call to prayer says "There is no power nor strength except through Allah" instead of "Come to prayer, come to salvation," then this is commendable.[37]

L5932 Abdullah ibn Rabiʿ narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Muʿawiyah narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Shuʿayb narrated to us: Mujahid ibn Musa informed me: Hajjaj narrated to me, saying: Ibn Jurayj said: ʿAmr ibn Yahya informed me that ʿIsa ibn ʿUmar informed him from ʿAbdullah ibn ʿAlqamah ibn Waqqas from his father, who said: "I was with Muʿawiyah when his mu'adhdhin called the adhan. Muʿawiyah repeated the mu'adhdhin's words. When the mu'adhdhin said: 'Come to prayer,' he responded: 'There is no power nor strength except by Allah.' When he said: 'Come to success,' he again responded: 'There is no

Issue: Clarifying the Prescribed Method of the Call to Prayer

[مَسْأَلَةٌ بَيَانُ صِفَةُ الْأَذَانِ]

331 – Legal Issue:

٣٣١ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

The description of the Adhan is well-known. The most beloved to us in this regard is the Adhan of the people of Mecca, which is: Allahu Akbar, Allahu Akbar; Allahu Akbar, Allahu Akbar; four times; Ashhadu an la ilaha illa Allah, Ashhadu an la ilaha illa Allah; Ashhadu anna Muhammadan rasulu Allah, Ashhadu anna Muhammadan rasulu Allah.

وَصِفَةُ الْأَذَانِ: مَعْرُوفَةٌ، وَأَحَبُّ ذَلِكَ إِلَيْنَا أَذَانُ أَهْلِ مَكَّةَ وَهُوَ: اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، أَرْبَعَ مَرَّاتٍ، أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ، أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ.

Then he raises his voice and says: I bear witness that there is no god but Allah, I bear witness that there is no god but Allah, I bear witness that... Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah. I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah. Hasten to prayer, hasten to prayer. Hasten to salvation, hasten to salvation. Allah is the Greatest, Allah is the Greatest. There is no god but Allah?

ثُمَّ يَرْفَعُ صَوْتَهُ فَيَقُولُ: أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ، أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ، حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ، حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ، حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاحِ، حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاحِ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ؟ .

The call to prayer of the people of Medina is exactly as we have described, except that at the beginning of his call, he only says "Allāh is the Greatest, Allāh is the Greatest" twice. The call to prayer of the people of Kufa is as we have described the call to prayer of the people of Mecca, except that they only say "I bear witness that there is no deity but Allāh, I bear witness that there is no deity but Allāh" twice. If a muezzin performs the call to prayer in the manner of the people of Medina or the people of Kufa, it is valid. If he adds in the dawn prayer after "Come to success" the phrase "Prayer is better than sleep, Prayer is better than sleep," it is also valid.

We have chosen the call to prayer of the people of Mecca because it contains additional remembrance of God Almighty beyond those of the people of Medina and Kufa. It includes a modulated repetition of "God is the Greatest" and a modulated repetition of "I bear witness that there is no deity but God, وَإِنَّمَا تَخَيَّرْنَا أَذَانَ أَهْلِ مَكَّةَ؛ لِأَنَّ فِيهِ زِيَادَةَ ذِكْرٍ لِلَّهِ تَعَالَى عَلَى أَذَانِ أَهْلِ الْمَدِينَةِ، وَأَذَانِ أَهْلِ الْكُوفَةِ؛ فَفِيهِ تَرْجِيعُ " اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ " وَفِيهِ تَرْجِيعُ " أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ "، وَهَذِهِ زِيَادَةُ خَيْرٍ لَا تُحَقَّرُ.

I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of God." This constitutes an added goodness that should not be undervalued.

أَقَلُّ مَا يَجِبُ لَهَا سِتُّونَ حَسَنَةً؟ وَأَيْضًا: فَإِنَّهُ قَدْ رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طُرُقٍ، مِنْهَا -: مَا حَدَّثَنَاهُ

L5941 What is the minimum obligatory for her—sixty good deeds? Also: We have narrated this through various chains, among them—what Hammam narrated to us from Abbas ibn Asbagh from Muhammad ibn Abd al-Malik ibn Ayman from Muhammad ibn Sulayman al-Munqiri al-Basri from Hafs ibn Umar al-Hawḍī from Hammam ibn Yahya, who narrated that Amir ibn Abd al-Wahid al-Ahwal narrated to him that Makhūl al-Shāmī narrated to him that Ibn Muhayriz narrated to him that Abu Mahdhurah narrated to him: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—taught him the Adhan as nineteen phrases and the Iqamah as seventeen phrases." Then did he describe the Adhan, which we have mentioned, phrase by phrase?[38]

حَمَامُ ثنا عَبَّاسُ بْنُ أَصْبَغَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَيْمَنَ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سُلَيْمَانَ الْمُنْقِرِيُّ الْبَصْرِيُّ ثنا حَفْصُ بْنُ عُمَرَ الْحَوْضِيُّ ثنا هَمَّامُ بْنُ يَحْيَى أَنَّ عَامِرَ بْنَ عَبْدِ الْوَاحِدِ الْأَحْوَلَ حَدَّثَهُ أَنَّ مَكْحُولًا الشَّامِيَّ حَدَّثَهُ أَنَّ ابْنَ مُحَيْرِيزٍ حَدَّثَهُ أَنَّ أَبَا مَحْذُورَةَ حَدَّثَهُ «أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - عَلَّمَهُ الْأَذَانَ تِسْعَ عَشْرَةَ كَلِمَةً، وَالْإِقَامَةَ سَبْعَ عَشْرَةَ كَلِمَةً» ثُمَّ وَصَفَ الْأَذَانَ الَّذِي ذَكَرْنَا حَرْفًا حَرْفًا؟ .

L5942 And it was also narrated to us by ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ: Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us, Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb narrated to us; Ibrāhīm ibn al-Ḥasan and Yūsuf ibn Saʿīd informed me; Ḥajjāj narrated to us from Ibn Jurayj; ʿAbd al-ʿAzīz ibn ʿAbd al-Malik ibn Abī Maḥdhūrah informed me that Ibn Muḥayriz (who was an orphan under the guardianship of Abī Maḥdhūrah) informed him. He said: I said to Abī Maḥdhūrah, "I am traveling to Syria, and I fear I will be asked about your adhān, so inform me." He related to him that "the Messenger of Allah — may the peace and blessings of Allah be upon him — taught him the adhān" exactly as we have conveyed it textually.[39] وَحَدَّثَنَاهُ أَيْضًا: عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ شُعَيْبٍ أَخْبَرَنِي إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ الْحَسَنِ وَيُوسُفُ بْنُ سَعِيدٍ ثنا حَجَّاجٌ عَنِ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ أَخْبَرَنِي عَبْدُ الْعَزِيزِ بْنُ عَبْدِ الْمَلِكِ بْنِ أَبِي مَحْذُورَةَ أَنَّ ابْنَ مُحَيْرِيزٍ أَخْبَرَهُ -، وَكَانَ يَتِيمًا فِي حِجْرِ أَبِي مَحْذُورَةَ - قَالَ: قُلْتُ لِأَبِي مَحْذُورَةَ: إِنِّي خَارِجٌ إِلَى الشَّامِ، وَأَخْشَى أَنْ أُسْأَلَ عَنْ تَأْذِينِكَ فَأَخْبِرْنِي؟ فَذَكَرَ لَهُ «أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - عَلَّمَهُ الْأَذَانَ» كَمَا ذَكَرْنَا نَصًّا.

L5943–5945 There have also come traditions similar to these, like the adhan of the people of Medina and the adhan of the people of Kufa; except that... This is an addition to it involving fourfold repetition and vocal modulation. An addition made by reliable narrators must not be omitted unless it is optional, in which case adopting the addition is preferable, as it constitutes additional dhikr and goodness—is it not?

وَقَدْ جَاءَتْ أَيْضًا آثَارٌ مِثْلُ هَذِهِ بِمِثْلِ أَذَانِ أَهْلِ الْمَدِينَةِ وَأَذَانِ أَهْلِ الْكُوفَةِ، إِلَّا أَنَّ هَذِهِ زَائِدَةٌ عَلَيْهَا تَرْبِيعًا وَتَرْجِيعًا، وَزِيَادَةُ الرُّوَاةِ الْعُدُولِ لَا يَجُوزُ تَرْكُهَا، إِلَّا أَنْ تَكُونَ عَلَى التَّخْيِيرِ، فَيَكُونُ الْأَخْذُ بِالزِّيَادَةِ أَفْضَلَ، لِأَنَّهَا زِيَادَةُ ذِكْرٍ وَخَيْرٍ؟ .

ʿImrān ibn Muslim; from Suwayd ibn Ghafala: that he sent [instructions] to his muʾadhdhin: “Do not perform tathwīb in the adhan for any prayer except the Fajr prayer. When you reach ‘Ḥayya ʿalā l-falāḥ,’ say ‘Aṣ-ṣalātu khayrun mina n-nawm,’ ‘Aṣ-ṣalātu khayrun mina n-nawm,’ for this is the adhan of Bilāl.”

حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاحِ " فَقُلْ " الصَّلَاةُ خَيْرٌ مِنْ النَّوْمِ، الصَّلَاةُ خَيْرٌ مِنْ النَّوْمِ " فَإِنَّهُ أَذَانُ بِلَالٍ.

L5947 Ali said: Suwayd ibn Ghaflah was among the greatest of the Successors. He arrived approximately five nights after the death of the Prophet—peace be upon him—and met all the remaining Companions after the Prophet’s passing—peace be upon him.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: سُوَيْدُ بْنُ غَفَلَةَ مِنْ أَكْبَرِ التَّابِعِينَ، قَدِمَ بَعْدَ مَوْتِ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - بِخَمْسِ لَيَالٍ أَوْ نَحْوِهَا، وَأَدْرَكَ جَمِيعَ الصَّحَابَةِ الْبَاقِينَ بَعْدَ مَوْتِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -.

L5948 And by him from Waki‘, from Sufyan al-Thawri, from Abu Ja‘far the mu’adhdhin, from Abu Sulayman, from Abu Mahdhurah: that when he reached “Hayya ‘ala al-Falah” during the Fajr prayer, he would say, “Prayer is better than sleep. Prayer is better than sleep.”

L5949 Ali said: Bilal did not call the adhan for anyone after the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—except once in the Levant for Dhuhr or Asr only, and he did not repeat the adhan in it either.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: لَمْ يُؤَذِّنْ بِلَالٌ لِأَحَدٍ بَعْدَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إِلَّا مَرَّةً وَاحِدَةً بِالشَّامِ لِلظُّهْرِ، أَوْ الْعَصْرِ فَقَطْ، وَلَمْ يَشْفَعْ الْأَذَانَ فِيهَا أَيْضًا.

L5950 As for the Iqamah, it is: “Allah is the Greatest, Allah is the Greatest. I bear witness that there is no deity except Allah. I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah. Hasten to prayer, hasten to success. The prayer has begun, the prayer has begun. Allah is the Greatest, Allah is the Greatest. There is no deity except Allah?”

وَأَمَّا الْإِقَامَةُ فَهِيَ " اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ، حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ، حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاحِ، قَدْ قَامَتْ الصَّلَاةُ، قَدْ قَامَتْ الصَّلَاةُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ؟ ".

L5951 The proof of that is: Abd al-Rahman ibn Abd Allah ibn Khalid narrated to us, saying: Ibrahim ibn Ahmad al-Balkhi narrated to us, al-Farbari narrated to us, al-Bukhari narrated to us, Sulayman ibn Harb narrated to us, Hammad ibn Zayd narrated from Simak ibn Atiyyah from Ayyub al-Sakhtiyani from Abu Qilabah from Anas ibn Malik, who said: “Bilal was commanded to recite the adhan phrases twice each and to recite the iqamah in odd numbers, except that the iqamah is recited in odd numbers.”

L5952–5953 Narrated by Hammam, from Ibn Mufarrij, from Ibn al-A’rabi, from al-Dabari, from Abd al-Razzaq, from Ma’mar, from Ayyub al-Sikhtiyani, from

Abu Qilabah, who said: “Bilal would recite the iqamah in single utterances – except for his statement, ’The prayer has been established, the prayer has been established’ – and he would repeat the adhan twice.”

حَدَّثَنَا حَمَّامُ ثنا ابْنُ مُفَرِّجٍ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا الدَّبَرِيُّ ثنا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ ثنا مَعْمَرٌ عَنْ أَيُّوبَ السِّخْتِيَانِيِّ عَنْ أَبِي قِلَابَةَ قَالَ: كَانَ بِلَالٌ يُوتِرُ الْإِقَامَةَ وَيُثَنِّي الْأَذَانَ، إِلَّا قَوْلَهُ " قَدْ قَامَتْ الصَّلَاةُ، قَدْ قَامَتْ الصَّلَاةُ "؟ .

L5954 Ali said: We have mentioned what two transmitters do not disagree upon - that Bilal (may Allah be pleased with him) never gave the call to prayer for anyone after the death of Allah’s Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him) except once in Syria, wherein he did not complete his call. Thus, this report became a musnad narration with a sound chain, and it was confirmed that the commander in this matter was Allah’s Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him) alone, and no other. The Hanafis said: The iqamah is recited in pairs. There are differing reports from them regarding the interpretation of this. Zufar narrated from Abu Hanifah - as we mentioned concerning the wording “Allah is the Greatest” four times at the beginning of the adhan - that this applies similarly to the beginning of the iqamah. According to this narration, the Hanafis today follow this view. It is narrated from Abu Yusuf, from Abu Hanifah, regarding both the adhan and iqamah: “Allah is the Greatest” is stated twice only at their beginning.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: قَدْ ذَكَرْنَا مَا لَا يَخْتَلِفُ فِيهِ اثْنَانِ مِنْ أَهْلِ النَّقْلِ: أَنَّ بِلَالًا - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ - لَمْ يُؤَذِّنْ قَطُّ لِأَحَدٍ بَعْدَ مَوْتِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إِلَّا مَرَّةً وَاحِدَةً بِالشَّامِ، وَلَمْ يُتِمَّ أَذَانَهُ فِيهَا، فَصَارَ هَذَا الْخَبَرُ مُسْنَدًا صَحِيحَ الْإِسْنَادِ، وَصَحَّ أَنَّ الْآمِرَ لَهُ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - لَا أَحَدَ غَيْرُهُ وَقَالَ الْحَنَفِيُّونَ: الْإِقَامَةُ مَثْنَى مَثْنَى، وَاخْتُلِفَ عَنْهُمْ فِي تَفْسِيرِ ذَلِكَ؛ فَرَوَى زُفَرُ عَنْ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ كَمَا ذَكَرْنَا فِي قَوْلِ " اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ " أَرْبَعَ مَرَّاتٍ فِي ابْتِدَاءِ الْأَذَانِ، وَفِي ابْتِدَاءِ الْإِقَامَةِ كَذَلِكَ أَيْضًا، وَعَلَى هَذِهِ الرِّوَايَةِ هُمْ الْحَنَفِيُّونَ الْيَوْمَ؟ وَعَنْ أَبِي يُوسُفَ عَنْ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ فِي كِلَا الْأَمْرَيْنِ الْأَذَانِ وَالْإِقَامَةِ " اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ " فِي ابْتِدَائِهِمَا مَرَّتَيْنِ فَقَطْ.

L5955 A narration similar to Abū Yūsuf’s report regarding the adhan has been transmitted, and we know of no tradition ever narrated concerning the utterance of “Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar” four times at the beginning of the iqamah. Were it not that this constitutes a remembrance of Allah the Exalted, it would necessitate invalidating the iqamah and nullifying the prayer of one who prayed with such an iqamah. However, is this addition not comparable to one who inserts “Lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā billāh” or other phrases entirely unrelated to the iqamah?

وَقَدْ جَاءَ حَدِيثٌ بِمِثْلِ رِوَايَةِ أَبِي يُوسُفَ فِي الْأَذَانِ، وَمَا نَعْلَمُ خَبَرًا قَطُّ رُوِيَ فِي قَوْلِ " اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ " أَرْبَعَ مَرَّاتٍ فِي أَوَّلِ الْإِقَامَةِ وَلَوْلَا أَنَّهَا ذِكْرُ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى لَوَجَبَ إبْطَالُ الْإِقَامَةِ بِهَا، وَإِبْطَالُ صَلَاةِ مَنْ صَلَّى بِتِلْكَ الْإِقَامَةِ، وَلَكِنَّ هَذِهِ الزِّيَادَةَ بِمَنْزِلَةِ مَنْ زَادَ فِي الْإِقَامَةِ " لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إلَّا بِاَللَّهِ " أَوْ غَيْرَ ذَلِكَ مِمَّا لَيْسَ مِنْ الْإِقَامَةِ فِي شَيْءٍ؟ .

L5956–5958 The Malikis said: The entire iqāmah is odd-numbered except “Allāh is the Greatest, Allāh is the Greatest,” which is repeated. “The prayer has commenced” is only uttered once. Ali stated: The adhān has been universally transmitted in Makkah, Madīnah, and Kufa. For from the time the adhān was revealed to the Messenger of Allāh (May Allāh bless him and grant him peace) until the day Anas ibn Mālik died - he being the last companion who had seen the Messenger of Allāh (May Allāh bless him and grant him peace) and his companions - not a single day passed without Muslims reciting it five times or more in every mosque. Such a tradition cannot be forgotten or altered. Were it not for the certainty that all these forms of the adhān were unquestionably recited during the time of the Messenger of Allāh (May Allāh bless him and grant him peace), there would be no basis for doubt. During the time of Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—the call to prayer in Mecca was heard by him during his Hajj. Then Abu Bakr heard it, followed by Umar, then Uthman after him. The Commander of the Faithful Ibn al-Zubayr resided there for nine years as part of the remaining Companions, while his governors appointed to Medina and Kufa remained in office. It is baseless, impossible, and inconceivable—and impermissible to suspect them (may Allah be pleased with them)—that the people of Mecca altered the call to prayer, and that any of these caliphs (may Allah be pleased with them) heard it or had it reported to him while holding the caliphate, yet failed to change it. No Muslim would entertain such a notion, for if this were permissible, would it not equally apply to their presence in Medina without distinction? Similarly, when Kufa was conquered and inhabited by groups of Companions (may Allah be pleased with them), it was administered by Umar ibn al-Khattab's governors and later Uthman's governors (may Allah be pleased with them both), such as Abu Musa al-Ash'ari, Ibn Mas'ud, 'Ammār, al-Mughīrah, and Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ. The Companions departing from Kufa continued to proclaim the call to prayer five times daily throughout their travels until they settled and built the city. It is utterly impossible that the call to prayer was altered in the presence of those we mentioned, yet this remained hidden from Umar and Uthman, or that either of them knew of it and approved without denouncing it. Subsequently, 'Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib resided in Kufa until his death, appointing governors to Mecca and Medina, followed by his son al-Ḥasan (may Allah be pleased with him) until he transferred authority to Mu'āwiyah (may Allah be pleased with him). It is inconceivable that the call to prayer was altered without 'Alī and al-Ḥasan rejecting such a change. If such a claim were valid against 'Alī, would it not L5959–5961 If they say: "The Adhān of Mecca and the Adhān of Kufa are not established through mass transmission," it is said to them: "If they say to you: 'Rather, the Adhān of the people of Medina is not established through mass transmission—so what is the distinction?' If they assert an impossibility in this, is the same not asserted against them?" If they say: "The Adhān of the people of Mecca and the people of Kufa traces back to a limited number of individuals," it is said to them: "The Adhān of the people of Medina traces back to three men only—no more: Malik, Ibn al-Mājishūn, and Ibn Abī Dhi'b. The followers of these three took it only from them." If they say: "There is no disagreement regarding doubling in the Adhān," it is said to them: "This is pure falsehood. Ma'mar reported from Ayyūb al-Sakhtiyānī from Nāfi' from Ibn 'Umar:" The call to prayer is performed three times, each repeated three times.

فَإِنْ قَالُوا: لَيْسَ أَذَانُ مَكَّةَ وَلَا أَذَانُ الْكُوفَةِ نَقْلَ كَافَّةٍ؟ قِيلَ لَهُمْ: فَإِنْ قَالُوا لَكُمْ: بَلْ أَذَانُ أَهْلِ الْمَدِينَةِ لَيْسَ هُوَ نَقْلَ كَافَّةٍ فَمَا الْفَرْقُ؟ فَإِنْ ادَّعُوا فِي هَذَا مُحَالًا أُدُّعِيَ عَلَيْهِمْ مِثْلُهُ؟ فَإِنْ قَالُوا: إِنَّ أَذَانَ أَهْلِ مَكَّةَ وَأَهْلِ الْكُوفَةِ يَرْجِعُ إِلَى قَوْمٍ مَحْصُورٍ عَدَدُهُمْ؟ قِيلَ لَهُمْ: وَأَذَانُ أَهْلِ الْمَدِينَةِ يَرْجِعُ إِلَى ثَلَاثَةِ رِجَالٍ لَا أَكْثَرَ: مَالِكٍ، وَابْنِ الْمَاجِشُونِ، وَابْنِ أَبِي ذِئْبٍ فَقَطْ، وَإِنَّمَا أَخَذَهُ أَصْحَابُ هَؤُلَاءِ عَنْ هَؤُلَاءِ فَقَطْ فَإِنْ قَالُوا: لَمْ يُخْتَلَفْ فِي الْأَذَانِ بِالتَّثْنِيَةِ؟ قِيلَ لَهُمْ: هَذَا الْكَذِبُ الْبَحْتُ رَوَى مَعْمَرٌ عَنْ أَيُّوبَ السِّخْتِيَانِيِّ عَنْ نَافِعٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ: الْأَذَانُ ثَلَاثًا ثَلَاثًا.

L5962 Ibn Jurayj narrated from Nāfi' from Ibn 'Umar that he used to repeat the iqāmah twice, thus invalidating with the certainty of invalidation the evidence cited by the Mālikīs to support their choice regarding the adhān—which they base on the transmission from the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) by the entire community.

L5963–5965 It is thus firmly established that the call to prayer of the people of Mecca holds precisely the same status in this matter as that of Medina's inhabitants—utterly identical—and that the call to prayer of Kufa's people shares equal standing with both Mecca and Medina without distinction. Should they argue: "The Companions did not alter this, but it was modified after their time," we respond: If such alteration could be attributed to the Successors in Mecca and Kufa, then attributing it to Medina's Successors becomes more permissible. Consider those among Medina's Successors like Alqamah, Al-Aswad, Suwayd ibn Ghafala, Ar-Ruḥayl, Masrūq, Nabatah, Salmān ibn Rabī'ah, and others—all issued legal rulings during ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb's lifetime. Can any Successor from Medina be elevated above Ṭāwūs, ʿAṭāʾ, or Mujāhid? Allah forbid that any should be suspected of altering religion's foundational pillar! If they descend to the Successors of the Successors, whatever might permissibly be ascribed to Sufyān al-Thawrī or Ibn Jurayj must equally apply to Mālik, who holds no superiority over them in knowledge or piety. Allah forbid implicating any in such matters! If they cite the rulers—governors of Mecca, Medina, and Kufa appointed from Syria since Muʿāwiyah's era until Abū Ḥanīfah, Sufyān, and Mālik's early period, then from Al-Anbār and Baghdad in later years—then whatever applies to Mecca and Kufa's governors must equally apply to Medina's. All these cities endured both righteous and depraved rulers like Al-Ḥajjāj, Ḥubaysh ibn Dulja, Ṭāriq, Khālid al-Qasrī, and every other person of no virtue. Thus, what could be attributed to Mecca and Kufa's governors becomes equally permissible for Medina's—utterly identical? Indeed, alteration proves less conceivable in Mecca, where annual global pilgrimages would have exposed any change. None have ever made such a claim—all praise belongs to Allah. If they refer to the narrations, then the narrations, as we mentioned, are similar, except for the well-known opinion of Abū Ḥanīfah regarding the iqamah. Has any narration ever mentioned it?

فَصَحَّ يَقِينًا أَنَّ لِأَذَانِ أَهْلِ مَكَّةَ مِنْ ذَلِكَ مَا لِأَذَانِ أَهْلِ الْمَدِينَةِ سَوَاءً سَوَاءً - وَأَنَّ لِأَذَانِ أَهْلِ الْكُوفَةِ مِنْ ذَلِكَ مَا لِأَذَانِ أَهْلِ مَكَّةَ وَأَذَانِ أَهْلِ الْمَدِينَةِ وَلَا فَرْقَ؟ فَإِنْ قَالُوا: لَمْ يُغَيِّرْ ذَلِكَ الصَّحَابَةُ لَكِنْ غُيِّرَ بَعْدَهُمْ؟ قُلْنَا: إِنْ جَازَ ذَلِكَ عَلَى التَّابِعِينَ بِمَكَّةَ وَالْكُوفَةِ، فَهُوَ عَلَى التَّابِعِينَ بِالْمَدِينَةِ أَجْوَزُ، فَمَا كَانَ بِالْمَدِينَةِ فِي التَّابِعِينَ كَعَلْقَمَةَ، وَالْأَسْوَدِ، وَسُوَيْدِ بْنِ غَفَلَةَ، وَالرُّحَيْلِ وَمَسْرُوقٍ، وَنُبَاتَةَ وَسَلْمَانَ بْنِ رَبِيعَةَ وَغَيْرِهِمْ؛ فَكُلُّ هَؤُلَاءِ أَفْتَى فِي حَيَاةِ عُمَرَ بْنِ الْخَطَّابِ، وَمَا يَرْتَفِعُ أَحَدٌ مِنْ تَابِعِي أَهْلِ الْمَدِينَةِ

عَلَى طَاوُسٍ وَعَطَاءٍ وَمُجَاهِدٍ وَمَعَاذَ اللَّهِ أَنْ يُظَنَّ بِأَحَدٍ مِنْهُمْ تَبْدِيلُ عَمُودِ الدِّيْنِ؟ فَإِنْ هَبَطُوا إِلَى تَابِعِي التَّابِعِينَ، فَمَا يَجُوزُ شَيْءٌ مِنْ ذَلِكَ عَلَى سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ، وَابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ، إِلَّا جَازَ مِثْلُهُ عَلَى مَالِكٍ، فَمَا لَهُ عَلَى هَذَيْنِ فَضْلٌ، لَا فِي عِلْمٍ وَلَا فِي وَرَعٍ، وَمَعَاذَ اللَّهِ أَنْ يُظَنَّ بِأَحَدٍ مِنْهُمْ شَيْءٌ مِنْ هَذَا فَإِنْ رَجَعُوا إِلَى الْوُلَاةِ، فَإِنَّ الْوُلَاةَ عَلَى مَكَّةَ، وَالْمَدِينَةِ، وَالْكُوفَةِ: إِنَّمَا كَانُوا يَنْفُذُونَ مِنْ الشَّامِ مِنْ عَهْدِ مُعَاوِيَةَ إِلَى صَدْرِ زَمَانِ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ، وَسُفْيَانَ، وَمَالِكٍ، ثُمَّ مِنْ الْأَنْبَارِ وَبَغْدَادَ فِي بَاقِي أَيَّامِ هَؤُلَاءِ، فَلَا يَجُوزُ شَيْءٌ مِنْ ذَلِكَ عَلَى وَالِي مَكَّةَ، وَالْكُوفَةِ، إِلَّا جَازَ مِثْلُهُ عَلَى وَالِي الْمَدِينَةِ، وَكُلُّهَا قَدْ وَلِيَهَا الصَّالِحُ وَالْفَاسِقُ، كَالْحَجَّاجِ، وَحُبَيْشِ بْنِ دُلْجَةَ، وَطَارِقٍ، وَخَالِدٍ الْقَسْرِيِّ وَمَا هُنَالِكَ مِنْ كُلِّ مَنْ لَا خَيْرَ، فَمَا جَازَ مِنْ ذَلِكَ عَلَيْهِمْ بِمَكَّةَ، وَالْكُوفَةِ، فَهُوَ جَائِزٌ عَلَيْهِمْ بِالْمَدِينَةِ سَوَاءً سَوَاءً؟ بَلْ الْأَمْرُ أَقْرَبُ إِلَى الِامْتِنَاعِ بِمَكَّةَ؛ لِأَنَّ وُفُودَ جَمِيعِ أَهْلِ الْأَرْضِ يَرِدُونَهَا كُلَّ سَنَةٍ، فَمَا كَانَ لِيَخْفَى ذَلِكَ أَصْلًا عَلَى النَّاسِ، وَمَا قَالَ هَذَا أَحَدٌ قَطُّ -، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ فَإِنْ رَجَعُوا إِلَى الرِّوَايَاتِ، فَالرِّوَايَاتُ كَمَا ذَكَرْنَا مُتَقَارِبَةٌ إِلَّا قَوْلَ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ الْمَشْهُورَ فِي الْإِقَامَةِ، فَمَا جَاءَتْ بِهِ قَطُّ رِوَايَةٌ؟ .

L5966 This is not related to the mudd, sa', or wasq in any respect, for every mudd or qafiz established in Medina or Kufa is recognized—as Hisham's mudd introduced in Medina is recognized, and the mudd mentioned by Mālik in his Muwatta (that the sa' equals one mudd plus a third of another mudd), like the mudd of the people of Kufa known as the Hajjājī, and like the sa' of 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb. Is there any objection to a governor or others establishing a mudd or sa' for some of their needs? The Prophet's (peace be upon him) mudd, his sa', and his wasq have been transmitted to him via mass transmission by the entire community.

L5967 What is remarkable is that Mālik considered the expiation for dhihār to be specific to the newly instituted mudd of Hishām, despite the disagreement among his companions on this matter. Ashhab, Ibn Wahb, and Ibn al-Qāsim: one of them states it is one and a half mudds, another says two mudds less a third, while other companions assert two mudds. Some companions of Abū Ḥanīfah argued by posing: "Was Abū Maḥdhūrah's adhān delayed?" We replied: "Yes," and the most sound of its methods aligned with our preferred doctrine. And all praise is due to Allah.

وَالْعَجَبُ أَنَّ مَالِكًا رَأَى كَفَّارَةَ الظِّهَارِ خَاصَّةً بِمُدِّ هِشَامٍ الْمُحْدَثِ عَلَى اخْتِلَافِ أَصْحَابِهِ فِيهِ؛ فَأَشْهَبُ، وَابْنُ وَهْبٍ، وَابْنُ الْقَاسِمِ، يَقُولُ أَحَدُهُمْ: وَهُوَ مُدٌّ وَنِصْفٌ، وَيَقُولُ الْآخَرُ: هُوَ مُدَّانِ غَيْرُ ثُلُثٍ - وَيَقُولُ غَيْرُهُمْ: هُوَ مُدَّانِ وَاحْتَجَّ بَعْضُ أَصْحَابِ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ بِأَنْ قَالَ: أَذَانُ أَبِي مَحْذُورَةَ مُتَأَخِّرٌ؟ فَقُلْنَا: نَعَمْ، وَأَحْسَنُ طُرُقِهِ مُوَافِقٌ لِاخْتِيَارِنَا -، وَلِلَّهِ الْحَمْدُ.

L5968 If they say, "Does it involve repeating the iqāmah?" We reply: "Yes. We do not deny that repeating it was the first command, whereas performing it once was the other command—without doubt."

فَإِنْ قَالُوا: إِنَّ فِيهِ ثَنْيَةَ الْإِقَامَةِ؟ قُلْنَا: نَعَمْ، وَلَسْنَا نُنْكِرُ ثَنْيَتَهَا كَانَ الْأَمْرَ الْأَوَّلَ، وَإِفْرَادُهَا كَانَ الْأَمْرَ الْآخَرَ بِلَا شَكٍّ.

L5969 Muhammad ibn Sa'id ibn Nabat narrated to us, Abdullah ibn Nasr narrated to us, Qasim ibn Asbagh narrated to us, Ibn Waddah narrated to us, Musa ibn Mu'awiyah narrated to us, Waki' narrated from al-A'mash from Amr ibn Murrah from Abd al-Rahman ibn Abi Layla, who said: The companions of Muhammad, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, narrated to us that Abdullah ibn Zayd had seen the call to prayer in a dream. He came to the Prophet, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, and informed him. He said: "Teach it to Bilal." Bilal then stood and delivered the adhan reciting each phrase twice (mathnā), and performed the iqamah reciting each phrase twice (mathnā).

لِمَا حَدَّثَنَاهُ مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ سَعِيدِ بْنِ نَبَاتٍ حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ نَصْرٍ ثنا قَاسِمُ بْنُ أَصْبَغَ ثنا ابْنُ وَضَّاحٍ ثنا مُوسَى بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا وَكِيعٌ عَنْ الْأَعْمَشِ عَنْ عَمْرِو بْنِ مُرَّةَ عَنْ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ أَبِي لَيْلَى قَالَ: حَدَّثَنَا أَصْحَابُ مُحَمَّدٍ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «أَنَّ عَبْدَ اللَّهِ بْنَ زَيْدٍ رَأَى الْأَذَانَ فِي الْمَنَامِ، فَأَتَى النَّبِيَّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَأَخْبَرَهُ؟ قَالَ: عَلِّمْهُ بِلَالًا؛ فَقَامَ بِلَالٌ فَأَذَّنَ مَثْنَى، وَأَقَامَ مَثْنَى» .

L5970–5972 Ali said: "And this is a chain of narration in the utmost authenticity from the chains of the Kufans?" Thus it was established that the doubling of the iqāmah had been abrogated, and that this was indeed the initial ruling. ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Abī Laylā learned from one hundred and twenty Companions, and he encountered Bilāl and ʿUmar (may Allah be pleased with them both). Thus the truth became clear. The invalidity of their statement with certainty—and all praise is due to Allah, the Exalted.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا إسْنَادٌ فِي غَايَةِ الصِّحَّةِ مِنْ إسْنَادِ الْكُوفِيِّينَ؟ فَصَحَّ أَنَّ ثَنْيَةَ الْإِقَامَةِ قَدْ نُسِخَتْ، وَأَنَّهُ هُوَ كَانَ أَوَّلَ الْأَمْرِ، وَعَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ أَبِي لَيْلَى أَخَذَ عَنْ مِائَةٍ وَعِشْرِينَ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ، وَأَدْرَكَ بِلَالًا وَعُمَرَ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمَا -؛ فَلَاحَ بُطْلَانُ قَوْلِهِمْ بِيَقِينٍ -، وَلِلَّهِ تَعَالَى الْحَمْدُ؟ .

L5973 However, the preferable view is what is authentically established from the Messenger of Allah's—peace and blessings be upon him—instruction to Bilāl to make the iqāmah odd-numbered, except [its specific phrase]. The other authentic opinion—is it not more deserving of adherence than what does not attain its rank? Some later Mālikīs claimed: "The meaning of 'except the iqāmah' is 'except Allāhu Akbar.'" This aligns with their customary practice of falsehood, for no one—neither linguistically nor legislatively—has ever termed the phrase "Allāhu Akbar" as iqāmah. How can this be when it is explicitly stated as "the prayer has commenced," as we have mentioned? The Ḥanafīs argued: "The command to Bilāl to make the iqāmah odd-numbered originated from someone after the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him." This affiliates them with the Rāfiḍīs who attribute to Abū Bakr and ʿUmar the alteration of the religion of Islam. May Allah curse whoever says this! Would any Muslim utter such a claim? If they object: "You have narrated through Ḥaywah's chain from Al-Aswad that Bilāl used to repeat the iqāmah in pairs," we respond: Indeed. Yet Anas narrated that Bilāl was commanded to make it odd-numbered, and Anas undoubtedly heard Bilāl's adhān, whereas Al-Aswad never heard him deliver the adhān or iqāmah. Thus, the correct understanding of Al-Aswad's statement—"Bilāl used to repeat the iqāmah in pairs"—refers to his utterance of "the prayer has commenced" [in the iqāmah], thereby reconciling it with Anas's narration on the matter.

إلَّا أَنَّ الْأَفْضَلَ مَا صَحَّ مِنْ أَمْرِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - بِلَالًا بِأَنْ يُوتِرَهَا إلَّا الْإِقَامَةَ، وَالصَّحِيحُ الْآخَرُ أَوْلَى بِالْأَخْذِ مِمَّا لَا يَبْلُغُ دَرَجَتَهُ؟ ، وَقَدْ قَالَ بَعْضُ

مُتَأَخِّرِي الْمَالِكِيِّينَ: مَعْنَى " إِلَّا الْإِقَامَةَ " أَيْ إِلَّا " اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ " وَهَذَا جَرْيٌ مِنْهُمْ عَلَى عَادَتِهِمْ فِي الْكَذِبِ " وَمَا سَمَّى أَحَدٌ قَطُّ قَوْلَ " اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ " إِقَامَةً، لَا فِي لُغَةٍ، وَلَا فِي شَرِيعَةٍ، فَكَيْفَ وَقَدْ جَاءَ مُبَيَّنًا أَنَّهُ " قَدْ قَامَتْ الصَّلَاةُ " كَمَا ذَكَرْنَاهُ؟ وَقَالَ الْحَنَفِيُّونَ: إنَّ الْأَمْرَ لِبِلَالٍ بِأَنْ يُوتِرَ الْإِقَامَةَ هُوَ مِمَّنْ بَعْدَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَهَذَا لَحَاقٌ مِنْهُمْ بِالرَّوَافِضِ النَّاسِبِينَ إلَى أَبِي بَكْرٍ، وَعُمَرَ، تَبْدِيلَ دِينِ الْإِسْلَامِ؛ وَلَعَنَ اللَّهُ مَنْ يَقُولُ هَذَا، فَمَا يَقُولُهُ مُسْلِمٌ؟ فَإِنْ قَالُوا: قَدْ رَوَيْتُمْ مِنْ طَرِيقِ حَيْوَةَ عَنْ الْأَسْوَدِ: أَنَّ بِلَالًا كَانَ يُثَنِّي الْإِقَامَةَ؟ قُلْنَا: نَعَمْ، وَأَنَسٌ رَوَى: أَنَّ بِلَالًا أُمِرَ بِوِتْرِهَا، وَأَنَسٌ سَمِعَ أَذَانَ بِلَالٍ بِلَا شَكٍّ، وَلَمْ يَسْمَعْهُ الْأَسْوَدُ قَطُّ يُؤَذِّنُ، وَلَا يُقِيمُ -: فَصَحَّ أَنَّ مَعْنَى قَوْلِ الْأَسْوَدِ: إنَّ بِلَالًا كَانَ يُثَنِّي الْإِقَامَةَ يُرِيدُ قَوْلَهُ " قَدْ قَامَتْ الصَّلَاةُ " حَتَّى يَتَّفِقَ قَوْلُهُ مَعَ رِوَايَةِ أَنَسٍ فِي ذَلِكَ؟ .

L5974 Ali said: Some Hanafis suggested that perhaps the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) instructed Abū Maḥdhūrah to say "I bear witness that there is no god but Allah, I bear witness that there is no god but Allah; I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah, I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah" solely because he had lowered his voice, not because this repetition constitutes part of the ruling of the adhān. Ali said: This is sheer falsehood against the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him), for had he (peace be upon him) known this repetition was not inherent to the essence of the adhān, he would have informed him of it. He would not have left him at all to recite it while lowering his voice at the beginning of the adhān. This repetition is not a single phrase; rather, it comprises four declarations: two consisting of six phrases each, and two consisting of five phrases each.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَقَالَ بَعْضُ الْحَنَفِيِّينَ: لَعَلَّ أَمْرَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَبَا مَحْذُورَةَ أَنْ يَقُولَ " أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إلَهَ إلَّا اللَّهُ أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إلَهَ إلَّا اللَّهُ أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ " إنَّمَا كَانَ لِأَجْلِ أَنَّهُ كَانَ خَفَضَ بِهِ صَوْتَهُ، لَا لِأَنَّهُ مِنْ حُكْمِ الْأَذَانِ؟ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا كَذِبٌ عَلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - مُجَرَّدٌ، لِأَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لَوْ عَلِمَ أَنَّ هَذَا التَّرْجِيعَ لَيْسَ مِنْ نَفْسِ الْأَذَانِ لَنَبَّأَهُ عَلَيْهِ، وَلَمَا تَرَكَهُ أَلْبَتَّةَ يَقُولُ ذَلِكَ خَافِضًا صَوْتَهُ فِي ابْتِدَاءِ الْأَذَانِ، فَلَيْسَ هُوَ كَلِمَةً وَاحِدَةً، بَلْ أَرْبَعَ قَضَايَا -: الِاثْنَتَانِ مِنْهَا -: سِتُّ كَلِمَاتٍ، سِتُّ كَلِمَاتٍ، وَالِاثْنَتَانِ -: خَمْسُ كَلِمَاتٍ، خَمْسُ كَلِمَاتٍ.

L5975–5977 Among the sheer lies—for which its perpetrator deserves to occupy his abode in the Fire—is the claim that the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, permitted Abū Maḥdhūrah to do all that with a lowered voice; and lowering it is not part of the ruling of... The call to prayer (Adhan): If one neglects to correct the mistaken person and fails to prohibit the error, they lead him further astray by commanding him to repeat the call with raised voice again, while withholding the clarification that such repetition forms no part of the Adhan. How could a Muslim's tongue ever utter this, or how could his heart find ease in it?

L5978 How then, when the reports—the finest transmitted on this matter—have clearly shown that Allah's Prophet (peace be upon him) explicitly taught the call to prayer in this exact wording, word by word, as nineteen words, thereby exposing the falsehood of these asserters publicly? Some of them said: "When we observed the composition of the call to prayer in two instances, finding the second instance containing half the repetitions of the first—do you not see that 'I bear witness there is no deity but Allah' is said twice at the beginning, while 'There is no deity but Allah' is said once at the end? The Takbir was among the elements repeated in the call to prayer, yet it occurs twice at the end. By analogy, it should have been four times at the beginning."

فَكَيْفَ وَالْآثَارُ - الَّتِي هِيَ أَحْسَنُ مَا رُوِيَ فِي ذَلِكَ - جَاءَتْ مُبَيِّنَةً بِأَنَّ نَبِيَّ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - عَلَّمَهُ الْأَذَانَ كَذَلِكَ نَصًّا، كَلِمَةً كَلِمَةً، تِسْعَ عَشْرَةَ كَلِمَةً فَوَضَحَ كَذِبُ هَؤُلَاءِ الْقَائِلِينَ جِهَارًا؟ وَقَالَ بَعْضُهُمْ: لِمَا رَأَيْنَا مَا كَانَ فِي الْأَذَانِ فِي مَوْضِعَيْنِ كَانَ فِي الْمَوْضِعِ الثَّانِي عَلَى نِصْفِ مَا هُوَ عَلَيْهِ فِي الْمَوْضِعِ الْأَوَّلِ -: أَلَا تَرَى أَنَّهُ يُقَالُ فِي أَوَّلِ الْأَذَانِ " أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إلَهَ إلَّا اللَّهُ " مَرَّتَيْنِ، وَيُقَالُ فِي آخِرِهِ " لَا إلَهَ إلَّا اللَّهُ " مَرَّةً وَكَانَ التَّكْبِيرُ مِمَّا يَتَكَرَّرُ فِي الْأَذَانِ، وَكَانَ التَّكْبِيرُ فِي آخِرِ الْأَذَانِ مَرَّتَيْنِ، وَالْقِيَاسُ أَنْ يَكُونَ فِي أَوَّلِ الْأَذَانِ أَرْبَعًا.

L5979 Ali said: If this obsession of yours is valid, then the Takbir should indeed be quadrupled at the beginning of the Adhan as you assert. Consequently, it would be obligatory to also quadruple "I bear witness that there is no deity but Allah, I bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah" in the Takbir, and to refrain from doubling any part of the Adhan except what is unanimously agreed upon—just as nothing is singularized except what is agreed to be singular, namely "There is no deity but Allah" alone. Thus, the opening of the Adhan would consist of three phrases repeated four times each, followed by three phrases repeated twice, then ending with an odd seventh phrase. This absurdity surpasses your own absurdity, and you must adhere to it. As for the Malikis: when they analogize the woman with chronic bleeding to an animal whose milk is withheld to inflate its udder (to deceive buyers), equate light spitting (for purification) during prayer to the verse “Do not say ‘Uff’ to them” [17:23], liken a married woman’s financial autonomy to a terminally ill patient feared near death, compare the adultery of a married woman to the amputated hand of a thief, along with all such analogies—nothing is more invalid or baseless than these.[40]

L5980 These two analogies are more coherent with reason in the view of every possessor of intellect. They must therefore adhere to them if they are among the people of analogy; otherwise, let them abandon those frivolous analogies, for this is more advantageous for them in religion and more rooted in reason. Success comes solely from Allah, the Most High.

L5981 Some Malikis argued: Since “There is no god but Allah” is recited once at the end of the adhan, should the entire iqamah follow this [single-recitation rule], except for the agreed-upon takbir within it?

L5982–5983 So we said to them: Since what you mentioned was not a valid proof for singling out the Adhan, it was not a valid proof for singling out the Iqamah either.

L5984 Moreover, since the Takbīr in the Iqāmah is repeated twice by agreement among us and you, it follows that the remainder of the Iqāmah must also be repeated twice except what is agreed upon—namely, the Tahlīl at its end only. Alternatively, since the Takbīr in the Iqāmah is recited four times, it would necessitate that [another part of] the Iqāmah be recited twice, so that it includes a quadruple repetition, transitioning to a double, then a single utterance. All of this is folly; have we not presented it merely for those who validate [methodological principles] to recognize the corruption and invalidity of analogy?

L5985 It has been authentically established from Ibn ʿUmar and Abū Umāmah ibn Sahl ibn Ḥunayf that they would say in their call to prayer: “Hasten to the best of deeds.” Yet we do not hold this view, as it has not been authentically transmitted from the Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him), nor is there any valid proof from anyone besides him. Indeed, it was incumbent upon whoever attributes such a statement to a Companion - since such matters are not subject to personal opinion - to adopt Ibn ʿUmar's position in this matter, for it is firmly established from him through the strongest chain of narrators.

L5986 Al-Ḥasan ibn Ḥayy said: Some say during the Isha prayer, "Prayer is better than sleep, prayer is better than sleep," but we do not endorse this view either, for there is no narration from the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him).

L5987 An issue concerning reversing the order of the phrases in the adhan and iqamah, placing their latter parts before what precedes them.

L5988 332 – Issue:

L5989–5991 It is not permissible to reverse the order of the adhan or the iqamah, nor to advance any delayed element of them over what precedes it. Whoever does so has neither performed the adhan nor the iqamah, nor prayed with adhan or iqamah. Ali said: "There are four matters people disputed regarding them: ablution, the adhan, the iqamah, and circumambulating the Kaaba." Abu Hanifah said: "It is permissible to reverse the order of all these." Malik said: "It is not permissible to reverse the order of the adhan, the iqamah, or circumambulation." In one of his two opinions, the more famous one, he said: "It is permissible to reverse the order of ablution." Al-Shafi'i said: "It is not permissible to reverse the order of any of these." Ali said: "No one doubts that the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him, taught people the adhan. Were it not for that..." Do not practice soothsaying regarding either of them, nor introduce innovations concerning either of them.

L5992 Since there is no doubt about that, he (peace be upon him) taught them both in their original sequence, step by step. He directs the learner to repeat what he dictates, then the subsequent part of the instruction, until both are fully completed.

L5993 Therefore, since this is the case, it is not permissible for anyone to contradict the Prophet's command (peace be upon him) by advancing what he delayed

A legal issue regarding the mu'adhdhin's proclamation in the call to prayer: "Verily, pray in your dwellings."

[مَسْأَلَةُ قَوْلُ الْمُؤَذِّنِ فِي أَذَانِهِ أَلَا صَلُّوا فِي رِحَالِكُمْ]

Issue 333: If there is severe cold or rain (drizzle or heavier), the mu'adhdhin must add to his call after "Come to success" or after that, "Pray in your dwellings."

٣٣٣ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: فَإِنْ كَانَ بَرْدٌ شَدِيدٌ أَوْ مَطَرُ رَشٍّ فَصَاعِدًا، فَيَجِبُ أَنْ يَزِيدَ الْمُؤَذِّنُ فِي أَذَانِهِ بَعْدَ " حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاحِ " أَوْ بَعْدَ ذَلِكَ " أَلَا صَلُّوا فِي الرِّحَالِ ".

This ruling applies equally whether settled or traveling: Hammam narrated to us, Ibn Mufarrij narrated to us, Ibn al-Aʿrabī narrated to us, al-Dabarī narrated to us, ʿAbd al-Razzāq narrated to us from Sufyān ibn ʿUyaynah from Ayyūb al-Sikhtiyānī from Nāfiʿ from Ibn ʿUmar: that he gave the call to prayer at Ḍajinān between Mecca and Medina, saying, "Pray in your resting places."

وَهَذَا الْحُكْمُ وَاحِدٌ فِي الْحَضَرِ وَالسَّفَرِ -: حَدَّثَنَا حَمَامٌ ثنا ابْنُ مُفَرِّجٍ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا الدَّبَرِيُّ ثنا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ بْنِ عُيَيْنَةَ عَنْ أَيُّوبَ السِّخْتِيَانِيِّ عَنْ نَافِعٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عُمَرَ: أَنَّهُ أَذَّنَ بِضَجِنَانَ بَيْنَ مَكَّةَ وَالْمَدِينَةِ فَقَالَ " صَلُّوا فِي الرِّحَالِ ".

Then Ibn Umar said, "The Prophet (peace be upon him) would order his caller on cold, rainy, or windy nights to say: Pray in your dwellings."

ثُمَّ قَالَ ابْنُ عُمَرَ «كَانَ النَّبِيُّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَأْمُرُ مُنَادِيَهُ فِي اللَّيْلَةِ الْبَارِدَةِ أَوْ الْمَطِيرَةِ أَوْ ذَاتِ الرِّيحِ أَنْ يَقُولَ: صَلُّوا فِي الرِّحَالِ» .

Hammam narrated to us: Abbas ibn Asbagh narrated to us: Ibn Ayman narrated to us: Bakr ibn Hammad narrated to us: Musaddad narrated to us: Hammad—he is Ibn Zayd—from Ayyub al-Sikhtiyani, Asim al-Ahwal, and Abd al-Hamid, the companion of al-Ziyadi, all of them from Abdullah ibn al-Harith, who said: "Ibn Abbas addressed us on a muddy day. When the mu'adhin reached 'Come to prayer,' he instructed him to proclaim: 'Prayer in your dwellings?' The people exchanged glances. He said to them: 'It seems you find this strange. One who is better than me did this, and it is indeed an obligation.'" This is the position of our scholars.

Issue: Speaking is permissible after the iqamah and before commencing the prayer.

[مَسْأَلَةُ الْكَلَامُ جَائِزٌ بَيْنَ الْإِقَامَةِ وَالصَّلَاةِ]

L6001 Issue: Speech is permissible between the iqāmah and the prayer—whether the speech was long or short—and the iqāmah is not repeated for that reason. It was narrated to us by ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAbd Allāh ibn Khālid al-Hamdānī; from Abū Isḥāq al-Balkhī; from al-Farbrī; from al-Bukhārī; from Abū Maʿmar ʿAbd Allāh ibn ʿAmr; from ʿAbd al-Wārith; from ʿAbd al-ʿAzīz—who is Ibn Ṣuhayb—from Anas ibn Mālik, who said: "The prayer was called, and the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—was whispering privately to a man in a corner of the mosque. He did not rise for the prayer until the people had fallen asleep."

L6002 We have mentioned the Muslims' establishment of prayer, the Prophet's (peace be upon him) recollection that he was junub, his returning and performing the ritual bath, then his return and leading the people in prayer.

L6003 There is no evidence whatsoever that necessitates repeating the iqamah. None of the imams disagree that if someone speaks after the iqamah but before commencing the prayer, or invalidates his ablution, he must renew his ablution while the iqamah need not be repeated for such reasons. Anyone who differentiates between minor and major acts, or between brief and extended speech, must substantiate his position with evidence and specify the exact threshold distinguishing the lesser from the greater in these matters. There exists absolutely no means for him to accomplish this, and with Allah the Exalted lies all success.

The Times of Prayer: A Question Regarding the First Time of Ẓuhr

L6004–6005

L6006 Issue: Abū Muḥammad ʿAlī ibn Aḥmad said: The initial time for Ẓuhr begins when the sun commences its decline from the zenith. Initiating Ẓuhr prayer before this is fundamentally impermissible, and such prayer is invalid. The timeframe for Ẓuhr then extends until every object's shadow equals its own length – excluding the shadow present at the start of the sun's decline, counting only the excess thereafter. If one utters the takbīr for Ẓuhr during this period or prior to its conclusion, they have validly caught the prayer without necessitating an excuse. Should the aforementioned shadow exceed this measure – whether minimally or substantially – the time for commencing Ẓuhr prayer expires, except exclusively for a traveler in haste.

At this point, the initial time for ʿAṣr begins. Whoever starts ʿAṣr prayer before this timeframe has not performed it validly, except on the Day of ʿArafah at ʿArafah alone. The period for commencing ʿAṣr prayer then persists until the entire solar disc has set, though we consider it reprehensible to delay ʿAṣr until the sun turns yellowish without a valid excuse. Whoever utters the takbīr for ʿAṣr before the full disappearance of the solar disc has validly caught ʿAṣr. Once the entire disc sets, the time for commencing ʿAṣr prayer expires, and the initial time for Maghrib prayer begins. It is invalid to commence Maghrib prayer before the complete setting of the solar disc.

ثُمَّ يَتَمَادَى وَقْتُ صَلَاةِ الْمَغْرِبِ إِلَى أَنْ يَغِيبَ الشَّفَقُ الَّذِي هُوَ الْحُمْرَةُ -: فَمَنْ كَبَّرَ لِلْمَغْرِبِ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَغِيبَ آخِرُ حُمْرَةِ الشَّفَقِ فَقَدْ أَدْرَكَ صَلَاةَ الْمَغْرِبِ بِلَا كَرَاهَةٍ وَلَا ضَرُورَةٍ؟ .

L6007–6009 Then, the time for Maghrib prayer persists until the disappearance of the twilight—that is, the redness. Therefore, whoever begins the Maghrib prayer by uttering the takbir before the last redness of the twilight disappears has caught the prayer within its time without... Is it disliked or a necessity?

فَإِذَا غَرُبَتْ حُمْرَةُ الشَّفَقِ كُلُّهَا فَقَدْ بَطَلَ وَقْتُ الدُّخُولِ فِي صَلَاةِ الْمَغْرِبِ، إِلَّا لِلْمُسَافِرِ الْمُجِدِّ، وَبِمُزْدَلِفَةَ لَيْلَةَ يَوْمِ النَّحْرِ فَقَطْ، وَدَخَلَ وَقْتُ صَلَاةِ الْعِشَاءِ الْآخِرَةِ، وَهِيَ الْعَتَمَةُ، وَمَنْ كَبَّرَ لَهَا وَمِنَ الْحُمْرَةِ فِي الْأُفُقِ شَيْءٌ لَمْ يَجْزِهِ.

L6010 When the redness of the twilight has entirely vanished, the time for commencing the Maghrib prayer has expired, except for the hastening traveler and, at Muzdalifah, only on the night of the Day of Sacrifice. At that point, the time for the Isha prayer—which is the night prayer (al-ʻAtamah)—begins. Whoever initiates it with the Takbīr while any trace of redness remains on the horizon, his prayer will not be accepted.

ثُمَّ يَتَمَادَى وَقْتُ صَلَاةِ الْعَتَمَةِ إِلَى انْقِضَاءِ نِصْفِ اللَّيْلِ الْأَوَّلِ، وَابْتِدَاءِ النِّصْفِ الثَّانِي -: فَمَنْ كَبَّرَ لَهَا فِي أَوَّلِ النِّصْفِ الثَّانِي مِنَ اللَّيْلِ فَقَدْ أَدْرَكَ صَلَاةَ الْعَتَمَةِ بِلَا كَرَاهَةٍ، وَلَا ضَرُورَةٍ فَإِذَا زَادَ عَلَى ذَلِكَ فَقَدْ خَرَجَ وَقْتُ الدُّخُولِ فِي صَلَاةِ الْعَتَمَةِ؟ فَإِذَا طَلَعَ الْفَجْرُ الثَّانِي فَقَدْ دَخَلَ أَوَّلُ وَقْتِ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ، فَلَوْ كَبَّرَ لَهَا قَبْلَ ذَلِكَ لَمْ يَجْزِهِ، وَيَتَمَادَى وَقْتُهَا إِلَى أَنْ يَطْلُعَ أَوَّلُ قُرْصِ الشَّمْسِ -: فَمَنْ كَبَّرَ لَهَا قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ أَوَّلِ الْقُرْصِ فَقَدْ أَدْرَكَ صَلَاةَ الصُّبْحِ - إِلَّا أَنَّا نَكْرَهُ تَأْخِيرَهَا عَنْ أَنْ يُسَلِّمَ مِنْهَا قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ أَوَّلِ الْقُرْصِ

L6011 The time for the ʿAtama (Isha) prayer lasts until the end of the first half of the night and the beginning of the second half. Whoever initiates it with the Takbīr in the early part of the second half has validly entered the ʿAtama prayer without religious reprehensibility (karāha) or necessity. If one exceeds this, the time for entering the ʿAtama prayer has expired. When the second dawn (Fajr al-Ṣādiq) appears, the initial time for the Subh (Fajr) prayer begins. If one initiates it before this, the prayer is invalid for him. The time for Subh continues until the first visible edge of the sun's disc emerges. Whoever initiates it with the Takbīr before the sun's first emergence has validly entered the Subh prayer. However, it is makrūh to delay the prayer such that the Taslīm (salutation) occurs after the sun's disc begins to rise, except due to an excuse. Once the sun's first edge appears, the time for entering the Subh prayer is nullified. When the time of any prayer we have mentioned expires, it is impermissible to perform it—whether it is a child reaching puberty, a menstruating woman who becomes pure, or a disbeliever who embraces Islam. These may only pray what they began within the specified times.

L6012 As for the traveler, if the sun passes its zenith for him while he is settled or sets while he is settled, he follows the ruling we previously mentioned regarding the times of Zuhr and Maghrib with no distinction—he must pray each prayer at its prescribed time without exception.

وَأَمَّا الْمُسَافِرُ فَإِنَّهُ إِنْ زَالَتْ لَهُ الشَّمْسُ، وَهُوَ نَازِلٌ أَوْ غَرُبَتْ لَهُ الشَّمْسُ، وَهُوَ نَازِلٌ -: فَهُوَ كَمَا ذَكَرْنَا فِي وَقْتِ الظُّهْرِ وَالْمَغْرِبِ وَلَا فَرْقَ -: يُصَلِّي كُلَّ صَلَاةٍ لِوَقْتِهَا وَلَا بُدَّ.

L6013 If the sun has passed the zenith while he is traveling, he may delay the Ẓuhr prayer until the start of the time we have mentioned for ʿAṣr, then combine Ẓuhr and ʿAṣr.

فَإِنْ زَالَتْ لَهُ الشَّمْسُ وَهُوَ مَاشٍ فَلَهُ أَنْ يُؤَخِّرَ الظُّهْرَ إِلَى أَوَّلِ الْوَقْتِ الَّذِي ذَكَرْنَا لِلْعَصْرِ، ثُمَّ يَجْمَعُ الظُّهْرَ وَالْعَصْرَ.

L6014 If the sun sets for him while he is walking, he may delay Maghrib until the beginning of Isha's time, then combine Maghrib and Isha. As for at Arafah—specifically on the day of Arafah—he prays Dhuhr in its time, then prays Asr immediately after concluding Dhuhr within Dhuhr's timeframe.

وَإِنْ غَابَتْ لَهُ الشَّمْسُ، وَهُوَ مَاشٍ فَلَهُ أَنْ يُؤَخِّرَ الْمَغْرِبَ إِلَى أَوَّلِ وَقْتِ الْعَتَمَةِ، ثُمَّ يَجْمَعُ بَيْنَ الْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعَتَمَةِ؟ ، وَأَمَّا بِعَرَفَةَ - يَوْمَ عَرَفَةَ خَاصَّةً - فَإِنَّهُ يُصَلِّي الظُّهْرَ فِي وَقْتِهَا، ثُمَّ يُصَلِّي الْعَصْرَ إِذَا سَلَّمَ مِنْ الظُّهْرِ فِي وَقْتِ الظُّهْرِ؟ .

L6015–6017 As for Muzdalifah—specifically on the night preceding the Day of Sacrifice (Yawm al-Naḥr)—one must pray Maghrib only in Muzdalifah, at any time. If he comes to it during the time of the Isha prayer, he should pray it first, then perform the Isha prayer. As for one who forgets a prayer or sleeps through it, its time extends perpetually without fail. It is not permissible for anyone to delay a prayer beyond the time we have mentioned—such an act is invalid. Nor is it permissible to perform a prayer before its designated time—it is not valid if he does that. Abu Hanifa stated in one of his two opinions: The initial time for Asr begins when the shadow of every thing becomes twice its length. The preferred time for the Isha prayer extends to a third of the night and up to half of it, while its time continues until the appearance of dawn—though delaying it until this point is disliked.

وَأَمَّا بِمُزْدَلِفَةَ - لَيْلَةَ يَوْمِ النَّحْرِ خَاصَّةً - فَإِنَّهُ لَا يُصَلِّي الْمَغْرِبَ إِلَّا بِمُزْدَلِفَةَ أَيَّ وَقْتٍ جَاءَهَا، فَإِنْ جَاءَهَا فِي وَقْتِ الْعَتَمَةِ صَلَّاهَا، ثُمَّ صَلَّى الْعَتَمَةَ، وَأَمَّا النَّاسِي لِلصَّلَاةِ وَالنَّائِمُ عَنْهَا فَإِنَّ وَقْتَهَا مُتَمَادٍ أَبَدًا لَا بُدَّ، وَلَا يَحِلُّ لِأَحَدٍ أَنْ يُؤَخِّرَ صَلَاةً عَنْ وَقْتِهَا الَّذِي ذَكَرْنَا، وَلَا يُجْزِئُهُ إِنْ فَعَلَ ذَلِكَ، وَلَا أَنْ يُقَدِّمَهَا قَبْلَ وَقْتِهَا الَّذِي ذَكَرْنَا، لَا يُجْزِئُهُ إِنْ فَعَلَ ذَلِكَ؟ وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ فِي أَحَدِ قَوْلَيْهِ -: أَوَّلُ وَقْتِ الْعَصْرِ إِذَا صَارَ ظِلُّ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ مِثْلَيْهِ، وَوَقْتُ الْعَتَمَةِ الْمُسْتَحَبُّ إِلَى ثُلُثِ اللَّيْلِ وَإِلَى نِصْفِهِ، وَيَمْتَدُّ إِلَى طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ - وَإِنْ كُرِهَ تَأْخِيرُهَا إِلَيْهِ.

L6018 It is not permissible to delay the Ẓuhr prayer until the time of ʿAṣr, nor to delay the Maghrib prayer until the time of Ishāʾ (ʿAtamah), for a diligent traveler; Mālik held the opinion that a sick person who fears losing his mental faculties due to illness and a traveler who intends to embark on a journey may pray ʿAṣr during the time of Ẓuhr and Ishāʾ during the time of Maghrib.

وَلَمْ يَجُزْ تَأْخِيرُ الظُّهْرِ إِلَى وَقْتِ الْعَصْرِ، وَلَا تَأْخِيرُ الْمَغْرِبِ إِلَى وَقْتِ الْعَتَمَةِ -: لِلْمُسَافِرِ الْمُجِدِّ وَرَأَى مَالِكٌ لِلْمَرِيضِ الَّذِي يَخَافُ ذَهَابَ عَقْلِهِ، وَلِلْمُسَافِرِ الَّذِي يُرِيدُ الرَّحِيلَ -: أَنْ يُقَدِّمَ الْعَصْرَ إِلَى وَقْتِ الظُّهْرِ، وَالْعَتَمَةَ إِلَى وَقْتِ الْمَغْرِبِ.

L6019 He held the view that congregational mosques - during rain and darkness - should slightly delay Maghrib and move Isha prayer forward to Maghrib's time, with no voluntary prayers performed between them. He did not hold this view for fear of an enemy, nor did he apply it to the daytime prayers of Dhuhr and Asr during daytime rain.

وَرَأَى لِمَسَاجِدِ الْجَمَاعَةِ - فِي الْمَطَرِ وَالظُّلْمَةِ - أَنْ تُؤَخِّرَ الْمَغْرِبَ قَلِيلًا وَتُقَدِّمَ الْعَتَمَةَ إِلَى وَقْتِ الْمَغْرِبِ، وَلَا يُتَنَفَّلُ بَيْنَهُمَا، وَلَمْ يَرَ ذَلِكَ لِخَوْفِ عَدُوٍّ، وَلَا رَأَى ذَلِكَ فِي نَهَارِ الْمَطَرِ فِي الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ.

L6020 He held that the time of Dhuhr and Asr extends until sunset—provided one begins Dhuhr within its time and performs one rakʿah of Asr before the sun has completely set? He also held that the time of Maghrib and ʿAtamah (Isha) extends until one begins Maghrib within its time and performs one rakʿah of ʿAtamah before the rising of the true dawn. Al-Shāfiʿī held that combining Dhuhr and Asr during Dhuhr's time, and combining Maghrib and ʿAtamah during Maghrib's time, is permissible—specifically for mosques with congregational prayers during rain.

وَرَأَى وَقْتَ الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ يَمْتَدَّانِ إِلَى غُرُوبِ الشَّمْسِ بِإِدْرَاكِ الظُّهْرِ وَرَكْعَةٍ مِنْ الْعَصْرِ قَبْلَ غُرُوبِ جَمِيعِهَا؟ وَرَأَى وَقْتَ الْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعَتَمَةِ يَمْتَدَّانِ إِلَى أَنْ يُدْرِكَ الْمَغْرِبَ وَرَكْعَةً مِنْ الْعَتَمَةِ قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ الثَّانِي وَرَأَى الشَّافِعِيُّ الْجَمْعَ بَيْنَ الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ فِي وَسَطِ وَقْتِ الظُّهْرِ، وَبَيْنَ الْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعَتَمَةِ فِي وَسَطِ وَقْتِ الْمَغْرِبِ -: لِمَسَاجِدِ الْجَمَاعَاتِ خَاصَّةً فِي الْمَطَرِ.

L6021 He held the view that the time for Dhuhr and Asr prayers constitutes a merged period extending until sunset, while the time for Maghrib and Isha prayers forms a shared duration lasting until the dawn's emergence (the onset of Fajr).

L6022–6023 This is alongside his statement and the statement of Mālik: "Verily, Maghrib has only one time"—yet these statements are evidently contradictory without any proof? ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us, Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us, Abū Khālifah al-Faḍl ibn al-Ḥubāb al-Jumaḥī narrated to us, Abū al-Walīd al-Ṭayālisī (he is Hishām ibn ʿAbd al-Malik) narrated to us: I am Hammām ibn Yaḥyā, from Qatādah, from Abū Ayyūb al-Marāghī, from ʿAbdullāh ibn ʿAmr ibn al-ʿĀṣ: "A man asked Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—about the time of Ẓuhr prayer. L6024–6026 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us: Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us: Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Abdullah ibn Numayr narrated to us: Ubay narrated to us: Badr ibn Uthman narrated to us: Abu Bakr ibn Abi Musa al-Ash'ari reported from his father that the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) was approached by a questioner asking about prayer timings. He did not respond to him at all. Then he performed the Fajr prayer when dawn broke while people could scarcely recognize one another. Then he commanded him to perform the Dhuhr prayer when the sun had passed its zenith, while someone might say, "Midday has come" - though he was the most knowledgeable among them. Then he commanded him to perform the Asr prayer while the sun remained high. Then he commanded him to perform the Maghrib prayer when the sun had set. Then he commanded him to perform the Isha prayer when twilight disappeared. The next day, he delayed Fajr until... He left from it while the observer was saying: "The sun has risen or is about to rise," then he delayed the noon prayer until it approached yesterday's afternoon prayer time. Then he delayed the afternoon prayer until he concluded it while the observer was saying: "The sun has reddened," then he delayed the sunset prayer until twilight disappeared, then he delayed the evening prayer until the first third of the night. At dawn, he summoned the questioner and said: "The time is between these two."

L6028–6030 Hammad narrated to us: ʿAbbās ibn Aṣbagh narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Malik ibn Ayman narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Zuhayr and Muḥammad ibn Waḍḍāḥ narrated. Ibn Zuhayr narrated: My father narrated to me, and Ibn Waḍḍāḥ narrated: Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah and Ibn Numayr narrated to us. Ibn Zuhayr, Abū Bakr, and Ibn Numayr narrated: Muḥammad ibn Fuḍayl narrated to us from al-Aʿmash from Abū Ṣāliḥ from Abū Hurayrah, who reported: The Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—said, "Verily, prayer has a beginning and an end—the beginning of the Dhuhr prayer is when the sun declines, and its end time is when the time for ʿAṣr begins. The beginning of ʿAṣr's time is when Dhuhr's time ends, and its end time is when the sun turns yellow." The beginning time of Maghrib is when the sun sets, and its end time is when the horizon disappears. The beginning time of the latter Isha is when the twilight vanishes, and its end time is when half the night has passed. The beginning time of Fajr is when dawn emerges, and its end time is when the sun rises.

L6031 Ali said: The objection of those who posited a defect in the ḥadīth of ʿAbd Allāh ibn ʿAmr did not elude us—that Qatādah sometimes transmitted it as a raised report (musnad) and at other times as a stopped report (mawqūf). This is not a defect, but rather a strength for the ḥadīth. How can this be a defect when the Companion narrates it from the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—in one instance and issues a legal ruling based on it in another? This is ignorance from those who invoked this as a defect—an assertion without proof, mere conjecture blindly following those who presumed it.

L6032 Likewise, we are not unaware of those who made a pretext regarding the narration of Abū Hurayrah by claiming Muḥammad ibn Fuḍayl erred in it—asserting instead that it is mawqoof (stopped at Mujāhid). This, too, is a false claim without evidence. What harm is there in the chain of those who transmitted it as mawqoof from those who stopped it (at Mujāhid)?

attained ʿAṣr." This report supplements the narrations which state, "The time for ʿAṣr lasts as long as the sun does not begin to yellow," and it is not permissible to disregard additions by reliable narrators. All these reports are supplementary to the narrations which mention, "He, peace and blessings of Allah be upon him, prayed Maghrib on the second day at the same time as he prayed it the previous day—one time."

وَفِيهِ «مَنْ أَدْرَكَ رَكْعَةً مِنْ الْعَصْرِ قَبْلَ أَنْ تَغْرُبَ الشَّمْسُ فَقَدْ أَدْرَكَ الْعَصْرَ» ؟ ، وَهَذَا الْخَبَرُ زَائِدٌ عَلَى الْآثَارِ الَّتِي فِيهَا «وَوَقْتُ الْعَصْرِ مَا لَمْ تَصْفَرَّ الشَّمْسُ» وَلَا يَحِلُّ تَرْكُ زِيَادَةِ الْعَدْلِ وَهَذِهِ الْأَخْبَارُ كُلُّهَا زَائِدَةٌ عَلَى الْأَخْبَارِ الَّتِي فِيهَا «أَنَّهُ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - صَلَّى الْمَغْرِبَ فِي الْيَوْمِ الثَّانِي فِي الْوَقْتِ الَّذِي صَلَّاهَا فِيهِ بِالْأَمْسِ وَقْتًا وَاحِدًا» .

L6040 All these reports invalidate the opinion of Mālik and al-Shāfiʿī that Maghrib has only one appointed time. This opinion is invalid for several reasons, including the authentic reports—which we will cite with their chains of transmission, if Allah the Exalted wills—that the Prophet, peace be upon him, recited in the Maghrib prayer Surah Al-Aʿrāf, Aṭ-Ṭūr, and Al-Mursalāt.

L6041 If what they claimed were true, then he—peace be upon him—would have prayed outside its prescribed time; but God is far removed from such a thing! Moreover, mosques differ: some lack minarets and have extremely narrow courtyards, so the caller hastens the adhān and the prayer begins immediately, while others have spacious courtyards—like major congregational mosques—with lofty minarets, where the caller prolongs the adhān and then descends. Thus, the prayer cannot commence until the imams of the mosques are prepared—a reality witnessed in all cities.

L6042 According to the opinion of the Mālikīs and Shāfiʿīs, would it not be obligatory to conclude that these individuals did not perform the Maghrib prayer within its prescribed time?

فَعَلَى قَوْلِ الْمَالِكِيِّينَ وَالشَّافِعِيِّينَ: كَانَ يَجِبُ أَنَّ هَؤُلَاءِ لَمْ يُصَلُّوا الْمَغْرِبَ فِي وَقْتِهَا؟

L6043–6044 Moreover, they ask: When does its time expire according to you? Yet they fail to provide any definitive limit whatsoever. It is invalid for a limited law to exist whose boundaries no one knows - Allah is exalted above such absurdity! These narrations also refute those who claim shared times for Dhuhr and Asr prayers, and shared times for Maghrib and Isha prayers. Has any report ever contradicted them in this matter at all? The rulings for Arafat and Muzdalifah apply exclusively to that day and night in those specific locations. The proof lies in their unanimous agreement - without any disagreement - that if an Imam prayed Dhuhr at Arafat during its proper time then delayed Asr until Asr's time as per regular rulings outside that day and place, or if he prayed Maghrib immediately after sunset before reaching Muzdalifah that night, he would be committing an error. According to some scholars, his prayer would be invalid - thus it becomes evident that they contradicted both analogical reasoning and textual sources. As for the textual sources - have we not already mentioned them? As for analogy: the proper analogy (were it valid here) would require applying outside Arafat and Muzdalifah the same rulings applicable there on that day and night. Thus, one would always pray Asr at Dhuhr's earliest time and continuously delay Maghrib until after twilight's disappearance. Yet they unanimously prohibit this, declaring it impermissible. This demonstrates that their claim about shared prayer times was not analogically derived from the rulings for Arafat's day at Arafat and Muzdalifah's night at Muzdalifah.

L6045–6047 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us; Abd al-Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us; Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to me: Abu Tahir Ahmad ibn Amr ibn al-Sarh narrated to me; Ibn Wahb narrated to me; Jabir ibn Isma'il narrated to me from Uqayl from Ibn Shihab from Anas from the Prophet (peace be upon him) that when the journey became urgent for him, he would delay the Dhuhr prayer until the beginning of the time for Asr. He combines the two prayers and delays Maghrib until combining it with Isha at the time when the evening twilight disappears. Likewise, it has been narrated to us through Ibn Umar's chain of transmission: "When the journey becomes strenuous for him."

حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ يُوسُفَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ فَتْحٍ ثنا عَبْدُ الْوَهَّابِ بْنُ عِيسَى ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ مُحَمَّدٍ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَلِيٍّ ثنا مُسْلِمُ بْنُ الْحَجَّاجِ حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو الطَّاهِرِ أَحْمَدُ بْنُ عَمْرِو بْنِ السَّرْحِ أَخْبَرَنِي ابْنُ وَهْبٍ حَدَّثَنِي جَابِرُ بْنُ إسْمَاعِيلَ عَنْ عُقَيْلٍ عَنْ ابْنِ شِهَابٍ عَنْ أَنَسٍ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «أَنَّهُ كَانَ إذَا عَجَّلَ عَلَيْهِ السَّفَرُ يُؤَخِّرُ الظُّهْرَ إلَى أَوَّلِ وَقْتِ الْعَصْرِ فَيَجْمَعُ بَيْنَهُمَا، وَيُؤَخِّرُ الْمَغْرِبَ حَتَّى يَجْمَعَ بَيْنَهُمَا، وَبَيْنَ الْعِشَاءِ حِينَ يَغِيبُ الشَّفَقُ» ، وَهَكَذَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ أَيْضًا «إذَا جَدَّ بِهِ السَّفَرُ» .

L6048 This report invalidates every report stating that he (peace be upon him) combined the two prayers of Zuhr and Asr and the two prayers of Maghrib and Isha during travel, and there is no possibility of any report contradicting what we have mentioned. As for outside travel: there is absolutely no possibility of any report existing that mentions combining prayers by advancing Asr to the time of Zuhr.

وَهَذَا الْخَبَرُ: يَقْضِي عَلَى كُلِّ خَبَرٍ جَاءَ بِأَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - جَمَعَ بَيْنَ صَلَاتَيْ: الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ، وَبَيْنَ صَلَاتَيْ: الْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعِشَاءِ فِي السَّفَرِ، وَلَا سَبِيلَ إِلَى وُجُودِ خَبَرٍ يُخَالِفُ مَا ذَكَرْنَا؟ ، وَأَمَّا فِي غَيْرِ السَّفَرِ: فَلَا سَبِيلَ أَلْبَتَّةَ إِلَى وُجُودِ خَبَرٍ فِيهِ: الْجَمْعُ بِتَقْدِيمِ الْعَصْرِ إِلَى وَقْتِ الظُّهْرِ.

L6049 Nor by delaying the Dhuhr prayer until one pronounces the takbir for it into the time of Asr, nor by delaying the Maghrib prayer until after the disappearance of twilight, when one pronounces the takbir for it.

L6050 Nor by advancing the ʿAtamah prayer to before the disappearance of twilight, for there exists no valid basis for this. Therefore, whoever affirms decisively this manner of prayer combination—through temporal adjacency by delaying—in light of those narrations mentioning combination has ventured into falsehood and contradicted the well-established Sunnah. We hold the view of perpetually combining Dhuhr with ʿAṣr, then Maghrib with ʿIshā, without necessity or excuse; yet without opposing the established Sunnah. Rather, this is achieved by delaying Dhuhr to the end of its prescribed time, as the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—did: beginning Dhuhr within its time and concluding it with the Taslīm just as ʿAṣr's time commences. Then the adhān for ʿAṣr is proclaimed, the iqāmah is established, and ʿAṣr is prayed within its own time. Similarly, Maghrib is delayed to the end of its time: one initiates the prayer with Takbīr for Maghrib within its time and concludes it with the Taslīm as ʿIshā's time begins. Then the adhān for ʿIshā is proclaimed, the iqāmah is established, and ʿIshā is prayed within its own time.

وَلَا بِتَقْدِيمِ الْعَتَمَةِ إِلَى قَبْلِ غُرُوبِ الشَّفَقِ، فَإِذْ لَا سَبِيلَ إِلَى هَذَا، فَمَنْ قَطَعَ بِهَذِهِ الصِّفَةِ عَلَى تِلْكَ الْأَخْبَارِ الَّتِي فِيهَا الْجَمْعُ، فَقَدْ أَقْدَمَ عَلَى الْكَذِبِ وَمُخَالَفَةِ السُّنَنِ الثَّابِتَةِ، وَنَحْنُ نَرَى الْجَمْعَ بَيْنَ الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ، ثُمَّ بَيْنَ الْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعِشَاءِ أَبَدًا بِلَا ضَرُورَةٍ وَلَا عُذْرٍ، وَلَا مُخَالَفَةَ لِلسُّنَنِ، لَكِنْ بِأَنْ يُؤَخِّرَ الظُّهْرَ كَمَا فَعَلَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إِلَى آخِرِ وَقْتِهَا، فَيُبْتَدَأُ فِي وَقْتِهَا وَيُسَلِّمُ مِنْهَا وَقَدْ دَخَلَ وَقْتُ الْعَصْرِ، فَيُؤَذَّنُ لِلْعَصْرِ، وَيُقَامُ وَتُصَلَّى فِي وَقْتِهَا، وَتُؤَخَّرُ الْمَغْرِبُ كَذَلِكَ إِلَى آخِرِ وَقْتِهَا، فَيُكَبِّرُ لَهَا فِي وَقْتِهَا وَيُسَلِّمُ مِنْهَا، وَقَدْ دَخَلَ وَقْتُ الْعِشَاءِ: فَيُؤَذَّنُ لَهَا وَيُقَامُ وَتُصَلَّى الْعِشَاءُ فِي وَقْتِهَا.

L6051 Indeed, this action validates conformity with all the ḥadīths and the certainty of the Truth—in that every prayer is performed at its prescribed time—and all praise is due to Allah.

فَقَدْ صَحَّ بِهَذَا الْعَمَلِ مُوَافَقَةُ الْأَحَادِيثِ كُلِّهَا، وَمُوَافَقَةُ يَقِينِ الْحَقِّ: فِي أَنْ تُؤَدَّى كُلُّ صَلَاةٍ فِي وَقْتِهَا -، وَلِلَّهِ الْحَمْدُ.

L6052–6054 If they claim that prayer combination was practiced in Medina, there is no valid evidence in the action of Al-Hasan ibn Zayd. Nor do they find from any of the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—a description of the manner of prayer combination as held by Malik and Al-Shafi'i, and indeed Al-Layth and others rejected it. What is astonishing is that the most authentic narration regarding prayer combination is what we have narrated through Malik's chain of narration from Abu Al-Zubayr. From Sa'id ibn Jubayr, from Ibn 'Abbas, who said: "The Messenger of Allah, peace be upon him, led us in praying Dhuhr and Asr together, and Maghrib and Isha together, in a situation unrelated to fear or travel."

فَإِنْ ادَّعُوا الْعَمَلَ بِالْجَمْعِ بِالْمَدِينَةِ، فَلَا حُجَّةَ فِي عَمَلِ الْحَسَنِ بْنِ زَيْدٍ؟ وَلَا يَجِدُونَ عَنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ -: صِفَةَ الْجَمْعِ الَّذِي يَرَاهُ مَالِكٌ وَالشَّافِعِيُّ، وَقَدْ أَنْكَرَهُ اللَّيْثُ وَغَيْرُهُ وَالْعَجَبُ أَنَّ أَصَحَّ حَدِيثٍ فِي الْجَمْعِ: هُوَ مَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ مَالِكٍ عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ قَالَ: «صَلَّى لَنَا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - الظُّهْرَ وَالْعَصْرَ جَمِيعًا، وَالْمَغْرِبَ وَالْعِشَاءَ جَمِيعًا فِي غَيْرِ خَوْفٍ وَلَا سَفَرٍ» .

L6055 Malik said: I hold the opinion regarding that in rain. What we have narrated through the chain of Uthman ibn Abi Shaybah from Abu Mu'awiyah from al-A'mash from Habib from Sa'id ibn Jubayr from Ibn Abbas: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—combined the Dhuhr and 'Asr prayers, and the Maghrib and 'Isha prayers in Medina—without fear and without rain." It was said to Ibn Abbas: "What was his intention in doing that?" He said: "He intended not to burden his ummah."

قَالَ مَالِكٌ: أَرَى ذَلِكَ فِي مَطَرٍ، وَمَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ أَبِي شَيْبَةَ عَنْ أَبِي مُعَاوِيَةَ عَنْ الْأَعْمَشِ عَنْ حَبِيبٍ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ جُبَيْرٍ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ «جَمَعَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - بَيْنَ الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ، وَالْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعِشَاءِ - بِالْمَدِينَةِ، مِنْ غَيْرِ خَوْفٍ وَلَا مَطَرٍ؟ قِيلَ لِابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ: مَا أَرَادَ إلَى ذَلِكَ؟ . قَالَ: أَرَادَ أَنْ لَا يُحْرِجَ أُمَّتَهُ» .

L6056 Ali said: The Malikis and the Shafi'is do not hold this view. There is no contradiction in these two reports against our position—and all praise is due to Allah—nor is there a description of combining prayers. Thus, is the reliance on them against us invalidated? If someone mentions the hadith of Malik from Abu al-Zubayr from Abu al-Tufayl—that Mu'adh ibn Jabal informed them that they had gone out with the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) during the Expedition of Tabuk—the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) would combine Zuhr and Asr, and Maghrib and Isha. He delayed the prayer one day, then went out and prayed Zuhr and Asr together. Then he entered, and later went out again to pray Maghrib and Isha together.[2]

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَالْمَالِكِيُّونَ وَالشَّافِعِيُّونَ لَا يَقُولُونَ بِهَذَا، وَلَيْسَ فِي هَذَيْنِ الْخَبَرَيْنِ خِلَافٌ لِقَوْلِنَا - وَلِلَّهِ الْحَمْدُ - وَلَا صِفَةُ الْجَمْعِ، فَبِطَلَ التَّعَلُّقُ بِهِمَا عَلَيْنَا؟ فَإِنْ ذَكَرَ ذَاكِرٌ: حَدِيثَ مَالِكٍ عَنْ أَبِي الزُّبَيْرِ عَنْ أَبِي الطُّفَيْلِ: أَنَّ مُعَاذَ بْنَ جَبَلٍ أَخْبَرَهُمْ «أَنَّهُمْ خَرَجُوا مَعَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فِي غَزْوَةِ تَبُوكَ فَكَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَجْمَعُ بَيْنَ الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ، وَالْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعِشَاءِ، فَأَخَّرَ الصَّلَاةَ يَوْمًا، ثُمَّ خَرَجَ فَصَلَّى الظُّهْرَ وَالْعَصْرَ جَمِيعًا، ثُمَّ دَخَلَ ثُمَّ خَرَجَ فَصَلَّى الْمَغْرِبَ وَالْعِشَاءَ جَمِيعًا» .

L6057–6059 This also, as we have stated, contains no description of prayer combination in the manner they assert. Therefore, they are no more entitled to its literal meaning than we are. Furthermore, this is a report we have narrated through the chain of Al-Layth ibn Saʿd from Hishām ibn Saʿd from Abū al-Zubayr from Abū al-Ṭufayl from Muʿādh ibn Jabal: "During the Expedition of Tabuk, if the sun declined before he departed, the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) would combine Ẓuhr and ʿAṣr. If he departed before the sun declined, he would delay Ẓuhr until he halted for ʿAṣr. If the sun set before he departed, he would combine Maghrib…" And the ʿIshāʾ prayer; if he departs before the twilight disappears, he delays the Maghrib prayer until he alights for ʿIshāʾ, then combines them. This is a rejected report, as it is from the narration of Hishām ibn Saʿd, who is weak.

L6060 Moreover, if it were valid, it would not contradict our position, for there is no indication within it that he—peace be upon him—hastened the ʿAṣr prayer before its time or the ʿAtamah prayer before its time. Whoever reflects on the wording of the narration will see this clearly—praise be to God. These are merely assumptions they have acted upon, so those who slipped did so therein without verification.

L6061–6063 And likewise, the ruling applies uniformly to the hadith we narrated through the chain of al-Layth from Yazīd ibn Abī Ḥabīb from Abū al-Ṭufayl from Muʿādh ibn Jabal: "During the Tabūk expedition, whenever the Prophet—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—departed before the sun declined, he would delay Ẓuhr until combining it with ʿAṣr; then pray them together. If he departed after the sun had declined, he would pray Ẓuhr and ʿAṣr together, then proceed. When he departed before Maghrib, he would delay Maghrib until combining it with ʿIshāʾ and pray them together. If he departed after Maghrib, he would hasten ʿIshāʾ and pray it combined with Maghrib." This hadith is the weakest in this chapter due to several reasons: First, it is transmitted solely through Yazīd ibn Abī Ḥabīb from Abū al-Ṭufayl, and no scholar of hadith is aware of Yazīd having directly heard from Abū al-Ṭufayl? Second, Abū al-Ṭufayl—the standard-bearer of al-Mukhtār—is reported to have advocated the doctrine of rajʿa. Third, we have narrated from Muḥammad ibn Ismāʿīl al-Bukhārī, compiler of the Ṣaḥīḥ, that he said: "I asked Quṭaybah: With whom did you write the hadith from al-Layth—the one transmitted by Yazīd ibn Abī Ḥabīb from Abū al-Ṭufayl?"—referring to this very hadīth. Quṭaybah replied: "I wrote it with Khālid al-Madāʾinī." Al-Bukhari said: "Did Khalid al-Madāʾinī insert hadiths into the scholars' narrations?" - meaning he would incorporate into their transmissions what did not originate from them.[3]

حَدِيثَ يَزِيدَ بْنِ أَبِي حَبِيبٍ عَنْ أَبِي الطُّفَيْلِ؟ يَعْنِي هَذَا الْحَدِيثَ الَّذِي ذَكَرْنَا بِعَيْنِهِ؟ قَالَ: فَقَالَ لِي قُتَيْبَةُ: كَتَبْته مَعَ خَالِدٍ الْمَدَائِنِيِّ قَالَ الْبُخَارِيُّ: كَانَ خَالِدٌ الْمَدَائِنِيُّ يُدْخِلُ الْأَحَادِيثَ عَلَى الشُّيُوخِ؟ يُرِيدُ: أَنَّهُ كَانَ يُدْخِلُ فِي رِوَايَتِهِمْ مَا لَيْسَ مِنْهَا.

L6064 Then, if it were valid, there would be no disagreement with our position, for it contains no evidence that he (peace be upon him) advanced ʿAṣr into the time of Ẓuhr, nor that he (peace be upon him) advanced ʿIshāʾ into the time of Maghrib. Thus, all their arguments regarding the overlapping of two prayer times, advancing a prayer into the preceding prayer's period, or delaying it to the time of another prayer based on personal opinion and speculative reasoning—are they not invalidated? Especially given his (peace be upon him) explicit stipulation that "the time of Ẓuhr persists as long as ʿAṣr has not arrived."

ثُمَّ لَوْ صَحَّ لَمَا كَانَ فِيهِ خِلَافٌ لِقَوْلِنَا، لِأَنَّهُ لَيْسَ فِيهِ: أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَدَّمَ الْعَصْرَ إلَى وَقْتِ الظُّهْرِ، وَلَا أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَدَّمَ الْعَتَمَةَ إلَى وَقْتِ الْمَغْرِبِ، فَبَطَلَ كُلُّ مَا تَعَلَّقُوا بِهِ فِي اشْتِرَاكِ الْوَقْتَيْنِ، وَفِي تَقْدِيمِ صَلَاةٍ إلَى وَقْتِ الَّتِي قَبْلَهَا، وَتَأْخِيرِهَا إلَى وَقْتِ غَيْرِهَا بِالرَّأْيِ وَالظَّنِّ؟ لَا سِيَّمَا مَعَ نَصِّهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - عَلَى أَنَّ «وَقْتَ الظُّهْرِ مَا لَمْ تَحْضُرْ الْعَصْرُ» .

L6065 And that "the end of Maghrib's time lasts until the twilight fades, and the beginning of Isha's time is when the twilight vanishes." This is an explicit text that entirely nullifies combining prayers. As for the forgetful person and the sleeper, we have previously mentioned the statement of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—"Whoever sleeps through a prayer or forgets it, let him pray it when he remembers it."

L6066 Thus, it is established that its time remains perpetually extended for the forgetful and the sleeper; likewise, the time for Dhuhr and Maghrib prayers is extended for those striving in their journey, and in Muzdalifah on Laylat al-Nahr; while the time for Asr prayer is shifted during the Day of Arafah in Arafah.

فَصَحَّ أَنَّ وَقْتَهَا مُمْتَدٌّ لِلنَّاسِي وَلِلنَّائِمِ أَبَدًا، وَكَذَلِكَ وَقْتُ الظُّهْرِ وَالْمَغْرِبِ مُمْتَدٌّ لِلْمُجِدِّ فِي السَّيْرِ، وَفِي مُزْدَلِفَةَ لَيْلَةَ النَّحْرِ، وَوَقْتُ الْعَصْرِ: مُنْتَقِلٌ يَوْمَ عَرَفَةَ بِعَرَفَةَ.

L6067 The determination of prayer times, their extension, or their defined limits must only be taken from the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him). They did not adhere to analogy in any of their rulings, as we have clarified. As for Abū Ḥanīfah's statement that the time for Ẓuhr prayer extends until the shadow of every object becomes twice its length—at which point the time for ʿAṣr prayer begins—they cited as evidence a ḥadīth narrated by Abū Bakr ibn

[3] Hadith references (L6061): Sunan Abi Dawud 1220.

Muḥammad ibn ʿAmr ibn Ḥazm from Abū Masʿūd: “Gabriel descended to the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) when the shadow of each thing equaled its original length and instructed him to perform the Ẓuhr prayer.”

«أَنَّ جِبْرَائِيلُ نَزَلَ عَلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - حِينَ صَارَ ظِلُّ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ مِثْلَهُ وَأَمَرَهُ بِصَلَاةِ الظُّهْرِ» .

L6068–6069 They said: “Then it becomes evident that he becomes aware of his circumstance through the commencement of prayer afterward, because the shadow does not remain stationary?” ʿAlī responded: “This contains no valid evidence for them. The first reason is that the chain is disconnected, for this Abū Bakr was not born except after the death of Abū Masʿūd.”

قَالُوا: فَيَتَعَيَّنُ أَنَّهُ يَدْرِي أَمْرَهُ بِابْتِدَاءِ الصَّلَاةِ بَعْدَ ذَلِكَ، لِأَنَّ الظِّلَّ لَا يَسْتَقِرُّ؟ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا لَا حُجَّةَ لَهُمْ فِيهِ -: أَوَّلُ ذَلِكَ: أَنَّهُ مُنْقَطِعٌ، لِأَنَّ أَبَا بَكْرٍ هَذَا لَمْ يُولَدْ إِلَّا بَعْدَ مَوْتِ أَبِي مَسْعُودٍ.

L6070 The second is that they have adhered in this matter to their customary practice of reinforcing the rulings of the hadiths beyond their valid scope while neglecting what they actually contain. This is because in this report there is neither an indication, nor evidence, nor any conceptual basis that necessitates extending the timeframe of the Dhuhr prayer until the shadow of everything becomes twice its length.

وَالثَّانِي: أَنَّهُمْ جَرَوْا فِيهِ عَلَى عَادَةٍ لَهُمْ فِي تَوْثِيبِ أَحْكَامِ الْأَحَادِيثِ إِلَى مَا لَيْسَ فِيهِ، وَتَرْكِ مَا فِيهَا، وَذَلِكَ: أَنَّهُ لَيْسَ فِي هَذَا الْخَبَرِ لَا إِشَارَةٌ، وَلَا دَلِيلٌ، وَلَا مَعْنًى يُوجِبُ امْتِدَادَ وَقْتِ الظُّهْرِ إِلَى أَنْ يَكُونَ ظِلُّ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ مِثْلَيْهِ.

L6071 Nor does it mention that he (peace be upon him) commenced the prayer after the shadow had increased to twice its original length.

L6072 If this report were authentic, it would only indicate the permissibility of initiating prayer when every object’s shadow equals its length—the very time in which Gabriel commanded him to pray Ẓuhr, not beyond it. Some adherents of his legal school cited the renowned authentic ḥadīth transmitted through Ayyūb from Nāfiʿ from Ibn ʿUmar from the Prophet (peace be upon him): “Your likeness compared to the People of the Book...” Then the Prophet (peace be upon him) narrated [the parable of] the hired laborers who worked from dawn until midday for one qirāṭ, so the Jews labored. Then those who worked from midday until the ʿAṣr prayer for one qirāṭ, so the Christians labored. Then those who worked from ʿAṣr until sunset for two qirāṭs—and those are us. The Jews and Christians grew resentful, saying: “Why do we labor more yet receive less reward?” He said: “Have I diminished your rightful share?” They replied: “No.” He said: “This is My bounty, which I grant to whom I will.”

وَلَوْ صَحَّ هَذَا الْخَبَرُ لَمَا كَانَ فِيهِ إِلَّا جَوَازُ ابْتِدَاءِ الصَّلَاةِ حِينَ يَصِيرُ ظِلُّ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ مِثْلَهُ، وَهُوَ الْوَقْتُ الَّذِي أَمَرَهُ فِيهِ جِبْرِيلُ بِأَنْ يُصَلِّيَ الظُّهْرَ فِيهِ، لَا فِيمَا بَعْدَهُ؟ وَذَكَرَ بَعْضُ مُقَلِّدِيهِ الْحَدِيثَ الصَّحِيحَ الْمَشْهُورَ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَيُّوبَ عَنْ نَافِعٍ عَنِ ابْنِ عُمَرَ عَنِ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «مَثَلُكُمْ وَمَثَلُ أَهْلِ الْكِتَابِ، ثُمَّ ذَكَرَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - الْأُجَرَاءَ الَّذِينَ عَمِلُوا مِنْ غَدْوَةٍ إِلَى نِصْفِ النَّهَارِ عَلَى قِيرَاطٍ، فَعَمِلَتِ الْيَهُودُ، ثُمَّ الَّذِينَ عَمِلُوا مِنْ نِصْفِ النَّهَارِ إِلَى صَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ عَلَى قِيرَاطٍ، فَعَمِلَتِ النَّصَارَى، ثُمَّ الَّذِينَ عَمِلُوا مِنَ الْعَصْرِ إِلَى مَغِيبِ الشَّمْسِ عَلَى قِيرَاطَيْنِ، وَهُمْ نَحْنُ؟ فَغَضِبَتِ الْيَهُودُ وَالنَّصَارَى،

فَقَالُوا: مَا لَنَا أَكْثَرُ عَمَلًا وَأَقَلُّ عَطَاءً؟ فَقَالَ: هَلْ نَقَصْتُكُمْ مِنْ حَقِّكُمْ؟ قَالُوا: لَا، قَالَ: فَذَلِكَ فَضْلِي أُوتِيهِ مَنْ أَشَاءُ» .

L6073 The authentic ḥadīth is also transmitted through the chain of Abū Burdah ibn Abī Mūsā al-Ashʿarī from his father, from the Prophet—may Allah's peace and blessings be upon him—similar to this. It states: "The employer who hired them said to those who worked until the time of the ʿAṣr prayer: 'Complete the remainder of your work, for is there not only a small portion of the day left?'"

وَالْحَدِيثُ الصَّحِيحُ أَيْضًا الْمَأْثُورُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي بُرْدَةَ بْنِ أَبِي مُوسَى الْأَشْعَرِيِّ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - بِمِثْلِ هَذَا، وَفِيهِ «أَنَّ الْمُسْتَأْجِرَ لَهُمْ قَالَ لِلَّذِينَ عَمِلُوا إلَى حِينِ صَلَاةِ الْعَصْرِ: أَكْمِلُوا بَقِيَّةَ عَمَلِكُمْ، فَإِنَّمَا بَقِيَ مِنْ النَّهَارِ شَيْءٌ يَسِيرٌ؟» .

L6074–6076 The one invoking these two reports as proof said: If the time of Dhuhr were to end due to the shadow exceeding the equivalent length (mithl), and the time of Asr were to begin at that point, the duration of Asr's time would equal that of Dhuhr's; "Does this contradict what is in those two reports?" Abu Muhammad said: "This is among what we have mentioned of those accursed practices, and the misleading attribution of authenticity to hadiths from what is in them to what is not in them."

فَقَالَ الْمُحْتَجُّ بِهَذَيْنِ الْخَبَرَيْنِ: لَوْ كَانَ وَقْتُ الظُّهْرِ يَخْرُجُ بِالزِّيَادَةِ عَلَى ظِلِّ الْمِثْلِ، وَيَدْخُلُ حِينَئِذٍ وَقْتُ الْعَصْرِ -: لَكَانَ مِقْدَارُ وَقْتِ الْعَصْرِ مِثْلَ مِقْدَارِ وَقْتِ الظُّهْرِ، وَهَذَا خِلَافُ مَا فِي ذَيْنِك الْخَبَرَيْنِ؟ قَالَ أَبُو مُحَمَّد: وَهَذَا مِمَّا قُلْنَا مِنْ تِلْكَ الْعَوَائِدِ الْمَلْعُونَةِ، وَالْإِيهَامِ بِتَوْثِيبِ الْأَحَادِيثِ عَمَّا فِيهَا إلَى مَا لَيْسَ فِيهَا.

L6077 The clarification of that is: There is nothing in either of these two reports—no evidence and no explicit text—indicating that the time for ʿAṣr prayer is broader than the time for Ẓuhr prayer. Rather, what they contain is that the Jews and Christians said, "We perform more deeds yet receive lesser reward." So who is more astray and more disgraced in the Hereafter than one who deems the statement of the Jews and Christians—a statement that the Messenger of Allah, peace be upon him, did not confirm—as valid?

L6078 Moreover—he contradicts the statement of Allah's Messenger (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) by using an argument to refute [it] through obfuscation and false assumption, [contrary to] the explicit wording of his statement (peace be upon him): "Indeed, the time of Dhuhr lasts as long as a man's shadow remains equal to his height, provided that Asr has not yet begun."

وَأَيْضًا -: فَإِنَّهُ يُخَالِفُ قَوْلَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - حُجَّةً يَرُدُّ بِهَا تَمْوِيهًا وَتَخَيُّلًا نَصُّ قَوْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «إنَّ وَقْتَ الظُّهْرِ مَا دَامَ ظِلُّ الرَّجُلِ كَطُولِهِ مَا لَمْ تَحْضُرْ الْعَصْرُ» .

L6079 How then can it be, when the Jews said – while their claim does not contradict what the Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) established – that they labored from the beginning of the day until ʿAṣr time, saying:

فَكَيْفَ وَالَّذِي قَالَتْ الْيَهُودُ لَا يُخَالِفُ مَا حَدَّهُ النَّبِيُّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَهُوَ أَنَّهُمْ عَمِلُوا مِنْ أَوَّلِ النَّهَارِ إلَى وَقْتِ الْعَصْرِ، وَقَالُوا: نَحْنُ أَكْثَرُ عَمَلًا وَأَقَلُّ عَطَاءً؟ وَهَذَا صَحِيحٌ؛ لِأَنَّ الْوَقْتَ الَّذِي عَمِلُوهُ كُلُّهُمْ أَكْثَرُ مِمَّا عَمِلْنَاهُ نَحْنُ؛ بَلْ الَّذِي عَمِلَتْ كُلُّ طَائِفَةٍ أَكْثَرُ مِنْ الَّذِي عَمِلْنَاهُ نَحْنُ وَالَّذِي مِنْ أَوَّلِ الزَّوَالِ إلَى أَنْ يَبْلُغَ ظِلُّ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ مِثْلَهُ - فِي كُلِّ زَمَانٍ وَمَكَانٍ - أَكْثَرُ مِمَّا فِي حِينِ زِيَادَةِ الظِّلِّ عَلَى الْمِثْلِ إلَى غُرُوبِ الشَّمْسِ، وَالَّذِي أَخَذَ بِهِ كُلُّ طَائِفَةٍ أَقَلُّ مِمَّا أَخَذْنَا وَفِي الْحَدِيثِ الْآخَرِ «إنَّمَا بَقِيَ مِنْ النَّهَارِ شَيْءٌ يَسِيرٌ؟» .

"We performed more labor yet received less compensation?" This is valid, for the time they all labored exceeds what we labored. Rather, what every group labored exceeds what we labored. The period from the beginning of the zenith until every object's shadow equals its length – in every era and place – is longer than the time from when shadows exceed their length until sunset. What each group accepted is less than what we accepted. In the other ḥadīth: "Only a small portion of the day remains?"

وَهَذَا حَقٌّ؛ لِأَنَّ مِنْ وَقْتِ الْعَصْرِ إلَى آخِرِ النَّهَارِ يَسِيرًا بِالْإِضَافَةِ إلَى مَا هُوَ أَكْثَرُ، مِنْ أَوَّلِ النَّهَارِ إلَى وَقْتِ الْعَصْرِ، نَعَمْ وَبِالْإِضَافَةِ أَيْضًا إلَى وَقْتِ الظُّهْرِ عَلَى قَوْلِنَا، لِأَنَّ كُلَّ شَيْءٍ فَهُوَ بِلَا شَكٍّ يَسِيرٌ إذَا أُضِيفَ إلَى مَا هُوَ أَكْثَرُ مِنْهُ، فَبَطَلَ تَمْوِيهُهُمْ بِهَذَيْنِ الْخَبَرَيْنِ - وَلِلَّهِ الْحَمْدُ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَلَوْ قَالَ قَائِلٌ: إنَّهُ ' - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - إنَّمَا عَنَى آخِرَ أَوْقَاتِ الْعَصْرِ، وَهُوَ مِقْدَارُ تَكْبِيرَةٍ قَبْلَ غُرُوبِ آخِرِ الْقُرْصِ -: لَصَدَقَ، لِأَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَدْ نَصَّ عَلَى أَنَّهُ بُعِثَ وَالسَّاعَةَ كَهَاتَيْنِ، وَضَمَّ أُصْبُعَهُ إلَى الْأُخْرَى وَأَنَّنَا فِي الْأُمَمِ كَالشَّعْرَةِ الْبَيْضَاءِ فِي الثَّوْرِ الْأَسْوَدِ - فَهَذَا أَوْلَى مَا حُمِلَ عَلَيْهِ قَوْلُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - لِتَتَّفِقَ أَخْبَارُهُ كُلُّهَا؛ بَلْ لَا يَجُوزُ غَيْرُ هَذَا أَصْلًا -، وَبِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

This is valid: for the period from ʿAsr until the end of the day is short relative to the longer duration from the beginning of the day until ʿAsr. Indeed, it is also short when compared to the time of Dhuhr according to our position, since anything is undeniably short when juxtaposed with what is longer. Thus, their attempt to obscure through these two narrations is invalidated—and all praise belongs to Allah. Ali said: If someone were to say, "He (peace be upon him) meant only the final moment of ʿAṣr—equivalent to the duration of a takbīr before the disappearance of the last portion of the sun's disc"—they would be correct. For he (peace be upon him) explicitly stated, "I was sent when the Hour is as near as these two," joining his finger to the other, "and that we, among all nations, are like a white hair on a black bull." Thus, this is the most fitting interpretation of the Messenger of Allah's (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) statement to ensure all his narrations align. Indeed, no other interpretation is permissible whatsoever. And success is from Allah, the Exalted.

وَأَمَّا قَوْلُهُ، وَقَوْلُ مَالِكٍ، وَالشَّافِعِيِّ: إنَّ وَقْتَ الْعَتَمَةِ يَمْتَدُّ إلَى طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ، وَزَادَ مَالِكٌ، وَالشَّافِعِيُّ امْتِدَادَ صَلَاةِ الْمَغْرِبِ إلَى ذَلِكَ الْوَقْتِ؟ -: فَخَطَأٌ ظَاهِرٌ، لِأَنَّهُ دَعْوَى بِلَا دَلِيلٍ، وَخِلَافٌ لِجَمِيعِ الْأَحَادِيثِ، أَوَّلِهَا عَنْ آخِرِهَا، وَمَا كَانَ هَكَذَا فَهُوَ سَاقِطٌ بِيَقِينٍ،

As for his statement, and the statements of Malik and Al-Shafi'i that the time of the late-night prayer (al-'atamah) extends until the emergence of dawn, with Malik and Al-Shafi'i adding the extension of Maghrib prayer's time to that period—this is a manifest error, being an unsupported claim contradicting all the hadiths from their first to their last. Whatever is thus is undoubtedly invalid. Some proponents from our school who adopted this view cited the Messenger of Allah's statement—peace and blessings be upon him: "Negligence in vigilance is only to delay a prayer until another's time enters"—seeking through this to establish the continuity of the late-night prayer's time with the dawn prayer's time. Yet this provides no basis for their claim at all. Are they not in unanimous agreement with us—without any dissent within the Ummah—that the time for the dawn prayer does not extend to the time of Dhuhr prayer? Thus, it becomes clear that this report does not indicate the continuity of each prayer's time with the subsequent one. Rather, it solely establishes the sinfulness of delaying a prayer into another's time—regardless of whether the end of its time connects to the start of the next or not. The report does not state that one who delays a prayer until the expiration of its time—without another's time entering—is not culpably negligent, nor does it confirm that he is negligent. This matter is unaddressed in this report, but is clarified in other narrations containing explicit texts on the expiration of each prayer's time.[4]

وَقَدْ احْتَجَّ فِي هَذَا بَعْضُ مَنْ ذَهَبَ إِلَى ذَلِكَ مِنْ أَصْحَابِنَا بِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «إِنَّمَا التَّفْرِيطُ فِي الْيَقَظَةِ أَنْ تُؤَخِّرَ صَلَاةً حَتَّى يَدْخُلَ وَقْتُ أُخْرَى» وَرَامُوا بِهَذَا اتِّصَالَ وَقْتِ الْعَتَمَةِ بِوَقْتِ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ فَإِنَّ هَذَا لَا يَدُلُّ عَلَى مَا قَالُوهُ أَصْلًا، وَهُمْ مُجْمِعُونَ مَعَنَا - بِلَا خِلَافٍ مِنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ الْأُمَّةِ - أَنَّ وَقْتَ صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ لَا يَمْتَدُّ إلَى وَقْتِ صَلَاةِ الظُّهْرِ؟ فَصَحَّ أَنَّ هَذَا الْخَبَرَ لَا يَدُلُّ عَلَى اتِّصَالِ وَقْتِ كُلِّ صَلَاةٍ بِوَقْتِ الَّتِي بَعْدَهَا، وَإِنَّمَا فِيهِ مَعْصِيَةُ مَنْ أَخَّرَ صَلَاةً إلَى وَقْتِ غَيْرِهَا فَقَطْ، سَوَاءٌ اتَّصَلَ آخِرُ وَقْتِهَا بِأَوَّلِ الثَّانِيَةِ لَهَا، أَمْ لَمْ يَتَّصِلْ؟ وَلَيْسَ فِيهِ: أَنَّهُ لَا يَكُونُ مُفَرِّطًا أَيْضًا مَنْ أَخَّرَهَا إلَى خُرُوجِ وَقْتِهَا، وَإِنْ لَمْ يَدْخُلْ وَقْتُ أُخْرَى، وَلَا أَنَّهُ يَكُونُ مُفَرِّطًا، بَلْ هُوَ مَسْكُوتٌ عَنْهُ فِي هَذَا الْخَبَرِ، وَلَكِنَّ بَيَانَهُ فِي سَائِرِ الْأَخْبَارِ الَّتِي فِيهَا نَصٌّ عَلَى خُرُوجِ وَقْتِ كُلِّ صَلَاةٍ.

L6084 Necessity dictates that whoever exceeds in any act its time which Allah the Exalted has appointed for that act has indeed transgressed the boundaries of Allah. He the Exalted said: {And whoever transgresses the boundaries of Allah—it is they who are the wrongdoers} [Al-Baqarah 2:229]. Thus, whoever performs a prayer before its time which Allah the Exalted has prescribed for it, specified for it, commanded to be established within it, and forbidden negligence in that; or delays it beyond that time—has he not transgressed the boundaries of Allah the Exalted? Such a person is a wrongdoer and a sinner.[5] وَالضَّرُورَةُ تُوجِبُ أَنَّ مَنْ تَعَدَّى بِكُلِّ عَمَلٍ وَقْتَهُ الَّذِي حَدَّهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى لِذَلِكَ الْعَمَلِ فَقَدْ تَعَدَّى حُدُودَ اللَّهِ، وَقَالَ تَعَالَى: {وَمَنْ يَتَعَدَّ حُدُودَ اللَّهِ فَأُولَئِكَ هُمُ الظَّالِمُونَ} [البقرة: ٢٢٩] فَكُلُّ مَنْ قَدَّمَ صَلَاةً قَبْلَ وَقْتِهَا الَّذِي حَدَّهُ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى لَهَا وَعَلَّقَهَا بِهِ، وَأَمَرَ بِأَنْ تُقَامَ فِيهِ، وَنَهَى عَنْ التَّفْرِيطِ فِي ذَلِكَ، أَوْ أَخَّرَهَا عَنْ ذَلِكَ الْوَقْتِ -: فَقَدْ تَعَدَّى حُدُودَ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى؟ فَهُوَ ظَالِمٌ عَاصٍ.

L6085–6087 And there is no disagreement on this from any of those present among the dissenters. As for intentionally delaying prayer beyond its prescribed time, it is sinful by the consensus of those who came before and after—definitively and conclusively established. Whoever equates prayer with a debt must consequently permit performing it before its time, just as advancing a debt's repayment before its term is commendable. By this analogy, would they not be obliged to deem sinful the act of one who intentionally delays prayer while capable of performing it within its time, akin to delaying debt repayment beyond its term without excuse?

وَهَذَا لَا خِلَافَ فِيهِ مِنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ الْحَاضِرِينَ مِنْ الْمُخَالِفِينَ وَأَمَّا تَعَمُّدُ تَأْخِيرِهَا عَنْ وَقْتِهَا فَمَعْصِيَةٌ بِإِجْمَاعِ مَنْ تَقَدَّمَ وَتَأَخَّرَ، مَقْطُوعٌ عَلَيْهِ مُتَيَقَّنٌ، وَمَنْ شَبَّهَ الصَّلَاةَ بِالدَّيْنِ،

L6088 This is the analogy in this chapter, and they opposed it. If they claim consensus on their opinion, do they not lie? For it has been authentically established from some of the early Salaf that it is permissible to perform prayer before its time; whereas intentionally delaying it beyond its time without excuse has never been permissible according to anyone. And success is from Allah, the Exalted.

L6089 As for Abū Ḥanīfa's rejection of the traveler—whose journey became strenuous and who neither dismounted before the sun's zenith nor after it—delaying the Ẓuhr prayer until the time of ʿAṣr like others, and similarly delaying Maghrib until the time of Isha like others, this constitutes mere opposition to the established Sunnah regarding this matter! Anas and Ibn ʿUmar narrated it through the most authentic chains. We have already mentioned Anas' narration, which suffices us without needing to cite Ibn ʿUmar's report. Yet I am not surprised by some of his emulators' claim concerning Ibn ʿUmar's ḥadīth: "When the twilight had vanished, he dismounted and prayed Maghrib, then Isha?"

L6090 The confused one said, "He only intended before the sunset of the twilight." He then said, "After the sunset of the twilight according to approximation," and he cited as evidence the statement of Allah the Exalted: {When the women have reached their term, either retain them in a fair manner or part with them in a fair manner} [At-Talaq: 2].[6]

L6091 The statement of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him): "So eat and drink until Ibn Umm Maktum calls the Adhan, for he is blind and does not call until someone says to him: 'It is dawn, it is dawn.'"

L6092–6094 Ali said: This is an open defiance that no person of piety and modesty should لَزِمَهُ إِجَازَةُ تَقْدِيمِهَا قَبْلَ وَقْتِهَا، كَالدَّيْنِ يُقَدَّمُ قَبْلَ أَجَلِهِ فَهُوَ حَسَنٌ وَلَزِمَهُ أَنْ يَقُولَ بِعِصْيَانِ مَنْ أَخَّرَهَا عَامِدًا قَادِرًا عَنْ وَقْتِهَا، كَالدَّيْنِ يَمْطُلُ بِأَدَائِهِ عَنْ وَقْتِهِ بِغَيْرِ عُذْرٍ؟ .

take lightly, for a trustworthy person to say "after the disappearance of the twilight," then someone claims: "He actually meant before the disappearance of the twilight." Whoever adopts this method enters the path of the Rafidah who distort words from their proper contexts, interpret "al-jibt" and "al-taghut," and [interpret] the command to slaughter a cow according to their own interpretations. More deserving of it, and in this lies the invalidation of the entirety of the Sharia, the invalidation of all rationally valid principles, and pure sophistry—and we seek refuge in Allah from tribulation!

L6095 As for the statement of Allah, the Exalted: {When they have reached their term} [Al-Baqarah: 234], it is not as he presumed. Rather, it is according to its literal meaning, and Allah's intended meaning is the actual duration of being during the waiting period, not the expiration of its duration. Anything other than that is fundamentally invalid, and far be it from Allah to command falsehood. Similarly, the saying of the Prophet (peace be upon him) – "Do not call the adhan until it is said to you: 'You have entered morning, you have entered morning'" – is also to be taken according to its apparent meaning. Was not the adhan of Ibn Umm Maktum only after dawn? And was the command to announce the morning not before both? If their assumption were true, eating before the appearance of dawn would be prohibited – yet this is what they do not say, nor would any Muslim assert it. As for Mālik's opinion permitting a sick person – whose loss of sanity is feared – to advance Asr to the time of Dhuhr and the night prayer (Isha) to the time of Maghrib, this is a manifest error.[7] وَأَمَّا قَوْله تَعَالَى: {فَإِذَا بَلَغْنَ أَجَلَهُنَّ} [البقرة: ٢٣٤] فَلَيْسَ كَمَا ظَنَّ، بَلْ هُوَ عَلَى حَقِيقَتِهِ، وَمُرَادُ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى أَجَلُ الْكَوْنِ فِي الْعِدَّةِ، لَا أَجَلُ انْقِضَائِهَا، لَا يَجُوزُ غَيْرُ ذَلِكَ أَصْلًا، وَحَاشَا لِلَّهِ أَنْ يَأْمُرَ بِالْبَاطِلِ وَكَذَلِكَ «قَوْلُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - لَا يُؤَذِّنُ حَتَّى يُقَالَ لَهُ: أَصْبَحْتَ أَصْبَحْتَ» أَيْضًا حَقِيقَةٌ عَلَى ظَاهِرِهِ - وَمَا أَذَانُ ابْنِ أُمِّ مَكْتُومٍ إلَّا بَعْد الْفَجْرِ، وَأَمْرِ الْإِصْبَاحِ: لَا قَبْلَهُمَا؟ وَلَوْ كَانَ مَا ظَنُّوهُ: لَحَرُمَ الْأَكْلُ قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ وَهَذَا مَا لَا يَقُولُونَهُ، وَلَا يَقُولُهُ مُسْلِمٌ؟ وَأَمَّا قَوْلُ مَالِكٍ بِتَقْدِيمِ الْمَرِيضِ - الَّذِي يُخْشَى ذَهَابُ عَقْلِهِ - الْعَصْرَ إلَى وَقْتِ الظُّهْرِ، وَالْعَتَمَةَ إلَى وَقْتِ الْمَغْرِبِ -: خَطَأٌ ظَاهِرٌ.

L6096 The time of Dhuhr does not exclude being a time for Asr, and the time of Maghrib may serve as a time for Isha—or none of that applies. If the timeframe of each—Dhuhr and Maghrib—is also a time for Asr and Isha respectively, then advancing Isha to Maghrib's timeframe (which is its valid time) and advancing Asr to Dhuhr's timeframe (which is also its valid time) is permissible for healthy individuals, since they pray Isha and Asr within their designated times. Yet this is a view no one holds?

[7] Qur'an references (L6095): Qur'an 2:234 (Al-Baqarah); Qur'an 65:2 (At-Talaq).

L6097–6099 If the time of Dhuhr is not designated for ’Asr, and the time of Maghrib is not designated for ’Isha, this would imply permission to perform a prayer before its appointed time - yet this is impermissible? If such permissibility were accepted for these two prayers, it would necessitate permitting the advancement of Dhuhr before the sun’s zenith, Maghrib before sunset, and Fajr before the emergence of dawn - a position none asserts. Thus, the contradiction becomes evident. Should one argue: “The time of Dhuhr is not designated for ’Asr except for a sick person who fears loss of sanity,” they are required to provide evidence for this alleged specification without proof - a claim none are incapable of making, and not… a means for him to attain it, and we have mentioned the invalidity of the opinions of all of them regarding the combining and the coinciding of the two times—and success comes from Allah, the Most High.

وَإِنْ كَانَ وَقْتُ الظُّهْرِ لَيْسَ وَقْتًا لِلْعَصْرِ، وَوَقْتُ الْمَغْرِبِ لَيْسَ وَقْتًا لِلْعَتَمَةِ -: فَقَدْ أَبَاحَ لَهُ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ صَلَاةً قَبْلَ وَقْتِهَا، وَهَذَا لَا يَجُوزُ؟ وَلَئِنْ جَازَ ذَلِكَ فِي هَاتَيْنِ الصَّلَاتَيْنِ لَيَجُوزَنَّ ذَلِكَ لَهُ أَيْضًا فِي تَقْدِيمِ الظُّهْرِ قَبْلَ الزَّوَالِ، وَتَقْدِيمِ الْمَغْرِبِ قَبْلَ غُرُوبِ الشَّمْسِ، وَتَقْدِيمِ الصُّبْحِ قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ، وَهَذَا مَا لَا يَقُولُهُ - فَقَدْ ظَهَرَ التَّنَاقُضُ فَإِنْ قَالَ: لَيْسَ وَقْتُ الظُّهْرِ وَقْتًا لِلْعَصْرِ إِلَّا لِلْمَرِيضِ الَّذِي يُخْشَى ذَهَابُ عَقْلِهِ: كُلِّفَ الدَّلِيلَ عَلَى هَذَا التَّخْصِيصِ الْمُدَّعَى بِلَا بُرْهَانٍ، وَالَّذِي لَا يَعْجَزُ عَنْ مِثْلِهِ أَحَدٌ، وَلَا سَبِيلَ لَهُ إِلَيْهِ، وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا بُطْلَانَ قَوْلِ جَمِيعِهِمْ فِي الْجَمْعِ وَفِي اشْتِرَاكِ الْوَقْتَيْنِ -، وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L6100 Here, we draw attention to a hadith so that no one may assume we have overlooked it or that it contains an additional meaning. It is a hadith that we have narrated through the chain of Abū Bishr, Jaʿfar ibn Abī Waḥshiyyah, from Bashīr ibn Thābit, from Ḥabīb ibn Sālim, from al-Nuʿmān ibn Bashīr: “The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—used to pray the latter ʿIshāʾ prayer at the moonset on the third night [of the lunar month].”

وَهَهُنَا حَدِيثٌ نُنَبِّهُ عَلَيْهِ؛ لِئَلَّا يَظُنَّ ظَانٌّ أَنَّنَا أَغْفَلْنَاهُ، وَأَنَّ فِيهِ مَعْنًى زَائِدًا وَهُوَ حَدِيثٌ رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي بِشْرٍ جَعْفَرِ بْنِ أَبِي وَحْشِيَّةَ عَنْ بَشِيرِ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ عَنْ حَبِيبِ بْنِ سَالِمٍ عَنْ النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ بَشِيرٍ: «أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - كَانَ يُصَلِّي الْعِشَاءَ الْآخِرَةَ لِمَغِيبِ الْقَمَرِ لَيْلَةَ ثَالِثَةٍ» .

L6101 Ali said: Bashir ibn Thabit—no one we know narrated from him except Abu Bishr, and Abu Bishr narrated only this hadith from him. He was authenticated but criticized, and he is closer to obscurity? As for Habib ibn Salim, the client and scribe of al-Nuʿman ibn Bashir; his standing is not well-known among the narrators.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: بَشِيرُ بْنُ ثَابِتٍ لَمْ يَرْوِ عَنْهُ أَحَدٌ نَعْلَمُهُ إِلَّا أَبُو بِشْرٍ، وَلَا رَوَى عَنْهُ أَبُو بِشْرٍ إِلَّا هَذَا الْحَدِيثَ، وَقَدْ وُثِّقَ وَتُكُلِّمَ فِيهِ، وَهُوَ إِلَى الْجَهَالَةِ أَقْرَبُ؟ وَحَبِيبُ بْنُ سَالِمٍ مَوْلَى النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ بَشِيرٍ وَكَاتِبُهُ، وَلَيْسَ مَشْهُورَ الْحَالِ فِي الرُّوَاةِ.

L6102 Even if it were valid, it would not constitute proof that this marks the beginning time of the Isha prayer; rather, does its time not begin before that? The moon sets on the third night in every time and place after the passing of two and a half hours plus half of one-seventh of an hour from the hours of that night, which is divided into twelve equal parts. The white twilight is delayed, while the red twilight vanishes a very long time before the moon sets on the third night, with the white twilight disappearing one and a half hours after the moon sets on the third night, based on the aforementioned hourly divisions.

الَّذِي هُوَ الْبَيَاضُ يَتَأَخَّرُ، وَالشَّفَقُ الَّذِي هُوَ الْحُمْرَةُ يَغِيبُ قَبْلَ سُقُوطِ الْقَمَرِ فِي اللَّيْلَةِ الثَّالِثَةِ بِحِينٍ كَبِيرٍ جِدًّا مُغَيَّبَةً بَعْدَ سُقُوطِ الْقَمَرِ لَيْلَةً ثَالِثَةً سَاعَةً وَنِصْفًا مِنْ السَّاعَاتِ الْمَذْكُورَةِ.

L6103 There is no argument in this report—if it were authentic—in anything at all of what is disputed. And success is from Allah, the Exalted.

L6104 Performing all prayers at the beginning of their prescribed times is superior under all circumstances except for the ʿatamah (ʿIshāʾ) prayer.

L6105 336: Question:

٣٣٦ - مَسْأَلَةٌ:

L6106–6108 Performing all prayers promptly at the beginning of their times is superior in every situation, except for the Isha prayer. Delaying it to the end of its time in all circumstances and at all times is superior, unless this causes hardship. Gentleness toward people is preferable. However, the Ẓuhr prayer in congregation—particularly during intense heat—is excepted; delaying it until the end of its prescribed time is better.

وَتَعْجِيلُ جَمِيعِ الصَّلَوَاتِ فِي أَوَّلِ أَوْقَاتِهَا أَفْضَلُ عَلَى كُلِّ حَالٍ، حَاشَا الْعَتَمَةِ، فَإِنَّ تَأْخِيرَهَا إلَى آخِرِ وَقْتِهَا فِي كُلِّ حَالٍ وَكُلِّ زَمَانٍ أَفْضَلُ، إلَّا أَنْ يَشُقَّ ذَلِكَ عَلَى النَّاسِ، فَالرِّفْقُ بِهِمْ أَوْلَى، وَحَاشَا الظُّهْرِ لِلْجَمَاعَةِ خَاصَّةً فِي شِدَّةِ الْحَرِّ خَاصَّةً، فَالْإِبْرَادُ بِهَا إلَى آخِرِ وَقْتِهَا أَفْضَلُ.

L6109 The proof of this is the statement of Allah the Exalted: {And hasten to forgiveness from your Lord} [Āl ʿImrān 3:133], and He said: {And the foremost will be the foremost—they are the ones brought near—in the Gardens of Bliss} [al-Wāqiʿah 56:10-12]. Thus, hastening to good deeds and competing in them is superior according to the explicit text of the Quran: Muḥammad ibn Ismāʿīl al-ʿUdhriyy, judge of al-Thaghr, and Muḥammad ibn ʿĪsā, judge of Ṭurṭūsha, narrated to us, both citing: Muḥammad ibn ʿAlī al-Muṭawwiʿī al-Rāzī narrated to us, citing Muḥammad ibn ʿAbdullāh al-Ḥākim in Naysābūr, citing Abū ʿUmar ʿUthmān ibn Aḥmad al-Sammāk, citing al-Ḥasan ibn Makram, citing ʿUthmān ibn ʿUmar, citing Mālik ibn Mighwal, citing al-Walīd ibn al-ʿAyzār, citing Abū ʿAmr al-Shaybānī, citing ʿAbdullāh ibn Masʿūd, who said: "I asked the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—'Which deed is most excellent?' He replied: 'Prayer performed

L6110–6112 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us, Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us, Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us, Yahya ibn Habib al-Harithi narrated to us, Khalid ibn al-Harith narrated to us, Shu'bah informed me: Sayyar ibn Salamah said, "I heard my father ask Abu Barzah about the prayer of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him)." Abu Barzah replied: "He (peace be upon him) did not mind postponing it partially until midnight"—meaning the last Isha prayer—"and he disliked sleeping before it or conversation after it. He would pray Dhuhr when..." The sun passes its zenith, and 'Asr is when a man travels to the farthest part of the city while the sun is still bright. He would pray the Dawn prayer, then when the man departed, he would look at the face of his companion whom he knew, so he would recognize him. During this prayer, he would recite between sixty and one hundred verses.

L6113 The narrations regarding this are exceedingly numerous. In Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim: Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb and Isḥāq ibn Rāhawayh narrated to me—both through Jarīr ibn ʿAbd al-Ḥamīd, from Manṣūr ibn al-Muʿtamir, from al-Ḥakam ibn ʿUtaybah, from Nāfiʿ, from Ibn ʿUmar: "We remained one night waiting for the Messenger of Allāh—peace be upon him—to lead the later ʿIshā' prayer. He came out to us when a third of the night or more had passed, and said: 'You await a prayer that no people of other faiths await. Were it not for the hardship it would impose on my community, I would have prayed with them at this hour.' Then he ordered the mu'adhdhin to give the iqāmah, and he led the prayer."[9]

L6114–6116 It has been reported to us through the chain of Thābit al-Bunānī that he heard Anas ibn Mālik say: “The Messenger of Allāh (peace and blessings of Allāh be upon him) delayed the ʿIshāʾ prayer one night until halfway through the night, or until nearly half the night had elapsed.” And via the chain of Umm Kulthum bint Abi Bakr from her sister Aisha: “The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) delayed the prayer one night until most of the night had passed.”[10] وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ أُمِّ كُلْثُومَ بِنْتِ أَبِي بَكْرٍ عَنْ أُخْتِهَا عَائِشَةَ «أَعْتَمَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - ذَاتَ لَيْلَةٍ حَتَّى ذَهَبَ عَامَّةُ اللَّيْلِ» .

L6117 Ali said: When half the night has passed, most of the night has indeed passed. Are these reports additional to every other report? The chain transmitted in Muslim’s collection is: Muḥammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated to me, Muḥammad ibn Jaʿfar narrated to us, Shuʿbah narrated to us: I heard Muhājir Abū al-Ḥasan relate that he heard Zayd ibn Wahb relate from Abū Dharr, who said: The mu’adhdhin of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) gave the call for the Ẓuhr prayer. The Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) said: “Delay, delay—or he said, Wait, wait—verily, the severity of heat comes from the scorching breath of Hellfire. When the heat grows intense, delay the prayer.” Abū Dharr said: Until we saw the shadow of the small mounds.[11]

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: إِذَا ذَهَبَ نِصْفُ اللَّيْلِ فَقَدْ ذَهَبَ عَامَّةُ اللَّيْلِ، وَهَذِهِ الْأَخْبَارُ زَائِدَةٌ عَلَى كُلِّ خَبَرٍ؟ وَالسَّنَدُ الْمَذْكُورُ إِلَى مُسْلِمٍ: حَدَّثَنِي مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ الْمُثَنَّى ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَعْفَرٍ ثنا شُعْبَةُ سَمِعْت مُهَاجِرًا أَبَا الْحَسَنِ يُحَدِّثُ أَنَّهُ سَمِعَ زَيْدَ بْنَ وَهْبٍ يُحَدِّثُ عَنْ أَبِي ذَرٍّ قَالَ «أَذَّنَ مُؤَذِّنُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - بِالظُّهْرِ فَقَالَ النَّبِيُّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَبْرِدْ أَبْرِدْ، أَوْ قَالَ: انْتَظِرْ انْتَظِرْ، إنَّ شِدَّةَ الْحَرِّ مِنْ فَيْحِ جَهَنَّمَ، فَإِذَا اشْتَدَّ الْحَرُّ فَأَبْرِدُوا عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ، قَالَ أَبُو ذَرٍّ: حَتَّى رَأَيْنَا فَيْءَ التُّلُولِ» .

L6118 Ali said: We did not consider this matter obligatory due to what we have narrated through the mentioned chain in Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim: Aḥmad ibn Yūnus narrated to us, from Zuhayr ibn Muʿāwiyah, who narrated to us from Abū Isḥāq al-Sabīʿī, from Saʿīd ibn Wahb, from Khabbāb: “We complained to the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) about the severity of the blazing heat, but he did not grant our request.”

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَإِنَّمَا لَمْ نَحْمِلْ هَذَا الْأَمْرَ عَلَى الْوُجُوبِ لِمَا رُوِّينَاهُ بِالسَّنَدِ الْمَذْكُورِ إلَى مُسْلِمٍ، ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ يُونُسَ عَنْ زُهَيْرِ بْنِ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا أَبُو إِسْحَاقَ السَّبِيعِيّ عَنْ سَعِيدِ بْنِ وَهْبٍ عَنْ خَبَّابٍ «شَكَوْنَا إلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - شِدَّةَ الرَّمْضَاءِ فَلَمْ يَشْكُنَا» .

L6119 I said to Abu Ishaq: “Is it regarding advancing the Dhuhr prayer?” He replied: “Yes. There has come a narration aligned with the position we favor concerning prayer times from the early predecessors, as reported to us through Yahya ibn Sa‘id al-Qattan’s chain from Sufyan al-Thawri, from Habib ibn Abi Thabit, from Nafi‘ ibn Jubayr ibn Mut‘im: that ‘Umar ibn al-Khattab wrote to Abu Musa al-Ash‘ari - ‘Pray Dhuhr when the sun declines, and delay it [until the heat subsides]?’” قُلْت لِأَبِي إِسْحَاقَ: أَفِي الظُّهْرِ فِي تَعْجِيلِهَا؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ وَقَدْ جَاءَ نَحْوُ مَا تَخَيَّرْنَاهُ فِي الْأَوْقَاتِ عَنْ السَّلَفِ كَمَا رُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ الْقَطَّانِ عَنْ سُفْيَانَ الثَّوْرِيِّ عَنْ حَبِيبِ بْنِ أَبِي ثَابِتٍ عَنْ نَافِعِ بْنِ جُبَيْرِ بْنِ مُطْعِمٍ: أَنَّ عُمَرَ بْنَ الْخَطَّابِ كَتَبَ إلَى أَبِي مُوسَى الْأَشْعَرِيِّ: أَنْ صَلِّ الظُّهْرَ إذَا زَالَتْ الشَّمْسُ وَأَبْرِدْ؟ .

L6120–6122 And from the chain of Al-Ḥajjāj ibn Al-Minhāl: Yazīd ibn Hārūn narrated to us, Muḥammad ibn Sīrīn narrated to us, from... Al-Muhajir narrated that Umar ibn al-Khattab wrote to Abu Musa al-Ash'ari: "Pray Dhuhr when the sun declines or when you perceive it, pray Asr while the sun remains bright and pure, pray Maghrib at sunset, pray Isha from nightfall until midnight—that is: when you settle for the night—and pray Fajr in pre-dawn darkness or darkness; prolong the recitation."

وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ مُسْلِمِ بْنِ الْحَجَّاجِ: ثنا أَبُو الرَّبِيعِ الزَّهْرَانِيُّ ثنا حَمَّادٌ هُوَ ابْنُ زَيْدٍ - عَنْ الزُّبَيْرِ بْنِ الْخِرِّيتِ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ شَقِيقٍ: «خَطَبَنَا ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ يَوْمًا بَعْدَ الْعَصْرِ حَتَّى غَرُبَتْ الشَّمْسُ وَبَدَتْ النُّجُومُ، وَجَعَلَ النَّاسُ يَقُولُونَ: الصَّلَاةَ الصَّلَاةَ، فَجَاءَ رَجُلٌ مِنْ بَنِي تَمِيمٍ لَا يَفْتُرُ وَلَا يَنْثَنِي: الصَّلَاةَ الصَّلَاةَ فَقَالَ لَهُ ابْنُ عَبَّاسٍ: أَتُعَلِّمُنِي بِالسُّنَّةِ، لَا أُمَّ لَكَ رَأَيْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - جَمَعَ بَيْنَ الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ، وَالْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعِشَاءِ.»

L6123 From the chain of Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj: Abu al-Rabi' al-Zahrani narrated to us: Hammad ibn Zayd narrated to us, from al-Zubayr ibn al-Khirrīt, from 'Abdullah ibn Shaqiq: "Ibn 'Abbas addressed us one day after 'Asr until the sun set and stars emerged. People began urging, 'The prayer! The prayer!' Then a man from Banu Tamim came, relentless and unwavering, repeating 'The prayer! The prayer!' Ibn 'Abbas retorted: 'Do you presume to teach me the Sunnah? Woe to you! I witnessed Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings upon him—combine Zuhr with 'Asr, and Maghrib with 'Isha'."

وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنِ مَهْدِيٍّ: ثنا سُفْيَانُ الثَّوْرِيُّ عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ مَوْهَبٍ: سَمِعْت أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ سُئِلَ عَنْ تَفْرِيطِ الصَّلَاةِ؟ فَقَالَ: أَنْ تُؤَخِّرَهَا إلَى الَّتِي بَعْدَهَا؟ حَدَّثَنَا حَمَامُ ثنا ابْنُ مُفَرِّجٍ ثنا ابْنُ الْأَعْرَابِيِّ ثنا الدَّبَرِيُّ ثنا عَبْدُ الرَّزَّاقِ عَنْ ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ أَخْبَرَنِي نَافِعٌ: أَنَّ ابْنَ عُمَرَ كَانَ يَقُولُ: سَمِعْتُ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يَقُولُ «إنَّ الَّذِي تَفُوتُهُ صَلَاةُ الْعَصْرِ كَأَنَّمَا وُتِرَ أَهْلَهُ وَمَالَهُ» ، فَقُلْت لِنَافِعٍ: حَتَّى تَغِيبَ الشَّمْسُ؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ.

L6124–6126 From the chain of Abd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi: Sufyan al-Thawri narrated to us from Uthman ibn Abd Allah ibn Mawhab: I heard Abu Hurairah being asked about delaying prayer. He replied: "Is it to postpone it until the time of the next prayer?" Hammam narrated to us, Ibn Mufarrij narrated to us, Ibn al-A'rabi narrated to us, al-Dabarī narrated to us, Abd al-Razzaq narrated from Ibn Jurayj: Nafi' reported to me that Ibn Umar used to say: I heard the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) say: "Indeed, the one who misses..." The Asr prayer is as if one had been deprived of his family and wealth. So I said to Nāfi': "Until the sun sets?" He replied: "Yes."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: هَذَا الْحَدِيثُ وَالَّذِي فِيهِ «إنَّمَا التَّفْرِيطُ فِي الْيَقَظَةِ، أَنْ تُؤَخِّرَ صَلَاةً حَتَّى يَدْخُلَ وَقْتُ أُخْرَى» يُكَذِّبَانِ قَوْلَ مَنْ أَقْدَمَ بِالْعَظِيمَةِ فَقَالَ: إنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ

L6127 Ali said: This hadith and the one stating "True negligence in vigilance is to delay a prayer until another prayer's time begins" both refute the claim of those who dared to assert that the Messenger of God—peace and blessings be upon him—delayed the Asr prayer on the Trench Day while being mindful of it until sunset. For had this been true, he—peace be upon him—would have willfully entered a state of deprivation, becoming akin to one who wronged his family and wealth, intentionally committing the very negligence he condemned—and no Muslim would ever make such a claim?[12]

وَسَلَّمَ - تَرَكَ صَلَاةَ الْعَصْرِ يَوْمَ الْخَنْدَقِ ذَاكِرًا لَهَا حَتَّى غَابَتْ الشَّمْسُ، لِأَنَّهُ لَوْ كَانَ ذَلِكَ لَكَانَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَدْ تَعَمَّدَ حَالًا مِنْ الْحِرْمَانِ صَارَ فِيهَا كَمَا لَوْ وَتَرَ أَهْلَهُ وَمَالَهُ، قَاصِدًا إلَى مَا ذَمَّهُ مِنْ التَّفْرِيطِ -، وَهَذَا لَا يَقُولُهُ مُسْلِمٌ؟ .

L6128 And through him to Ibn Jurayj: I said to Aṭā, “If an imam delays the ʿAṣr prayer, should I pray it with him?” He said, “Yes. Congregational prayer is more beloved to me.” I said, “Even if the sun turns yellow nearing sunset and settles on the mountain peaks?” He said, “Yes, provided it has not yet set.” Ibn Jurayj said: Ṭāwūs would sometimes hasten and sometimes delay the ʿAṣr prayer. Ibrāhīm ibn Maysarah narrated to me from him that he would delay the ʿAṣr prayer until the sun became intensely yellow.

وَبِهِ إلَى ابْنِ جُرَيْجٍ: قُلْت لِعَطَاءٍ: إمَامٌ يُؤَخِّرُ الْعَصْرَ، أُصَلِّيهَا مَعَهُ؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ، الْجَمَاعَةُ أَحَبُّ إلَيَّ؟ قُلْت: وَإِنْ اصْفَرَّتْ الشَّمْسُ لِلْغُرُوبِ وَلَحِقَتْ بِرُءُوسِ الْجِبَالِ؟ قَالَ: نَعَمْ، مَا لَمْ تَغِبْ قَالَ ابْنُ جُرَيْجٍ: وَكَانَ طَاوُسٌ يُعَجِّلُ الْعَصْرَ وَيُؤَخِّرُهَا، أَخْبَرَنِي إبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ مَيْسَرَةَ عَنْهُ: أَنَّهُ كَانَ يُؤَخِّرُ الْعَصْرَ حَتَّى تَصْفَرَّ الشَّمْسُ جِدًّا.

L6129 As for the other: which states, “My community will remain in goodness as long as they do not delay the prayer until the stars are intertwined?”—it is not valid (as evidence), because it is mursal; it has only been transmitted through the chain of al-Ṣalt ibn Bahrām.

وَأَمَّا الْآخَرُ: الَّذِي فِيهِ «لَا تَزَالُ أُمَّتِي بِخَيْرٍ مَا لَمْ يُؤَخِّرُوا الصَّلَاةَ إلَى اشْتِبَاكِ النُّجُومِ؟» فَإِنَّهُ لَا يَصِحُّ، لِأَنَّهُ مُرْسَلٌ، لَمْ يُسْنَدْ إلَّا مِنْ طَرِيقِ الصَّلْتِ بْنِ بَهْرَامَ.

L6130 Abu Hanifah said: The time for the Fajr prayer begins at the appearance of the transverse dawn and lasts until sunrise. Does this mean [it extends] until immediately after its completion?

وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: وَقْتُ صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ حِينَ يَطْلُعُ الْفَجْرُ الْمُعْتَرِضُ إلَى أَنْ تَطْلُعَ الشَّمْسُ، يَعْنِي إثْرَ سَلَامِهِ مِنْهَا؟

L6131–6132 He said: Delaying it [Fajr prayer] is more beloved to me than performing it at the time of taghlīs (prayer during pre-dawn darkness), as this results in a larger congregation.

قَالَ: وَتَأْخِيرُهَا أَحَبُّ إلَيَّ مِنْ التَّغْلِيسِ بِهَا، لِأَنَّهُ أَكْثَرُ لِلْجَمَاعَةِ.

L6133 The time for Dhuhr begins when the sun passes its zenith and lasts until the shadow becomes less than twice the object’s height. Performing it at the earliest time in winter is more beloved to me, while delaying it until the heat cools down in summer is more preferable to me.

وَوَقْتُ الظُّهْرِ مِنْ حِينَ تَزُولُ الشَّمْسُ إلَى أَنْ يَكُونَ الظِّلُّ دُونَ الْقَامَتَيْنِ، وَالتَّهْجِيرُ بِهَا فِي الشِّتَاءِ أَحَبُّ إلَيَّ: وَأَنْ يُبْرِدَ بِهَا فِي الصَّيْفِ أَعْجَبُ إلَيَّ.

L6134 The time for the ʿAṣr prayer begins when the shadow is twice its length and lasts until before sunset. This means: to initiate the prayer with the takbīr before the sun has completely set. Delaying it [within this period] is more preferable in his view, provided the sun has not yet begun to yellow.

وَوَقْتُ الْعَصْرِ إذَا كَانَ الظِّلُّ قَامَتَيْنِ إلَى قَبْلِ أَنْ تَغِيبَ الشَّمْسُ، يُرِيدُ -: أَنْ يُكَبِّرَ لَهَا قَبْلَ تَمَامِ غُرُوبِ الشَّمْسِ، وَتَأْخِيرُهَا أَحَبُّ إلَيْهِ مَا لَمْ تَصْفَرَّ الشَّمْسُ.

[12] Hadith references (L6127): Sunan Abi Dawud 441.

وَوَقْتُ الْمَغْرِبِ مُذْ تَغْرُبُ الشَّمْسُ إِلَى أَنْ يَغِيبَ الشَّفَقُ، وَتَعْجِيلُهَا أَحَبُّ إِلَيْهِ.

L6135 The time for Maghrib prayer begins when the sun sets and lasts until twilight disappears, and hastening it is more beloved to him.

وَوَقْتُ الْعَتَمَةِ مُذْ يَغِيبُ الشَّفَقُ إِلَى نِصْفِ اللَّيْلِ، وَتَأْخِيرُهَا أَفْضَلُ، وَوَقْتُهَا يَمْتَدُّ إِلَى طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ.

L6136 The time for the ʿIshā prayer begins at the disappearance of the red twilight and lasts until midnight, and delaying it is more virtuous, and its time extends until the advent of true dawn.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: كُلُّ مَا قَالَ مِمَّا خَالَفْنَاهُ فِيهِ فَقَدْ أَبْدَيْنَا بِالْبُرْهَانِ سُقُوطَ قَوْلِهِ؛ إِلَّا تَأْخِيرَ الصُّبْحِ، فَإِنَّهُ احْتَجَّ فِي ذَلِكَ [بِخَبَرٍ] مِنْ طَرِيقِ مَحْمُودِ بْنِ لَبِيدٍ عَنْ رَافِعِ بْنِ خَدِيجٍ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: «أَسْفِرُوا بِصَلَاةِ الْغَدَاةِ، فَإِنَّهُ أَعْظَمُ لِأَجْرِكُمْ» «أَسْفِرُوا بِالْفَجْرِ، فَكُلَّمَا أَسْفَرْتُمْ فَإِنَّهُ أَعْظَمُ لِلْأَجْرِ أَوْ لِأَجْرِكُمْ» قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: مَحْمُودُ بْنُ لَبِيدٍ ثِقَةٌ، وَهُوَ مَحْمُودُ بْنُ الرَّبِيعِ بْنِ لَبِيدٍ.

L6137 Ali said: Every statement he made that we opposed, we have definitively demonstrated with proof the invalidity of his statement—except regarding the delay of the dawn prayer. For he argued in that matter with a narration transmitted through Mahmud ibn Labid from Rafi‘ ibn Khadij that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said: “Delay the dawn prayer until the sky brightens, for it is greater for your reward,” and: “Delay the dawn prayer. Whenever you delay into brightness, it is greater for the reward—or for your reward.” Ali said: Mahmud ibn Labid is reliable, and he is Mahmud ibn al-Rabi‘ ibn Labid.

وَالْخَبَرُ صَحِيحٌ إِلَّا أَنَّهُ لَا حُجَّةَ لَهُمْ فِيهِ إِذَا أُضِيفَ إِلَى الثَّابِتِ مِنْ فِعْلِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - فِي التَّغْلِيسِ؛ حَتَّى إِنَّهُ لَيَنْصَرِفُ وَالنِّسَاءُ لَا يُعْرَفْنَ، أَوْ حِينَ يَعْرِفُ الرَّجُلُ وَجْهَ جَلِيسِهِ الَّذِي كَانَ يَعْرِفُهُ؛ وَأَنَّ هَذَا كَانَ الْمُدَاوَمَ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ عَمَلِهِ.

L6138 The report is authentic; however, it does not serve as evidence for them when added to the established practice of his (peace be upon him) concerning the early dawn prayer. This reached the extent that he would depart while women remained unrecognizable due to darkness, or when a man could discern the face of his companion whom he already knew. Verily, this was the steadfastly maintained practice within his customary conduct.

- عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - صَحَّ أَنَّ الْإِسْفَارَ الْمَأْمُورَ بِهِ إِنَّمَا هُوَ بِأَنْ يَنْقَضِيَ طُلُوعُ الْفَجْرِ وَلَا يُصَلِّيَ عَلَى شَكٍّ مِنْهُ فَإِنْ قِيلَ: إِنَّهُ لَا أَجْرَ فِي غَيْرِ هَذَا، بَلْ مَا فِيهِ إِلَّا الْإِثْمُ؟ قُلْنَا: هَذَا لَا يُنْكَرُ فِي لُغَةِ الْعَرَبِ، لِأَنَّ اللَّهَ تَعَالَى يَقُولُ {وَلَوْ أَنَّهُمْ قَالُوا سَمِعْنَا وَأَطَعْنَا وَاسْمَعْ وَانْظُرْنَا لَكَانَ خَيْرًا لَهُمْ وَأَقْوَمَ} [النساء: ٤٦] وَلَا خَيْرَ فِي خِلَافِ ذَلِكَ وَمِنَ الْبَاطِلِ أَنْ يَكُونَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - يُكَلِّفُ أُمَّتَهُ وَأَصْحَابَهُ الْمَشَقَّةَ فِي تَرْكِ النَّوْمِ أَلَذَّ مَا يَكُونُ، وَخُرُوجُ الرِّجَالِ وَالنِّسَاءِ إِلَى صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ -: عَمَلًا فِيهِ مَشَقَّةٌ وَكُلْفَةٌ وَحَطِيطَةٌ

L6139–6141 Peace be upon him (PBUH). It is established that the commanded manifestation of dawn refers specifically to the completion of dawn’s emergence, and one must not pray while uncertain about it. If it is objected: “There is no reward in anything other than this; rather, there is nothing in it except sin?” We respond: This cannot be denied according to the conventions of the Arabic language, for Allah the Exalted states: {Had they said, “We hear and obey,” and “Listen and wait for us,” it would have been better for them and more upright} [4:46], and there is no good in opposing this. It is baseless to claim that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—would impose hardship on his community and companions by compelling them to abandon sleep at its most pleasurable time, or that the act of men and women going out for the dawn prayer, an act entailing hardship, toil, and diminution of reward, would prevent them from attaining grace and reward while they are at ease. Allah is far exalted above such a thing! This contradicts sincere counsel and epitomizes deceit, undue hardship, and injustice.[13]

L6142 وَمَا نَدْرِيهِمْ تَعَلَّقُوا فِي هَذَا إلَّا بِرِوَايَةٍ عَنْ ابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ فِي التَّغْلِيسِ بِصَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ حِينَ انْشَقَّ الْفَجْرُ يَوْمَ النَّحْرِ، وَقَوْلُهُ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ -: إنَّهَا صَلَاةٌ حُوِّلَتْ عَنْ وَقْتِهَا فِي ذَلِكَ الْيَوْمِ فِي ذَلِكَ الْمَكَانِ، وَهَذَا خَبَرٌ مُسْقِطٌ لِقَوْلِهِمْ جُمْلَةً؛ لِأَنَّهُمْ مُخَالِفُونَ لَهُ جُمْلَةً؛ إذْ قَوْلُهُمْ الَّذِي لَا خِلَافَ عَنْهُمْ فِيهِ: أَنَّ التَّغْلِيسَ بِهَا فِي أَوَّلِ الْفَجْرِ لَيْسَ صَلَاةً لَهَا فِي غَيْرِ وَقْتِهَا، بَلْ هُوَ وَقْتُهَا عِنْدَهُمْ؟ فَمَنْ أَضَلُّ مِمَّنْ يُمَوِّهُ بِحَدِيثٍ هُوَ مُخَالِفٌ لَهُ، وَيُوهِمُ خَصْمَهُ أَنَّهُ حُجَّةٌ لَهُ.

L6142 The only basis they cling to in this matter is a narration from Ibn Mas'ud regarding performing the Fajr prayer in pre-dawn darkness at the moment dawn broke on the Day of Sacrifice, and his statement - may Allah be pleased with him - that it was a prayer shifted from its prescribed time on that day in that place. This report completely invalidates their stance, for they wholly oppose it - given their undisputed position that performing it in darkness at the onset of dawn does not constitute praying it outside its designated time, but rather represents its appointed time according to them. Who is more misguided than one who obfuscates using a hadith he himself contradicts, while deluding his opponent into believing it serves as evidence in his favor?

L6143 وَأَمَّا قَوْلُهُمْ فِي اخْتِيَارِ تَأْخِيرِ الْعَصْرِ: فَقَوْلٌ مُخَالِفٌ لِلْقُرْآنِ فِي الْمُسَارَعَةِ إلَى الْخَيْرِ - وَلِجَمِيعِ السُّنَنِ، وَلِجَمِيعِ السَّلَفِ، وَلِلْقِيَاسِ عَلَى قَوْلِهِ فِي صَلَاةِ الظُّهْرِ وَالْمَغْرِبِ؟ وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: وَقْتُ الظُّهْرِ وَالْعَصْرِ إلَى غُرُوبِ الشَّمْسِ، وَوَقْتُ الْمَغْرِبِ وَالْعِشَاءِ إلَى طُلُوعِ الْفَجْرِ، وَالصُّبْحُ إلَى طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ - وَأَحَبُّ إلَيْهِ فِي الصُّبْحِ: التَّغْلِيسُ.

L6143 As for their statement regarding preferring to delay the 'Asr prayer: this is a position contradicting the Quran's directive to hasten toward good, all the Sunnahs, all the Salaf, and the analogy drawn from the Prophet's statement concerning Dhuhr and Maghrib prayers. Mālik said: The time for Dhuhr and 'Asr extends until sunset, the time for Maghrib and 'Ishā' lasts until the emergence of dawn, and the time for Fajr continues until sunrise – though he most favored performing Fajr during the early darkness.

L6144 وَأَحَبُّ إلَيْهِ فِي صَلَاةِ الظُّهْرِ: أَنْ تُصَلَّى فِي الْبَرْدِ وَالْحَرِّ إذَا فَاءَ الْفَيْءُ ذِرَاعًا، وَأَحَبُّ إلَيْهِ: أَنْ تُصَلَّى الْعَصْرُ وَالشَّمْسُ بَيْضَاءُ نَقِيَّةٌ؟ وَتَعْجِيلُ الْمَغْرِبِ إلَّا لِلْمُسَافِرِ؛ فَلَا بَأْسَ بِأَنْ تُمَدَّ الْمِيلَيْنِ وَنَحْوِهِمَا.

L6144 It is most preferable to the Prophet regarding the Dhuhr prayer that it be performed in both cold and heat when the shadow extends to a cubit. It is also most preferable to him that the Asr prayer be performed while the sun remains bright and clear. Hastening Maghrib prayer is preferable except for travelers; there is no harm in delaying it by two mīl (approx. 3.2 km) or similar distances.

L6145–6146 وَالْعَتَمَةُ: إثْرَ مَغِيبِ الشَّفَقِ قَلِيلًا؟ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: أَمَّا قَوْلُهُ فِي اتِّصَالِ وَقْتِ الظُّهْرِ إلَى غُرُوبِ الشَّمْسِ، وَوَقْتِ الْمَغْرِبِ إلَى صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ؟ فَقَوْلٌ مُخَالِفٌ لِجَمِيعِ السُّنَنِ، وَلَا نَعْلَمُهُ عَنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ -، وَلَا عَنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ التَّابِعِينَ - إلَّا عَنْ عَطَاءٍ

L6145–6146 The Isha prayer: shortly after the disappearance of twilight? Ali said: As for his statement regarding the continuity of Dhuhr's time until sunset and the extension of Maghrib's time until the Fajr prayer—this contradicts all established traditions. We do not know this from any Companion (may [13] Qur'an references (L6139): Qur'an 4:46 (An-Nisa).

Allah be pleased with them) nor from any Follower except ʿAṭāʾ alone. As for his statement concerning the time of Isha, we do not know any of the Salaf preferring this view either. Regarding his statement about Dhuhr's time, he relied on the narration from ʿUmar (may Allah be pleased with him): "Pray Dhuhr when the shadow becomes a cubit in length." We have already mentioned the multiple narrations from ʿUmar (may Allah be pleased with him) that it should be prayed when the sun declines from its zenith and delayed until the heat subsides.

وَحْدَهُ وَأَمَّا قَوْلُهُ فِي وَقْتِ الْعَتَمَةِ؟ فَلَا نَعْلَمُ اخْتِيَارَهُ أَيْضًا عَنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ السَّلَفِ وَأَمَّا قَوْلُهُ فِي وَقْتِ الظُّهْرِ؟ فَإِنَّهُ عَوَّلَ عَلَى الرِّوَايَةِ عَنْ عُمَرَ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ -: أَنْ صَلِّ الظُّهْرَ إذَا فَاءَ الْفَيْءُ ذِرَاعًا. وَقَدْ ذَكَرْنَا الرِّوَايَاتِ الْمُتَرَادِفَةَ عَنْ عُمَرَ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ -: بِأَنْ تُصَلَّى إذَا زَاغَتْ الشَّمْسُ وَأَنْ يُبْرَدَ بِهَا.

L6147 This was narrated from him by Aisha, the Mother of the Believers; his son Abdullah; Nafiʿ ibn Jubayr; Muhajir Abu al-Hasan; Abu al-ʿAliya; Urwah ibn al-Zubayr; Abu Uthman al-Nahdi; Malik, the grandfather of Malik ibn Anas. Aisha narrated it as a musnad report. Is this also part of Abu Bakr's practice? Have we narrated it also from Ali ibn Abi Talib, Abu Hurayrah, Ibn Masʿud, and others? If they mention that it was narrated from Ibn Abbas: "The time for Isha lasts until the Fajr prayer," and from Abu Hurayrah: "Exceeding the proper time for Isha until the Fajr prayer"—then they have contradicted that report from Ibn Abbas, for it states: "The time for Dhuhr lasts until the time for Asr, and the time for Maghrib lasts until the time for Isha." When the Companions differ, the recourse is to what Allah Almighty has commanded us to refer back to—the Quran and the Sunnah.

رَوَى ذَلِكَ عَنْهُ: عَائِشَةُ أُمُّ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ، وَابْنُهُ عَبْدُ اللَّهِ، وَنَافِعُ بْنُ جُبَيْرٍ، وَمُهَاجِرٌ أَبُو الْحَسَنِ، وَأَبُو الْعَالِيَةِ، وَعُرْوَةُ بْنُ الزُّبَيْرِ، وَأَبُو عُثْمَانَ النَّهْدِيُّ، وَمَالِكٌ جَدُّ مَالِكِ بْنِ أَنَسٍ وَرَوَتْهُ عَائِشَةُ مُسْنَدًا، وَمِنْ فِعْلِ أَبِي بَكْرٍ أَيْضًا؟ وَرُوِّينَاهُ أَيْضًا عَنْ عَلِيِّ بْنِ أَبِي طَالِبٍ، وَأَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ، وَابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ وَغَيْرِهِمْ؟ وَإِنْ ذَكَرُوا: أَنَّهُ قَدْ رُوِيَ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ: وَقْتُ الْعَتَمَةِ إلَى صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ، وَعَنْ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ: الْإِفْرَاطُ فِي الْعَتَمَةِ إلَى صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ؟ - فَإِنَّهُمْ قَدْ خَالَفُوا ذَلِكَ الْأَثَرَ عَنْ ابْنِ عَبَّاسٍ، لِأَنَّ فِيهِ: وَقْتَ الظُّهْرِ إلَى وَقْتِ الْعَصْرِ، وَوَقْتُ الْمَغْرِبِ إلَى وَقْتِ الْعِشَاءِ؟ وَإِذَا اخْتَلَفَ الصَّحَابَةُ فَالرُّجُوعُ إلَى مَا افْتَرَضَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى الرُّجُوعَ إلَيْهِ مِنْ الْقُرْآنِ وَالسُّنَّةِ.

L6148 He, the Exalted, said: "If you disagree over something, then refer it to Allah and the Messenger, if you believe in Allah and the Last Day." (Quran 4:59)[14]

قَالَ تَعَالَى: {فَإِنْ تَنَازَعْتُمْ فِي شَيْءٍ فَرُدُّوهُ إِلَى اللَّهِ وَالرَّسُولِ إِنْ كُنْتُمْ تُؤْمِنُونَ بِاللَّهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الآخِرِ} [النساء: ٥٩] .

L6149 Issue: The time of Ẓuhr is perpetually longer than that of ʿAṣr in every time and place.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ وَقْتُ الظُّهْرِ أَطْوَلُ مِنْ وَقْتِ الْعَصْرِ أَبَدًا فِي كُلِّ زَمَانٍ وَمَكَانٍ]

L6150–6152 Issue 337: Ali said: The time of Dhuhr is perpetually longer than the time of Asr in every time and place, because the sun begins passing the zenith at the start of the seventh hour, and the shadow of an upright object begins to increase beyond its equivalent length. The zenith time—after the removal of the shadow at zawāl—occurs at the beginning of the tenth hour. As for the period from its first fifth to its first third, this does not exceed that at all in any time or place. The duration of the dawn prayer perpetually equals the duration of the sunset prayer in every time and place, because the interval from the emergence of the true dawn until the first appearance of the sun corresponds to the interval from the end of sunset until the disappearance of the twilight—which is perpetually the redness—in every time and place. It expands in summer and contracts in winter due to the magnitude and smallness of the sun's arc.

٣٣٧ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَقْتُ الظُّهْرِ أَطْوَلُ مِنْ وَقْتِ الْعَصْرِ أَبَدًا فِي كُلِّ زَمَانٍ وَمَكَانٍ، لِأَنَّ الشَّمْسَ تَأْخُذُ فِي الزَّوَالِ فِي أَوَّلِ السَّاعَةِ السَّابِعَةِ، وَيَأْخُذُ ظِلُّ الْقَائِمِ

L6153 The time of these two prayers is perpetually shorter than the time of Dhuhr and the time of Asr. This is because the time of Dhuhr constitutes a quarter of the day plus an additional portion, making it perpetually three temporal hours plus a portion of the differing hours. The time of Asr constitutes a quarter of the day minus a portion, making it perpetually three temporal hours minus a portion of the differing hours.

L6154 The time for Maghrib and the time for Fajr do not extend to that duration. The majority of the time, each of these two prayer times spans two hours, though it may sometimes be one and a quarter hours according to the differing hours—which are those that, on the longest day of the year and the shortest day of the year, consist of twelve hours each. Thus, they vary in length and brevity, as well as in form, and is there no difference? The most expansive of all prayer times is the time for 'Ishā' (the night prayer), as it exceeds a third of the night, or a third of the night plus the duration of a takbīrah (saying Allāhu Akbar) in every time and place. Success is from Allah, the Exalted.

L6157–6159 Ali said: Dawn and twilight each have two types. The first dawn is the slender, tapering light rising in the celestial sphere like the tail of an Arabian oryx. And after it occurs, darkness on the horizon—eating and drinking are not prohibited for the fasting person, nor does the dawn prayer time commence thereby—there is no disagreement on this in the entire Ummah. The second sign is the whiteness that spreads across the breadth of the sky in the eastern horizon at the place of the sun's rising in every period, shifting with the sun's movement as a precursor to its light, increasing in whiteness; sometimes accompanied by a striking red hue. With its manifestation, the time for fasting commences, along with the time for the call to the dawn prayer and the time for performing it. As for the entry of the prayer time being marked by its manifestation, there is no disagreement on this in the entire Ummah. As for the two twilights: one is the redness, and the second is the whiteness. The time for Maghrib prayer—according to Ibn Abi Laylā, Sufyān al-Thawrī, Mālik, al-Shāfiʿī, Abū Yūsuf, Muḥammad ibn al-Ḥasan, al-Ḥasan ibn Ḥayy, Dāwūd, and others—ends and the time for Isha prayer begins with the disappearance of the redness. This is the opinion of Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal and Isḥāq.

إِلَّا أَنَّ أَحْمَدَ قَالَ: يُسْتَحَبُّ - فِي الْحَضَرِ خَاصَّةً دُونَ السَّفَرِ -: أَنْ لَا يُصَلِّيَ إِلَّا إِذَا غَابَ الْبَيَاضُ؛ لِيَكُونَ عَلَى يَقِينٍ مِنْ مَغِيبِ الْحُمْرَةِ فَقَدْ تُوَارِيهَا الْجُدْرَانُ وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ، وَعَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ الْمُبَارَكِ، وَالْمُزَنِيُّ، وَأَبُو ثَوْرٍ: لَا يَخْرُجُ وَقْتُ الْمَغْرِبِ وَلَا يَدْخُلُ وَقْتُ الْعَتَمَةِ إِلَّا بِمَغِيبِ الْبَيَاضِ؟ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: قَدْ صَحَّ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - حَدَّ خُرُوجَ وَقْتِ الْمَغْرِبِ، وَدُخُولَ وَقْتِ الْعَتَمَةِ بِمَغِيبِ نُورِ الشَّفَقِ، وَالشَّفَقُ: يَقَعُ فِي اللُّغَةِ عَلَى الْحُمْرَةِ، وَعَلَى الْبَيَاضِ.

L6160 However, Ahmad said: It is recommended (specifically when settled, not traveling) not to pray until the whiteness disappears, to be certain of the disappearance of the redness, for walls may obscure the redness. Abu Hanifah, Abdullah ibn al-Mubarak, al-Muzanni, and Abu Thawr said: Does the time of Maghrib not end and the time of al-ʿatamah (Isha) not begin except with the disappearance of the whiteness? Ali said: It has been authentically established that the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) defined the end of Maghrib's time and the beginning of al-ʿatamah's time with the disappearance of the twilight's light. Linguistically, "twilight" refers to both redness and whiteness.

L6161 Since that is the case, it is impermissible to restrict his statement—peace be upon him—without a textual proof or consensus. Thus, it is established that when what is termed “twilight” disappears, the time for Maghrib has ended, and the time for ʿIshāʾ has commenced. Yet he—peace be upon him—never stated, “until all that is termed twilight vanishes?”

فَإِذْ ذَلِكَ كَذَلِكَ، فَلَا يَجُوزُ أَنْ يُخَصَّ قَوْلُهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - بِغَيْرِ نَصٍّ وَلَا إِجْمَاعٍ، فَوَجَبَ أَنَّهُ إِذَا غَابَ مَا يُسَمَّى شَفَقًا فَقَدْ خَرَجَ وَقْتُ الْمَغْرِبِ، وَدَخَلَ وَقْتُ الْعَتَمَةِ وَلَمْ يَقُلْ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَطُّ: حَتَّى يَغِيبَ كُلُّ مَا يُسَمَّى شَفَقًا؟ .

L6162–6163 And a decisive proof is that it has been established that the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) defined the time of the Isha prayer by stating that its beginning is when the twilight disappears, and its end is the first third of the night. It has also been narrated: half the night.

وَبُرْهَانٌ قَاطِعٌ، وَهُوَ: أَنَّهُ قَدْ ثَبَتَ أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - حَدَّ وَقْتَ الْعَتَمَةِ بِأَنَّ: أَوَّلَهُ إِذَا غَابَ الشَّفَقُ، وَآخِرَهُ: ثُلُثُ اللَّيْلِ الْأَوَّلِ، وَرُوِيَ أَيْضًا: نِصْفُ اللَّيْلِ.

L6164 Every person knowledgeable about celestial risings, settings, and the sun’s apparent motion knows that the white twilight does not disappear except at the first third of the night—which the Prophet (peace be upon him) designated as the period when the majority of the time has departed. Thus, it is established with certainty that its time enters with certainty before the first third of the night. The textual evidence confirms that it enters before the disappearance of the twilight, which is undeniably the white twilight. Since this is so, there is no valid opinion whatsoever except that it is unequivocally the red twilight, as its being the white twilight has been invalidated.

وَقَدْ عَلِمَ كُلُّ مَنْ لَهُ عِلْمٌ بِالْمَطَالِعِ، وَالْمَغَارِبِ، وَدَوَرَانِ الشَّمْسِ: أَنَّ الْبَيَاضَ لَا يَغِيبُ إِلَّا عِنْدَ ثُلُثِ اللَّيْلِ الْأَوَّلِ؛ وَهُوَ الَّذِي حَدَّ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - خُرُوجَ أَكْثَرِ الْوَقْتِ فِيهِ، فَصَحَّ يَقِينًا أَنَّ وَقْتَهَا دَاخِلٌ قَبْلَ ثُلُثِ اللَّيْلِ الْأَوَّلِ بِيَقِينٍ، فَقَدْ ثَبَتَ بِالنَّصِّ أَنَّهُ دَاخِلٌ قَبْلَ مَغِيبِ الشَّفَقِ، الَّذِي هُوَ الْبَيَاضُ بِلَا شَكٍّ فَإِذْ ذَلِكَ كَذَلِكَ فَلَا قَوْلَ أَصْلًا إِلَّا أَنَّهُ: الْحُمْرَةُ بِيَقِينٍ؛ إِذْ قَدْ بَطَلَ كَوْنُهُ: الْبَيَاضَ.

L6165 Those who emulated Abū Ḥanīfah argued by saying: “If we pray at the disappearance of the white twilight, we are certain—through scholarly consensus—that we have prayed within the prescribed time. But if we pray before that, have we not prayed without the certainty of performing it during the time established by consensus?” ʿAlī replied: “This is invalid, for if they were to adopt this principle, it would nullify the preponderant doctrine of their school. One would then ask: Would this not equally apply to ablution with date wine, inhaling water into the nostrils and expelling it during purification, reciting the Opening Chapter of the Quran, maintaining tranquility in prayer, and every disputed matter that invalidates fasting or pilgrimage, as well as matters in which zakāt is obligatory? They would thereby be compelled to refrain from performing any act of the Sharīʿah until no two people disagree that they have fulfilled it exactly as they were commanded.”

وَاحْتَجَّ مَنْ قَلَّدَ أَبَا حَنِيفَةَ بِأَنْ قَالَ: إِذَا صَلَّيْنَا عِنْدَ غُرُوبِ الْبَيَاضِ فَنَحْنُ عَلَى يَقِينٍ - بِإِجْمَاعٍ - أَنَّنَا قَدْ صَلَّيْنَا عِنْدَ الْوَقْتِ، وَإِنْ صَلَّيْنَا قَبْلَ ذَلِكَ، فَلَمْ نُصَلِّ بِيَقِينِ إِجْمَاعٍ فِي الْوَقْتِ؟ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: هَذَا لَيْسَ شَيْئًا؛ لِأَنَّهُ إِنْ الْتَزَمُوهُ؟ أَبْطَلَ عَلَيْهِمْ جُمْهُورَ مَذْهَبِهِمْ فَيُقَالُ: مِثْلُ هَذَا فِي الْوُضُوءِ بِالنَّبِيذِ، وَفِي الِاسْتِنْشَاقِ، وَالِاسْتِنْثَارِ، وَقِرَاءَةِ أُمِّ الْقُرْآنِ، وَالطُّمَأْنِينَةِ، وَكُلِّ مَا اُخْتُلِفَ فِيهِ مِمَّا يُبْطِلُ الصَّوْمَ وَالْحَجَّ، وَمِمَّا تَجِبُ فِيهِ الزَّكَاةُ؟ فَيَلْزَمُهُمْ أَنْ لَا يُؤَدُّوا عَمَلًا مِنْ الشَّرِيعَةِ إِلَّا حَتَّى لَا يَخْتَلِفَ اثْنَانِ فِي أَنَّهُمْ قَدْ أَدَّوْهُ كَمَا أُمِرُوا.

وَمَعَ هَذَا لَا يَصِحُّ لَهُمْ مِنْ مَذْهَبِهِمْ جُزْءٌ مِنْ مِائَةِ جُزْءٍ بِلَا شَكٍّ وَذَكَرُوا حَدِيثَ النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ بَشِيرٍ: «أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - كَانَ يُصَلِّي الْعَتَمَةَ لِسُقُوطِ الْقَمَرِ لَيْلَةَ ثَالِثَةٍ» .

L6166 Despite this, not even a hundredth part of their school's doctrine holds validity for them—without doubt. They cited the hadith of al-Nu'mān ibn Bashīr: "that the Prophet (peace be upon him) used to pray the late-night prayer when the moon sets on the third night."

وَلَوْ كَانَ لَكَانَ أَعْظَمَ حُجَّةً لَنَا، لِأَنَّ الشَّفَقَ الْأَبْيَضَ يَبْقَى بَعْدَ هَذِهِ مُدَّةً طَوِيلَةً بِلَا خِلَافٍ، وَاحْتَجَّ بَعْضُهُمْ بِالْأَثَرِ «أَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - كَانَ يُصَلِّي الْعِشَاءَ الْآخِرَةَ إِذَا اسْوَدَّ اللَّيْلُ» وَبَقَاءُ الْبَيَاضِ يَمْنَعُ مِنْ سَوَادِ الْأُفُقِ.

L6167 If it were so, it would have been a greater proof for us, because the white twilight persists after this for an extended period without disagreement. Some of them cited the narration as evidence: "The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) used to pray Isha at its latter time when the night grew dark," and the remaining whiteness prevents the horizon from darkening.

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا خَطَأٌ، لِأَنَّهُ يُصَلِّي الْعَتَمَةَ مَعَ بَيَاضِ الْقَمَرِ، وَهُوَ أَمْنَعُ مِنْ سَوَادِ الْأُفُقِ عَلَى أُصُولِهِمْ: مِنْ الْبَيَاضِ الْبَاقِي بَعْدَ الْحُمْرَةِ، الَّذِي لَا يَمْنَعُ مِنْ سَوَادِ الْأُفُقِ؛ لِقِلَّتِهِ وَدِقَّتِهِ؟ .

L6168–6170 Ali said: This is a mistake; for one prays Isha during the moon's brightness, which is more restricted than its darkness. Is the horizon, according to their principles, determined by the residual whiteness after the redness; which does not obstruct the obscuration of the horizon due to its scarcity and fineness?

وَذَكَرُوا حَدِيثَ النُّعْمَانِ بْنِ بَشِيرٍ: «أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - كَانَ يُصَلِّي الْعَتَمَةَ لِسُقُوطِ لَيْلَةِ ثَالِثَةٍ» ، وَهَذَا لَا حُجَّةَ لَهُمْ فِيهِ، لِأَنَّنَا لَا نَمْنَعُ مِنْ ذَلِكَ، وَلَا مِنْ تَأْخِيرِهَا إلَى نِصْفِ اللَّيْلِ، بَلْ هُوَ أَفْضَلُ، وَلَيْسَ فِي هَذَا الْمَنْعُ مِنْ دُخُولِ وَقْتِهَا قَبْلَ ذَلِكَ؟ وَذَكَرُوا حَدِيثًا سَاقِطًا مَوْضُوعًا، فِيهِ «أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - صَلَّى الْعَتَمَةَ قَبْلَ غُرُوبِ الشَّفَقِ» .

L6171 They cited the hadith of Nu'mān ibn Bashīr: "He (peace be upon him) prayed the Isha prayer upon the passing of the third part of the night." This provides no evidence for their position, for we neither forbid this nor do we forbid delaying it until midnight—rather, this is preferable. But does this not indicate a prohibition against the beginning of its time before that? They also cited a rejected and fabricated hadith claiming: "He (peace be upon him) prayed the Isha prayer before the disappearance of the twilight."

وَهَذَا لَوْ صَحَّ - وَمَعَاذَ اللَّهِ مِنْ ذَلِكَ - لَمَا كَانَ فِيهِ إلَّا جَوَازُ الصَّلَاةِ قَبْلَ وَقْتِهَا، وَهُوَ خِلَافُ قَوْلِهِمْ وَقَوْلِنَا وَذَكَرُوا عَنْ ثَعْلَبٍ: أَنَّ الشَّفَقَ: الْبَيَاضُ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: لَسْنَا نُنْكِرُ أَنَّ الشَّفَقَ: الْبَيَاضُ، وَالشَّفَقُ: الْحُمْرَةُ، وَلَيْسَ ثَعْلَبٌ حُجَّةً فِي الشَّرِيعَةِ إلَّا فِي نَقْلِهِ، فَهُوَ ثِقَةٌ، وَأَمَّا فِي رَأْيِهِ فَلَا؟ وَأَظْرَفُ ذَلِكَ احْتِجَاجُ بَعْضِهِمْ: بِأَنَّ الشَّفَقَ: مُشْتَقٌّ مِنْ الشَّفَقَةِ، وَهِيَ الرِّقَّةُ، وَيُقَالُ: ثَوْبٌ شَفِيقٌ إذَا كَانَ رَقِيقًا.

L6172 If this were valid—and God forbid that—there would be in it nothing but the permissibility of prayer before its prescribed time, which contradicts both their view and ours. They cited from Tha'lab that "evening twilight (al-shaqaq) is the whiteness." 'Ali said: "We do not deny that twilight refers to the whiteness, while twilight [elsewhere] denotes the redness, but Tha'lab is not an authority in Islamic law except in his transmission, for he is reliable; however, as for his opinion, then no." The most elegant example of this is the argument by some of them that "twilight" is derived from "tenderness," meaning gentleness, and it is said: "A garment is shafīq if it is thin."

L6173–6175 They said: Whiteness is more entitled to this because it consists of delicate parts that remain after the redness. ʿAlī said: This is delusion—let that suffice you! If it were said to them: Rather, redness is more deserving, for it arises from compassion and modesty—is all this not confusion that is more inclined to frivolity than seriousness? Some of them said: Since the time for the dawn prayer begins with the second dawn, it follows that the time for the ʿAtama (Isha) prayer should begin with the second twilight. They were countered by the argument that since dawn has two dawns and the entry time for the dawn prayer begins... At the dawn accompanied by redness, it is obligatory for the time of Isha (الْعَتَمَةِ) to begin with the twilight accompanied by redness.

قَالُوا: وَالْبَيَاضُ أَحَقُّ بِهَذَا، لِأَنَّهَا أَجْزَاءٌ رَقِيقَةٌ تَبْقَى بَعْدَ الْحُمْرَةِ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا هَوَسٌ نَاهِيك بِهِ فَإِنْ قِيلَ لَهُمْ: بَلْ الْحُمْرَةُ أَوْلَى بِهِ، لِأَنَّهَا تَتَوَلَّدُ عَنْ الْإِشْفَاقِ وَالْحَيَاءِ، وَكُلُّ هَذَا تَخْلِيطٌ هُوَ فِي الْهَزْلِ أَدْخَلُ مِنْهُ فِي الْجِدِّ؟ وَقَالَ بَعْضُهُمْ: لَمَّا كَانَ وَقْتُ صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ يَدْخُلُ بِالْفَجْرِ الثَّانِي: وَجَبَ أَنْ يَدْخُلَ وَقْتُ صَلَاةِ الْعَتَمَةِ بِالشَّفَقِ الثَّانِي؟ فَعُورِضُوا بِأَنَّهُ لَمَّا كَانَ الْفَجْرُ فَجْرَيْنِ، وَكَانَ دُخُولُ وَقْتِ صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ يَدْخُلُ بِالْفَجْرِ الَّذِي مَعَهُ الْحُمْرَةُ: - وَجَبَ أَنْ يَكُونَ دُخُولُ وَقْتِ الْعَتَمَةِ بِالشَّفَقِ الَّذِي مَعَهُ الْحُمْرَةُ.

They also argued: Since the redness preceding sunrise has no effect on ending the time for Fajr prayer, must it not likewise have no effect on ending the time for Maghrib prayer? They were countered by the rebuttal: Just as there are three types of dawns and three types of dusks, and the ruling for entering the time of Fajr prayer pertains to the middle dawn, so too must the ruling for entering the time of Isha prayer pertain to the middle dusk. All these are confused notions, invalid assertions, and mutually deceptive claims. We have mentioned them only so that those whom Allah—the Exalted—has favored by guiding them to invalidate analogy in religious matters might recognize the greatness of Allah's favor upon them in this, and so that those who erred by adopting such views might come to realize. Our success comes only from Allah, the Exalted.

وَقَالُوا أَيْضًا: لَمَّا كَانَتْ الْحُمْرَةُ الَّتِي هِيَ مُقَدِّمَةُ طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ لَا تَأْثِيرَ لَهَا فِي خُرُوجِ وَقْتِ صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ -: وَجَبَ أَنْ يَكُونَ أَيْضًا لَا تَأْثِيرَ لَهَا فِي خُرُوجِ وَقْتِ الْمَغْرِبِ؟ فَعُورِضُوا بِأَنَّهُ لَمَّا كَانَتْ الطَّوَالِعُ: ثَلَاثَةً، وَالْغَوَارِبُ ثَلَاثَةً، وَكَانَ الْحُكْمُ فِي دُخُولِ وَقْتِ صَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ لِلْأَوْسَطِ مِنْ الطَّوَالِعِ وَجَبَ أَنْ يَكُونَ الْحُكْمُ فِي دُخُولِ صَلَاةِ الْعَتَمَةِ لِلْأَوْسَطِ مِنْ الْغَوَارِبِ وَهَذِهِ كُلُّهَا تَخَالِيطُ وَدَعَاوَى فَاسِدَةٌ مُتَكَاذِبَةٌ، وَإِنَّمَا أَوْرَدْنَاهَا لِيَعْلَمَ مَنْ أَنْعَمَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عَلَيْهِ بِأَنْ هَدَاهُ لِإِبْطَالِ الْقِيَاسِ فِي الدِّينِ -: عَظِيمَ نِعْمَةِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى عَلَيْهِ فِي ذَلِكَ، وَلِيَتَبَصَّرَ مَنْ غَلِطَ فَقَالَ بِهِ - وَمَا تَوْفِيقُنَا إلَّا بِاَللَّهِ تَعَالَى.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ كَبَّرَ لِصَلَاةِ فَرْضٍ وَهُوَ شَاكٌّ هَلْ دَخَلَ وَقْتُهَا أَمْ لَا]

L6177

339 – Issue: If someone begins an obligatory prayer with Takbīr while doubting whether its time has commenced, his prayer is not valid. This applies whether the time had actually begun or not, for he performed it contrary to what he was commanded. He was commanded solely to begin it within its prescribed time. The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings

L6179 A scenario where someone begins performing the prayer while being certain that its prescribed time had begun, but it turns out the time had not actually commenced.

L6180 Issue 340: If he begins the prayer while being certain within himself that its time has commenced, yet the time had not actually begun, it does not suffice him either, because he did not perform it as commanded. It will not suffice unless he attains certainty that the time has commenced and the time has indeed begun—and success is by Allah, the Exalted.

L6181 A question regarding one who has prayed the two Rak’ahs of Fajr and then lay down upon his right side.

L6182 341 – Issue: Anyone who performs the two Rak’ahs of Fajr, his Fajr prayer is not valid unless he lies on his right side between his Salam from the two Rak’ahs of Fajr and his Takbir for the Fajr prayer.

L6183 In our school, it makes no difference whether omitting the reclining was intentional or due to forgetfulness; and it makes no difference whether one prayed during its prescribed time or performed its makeup due to forgetfulness or due to intentional sleep.

L6184–6186 If he did not pray the two rak’ahs of Fajr, he is not obligated to lie down. And if he is unable to lie down upon... “Is his indication of the oath due to fear, illness, or other such reasons sufficient only according to his capacity?”

L6187 The proof of that is: what was narrated to us by Abdullah ibn Rabīʿ, who narrated to us Ibn al-Sulaym, who narrated to us Ibn al-Aʿrābī, who narrated to us Abū Dāwūd, who narrated to us ʿUbaydullāh ibn ʿUmar ibn Maysarah, who narrated to us ʿAbd al-Wāḥid – that is Ibn Ziyād – who narrated to us al-Aʿmash, from Abū Ṣāliḥ – that is al-Sammān – from Abū Hurayrah, who said: The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said: "When one of you prays the two rakʿahs before dawn, let him recline on his right side."[16]

فَقَالَ لَهُ مَرْوَانُ بْنُ الْحَكَمِ: مَا يُجْزِئُ أَحَدَنَا مَمْشَاهُ إِلَى الْمَسْجِدِ حَتَّى يَضْطَجِعَ عَلَى يَمِينِهِ؟ قَالَ أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ: لَا، فَبَلَغَ ذَلِكَ ابْنَ عُمَرَ، فَقَالَ: أَكْثَرَ أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ عَلَى نَفْسِهِ فَقِيلَ لِابْنِ عُمَرَ عِنْدَهَا: تُنْكِرُ شَيْئًا مِمَّا يَقُولُ؟ قَالَ: لَا، وَلَكِنَّهُ اجْتَرَأَ وَجَبُنَّا، فَبَلَغَ ذَلِكَ أَبَا هُرَيْرَةَ، فَقَالَ: فَمَا ذَنْبِي إِنْ كُنْت حَفِظْت وَنَسُوا؟ .

L6188 Marwan ibn al-Hakam said to him, "Is walking to the mosque sufficient for any of us without lying on his right side [afterward]?" Abu Hurairah replied, "No." When this reached Ibn Umar, he remarked, "Abu Hurairah has exaggerated." Someone then asked Ibn Umar, "Do you reject anything he says?" He answered, "No, but he acted boldly while we acted cowardly." When this reached Abu Hurairah, he responded, "What is my fault if I preserved and they forgot?"

وَرُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ وَكِيعٍ عَنْ عَاصِمِ بْنِ رَجَاءِ بْنِ حَيْوَةُ عَنْ أَبِيهِ عَنْ قَبِيصَةَ بْنِ ذُؤَيْبٍ قَالَ: مَرَّ بِي أَبُو الدَّرْدَاءِ مِنْ آخِرِ اللَّيْلِ وَأَنَا أُصَلِّي؟ فَقَالَ: افْصِلْ بِضَجْعَةٍ بَيْنَ صَلَاةِ اللَّيْلِ، وَصَلَاةِ النَّهَارِ.

L6189 And it has been narrated to us through the chain of Waki', from ʿĀṣim ibn Rajāʾ ibn Ḥaywah, from his father, from Qabīṣah ibn Dhu'ayb, who said: Abū al-Dardāʾ passed by me at the end of the night while I was praying. He said: "Interpose a period of lying down between the night prayer and the daytime prayer."

قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَقَدْ أَوْضَحْنَا أَنَّ أَمْرَ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - كُلَّهُ عَلَى الْفَرْضِ، حَتَّى يَأْتِيَ نَصٌّ آخَرُ أَوْ إجْمَاعٌ مُتَيَقَّنٌ غَيْرُ مُدَّعًى بِالْبَاطِلِ -: عَلَى أَنَّهُ نَدْبٌ، فَنَقِفُ عِنْدَهُ، وَإِذَا تَنَازَعَ الصَّحَابَةُ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عَنْهُمْ - فَالرَّدُّ إلَى كَلَامِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى وَكَلَامِ رَسُولِهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -.

L6190 Ali said: We have clarified that every command of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) remains obligatory until another textual evidence emerges or a conclusively established consensus—not wrongfully asserted—indicates it is recommended. In such cases, we adhere to it. If the Companions (may Allah the Exalted be pleased with them) disagree, the matter is referred back to the Book of Allah the Exalted and the Sunnah of His Messenger (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him).

فَإِنْ قَالُوا: قَدْ وَرَدَ إنْكَارُ الضَّجْعَةِ عَنْ ابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ؟ قُلْنَا: نَعَمْ، وَخَالَفَهُ أَبُو هُرَيْرَةَ، وَمَعَ أَبِي هُرَيْرَةَ سُنَّةُ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - مِنْ أَمْرِهِ وَعَمَلِهِ.

L6191 If they say, "It has been reported that Ibn Masʿūd rejected reclining (al-ḍajʿah)," we say: Yes, but Abū Hurairah differed from him, and with Abū Hurairah is found the Sunnah of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) in the Prophet's directives and actions.

وَإِنْ كَانَ إنْكَارُ ابْنِ مَسْعُودٍ: حُجَّةً عَلَى غَيْرِهِ مِنْ الصَّحَابَةِ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى عَنْهُمْ -: فَقَدْ أَنْكَرَ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ -: وَضْعَ الْأَيْدِي عَلَى الرُّكَبِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ، وَضَرْبَ الْيَدَيْنِ

L6192–6194 If Ibn Masʿūd's rejection—may Allah be pleased with him—constitutes an argument against other Companions—may Allah the Exalted be pleased with them—then he indeed rejected placing the hands on the knees during prayer and struck his hands together disapprovingly against it. He also rejected shortening prayers except during Ḥajj, ʿUmrah, or Jihād. And he disapproved of reciting the Qur'an in a night? Why did you fail to heed his disapproval? Now have you recovered this Sunnah?

L6195 They said: "If lying on one's side were an obligation, it would not have been unknown to Ibn Mas'ud and Ibn Umar?" We replied: "Then why do you not say the same regarding Uthman - may Allah be pleased with him - completing prayers at Mina, and Aisha and Sa'd - may Allah be pleased with them - completing prayers? Say: If shortening prayers were a sunnah, it would not have been unknown to these individuals. Why do you not say: If sitting at the prayer's conclusion were obligatory, it would not have been unknown to Ali ibn Abi Talib - may Allah be pleased with him - when he states: 'When you raise your head from the final prostration in your prayer, your prayer is complete. Then stand if you wish, or sit if you prefer?'" Such examples are exceedingly numerous. This is merely a pretext they resort to when their position becomes untenable, and yet they are the first to abandon it? Success is from Allah, the Exalted.

L6196 If they say: "Then is the prayer invalidated for those among the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—and others who did not recline?" We respond: "The mujtahid is rewarded for praying even if the scriptural text was unclear to him. The ruling applies only to one against whom the proof has been established, yet he persists in obstinacy."

L6197 Then we turn their own argument against them, saying to the Malikis and Shafiʿis: Do you deem the prayer of Ibn Masʿūd and those who concurred with him invalid when he prayed without considering wuḍūʾ obligatory after touching the penis? And we say to the Hanafis: Do you deem the prayer of Ibn ʿUmar and Abū Hurayrah invalid when they were praying while blood issued from the nose of one of them and from a pimple on the other's face, yet they did not perform wuḍūʾ for that reason?

L6198–6200 And we say to all of them: Do you consider the prayers of Uthman, Ali, Talha, al-Zubayr, Ibn Abbas, Ubayy ibn Kaʿb, Abu Ayyub, Zayd, and others—to have been invalid when they held the view that one who engages in intercourse without ejaculation is not obligated to perform the ritual bath, and issued fatwas based on this view? Many such examples exist. This applies to those who had no argument except condemnation—a criticism that rebounds onto them, for they were more vehement in opposition to the Companions than we were. Is this question of theirs as binding upon Abū Hurayrah as it is binding upon us, without any distinction?

L6201 حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ خَالِدٍ ثنا إِبْرَاهِيمُ بْنُ أَحْمَدَ ثنا الْفَرَبْرِيُّ ثنا الْبُخَارِيُّ ثنا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ يَزِيدَ هُوَ الْمُقْرِي - ثنا سَعِيدُ بْنُ أَبِي أَيُّوبَ حَدَّثَنِي أَبُو الْأَسْوَدِ عَنْ عُرْوَةَ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ عَنْ عَائِشَةَ قَالَتْ «كَانَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - إِذَا صَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ اضْطَجَعَ عَلَى شِقِّهِ الْأَيْمَنِ» ؟ .

Abd al-Rahman ibn Abd Allah ibn Khalid narrated to us: Ibrahim ibn Ahmad narrated to us from al-Farbari, who narrated to us from al-Bukhari, who narrated to us from Abdullah ibn Yazid (he is al-Muqri), who narrated to us from Sa'id ibn Abi Ayyub, who narrated to me from Abu al-Aswad, from Urwah ibn al-Zubayr, from Aisha, who said: "When the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—prayed the two rak'ahs of Fajr, he would recline on his right side?"

L6202 قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: رُوِّينَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ حَمَّادِ بْنِ سَلَمَةَ عَنْ ثَابِتٍ الْبُنَانِيِّ: أَنَّ أَبَا مُوسَى الْأَشْعَرِيَّ وَأَصْحَابَهُ كَانُوا إذَا صَلَّوْا رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ اضْطَجَعُوا وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ الْحَجَّاجِ بْنِ الْمِنْهَالِ عَنْ جَرِيرِ بْنِ حَازِمٍ عَنْ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ سِيرِينَ قَالَ: أُنْبِئْت: أَنَّ أَبَا رَافِعٍ، وَأَنَسَ بْنَ مَالِكٍ وَأَبَا مُوسَى، كَانُوا يَضْطَجِعُونَ عَلَى أَيْمَانِهِمْ إذَا صَلَّوْا رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ؟ .

Ali said: It was narrated to us through the chain of Ḥammād ibn Salamah from Thābit al-Bunānī that Abū Mūsā al-Ashʿarī and his companions would lie on their sides when they prayed the two rakʿahs of Fajr. And through the chain of al-Ḥajjāj ibn al-Minhāl from Jarīr ibn Ḥāzim from Muḥammad ibn Sīrīn, he said: It was conveyed to me that Abū Rāfiʿ, Anas ibn Mālik, and Abū Mūsā would lie on their right sides when they prayed the two rakʿahs of Fajr?

L6203 وَمِنْ طَرِيقِ يَحْيَى بْنِ سَعِيدٍ الْقَطَّانِ عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ غِيَاثٍ هُوَ ابْنُ عُثْمَانَ - أَنَّهُ حَدَّثَهُ قَالَ: كَانَ الرَّجُلُ يَجِيءُ وَعُمَرُ بْنُ الْخَطَّابِ يُصَلِّي بِالنَّاسِ الصُّبْحَ فَيُصَلِّي رَكْعَتَيْنِ فِي مُؤَخَّرِ الْمَسْجِدِ وَيَضَعُ جَنْبَهُ فِي الْأَرْضِ وَيَدْخُلُ مَعَهُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ.

And from the transmission of Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān, from ʿUthmān ibn Ghayyāth (who is the son of ʿUthmān), that he narrated to him, saying: A man would arrive while ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb was leading the people in the dawn prayer. The man would pray two rakʿahs at the back of the mosque, place his side on the ground, and join ʿUmar in the prayer.

L6204 وَذَكَرَ عَبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ بْنُ زَيْدٍ فِي " كِتَابِ السَّبْعَةِ " أَنَّهُمْ - يَعْنِي: سَعِيدَ بْنَ الْمُسَيِّبِ، وَالْقَاسِمَ بْنَ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ أَبِي بَكْرٍ، وَعُرْوَةَ بْنِ الزُّبَيْرِ، وَأَبَا بَكْرِ بْنَ عَبْدِ الرَّحْمَنِ، وَخَارِجَةَ بْنَ زَيْدِ بْنِ ثَابِتٍ، وَعُبَيْدَ اللَّهِ بْنَ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عُتْبَةَ، وَسُلَيْمَانَ بْنَ يَسَارٍ -: كَانُوا يَضْطَجِعُونَ عَلَى أَيْمَانِهِمْ بَيْنَ رَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ وَصَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ فَإِنْ عَجَزَ فَقَدْ قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {لا يُكَلِّفُ اللَّهُ

Abd al-Rahman ibn Zayd mentioned in "Kitab al-Sab'ah" that they—meaning Sa'id ibn al-Musayyab, al-Qasim ibn Muhammad ibn Abi Bakr, Urwah ibn al-Zubayr, Abu Bakr ibn Abd al-Rahman, Kharijah ibn Zayd ibn Thabit, Ubayd Allah ibn Abdullah ibn Utbah, and Sulayman ibn Yasar—used to recline on their right sides between the two rak'ahs of Fajr and the obligatory Subh prayer. If one is unable, then Allah the Exalted has said: {Allah does not burden a soul beyond its capacity} [al-Baqarah 2:286], and the Prophet (peace be upon him) said: “When I command you to do something, fulfill it to the best of your ability.”[17]

L6205–6207 The ruling concerning the forgetful person here is the same as that concerning the intentional one, because whoever forgets an obligatory act in the prayer must compensate for it. As for purification, it is incumbent upon him to perform it because he did not fulfill the prayer as commanded, unless a textual evidence exempting him from that is established. Forgetfulness differs from deliberate action in two rulings: the first is the complete absolution from sin here and in every place.

L6208 The second [case]: One who, out of forgetfulness, adds an impermissible action after completing all obligatory acts he was commanded to perform. In this scenario, he has fulfilled his obligation, and the excess performed through forgetfulness becomes invalid - devoid of any legal effect. If he becomes aware [of the error] while time remains to repeat the prayer, he must recline and repeat the obligatory prayer. But if he is unable to do so except after the prayer time has expired, is he then incapable of repeating it due to what we previously established?

L6209 It is not sufficient for him to perform lying down after the prayer, as that is not its proper place. Nor is any action sufficient if performed outside its designated place, beyond its appointed time, or contrary to what was commanded. This is because all such actions deviate from the commanded action under these circumstances. And with Allah, the Most High, is success.

L6210 A case where one missed the Fajr prayer due to forgetfulness or sleep.

L6211 342 - Issue: For one who misses the dawn prayer due to forgetfulness or sleep - even if remembered shortly or long after sunrise - do we hold as our preferred opinion that he should begin with the two rak’ahs of Fajr, then lie down, then perform the dawn prayer?

نَفْسًا إِلا وُسْعَهَا} [البقرة: ٢٨٦] ، وَقَالَ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ -: «إِذَا أَمَرْتُكُمْ بِأَمْرٍ فَأْتُوا مِنْهُ مَا اسْتَطَعْتُمْ» ؟ .

وَحُكْمُ النَّاسِي هَهُنَا كَحُكْمِ الْعَامِدِ، لِأَنَّ مَنْ نَسِيَ عَمَلًا مُفْتَرَضًا مِنْ الصَّلَاةِ وَالطَّهَارَةِ فَعَلَيْهِ أَنْ يَأْتِيَ بِهِ، لِأَنَّهُ لَمْ يَأْتِ بِالصَّلَاةِ كَمَا أُمِرَ، إِلَّا أَنْ يَأْتِيَ نَصٌّ بِسُقُوطِ ذَلِكَ عَنْهُ؟ وَإِنَّمَا يَكُونُ النِّسْيَانُ بِخِلَافِ الْعَمْدِ فِي حُكْمَيْنِ: أَحَدُهُمَا - سُقُوطُ الْإِثْمِ جُمْلَةً هُنَا، وَفِي كُلِّ مَكَانٍ.

وَالثَّانِي -: مَنْ زَادَ عَمَلًا لَا يَجُوزُ لَهُ نَاسِيًا، وَكَانَ قَدْ أَوْفَى جَمِيعَ عَمَلِهِ الَّذِي أُمِرَ بِهِ، فَإِنَّ هَذَا قَدْ عَمِلَ مَا أُمِرَ، وَكَانَ مَا زَادَ بِالنِّسْيَانِ لَغْوًا لَا حُكْمَ لَهُ؟ فَإِنْ أَدْرَكَ إِعَادَةَ الصَّلَاةِ فِي الْوَقْتِ لَزِمَهُ أَنْ يَضْطَجِعَ وَيُعِيدَ الْفَرِيضَةَ، وَإِنْ لَمْ يَقْدِرْ عَلَى ذَلِكَ إِلَّا بَعْدَ خُرُوجِ الْوَقْتِ لَمْ يَقْدِرْ عَلَى الْإِعَادَةِ لِمَا ذَكَرْنَا قَبْلُ؟ .

وَلَا يُجْزِئُهُ أَنْ يَأْتِيَ بِالضَّجْعَةِ بَعْدَ الصَّلَاةِ، لِأَنَّهُ لَيْسَ ذَلِكَ مَوْضِعَهَا، وَلَا يُجْزِئُ عَمَلُ شَيْءٍ فِي غَيْرِ مَكَانِهِ، وَلَا فِي غَيْرِ زَمَانِهِ، وَلَا بِخِلَافِ مَا أُمِرَ بِهِ، لِأَنَّ هَذَا كُلَّهُ هُوَ غَيْرُ الْعَمَلِ الْمَأْمُورِ بِهِ عَلَى هَذِهِ الْأَحْوَالِ -، وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ فَائِتَهُ صَلَاةُ الصُّبْحِ بِنِسْيَانٍ أَوْ بِنَوْمٍ]

٣٤٢ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَمَنْ فَاتَتْهُ صَلَاةُ الصُّبْحِ بِنِسْيَانٍ، أَوْ بِنَوْمٍ؟ فَنَخْتَارُ لَهُ إِذَا ذَكَرَهَا - وَإِنْ بَعْدَ طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ بِقَرِيبٍ أَوْ بَعِيدٍ - أَنْ يَبْدَأَ بِرَكْعَتَيْ الْفَجْرِ ثُمَّ يَضْطَجِعُ، ثُمَّ يَأْتِي بِصَلَاةِ الصُّبْحِ؟

L6212–6213 Is it obligatory upon everyone who neglected a prayer due to sleep or forgetfulness—then remembered it—to move from the place where they were physically present to another place, even if it is a connected space adjacent to that place, as nothing further is required?

وَفَرْضٌ عَلَى كُلِّ مَنْ غَفَلَ عَنْ صَلَاةٍ بِنَوْمٍ، أَوْ بِنِسْيَانٍ؟ ثُمَّ ذَكَرَهَا أَنْ يَزُولَ عَنْ مَكَانِهِ الَّذِي كَانَ بِجِسْمِهِ فِيهِ إِلَى مَكَانٍ آخَرَ، وَلَوْ الْمَكَانَ الْمُتَّصِلَ بِذَلِكَ الْمَكَانِ فَمَا زَادَ؟ .

L6214 Abdullah ibn Rabee' narrated to us: Umar ibn Abd al-Malik narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Bakr narrated to us: Abu Dawud narrated to us: Musa ibn Isma'eel narrated to us: Aban ibn Yazeed al-Attar narrated to us: Ma'mar narrated from az-Zuhri from Sa'eed ibn al-Musayyib from Abu Hurairah in the hadith about the Prophet—peace be upon him—and his companions sleeping through the dawn prayer until the sun rose: that the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—said to them, "Move away from your place where heedlessness befell you." He then ordered Bilal to call the adhan and perform the iqamah, after which he led them in prayer.

L6215 Abdullah ibn Rabi' narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Ishaq the Judge narrated to us; Ibn al-A'rabi narrated to us; Muhammad ibn Isma'il the Goldsmith narrated to us; Abdullah ibn Yazid al-Muqri narrated to us; al-Aswad ibn Shayban narrated to us; Khalid ibn Sumayr narrated to us; Abdullah ibn Rabaah narrated to us: Abu Qatadah al-Ansari said: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—dispatched the army of commanders. We were awakened only by the rising sun. We rose frantic about our prayer. The Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—said: 'Gently, gently until the sun ascends fully.' The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said: 'Whoever among you prays the two Rak'ahs of Fajr, let him perform them.' Those who prayed them stood up, as did those who did not. Then the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—commanded that the call to prayer be proclaimed, so the Adhan was called. The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—stood and led us in prayer," and he mentioned the Hadith. Ali said: If it is objected: "This report does not mention the lying down?" We respond: The narrator may omit it, just as he omits mentioning ablution, or essential elements like the opening Takbir for commencing prayer, the concluding Salam, and similar acts. This report might predate the Prophet's command—peace be upon him—regarding lying down. Not all Sunnahs are mentioned in a single Hadith, nor in a single L6216–6217 Every person who rationalizes regarding the command of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) concerning the call to prayer for a forgotten salah, his command to pray the two rak'ahs of Fajr before the obligatory prayer, and his command (peace and blessings be upon him) to observe deliberation, dispersal, and changing positions—by attributing to the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) what he did not say—has lied against the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him), falsely ascribed to him what he did not utter, and fabricated lies against him without knowledge. Let such a person take their seat in the Fire.

L6218 He mentioned the Adhān for it and prayed two rak'ahs before these: Hammād from Thābit from 'Abdullāh ibn Rabāḥ from Abū Qatādah? If it is said: Some versions of this report narrate that he, peace be upon him, then told them, "Whoever among you catches the morning prayer, let him make it up along with another like it"? We say: Yes, this wording has been reported, and it has also been reported: "Let one of you pray it during the morning at its appointed time"?

وَقَدْ ذَكَرَ الْأَذَانَ لَهَا وَصَلَّى رَكْعَتَيْنِ قَبْلَهُمَا -: حَمَّادٌ عَنْ ثَابِتٍ عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ رَبَاحٍ عَنْ أَبِي قَتَادَةَ؟ فَإِنْ قِيلَ: قَدْ رُوِيَ فِي بَعْضِ أَلْفَاظِ هَذَا الْخَبَرِ: أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَالَ لَهُمْ حِينَئِذٍ «مَنْ أَدْرَكَ مِنْكُمْ صَلَاةَ الْغَدَاةِ فَلْيَقْضِ مَعَهَا مِثْلَهَا» ؟ قُلْنَا: نَعَمْ، قَدْ رُوِيَ هَذَا اللَّفْظُ، وَرُوِيَ «لِيُصَلِّهَا أَحَدُكُمْ مِنْ الْغَدَاةِ لِوَقْتِهَا» ؟ .

L6219 It was narrated: "If any of you neglects the prayer, let him pray it when he remembers it the next day at its original time?" It was also narrated: "They said: 'O Messenger of Allah, should we make it up at its appointed time tomorrow?' And they said: 'Should we not pray such and such prayers?' He said: 'Would Allah forbid you from riba and then accept it from you?'"

وَرُوِيَ «فَإِذَا سَهَا أَحَدُكُمْ عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ فَلْيُصَلِّهَا إذَا ذَكَرَهَا وَمِنْ الْغَدِ لِلْوَقْتِ» ؟ ، وَرُوِيَ «أَنَّهُمْ قَالُوا: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ، أَنَقْضِيهَا لِمِيقَاتِهَا مِنْ الْغَدِ؟ وَأَنَّهُمْ قَالُوا: أَلَا نُصَلِّي كَذَا وَكَذَا صَلَاةً قَالَ: لَا يَنْهَاكُمْ اللَّهُ عَنْ الرِّبَا وَيَقْبَلُهُ مِنْكُمْ» .

L6220–6222 All of this is correct and consistent in meaning; however, what causes confusion among these words is "Whoever among you catches up with". As for the question, "Should he make up along with the dawn prayer its equivalent?" If delayed, there is no issue with it, because the pronoun—in the Arabic language—refers back to "the dawn," not to the prayer. That is: he should make up along with the dawn a prayer equivalent to this prayer he [normally] performs, without any addition to it—meaning he should fulfill the prayer obligation upon him equivalent to what he performed daily. Thus, all expressions unanimously agree upon a single meaning; no other interpretation is permissible. And success is from Allah, the Exalted.

وَكُلُّ هَذَا صَحِيحٌ وَمُتَّفِقُ الْمَعْنَى؛ وَإِنَّمَا يُشْكِلُ مِنْ هَذِهِ الْأَلْفَاظِ «مَنْ أَدْرَكَ مِنْكُمْ صَلَاةَ الْغَدَاةِ فَلْيَقْضِ مَعَهَا مِثْلَهَا» ؟ ، وَإِذَا تُؤُمِّلَ فَلَا إشْكَالَ فِيهِ؛ لِأَنَّ الضَّمِيرَ - فِي لُغَةِ الْعَرَبِ - رَاجِعٌ إلَى " الْغَدَاةِ " - لَا إلَى الصَّلَاةِ -: أَيْ فَلْيَقْضِ مَعَ الْغَدَاةِ مِثْلَ هَذِهِ

An Issue Regarding the Description of the Prayer and That Without Which It Is Not Valid.

Issue 343: The description of prayer and what is indispensable for its validity. No one's prayer is valid except with pure clothing, a pure body, and in a pure place. Ali said: "We have already mentioned the things one is obligated to avoid; thus whoever prays without avoiding them has not prayed as commanded." We have also mentioned the Messenger of Allah's (peace be upon him) instruction to sweep the place where he prayed, to perfume mosques and keep them clean - due to his saying (peace be upon him), which we shall mention Allah willing with its isnād: "Every pure land has been made for me as a mosque and a means of purification." The Exalted said: "And purify your garments" [Al-Muddaththir 74:4].[18]

And whoever claims that the intended meaning refers to the heart—has restricted the verse to his assertion without evidence. The foundational principle in the language of the Quran's revelation is that garments are what is worn or trodden upon. This meaning cannot be transferred to the heart or accidents except with proof. Does a person exist in any state other than two—there being no third: the state of prayer and the state outside prayer?

Two people do not differ in affirming that there is no restriction upon one who has on their body, clothing, or sitting place something requiring avoidance in a state other than prayer. The discussion is solely about whether this is permissible during prayer or not. When the state other than prayer is exited through certain consensus, no situation remains where the commands of Allah—the Most High—and His Messenger (may Allah's blessings and peace be upon him) must be followed except in prayer. Thus, this becomes an obligation within it (prayer), and success comes from Allah, the Most High.

L6227–6228 Issue: If something that must be avoided comes into contact with his body, clothing, or place of prayer.

L6229 Issue:

L6230 If something requiring avoidance contacts his body, garments, or prayer space after he has pronounced the takbīr while being in a state of purity regarding all that we have mentioned—from what contacts him after that [state of purity]—then if he becomes aware of it: he must remove the garment (even if it leaves him unclothed, provided the cold does not harm him), leave that location, remove the impurity from his body with what he has been commanded to remove it with, continue his prayer, and it suffices him. No obligation beyond this is incumbent upon him.

L6231 If he forgets until he performs an obligatory act during his prayer, the prayer is nullified. He must complete the prayer, perform that act as commanded, then perform the prostration for forgetfulness—even if this occurs after he has said the salutation, provided his ritual purity remains intact. If his purity is invalidated, he must repeat the prayer as soon as he remembers.

L6232 If that affects him only in a part of his prayer that, if omitted, would not invalidate it—such as reciting the surah after Umm al-Quran (i.e., Al-Fatihah), exceeding the required stillness in bowing and prostration, sitting between the two prostrations, rising from bowing, or sitting after the Tashahhud—then his prayer remains complete, requiring only the prostration of forgetfulness. If he intentionally performs what we have mentioned, his prayer becomes invalidated with no distinction [from one who did not pray]. If he is unable to pray except during its prescribed time, it is now confirmed that the forgetful person must repeat it perpetually, in accordance with the Messenger of Allah's statement—peace and blessings be upon him: "Whoever forgets a prayer or sleeps through it, let him pray it when he remembers it."

L6233 The forgetful person is one who knew something and later forgot it. A part of the prayer is a prayer stipulated by the explicit ruling of linguistic principles and necessity.

فَمَنْ أَصَابَ بَدَنَهُ أَوْ ثِيَابَهُ أَوْ مُصَلَّاهُ شَيْءٌ فُرِضَ اجْتِنَابُهُ بَعْدَ أَنْ كَبَّرَ سَالِمًا فِي كُلِّ مَا ذَكَرْنَا مِمَّا أَصَابَهُ بَعْدَ ذَلِكَ -: فَإِنْ عَلِمَ بِذَلِكَ: أَزَالَ الثَّوْبَ - وَإِنْ بَقِيَ عُرْيَانًا - مَا لَمْ يُؤْذِهِ الْبَرْدُ، وَزَالَ عَنْ ذَلِكَ الْمَكَانِ، وَأَزَالَهَا عَنْ بَدَنِهِ بِمَا أُمِرَ أَنْ يُزِيلَهَا بِهِ، وَتَمَادَى عَلَى صَلَاتِهِ وَأَجْزَأَهُ وَلَا شَيْءَ عَلَيْهِ غَيْرُ ذَلِكَ.

فَإِنْ نَسِيَ حَتَّى عَمِلَ عَمَلًا مُفْتَرَضًا عَلَيْهِ مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ أُلْغِيَ، وَأَتَمَّ الصَّلَاةَ، وَأَتَى بِذَلِكَ الْعَمَلِ كَمَا أُمِرَ، ثُمَّ يَسْجُدُ لِلسَّهْوِ، وَإِنْ كَانَ ذَلِكَ بَعْدَ أَنْ سَلَّمَ، مَا لَمْ تُنْتَقَضْ طَهَارَتُهُ؛ فَإِنْ انْتَقَضَتْ أَعَادَ الصَّلَاةَ مَتَى ذَكَرَ.

فَإِنْ لَمْ يُصِبْهُ ذَلِكَ إِلَّا فِي مَكَانٍ مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ لَوْ لَمْ يَأْتِ بِهِ لَمْ تَبْطُلْ بِهِ صَلَاتُهُ مِثْلُ قِرَاءَةِ السُّورَةِ الَّتِي مَعَ أُمِّ الْقُرْآنِ، أَوْ مَا زَادَ عَلَى الطُّمَأْنِينَةِ فِي الرُّكُوعِ وَالسُّجُودِ، وَالْجُلُوسِ بَيْنَ السَّجْدَتَيْنِ، وَالرَّفْعِ مِنْ الرُّكُوعِ، وَالْجُلُوسِ بَعْدَ التَّشَهُّدِ -: فَصَلَاتُهُ تَامَّةٌ، وَلَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ إِلَّا سُجُودُ السَّهْوِ فَقَطْ؟ فَإِنْ تَعَمَّدَ مَا ذَكَرْنَا: بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ، وَكَانَ كَمَنْ لَمْ يُصَلِّ، وَلَا فَرْقَ، لَا يَقْدِرُ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ إِلَّا فِي وَقْتِهَا؟ فَصَحَّ الْآنَ أَنَّ النَّاسِيَ يُعِيدُ أَبَدًا، لِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «مَنْ نَسِيَ صَلَاةً أَوْ نَامَ عَنْهَا فَيُصَلِّهَا إِذَا ذَكَرَهَا» ؟ .

وَالنَّاسِي: هُوَ الَّذِي عَلِمَ الشَّيْءَ ثُمَّ نَسِيَهُ، وَبَعْضُ الصَّلَاةِ: صَلَاةٌ بِنَصِّ حُكْمِ اللُّغَةِ وَالضَّرُورَةِ.

L6234 And such is the ruling regarding one who forgets the ritual purification, forgets to wash some of the required limbs, or forgets to cover their private parts? If they start their prayer in such a state, they must repeat it always.

وَهَكَذَا الْحُكْمُ فِيمَنْ نَسِيَ الطَّهَارَةَ، أَوْ بَعْضَ أَعْضَائِهِ، أَوْ نَسِيَ سَتْرَ عَوْرَتِهِ؟ فَإِنْ ابْتَدَأَ صَلَاتَهُ كَذَلِكَ أَعَادَهَا أَبَدًا.

L6235–6237 It has been established that one who acts intentionally cannot perform prayer except during its prescribed time, and all that we have mentioned regarding this applies equally. As for the ignorant person—meaning one who only becomes aware of a matter requiring avoidance during prayer or after it, such as impurities on their clothes, body, or prayer space that they were unaware of—they must repeat every prayer performed in such a state during its respective time. Likewise, [the ruling applies to] one whose private parts become uncovered without their awareness.

وَصَحَّ: أَنَّ الْعَامِدَ لَا يَقْدِرُ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ إِلَّا فِي وَقْتِهَا، وَكُلُّ مَا ذَكَرْنَا فِي ذَلِكَ سَوَاءٌ وَأَمَّا الْجَاهِلُ: وَهُوَ الَّذِي لَا يَعْلَمُ الشَّيْءَ إِلَّا فِي صَلَاتِهِ أَوْ بَعْدَهَا؟ كَمَنْ كَانَ فِي ثِيَابِهِ، أَوْ بَدَنِهِ، أَوْ فِي مَكَانِهِ -: شَيْءٌ فُرِضَ اجْتِنَابُهُ لَمْ يَعْلَمْ بِهِ؟ فَإِنَّهُ يُعِيدُ كُلَّ مَا صَلَّى كَذَلِكَ فِي الْوَقْتِ كَذَلِكَ وَكَذَلِكَ مَنْ انْكَشَفَتْ عَوْرَتُهُ، وَهُوَ لَا يَرَى.

L6238 Similarly, whoever was ignorant of a prescribed obligation among the obligations of his purification or prayer and later learned it—such a person is required to repeat [the prayer] only within its [original] time period, not after its expiration. The evidence for this is that the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—were in Abyssinia and other lands while prescribed obligations were being revealed, such as the change of the qiblah, the increase in the number of prayers, and other matters. Yet the Prophet—peace be upon him—did not command them to repeat any of this when the rulings reached him, while he commanded the man whom he saw had not completed his prayer to repeat it.

وَكَذَلِكَ مَنْ جَهِلَ فَرْضًا مِنْ فُرُوضِ طَهَارَتِهِ، أَوْ صَلَاتِهِ ثُمَّ عَلِمَهَا -: فَإِنَّ هَؤُلَاءِ لَا إِعَادَةَ عَلَيْهِمْ إِلَّا فِي الْوَقْتِ فَقَطْ، لَا بَعْدَ الْوَقْتِ؟ بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ -: أَنَّ الصَّحَابَةَ - رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ - كَانُوا فِي أَرْضِ الْحَبَشَةِ وَغَيْرِهَا، وَالْفَرَائِضُ تَنْزِلُ، كَتَحْوِيلِ الْقِبْلَةِ، وَالزِّيَادَةِ فِي عَدَدِهَا، وَغَيْرِ ذَلِكَ؟ فَلَمْ يَأْمُرْهُمْ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - بِإِعَادَةِ شَيْءٍ مِنْ ذَلِكَ، إِذْ بَلَغَهُ ذَلِكَ، وَأَمَرَ الَّذِي رَآهُ لَمْ يُتِمَّ صَلَاتَهُ أَنْ يُعِيدَهَا.

L6239 The ruling is as follows: Does one's prayer become valid by fulfilling what they were ignorant of from all that we have mentioned once they learn of it—only as long as the prayer time remains? As for the compelled person or the incapacitated due to illness or necessity—in all that we have mentioned—if the compulsion or necessity ceases after the prayer, does their prayer remain valid? This is based on the saying of Allah's Messenger—may Allah's blessings and peace be upon him: "When I command you to do something, do as much of it as you are able."

فَصَحَّ بِذَلِكَ -: أَنْ يَأْتِيَ بِمَا جَهِلَ مِنْ كُلِّ مَا ذَكَرْنَا إِذَا عَلِمَهُ، مَا دَامَ الْوَقْتُ قَائِمًا فَقَطْ؟ وَأَمَّا الْمُكْرَهُ، وَالْعَاجِزُ، لِعِلَّةٍ أَوْ ضَرُورَةٍ؟ فَإِنَّهُ فِي كُلِّ مَا ذَكَرْنَا -: إِنْ زَالَ الْإِكْرَاهُ، أَوْ الضَّرُورَةُ بَعْدَ الصَّلَاةِ -: فَقَدْ تَمَّتْ صَلَاتُهُ، لِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «إِذَا أَمَرْتُكُمْ بِأَمْرٍ فَأْتُوا مِنْهُ مَا اسْتَطَعْتُمْ» ؟ .

L6240 If that ceases during the prayer, he should continue from where he paused, complete it as he is able, and account for what he performed before being able [to resume]. No prostration of forgetfulness is required in this case—and success is by Allah, the Exalted.

وَإِنْ زَالَ ذَلِكَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ بَنَى عَلَى مَا مَضَى مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ، فَأَتَمَّهَا كَمَا يَقْدِرُ وَاعْتَدَّ بِمَا عَمِلَ مِنْهَا قَبْلَ أَنْ يَقْدِرَ، وَلَا سُجُودَ سَهْوٍ فِي ذَلِكَ -، وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

L6241 The proof of this is what we previously mentioned: If there is an action commanded to be performed, it becomes permissible within prayer - whether extensive or minimal. Since removing what one is obligated to avoid during prayer is itself a commanded action within it, is it then permissible during prayer? As for our statement "even if he remains naked," this is because two obligations have become incumbent upon him: the first being covering his private parts, and the second avoiding what he is commanded to abstain from. He must necessarily fulfill one of the two.

بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ -: مَا ذَكَرْنَاهُ قَبْلُ: إنْ كَانَ عَمَلٌ مَأْمُورٌ بِهِ، فَهُوَ فِيهَا جَائِزٌ - كَثُرَ أَوْ قَلَّ، وَإِزَالَةُ مَا افْتُرِضَ عَلَى الْمَرْءِ اجْتِنَابُهُ فِي الصَّلَاةِ مَأْمُورٌ بِهِ فِيهَا، فَهُوَ جَائِزٌ فِي الصَّلَاةِ؟ وَأَمَّا قَوْلُنَا: وَإِنْ بَقِيَ عُرْيَانًا، فَلِأَنَّهُ قَدْ اجْتَمَعَ عَلَيْهِ فَرْضَانِ -: أَحَدُهُمَا: سَتْرُ الْعَوْرَةِ، وَالثَّانِي: اجْتِنَابُ مَا أُمِرَ بِاجْتِنَابِهِ؟ وَلَا بُدَّ لَهُ مِنْ أَحَدِهِمَا.

L6242 If he prays without avoiding what he was commanded to avoid, he has willfully committed a forbidden act in his prayer; thus, he did not pray as he was commanded, and his prayer is invalid.

فَإِنْ صَلَّى غَيْرَ مُجْتَنِبٍ، لِمَا أُمِرَ بِاجْتِنَابِهِ؟ فَقَدْ تَعَمَّدَ فِي صَلَاتِهِ عَمَلًا مُحَرَّمًا عَلَيْهِ، فَلَمْ يُصَلِّ كَمَا أُمِرَ، فَلَا صَلَاةَ لَهُ؟ .

L6243–6245 And if he does not find a garment, he is instructed to cover himself with something similar to it; then he is unable to cover himself, and there is no blame upon a person for what he is unable to do. Allah, the Most High, said: "Allah does not burden a soul beyond its capacity." [Al-Baqarah: 286][19]

وَإِذَا لَمْ يَجِدْ ثَوْبًا أُمِرَ بِالِاسْتِتَارِ بِمِثْلِهِ، فَهُوَ غَيْرُ قَادِرٍ عَلَى الِاسْتِتَارِ، وَلَا حَرَجَ عَلَى الْمَرْءِ فِيمَا لَا يَقْدِرُ عَلَيْهِ قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: {لا يُكَلِّفُ اللَّهُ نَفْسًا إِلا وُسْعَهَا} [البقرة: ٢٨٦] .

L6246 Allah the Most High said: "He has detailed for you what He has forbidden to you, except that to which you are compelled by necessity" [Al-An'am 6:119]. A person is not compelled by necessity to wear a garment he is able to remove, nor to remain in a place he is able to leave. Yet he is compelled by necessity to be naked if he finds no clothing permissible for him to wear. If he fears the cold, he is then compelled by necessity to use whatever he can to repel the cold from himself; thus, he may pray in it and bears no blame, for it is permissible for him at that point. As for our statement: "If he forgets until he performs an obligatory act within his prayer, he invalidates it, completes the prayer, and performs that act as commanded, even if it is after he has said the salām, provided his ritual purity has not been invalidated."[20]

وَقَالَ تَعَالَى: {وَقَدْ فَصَّلَ لَكُمْ مَا حَرَّمَ عَلَيْكُمْ إِلا مَا اضْطُرِرْتُمْ إِلَيْهِ} [الأنعام: ١١٩] ، وَلَيْسَ الْمَرْءُ مُضْطَرًّا إلَى لِبَاسِ ثَوْبٍ يَقْدِرُ عَلَى خَلْعِهِ، وَلَا إلَى الْبَقَاءِ فِي مَكَانٍ يَقْدِرُ عَلَى مُفَارَقَتِهِ، وَهُوَ مُضْطَرٌّ إلَى التَّعَرِّي إذَا لَمْ يَجِدْ مَا أُبِيحَ لَهُ لِبَاسُهُ، فَإِنْ خَشِيَ الْبَرْدَ فَهُوَ حِينَئِذٍ مُضْطَرٌّ إلَى مَا يَطْرُدُ بِهِ الْبَرْدَ عَنْ نَفْسِهِ، فَيُصَلِّي بِهِ، وَلَا شَيْءَ عَلَيْهِ، لِأَنَّهُ مُبَاحٌ لَهُ حِينَئِذٍ؟ وَأَمَّا قَوْلُنَا: إنْ نَسِيَ حَتَّى عَمِلَ عَمَلًا مُفْتَرَضًا عَلَيْهِ فِي صَلَاتِهِ أَلْغَاهُ، وَأَتَمَّ الصَّلَاةَ وَأَتَى بِذَلِكَ الْعَمَلِ كَمَا أُمِرَ، وَإِنْ كَانَ بَعْدَ أَنْ سَلَّمَ، مَا لَمْ تُنْتَقَضْ طَهَارَتُهُ؟ .

[20] Qur'an references (L6246): Qur'an 6:119 (Al-An'am).

فَلَمَا قَدْ ذَكَرْنَاهُ مِنْ سُقُوطِ مَا نَسِيَهُ الْمَرْءُ فِي صَلَاتِه، وَأَنَّ ذَلِكَ لَا يُبْطِلُ صَلَاتَهُ؟ ، وَلِقَوْلِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {وَلَيْسَ عَلَيْكُمْ جُنَاحٌ فِيمَا أَخْطَأْتُمْ بِهِ وَلَكِنْ مَا تَعَمَّدَتْ قُلُوبُكُمْ} [الأحزاب: ٥] .

L6247 Since we have mentioned that the omission of what one forgets in prayer does not invalidate it—and due to the words of Allah, the Exalted: "There is no sin upon you for what you erred in, but only for what your hearts intended" (Surah Al-Ahzab 33:5).[21] وَلِمَا سَنَذْكُرُهُ مِنْ أَمْرِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «مَنْ سَهَا فِي صَلَاتِه فَزَادَ أَوْ نَقَصَ» بِأَنْ يُتِمَّ صَلَاتَهُ وَيَسْجُدَ لِلسَّهْوِ، وَهَذَا قَدْ زَادَ فِي صَلَاتِهِ سَاهِيًا مَا لَوْ تَعَمَّدَهُ لَبَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ.

L6248 And due to what we will mention of the teachings of the Messenger of Allah—may Allah bless him and grant him peace—regarding "whoever forgets during his prayer and adds or omits," by completing his prayer and performing the prostration for inadvertence; for this person has added forgetfully to his prayer something that, if he had done it intentionally, his prayer would have been invalidated.

وَأَمَّا قَوْلُنَا: إنْ انْتَقَضَتْ طَهَارَتُهُ أَعَادَهَا أَبَدًا مَتَى ذَكَرَ؟ فَلِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - الَّذِي قَدْ ذَكَرْنَاهُ «مَنْ نَامَ عَنْ صَلَاةٍ أَوْ نَسِيَهَا فَلْيُصَلِّهَا إذَا ذَكَرَهَا» ، وَبَعْضُ الصَّلَاةِ صَلَاةٌ عَلَيْهِ فَفَرْضٌ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَهَا، وَأَنْ يَأْتِيَ بِمَا نَسِيَ، وَبِمَا لَا يُجْزِئُ - إذَا مَا نَسِيَ - إلَّا بِهِ، مِنْ وُضُوءٍ أَوْ غُسْلٍ، أَوْ ابْتِدَاءِ الصَّلَاةِ عَلَى تَرْتِيبِهَا، إلَى أَنْ يُتِمَّ مَا نَسِيَ مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ إلَّا بِهِ.

L6249 As for our statement: "If his ritual purity is invalidated, he must renew it every time he remembers"—this is based on the saying of Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him) which we previously mentioned: "Whoever sleeps through a prayer or forgets it, let him pray it when he remembers it." Even part of a prayer constitutes an obligation upon him, thus it is obligatory to perform it, to fulfill what he forgot, and to include what is invalid unless rectified—such as ablution, ritual bath, or beginning the prayer in its prescribed order—until he completes what he forgot of his prayer, for it is only valid through these requirements.

وَأَمَّا قَوْلُنَا: إنْ لَمْ يُصِبْهُ ذَلِكَ إلَّا فِي مَكَانٍ مِنْ صَلَاتِهِ لَوْ تَعَمَّدَ تَرْكَهُ لَمْ تَبْطُلْ صَلَاتُهُ بِذَلِكَ، إلَى آخِرِ كَلَامِنَا، فَلِأَنَّهُ قَدْ وَفَّى جَمِيعَ أَعْمَالِ صَلَاتِهِ سَالِمَةً كَمَا أُمِرَ، وَكَانَتْ تِلْكَ الْأَعْمَالُ الزَّائِدَةَ، وَإِنْ كَانَتْ الصَّلَاةُ جَائِزَةً دُونَهَا -: فَإِنَّهَا فِي جُمْلَةِ الصَّلَاةِ، وَفِي حَالٍ لَوْ تَعَمَّدَ فِيهَا مَا تَبْطُلُ بِهِ الصَّلَاةُ لَبَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ، وَكَانَ مِنْهُ فِيهَا مَا كَانَ نَاسِيًا فَزَادَ فِي صَلَاتِهِ عَمَلًا بِالسَّهْوِ لَا يَجُوزُ لَهُ فَلَيْسَ عَلَيْهِ إلَّا سُجُودُ السَّهْوِ، كَمَا أَمَرَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - مِمَّا سَنَذْكُرُهُ فِي بَابِ سُجُودِ السَّهْوِ إنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى.

L6250–6252 As for our statement: "If that did not occur to him except in a part of his prayer where, had he intentionally omitted it, his prayer would not have been invalidated," as detailed throughout our discourse—this is because he has fulfilled all prayer acts soundly as commanded. These voluntary acts, though the prayer remains valid without them, are nevertheless part of the prayer. If he had intentionally performed invalidating actions during them, his prayer would have been void. Since his action therein resulted from forgetfulness, he added to his prayer. If one performs an act due to forgetfulness that is not permissible for him, he is only required to perform the prostration of forgetfulness, as commanded by the Messenger of Allah, peace and blessings be upon him - part of which we will mention in the chapter on prostration of forgetfulness, Allah, the Exalted, willing.

وَرُوِّينَا عَنْ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - خَلْعَ نَعْلَيْهِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ لِلْقَذَرِ الَّذِي كَانَ فِيهِمَا، وَعَنْ الْحَسَنِ إذَا رَأَيْت فِي ثَوْبِك قَذَرًا فَضَعْهُ عَنْك وَامْضِ فِي صَلَاتِك، وَقَدْ أَجَازَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ، وَمَالِكٌ: غَسْلَ الرُّعَافِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ؟ فَأَمَّا الصَّلَاةُ بِالنَّجَاسَةِ: فَإِنَّ مَالِكًا قَالَ: لَا يُعِيدُ الْعَامِدُ لِذَلِكَ وَالنَّاسِي إلَّا فِي الْوَقْتِ؟ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا خَطَأٌ، لِأَنَّهُ لَا يَخْلُو مِنْ أَنْ يَكُونَ أَدَّى الصَّلَاةَ الَّتِي أُمِرَ بِهَا كَمَا أُمِرَ، أَوْ لَمْ يُؤَدِّهَا كَمَا أُمِرَ، فَإِنْ كَانَ أَدَّاهَا كَمَا أُمِرَ فَلَا يَحِلُّ لَهُ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ فِي يَوْمٍ وَاحِدٍ ظُهْرَيْنِ، وَلَا مَعْنَى لِإِعَادَتِهِ صَلَاةً قَدْ صَلَّاهَا؟ ، وَإِنْ كَانَ لَمْ يُؤَدِّهَا كَمَا أُمِرَ فَمِنْ قَوْلِهِ أَنْ يُصَلِّيَ مَنْ لَمْ يُصَلِّ أَبَدًا، فَظَهَرَ بُطْلَانُ هَذَا الْقَوْلِ؟ .

L6253 It has been narrated to us that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—removed his sandals during prayer due to the filth present in them. Al-Ḥasan said: "If you see filth on your garment, remove it from yourself and continue with your prayer." Abū Ḥanīfah and Mālik permitted washing off blood from a nosebleed during prayer? As for praying with physical impurity: Mālik stated that one who does so intentionally or forgetfully does not repeat the prayer unless it is still within the prayer time? ʿAlī said: "This is erroneous, for either he performed the prayer as commanded, or he did not perform it as commanded. If he performed it as commanded, it would be impermissible for him to pray two noon prayers in a single day. What purpose could there be for repeating a prayer already fulfilled? If he did not perform it as commanded, would this not imply—according to his own reasoning—that it would necessitate that someone who never prayed at all must pray? Thus, the invalidity of this opinion becomes evident."

وَأَيْضًا: فَإِنَّهُ يُقَالُ لَهُمْ: أَخْبِرُونَا عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ الَّتِي تَأْمُرُونَهُ بِأَنْ يَأْتِيَ بِهَا فِي الْوَقْتِ وَلَا تَأْمُرُونَهُ بِهَا بَعْدَ الْوَقْتِ: أَفَرْضٌ هِيَ عِنْدَكُمْ أَمْ نَافِلَةٌ؟ وَلَا سَبِيلَ إلَى قِسْمٍ ثَالِثٍ؟ وَبِأَيِّ نِيَّةٍ يُصَلِّيهَا؟ أَبِنِيَّةِ أَنَّهَا الْفَرْضُ اللَّازِمُ لَهُ فِي ذَلِكَ الْوَقْتِ أَمْ بِنِيَّةِ التَّطَوُّعِ؟ أَمْ بِلَا نِيَّةٍ، لَا لِفَرْضٍ وَلَا لِتَطَوُّعٍ؟ فَإِنْ قُلْتُمْ: هِيَ فَرْضٌ وَلَا يُصَلِّيهَا إلَّا بِنِيَّةِ الْفَرْضِ، فَمِنْ أَصْلِكُمْ الَّذِي لَمْ تَخْتَلِفُوا فِيهِ: أَنَّ الْفَرْضَ يُصَلَّى أَبَدًا، وَلَا يَسْقُطُ بِخُرُوجِ الْوَقْتِ فِيهِ، فَهَذَا تَنَاقُضٌ وَهَدْمٌ لِأَصْلِكُمْ.

L6254 Moreover, it is said to them: Inform us about the prayer you command to be performed within its prescribed time but do not command after its expiration—is it an obligation according to you or a voluntary prayer? There is no third category. With what intention is it prayed? With the intention that it is the obligation incumbent upon him during that time, or with the intention of voluntary worship? Or without any intention—neither for obligation nor voluntary prayer? If you say: It is an obligation, and he can only pray it with the intention of fulfilling an obligation, then according to your established principle—in which there is no disagreement among you—the obligation must always be performed and does not lapse by the expiration of its time. This is a contradiction and a demolition of your foundational principle.

وَإِنْ كَانَتْ تَطَوُّعًا وَتَأْمُرُونَهُ بِأَنْ يَدْخُلَ فِيهَا بِنِيَّةِ التَّطَوُّعِ فَإِنَّ التَّطَوُّعَ لَا يُجْزِئُ بَدَلَ الْفَرْضِ فِي الدُّنْيَا، وَلَا يَحِلُّ لِأَحَدٍ أَنْ يَتَعَمَّدَ تَرْكَ الْفَرْضِ وَيُصَلِّيَ التَّطَوُّعَ عِوَضًا مِنْ الْفَرْضِ، وَلَا يَحِلُّ لِأَحَدٍ أَنْ يُفْتِيَهُ بِذَلِكَ بِلَا خِلَافٍ مِنْ أَحَدٍ، بَلْ هُوَ خُرُوجُ الْكُفْرِ بِلَا شَكٍّ وَإِنْ قُلْتُمْ: لَا يُصَلِّيهَا بِنِيَّةِ فَرْضٍ وَلَا تَطَوُّعٍ؟ كَانَ هَذَا بَاطِلًا مُتَيَقَّنًا، لِقَوْلِ النَّبِيِّ

L6255–6257 If it is a voluntary prayer and you instruct him to perform it with the intention of voluntary worship, know that voluntary prayer cannot substitute obligatory prayer in worldly terms. It is unlawful for anyone to intentionally abandon the obligatory prayer and perform voluntary prayer as its replacement. Nor is it permissible for anyone to issue a fatwa permitting this without unanimous disagreement from scholars. Rather, this undeniably constitutes disbelief. If you were to say: "He should not pray it with the intention of either an obligatory or voluntary prayer?"—this would be unquestionably invalid, based on the Prophet's (peace and blessings be upon him) statement: "Actions are judged by intentions, and each person will attain only what they intended." Thus, he has no valid deed, having no intention, and nothing is recorded for him. You have commanded him to do what is invalid and impermissible. As for Al-Shāfiʿī, he stated: "One must always repeat it when missed intentionally or forgetfully." Ali said: "This is erroneous, based on the Messenger of Allah's (peace and blessings be upon him) statement: 'My community is excused for errors, forgetfulness, and what...'" "They were coerced into it, and due to the statement of Allah, the Exalted: 'There is no sin upon you for what you erred in, but only for what your hearts intentionally resolved.' [Al-Aḥzāb 33:5]."[22][23]

- صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «إِنَّمَا الْأَعْمَالُ بِالنِّيَّاتِ وَإِنَّمَا لِكُلِّ امْرِئٍ مَا نَوَى» فَهَذَا لَا عَمَلَ لَهُ، إِذْ لَا نِيَّةَ لَهُ، وَلَا شَيْءَ لَهُ، فَقَدْ أَمَرْتُمُوهُ بِالْبَاطِلِ الَّذِي لَا يَحِلُّ وَأَمَّا الشَّافِعِيُّ فَإِنَّهُ قَالَ: يُعِيدُ أَبَدًا فِي الْعَمْدِ، وَالنِّسْيَانِ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا خَطَأٌ، لِقَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -: «رُفِعَ عَنْ أُمَّتِي الْخَطَأُ وَالنِّسْيَانُ وَمَا اُسْتُكْرِهُوا عَلَيْهِ» ، وَلِقَوْلِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى: {وَلَيْسَ عَلَيْكُمْ جُنَاحٌ فِيمَا أَخْطَأْتُمْ بِهِ وَلَكِنْ مَا تَعَمَّدَتْ قُلُوبُكُمْ} [الأحزاب: ٥] .

L6258 Abu Hanifah said: If impurity exists in the place of one's feet during prayer and exceeds the Baghli dirham—i.e., being impurity—does his prayer invalidate, whether he acted intentionally or forgetfully? If it measures a Baghli dirham or less, his prayer is valid in intentionality and forgetfulness. If the impurity exceeds the Baghli dirham's measure and is located where his hands are placed, where his knees are placed, or aligned with his armpits: his prayer remains valid in intentionality and forgetfulness. Differing opinions are reported from him if the impurity is in the place where his forehead touches down during prostration.

وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: مَنْ كَانَتْ النَّجَاسَةُ فِي مَوْضِعِ قَدَمَيْهِ فِي الصَّلَاةِ وَكَانَتْ أَكْثَرَ مِنْ الدِّرْهَمِ الْبَغْلِيِّ - أَيْ نَجَاسَةً: بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ عَامِدًا كَانَ أَوْ نَاسِيًا؟ فَإِنْ كَانَتْ قَدْرَ الدِّرْهَمِ الْبَغْلِيِّ فَأَقَلَّ، فَصَلَاتُهُ تَامَّةٌ فِي الْعَمْدِ، وَالنِّسْيَانِ؟ فَإِنْ كَانَتْ أَكْثَرَ مِنْ قَدْرِ الدِّرْهَمِ الْبَغْلِيِّ، وَكَانَتْ فِي مَوْضِعِ وَضْعِ يَدَيْهِ، أَوْ فِي مَوْضِعِ وَضْعِ رُكْبَتَيْهِ، أَوْ حِذَاءِ إِبِطَيْهِ: فَصَلَاتُهُ تَامَّةٌ فِي الْعَمْدِ، وَالنِّسْيَانِ وَاخْتُلِفَ عَنْهُ إِذَا كَانَتْ فِي مَوْضِعِ وُقُوعِ جَبْهَتِهِ فِي السُّجُودِ.

L6259 At one time he said: his prayer is complete in intentional [acts] and forgetfulness, and at another time he said: his prayer is invalid in intentional [acts] and forgetfulness. This is the opinion of Zufar.

فَمَرَّةً قَالَ: صَلَاتُهُ تَامَّةٌ فِي الْعَمْدِ، وَالنِّسْيَانِ، وَمَرَّةً قَالَ: صَلَاتُهُ بَاطِلَةٌ فِي الْعَمْدِ، وَالنِّسْيَانِ، وَبِهِ يَقُولُ زُفَرُ.

L6260 Abū Yūsuf similarly stated the same regarding all that we have mentioned, except he said: If it occurred in the place of his prostration, that prostration alone is invalidated—as though he did not perform it. If he performs that prostration while still in prayer, his prayer is complete. But if he does not perform it until he concludes his prayer, his entire prayer is invalidated. Their argument in this matter is weaker than their statement, for they claimed: If one did not place his hands or knees during prostration, it would not harm his prayer at all—contrary to the case of his feet. ʿAlī said: This is arguing for falsehood using the most heinous form of falsehood. It is merely a disregard for prayer. According to one of their two opinions, it would necessitate that his prayer remains valid even if he did not place his forehead on the ground without a valid excuse.

لَمْ يَضُرَّ ذَلِكَ صَلَاتَهُ شَيْئًا بِخِلَافِ قَدَمَيْهِ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا احْتِجَاجٌ لِلْبَاطِلِ بِأَشْنَعَ مَا يَكُونُ مِنْ الْبَاطِلِ وَإِنَّمَا هُوَ اسْتِخْفَافٌ بِالصَّلَاةِ، وَيَلْزَمُ عَلَى أَحَدِ قَوْلَيْهِ أَنْ تَتِمَّ صَلَاتُهُ، وَإِنْ لَمْ يَضَعْ جَبْهَتَهُ بِالْأَرْضِ لِغَيْرِ عُذْرٍ.

L6261 Abu Hanifah said: "Whoever prays while having impurity on his garment exceeding the size of a dirham—except that it is in a covered part of the garment and is not on any part of his body—if the impurity moves during prayer movements like standing, bowing, or prostrating, his prayer is invalidated; otherwise, it is not." And Abu Yusuf said: "A person wearing layered garments is treated as wearing a single garment. If there is impurity on the inner garment exceeding the size of a dirham that does not penetrate to the face, the prayer is invalidated."

قَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: وَمَنْ صَلَّى وَفِي ثَوْبِهِ نَجَاسَةٌ أَكْثَرُ مِنْ قَدْرِ الدِّرْهَمِ إلَّا أَنَّهَا فِي مَوْضِعٍ يُسَجِّيهِ، وَلَيْسَ عَلَى شَيْءٍ مِنْ جِسْمِهِ، فَإِنْ كَانَ إذَا تَحَرَّكَ فِي صَلَاتِهِ لِقِيَامٍ أَوْ رُكُوعٍ أَوْ سُجُودٍ تَحَرَّكَتْ النَّجَاسَةُ -: بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ، وَإِلَّا فَلَا؟ وَقَالَ أَبُو يُوسُفَ: الْمُصَلِّي الْمُبَطَّنُ بِمَنْزِلَةِ ثَوْبٍ وَاحِدٍ، إنْ كَانَ فِي الْبَاطِنَةِ أَكْثَرُ مِنْ قَدْرِ الدِّرْهَمِ غَيْرِ نَافِذَةٍ إلَى الْوَجْهِ بَطَلَتْ الصَّلَاةُ.

L6262–6264 Muhammad said: It is not invalidated, and they are two garments. Abu Muhammad said: These are statements for which one should praise Allah, the Exalted, for being spared from them, and nothing more is needed. Nor do they have any predecessors in any of these matters. Then how astonishing is their statement to those who adhere to the command of Allah the Exalted and the command of His Messenger (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him)—those who acknowledge the authenticity of its transmission and exposition: "Tell us: Who affirmed this before you?" O Muslims! Should the one who adheres to the Quran and the Sunnah—which Muslims have unanimously agreed must be obeyed—be censured until he produces the name of someone who said such a thing? Yet the one who asserts his own opinion—innovating without approval from the Salaf—is not censured, despite such corrupt and contradictory statements as these? Allah suffices us, and He is the best Trustee. All praise is due to Him for guiding us and granting us success?

L6265 A case in which a person is confined in a place containing something they are obliged to avoid on religious grounds and is unable to leave it.

Issue 345: If a person is confined in a place where there is something they are obligated to avoid and cannot leave, being overcome and unable to remove it from their body or clothing, they should pray as they are, and their prayer will be valid.

If the place of his prostration or sitting is such that he cannot find another location, he should pray standing and sit in the closest proximity he can manage to that place without sitting directly upon it. Similarly, he must bring his forehead and nose as close as he is able to that location without placing them upon it. If he intentionally sits upon it or prostrates upon it while capable of avoiding this, does his prayer become nullified? The evidence for this lies in Allah's statement: "Allah does not burden any soul beyond its capacity" (2:286), and the Messenger of Allah's (peace be upon him) saying: "When I command you to do something, fulfill it to the extent of your ability." Thus, it is established that what he cannot perform is excused, while what he can perform remains obligatory upon him. And with Allah, the Exalted, lies all success.[24]

A ruling: Covering the private parts is obligatory to keep from others' sight; in prayer, entirely so.

346 – Issue:

Covering the private parts is obligatory to avoid being seen by an observer, and entirely obligatory during prayer, whether someone is present there or not.

L6272 Whoever exposes his private area to those not permitted to see it—has he not indeed disobeyed Allah, the Exalted? And He, the Exalted, said: {Take your adornment at every mosque} [Al-Aʿrāf: 31]. Was it not agreed that this refers to covering the private area?[26]

L6275 Issue: This applies to one who acts intentionally. As for one who cannot find a permissible prayer garment, one who was coerced, or one who forgot: his prayer is valid, according to the statement of Allah, the Exalted: "Allah does not burden any soul beyond its capacity" (Surah Al-Baqarah 2:286).[27]

L6276 And the statement of the Exalted: "There is no blame upon you for what you err in, but only for what your hearts deliberately intend" [Al-Ahzab: 5]; and the saying of Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him): "What is lifted from my nation is error, forgetfulness, and what they are forced to do"—except that the ruling concerning the invalidation of obligatory acts of prayer performed with exposed private parts due to forgetfulness, performing it as commanded, continuing the prayer that was performed with covered private parts, the prostration of forgetfulness for this, the permissibility of praying in such a state where if he omits it his prayer remains valid, and the prostration of forgetfulness for that—is as we stated regarding prayer: one does not avoid what is obligated to be avoided—it is entirely equal; there is absolutely no difference—due to what we previously explained. And success is from Allah, the Exalted.[28]

"Allāhu Akbar") with his ʿawrah uncovered or neglecting to avoid what he is obligated to avoid.

348 - Issue:

If one begins takbīr with their ʿawrah uncovered or without avoiding what they are obligated to avoid—whether intentionally, unintentionally, or ignorantly—their prayer is nonexistent, for they have not entered the prayer as they were commanded, and no part of it is valid from which they could build upon.

Is it not impermissible in prayer to advance a latter [act] over what precedes it in the prescribed order, due to the statement of Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him: "Whoever does a deed not in accordance with our command, it is rejected"?[29]

Issue: The ʿawrah that a man is obligated to cover from the sight of others and during prayer.

Issue 349: The 'awrah (private parts) that must be covered in front of viewers and during prayer consists of the following: For men - only the penis and the anus's ring. The thigh is not part of his 'awrah. For women - her entire body except the face and hands only. Free men, slaves, free women, and female slaves are equal in all these rulings without distinction. Narrated by Abdullah ibn Yusuf from Ahmad ibn Fath, from Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa, from Ahmad ibn Muhammad, from Ahmad ibn Ali, from Ibn al-Hajjaj, from Sa'id ibn Yahya al-Umawi, from his father, from Uthman ibn Hakim ibn Abbad ibn Hunayf al-Ansari, from Abu Umamah ibn Sahl ibn Hunayf. Al-Miswar ibn Makhramah said: "I came forward carrying a heavy stone while wearing a light waistcloth. My waistcloth came loose while I had the stone with me, and I could not prevent it until I placed the stone in its spot. The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said: 'Go back to your waistcloth and pick it up, and do not walk uncovered.' Thus, it was established that retrieving the waistcloth is obligatory (fard)."

L6285–6289 As for the thigh: Abd al-Rahman ibn Abd Allah ibn Khalid narrated to us, saying: Ibrahim ibn Ahmad narrated to us from al-Farbari from al-Bukhari from Yaqub ibn Ibrahim, who said: Ibn Ulayyah - who is Isma'il ibn Ibrahim - narrated to me from Abd al-Aziz ibn Suhayb from Anas ibn Malik: "Allah's Messenger - peace and blessings be upon him - marched against Khaybar. We prayed the dawn prayer there in the faint dawn light. The Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - mounted his ride, and Abu Talhah mounted with me seated behind him. The Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - hastened through the alleyways of Khaybar, and my knee was touching the thigh of the Prophet - peace and blessings be upon him. Then he lifted his waist-wrapper from his thigh until I saw the whiteness of the thigh of the Prophet - peace and blessings be upon him." The remainder of the hadith was mentioned. Ali said: "This confirms that the thigh is not awrah. Had it been awrah, Allah - Exalted and Majestic - would not have exposed it from His Messenger - peace and blessings be upon him - the purified one safeguarded from people during the state of prophethood and messengership. Nor would Anas ibn Malik or anyone else have seen it, for He - Exalted - protected him from exposing awrah even in childhood before prophethood, as Abd Allah ibn Yusuf narrated to us from Ahmad ibn Fath from Abd al-Wahhab ibn Isa from Ahmad ibn Muhammad from Ahmad ibn Ali from Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj from Zuhayr ibn Harb from Rawh ibn Ubada from Zakariyya ibn Ishaq from Amr ibn Dinar, who said: I heard Jabir ibn Abd Allah narrate: 'Allah's Messenger - peace and blessings be upon him - was carrying stones with them for the Kaaba while wearing his waist-wrapper. His uncle al-Abbas said: "O my nephew, loosen your waist-wrapper and place it over your shoulder beneath the stones." He loosened it and placed it over his shoulder, then fell unconscious. After that day, he was never seen uncovered.'" Hammad narrated to us from Ibn Mufarrij from Ibn al-A'rabi from al-Farbari from Abd al-Razzaq from Ibn Jurayj. Amr ibn Dinar informed me that he heard Jabir ibn Abdullah narrating: "When the Kaaba was rebuilt, the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) and Abbas went to carry stones. Abbas said to the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him), 'Place your waistcloth over your neck to protect against the stones.' He did so, then collapsed to the ground, his eyes gazing upward toward the sky.

He then rose and said, 'My waistcloth, my waistcloth!' and they tightened it around him." Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us; Abdul-Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us; Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us; Zuhayr ibn Harb narrated to us; Isma'il ibn Ibrahim—Ibn Ulayyah—narrated to us; Ayyub al-Sikhtiyani narrated from Abu al-Aliyah al-Bara, who said: "Abdullah ibn al-Samit struck my thigh and said, 'I asked Abu Dharr, and he struck my thigh just as I have struck yours, saying: "I asked the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) as you asked me, and he struck my thigh as I have struck yours, saying: 'Pray the prayer at its appointed time. If you catch up with the prayer alongside them, pray again, and do not say, "I have already prayed, so I will not repeat it."'" If the thigh were a private part, the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) would never have touched it with his sanctified hand. Had Abu Dharr considered the thigh a private part, he would not have struck it with his hand—and likewise Abdullah ibn al-Samit and Abu al-Aliyah. No Muslim would deem it permissible to strike a person's genitals over clothing, nor the rim of a person's anus over clothing, nor the body of an unrelated woman over clothing at all. The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) prohibited retaliation for a kas'ah strike—which is striking the buttocks over clothing with the sole of the foot—saying, 'Leave it, for it is disgraceful.' If it is argued, 'The stone caused Musa's (peace be upon him) garment to ride up, making the Children of Israel see he was not castrated...'" We said: Yes, and you have no valid argument in this matter for two reasons. First: In our view, there is no ruling about exposing private parts in the law of Moses—peace be upon him. The same narration states that the Children of Israel used to bathe naked while Moses—peace be upon him—bathed in seclusion. It is not reported that he—peace be upon him—forbade them from bathing naked, though he himself covered out of modesty, just as the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—covered his leg out of modesty before Uthman. A man's leg is not considered a private part by anyone. Second: The narration does not state that they saw Moses' genitalia—which are private—but rather that they saw a physical feature by which they discerned he was free from the defect they had alleged (the swelling). This would be evident to any observer without doubt, without needing to see anything of the genitalia, but merely by observing the area between the thighs being clear. Thus, their reliance on this narration is invalid. If they cite weak reports claiming the thigh is a private part, all such reports are discarded. As for the narration of Juwaybir: It is transmitted by Ibn Jawhar, who is unknown, from unknown narrators, and the chain is interrupted. The narration via ʻAmr ibn Shuʻayb from his father from his grandfather—which is a written document—we have previously addressed in multiple places within this transmission, citing positions they themselves do not uphold. For example, his narration from his father from his grandfather: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—ruled that any child claimed posthumously by heirs after the death of the father to whom he was attributed may be acknowledged if born to a slave woman owned by the father on the day he had intercourse with her. Such a child inherits from the one who claimed him but receives nothing from any inheritance already distributed. If the inheritance has not yet been divided, he receives his share. However, he is not acknowledged if the father to whom he is attributed denied him." Similarly, his narration via this chain states regarding ablution: "Washing each part three times—three times—this is the correct ablution. Whoever exceeds or falls short of this has done wrong and transgressed," and that "the Prophet—peace be upon him—forbade shaving before the Friday prayer."[30]

L6290–6295 A woman has no authority over her property if her husband dies while she remains in his marital bond, and "he (peace be upon him) ruled regarding the sixth permanent eye injury established in its place that it entitles [the claimant] to a third of the diyah (blood money)." Similar rulings are exceedingly numerous. Concerning the thigh being awrah (private part): via the chain of Qabisah ibn Mukhariq—it includes Sulayman ibn Sulayman, Muhammad ibn ʻUqbah, and Jarir ibn Qatan, who are unknown and unrecognized narrators. Through Ibn Jahsh's chain: it includes Abu Kathir, an unknown narrator. Through ʻAli's chain—an interrupted narration: Ibn Jurayj reported it from Habib ibn Abi Thabit without direct hearing. Between them lies an unnamed individual of uncertain identity. Habib ibn Abi Thabit's narration from ʻAsim ibn Damrah likewise lacks direct transmission. Ibn Maʻin stated: Between them is an untrustworthy man. None except Abu Khalid—an unknown and unidentified individual—narrated it from Ibn Jurayj. Through Ibn ʻAbbas's chain: it includes Abu Yahya al-Qattat, a weak narrator. Another chain from Ibn ʻAbbas includes unknown and unrecognized individuals. Through Sufyan al-Thawri's chain: a narration attributed to "The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him)..."—but this is baseless. Even if none of the established evidences we cited existed, it would remain impermissible to conclusively deem a limb awrah—thereby invalidating prayer if uncovered—except with proof from a textual source or consensus.

ʻAbdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us: ʻAbd al-Wahhab ibn ʻIsa narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us: Ahmad ibn ʻAli narrated to us: Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to me: Abu Bakr ibn Ishaq informed me: Saʻid ibn Kathir ibn ʻUfayr narrated to us: ʻAbdullah ibn Wahb narrated from Yunus—that is, Ibn Yazid—from Ibn Shihab, who informed me: ʻAli ibn al-Husayn reported that his father, al-Husayn ibn ʻAli, informed him that ʻAli said: "I owned a mature camel from my share of the spoils on the day of Badr," and he mentioned the hadith. Within it: "Hamzah looked up at the knees of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him), then lifted his gaze further to..." His navel." He mentioned the remainder of the hadith. Had the navel been a private part, Allah would not have permitted Hamza or others to look upon it. We have been narrated through Abu Dawud's chain: Muslim ibn Ibrahim reported to us, Hisham al-Dastuwa'i from Abu al-Zubayr from Jabir, who said: "The Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) was cupped on his upper thigh for a sprain he suffered." Had the upper thigh been a private part, he (peace be upon him) would not have exposed it to the cupper. This chain is one whose like represents the pinnacle of their aspirations. As for us, we suffice with authentic reports even if we do not regard them as authoritative proof - and we seek Allah's refuge from citing in any matter what we do not consider authoritative proof in all matters, whether due to uncritical imitation of precedent or disrespect for the Sacred Law. This position of ours aligns with the majority of early scholars. As narrated through Muhammad ibn al-Muthanna: Sufyan ibn Uyayna from Muhammad ibn al-Munkadir, who heard Sa'id ibn Abd al-Rahman ibn Yarbu' report from Jubayr ibn Huwayrith, who said: "I saw Abu Bakr al-Siddiq standing at Quzaḥ proclaiming: 'O people, attend to the morning prayer!' I distinctly observed his thigh uncovered." Through al-Bukhari's chain: Abdallah ibn Abd al-Wahhab al-Hajabi from Khalid ibn al-Harith from Ibn Awn (Abdallah) from Musa ibn Anas ibn Malik, who recounted concerning the Day of Yamamah [the Battle of Yamamah] and said: Anas came to Thabit ibn Qays ibn al-Shammas, who had exposed his thighs and was applying funeral perfume (ḥanūṭ) in preparation for death. Al-Bukhari said: Hammad narrated it from Thabit from Anas. From the chain of Muhammad ibn Fudayl from Ata ibn al-Sa'ib, he said: I entered upon Abu Ja'far (who is Muhammad ibn Ali ibn al-Husayn ibn Abi Talib) while he was feverish and had uncovered his thighs, and he mentioned the ḥadīth. These are the ones—Abu Bakr among those present at the gathering, Thabit ibn Qays, Anas, and others. This is the opinion of Ibn Abi Dhib, Sufyan al-Thawri, and Abu Sulayman—and this is the position we adopt. As for women, Allah the Exalted says: "And let them not display their adornment except what appears thereof, and let them draw their veils over their bosoms, and not display their adornment except to their husbands" [24:31]—until His statement—"And let them not strike their feet to make known what they conceal of their adornment" [24:31]. Thus, Allah the Exalted commanded them to draw their veils over their bosoms. This is an explicit text mandating the covering of the private area, neck, and chest. It also explicitly permits the uncovering of the face, as no other interpretation is possible at all. His statement, "And let them not strike their feet to make known what they conceal of their adornment" [24:31], explicitly indicates that the feet and calves are among what must be concealed and it is impermissible to expose them. Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us through Ahmad ibn Fath, Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa, Ahmad ibn Muhammad, Ahmad ibn Ali, Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj, Amr al-Naqid, Isa ibn Yunus, Hisham from Hafsah bint Sirin from Umm Atiyyah, who said: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—commanded us to bring out [women] on Eid al-Fitr and Eid al-Adha: adolescent women, menstruating women, and women in seclusion." She said: I asked, "O Messenger of Allah, one of us has no jilbab." He said: "Let her sister clothe her from her own jilbab."[31]

L6296–6299 Ali said: This matter pertains to their wearing of jilbābs (garments covering the entire body) for prayer. In the Arabic language with which the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—addressed us, the jilbāb refers to that which covers the entire body, not merely a portion of it. Thus, what we have stated is textually verified. ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʻAbd Allāh ibn Khālid narrated to us; Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad narrated to us; al-Farbārī narrated to us; al-Bukhārī narrated to us; Musaddad narrated to us; Yaḥyā—who is Ibn Saʻīd al-Qaṭṭān—narrated from Sufyān—who is al-Thawrī—who informed me that ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʻĀbis said: "I heard Ibn ʻAbbās mention that he attended the Eid prayer with the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—and that after praying, the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—delivered a sermon, then approached the women while Bilāl accompanied him. He admonished them, reminded them, and commanded them to give charity. I observed them extending their hands, casting their charity into Bilāl's garment." Thus, Ibn ʻAbbās, in the presence of the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—saw their hands, confirming that a woman's hand and face are not ʻawrah (parts requiring concealment), whereas all other body parts must obligatorily be covered. ʻAbd Allāh ibn Rabīʻ narrated to us; Muḥammad ibn Muʻāwiyah narrated to us; Aḥmad ibn Shuʻayb narrated to us; Sulaymān ibn Sayf narrated to us; Yaʻqūb ibn Ibrāhīm ibn Saʻd ibn Ibrāhīm ibn ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʻAwf narrated to us; my father narrated from Ṣāliḥ ibn Kayṣān from Ibn Shihāb: that Sulaymān ibn Yasār informed him that Ibn ʻAbbās informed him "a woman from Khathʻam sought a religious ruling from the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—during the Farewell Pilgrimage," while al-Faḍl ibn ʻAbbās was seated behind the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him. He mentioned the ḥadīth, which states: "Al-Faḍl began to turn toward her—for she was a beautiful woman—and the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—redirected al-Faḍl's face to the opposite side." Had the face been ʻawrah, necessitating its concealment, the Prophet—peace be upon him—would not have permitted her to uncover it in public, nor would he have instructed her to drape her garment over it. If her face had been veiled, Ibn ʻAbbās could not have discerned whether she was beautiful or otherwise. Thus, all that we have asserted is conclusively validated, and abundant praise belongs to Allah. Concerning the distinction between free women and female slaves, the religion of Allah the Exalted is one, their creation and inherent nature are one. All... This ruling applies equally to free women and slave women until an explicit text emerges distinguishing between them in any matter, at which point adherence becomes obligatory. If one argues that Allah's statement, {And let them not display their adornment except to their husbands} [24:31], indicates He intended only free women, we respond: This is undeniably false, for "baʿl" in Arabic denotes both a spouse and a master. Moreover, slave women may marry, and we have never known them to lack sons, fathers, maternal uncles, or paternal uncles as free women possess. Some who erred in interpreting Allah's statement, {to draw their cloaks over themselves} [33:59], claimed He commanded this solely because immoral men pursued women for lewdness, so free women were ordered to wear cloaks for recognition by the immoral, who would then avoid harassing them. Ali said: We disavow this corrupt interpretation—be it the lapse of a scholar or the slip of a virtuous, rational person, or the fabrication of a lying transgressor—for it implies Allah permitted immoral men to violate the honor of Muslim slave women, an eternal calamity. No two Muslims have ever disputed that the prohibition of unlawful sexual intercourse with a free woman equals that with a slave woman, that the punishment for it is identical, or that harassing a free woman is as forbidden as harassing a slave woman. For this reason and its like, it is obligatory to reject any opinion after Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him) unless substantiated by his authority. L6300–6301 Ali said: It has been narrated to us through the chain of Mālik from Muḥammad ibn Abī Bakr from his mother that she asked Umm Salamah, the Mother of the Believers: “In what [garments] should a woman pray?” She replied: “In a covering tunic that conceals the tops of her feet and a head cover.” From the chain of ʿAbd al-Razzāq through Sufyān al-Thawrī from Jābir from Umm Thawr from her husband Bishr, he said: “Someone asked Ibn ʿAbbās: ’In how many garments should a woman pray?’ He answered: ’In a tunic and a head cover.’” From the chain of ʿAbd al-Razzāq through al-Awzāʿī from Makhūl from someone who asked ʿĀ’ishah, the Mother of the Believers: “In how many garments should a woman pray?” She told him: “Ask ʿAlī ibn Abī Ṭālib, then return to me and inform me.” He went to ʿAlī and asked him, and he replied: “In a head cover and a covering tunic.” He returned to ʿĀ’ishah and informed her. She said: “He told the truth.” From the chain of Muḥammad ibn al-Muthannā: ʿAbd Allāh ibn Idrīs narrated to us: Qābūs ibn Abī Ẓabyān narrated from his father: “A girl whose breasts had begun to develop would appear in public during ʿĀ’ishah’s time. When this was mentioned to ʿĀ’ishah, she said: ’She has not yet menstruated.’ Whoever asserts that they - may Allah be pleased with them - meant free women rather than slave women is lying. There is no distinction between such a liar and one who claims they intended this exclusively for Qurayshī women, or Muḍarī women, or Arab women. All of that is false.” From the chain of Ibn al-Muthannā: Ibn Fuḍayl narrated to us: Khuṣayf narrated: I heard Mujāhid say: “Any woman who prays without covering her hair - Allah does not accept her prayer.”

Razzāq through Ibn Jurayj through Sulaymān ibn Mūsā, who said: "If a woman menstruates, her prayer is not accepted until she covers her head and conceals it." From the chain of ʿAbd al-Razzāq through Ibn Jurayj through ʿAṭāʾ, who said: "When a female slave prays, she covers her head and conceals it with a cloth or khimār, just as they would cover themselves during the time of Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him." Al-Ḥasan would order a female slave when she marries a slave or a free man to cover her head. ʿAlī said: "What was narrated from ʿUmar—may Allah be pleased with him—and others contradicting this was not unknown to us. But no authority supersedes the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him. When the predecessors—may Allah be pleased with them—dispute, it is obligatory to revert to what Allah Almighty has commanded: the Quran and the Sunnah. Neither the Quran nor the Sunnah distinguishes between a free woman and a female slave in prayer. It is astonishing that they disregard ʿUmar's dissent—may Allah be pleased with him—in matters where opposing him is impermissible, where no Companion—may Allah be pleased with them—opposed him, and where the Quran and Sunnah support him—such as his ruling that a pilgrim in iḥrām who kills a rabbit must compensate with a female kid goat, or a spiny-tailed lizard with a male kid goat; his statement that no dowry applies to invalid marriages; his opinion on wiping over the turban; and up to hundreds of rulings. Yet when Abū Ḥanīfah, Mālik, and al-Shāfiʿī oppose him, they reject his stance. But when his reported opinion aligns with theirs, it suddenly becomes an incontestable proof—even if other Companions oppose it, and even if it contradicts the Quran and Sunnah. Yet what is narrated from ʿUmar on this matter pertains to women leaving their homes, not prayer. Thus, their deceptive reliance on ʿUmar's opinion is void."

L6304–6306 It has been narrated from Mālik: If an umm al-walad prays without a head covering, she must repeat it within the time. We have also received a narration from Ibn ʿAbbās regarding And let them not display their adornment except what is apparent from it [al-Nūr: 31]. He said: The palm, the ring, and the face. From Ibn Umar: The face and the two palms. From Anas: The palm and the ring. All these narrations from them are of the utmost authenticity. Similarly, reports from Aisha and other followers confirm this. Ali said: If they argue: "The distinction in prescribed limits between free women and slave women has been established," we respond: "Yes, and likewise between free men and slaves. Why then do you equate free men and slaves regarding what constitutes their awrah in prayer, yet differentiate between free women and slave women concerning their awrah in prayer? Consensus and definitive texts have confirmed that prayer is equally obligatory upon slave women and free women in all rulings - ritual purity, prayer direction, number of bowings, and other matters. How did you arrive at this distinction regarding awrah when they claim to be adherents of analogy? This exemplifies their analogical reasoning—nothing is more flawed nor more feeble, for they neither follow the definitive texts nor comprehend analogy. Success comes solely from Allah, the Exalted."

Ali said: If asked: "Why do you differentiate between one compelled by lack or coercion to pray with exposed awrah, in a place containing what he is obligated to avoid, or with improper clothing or bodily covering—permitting such prayer—versus one who prays in this state forgetfully? Why validate the former?" We respond: The definitive texts establish that any forgotten prayer component invalidates the prayer unless performed. This applies to forgetting ritual purity, the opening takbīr, standing, prostration, bowing, or sitting. Unanimously, substituting sitting for standing, standing for sitting, or bowing for prostration invalidates prayer. The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—commanded those who forget a prayer or sleep through it to perform it. A partially performed prayer is still valid as prayer without dispute. Whoever omits components through forgetfulness has neglected prayer essentials, performing an act that is not valid as prayer. Hence we oblige forgetful persons to make up omissions. We permit prayer under compulsion, overwhelming circumstances, or incapacity based on texts allowing such concessions in cases of genuine inability.[34]

[34] Qur'an references (L6304): Qur'an 24:31 (An-Nur).

L6307–6308 If it is said: “Indeed, the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—entered prayer, and Gabriel—peace be upon him—came to him and informed him that there was filth on his sandals, so he removed them and continued his prayer without interruption,” we respond: Yes, but that act was prohibited for him only when Gabriel—peace be upon him—informed him, not before. Thus, his initial commencement of prayer in that state was permissible. At the end of that hadith, when he concluded, he said words meaning: “When one of you comes to prayer, let him inspect his sandals”—or he said “his khuffs (leather socks)”—“and if he sees anything on them, let him scrub it off and pray in them.” This ruling was introduced after that prayer. Therefore, whoever prays without inspecting his sandals or khuffs, and there is harm on them, has prayed contrary to what he was commanded—and success is from Allah, the Exalted.

He said: “The rulings on awrah vary. If more than the size of a Baghli dirham (a specific coin measurement) of a man’s private part or a woman’s genital area is exposed while they are facing the qiblah at the start of prayer, during bowing, or while standing, their prayer is invalidated. If this amount is exposed while standing, bowing, or prostrating, but they cover it upon exposure, their prayer remains valid. If less than or equal to the size of a Baghli dirham is exposed in any of these situations, whether the exposure is prolonged or brief, it does not invalidate their prayer.”

Abu Hanifa said: “The definition of awrah (concealed body parts) differs. For men, it is between the navel and the knees, and the knee is awrah, but the navel is not. For free women, the entire body is awrah except the face, palms, and feet. For female slaves, it is the same as for men, without distinction: a slave woman, an umm al-walad (mother of a child by her master), or a mudabbara (slave promised eventual freedom) may pray with their heads and entire bodies uncovered except for a waist-wrapper covering only between the navel and the knees, and there is no disapproval in this according to their view.”

L6309–6312 If the thigh of a man, female slave, free woman, their buttocks, their hips, or any of all the limbs of a free woman—such as the chest, stomach, back, hair, or neck—is exposed to the extent of a quarter of the limb or more, the prayer is invalidated according to Abū Ḥanīfa and Muḥammad. If less than a quarter of any of these is exposed, it does not harm the prayer. Abū Yūsuf said: The prayer is not invalidated unless more than half of a limb other than the genitals is exposed. Abū Ḥanīfa said: If a female slave is emancipated during prayer, she must take her headcover, conceal herself, and continue upon what preceded of her prayer. If a man begins prayer naked due to necessity and then finds a garment, his prayer is invalidated, and he must restart it without exception—whether he found the garment at the beginning or end of his prayer, even if he sat for the duration of the tashahhud as long as he did not conclude with the salutation. This is despite his view that if a worshipper sits for the duration of the tashahhud and then nullifies his ablution—whether intentionally or forgetfully—his prayer is complete with no obligation upon him. Thus, the obligation of clothing is greater in his view than urination or defecation. He said: If a follower is jostled until his waistcloth falls and his entire genitals are exposed, yet he remains standing as he is until the imam completes the prayer—that follower's prayer is complete. But if he bows with the imam's bowing or prostrates with his prostration, his prayer is invalidated. ʿAlī said: Is there any remedy or counterargument for these rulings except praising Allah the Exalted for being spared from them? Can the contradictions in these rulings be enumerated without toil? Mālik said: The entire body of a female slave is ʻawrah like that of a free woman, except her hair alone—it is not ʻawrah. If a free woman's hair, chest, or shin is exposed during prayer, she need only repeat it within the prayer time. ʿAlī said: We do not know his opinion regarding the genitals, but we do not observe him requiring repetition for that except within the time. Our prior refutation of his view on repetition within the time in preceding sections of this book suffices, rendering its repetition unnecessary. He makes no distinction between forgetfulness and intentionality in this matter. Al-Shāfiʿī said: If any part of a man's ʻawrah—which is between his navel and knees—or a woman's ʻawrah—which is the entire body of a free woman and a female slave except the female slave's hair and face, and the free woman's face—is exposed... The palms of a woman and a female slave are part of the ʿawrah. If any part of it—whether little or much—becomes exposed, then covering it immediately causes no harm, and the prayer remains valid. But if it remains uncovered for any duration—however little or much—the prayer invalidates. The Issue of Prayer in a State of Nakedness

[مَسْأَلَةُ صَلَاةِ الْعُرَاةِ]

L6314 Issue 350: Those unable to cover their ʿawrah due to injury, forcible stripping, or poverty shall pray as they are in congregational rows behind their imam. They perform bowing, prostration, standing, and lower their gazes. Whoever deliberately gazes at the ʿawrah of a man or a woman impermissible for him during prayer invalidates his prayer. If done forgetfully, his prayer remains valid but requires the prostration of forgetfulness. If he gazes at his wife's ʿawrah: if he intentionally neglects focusing on his prayer for this reason, his prayer becomes invalid – just as it would for any other action, with no distinction. If he maintains focus on his prayer, his prayer is complete with no obligation upon him.

The evidence lies in Allah's words: "Allah does not burden any soul beyond its capacity" (2:286) and "He has detailed what He forbade you, except when compelled" (6:119). Since they are not obligated to cover what they cannot conceal, they are commanded to pray as they are able and to lead the prayer in congregation. Thus they are excused from what lies beyond their capability, while remaining accountable for what they can perform, in accordance with the Prophet's injunction (peace be upon him): "When I command you to do something, perform it to the best of your ability."

As for one who deliberately gazes at impermissible ʿawrah during prayer, his prayer is invalidated because he committed an unlawful act within it. He has not prayed as commanded, and whoever fails to pray as ordained has not fulfilled the prayer Allah mandated. The Prophet (peace be upon L6315–6316 If he did that forgetfully, he must perform the prostration of forgetfulness because he added to his prayer unintentionally - an addition that would invalidate it if done deliberately. As for contemplating a private part he is permitted to view, this is among matters where glancing at some of them during prayer is inevitable, with no distinction between one permissible [action] and another. If he intentionally occupies himself with any of these [actions] to the neglect of his prayer, he has disobeyed God Almighty and failed to pray as commanded - and success is from God Almighty.

Abu Hanifa said: Uncovered individuals pray alone while sitting, gesturing for prostration and bowing. If they pray in congregation, it suffices them except that they sit while the imam sits in their midst. Some scholars cited his view that praying standing suffices according to Abu Hanifa and his companions.

Malik said: They pray individually while standing, keeping apart from one another. If in utter darkness, they pray in congregation standing, with their imam positioned before them.

Al-Shafi‘i said: Uncovered individuals pray alone or in congregation while standing, bowing and prostrating, with their imam standing among them. They lower their gazes, men turn their faces away from women, and women turn their faces away from men, with no obligation to repeat the prayer.

Zufar ibn al-Hudhayl said: They pray standing, bowing and prostrating, and nothing else suffices them. Abu Sulayman held the same opinion as ours.

Ali said: The rulings of Abu Hanifa, Malik, and Al-Shafi'i are erroneous, for these opinions either neglect praying in congregation - which is impermissible - or neglect standing, bowing, and prostration - which is invalid - or neglect the imam's right to lead from the front - which is impermissible. Lowering the gaze invalidates all objections they disputed in this legal opinion. Abu Hanifa's rulings are the most contradictory. It is astonishing that despite all this, they fail to conceal all their private parts including thighs and others, when a text has indeed been transmitted supporting our position.

فِي هَذِهِ الْفُتْيَا. وَقَوْلُ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ أَكْثَرُهَا تَنَاقُضًا. وَالْعَجَبُ أَنَّهُمْ بِكُلِّ ذَلِكَ لَا يُوَارُونَ جَمِيعَ عَوْرَاتِهِمْ مِنْ الْأَفْخَاذِ وَغَيْرِهَا، فَكَيْفَ وَالنَّصُّ قَدْ وَرَدَ بِمَا قُلْنَا.

L6317–6318 Hummam narrated to us, Abbas ibn Asbagh narrated to us, Muhammad ibn Abdul-Malik ibn Ayman narrated to us, Muhammad ibn Shadhan narrated to us, Zakariyya ibn Adiyy narrated to us, Ubaydullah ibn Amr—who is Ar-Raqqi—narrated from Abdullah ibn Muhammad ibn Aqil from Sa'id ibn Al-Musayyab from Abu Sa'id Al-Khudri that he heard the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—say: "O assembly of women, when you prostrate, guard your gaze. Do not look at the men's private parts [exposed] due to the tightness of their waist-wraps." Ali said: This is how it is recorded in my book from Hummam. By Allah, the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—did not make any linguistic error. Had it not been possible that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—addressed the women and those with them, such as their young children, we would not have written it except as "lower your gaze." This is explicit proof that the poor among the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—used to pray under the guidance of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—and with him, while lacking garments sufficient to cover their private parts. They did not neglect sitting, bowing, or prostrating. Nevertheless, the obligation to lower the gaze remains binding throughout all these acts. And with Allah alone is success.

L6319 Issue: Facing the direction of the Kaaba with both the face and body is obligatory upon the worshiper, except for one performing voluntary prayer.

L6320–6322 351. Issue: Facing the direction of the Kaaba with the face and body is obligatory upon the worshiper, except for one performing supererogatory prayer while riding an animal. Whoever is overcome by illness, hardship, fear, or compulsion - their prayer suffices them according to their capability, provided they intend to face the Kaaba in all such circumstances. The proof for this is Allah's statement: "So turn your face toward al-Masjid al-Haram. Wherever you are, turn your faces toward it" [Al-Baqarah: 144]. Al-Masjid al-Haram initially referred exclusively to the Kaaba itself, with subsequent expansions added over time. There is no disagreement among any of the scholars that if a person in Makkah - while able to face the Kaaba during prayer - deliberately diverts their face toward parts of al-Masjid al-Haram (whether from its exterior or interior), their prayer is invalid. If they deem this permissible, they become an apostate. We previously mentioned supererogatory prayer while mounted on an animal. As for the sick, the ignorant, the fearful, and the coerced, Allah the Exalted says: "Allah does not burden any soul beyond its capacity" (al-Baqarah 2:286). And the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said: "When I command you with a matter, do of it as much as you are able."[37]

Issue: One who is ignorant of the qiblah must believe whoever informs him from among those with knowledge (of the qiblah).

[مَسْأَلَةُ الْجَاهِلِ بِالْقِبْلَةِ يُصَدِّقُ مَنْ أَخْبَرَهُ مِنْ أَهْلِ الْمَعْرِفَةِ]

352 - Issue: It is obligatory for an uninformed person to accept the direction of the qiblah as affirmed by knowledgeable scholars whom he recognizes as truthful. This is because one who is absent from the qiblah's location has no means to know its direction except through report, and no alternative exists. Moreover, even one present there inevitably cannot recognize that this is the Kaaba except through report. This is among the rulings of the divine law for which we have previously established the proof requiring acceptance of a single credible person's report in such matters.

An issue concerning one who prayed facing a direction other than the qibla despite being capable of ascertaining its correct direction.

Issue 353: Whoever prays facing a direction other than the qiblah while capable of determining its direction—whether intentionally or forgetfully—invalidates their prayer. They must repeat it within the prescribed time if done intentionally, and must repeat it indefinitely if done forgetfully. The proof lies in the fact that both categories are obligated to face the Sacred Mosque during prayer, yet they prayed contrary to what they were commanded. What Allah has prohibited cannot suffice for what He has commanded. We previously cited the evidence regarding the forgetful person. If someone cites the ḥadīth of the people of Qubā' (may Allah be pleased with them), who began prayer facing Jerusalem but received news during prayer that the qiblah had been changed to the Kaaba, whereupon they turned toward the Kaaba while deeming their earlier prayer toward Jerusalem sufficient for that specific prayer—we respond: This is an authentic report, but it holds no argument against us (and all praise is due to Allah). Firstly, it does not establish that the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) knew of this act and approved it. Valid evidence lies solely in the Qur'an, his explicit statements, his actions, or his tacit approval of others' actions by not objecting. It is astonishing how the Mālikīs, who magnify a Companion's differing opinion when it aligns with their school, here contradict the practice of a large group of Companions (may Allah be pleased with them)—among whom no dissenter is known. Ali said: The people of Qubā'—may Allah be pleased with them—were obligated to pray toward Jerusalem. Had they prayed toward the Kaaba, their prayer would have been invalid without disagreement. The sacred law only binds those it has reached, not those it has not reached. Allah the Exalted said: "To warn you thereby and those it reaches" (6:19). There is no doubt among any of the jinn, humans, or angels that the Muslims in the land of Abyssinia or in Mecca among the oppressed persisted in praying toward Jerusalem for a lengthy period—those in Mecca for many days after the revelation mandating the change of qiblah, and those in Abyssinia perhaps for a year or years until the change of qiblah reached them. The obligation only became binding upon them at that point, not before. The obligation to redirect their prayer became incumbent upon the people of Qubā' only when the command reached them, not prior. Thus they transitioned from their original obligation to an abrogating one. This is the undeniable truth, and none may validly depart from it. As for those who received the obligation to change the qiblah to the Kaaba, knew it, were legally accountable for it, and had no excusing impediment—whoever did not pray as commanded has not prayed [at all]. For what Allah has forbidden cannot replace what He has commanded. Abū Ḥanīfa said: If someone outside Mecca prays toward a direction other than the qiblah after striving to ascertain it and only realizes the error after completing the prayer, their prayer suffices. If they pray in darkness while investigating the direction but fail to ask those present, then later learn they faced incorrectly, they must repeat it—this is a flawed distinction, for investigation is itself a form of legal reasoning. Mālik said: If someone realizes they prayed away from the qiblah, they must repeat it if they had entirely turned their back to it. If they realize during prayer, they must stop and restart. If they deviated to the east or west, they need not repeat but continue from where they deviated—another flawed distinction, for the ummah unanimously holds that intentionally deviating from the qiblah invalidates the prayer and constitutes a major sin, whether through turning away or partial deviation. The people of Qubā' had been facing away from the qiblah.[38]

L6329–6332 We do not know of this distinction—which Abū Ḥanīfah and Mālik made—from anyone before them. Al-Shāfiʿī said: "Those unaware of the indicators, the one confined in darkness, and the blind person without a guide should pray in any possible direction and repeat [the prayer] if they later become capable of discerning the qiblah." ʿAlī said: "This is erroneous, for when commanding them to pray, it must either be a prayer that suffices them as Allah the Exalted commanded, or a prayer that does not suffice them which Allah the Exalted did not command. There is no third category. If he ordered them to pray a valid prayer corresponding to what Allah the Exalted commanded, what justification exists for their repeating it? If he ordered them to pray an invalid prayer not commanded by Allah the Exalted, this constitutes a corrupt injunction—neither permissible for the commander to enjoin nor for the commanded to obey." Abū Sulaymān said: "Their prayer suffices in all circumstances, and they resume [the prayer] if they discern the qiblah during it. We have previously clarified this distinction." If someone objects: "It is reported from ʿAbdullāh ibn ʿĀmir ibn Rabīʿah: 'We were with Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—on a dark night when we could not discern the qiblah. Each man prayed facing his own direction. At dawn, we mentioned this to Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—whereupon Allah the Exalted revealed: {So wherever you turn, there is the Face of Allah} [Al-Baqarah: 115].'" And from ʿAṭāʾ via Jābir ibn ʿAbdillāh: "We were on a military expedition when darkness befell us and we could not discern the qiblah. He mentioned that they drew lines in their differing directions. At dawn, we found those lines pointing away from the qiblah. We asked the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—and Allah the Exalted revealed: {So wherever you turn, there is the Face of Allah} [Al-Baqarah: 115]." These two reports are not authentic, for ʿAbdullāh ibn ʿĀmir's narration is only transmitted by ʿĀṣim ibn ʿUbaydillāh. Only ʻAbd al-Malik ibn Abī Sulaymān al-ʻArzamī transmitted the ḥadīth of Jābir via ʻAṭā'—(both ʻĀṣim and ʻAbd al-Malik are discarded). Even if their transmissions were authentic, they would serve as evidence for us, for these individuals acted out of ignorance, and the prayer of an ignorant person remains valid—unlike the case of one who forgets. All success is with Allah, the Exalted.[39]

The Issue of Intention in Ṣalāh

one must formulate the intention by its specific name and toward the Kaaba within oneself before commencing the prayer with the takbeer, continuously connected to the intention of entering the prayer state, with no separation whatsoever between them. If it is a voluntary prayer, one must similarly intend that it is voluntary. Whoever fails to intend in this manner has no valid prayer. The proof for this is the statement of Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him): "Actions are judged by intentions, and every person will have what they intended"—a hadith we previously cited with its chain of transmission. Also, the statement of Allah the Exalted: {They were commanded only to worship Allah, devoting religion sincerely to Him} (98:5). Prayer is an act of worship for Allah the Exalted. If it were permissible to separate the intention from the prayer's commencement by even a minute or an instant, then by analogy, separation by a year or two years would also be permissible. This is invalid. Alternatively, the dissenting jurist would set a time limit based on his own opinion without authorization from Allah the Exalted. If it were permissible for the intention to coincide with the takbeer without preceding it, the initial component of entering the prayer would occur without intention, since the essence of intention is the determination to perform the act—and determination through will necessarily precedes the act. Mālik said: It is permissible to formulate the intention before entering the prayer. Those who uphold this position must define the maximum permissible advance period for the intention, beyond which the prayer becomes invalid; otherwise, they are left in uncertainty. Al-Shāfiʿī said: The intention is only valid if it coincides precisely with the takbeer, neither preceding nor following it. This is incorrect due to the reasoning we have presented. Our position aligns with the view of Dāwūd and Abū Ḥanīfah, except that Abū Ḥanīfah did not permit prayer except with an intention specific to it, yet he allowed wuḍūʾ for prayer without intention—a juristic contradiction.[40] another matter, toward a voluntary prayer, or toward exiting the prayer, he invalidated likewise the obligatory acts of his prayer performed in that state. He resumed upon what he performed with the correct intention, and it sufficed him, after which he performed the prostration of forgetfulness. If this occurred only in an act of his prayer whose omission would not invalidate the prayer, he was required only to perform the prostration of forgetfulness. This is because he fulfilled all the acts commanded in the prayer as ordained by Allah the Exalted, except that he added an act to his prayer out of forgetfulness—an act which, if added intentionally, would invalidate his prayer. In this case, the prostration of forgetfulness becomes obligatory.

A Case Where One's Intention in Prayer Is Diverted, While Forgetful, to Another Matter.

L6338 *Refined Translation: Issue: Commencing the prayer with the takbīr is an obligatory act (farḍ), and the prayer is invalid unless the takbīr is performed.

L6339 356 - Issue: Initiating the prayer with the Takbīr is obligatory, and the prayer is invalid without it. Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Abd Allāh ibn Khālid narrated to us, Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad narrated to us, al-Farbarī narrated to us, al-Bukhārī narrated to us, Musaddad narrated to us, Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān narrated from Ubayd Allāh ibn Umar, who said: Saʿīd al-Maqburī narrated to me from his father from Abū Hurayrah: "The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) entered the mosque, whereupon a man entered and prayed." He mentioned the ḥadīth, which includes: "The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said, 'Repeat your prayer, for you have not prayed.' This occurred three times. The man said, 'By the One who sent you with the truth, I know no better way. Teach me.' The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said, 'When you stand for prayer, utter the Takbīr.'" Thus, he was commanded to perform the opening Takbīr. Whoever omits it has not prayed as commanded, and whoever fails to pray as commanded has not prayed at all, as stated by the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him). Mālik, al-Shāfiʿī, Aḥmad, and Dāwūd uphold the obligation of the Takbīr for initiating prayer. Abū Ḥanīfah said: Any remembrance of Allah the Exalted suffices in place of the Takbīr, such as "Allāhu Aʿẓam" (Allah is Most Great) or similar phrases. He and his followers also permitted this substitution in the call to prayer.

L6340–6341 They did not permit the prayer if initiated with "Allah knows best." This is confusion, a demolition of Islam, and corrupt new religious laws. Ali said: His followers cited as evidence for this practice Allah's statement: {He has succeeded who purifies himself} [Al-A'la:14] {And mentions the name of his Lord and prays} [Al-A'la:15]. Ali said: This verse does not describe the prayer's actions or manner, while the mentioned hadith specifies the prayer's indispensable acts. Thus, the verse cannot be used to object to the hadith. Rather, the verse demonstrates that this remembrance of Allah's name is distinct from the prayer itself, for He said: {then prays} [Al-A'la:15], conjoining prayer to the mention of His name. This confirms the remembrance precedes prayer, like His statement: {Establish prayer for My remembrance} [Ta-Ha:14]. This remembrance of Allah's name is precisely the purpose aimed at Him—glorified and exalted is He—through the intention in performing it for Him.[41]

The Issue of the Takbīr in the Prayer

L6342

L6343 Issue 357: It is valid for takbīr to use the phrases: "Allāhu akbar," "Allāhu al-akbar," "al-Akbaru Allāh," "al-Kabīru Allāh," "Allāhu al-Kabīr," and "al-Raḥmānu akbar" - along with any divine name of Allah the Exalted that we mentioned in magnification. Other expressions are invalid, for the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) instructed: "Then pronounce takbīr." All these formulations constitute valid takbīr, as the term "takbīr" does not apply to other phrases. This is the position of Abū Ḥanīfah, al-Shāfiʿī, and Dāwūd. Mālik held: Only "Allāhu akbar" is valid. This constitutes an unwarranted specification of takbīr without proof. Some have asserted that the narration states: "When you stand for prayer, say: Allāhu akbar." ʿAlī said: This is baseless and never authenticated. Even if we found it authentic, we would وَأَحْمَدُ، وَدَاوُد. وَقَالَ أَبُو حَنِيفَةَ: يُجْزِئُ عَنْ التَّكْبِيرِ ذِكْرُ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى كَيْفَ ذَكَرَ، مِثْلُ " اللَّهُ أَعْظَمُ " وَنَحْوُ ذَلِكَ. وَأَجَازُوا ذَلِكَ أَيْضًا فِي الْأَذَانِ.

٣٥٧ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَيُجْزِئُ فِي التَّكْبِيرِ: اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، وَاَللَّهُ الْأَكْبَرُ، وَالْأَكْبَرُ اللَّهُ، وَالْكَبِيرُ اللَّهُ، وَاَللَّهُ الْكَبِيرُ، وَالرَّحْمَنُ أَكْبَرُ - وَأَيُّ اسْمٍ مِنْ أَسْمَاءِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى ذَكَرْنَا بِالتَّكْبِيرِ. وَلَا يُجْزِئُ غَيْرُ هَذِهِ الْأَلْفَاظِ؛ لِأَنَّ النَّبِيَّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - قَالَ: " فَكَبِّرْ ". وَكُلُّ هَذَا تَكْبِيرٌ، وَلَا يَقَعُ عَلَى غَيْرِ هَذَا لَفْظُ: " التَّكْبِيرِ "؛ وَهَذَا قَوْلُ أَبِي حَنِيفَةَ، وَالشَّافِعِيِّ، وَدَاوُد وَقَالَ مَالِكٌ: لَا يُجْزِئُ إلَّا " اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ " وَهَذَا تَخْصِيصٌ لِلتَّكْبِيرِ بِلَا بُرْهَانٍ، وَقَدْ ادَّعَى بَعْضُهُمْ: أَنَّ فِي الْحَدِيثِ: " إذَا قُمْت إلَى الصَّلَاةِ فَقُلْ: اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ " قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا بَاطِلٌ مَا عُرِفَ قَطُّ، وَلَوْ وَجَدْنَاهُ صَحِيحًا لَقُلْنَا بِهِ. فَإِنْ قَالُوا: بِهَذَا جَرَى عَمَلُ النَّاسِ،

adhere to it. If they argue: "This reflects established practice," we counter: The people's practice only follows wuḍūʾ sequence as in the verse, yet you permit reversing its order. Their practice in wuḍūʾ always included istinshāq and istinthār by the Prophet's directive (peace and blessings be upon him), yet you claim: "Whoever omits these still has complete wuḍūʾ and complete prayer." Their practice always included reciting a sūrah with al-Fātiḥah in Fajr and the first two units of other prayers, yet you state: "Omission of the sūrah does not invalidate prayer." The Ummah's practice always incorporated raising hands with the opening takbīr.

قُلْنَا لَهُمْ: مَا جَرَى عَمَلُ النَّاسِ إِلَّا بِتَرْتِيبِ الْوُضُوءِ كَمَا فِي الْآيَةِ، وَأَنْتُمْ تُجِيزُونَ تَنْكِيسَهُ، وَمَا جَرَى عَمَلُ النَّاسِ قَطُّ فِي الْوُضُوءِ إِلَّا بِالِاسْتِنْشَاقِ وَالِاسْتِنْثَارِ مَعَ صِحَّتِهِ مِنْ أَمْرِ النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ -. وَأَنْتُمْ تَقُولُونَ: مَنْ تَرَكَهَا فَوُضُوءُهُ تَامٌّ وَصَلَاتُهُ تَامَّةٌ، وَمَا جَرَى عَمَلُ النَّاسِ قَطُّ إِلَّا بِقِرَاءَةِ سُورَةٍ مَعَ أُمِّ الْقُرْآنِ فِي الصُّبْحِ وَالْأُولَيَيْنِ مِنْ الصَّلَوَاتِ الْبَوَاقِي، وَأَنْتُمْ تَقُولُونَ: إِنْ تَرَكَ السُّورَةَ فَصَلَاتُهُ تَامَّةٌ. وَمَا جَرَى عَمَلُ الْأُمَّةِ إِلَّا بِرَفْعِ الْيَدَيْنِ مَعَ تَكْبِيرَةِ الْإِحْرَامِ.

L6344–6345 And you say: If he does not raise his hands, his prayer is complete; thus, you regard the practice as authoritative evidence only when you so desire, not when you do not desire—and such cases are exceedingly numerous. And success comes only from Allah, the Exalted.

وَأَنْتُمْ تَقُولُونَ: إِنْ لَمْ يَرْفَعْ يَدَيْهِ فَصَلَاتُهُ تَامَّةٌ، فَتَرَى الْعَمَلَ إِنَّمَا يَكُونُ حُجَّةً إِذَا شِئْتُمْ، لَا إِذَا لَمْ تَشَاءُوا، وَمِثْلُ هَذَا كَثِيرٌ جِدًّا - وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

"The Messenger of Allāh – peace and blessings be upon him – would raise his hands when saying the takbīr until they were aligned with his ears."

Narrated to us by ʿAbd Allāh ibn Rabīʿ, narrated to us ʿUmar ibn ʿAbd al-Malik, narrated to us Muḥammad ibn Bakr, narrated to us Sulaymān ibn al-Ashʿath, narrated to us Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, narrated to us Sufyān – he is Ibn ʿUyaynah – narrated to us al-Zuhrī, narrated to us Sālim ibn ʿAbd Allāh ibn ʿUmar, narrated to us his father: "I saw the Messenger of Allāh – peace and blessings be upon him – when he commenced prayer, raise his hands until they were level with his shoulders." And he mentioned the ḥadīth.

If it is said: "Why do you not obligate – by this very evidence – raising the hands at every raising and lowering as an obligation?" We say: Because it is authentically established that the Messenger of Allāh – peace and blessings be upon him – would raise his hands at every lowering and raising, and that he would not raise them.

Narrated to us by Hummām, narrated to us ʿAbbās ibn Aṣbagh, narrated to us Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Malik ibn Ayman, narrated to us Muḥammad ibn Ismāʿīl al-Ṣāʾigh, narrated to us Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb Abū Khaythamah, narrated to us Wakīʿ, narrated to us Sufyān al-Thawrī, narrated to us ʿĀṣim ibn Kulayb. From Abd al-Rahman ibn al-Aswad from Alqamah ibn Abdullah ibn Mas'ud, who said: "Shall I show you the prayer of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him)?" He then raised his hands during the first takbir and did not repeat it. When it was established that he (peace be upon him) raised his hands at every bowing and rising after the opening takbir but did not raise them at other times, all of that was permissible, not obligatory. It was permissible for us to pray in that manner. If we raise our hands, we are praying as the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) prayed. If we do not raise them, we have still prayed as he (peace be upon him) prayed. We received a narration via Abd al-Razzaq: Ahmad ibn Hanbal narrated to me from al-Walid ibn Muslim, who reported from Zayd ibn Waqid, who said: I heard Nafi', the freed slave of Ibn Umar, saying: "When Ibn Umar saw a person praying without raising his hands during prayer, he would throw pebbles at him and command him to raise his hands." Ali (may Allah be pleased with him) said: "Ibn Umar would not throw pebbles at one who omitted an act that was permissible to omit." It was narrated from al-Awza'i that raising the hands during the opening takbir of prayer is obligatory—and this is the opinion of some of our earlier companions.[42]

L6350 Issue: The Recitation of the Opening [Umm al-Qur'an] in the Prayer

L6351–6353 359 - Issue: The recitation of Umm al-Qur'an (the Opening of the Book) is obligatory in every unit of every prayer, whether one is an imam, a follower, or praying alone (the obligatory and voluntary prayers are the same, and men and women are the same). Narrated to us by ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʻAbd Allāh: Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad narrated to us; al-Farabrī narrated to us; al-Bukhārī narrated to us; ʻAlī ibn ʻAbd Allāh narrated to us; Sufyān ibn ʻUyaynah narrated to us; al-Zuhrī narrated from Maḥmūd ibn al-Rabīʻ from ʻUbādah ibn al-Ṣāmit that the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—said: "There is no prayer for one who does not recite Umm al-Qur'an." If it is asked: "From where do you derive the obligation to recite it in every unit?" We say: Due to what was narrated to us by ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʻAbd Allāh ibn Khālid: Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad narrated to us; al-Farabrī narrated to us; al-Bukhārī narrated to us; Musaddad narrated to us; Yaḥyā ibn Saʻīd al-Qaṭṭān narrated from ʻUbayd Allāh (the son of ʻUmar); Saʻīd al-Maqburī narrated from Abū Hurayrah, who mentioned the ḥadīth of the man whom the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—commanded to repeat his prayer. The man informed him that he did not know anything beyond that, so the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—said to him: "When you stand for prayer, say the takbīr, then recite what is easy for you..." "what is with you of the Quran, then bow until you are at ease in bowing, then rise until you stand upright, then prostrate until you are at ease in prostration, then rise into a sitting position until you are at ease in sitting, then prostrate until you are at ease in prostration, then do this throughout your entire prayer." Thus by this command it became obligatory as an obligation to perform in the remainder of his prayer - in every rakʿah - the like of this.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ قِرَاءَةُ الْمَأْمُومِ خَلْفَ الْإِمَامِ]

360 - Issue: It is not permissible for the follower to recite anything behind the Imam other than the Essence of the Qur'an (Al-Fatihah). As narrated to us by Ḥammām, who narrated from ʿAbd Allāh ibn Muḥammad ibn ʿAlī al-Bājī, who narrated from Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd al-Malik ibn Ayman, who narrated from Aḥmad ibn Salm, who narrated from Abū Thawr Ibrāhīm ibn Khālid, who narrated from Yazīd ibn Hārūn, from Muḥammad ibn Isḥāq, from Makḥūl, from Maḥmūd ibn al-Rabīʿ, from ʿUbādah ibn al-Ṣāmit, who said: "Allah's Messenger (peace be upon him) led us in the dawn prayer. When he finished, he said: 'Do you recite behind me?' We replied: 'Yes, O Messenger of Allah.' He said: 'Do not do so except with the Essence of the Book (Al-Fatihah), for no prayer is valid without it.'" Among those who affirmed the obligation of Al-Fatihah, as we mentioned, are a group of the Salaf. It was narrated to us via ʿAbd al-Razzāq's chain, from Sufyān al-Thawrī, from Sulaymān al-Shaybānī, from Jawwāb, from Yazīd ibn Sharīk, who asked ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb: "Shall I recite behind the Imam?" ʿUmar replied: "Yes." He asked: "Even if you recite, O Commander of the Believers?" ʿUmar said: "Yes, even if you recite." From al-Ḥajjāj ibn al-Minhāl: Abū ʿAwānah narrated to us from Ibrāhīm ibn Muḥammad ibn al-Muntashir, from his father, from ʿAbāyah ibn Raddād, from ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb, who said: "No prayer is permissible or valid except with the Opening of the Book (Al-Fatihah) and another portion alongside it." A man asked him: "O Commander of the Believers, what if I am behind an Imam or alongside an Imam?" He replied: "Recite silently to yourself." From Abū ʿAwānah, from Sulaymān, from Khaythamah, from ʿUmar, who said: "No prayer is valid, or no..." Is a prayer valid in which the Fātiḥah is not recited? From the narration of Waki', from 'Abdullāh ibn 'Awn, from Rajā' ibn Ḥaywah, from Maḥmūd ibn al-Rabī', who said: "I prayed a prayer while 'Ubādah ibn al-Ṣāmit was beside me. He recited the Fātiḥah. When he finished, I said: 'O Abā al-Walīd, did I not hear you recite the Fātiḥah?' He replied: 'Yes, for there is no prayer valid except with it.'" From Waki', from Ismā'īl ibn Abī Khālid, from al-'Ayzar ibn Ḥurayth, from Ibn 'Abbās, who said: "Recite the Fātiḥah behind the Imam." From 'Abd al-Razzāq, from al-Mu'tamir ibn Sulaymān, from Layth, from 'Aṭā', from Ibn 'Abbās, who said: "It is obligatory to recite the Fātiḥah behind the Imam, whether he recites aloud or not." From 'Abd al-Razzāq, from Ibn Jurayj, who informed us from Nāfiʿ: “Ibn ʿUmar never neglected to recite the Mother of the Quran in every rakʿah of the obligatory prayer.” From others as well. From Abū Hurayrah: “Recite it silently to yourself.” From ʿAbd al-Razzāq, from Maʿmar, from al-Zuhrī, from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Hurmuz al-Aʿraj, who heard Abū Saʿīd al-Khudrī say: “Recite the Mother of the Quran in every rakʿah,” or he said: “in every prayer.” From ʿUrwah ibn al-Zubayr likewise. From Muʿādh, from ʿAbdullāh ibn ʿAwn, from Rajāʾ ibn Ḥaywah, who said: “Whether one is behind an Imam who recites aloud or silently, reciting the Fātiḥah remains obligatory.” From Ḥajjāj ibn al-Minhāl, who reported from Abū Hilāl al-Rāsibī, who said: “A neighbor of ours asked al-Ḥasan: ’When I pray behind the Imam on Friday and cannot hear his recitation?’ He replied: ’Recite the Fātiḥah.’ The man asked: ’And a surah?’ He said: ’The Imam suffices you for that.’” From Ḥammād ibn Salamah, from Muḥammad ibn ʿAmr, from Abū Salamah ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAwf. He said: The imam has two pauses; seize the opportunity to recite the Opening of the Book during them—when the imam pronounces the opening magnification upon entering prayer, and when he says, “{and not of those who have gone astray} [Al-Fātiḥah: 7].” The narrations here are exceedingly numerous. Abū Ḥanīfah said: Reciting the Mother of the Quran is not obligatory. If the imam or an individual praying alone recites a verse such as “the Debt Verse” (2:282) or similar instead of the Mother of the Book, it suffices. In his view, recitation is obligatory only in two rak’ahs of the prayer: either the first two, or the last two, or one rak’ah in the first two and one in the last two. The follower does not recite anything at all, whether the imam prays aloud or silently. Mālik said: Reciting the Mother of the Quran is obligatory in the majority of the prayer’s rak’ahs for both the imam and the individual praying alone. If they omit it in a rak’ah, his opinion varies: at times he deemed the rak’ah invalid, requiring it to be repeated, and at times considered the prostration of forgetfulness sufficient. He permitted the follower to recite the Mother of the Quran along with a surah behind the imam when the imam prays silently during the first two rak’ahs of Ẓuhr and ʿAṣr, and to recite only the Mother of the Quran in every rak’ah where the imam prays silently in any prayer. He preferred this for the follower but did not deem it permissible for them to recite anything in rak’ahs where the imam prays aloud. Al-Shāfiʿī, in the latter of his two opinions, concurred with our position—which is also the view of al-Awzāʿī and al-Layth ibn Saʿd. Our companions differed: one group held it obligatory for the follower to recite the Mother of the Quran in every rak'ah—whether the imam prays aloud or silently—while another group restricted this obligation to rak'ahs where the imam prays silently. They unanimously agreed on the obligation of reciting the Mother of the Quran in every rak'ah for the imam and the individual praying alone. ʿAlī said: Those who reject the obligatoriness of the Mother of the Quran cited Allah's decree, "{Recite what is feasible of the Quran} [al-Muzzammil: 20]," and the Prophet's instruction—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—to the man ordered to repeat his prayer: "Recite what is manageable for you of the Quran." ʿAlī said: The ḥadīth of ʿUbādah clarifies this other report, affirming that the obligatory "feasible portion" of the Quran refers exclusively to the Mother of the Quran.[43]

L6360–6367 It is as though those who give precedence to the ḥadīth of ʿUbādah have indeed considered both the Quranic verse and all narrations, for Umm al-Qur'ān constitutes part of what can be easily recited from the Qur'an. Conversely, those who prioritize the Prophet's statement (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) - "Recite whatever you can manage from the Qur'an" - appear to contradict the ḥadīth of ʿUbādah, thereby permitting a prayer the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) nullified. This is impermissible, particularly Abū Ḥanīfah's differentiation between allowing the recitation of a lengthy verse or three verses and prohibiting fewer than that. This is a view not recorded from anyone before him, with no evidence for its validity, contradicting the Qur'an and all transmitted reports. He also held another opinion: that whatever one recites from the Qur'an suffices. Those who argue that a follower should not recite behind an imam audible in recitation cite Allah's words: "When the Qur'an is recited, listen attentively and remain silent" (7:204). ʿAlī remarked: The complete verse refutes their stance, for Allah states: "When the Qur'an is recited, listen attentively and remain silent, so that you may receive mercy. Remember your Lord inwardly with humility and fear, without raising your voice, in the mornings and evenings, and do not be among the heedless" (7:204-205). ʿAlī added: If the beginning of the verse pertains to prayer, then its end also pertains to prayer. If its end does not pertain to prayer, neither does its beginning. The verse solely commands silent remembrance and prohibits audible speech—this being our position. They cited the ḥadīth of Ibn Ukaymah wherein the Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) said: "Why am I contested regarding the Qur'an?"—which includes al-Zuhrī's remark: "Consequently, people ceased reciting during prayers where the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) recited audibly." This ḥadīth is uniquely narrated by Ibn Ukaymah, whom they deemed unknown. Even if authentic, it would not substantiate their argument, for narrations must be harmonized, and it is forbidden to contradict one with another. All statements of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) are entirely truthful, mutually corroborating without contradiction. It is obligatory to accept his words (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) exactly as uttered—neither adding nor omitting anything. Thus, no prayer is valid without reciting Umm al-Qur'ān, and this is indisputable. The Quran—and this is the precise wording of our position, all praise is due to Allah—while whatever is other than this constitutes an addition to the speech of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) or a deficiency from it. They also cited an authentic hadith through Ibn ʿAjlān: "The Imam is appointed to be followed. When he utters the takbīr, utter the takbīr; when he bows, bow; when he rises, rise; when he prostrates, prostrate; when he recites, remain silent; and if he prays seated, then pray all of you in a seated posture." This is a narration regarding which the foremost who should seek forgiveness from Allah the Exalted when it is mentioned are the Ḥanafīs and Mālikīs, for they contradict most of its rulings. They hold that the initial takbīr is to be uttered after the Imam's takbīr— not simultaneously—specifically for commencing the prayer. They further deem all subsequent takbīrs, rising, and lowering to be performed with the Imam, neither preceding nor following him. This opposes the command of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) in this hadith, which states: "If he prays seated, pray seated." They opposed him by adhering to a false, inauthentic narration and an unfounded assumption. It is astonishing that they cite a single ruling from his teachings—for which they lack evidence—while abandoning his other rulings, which it is impermissible to oppose. ʻAlī said: "As for us, we hold it authentic and adhere to it in full, for compiling and arranging the speech of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him), integrating its parts, and adhering to all of it is an obligation permitting no alternative." He (peace and blessings be upon him) also said: "When the Imam recites, remain silent," and "There is no prayer for one who does not recite the Opening Chapter of the Quran." Thus, all these commands necessitate one of two approaches—no third exists: either to interpret "When he recites, remain silent" as excluding the Opening Chapter—as we have stated. The possible aspect of this is to say: There is no prayer for one who does not recite the Mother of the Quran, except if the Imam recites—as some proponents hold. Alternatively, the aspect of this is to say: There is no prayer for one who does not recite the Mother of the Quran, except if the Imam recites aloud—as others maintain. Ali said: Since one of these aspects must necessarily be adopted, none is more valid than another except through proof, not mere assertion. We examined this matter and found the previously mentioned hadith from the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—when he concluded the Fajr prayer, which is an audible prayer. He asked, "Do you recite behind me?" They replied, "Yes, O Messenger of Allah—we do so hastily." He said, "Do not do so except with the Mother of the Quran, for there is no prayer without it." This sufficed in harmonizing his rulings—peace be upon him—leaving no room for anyone to deviate from them. Some raised objections by claiming this is a narration transmitted by Ibn Ishaq, and that Makhūl narrated it once from Mahmud ibn al-Rabiʻ through ʻUbadah, and another time from Nafiʻ ibn Mahmud ibn al-Rabiʻ through ʻUbadah. Ali said: This is without merit, for Muhammad ibn Ishaq is among the Imams. Al-Zuhri affirmed his reliability and preferred him over the scholars of Medina in his time, as did Shu'bah, Sufyan al-Thawri, Sufyan ibn 'Uyaynah, Hammad ibn Zayd, Hammad ibn Salamah, Yazid ibn Harun, Ibrahim ibn Sa'd, 'Abdullah ibn al-Mubarak, and others. Shu'bah said of him: "Muhammad ibn Ishaq is the leader of hadith scholars—he is the Commander of the Faithful in Hadith." It is remarkable that those who disparage him here are the same ones who rely on his unique narration stating that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—reinstated Zaynab to Abu al-'As through the original marriage contract after his Islam. When he narrates what... They presume that if a narration aligns with their taqlīd (following their school), the narrator becomes reliable and his hadith authoritative. But if he reports what contradicts them, he is discredited—"Sufficient for us is Allah, and He is the best Trustee" (3:173). As for Makḥūl's narration of this report once from Maḥmūd and once from Nāfiʿ ibn Maḥmūd, this strengthens the hadith, not weakens it, since both are trustworthy. Even if this report did not exist, the Prophet's (peace be upon him) statement, "When he recites, remain silent," would only necessitate abandoning recitation during his recitation, while the obligation to recite during the Imam's pauses remains. How then [can this hold] when many hadith scholars have rejected the wording "When he recites, remain silent," asserting that Muḥammad ibn Ghaylān erred in transmitting it and that it is not part of the hadith. Ibn Maʿīn and others stated this. ʿAlī said: "As for us, we do not deem a narration by a trustworthy narrator erroneous except with clear proof. However, the basis for action is what we intended—and success is from Allah, the Most High." ʿAlī said: Some argued that the meaning of the Prophet's (peace be upon him) statement, "There is no prayer for one who does not recite the Mother of the Quran," is that the prayer is incomplete, as in "There is no faith for one who lacks Trust." ʿAlī responded: "They have no grounds for this, for if a prayer is incomplete or unperfected, he has no prayer at all, as part of the prayer cannot substitute for the whole. Likewise, one without Trust has no faith, for the Trust is the entire Sharia. Allah says, 'Indeed, We offered the Trust to the heavens, the earth, and the mountains, but they refused to bear it and feared it; yet man undertook it—he is truly unjust and ignorant' (33:72). Thus, indeed, one without Trust has no faith, and one without the Sharia has no religion—this is the apparent meaning of the texts, which it is impermissible to divert." Others ventured to say that the Prophet's (peace be upon him) statement, "There is no prayer for one who does not recite the Mother of the Quran," is merely emphatic. ʿAlī said: "This is a denial of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him)—mere fabrication. L6368–6369 Ali said: There have come weak hadiths, all containing the phrase, "Whoever has an Imam, the Imam's recitation counts as his recitation," and in some of them, "I consider nothing but that the Imam has sufficed for him." All of these are either mursal (hadiths with interrupted chains), narrated by Jabir al-Juʿfi the notorious liar, or from unknown narrators. Even if all were authentic, the Prophet's statement—peace be upon him—"Do not act except with the Opening of the Book," would suffice to reconcile them all. If someone mentions a hadith we narrated through al-Bazzar's chain from Muhammad ibn Bashshar from Abu ʿAmir al-ʿAqadi from Hammam from Qatadah from Abu Nadrah from Abu Saʿd: "The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) commanded us to recite the Opening of the Book and whatever is easy in our prayer"—he (peace be upon him) did not say: "whatever is easy from the Quran." Since he did not specify this, it is understood to refer to the rest of the remembrance. Similarly, we assert the obligation of remembrance during bowing and prostration, and the obligation of the opening takbir.

We have narrated from ʿImran ibn al-Husayn and ʿUthman ibn Abi al-ʿAs: "No prayer is complete except with the Opening of the Book and three verses or more." From Shuʿbah from Ibrahim ibn Muhammad ibn al-Muntashir from ʿAbayah ibn Raddad, who heard ʿUmar ibn al-Khattab say: "No prayer is valid except with two verses alongside the Opening of the Book. If you are behind an Imam, recite silently to yourself." However, contradictory reports have been narrated from ʻUmar ibn al-Khattab and ʻAli ibn Abi Talib. From Hammad ibn Salamah from Yahya ibn Saʻid al-Ansari from Muhammad ibn Ibrahim al-Taymi from Abu Salamah ibn ʻAbd al-Rahman ibn ʻAwf: When ʻUmar led people in Maghrib prayer without reciting, he asked, "Did I not complete the bowing and prostration?" They confirmed this, and he did not repeat the prayer. Through al-Harith's chain from ʻAli: A man came saying, "I prayed without reciting." ʻAli asked, "Did you complete the bowing and prostration?" He replied, "Yes." ʻAli said, "Your prayer is valid. Not everyone is skilled in recitation."

Ali ibn Ahmad said: No proof lies in anyone's opinion after the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him).[45]

L6371 361 – Issue: If someone joins the prayer behind an imam and begins reciting the Mother of the Quran, Surah Al-Fatihah, and the imam bowed before this individual completes it, then the latter must not bow until he finishes its recitation.

L6372–6373 The proof for this is what we have mentioned concerning the obligation of reciting the Quran in every rakʿah, for the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said: "However much I precede you in [the prayer] by bowing, you will catch up with me in it when I rise." We will cite this with its chain of transmission (isnād) in the chapter on the obligation that the congregant must not raise his head before the imam nor simultaneously with him—if Allah, the Exalted, wills.[46]

Imam was in the bowing position (rukūʿ).

Issue 362: If someone arrives while the Imam is bowing, he should bow with him, but that rak'ah is not counted because he did not attain the standing or the recitation. However, he must make it up after the Imam concludes the prayer. If he fears [an error] out of ignorance, he should wait until the Imam raises his head from bowing and then say Allāhu Akbar (takbir). Some said: "If one attains the rak'ah with the Imam, it is counted." They argued with established narrations, but none of these serve as proof for them. These include the saying of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him): "Whoever attains a rak'ah of the prayer has attained the prayer," and his saying (peace be upon him): "Whoever attains a rak'ah of the prayer has attained the prostration." Among them is the ḥadīth of Abū Bakrah: He came while the people were bowing, so he bowed and then walked to the row. When the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) finished the prayer, he said: "Who among you bowed and then came to the row?" Abū Bakrah said: "I did." The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) replied: "May Allah increase you in earnestness, but do not repeat it."

ʿAlī said: As for the Prophet's statement (peace be upon him), "Whoever attains a rak'ah of the prayer has attained the prayer," it is true and is evidence against them, for despite this, one is still required to make up the portion of the prayer he missed—a point on which there is no disagreement. The ḥadīth does not state that attaining the bowing means attaining the standing before bowing. Similarly, his statement (peace be upon him), "Whoever attains a rak'ah of the prayer has attained the prostration," is undoubtedly true, but he did not say that attaining the rak'ah means attaining the standing before the bowing. Thus, no one may attribute to his words (peace be upon him) what is not in them or claim he said what he did not.

As for the ḥadīth of Abū Bakrah, it offers them no proof whatsoever, for it does not state that he was excused from making up that rak'ah. Therefore, their reliance on it is entirely invalid, and praise be to Allah. Since all the narrations they cited are refuted, what is authentically established from the Prophet (peace be upon him) is what ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ narrated from Muḥammad ibn Isḥāq from Ibn al-Aʿrābī from Abū Dāwūd from Abū al-Walīd al-Ṭayālisī from Shuʿbah from... Saʿd ibn Ibrāhīm narrated: Abū Salamah ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān reported from Abū Hurayrah that the Prophet (peace be upon him) said: “Come to prayer with tranquility. Pray what you catch up with, and complete what you have missed.” It is also authentically reported from him (peace be upon him): “Pray what you catch up with, and perfect what you have missed.” Every person of sound mind knows with certainty that whoever catches the imam at the beginning of the second rakʿah has entirely missed the first rakʿah. Whoever catches one prostration of the first rakʿah has missed the standing position, bowing, rising from bowing, one prostration, and sitting. Whoever catches the sitting between the two prostrations has missed the standing position, bowing, rising from bowing, and prostration. Whoever catches the rising from bowing has missed the standing position and bowing. Whoever catches the two prostrations has missed the standing position and bowing. Whoever catches the bowing has missed the standing position and the recitation of Umm al-Qur’ān (the Fātiḥah) - both being obligatory pillars without which prayer remains incomplete. The worshiper is explicitly commanded by the words of Allah’s Messenger (peace be upon him) to complete what he has missed. It is impermissible to exempt any part of this obligation without another explicit textual proof - which does not exist. Those who claim to follow legal analogy (qiyas): how could they differentiate between missing the standing position and missing both the bowing and standing position, requiring completion for one but not the other? They neither applied analogy consistently nor adhered to textual proofs. Some even falsely claimed consensus for their view. This is a lie, for it is reported through Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān from Ibn ʿAjlān from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Hurmuz al-Aʿraj from Abū Hurayrah: “If you approach a congregation while they are bowing, do not pronounce the opening Takbīr (Allāhu Akbar) until you take your place in the row.” It is also narrated from him that the rakʿah (prayer unit) is not valid until one recites the Mother of the Quran (al-Fātiḥah). We narrate through the chain of ʿAbd al-Razzāq, from Sufyān al-Thawrī, from Manṣūr, from Zayd ibn Wahb, who said: “I entered the mosque with Ibn Masʿūd while the imām was bowing. We bowed, then proceeded until we aligned with the row. When the imām concluded, I rose to make up (the missed prayer), but Ibn Masʿūd said: ’You have already caught the rakʿah.’” ʿAlī said: “This affirms the validity of compensation from Zayd ibn Wahb, and he is one of the Companions. If it is objected: ’But Ibn Masʿūd did not hold that view,’ we respond: True—what does that matter? When two Companions disagree, it is obligatory to revert to what Allah the Exalted and His Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him (صلى الله عليه وسلم)—have decreed. It is impermissible to turn to anything else. Thus, Ibn Masʿūd’s opinion is no proof against Zayd, nor is Zayd’s opinion a proof against Ibn Masʿūd. Rather, the statement of Allah’s Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him (صلى الله عليه وسلم)—is the conclusive proof against them both and against all others, human or jinn. This narration does not indicate that Zayd retracted his opinion to adopt Ibn Masʿūd’s view. Even had he retracted, his retraction would not constitute proof. The disagreement between Ibn Masʿūd and him is established.” We narrate through the chain of al-Ḥajjāj ibn al-Minhāl: al-Rabīʿ ibn Ḥabīb narrated to us, saying: “I heard Muḥammad ibn Sīrīn state: ’If you reach a congregation during prayer and catch a takbīr (by which you enter the prayer) and the takbīr for bowing, you have attained that rakʿah. Otherwise, bow and prostrate with them, but do not count that rakʿah.’” ʿAlī said: “We narrate that Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal—may Allah have mercy on him—stated words meaning: ’Whoever claims consensus has lied. How could he assert this when people have already disagreed?’ These are the positions of al-Aṣamm (الأصمّ) and Bishr al-Marīsī (بشر المريسي).” Ali said: Ahmad—may Allah be pleased with him—spoke the truth. Whoever claims consensus in a matter without possessing certainty that it represents the statement of all Muslims without any doubt regarding any of them has lied against the entire Ummah and judged them based on his assumption. The Prophet—peace be upon him—said: “Assumption is the most false of speech.” If it is objected: “This statement of Ibn Masʿūd cannot be attributed to personal opinion,” it is replied to them: “Why did you not say this regarding what we narrated earlier—in the preceding chapter—from ʿUmar—may Allah be pleased with him—who said: ’There is no prayer except with the Fātiḥah and two verses alongside it’?” But arbitrary judgment is easy for one whose speech is not counted as part of his deeds. If it is argued: “This is the majority’s view,” we respond: Allah the Exalted and His Messenger—peace be upon him—never commanded following the majority in any verse or authentic report. As for fabricated hadiths, they are readily produced at all times by those who deem them permissible. If it is said: “He pronounces ’Allāhu Akbar’ standing and then bows, thereby catching the standing position,” we respond: This constitutes another act of disobedience, for neither Allah nor His Messenger—peace be upon him—ever commanded entering prayer in a state differing from that in which the imam is found. Furthermore, compensating for any missed part of the prayer is only valid after the imam concludes with salām—not before.

Ali said: Here exist differing opinions. We mention a portion of them to expose the falsehood of those who claim consensus in this matter. It is narrated through Ḥammād ibn Salamah from al-Ḥajjāj ibn Arṭāʾah from ʿAbdullāh ibn Yazīd al-Nakhaʿī from Zayd ibn Aḥmad from Ibn Masʿūd, who said: “If one of you bows and walks to join the row, the rakʿah is valid if he enters the row before they raise their heads. But if they raise their heads before he reaches the row, it is not counted.” Al-Ḥajjāj said: “This is the established practice.”

It is also narrated from Ḥammād ibn Salamah from Ayyūb al-Sakhtiyānī from Nāfiʿ, the freed slave of Ibn ʿUmar, who said: “Ibn ʿUmar used to [text incomplete].” If one arrives while the congregation is in prostration, he prostrates with them. When they raise their heads, he performs another prostration, but it is not counted. Ayyūb said: “I entered the mosque with Abū Qilābah while they had performed one prostration, so we performed the second prostration with them. When they raised their heads, we performed another prostration. When Abū Qilābah concluded the prayer, he performed the two prostrations of forgetfulness.” Through the same chain to Ḥammād ibn Salamah, from Dāwūd—who is Ibn Abī Hind—from Al-Shaʿbī, who said: “If one reaches another row while they have not raised their heads though the imam has raised his head, he bows and thereby attains [the rakʿah], for the row he is in constitutes his imam. If he comes while the congregation is prostrating, he prostrates with them, but it is not counted.” Through the same chain to Dāwūd ibn Abī Hind, from Abū Al-ʿĀliyah, who said: “If one arrives while they are prostrating, he prostrates with them. When the imam

L6384 A jurisprudential issue: It is obligatory for every person performing prayer to say “I seek refuge in Allah from the accursed Satan” when reciting in prayer.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ فَرْضٌ عَلَى كُلِّ مُصَلٍّ أَنْ يَقُولَ إِذَا قَرَأَ أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنْ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ]

L6385–6387 Issue 363: It is obligatory upon every worshiper to say “I seek refuge with Allah from the accursed Satan” in every rak‘ah, based on Allah’s statement: “So when you recite the Quran, seek refuge with Allah from Satan, the accursed” (16:98). Abū Ḥanīfah and al-Shāfi‘ī held that one seeks refuge before commencing recitation in each rak‘ah, but they did not consider it obligatory. Mālik said: “One does not seek refuge in any obligatory or supererogatory prayer except in the Tarawīḥ prayers during Ramadan. One begins the first night with seeking refuge once and does not repeat it.” ʿAlī remarked: “This is an assertion unsupported by evidence—neither from the Quran, nor from any sound or weak Sunnah, nor any report from the predecessors whatsoever; nor through scholarly consensus, a companion’s view, nor analogical reasoning.” Nor from an opinion with a valid legal basis, for if someone were to assert a practice in this matter, they would be no more entitled than another who asserts a practice contrary to it. As for the statement of Abū Ḥanīfah and al-Shāfiʿī that seeking refuge is not obligatory—this is erroneous, for Allah the Exalted says: {When you recite the Quran, seek refuge in Allah from Satan, the accursed} [16:98]. It is incorrect for Allah the Exalted to issue a command and then for someone to claim—without proof from the Quran or Sunnah—that this command is not obligatory, especially His command to supplicate for refuge from Satan's plotting. This is undeniably obligatory, as avoiding Satan, fleeing from him, and seeking deliverance from him are matters about which no two disagree concerning their obligatory nature. Allah the Exalted then prescribed this for us during Quranic recitation. Some said: "If seeking refuge were obligatory, it would necessitate that everyone who quotes someone mentioning a Quranic verse must inevitably seek refuge." ʿAlī replied: "This argument undermines their position rather than supporting it, for they unanimously agree on the recommended status of seeking refuge during Quranic recitation, yet do not require it when merely quoting another's speech. Thus, it is confirmed that the seeking refuge we differ over—which we deem obligatory and they do not—applies specifically to Quranic recitation as stated in the text, not to casual quotations not intended as Quranic recitation." ʿAlī said: "Only the view of those who obligate seeking refuge as a duty—in Quranic recitation during prayer and outside it, based on the generality of the aforementioned verse—remains valid." Muḥammad ibn Saʿīd ibn Nubāt narrated to us; Aḥmad ibn ʿAwn Allāh narrated to us; Qāsim ibn Aṣbagh narrated to us; Muḥammad ibn Bashshār narrated to us; Muḥammad ibn Jaʿfar narrated to us; Shuʿbah narrated from ʿAmr ibn Murrah from ʿĀṣim al-ʿAnazī from Ibn Jubayr ibn Muṭʿim from his father, who said: "I saw the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings upon him—when he commenced prayer, saying: 'Allah is the Greatest, the Great' three times, 'All praise is due to Allah abundantly' three times, 'Glory be to Allah in the morning and evening. O Allah, I seek refuge in You from Satan—his whispers, his arrogance, and his evil suggestions.'"[48]

Hammam narrated to us: Ibn Mufarrij narrated to us: Ibn al-A'rabi narrated to us: al-Dabari narrated to us: Abd al-Razzaq narrated from Sufyan al-Thawri from Sa'id al-Jurayri: Yazid ibn Abd Allah ibn al-Shikhkhir narrated from Uthman ibn Abi al-As al-Thaqafi, who said: "I said: 'O Messenger of Allah, Satan intervenes between me and my recitation.' The Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—said: 'That is a Satan named Khanzab. When you sense him, seek refuge and spit lightly to your left three times.'" It is narrated to us from Abd al-Rahman ibn Abi Layla, who said: Umar ibn al-Khattab stated: "The Imam silently recites four things: the seeking of refuge, 'In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful,' 'Ameen,' and 'Our Lord, to You is all praise.'" From Abu Hamza from Ibrahim al-Nakha'i from Alqama and al-Aswad, both from Abdullah ibn Mas'ud, who said: "The Imam silently recites three things: the seeking of refuge, 'In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful,' and 'Ameen.'" Through the chain of Abd al-Razzaq from Ibn Jurayj: I asked Nafi', the client of Ibn Umar: "Do you know how Ibn Umar sought refuge?" He replied: "He would say: 'O Allah, I seek refuge in You from the accursed Satan.'" From Sufyan al-Thawri from Mansur ibn al-Mu'tamir from Ibrahim al-Nakha'i, who said: "Five things are silently recited: 'How perfect You are, O Allah, and with Your praise,' the seeking of refuge, 'In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful,' 'Ameen,' and 'O Allah, our Lord, to You is all praise.'" From Hisham ibn Hassan from al-Hasan al-Basri: He would seek refuge once in prayer when commencing it while reciting the Opening of the Book, saying: "I seek refuge in Allah, the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing, from the accursed Satan." Ibn Sirin used to seek refuge in every rak'ah. From Ma'mar from Ibn Tawus from his father: He would seek refuge before reciting the Mother of the Quran. Through the chain of Ma'mar from Ayyub al-Sakhtiyani from Muhammad ibn Sirin: He would seek refuge from... Seeking refuge from Satan in prayer is obligatory before reciting the Mother of the Quran and after reciting it. From Ibn Jurayj, from 'Aṭā', he said: Seeking refuge is obligatory for every recitation on earth whether in prayer or otherwise, and it suffices for you to say: "I seek refuge in Allah from the accursed Satan." Ibn Jurayj said: I asked him: "Is this because of: {When you recite the Quran, seek refuge in Allah from Satan, the accursed} [An-Naḥl 16:98]?" He replied:

"Yes." Sufyān al-Thawrī, al-Awzāʿī, Dawūd, and others hold the opinion of seeking refuge in prayer. ʿAlī said: These are a group of the Companions and the Followers - may Allah be pleased with them - and we know of no opposition among them. They would condemn such a stance if it contradicted their school of thought. ʿAlī said: Whoever adopts the view of Ibn Sīrīn and acts upon it considers seeking refuge a Sunnah before commencing recitation, as it was the practice of Allah's Messenger - peace and blessings be upon him - transmitted by Quranic reciters generation after generation, and an obligation after reciting what constitutes Quranic recitation, even if two words, based on the explicit verse's apparent meaning which mandates seeking refuge after recitation. As for one who finds recitation impossible, seeking refuge becomes obligatory at that time according to the mentioned report. Then, if he recites any part of the Quran, ʿAlī said: However, it is firmly established through the consensus of all Muslim reciters across generations - conveyed to us from the time of Allah's Messenger - peace and blessings be upon him - that beginning with seeking refuge immediately before starting the recitation takes precedence over all that. It is authentically reported from Allah's Messenger - peace and blessings be upon him: "When one of you performs ablution, let him sniff water into his nostrils and then expel it." It is confirmed that he - peace be upon him - did this at the start of his ablution. Success comes only from Allah, the Exalted.[49] an imam or praying individually, they repeat [the omission]. If a follower, they omit the forgotten portion until recalled. When the imam concludes the prayer, the follower rises to complete what was omitted, then performs the prostration of forgetfulness. We have previously established the evidence for this ruling regarding one who forgets an obligatory element in prayer: they must repeat what was omitted and correct what was prayed, as commanded—and with Allah, the Most High, lies all success.

L6395 A legal question regarding a person performing prayer who does not memorize Al-Fatihah.

L6396 Issue 365: If one cannot memorize Umm al-Qur'ān (the Opening Chapter), he should pray and recite whatever portion of the Qur'ān he knows. There is no fixed measure for this, and it suffices him. He must strive to learn Umm al-Qur'ān. If he knows part of it but not all, he recites what he knows—this suffices him—while striving to learn the remainder. If he cannot memorize any part of the Qur'ān, he should pray as he is able: standing, invoking Allah as best he can in his language, bowing, and prostrating until he completes his prayer—and this suffices him. He must strive to learn Umm al-Qur'ān. Some of those who held this opinion said: "He should recite an amount equivalent to seven verses from the Qur'ān or invoke Allah the Exalted an amount equivalent to seven verses." 'Alī said: "This position seeks to compensate for Umm al-Qur'ān, but compensation in prescribed rites is invalid unless established by the Qur'ān or the Sunnah. Neither the Qur'ān nor the Sunnah supports this assertion. Were the analogy of this proponent valid, it would necessitate that one who missed a day of Ramadan must fast a day equal in length to the one omitted—and this is invalid." The proof for our position is Allah's statement: "Allah does not burden a soul beyond its capacity" (2:286), and the Messenger of Allah's (peace be upon him) saying: "When I command you to do something, fulfill it to the best of your ability." Thus, what one is incapable of is waived, while what he can perform remains obligatory. Allah also said: "Recite whatever is feasible of the Qur'ān" (73:20), and the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) instructed a worshiper: "Recite whatever portion of the Qur'ān is manageable for you." We have previously cited this with its chain of transmission.[50]

L6397–6398 Whoever is unable to recite the Mother of the Quran [Sūrah al-Fātiḥah] but can recite other parts of the Quran is excused from it. He must recite whatever portion of the Quran is manageable for him. What suffices for this purpose is any recitation designated as "Quran" - two words (known to be from the Quran) or more. If this meaning [of being Quran] is found in a single word, it suffices for him, as the general scope of "whatever is manageable" encompasses all such cases. And with Allah, the Exalted, is the divine facilitation.

L6399 An issue regarding one who counts "In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful" as a verse from the Quran.

L6400–6402 366. Issue: Whoever recites according to the narration of those among the schools of recitation who count "Bismillāh al-Raḥmān al-Raḥīm" as a verse of the Quran, his prayer is not valid unless he includes the Basmalah. These include: ʿĀṣim ibn Abī al-Najūd, Ḥamzah, al-Kisāʾī, ʿAbdullāh ibn Kathīr, and others among the Companions and Successors—may Allah be pleased with them. Whoever recites according to the narration of those who do not count it as a verse of the Opening Chapter may choose to include or omit the Basmalah. These include: Ibn ʿĀmir, Abū ʿAmr, Yaʿqūb, and in some narrations from Nāfiʿ. Mālik said: A person praying should not recite the Basmalah except during the Tarāwīḥ prayer on the first night of the month. Al-Shāfiʿī said: No prayer is valid without "Bismillāh al-Raḥmān al-Raḥīm." ʿAlī said: They over-relied on evidence invalid for both groups, such as the narration from Anas: "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—Abū Bakr, ʿUmar, and ʿUthmān used to begin their prayer with Alḥamdulillāhi Rabbil ʿĀlamīn, without mentioning Bismillāh al-Raḥmān al-Raḥīm before or after it." A similar narration is reported from Abū Hurayrah. ʿAlī said: None of this serves as proof, for none of these reports includes a prohibition from the Messenger... Regarding the recitation of “In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful” - the Prophet (peace be upon him) did not recite it aloud. However, these narrations conflict with other reports, including what we narrated through Ahmad ibn Hanbal’s chain: Waki‘ narrated to us, saying: Shu‘bah narrated from Qatadah from Anas, who said: “I prayed behind Allah’s Messenger (peace be upon him), Abu Bakr, Umar, and Uthman, and they did not recite aloud ‘In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful.’” We also narrated it as: “They did not recite ‘In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful’ aloud.” This indicates they recited it silently, thereby affirming its obligatory recitation, as do all other narrations.

Ali said: “The correct position is that the authentic texts confirm the obligatory recitation of the Opening of the Quran (Al-Fatihah) as a religious duty. No two Muslims dispute that all these recitations are valid and definitively transmitted to Allah’s Messenger (peace be upon him) from Gabriel (peace be upon him) and ultimately from Allah Almighty through mass transmission. Since all are valid, one may adopt any recitation. Thus, ‘In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful’ is a verse of the Opening in one valid recitation but not in another - akin to the word ‘He’ in His statement in Surah Al-Hadid: {He is the Self-Sufficient, the Praiseworthy} [57:6], and the word ‘from’ in His statement in Surah At-Tawbah: {Beneath which rivers flow} [9:89] near the hundredth verse. Both are included in the two surahs by those who adopt them and excluded by others. Similar textual variations occur in eight instances in the Quran, as detailed in the Book of Recitations, along with numerous verses. Other variations are extensive, such as the added ‘mīm’ in ‘minhā’ in Surah Al-Kahf, in {Ḥā-Mīm} [42:1], {‘Ayn-Sīn-Qāf} [42:2]: {So for what they earned} [42:30], and appended ‘hā’ letters in multiple places like {Yā-Sīn} [36:1]: {And We did not teach him} [36:69].”[51]

In Az-Zukhruf: {What the souls desire} [Az-Zukhruf: 71], and {has not decayed} [Al-Baqarah: 259], and similar instances. The Quran was revealed in seven recitational variants, all of which are true. All this is true, and all this belongs to those variants by the soundness of the certain consensus established on this matter - and success is from Allah, the Most High.[52]

A legal issue: He recited the Mother of the Quran in his prayer translated into a non-Arabic language.

367. Issue: If someone recites the Mother of the Quran or any part of it, or any part of the Quran in his prayer translated into a non-Arabic language, or with Arabic words other than those revealed by Allah the Exalted, intentionally doing so, or intentionally advances or delays a word—his prayer is invalid, and he is a sinner. This is because Allah the Exalted said: "An Arabic Quran" [Yusuf: 2], and what is non-Arabic is not Arabic, thus it is not Quran. Changing the Quran's status distorts Allah's words, and Allah the Exalted condemned people who did this, saying: "They distort words from their places" [An-Nisa: 46]. Abu Hanifah said his prayer suffices him, arguing—as do those who follow him—with Allah's statement: "And indeed, it is in the books of the former peoples" [Ash-Shu'ara: 196]. Ali said: They have no proof in this, because the Quran revealed to us through the tongue of our Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—was not revealed to the former peoples. What is in their books is merely its mention and acknowledgment. Had it been revealed to anyone other than him—peace be upon him—it would not have been a sign or a virtue for him, and no Muslim would say this. Whoever is not proficient in Arabic must invoke Allah the Exalted in his own language, based on Allah's statement: "Allah does not burden a soul beyond its capacity" [Al-Baqarah: 286]. It is not permissible for him to recite the Mother of the Quran or any part of the Quran translated while presenting it as the obligated recitation, because it is not what was obligated upon him, as we mentioned. Thus, he would be falsely ascribing to Allah the Exalted.[53]

L6407 A legal issue: Neither the Imam nor the individual praying alone are required to recite the seeking of refuge (istiʿādha) before the surah recited with the Mother of the Quran (known as Surah Al-Fatihah).

L6408–6410 368. Issue: It is not incumbent upon the Imam or the solitary worshipper to recite the seeking of refuge [taʿawwudh] for the surah that is alongside Umm al-Qur'ān (the Opening Chapter), for they have already sought refuge when they recited. Whoever maintains continuous recitation has sought refuge as commanded. If repeating the seeking of refuge were obligatory, there would be no end to it unless by making a false assertion. If one interrupts the recitation by abandoning it or intends to commence a recitation in... In another rak'ah, he sought refuge in Allah (as he was commanded), and success comes from Allah, the Exalted.

L6411 [Issue: The Bowing in Prayer and the Tranquility Therein]

L6412–6416 Issue 369: Bowing in prayer is obligatory. Maintaining stillness during bowing until all limbs are balanced and one places both hands on the knees is obligatory. There is no valid prayer for whoever intentionally omits any part of this. If omitted forgetfully, the worshipper invalidates that portion, completes their prayer as commanded, then performs the compensatory prostration. Those unable to maintain stillness and balance due to a spinal condition must perform what they can, with inability absolving the remainder. Pronouncing "Allāhu Akbar" when bowing is obligatory. Saying "Subḥāna Rabbi al-ʿAẓīm" during bowing is obligatory. Rising upright after bowing until standing erect is obligatory for those capable. Uttering "Samiʿa Allāhu li-man ḥamidah" upon rising is obligatory for every worshipper—imam, congregant, or individual—without which prayer remains invalid. Congregants must subsequently say “Rabbanā laka al-ḥamd” or “Wa laka al-ḥamd.” This is not obligatory for imams or individuals, though commendable as Sunnah. Responding “Āmīn” when the imam recites “walāḍ-ḍāllīn” (Quran 1:7) is obligatory for congregants. If the imam says it, this becomes commendable Sunnah. Congregants must neither bow, rise, nor prostrate simultaneously with or before the imam, but only after him. Deliberate Quran recitation during bowing or prostration invalidates prayer. If done forgetfully, the invalidated prostration duration is nullified, requiring compensatory prostration. Two prostrations after rising are obligatory. Maintaining stillness within them is obligatory. Pronouncing “Allāhu Akbar” for each prostration is obligatory. Saying “Subḥāna Rabbi al-Aʿlā” during each prostration is obligatory. Placing the forehead, nose, hands, knees, and balls of the feet on a permissible surface is entirely obligatory. Sitting between prostrations is obligatory. Maintaining stillness during this sitting is obligatory. Pronouncing “Allāhu Akbar” for it is obligatory. Not— The prayer of a person is valid even if he intentionally omits something from all these requirements. If he neglects an element due to forgetfulness, he must compensate for that omission and perform it as commanded, then perform the prostration of forgetfulness. If he is unable to perform any part due to ignorance or a valid excuse, that obligation is waived and his prayer is complete. Prostration is invalid unless the forehead and nose are uncovered; it is valid for other limbs to be covered. In every unit of his prayer, he must perform the actions we have described. The proof for this is: the narration transmitted to us by ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʻAbd Allāh ibn Khālid, who narrated to us: Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad al-Balkhī narrated to us, al-Farabrī narrated to us, al-Bukhārī narrated to us, Musaddad narrated to us, Yaḥyā ibn Saʻīd narrated to us, ʻUbayd Allāh ibn ʻUmar narrated to me: Saʻīd al-Maqburī narrated to me from his father from Abū Hurayrah that the Prophet (peace be upon him) entered the mosque, where a man prayed and then came to greet him. The Prophet (peace be upon him) said, 'Verily, the prayer of any one of you is not complete...'" until he completes the ablution as Allah commanded him, washing his face and hands up to the elbows, wiping his head and feet up to the ankles, then proclaiming Allah's greatness, praising Him, and glorifying Him, and reciting from the Quran what Allah has permitted him therein and what is accessible. Then he proclaims Allah's greatness, bows, and places his palms on his knees until his joints settle and relax. Then he says: "Allah hears whoever praises Him," and stands upright until every limb assumes its proper position and his spine straightens. Then he proclaims Allah's greatness, prostrates, and firmly places his forehead on the ground until his joints settle and relax. Then he proclaims Allah's greatness, raises his head, and sits upright properly while straightening his spine. He described prayer in this manner until concluding it. Then he said: "None of your prayers is complete until he does this."[54]

L6418–6420 Abdullah ibn Rabi narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Ishaq narrated to us, Ibn al-A'rabi narrated to us, Abu Dawud narrated to us, Hafs ibn Umar narrated to us, Shu'ba narrated from Sulayman - he is al-A'mash - from Umarah ibn Umayr from Abu Ma'mar from Abu Mas'ud al-Badri, who said: The Messenger of God - may the Exalted God bless him and grant him peace - said: "A man's prayer is not valid until he straightens his back in the bowing and prostration." Abu Hanifah said: "It is valid even if one does not straighten his back in bowing and prostration." Abdullah ibn Rabi narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Mu'awiyah narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Shu'ayb narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Amr ibn al-Sarh and Yunus ibn Abd al-A'la and al-Harith ibn Miskin - recited to him, and the wording is his - all of them from Ibn Wahb from Ibn Jurayj from Abdullah ibn Tawus from his father from Ibn Abbas that the Messenger of God - may the Exalted God bless him and grant him peace - said: "I have been commanded to prostrate upon seven bodily parts and not to gather the hair or garments: the forehead, the nose, the two hands, the two knees, and the two feet." Abu Hanifah said: "If one places his forehead in prostration without placing his nose, hands, or knees, it is sufficient for him." That, and likewise, it suffices for him to place his nose in prostration without placing his forehead, hands, or knees. Abdullah ibn Rabee' narrated from Muhammad ibn Ishaq from Ibn Al-A'raabi from Abu Dawud from Ahmad ibn Hanbal from Yahya ibn Sa'eed Al-Qattan from Hisham—Ad-Dastuwa'i—from Qatadah from Yunus ibn Jubayr from Hittan ibn Abdullah Ar-Raqashi, who said: Abu Musa Al-Ash'ari told us: "Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—addressed us, clarifying our Sunnah and teaching us our prayer. He said: 'When you pray, straighten your rows, then let one of you lead you. When he says "Allahu Akbar," say "Allahu Akbar." When he recites, {Not of those who have incurred Your wrath nor of those who have gone astray} [Al-Fatihah:7], say "Ameen," and Allah loves you. When he says "Allahu Akbar" and bows, say "Allahu Akbar" and bow, for the Imam bows before you and rises before you—thus that corresponds to that. When he says, "Sami'a Allahu liman hamidah," say, "Rabbana wa lakal-hamd," and Allah hears you (yasma'u Allahu lakum), for Allah declared through His Prophet's tongue: "Sami'a Allahu liman hamidah." When he says "Allahu Akbar" and prostrates, say "Allahu Akbar" and prostrate, for the Imam prostrates before you and rises before you—thus that corresponds to that." He mentioned the remainder of the hadith. Ali said: "Among the grave sins from which we seek refuge with Allah Almighty is that when Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—states, 'None of your prayers is complete until you do such-and-such,' or commands, 'Do such-and-such,' someone who hears these reports asserts, 'The prayer is valid without that,' blindly following those who erred—whether those unaware of the report or those who misinterpreted it without intending to oppose Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him. Equally false and a mockery of the Sunnah is when Allah's Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—explicitly states that prayer is incomplete without certain acts, yet someone arbitrarily claims, 'Some of these are obligatory, others are not.' If a liar falsely alleges consensus on any such matter, he has lied against the entire Ummah, asserting what he has no knowledge of. It is impermissible for a Muslim to oppose the definitive truth of Allah's command conveyed by His Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—based on a false assumption fabricated against the entire Ummah, thereby accusing it of defying Allah's decree. How astonishing is their claim that the follower's 'Allahu Akbar' is invalid unless uttered after the Imam's, and his 'Salaam' invalid unless after the Imam's, while permitting his bowing, rising, and prostration to coincide with the Imam's! This is arbitrary ruling, and all the specious arguments they employ here equally apply to their rulings on 'Allahu Akbar' and 'Salaam.'"[56][57]

If someone says: The Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) stated, “When he says, ’Allah hears those who praise Him,’ you should say, ’Our Lord, to You is all praise,’” we respond: Indeed, but this narration does not prohibit the imam from saying, “Our Lord, to You is all praise,” nor does it prevent the follower from saying, “Allah hears those who praise Him.” The obligation herein is specified in the report we cited. There is no possibility for all legal injunctions to be contained within a single narration, a single verse, or a single chapter. Hisham ibn Sa‘id al-Khayr narrated to us in writing, from ‘Abd al-Jabbar ibn Ahmad al-Maghribi al-Tarsusi, who narrated from al-Hasan ibn al-Husayn al-Najirami, who narrated from Ja‘far ibn Muhammad ibn al-Hasan ibn Sa‘id al-Asbahani al-Sirafi, who narrated from Abu Bishr Yunus ibn Habib al-Zubayri, who narrated from Abu Dawud al-Tayalisi, who narrated from ‘Abdullah ibn al-Mubarak, from Musa ibn Ayyub al-Ghafiqi, from his uncle Iyas ibn ‘Amir, from ‘Uqbah ibn ‘Amir al-Juhani, who said: “When the verse {Glorify the name of your Lord, the Most Great} (56:74) was revealed, the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) instructed, ’Use this during bowing.’ When {Glorify the name of your Lord, the Most High} (87:1) was revealed, he said, ’Incorporate this into your prostration.’” ‘Ali remarked: Ahmad ibn Hanbal, Abu Sulayman, and others uphold the obligation of this. If it is objected that reports state the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) would say in his prostration, “Glory be to Him, the Most Holy, Lord of the angels and the Spirit,” and that he declared—as transmitted by ‘Abdullah ibn Rabi‘, from Muhammad ibn Ishaq, from Ibn al-A‘rabi, from Abu Dawud, from Musaddad, from Sufyan, from Sulayman ibn Suhaym, from Ibrahim ibn ‘Abdullah ibn Ma‘bad ibn al-‘Abbas, from his father, from his uncle, from ‘Abdullah ibn ‘Abbas—“The Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) drew aside the curtain from his face while people stood in rows behind Abu Bakr and proclaimed, ’O people, nothing remains of the portents of prophethood except the righteous dream seen by a Muslim or shown to him. I have been forbidden to recite while bowing or prostrating. As for bowing, magnify the Lord therein, and as for prostration, exert yourselves in supplication, for it is more deserving that your prayers be answered,’” we reply: Indeed, but none of this abrogates what he obligated in the narration of ‘Uqbah ibn ‘Amir. Rather, his injunc-

L6423–6424 As for exerting effort in supplication during prostration and saying “Subbūḥun Quddūsun, Lord of the Angels and the Spirit [Gabriel],” this is an increase of good and a virtuous act for whoever performs it alongside the commanded tasbīḥ. Mālik differentiated between one who omits two takbīrs and one who omits three takbīrs. This is a baseless opinion with no proof whatsoever. We have previously mentioned the invalidity of the view of those who distinguish between minor and major quantities of actions in prayer based on his own opinion, and we clarified that it is a corrupt view. This is because there is no “major amount” except that it becomes minor when compared to what exceeds it, and no “minor amount” except that it becomes major when compared to what is less than it. Omitting a minor portion of an obligatory act is equivalent to omitting a major portion in terms of violating Allah Almighty’s command. Similarly, committing a minor portion of a prohibited act equals committing a major portion in transgressing the prohibition. As for permissible acts, their minor and major quantities remain permissible. Any distinction beyond this is undeniably invalid unless a textual proof arrives specifying a differentiation between quantities in acts, in which case it is adhered to.

Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—would raise his hands level with his shoulders. He would also raise them when pronouncing the takbīr for bowing and when raising his head from bowing, saying: 'Allah hears those who praise Him. Our Lord, to You is all praise.'" We also received the same report via Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān from Mālik with this chain, and through ʿAbdullāh ibn Abī Awfā and Abū Saʿīd al-Khudrī—all traced back to the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him.

ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʿAbdillāh ibn Khālid narrated to us: Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad narrated to us: al-Farabrī narrated to us: al-Bukhārī narrated to us: Abū al-Yamān informed us: Shuʿayb ibn Abī Ḥamzah reported from al-Zuhrī: Abū Bakr ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn al-Ḥārith ibn Hishām and Abū Salamah ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān informed me that Abū Hurayrah would pronounce takbīr in every obligatory and voluntary prayer during Ramadan and otherwise. He would pronounce takbīr upon standing, then upon bowing, then say: "Allah hears those who praise Him," followed by: "Our Lord, to You is all praise"—and the narration continues—Abū Hurayrah then declared: "By the One in Whose Hand is my soul, I am the closest among you in resembling the prayer of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—and this remained his prayer until he departed this world."

This is the final practice of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—which the Malikis abandoned based on opinion without any transmitted narration whatsoever. Their only basis is his statement—peace be upon him: "When he says: 'Allah hears those who praise Him,' say: 'Our Lord, to You is all praise.'" Ali said: This offers no evidence for them, for the Prophet—peace be upon him—did not prohibit the Imam in this narration from saying "Our Lord, to You is all praise," nor did he prohibit the congregant from saying "Allah hears those who praise Him." Thus, this narration contains no proof for their claim regarding uttering or omitting these phrases. Therefore, the ruling must be sought from other narrations. It is authentically established that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—would say while leading as Imam: "Our Lord, to You is all praise," and that this remained his practice until his death. This invalidates the view of all who oppose it, and it was likewise the practice of the Salaf.

Hammam narrated to us: Ibn Mufarrij narrated to us: Ibn al-A'rabi narrated to us: al-Dabari narrated to us: 'Abd al-Razzaq narrated from Ibn Jurayj, who reported from Nafi': When 'Abdullah ibn 'Umar led as Imam, he would say: "Allah hears those who praise Him. O Allah, our Lord, to You is abundant praise," then prostrate without fail. Through the same chain to Ibn Jurayj: Isma'il ibn Umayya narrated from Sa'id ibn Abi Sa'id al-Maqburi: He heard Abu Hurayra—while leading people in prayer—say: "Allah hears those who praise Him. O Allah, our Lord, to You is abundant praise," raising his voice, and we would follow him in unison. We also have narrations transmitted from 'Ali ibn Abi Talib and Ibn Mas'ud to the same effect.

Through the aforementioned chain to Ibn Jurayj: 'Ata' said: If you are with the Imam and he says "Allah hears those who praise Him," then if you say it, that is good; if not, it suffices. But combining both phrases with the Imam is preferable to me. Ali said: This is the view of al-Shafi'i. As for Abu Hanifa, he held that the Imam says "Our Lord, to You is all praise," while the congregant does not say "Allah hears those who praise Him." Ali said: He made a distinction without proof. If he relied on the Prophet's statement—peace be upon him—"When he says: 'Allah hears those who praise Him,' say: 'Our Lord, to You is all praise,'" this is contradictory, for this narration does not mention the Imam saying "Our Lord, to You is all praise." If it is said: "It has been authentically established that he—peace be upon him—used to say it while acting as an imam," we respond: "It has also been authentically established that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—taught the prayer. Within this teaching, it is to be said: 'Allah hears those who praise Him,' without specifying this for a congregant over an imam, or for one praying alone." Ali said: "As for the statement 'Amin,' the imam and the one praying alone say it as a recommended Sunnah, while the congregant must say it as an obligation without exception." Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us: Abdul-Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us: Muslim ibn Al-Hajjaj narrated to us: Yahya ibn Yahya said: "I recited to Malik

As for Ahmad, Isḥāq, Dāwūd, and the majority of ḥadīth scholars, they uphold raising the voice in saying “Āmīn” for both the Imam and congregants—and this is our position—because what is authentically established from Allah’s Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him) is audible recitation. Sufyān al-Thawrī and Abū Ḥanīfah held that the Imam should say it silently, having adhered to emulating ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb and Ibn Mas‘ūd (may Allah be pleased with both of them). Yet no argument holds for anyone against Allah’s Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him). Mālik held that congregants should say “Āmīn” while the Imam does not. ‘Alī said: “This view is definitively unknown from any Companion (may Allah be pleased with them). Indeed, we do not recognize it from any Follower either, nor do they possess any evidence whatsoever for this prohibition.” However, some examined due to their emulation argued: “Sumayy, freedman of Abū Bakr, and Suhayl ibn Abī Ṣāliḥ both narrated from Abū Ṣāliḥ from Abū Hurayrah that Allah’s Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him) said: ‘When the reciter says, ”Not of those who incurred wrath nor the astray“ (1:7), and those behind him say ”Āmīn“—coinciding with the inhabitants of the heavens—his prior sins are forgiven.’” This is Suhayl’s wording. As for Sumayy’s version, he stated: “When the Imam recites, ‘Not of those who incurred wrath nor the astray’ (1:7), say ‘Āmīn.’” They claimed this indicates the Imam does not say “Āmīn.” ‘Alī responded: “This represents the height of detestable argumentation, citing a ḥadīth lacking a ruling established elsewhere to negate it. Nothing could more effectively abolish Islam’s laws than this approach, for not every injunction appears in every verse or ḥadīth. How astonishing that they cite Abū Ṣāliḥ’s failure to narrate the wording transmitted by Sa‘īd ibn al-Musayyab and Abū Salamah from Abū Hurayrah! Even if Sa‘īd alone reported it, he would equate to a group like Abū Ṣāliḥ. Moreover, Abū Ṣāliḥ’s narration nowhere states the Imam refrains from saying ”Āmīn“—thus their deceptive obfuscation through this report is invalidated.” Some claimed: “The meaning of the Prophet’s statement (peace be upon him), ‘When the Imam says ”Āmīn,“ say ”Āmīn,“’ is that when he recites ‘Not of those who incurred wrath nor the astray’ (1:7)...” ‘Alī retorted: “To this we say: You have lied against Allah’s Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him) and ascribed to him falsehood he never spoke.” Upon him be peace—concerning himself, and you reported about his intended meaning through slander, and distorted words from their proper positions without proof. None among Arabic linguists has ever stated that the phrase {not of those who incurred wrath nor of the astray} [Al-Fatihah:7] is termed “saying Amin.” Thus, he defended his corrupt opinion with another calamitous error by claiming: “It has been narrated that Allah’s statement to Moses and Aaron—peace be upon them both—{Your supplication has been answered} [Yunus:89] means Moses would supplicate while Aaron said Amin.” Ali said: “This is more grievous and bitter. If only I knew where he found this narration, or who conveyed it to him from Moses and Aaron—peace be upon them both! It is merely an unsourced statement of unknown origin. Even if it were authentically established, it would constitute no proof whatsoever, for linguistically, the one saying Amin is undoubtedly a supplicant, as the meaning of 'Amin' is 'O Allah, grant this.' Thus, saying Amin is unquestionably valid supplication. The supplicant is never termed 'Amin-sayer,' nor is supplication called 'Amin' unless the word itself is uttered. Every Amin is supplication, but not every supplication is Amin. How can this hold when it is authentically established that the Prophet—may Allah's blessings and peace be upon him—would say Amin while being the Imam? This exemplifies their unique deviation from the Companions—may Allah be pleased with them—and the majority of early scholars, following their own opinions with no evidence whatsoever. Success comes solely from Allah, the Exalted."[62]

L6435–6437 As for prostration: if someone permits prostration on the bulk of a turban, we would question them about a turban whose bulk equals a finger's thickness, then two fingers, until we escalate it to two cubits, three cubits, or more—thereby reaching a conclusion no one would endorse. Then we reduce it from a finger's thickness to a single layer of a legally compliant turban and oblige them to maintain parted hair [for valid ablution], though they cannot achieve this. Our position aligns with the majority of the early generations (Salaf). As narrated through Shu'bah's chain from al-A'mash: I heard Zayd ibn Wahb say: Hudhayfah saw a man neglecting proper bowing and prostration, so he told him, "You have not prayed. If you were to die, you would die deviating from the natural disposition Allah instilled in Muhammad—peace and blessings be upon him." From Ibn Mas'ud: he observed two men praying—one letting his garment trail excessively, and the other failing to complete his prayer. He does not properly perform his bowing nor complete his prostration. He said: As for the one who lets his garment drag, Allah does not look at him, and as for the other, Allah does not accept his prayer. Ali said: Whoever Allah the Exalted does not look upon in any deed, that deed is undoubtedly unacceptable. Since it is unacceptable, it is certainly not accepted. From Al-Miswar ibn Makhramah: He saw a man who neither completed his bowing nor his prostration, so he said to him: O thief, repeat the prayer! By Allah, you shall repeat it! He persisted until he

Issue 370: Whoever is unable to bow or prostrate should lower their body as much as they are able. If one cannot do more than gesture with their head, they should gesture. If one cannot find space in the crowd to place their forehead and nose for prostration, they should prostrate toward a person in front of them or on the back of the person ahead. This is the view of Abū Ḥanīfah, Sufyān al-Thawrī, and al-Shāfi'ī. Mālik said: He should not prostrate on anyone's back. The proof for the validity of our view is Allah's statement: "Allah does not burden any soul beyond its capacity" [2:286], and the Messenger of Allah's saying (peace be upon him): "When I command you to do something, perform it to the best of your ability." It has been narrated to us from Ma'mar, through al-A'mash, through al-Musayyib ibn Rāfi', that Umar ibn al-Khattāb said: "Whoever suffers from heat during Friday prayer may spread his garment and prostrate upon it. If someone is overcrowded during Friday prayer until unable to prostrate on the ground, let him prostrate on another person's back."

Al-Hasan stated: “In severe crowding, you may either prostrate on your brother’s back or wait until the Imam rises before prostrating.” Tāwus said: “In extreme crowding, gesture with your head following the Imam’s lead, then prostrate on your brother.” When asked whether one may prostrate on another’s foot in crowded conditions, Mujāhid answered affirmatively. Similar rulings were reported from Makhūl and al-Zuhrī.

Ma’mar narrated through Ayyūb al-Sakhtiyānī, from Nāfi’, that Ibn Umar said: “If an ill person cannot bow or prostrate properly, they may gesture with their head.” Qatādah reported from Umm al-Hasan ibn Abī al-Hasan: “I saw Umm Salamah, the Prophet’s wife (peace be upon him), prostrating on a raised pillow due to eye inflammation she suffered from.” Ibn Abbās responded to Abu Fazarah’s question about prostration on a purified pillow for the ill: “There is no harm in that.” Ibn Abbās also ruled: “There is no harm if an ill person wraps a garment and prostrates upon it.”[63]

L6442 Issue: If there is clay in front of him during prayer, and it does not soil his clothes or defile his face...

L6443–6445 Issue 371: If someone has mud in front of him that does not ruin his clothes or soil his face, he is required to prostrate upon it. However, if it causes him discomfort, he is not required. It has been transmitted to us from the Messenger of Allah—may Allah’s peace and blessings be upon him—that he prostrated on water and mud, and when he rose, on his forehead was the mark of mud. Allah the Exalted said: “He has not laid upon you any hardship in the religion” (Sūrat al-Ḥajj 22:78).[64] only two rak'ahs, one settles on the ground as seated, raises the right foot, and spreads the left. In prayers of three or four rak'ahs, one sits in this sitting position upon the left foot with the right foot raised as described. In the final sitting preceding the taslīm (salutation), one settles on the ground with the right foot raised and the left foot spread. It is obligatory to recite the Tashahhud in each of the two sittings we mentioned.

Abdullah ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us: from Muḥammad ibn Isḥāq: from Ibn al-Aʿrābī: from Abū Dāwūd: from ʿĪsā ibn Ibrāhīm: from Ibn Wahb: from al-Layth ibn Saʿd: from Yazīd ibn Abī Ḥabīb: from Muḥammad ibn ʿAmr ibn Ḥalḥalah: from Muḥammad ibn ʿAmr ibn ʿAṭāʾ that he was sitting with a group of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) when they described the prayer of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him). In their description: "When he sat in the two-rak'ah prayer, he sat upon his left foot. When he sat in the final rak'ah, he advanced his left foot and settled on his seat."

Al-Shāfiʿī and Abū Sulaymān uphold this view. Abū Ḥanīfah and Mālik said: "Both sittings are performed identically." ʿAlī remarked: "This contradicts the transmitted practice without evidence."

L6448–6450 Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us, Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us, Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us, Ishaq (Ibn Rahawayh) narrated to us: Jarir (Ibn Abd al-Hameed) narrated from Mansur (Ibn al-Mu'tamir), from Abu Wa'il, from Abdullah ibn Mas'ud, who said: "The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings be upon him) said to us: 'Allah is As-Salam. When any of you sits during the prayer, let him say: All salutations are for Allah, and the prayers and the pure deeds. Peace be upon you, O Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him), and the mercy of Allah.'" And His blessings, peace be upon us and upon Allah's righteous servants. I testify that there is no deity but Allah, and I testify that Muhammad is His servant and Messenger." It was narrated by Shu'bah, Sufyan al-Thawri, and Za'idah - all of them through Mansur from Abu Wa'il from Ibn Mas'ud from the Prophet (peace be upon him) - letter for letter. It was also narrated by

Yahya al-Qattan, Abu Mu'awiyah, al-Fudayl ibn 'Iyad, Abu Nu'aym, 'Abdullah ibn Dawud al-Khuraibi, and Waki' - all of them through al-A'mash from Abu Wa'il with his chain of transmission and wording. Furthermore, Abu Ma'mar 'Abdullah ibn Sakhbarah, 'Alqamah, al-Aswad, and Abu al-Bakhtari narrated it from Ibn Mas'ud with his chain of transmission and wording.[65]

L6451–6453 If a person testifies with what was narrated by Abu Musa, Ibn Abbas, and Ibn Umar—all of them from the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him)—then it is good. What we have chosen is the preference of Abu Hanifah, Sufyan al-Thawri, Ahmad, and Dawud. Al-Shafi'i preferred the narration of Ibn Abbas. Malik chose a Tashahhud traced to Umar, but his son and the rest of those we mentioned opposed him in this. Some early scholars said: Sitting in prayer is not obligatory. Abu Hanifah said: Sitting for the duration of the Tashahhud is obligatory, but the Tashahhud itself is not obligatory. Malik said: Sitting is obligatory, and the remembrance of Allah in it is obligatory, but the Tashahhud is not obligatory. All these statements are erroneous because the Prophet (peace be upon him) commanded the Tashahhud while sitting in prayer, thus making the Tashahhud obligatory. Consequently, the sitting in which the Tashahhud occurs becomes obligatory, since it is impermissible for something without which an obligation cannot be fulfilled—or through it—to be non-obligatory. We narrate from Shu'bah, from Muslim Abu al-Nadr, who reported: "I heard Hamlah ibn Abd al-Rahman say: 'I heard Umar ibn al-Khattab declare: There is no prayer without the Tashahhud.'" Nafi', the freed slave of Ibn Umar, said: "Whoever does not speak the Tashahhud has no prayer." This is the opinion of Al-Shafi'i, and Abu Sulaiman. Some of them said: If the first sitting were obligatory, the prayer would not suffice if one omitted it due to forgetfulness. Imam Ali said: This is baseless, for the Sunnah that prescribes its obligation is the same that affirms the prayer suffices despite forgetting it.

L6454 They assert that intentionally sitting during the standing position in prayer is forbidden—invalidating the prayer if done deliberately, but not invalidating it if done forgetfully. Similarly, offering the greeting of peace before completing the prayer invalidates it with no distinction. Thus their view reverts to being evidently corrupt—and success is from Allah alone, the Most High.

[مَسْأَلَةٌ الْمُصَلَّى إذَا فَرَغَ مِنْ التَّشَهُّدِ]

L6456 373 - Issue: Abū Muḥammad ʿAlī ibn Aḥmad said: It is obligatory (farḍ) for him to say upon completing the Tashahhud in both of the two sittings: "O Allah, I seek refuge in You from the punishment of Hellfire, I seek refuge in You from the punishment of the grave, from the trials of living and dying, and from the evil of the tribulation of al-Masīḥ al-Dajjāl." This is an obligation like the Tashahhud itself, with no distinction. As narrated to us by ʿAbdullāh ibn Yūsuf: Aḥmad ibn Fatḥ narrated to us; ʿAbd al-Wahhāb ibn ʿĪsā narrated to us; Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad narrated to us; Aḥmad ibn ʿAlī narrated to us; Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj narrated to us; Naṣr ibn ʿAlī, Muḥammad ibn ʿAbdillāh ibn Numayr, Abū Kuraib, and Zuhayr ibn Ḥarb - all narrated to us from Wakīʿ ibn al-Jarrāḥ; al-Awzāʿī narrated from Ḥassān ibn ʿAṭiyyah and Yaḥyā ibn Abī Kathīr. Let him say: 'O Allah, I seek refuge in You from the punishment of Hellfire, from the punishment of the grave, from the trials of life and death, and from the evil of the trial of the False Messiah, the Dajjal.'" Ali said: If someone were to say, "You have narrated this report through the chain of Muslim," [the narration continues]: Zuhayr ibn Harb narrated to us; Al-Walid ibn Muslim narrated to us; Al-Awza'i narrated to me; Hassan ibn Atiyyah narrated to us; Muhammad ibn Abi A'ishah narrated to us. be upon him) said: “When any one of you concludes the final Tashahhud, let him seek refuge with Allah from four things”—then he quoted them verbatim as we have transmitted. He stated: “This is a solitary report, and Al-Walid ibn Muslim’s addition constitutes a narration from a trustworthy transmitter, hence it is accepted. This obligation is therefore exclusively required in the final Tashahhud.” We countered: “Had there been only Muhammad ibn Abi Aisha’s hadith alone, your position would still hold. However, there are two authentic narrations as we transmitted—one through Abu Salama’s chain and the second through Muhammad ibn Abi Aisha’s chain. Al-Walid’s addition supplements Waki‘ ibn Al-Jarrah’s narration, while Abu Salama’s report maintains its general applicability to all contexts designated as Tashahhud. No alternative interpretation is permissible. Success is attained through Allah, the Exalted.” It is narrated that Tawus’s son prayed in his presence, whereupon he asked him: “Did you recite these phrases?” When he replied negatively, Tawus commanded him to repeat the prayer.[66]

صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «إِذَا فَرَغَ أَحَدُكُمْ مِنَ التَّشَهُّدِ الآخِرِ فَلْيَتَعَوَّذْ بِاللَّهِ مِنْ أَرْبَعٍ» ثُمَّ ذَكَرَهَا نَصًّا كَمَا أَوْرَدْنَاهَا. قَالَ: فَهَذَا خَبَرٌ وَاحِدٌ، وَزِيَادَةُ الْوَلِيدِ بْنِ مُسْلِمٍ زِيَادَةُ عَدْلٍ، فَهِيَ مَقْبُولَةٌ، فَإِنَّمَا يَجِبُ ذَلِكَ فِي التَّشَهُّدِ الآخِرِ فَقَطْ قُلْنَا: لَوْ لَمْ يَكُنْ إِلَّا حَدِيثُ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ أَبِي عَائِشَةَ وَحْدَهُ لَكَانَ مَا ذَكَرْتَ لَكِنَّهُمَا حَدِيثَانِ كَمَا أَوْرَدْنَا، أَحَدُهُمَا مِنْ طَرِيقِ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ، وَالثَّانِي مِنْ طَرِيقِ مُحَمَّدِ بْنِ أَبِي عَائِشَةَ، فَإِنَّمَا زَادَ الْوَلِيدُ عَلَى وَكِيعِ بْنِ الْجَرَّاحِ، وَبَقِيَ خَبَرُ أَبِي سَلَمَةَ عَلَى عُمُومِهِ فِيمَا يَقَعُ عَلَيْهِ اسْمُ تَشَهُّدٍ، لَا يَجُوزُ غَيْرُ هَذَا. وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ. وَقَدْ رُوِيَ عَنْ طَاوُسٍ: أَنَّهُ صَلَّى ابْنُهُ بِحَضْرَتِهِ فَقَالَ لَهُ: أَذَكَرْتَ هَذِهِ الْكَلِمَاتِ قَالَ: لَا، فَأَمَرَهُ بِإِعَادَةِ الصَّلَاةِ

374. It is recommended to say, upon completing the Tashahhud, what was narrated to us by ‘Abdullāh ibn Rabī‘: Muḥammad ibn Mu‘āwiyah narrated to us, Aḥmad ibn Shu‘ayb narrated to us, Muḥammad ibn Salamah informed us from Ibn al-Qāsim, who narrated from Mālik, who narrated from Nu‘aym ibn ‘Abdillāh al-Mujmir: that Muḥammad ibn ‘Abdillāh ibn Zayd al-Anṣārī—and ‘Abdullāh ibn Zayd is the one who was shown the call to prayer—informed him from Abū Mas‘ūd al-Anṣārī, who said: “The Messenger of Allāh (peace and blessings be upon him) came to us in the gathering of Sa‘d ibn ‘Ubādah. Bashīr ibn Sa‘d said to him: ‘Allāh has commanded us to send blessings upon you, O Messenger of Allāh, so how should we send blessings upon you?’ The Messenger of Allāh (peace and blessings be upon him) remained silent until we wished he had not asked him. Then he said: ‘Say: O Allāh, send blessings upon Muḥammad and the family of Muḥammad as You sent blessings upon the family of Ibrāhīm, and bless Muḥammad and the family of Muḥammad as You blessed the family of Ibrāhīm in all the worlds. Indeed, You are Praised, Majestic. And the salutation of peace is as you already know.’”

And what was narrated to us by ʻAbdullāh ibn Yūsuf: Aḥmad ibn Fatḥ narrated to us, ʻAbd al-Wahhāb ibn ʻĪsā narrated to us, Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad narrated to us, Aḥmad ibn ʻAlī narrated to us, Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj narrated to us, Isḥāq (Ibn Rāhawayh) narrated to us, Rawḥ narrated from Mālik, from ʻAbdullāh ibn Abī Bakr ibn Muḥammad ibn ʻAmr ibn Ḥazm, from his father, from ʻAmr ibn Sulaym. I am Abu Humaid As-Sa'idi: "They said, 'O Messenger of Allah, how should we send blessings upon you?' He said, 'Say: O Allah, send blessings upon Muhammad and upon his wives and offspring as You sent blessings upon the family of Ibrahim, and grant grace to Muhammad and his wives and offspring as You granted grace to the family of Ibrahim. Indeed, You are Praiseworthy, Glorious.'" If someone asks: Why did you not make sending blessings upon the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—after the Tashahhud obligatory based on these two reports, despite Allah's command: {Send blessings upon him and greet him with peace} [Al-Ahzab: 56], as Ash-Shafi'i holds? We answer: Because the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—did not state that this supplication is obligatory within the prayer. It is impermissible for anyone to add to the words of the Prophet—peace be upon him—what he did not utter. Thus, we affirm: Reciting this supplication once in a lifetime is obligatory for every Muslim. When one fulfills this, they have discharged the duty of sending blessings upon the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—as commanded. Thereafter, repeating it in prayer and other contexts is recommended, constituting an increase in reward. It is authentically reported that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—said: "Whoever sends blessings upon me once, Allah will send blessings upon him tenfold." If asked: Why restrict the obligation to once in a lifetime rather than requiring it whenever the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—is mentioned? We reply: The single recitation is textually mandated, and it is impermissible to reduce the obligation below once. As for requiring more, we counter: How many times would you impose—in a lifetime, a year, a month, a day, or an hour? Specifying any number without evidence is invalid, and no basis exists for this. Such a demand is rationally indefensible. If they assert it is obligatory exclusively in prayer, we respond: This is absent from the verse and authentic narrations—it is a baseless assertion. If a non-Shafi'i argues it is obligatory whenever the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—is mentioned, in prayer or otherwise, we reply: This too lacks support in any verse or sound narration. It is only mentioned in... A hadith we narrated through the chain of Abu Bakr ibn Abī Uways from Sulaymān ibn Bilāl from Muḥammad ibn Hilāl from Saʿd ibn Isḥāq ibn Kaʿb ibn ʿUjrah from his father that Kaʿb—this chain cannot serve as valid evidence, for Abū Bakr is a criticized narrator, Muḥammad ibn Hilāl is unknown, and Saʿd ibn Isḥāq lacks established reliability. Indeed, it would logically bind anyone who deems fasting during iʿtikāf obligatory—based on evidence he cited between two Quranic fasting verses—to also consider invoking blessings upon Allah's Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him) in prayer obligatory, given the divine command accompanying the mention of the peace greeting they recognized. This refers either to the peace greeting in the tashahhud during prayer or the peace greeting marking prayer's end without doubt. Yet they inconsistently apply their flawed reasoning and disregard binding proofs—and success comes solely from Allah, the Exalted.[67][68]

A Juristic Issue Concerning the Clasping of Hands in Prayer

L6465

L6466

Issue 375: Tatbīq in prayer is not permissible because it is abrogated. This refers to placing the hands between the knees during bowing in prayer. Ibn Masʿūd (may Allah be pleased with him) used to practice it and would strongly rebuke those who abandoned it, as did his companions. This was narrated to us through the chain of Nūḥ ibn Ḥabīb al-Qūmisī: ʿAbdullāh ibn Idrīs (i.e., ʿAbdullāh) narrated to us from ʿĀṣim ibn Kulayb from ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn al-Aswad ibn Yazīd from ʿAlqamah from ʿAbdullāh ibn Masʿūd, who said: "The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) taught us the prayer. He stood and said the takbīr. When he intended to bow, he placed his hands between his knees and bowed." This reached Ṣaʿd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ, who said: “My brother has spoken truthfully. We used to do this, but then we were commanded with this: holding the knees.” ʿAlī said: “We have previously mentioned the command of the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) to place the hands on the knees in the ḥadīth of Rifāʿah ibn Rāfiʿ. Thus, it is confirmed that this is the later command that abrogates tatbīq.” And success comes from Allah, the Exalted.

L6467 A ruling: The taslīm is obligatory, and the prayer is invalid without it.

L6468–6470 376 - Issue: When a person completes their prayer, they must recite the salutation, for it is an obligation without which the prayer remains incomplete. It suffices to say “Peace be upon you,” “Upon you be peace,” “Peace be upon you,” or “Upon you be peace,” whether one is an imam, a follower, or praying alone. The most preferable of these is for each individual we mentioned to say [one of these phrases]. “Peace be upon you and the mercy of Allah” to his right, “Peace be upon you and the mercy of Allah” to his left. Ali said: The proof for this lies in what Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us, Abdul-Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us, Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us, Muhammad ibn Ahmad ibn Abi Khalaf narrated to us, Musa ibn Dawud narrated to us, Sulaiman ibn Bilal narrated to us from Zayd ibn Aslam from Ata ibn Yasar from Abu Sa’id al-Khudri, who said: The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said: “If any of you doubts during his prayer and does not know whether he prayed three or four units, let him discard the uncertainty and base his action on what is certain, then perform two prostrations before the taslim.”

Abdullah ibn Rabi’ narrated to us: Muhammad ibn Mu’awiyah narrated to us, Ahmad ibn Shu’ayb informed us, al-Hasan ibn Isma’il ibn Sulaiman al-Mujalidi informed me, Fudayl ibn Iyad narrated to us from Mansur ibn al-Mu’tamir from Ibrahim al-Nakha’i from Alqamah from Abdullah ibn Mas’ud, who said: The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) stated in a hadith he mentioned: “I am but human—I forget as you forget. Whoever forgets something in his prayer, let him strive to ascertain what he believes correct, then perform the taslim, then perform two prostrations of forgetfulness."

These two narrations have firmly established the command of the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) to perform the taslim in every prayer, and his directives are obligatory. The wording of the taslim inherently requires what we have described.

Hamam narrated to us: Ibn Mufarrij narrated to us, Ibn al-A'rabi narrated to us, al-Dabari narrated to us, Abd al-Razzaq narrated to us from Sufyan al-Thawri and Ma'mar—both from Hammad ibn Abi Sulayman from Abu al-Duha from Masruq from Abdullah ibn Mas'ud, who said: "I did not forget anything regarding what was forgotten from the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him)—that he would perform the taslim to his right: 'Peace be upon you and the mercy of Allah and His blessings,' until the whiteness of his cheek became visible, and to his left: 'Peace be upon you and the mercy of Allah and His blessings,' until the whiteness of his cheek was likewise seen."

This narration was also transmitted from Ibn Mas'ud with a connected chain by Abu al-Ahwas and Abu Ma'mar. It was further reported by Sa'd ibn Abi Waqqas and Ibn Umar—both tracing back to the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him).[69]

L6471–6480 And it is the practice of the predecessors, as narrated to us by Abdullah ibn Rabīʿ, who narrated from Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah, who narrated from Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb, who narrated from Isḥāq ibn Ibrāhīm — who is Ibn Rāhwayh — who narrated from Abū Nuʿaym al-Faḍl ibn Dukayn, who narrated from Zuhayr — who is Ibn Muʿāwiyah — from Abū Isḥāq as-Sabīʿī from ʿAbd ar-Raḥmān ibn al-Aswad from his father, and ʿAlqamah from Ibn Masʿūd, who said: "I saw the Messenger of Allah — peace and blessings be upon him — pronouncing the takbīr with every lowering and raising, standing and sitting, and offering salām to his right and left: 'Peace be upon you and the mercy of Allah, peace be upon you and the mercy of Allah,' so much so that the whiteness of his cheek became visible. And I saw Abū Bakr and ʿUmar performing it." It has also been narrated to us from ʿAmmār ibn Yāsir, ʿAlī ibn Abī Ṭālib, Ibn Masʿūd, and a group of the Anṣār — may Allah be pleased with them — and from the Companions collectively — may Allah be pleased with them — through the most authentic chain of transmission. It has been narrated to us from ʿAlqamah, al-Aswad, Khaythamah, ʿAbd ar-Raḥmān ibn Abī Laylā, and an-Nakhaʿī. This is the opinion of ash-Shāfiʿī, Sufyān ath-Thawrī, Abū Ḥanīfah, al-Ḥasan ibn Ḥayyin, Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, Isḥāq, Abū Sulaymān, and the majority of ḥadīth scholars. Al-Ḥasan ibn Ḥayyin said: "The two salāms are both obligatory." Abū Ḥanīfah said: "The two salāms are recommended, but the salām is not an obligatory component of the prayer. Rather, if one sits for the duration of the tashahhud, their prayer is complete. If they intentionally or unintentionally break their ablution, or intentionally stand, speak, or act, that is permissible, and their prayer is complete. A female slave may pray with her head uncovered, then be freed at the end of her prayer after sitting for the duration of the tashahhud but before offering the salām; her prayer is complete. Whoever prays sitting due to illness and then recovers after sitting for the duration of the tashahhud at the end of their prayer but before offering the salām, their prayer is complete. Whoever prays striving to determine the qibla but facing a different direction, then recognizes the qibla after sitting for the duration of the tashahhud at the end of their prayer but before offering the salām, their prayer is complete — except in ten cases where the salām is made obligatory within them, thereby invalidating the prayer of anyone to whom any of them occurs, even if they sat for the duration of the tashahhud without offering the salām. These are: [...]" One who prayed after performing tayammum then saw water after sitting for the duration of the tashahhud in the final part of the prayer without having uttered the salām; one who prayed naked then found covering for his private parts after sitting for the duration of the tashahhud without having uttered the salām; one who prayed the dawn prayer and the sun's first disk emerged after he sat for the duration of the tashahhud at his prayer's conclusion before uttering the salām—if he laughed aloud after sunrise while his prayer was already invalidated without having uttered the salām, his ablution is nullified; one whose wiping period expired after sitting for the duration of the tashahhud at his prayer's conclusion without having uttered the salām; one who prayed the Friday Prayer until its time expired and the ʿAṣr time commenced, having sat for the duration of the tashahhud without uttering the salām; one who sat for the duration of the tashahhud at his prayer's conclusion then recalled a missed prayer before uttering the salām, with five prayers or fewer intervening; the chronically bleeding woman whose prayer time expired after she sat for the duration of the tashahhud at her prayer's conclusion without uttering the salām; one who prayed without being proficient in any part of the Quran then learned a surah after sitting for the duration of the tashahhud at his prayer's conclusion without uttering the salām; one who wiped over a wound that healed after he sat for the duration of the tashahhud at his prayer's conclusion before uttering the salām—all these individuals have invalidated prayers and must restart them.

For one who prayed as a traveler then, upon sitting for the duration of the tashahhud in the final two rakʿahs without uttering the salām, formed the intention to reside—he must perform two rakʿahs as a resident prayer. There is consensus regarding these rulings. However, disagreement exists concerning one who prayed while ill and sleeping—being incapable of more—then recovered after sitting for the duration of the tashahhud in his intention without uttering the salām. Whoever begins the prayer in a healthy state, then is afflicted by an illness that transfers him to sitting or gesturing [in prostration] after having sat in the final part of his prayer for the duration of the Tashahhud without performing the salutation—he once said: "Their prayer is invalidated, and they must recommence it," and another time said: "Their prayer is complete." Ali said: We have presented these scenarios to expose the contradictions in their statements, showing that they neither adhered to affirming the salutation as an obligation nor to negating its obligation, nor remained steadfast on any foundational principle. These are statements for which we praise Allah for deliverance from their like. It is astonishing that his companions did not attribute this discrepancy to him as two opinions of his; rather, they persisted in futile contention and baseless arguments to validate the total abolition of the salutation's obligation except in these specific cases. Here, they argued only for its obligation without disagreement. As for Al-Ḥasan ibn Ḥayy's opinion, there is no evidence supporting its validity.

Mālik said: The salutation is an obligation. The prayer of one who experiences an invalidating incident before performing the salutation is nullified. However, he stated: The imam and the individual worshipper perform only one salutation. As for the follower, if no one is to his left, he performs two salutations: one to his right and another in response to the imam. If someone is to his left, he performs a third salutation in response to the one on his left. Ali said: This too is an opinion without evidence for its validity—a categorization unsupported by the Quran, Sunnah, consensus, analogy, or any Companion's statement. The imam does not intend anyone with his salutation, for if he did, his prayer would be invalidated, as this constitutes speech directed to the one being greeted. Deliberate speech to other than Allah—Exalted is He—or His Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—during prayer invalidates it. The proof is that the worshipper—whether accompanied or alone—performs the salutation as the imam does, confirming that it signifies exiting the prayer, not greeting people. Thus, these two opinions are unequivocally invalidated—praise be to Allah. Ali said: What remains are the views of those who do not consider the salutation obligatory and those who advocate a single salutation without inconsistency. We found proponents of the salutation's non-obligation citing the narration transmitted via ʿĀṣim ibn ʿAlī: Zuhayr ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us from Al-Ḥasan ibn Al-Ḥurr from Al-Qāsim ibn Mukhaymirah. ʿAlqamah took my hand and related: ʿAbdullāh took his hand, and the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—took ʿAbdullāh's hand, teaching him the Tashahhud in prayer. He recounted the Tashahhud and said: "When you recite this, you have completed your prayer. If you wish to stand, then stand; if you wish to sit, then sit."

ʿAlī remarked: "This addition was uniquely transmitted by al-Qāsim ibn Mukhaymarah. It may originate from his own opinion or phrasing, from ʿAlqamah's words, or from ʿAbdullāh's statement. This ḥadīth has been narrated from ʿAlqamah by Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī—who is more precise than al-Qāsim—yet he omitted this addition. As related to us by ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ: Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb informed me: Muḥammad ibn Jabalah said: al-ʿAlāʾ ibn Hilāl al-Raqqī narrated to me:

وَالْأُخْرَى يَرُدُّ بِهَا عَلَى الْإِمَامِ، فَإِنْ كَانَ عَنْ يَسَارِهِ أَحَدٌ سَلَّمَ ثَالِثَةً رَدًّا عَلَى الَّذِي عَنْ يَسَارِهِ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا أَيْضًا قَوْلٌ لَا دَلِيلَ عَلَى صِحَّتِهِ، وَتَقْسِيمٌ لَمْ يَأْتِ بِهِ قُرْآنٌ وَلَا سُنَّةٌ وَلَا إِجْمَاعٌ وَلَا قِيَاسٌ وَلَا قَوْلُ صَاحِبٍ؛ وَالْإِمَامُ لَمْ يَقْصِدْ بِسَلَامِهِ أَحَدًا، وَلَوْ فَعَلَ ذَلِكَ لَبَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ؛ لِأَنَّهُ كَلَامٌ مَعَ الْمُسَلَّمِ عَلَيْهِ، وَالْكَلَامُ مَعَ غَيْرِ اللَّهِ تَعَالَى وَغَيْرِ رَسُولِهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فِي الصَّلَاةِ عَمْدًا مُبْطِلٌ لِلصَّلَاةِ وَبُرْهَانُ هَذَا -: أَنَّ الْمُصَلِّيَ - كَانَ مَعَهُ أَحَدٌ أَوْ لَمْ يَكُنْ - فَإِنَّهُ يُسَلِّمُ عِنْدَ جَمِيعِهِمْ كَمَا يُسَلِّمُ الْإِمَامُ، فَصَحَّ أَنَّهُ خُرُوجٌ عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ، لَا تَسْلِيمٌ عَلَى أَحَدٍ مِنْ النَّاسِ. فَسَقَطَ هَذَانِ الْقَوْلَانِ سُقُوطًا بَيِّنًا دُونَ كُلْفَةٍ - وَلِلَّهِ الْحَمْدُ قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَبَقِيَ قَوْلُ مَنْ لَمْ يَرَ التَّسْلِيمَ مِنْ الصَّلَاةِ فَرْضًا، وَقَوْلُ مَنْ اخْتَارَ تَسْلِيمَةً وَاحِدَةً، مِمَّنْ لَمْ يَضْطَرِبْ قَوْلُهُ فِي ذَلِكَ؛ فَوَجَدْنَا مَنْ لَا يَرَى التَّسْلِيمَ فَرْضًا يَحْتَجُّ بِمَا رُوِّينَاهُ مِنْ طَرِيقِ عَاصِمِ بْنِ عَلِيٍّ: ثنا زُهَيْرُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ عَنْ الْحَسَنِ بْنِ الْحُرِّ «عَنْ الْقَاسِمِ بْنِ مُخَيْمِرَةَ أَخَذَ عَلْقَمَةُ بِيَدِي وَحَدَّثَنِي: أَنَّ عَبْدَ اللَّهِ أَخَذَ بِيَدِهِ وَأَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - أَخَذَ بِيَدِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ فَعَلَّمَهُ التَّشَهُّدَ فِي الصَّلَاةِ فَذَكَرَ التَّشَهُّدَ، قَالَ: فَإِذَا قُلْتَ هَذَا فَقَدْ قَضَيْتَ صَلَاتَكَ إنْ شِئْتَ أَنْ تَقُومَ فَقُمْ، وَإِنْ شِئْتَ أَنْ تَقْعُدَ فَاقْعُدْ» . قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذِهِ الزِّيَادَةُ انْفَرَدَ بِهَا الْقَاسِمُ بْنُ مُخَيْمِرَةَ، وَلَعَلَّهَا مِنْ رَأْيِهِ وَكَلَامِهِ، أَوْ مِنْ كَلَامِ عَلْقَمَةَ، أَوْ مِنْ كَلَامِ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ وَقَدْ رُوِيَ هَذَا الْحَدِيثُ عَنْ عَلْقَمَةَ: إبْرَاهِيمَ النَّخَعِيِّ - وَهُوَ أَضْبَطُ مِنْ الْقَاسِمِ - فَلَمْ يَذْكُرْ هَذِهِ الزِّيَادَةَ. كَمَا حَدَّثَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ رَبِيعٍ ثنا مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ مُعَاوِيَةَ ثنا أَحْمَدُ بْنُ شُعَيْبٍ أَخْبَرَنِي مُحَمَّدُ بْنُ جَبَلَةَ قَالَ: ثنا الْعَلَاءُ بْنُ هِلَالٍ الرَّقِّيُّ حَدَّثَنِي عُبَيْدُ اللَّهِ بْنُ عَمْرٍو الرَّقِّيُّ عَنْ زَيْدٍ هُوَ

ʿUbaydullāh ibn ʿAmr al-Raqqī narrated from Zayd ibn Abī Unaysah, from Ḥammād ibn Abī Sulaymān, from Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī, from ʿAlqamah ibn Qays, from Ibn Masʿūd, who said:

"We did not know what to recite after praying until the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—taught us succinct, all-encompassing words. He instructed us: Say:

"All acts of worship, pure deeds, and salutations belong to Allāh. Peace be upon you, O Prophet, along with Allāh's mercy and blessings. Peace be upon us and upon Allāh's righteous servants. I bear witness that none deserves worship except Allāh, and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His servant and Messenger."

ʿAlqamah said: "I witnessed Ibn Masʿūd teaching us these words as meticulously as he taught us the Qurʾān."'

If this addition were authentically established as the speech of the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—then what we previously mentioned from his instruction would constitute an additional legal injunction impermissible to neglect." It has been authentically reported from Ibn Masʿūd that the salutation is obligatory, as we have narrated through the chain of Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān: Sufyān al-Thawrī narrated to us from Abū Isḥāq al-Sabīʿī from Abū al-Aḥwaṣ from Ibn Masʿūd, who said: "The takbīr initiates the prayer, and its conclusion is the salutation." This clarifies that the additional salutation is either from someone after Ibn Masʿūd or abrogated according to his view. The entire evidence lies in the command of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—regarding the salutation to conclude the prayer. As for those who deem a single salutation sufficient and disapprove of additions, they cite reports—among them—the narration through Abū al-Muṣʿab from al-Darāwardī via Saʿd. Yet what is established through Saʿd's chain is that "he—peace be upon him—performed two salutations." They also cite weak athar—such as the chain through Muḥammad ibn al-Faraj from Muḥammad ibn Yūnus; both are unknown or mursal through al-Ḥasan's chain—or through Muḥammad ibn Zuhayr (who is weak) or Ibn Lahīʿah (who is unreliable). Even if these were authentic, the narrations about two salutations would constitute an addition, warranting preference for their adoption. If one cites the ḥadīth of Jābir ibn Samurah: "When we prayed with the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—we would say, 'Peace be upon you and Allah's mercy, peace be upon you and Allah's mercy,' gesturing to both sides. The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said: 'Why do you gesture like the flicking tails of skittish horses? It suffices to place your hand on your thigh and salute your brother to your right and left.'" ʿAlī remarked: "If this pertains to the salutation concluding the prayer, it is undoubtedly abrogated by his statement—peace and blessings be upon him—'This prayer permits no human speech.'" This ruling is uncontested within the Ummah as definitively established. Some claimed its restriction to specific circumstances, but since it is so, it abrogates the prior permissibility of exchanging salutations during prayer. Thus, it is confirmed as abrogated—and success is from Allah alone.[70]

L6481–6482 A jurisprudential issue concerning forgetting something from the prayer.

L6483 Issue 377: If anyone forgets any of the aforementioned obligations and then bows, it becomes obligatory upon him to invalidate that rakʿah. A follower must make it up after the imam concludes the prayer. Similarly, both the individual worshipper and the imam must discard that rakʿah and complete their prayers. All of them are required to perform the prostration of forgetfulness because they failed to perform the rakʿah as commanded. Whatever the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—instructed to be performed in a specific part of the prayer may not be performed elsewhere, based on Allah's words: "Whoever transgresses Allah's limits has wronged himself" [65:1].[71]

L6485 378. Issue: It is not permissible to intentionally speak with anyone during prayer, neither with the Imam to correct the prayer nor with others. If one does so, their prayer becomes invalid. Even if someone says during their prayer, “May Allah have mercy on you, O so-and-so,” their prayer is invalidated. Abdullah ibn al-Rabi‘ narrated to us; Muhammad ibn Ishaq narrated to us; Ibn al-A‘rabi narrated to us; Abu Dawud narrated to us; Musa ibn Isma‘il narrated to us; Aban (who is Ibn Yazid al-‘Attar) narrated to us; ‘Asim (who is Ibn Abi al-Najūd) narrated from Abu Wa’il from Ibn Mas‘ud, who said: “We used to greet others during prayer and request our needs. Then I came to the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—while he was praying. I greeted him, but he did not respond. I was seized by what had preceded and what had happened. When the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—completed his prayer, he said: ’Allah decrees in His command as He wills, and Allah has now ordained that you must not speak during prayer.’ Then he returned my greeting.”

A legal question: No one may issue a fatwa to the Imam except regarding the Mother of the Quran (Surah Al-Fatiha).

[مَسْأَلَةٌ لَا يَجُوزُ لِأَحَدٍ أَنْ يُفْتِيَ الْإِمَامَ إلَّا فِي أُمِّ الْقُرْآنِ وَحْدَهَا]

L6486–6487

L6488 Issue 379: It is not permissible for anyone to advise the Imam jurisprudentially except regarding the Mother of the Quran alone. If the recitation becomes unclear to the Imam, he should bow in rukūʿ or switch to another surah. Whoever intentionally advises him jurisprudentially while knowing this is impermissible invalidates his prayer. The proof for this is what we have cited with its chain of transmission from the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him): “Do you recite behind the Imam?” They said, “Yes.” He responded, “Do not do so except with the Mother of the Quran.” Thus, whoever advises the Imam jurisprudentially must fall into one of two scenarios: either he intended it to be Quranic recitation, or he did not intend it as Quranic recitation.

L6489–6490 If he intended thereby the recitation of the Quran, this is impermissible because the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—prohibited the follower from reciting any part of the Quran except the Mother of the Quran. If he did not intend thereby the recitation of ٣٧٩ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَلَا يَجُوزُ لِأَحَدٍ أَنْ يُفْتِيَ الْإِمَامَ إلَّا فِي أُمِّ الْقُرْآنِ وَحْدَهَا. فَإِنْ الْتَبَسَتْ الْقِرَاءَةُ عَلَى الْإِمَامِ فَلْيَرْكَعْ، أَوْ فَلْيَنْتَقِلْ إلَى سُورَةٍ أُخْرَى، فَمَنْ تَعَمَّدَ إفْتَاءَهُ وَهُوَ يَدْرِي أَنَّ ذَلِكَ لَا يَجُوزُ لَهُ بَطَلَتْ صَلَاتُهُ بُرْهَانُ ذَلِكَ -: مَا قَدْ ذَكَرْنَاهُ بِإِسْنَادِهِ مِنْ قَوْلِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - «أَتَقْرَءُونَ خَلْفِي قَالُوا: نَعَمْ، قَالَ: فَلَا تَفْعَلُوا إلَّا بِأُمِّ الْقُرْآنِ» فَوَجَبَ أَنَّ مَنْ أَفْتَى الْإِمَامَ لَا يَخْلُو مِنْ أَحَدِ وَجْهَيْنِ: إمَّا أَنْ يَكُونَ قَصَدَ بِهِ قِرَاءَةَ الْقُرْآنِ، أَوْ لَمْ يَقْصِدْ بِهِ قِرَاءَةَ الْقُرْآنِ.

فَإِنْ كَانَ قَصَدَ بِهِ قِرَاءَةَ الْقُرْآنِ فَهَذَا لَا يَجُوزُ، لِأَنَّ رَسُولَ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - نَهَى أَنْ يَقْرَأَ الْمَأْمُومُ شَيْئًا مِنْ الْقُرْآنِ حَاشَا أُمِّ الْقُرْآنِ. إنْ كَانَ لَمْ يَقْصِدْ بِهِ قِرَاءَةَ

the Quran, this is impermissible because it constitutes speech during prayer, and the Prophet—peace be upon him—informed that no speech of people is appropriate within it. This is the opinion of Ali ibn Abi Talib and others, and according to this, Abu Hanifah holds. If they cite the narration we narrated through the chain of Yahya ibn Kathir al-Asadi from al-Miswar ibn Yazid al-Asadi, "that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—forgot a verse during prayer, and when he concluded the prayer, a man reminded him of it, so he said to him: 'Why did you not remind me of it?'" then this aligns with the established principle of the permissibility of recitation in prayer. We know with certainty that the Prophet's prohibition—peace and blessings of Allah be upon him—against reciting anything behind the Imam except the Mother of the Quran abrogates that and prohibits it. It is impermissible to revert to an abrogated state based on a false claim of its revival.

A legal issue concerning speaking absentmindedly during prayer.

380 - Issue: If someone speaks absentmindedly during prayer, their prayer remains complete regardless of whether the speech was little or much, and they are only required to perform the prostration of sahw. The same applies if they spoke out of unawareness [of the ruling]. Abū Ḥanīfah said: "Speech in prayer—whether intentional or inadvertent—is equivalent: it invalidates the prayer in both cases." He held that intentionally offering the salām in prayer invalidates it, but does not invalidate it if done inadvertently. This is a contradiction, and the proof for the validity of our position is Allah's statement, the Almighty: "There is no blame on you for what you commit by mistake, but only for what your hearts deliberately intend" (Al-Aḥzāb: 5).

Aḥmad ibn ʿUmar ibn Anas narrated to us: Al-Ḥusayn ibn ʿAbdillāh al-Jurjānī narrated to us: ʿAbd al-Razzāq ibn Aḥmad ibn ʿAbd al-Ḥamīd al-Shīrāzī informed us: Fāṭimah bint al-Ḥasan ibn al-Rayyān al-Makhzūmī—the copyist of Bakkār ibn Quṭaybah the judge—informed us. al-Awzāʿī from ʿAṭāʾ ibn Abī Rabāḥ from ʿUbayd ibn ʿUmayr from Ibn ʿAbbās, who said: The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said, "Allah has overlooked for my nation what occurs due to error, forgetfulness, and what they are compelled to do."

ʿAbdullāh ibn Yūsuf narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Fatḥ narrated to us: ʿAbd al-Wahhāb ibn ʿĪsā narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn ʿAlī narrated to us: Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj narrated to us: Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated to us: Ismāʿīl ibn Ibrāhīm—that is, Ibn ʿUlayyah—narrated to us from Ḥajjāj al-Ṣawwāf from Yaḥyā ibn Abī Kathīr from Hilāl ibn Abī Maymūnah from ʿAṭāʾ ibn Yasār from Muʿāwiyah ibn al-Ḥakam al-Sulamī, who said: "While I was praying with the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him), a man sneezed. I said, 'May Allah have mercy on you.' The people gave me disapproving looks, so I said, 'Woe to me! Why are you all staring at me?' They began striking their hands against their thighs." When I saw them silencing me, I remained quiet. When the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) concluded his prayer—by my father and mother, I swear I have never seen a teacher before him or after him more excellent in instruction than he—by Allah, he neither rebuked me, struck me, nor reviled me. He said, "Verily, this prayer is not suited for any human speech. It is only glorification, magnification, and recitation of the Qur'an"—or as the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said.[7273]

L6496 Ali said: This hadith invalidates the opinion of Abū Ḥanīfah because it contains that speech occurred with certainty after the prohibition of speaking during prayer, yet the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—did not invalidate his prayer. If it is objected: "Nor did he command him to perform the prostration of forgetfulness," we reply: The ruling that prostration is required for additions to or omissions from prayer is well-established. Therefore, it is obligatory to apply this ruling to the present case necessarily. ʿAbdullāh ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us; Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us; Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb narrated to us; Ibrāhīm ibn Yaʿqūb informed me; al-Ḥasan ibn Mūsā narrated to us; Shaybān narrated to us; Yaḥyā ibn Abī

Kathīr narrated from Abū Salamah (the son of ʿAbd al-Raḥmān) from Abū Hurayrah, who said: “While I was praying the Dhuhr prayer with the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—he pronounced the salām (concluded the prayer) after two rakʿahs. A man from Banū Sulaym stood and said: ’O Messenger of Allah, has the prayer been shortened or have you forgotten?’ The Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—responded: ’It has not been shortened, nor have I forgotten.’ The man said: ’O Messenger of Allah, you only prayed two rakʿahs.’ The Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—asked: ’Is what Dhū al-Yadayn says true?’ They answered: ’Yes.’ Thereupon the Messenger of Allah—peace be upon him—stood and prayed two rakʿahs with them.”

L6497–6499 Ali said: Two schools made a mistake in this report: the first - the followers of Abu Hanifah, and the second - Ibn al-Qasim and those who concurred with him. As for the adherents of Abū Ḥanīfah, they said: Perhaps this report predated the prohibition of speech during prayer. They also claimed: The man in question was slain on the Day of Badr—as mentioned by Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyab and al-Zuhrī. They seized upon a phrase used by some narrators of the report—“The Messenger of Allah (may Allah bless him and grant him peace) led us in prayer”—asserting: This is a report that he prayed for the Muslims. ʻAlī said: All of this is invalid, deception, and false conjecture. As for their claim that it might have preceded the prohibition of speech, this is invalid, for the prohibition of speech during prayer was definitively established before the Day of Badr. ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʻAbd Allāh ibn Khālid narrated from Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad from al-Farbarī from al-Bukhārī from Ibn Numayr from Ibn Fuḍayl (who is Muḥammad) from al-Aʿmash, from Ibrāhīm al-Nakhaʿī from ʻAlqamah, from ʻAbd Allāh ibn Masʿūd, who said: “We used to greet the Messenger of Allah (may Allah bless him and grant him peace) during prayer, and he would respond. But after returning from the Negus, we greeted him and he did not respond, saying: ʻPrayer demands full attention.’” There is no dispute that Ibn Masʿūd witnessed Badr after returning from Abyssinia. Abū Hurayrah and ʻImrān ibn al-Ḥuṣayn—both of whom embraced Islam late—narrate the incident of Dhū al-Yadayn, though their conversion occurred over a decade after Badr, as did Muʿāwiyah ibn

Khadīj's. As for their assertion that the man was killed at Badr, this is a feeble distortion for several reasons: First, the primary source cited is Ibn al-Musayyab, who was not born until ten-odd years after Badr.[74]

[74]Hadith references (L6497): Sahih al-Bukhari 1168; Sahih al-Bukhari 1224; Sunan an-Nasai 1222.

L6500–6501 The second is that the one slain on the day of Badr was Dhū al-Shimālayn, whose name was ʿAbd ʿAmr and his lineage was al-Khuzāʿī, while the one who addressed the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—was Dhū al-Yadayn, whose name was al-Khirbāq and his lineage was Sulamī. As for their claim that Abū Hurayrah's statement "The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—prayed for us" is merely a report about his prayer with the Muslims among whom Abū Hurayrah was present—this is false. Abū Hurayrah's earlier statement, which we mentioned—"While I was praying with the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him"—demonstrates the falsity of their assertion. If they argue: "We analogized forgetfulness in speech to deliberate act," reply to them: All analogy is invalid. Even if analogy were valid, this would be the essence of invalidity, for proponents of analogy unanimously agree that a thing is only analogized to its equivalent, not its opposite, and forgetfulness is the opposite of deliberate intent. Then ask them: Why did you not analogize speech in prayer due to forgetfulness to the greeting in prayer due to forgetfulness, as that is more analogous? For both are speech; what rationale did they employ to differentiate between them? The distinction between unintentional speech and deliberate speech is far clearer and more evident—and with Allah, the Exalted, lies all success. As for Ibn al-Qāsim and those who concurred with him, they used this report to permit people's speech with the Imam to correct the prayer.[1]

L6502–6504 Ali—peace be upon him—said: This is erroneous, for the people only addressed the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—and the intentional speech with him—peace and blessings be upon him—does not invalidate the prayer whatsoever. He—peace and blessings be upon him—spoke to them while assuming his prayer had concluded and that speech was permissible for him. Similarly, people conversed with one another that day while believing the prayer had been shortened and concluded.

Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad ibn al-Jasūr narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn ʿAbd Allāh ibn Abī Dulaym narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Waḍḍāḥ narrated to us:

[1] Hadith references (L6501): Sahih al-Bukhari 1168; Sahih al-Bukhari 1224; Sunan an-Nasai 1222.

Abū Bakr ibn Abī Shaybah narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Jaʿfar Ghundar—from Shuʿbah, from Ḥabīb ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān, from Ḥafṣ ibn ʿĀṣim, from Abī Saʿīd ibn al-Muʿallā—who said:

"I was praying when the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—saw me and summoned me. I did not approach him until I completed my prayer. He said: 'What prevented you from responding to me?' I replied: 'I was praying.' He said: 'Did Allah the Exalted not state: O you who believe, respond to Allah and the Messenger when he calls you [8:24]?'" Then he mentioned the remainder of the hadith. This confirms that this [ruling] was after the prohibition of speech during prayer, evidenced by Abu Sa'id's refusal to respond to the Prophet (peace be upon him) until the Prophet completed the prayer. It also confirms that speaking to the Prophet (peace be upon him) during prayer is permissible - a matter specific to him. In this ruling lies the application of the wording's general sense, along with the consensus of Islam's scholars endowed with certainty that a worshipper states "Peace be upon you, O Prophet" during prayer. Contemporary opponents from our adversaries do not dispute that whoever intentionally says "Peace be upon you, O so-and-so" during prayer renders his prayer invalid. And success comes from Allah, the Exalted.[2]

L6505 Issue: It is impermissible for a worshipper to tuck his garments with the intention [of doing so] for prayer.

L6506 381 – Issue: It is not permissible for a person praying to gather his garments or gather his hair intending that for prayer, due to the statement of the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—that we cited earlier with its chain of transmission: "I have been commanded to prostrate on seven limbs and not to tuck my hair or garments."

L6507 A ruling: It is incumbent upon the worshiper to lower his gaze from all that which it is unlawful for him to look at.

L6508 Issue 382: It is obligatory upon the one praying to lower his gaze from everything it is impermissible to look at, based on Allah's statement: "Tell the believing men to lower their gaze and guard their private parts" (24:30) and "And tell the believing women to lower their gaze and guard their private parts" (24:31). Whoever commits a forbidden act during his prayer and thereby neglects it has not performed the prayer as he was commanded, and thus there is no valid prayer for him, as he has not fulfilled the prayer he was obligated to perform. And success is from Allah, the Exalted. It has been reported from Mālik that if someone intentionally gazes at the awrah of a person during his prayer, his prayer is invalidated.[3]

Issue: The worshipper should not laugh or smile intentionally [during prayer].

383 - Issue: It is obligated upon him not to laugh or smile intentionally. If he does so, his prayer is invalidated; but if it occurs unintentionally, only the prostration of forgetfulness is required. As for loud laughter, there is consensus [that it invalidates prayer]. Regarding smiling, Allah the Exalted says: {And stand before Allah in devotion} [Al-Baqarah 2:238]. Devotion entails humility, and smiling is a form of laughter. Allah, the Mighty and Majestic, states: {So he smiled, laughing at her speech} [An-Naml 27:19]. Whoever laughs during prayer has not been humble, and whoever is not humble has not prayed as commanded. It is narrated from Muhammad ibn Sirin that when he was asked about smiling in prayer, he recited this verse and said: "I do not consider smiling to be anything other than laughter." From the narration of Al-Qasim ibn Muhammad ibn Abi Bakr: He instructed his companions to repeat the prayer due to laughter. Ali said: "Those who differentiate between loud laughter and smiling do so based on juristic preference, distinguishing between significant and minor actions. This is invalid, a distinction without evidence except baseless claim. Laughter is either permissible or prohibited in prayer. If prohibited, both minor and major instances are

L6513 384 - Issue: That one should not wipe the pebbles or what one prostrates upon except once, and leaving it is better. However, one should smooth the place of prostration before commencing the prayer. ʿAbdullāh ibn Yūsuf narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Fatḥ narrated to us: ʿAbd al-Wahhāb ibn ʿĪsā narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn ʿAlī narrated to us: Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn al-Muthannā narrated to us: Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān narrated to us from Hishām al-Dastuwā'ī: Ibn Abī Kathīr—that is, Yaḥyā—narrated to me from Abū Salamah ibn ʿAbd al-Raḥmān from Muʿayqīb: "They asked the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—about wiping during prayer, and he said: 'Once.'"

L6514–6515 Muslim said: Abu Bakr ibn Abi Shaybah narrated to us, al-Hasan ibn Musa narrated to us, Shayban narrated to us from Yahya (Ibn Abi Kathir), from Abu Salama ibn Abd al-Rahman: Muʿaiqib narrated to me that the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—said concerning a man who levels the ground where he prostrates: "If you must do it, then once."

L6516 Issue: A dog passing in front of the worshipper—whether passing by or not passing by—interrupts their prayer.

L6517–6521 385 - Issue: The prayer is invalidated by a dog's presence before the worshipper - whether passing or stationary, small or large, alive or dead. Similarly, the presence of a donkey before him also invalidates it. Likewise, a woman before a man during prayer - whether passing or stationary, young or adult - invalidates it, unless she lies down directly crosswise; in that case, she does not invalidate the prayer. Women do not invalidate one another's prayers. If there exists before the worshipper an object elevated to a forearm's height (equivalent to the back of a traditional Arab saddle, regardless of its thickness), nothing behind the barrier from what we have mentioned invalidates his prayer, nor does anything from all of that above the barrier. Whoever carries a small girl upon his neck during prayer does not invalidate it, whether the worshipper is aware of this or not. Proof of this lies in what ʻAbdullāh ibn Yūsuf narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Fatḥ narrated to us; ʻAbd al-Wahhāb ibn ʻĪsā narrated to us; Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad narrated to us; Aḥmad ibn ʻAlī narrated to us; Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj narrated to us; Isḥāq ibn Ibrāhīm (Ibn Rāhawayh) narrated to us; al-Makhzūmī (Abū Hishām al-Mughīrah ibn Salamah) narrated to us; ʻAbd al-Wāḥid ibn Ziyād narrated to us. ʻUbayd Allah ʻAbd Allah ibn al-Asamm narrated to us: Yazid ibn al-Asamm narrated to us from Abu Hurayrah, who said: The Messenger of Allah – peace be upon him – said: "A woman, a donkey, and a dog invalidate the prayer, and this is prevented by something like the rear part of a saddle." ʻAbd al-Rahman ibn ʻAbd Allah ibn Khalid narrated to us: Ibrahim ibn Ahmad narrated to us, al-Farbari narrated to us, al-Bukhari narrated to us, Musaddad narrated to us, Yahya ibn Saʻid al-Qattan narrated to us from ʻUbayd Allah – he is Ibn ʻUmar – from Nafiʻ, from ʻAbd Allah ibn ʻUmar, who said: "A spear would be planted for the Messenger of Allah – peace be upon him – and he would pray facing it." We have also transmitted through the chain of Shuʻbah from ʻUbayd Allah ibn Abi Bakr ibn Anas, from Anas, from the Messenger of Allah – peace be upon him –: "A dog, a donkey, and a woman invalidate the prayer." If it is said: "You have indeed narrated through the chain of Abu Dharr from the Messenger of Allah – peace be upon him –: 'When one of you stands to pray, it suffices as a screen if there is something like the rear part of a saddle before him. If there is nothing like the rear part of a saddle before him, then his prayer is invalidated by a donkey, a woman, or a black dog,'" we say: Yes. The hadiths of Abu Hurayrah and Anas contain additions to the hadith of Abu Dharr, and the addition... The texts established in the religion from Allah the Almighty necessitate obligatory acceptance. Whoever acts upon this has adhered to the narration of Abu Dharr without contradicting it, for Abu Dharr's narration mentions only the black dog. Yet whoever restricts themselves to Abu Dharr's narration contradicts the narrations of Abu Hurairah and Anas, and this is impermissible. Regarding a woman lying across [the path] not invalidating the prayer: Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us, saying: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us from Abdul Wahhab ibn Isa, from Ahmad ibn Ali, from Muslim al-Hajjaj, from Umar ibn Hafs ibn Ghiyath, from his father, from al-A'mash, from Ibrahim al-Nakha'i - and Muslim, who is Abu al-Duha - both narrating from Masruq, from Aishah: "By Allah, I indeed saw Allah's Messenger - peace and blessings be upon him - praying while I lay on the bed between him and the qiblah. When I needed to relieve myself, I disliked sitting up and disturbing Allah's Messenger - peace and blessings be upon him - so I slipped away from near his feet." Ali said: The Mother of the Believers distinguished between sitting before Allah's Messenger - peace and blessings be upon him - during his prayer, which she reported as being disturbing to him, and reclining before him during his prayer which she did not consider disturbing. This constitutes the explicit text of our position, and all praise is to Allah. We have mentioned Allah's Messenger's - peace and blessings be upon him - prayer while carrying Umamah bint Abi al-As on his neck, thereby excluding what the explicit text excludes and retaining what the explicit text retains.[5]

L6522–6525 A group of the early predecessors held this opinion. It was narrated to us through the chain of al-Ḥajjāj ibn al-Minhāl: Sufyān ibn ʿUyaynah narrated to us from ʿUbaydullāh ibn Abī Yazīd that he heard Ibn ʿAbbās say: "The prayer is invalidated by a dog and a woman." Through the chain of Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān: Shuʿbah narrated to us from Qatādah, who said: I heard Jābir ibn Zayd report that Ibn ʿAbbās said: "The prayer is invalidated by a dog, a donkey, and a woman." These two chains are the most authentic that can be found. Through the chain of Shuʿbah from ʿUbaydullāh ibn Abī Bakr ibn Anas from Anas ibn Mālik, who said: "The prayer is invalidated by a dog, a donkey, and a woman." Through the chain of al-Ḥajjāj ibn al-Minhāl: Ḥammād ibn Salamah narrated to us from Ḥumayd from Bakr ibn ʿAbdillāh al-Muzanī, who said: "I was praying beside Ibn ʿUmar when a puppy entered between us. It passed before me, so Ibn ʿUmar told me: 'You must repeat your prayer, but I will not repeat mine, for it did not pass before me.'" Through the chain of Yaḥyā ibn Saʿīd al-Qaṭṭān from Sulaymān al-Taymī from Bakr ibn ʿAbdillāh al-Muzanī: "A puppy passed before Ibn ʿUmar, invalidating his prayer." This too is an impeccably authentic chain. Through the chain of ʿAlī ibn al-Madīnī: Muʿādh ibn Hishām al-Dastuwāʾī narrated to us from his father from Qatādah from Zurārah ibn Awfā from Saʿd ibn Hishām from ʿĀmir from Abū Hurayrah, who said: "The prayer is invalidated by a dog, a donkey, and a woman." Through the chain of ʿAbdullāh ibn al-Mubārak: Sulaymān ibn al-Mughīrah narrated to me from Ḥumayd ibn Hilāl from ʿAbdullāh ibn al-Ṣāmit, who said: "Al-Ḥakam ibn ʿAmr al-Ghifārī led people in prayer during a journey with a sutrah in front of them. When donkeys passed before his companions, he had them redo the prayer." From the path of Hammad ibn Salamah through Humayd, from al-Hasan ibn Muslim al-Makki, from Safiyyah bint Shaybah, from Aisha, the Mother of the Believers, who said: "You have placed us women in the same category as dogs and donkeys. Truly, what invalidates prayer are the dog, the donkey, and the domestic cat." From the path of Sufyan ibn Uyaynah through al-Zuhri, from Salim, that Abdullah ibn Abbas said: "What invalidates prayer are the dog and the donkey." This is the statement of Ata and Ibn Jurayj, except they specified the black dog and the menstruating woman. From Ikrimah: "What invalidates prayer are the dog and the menstruating woman." From the path of Shuʿbah through Ziyad ibn Fayyad, who said: "I heard Abu al-Ahwaz—the companion of Ibn Masʿud—say: 'What invalidates prayer are the dog, the woman, and the donkey.'" Ahmad ibn Hanbal said: "What invalidates prayer are the black dog, the donkey, and the woman, unless she is lying down." Ali said: "Abu Hanifah, Malik, and al-Shafiʿi said: 'None of these aforementioned entities invalidates prayer.' We know of no evidence they cite except the hadith of Aisha, yet it is a proof against them as we have presented."

A ḥadīth we have narrated through the chain of Ibn Abbas: “I approached riding a she-donkey when I was nearing the age of puberty, while the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - was leading people in prayer at Mina. I passed in front of the prayer row, dismounted, released the she-donkey to graze, and joined the row. No one censured this action.” Ali said: “This contains no valid evidence for several reasons. First: What Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us: Ahmad ibn Fath narrated from Abdul-Wahhab ibn Isa, from Ahmad ibn Muhammad, from Ahmad ibn Ali, from Muslim ibn al-Hajjaj, from Muhammad ibn al-Muthanna, from Muhammad ibn Ja’far, from Shu’bah, from al-Hakam - who is Ibn Utaybah - who said: I heard Abu Juhaifah state: ’The Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - emerged at midday to al-Batha’, performed ablution, prayed Dhuhr as two units with a short spear before him.”’ Awn ibn Abi Juhaifah added from his father: “A donkey and a woman would pass behind it.” Through the same chain to Muslim: Ubaydullah ibn Mu’adh ibn Mu’adh al-Anbari narrated from Ubayy, from Shu’bah, from Ya’la - who is Ibn Ata’ - who heard Aba Alqamah relate from Abu Hurairah, who said: The Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - declared: “The Imam serves as a sutra. When he prays seated, pray seated.” Ali said: “Therefore, anything that does not interpose between the Imam and the congregation from the aforementioned categories does not invalidate the prayer, for the Imam constitutes a sutra for all worshippers. Even if the prayer row extended for leagues, the decisive proof lies in the indubitable consensus that the Imam’s sutra means no one among the congregation members is required to establish another sutra. The entire congregation suffices with the short spear toward which the Prophet - peace be upon him - prayed. Ibn Abbas’s she-donkey neither passed between the people and the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - nor between the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - and his sutra.” Additionally, it has been established from Ibn Abbas — as we previously mentioned — that a donkey, a woman, and a dog interrupt the prayer. Our understanding of them is that they say: "The Companion narrator is more knowledgeable regarding what he narrates." Then, even if a narration contrary to this were sound — though it is unsound — what Abu Hurairah, Anas, and Abu Dharr reported would undoubtedly be the abrogator, due to what they adhered to prior to the arrival of what they narrated. They mentioned two reports: The first — through the chain of Al-Abbas ibn Ubayd Allah ibn Al-Abbas, from Al-Fadl ibn Al-Abbas — states: "The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) visited Al-Abbas and prayed while a female donkey and a small female dog were in front of him." Ali said: "This is false, for Al-Abbas ibn Ubayd Allah did not meet his uncle Al-Fadl." The second report is through the chain of Mujalid, from Abu al-Waddak, from Abu Sa'id al-Khudri, that the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) said: "Nothing interrupts the prayer. Prevent what you can." Ali said: "Abu al-Waddak is weak, and Mujalid is likewise." Even if all this were authentic, it would not necessitate adopting one narration over the other except with clear evidence, not through desire or caprice. If these reports were authentic — and they are not — the ruling of the Prophet (peace be upon him) would be that... The dog, the donkey, and the woman invalidate the prayer— this constitutes the definitive abrogator that replaces the prior position they held, which stated that no animal invalidates prayer, just as the horse, the cat, the pig, and others do not invalidate it. Thus, it is an evident falsehood, and abandoning the definitive abrogator while adhering to the definitively abrogated ruling is impermissible. It is impossible for the abrogated state to return unless he, peace be upon him, clarifies its reinstatement. Some opponents argued using Allah's words: "To Him ascends the good word, and the righteous deed raises it" (35:10), asking: "What invalidates this?" Ali responded: "These troublemakers invalidate it:" A man's kissing his wife, touching his penis, or urine exceeding a Baghlī dirham's volume invalidate the prayer. Universally, deliberate passing of wind from the anus invalidates it. As for women, the Prophet (peace be upon him) informed us that the best of their rows is the last, thus it is established that their actions do not invalidate each other's prayers—and with Allah, the Most High, is success.[67]

L6535–6539 386 - Issue: It is not permissible for one praying to raise their gaze toward the sky, nor even during supplication outside of prayer as well. Abdullah ibn Yusuf narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Fath narrated to us; Abd al-Wahhab ibn Isa narrated to us; Ahmad ibn Muhammad narrated to us. Ahmad ibn Ali narrated to us: Ibn al-Hajjaj narrated to us: Abu Kurayb narrated to us: Abu Mu'awiyah narrated to us from al-A'mash from al-Musayyib ibn Rafi' from Tamim ibn Tarafah from Jabir ibn Samurah, who said: The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) said: "Let those who raise their gaze to the sky during prayer desist, or their sight will not return to them." It was also narrated to us through a sound chain from Anas, Ibn 'Umar, and Abu Hurayrah. Muhammad ibn Sa'id ibn Nubat narrated to us: Ibn Mufarrij narrated to us: 'Abdullah ibn Ja'far ibn al-Ward narrated to us: Yahya ibn Ayyub ibn Badi al-'Allaf narrated to us: Yahya - meaning Ibn Bukayr - narrated to us: al-Layth ibn Sa'd narrated to us from Ja'far ibn Rabi'ah from 'Irak ibn Malik and al-A'raj, both of whom narrated from Abu Hurayrah that the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) said: "Let people desist from raising their gaze to the sky during supplication until their sight is snatched away." 'Ali said: "This constitutes a severe threat, and threats are only issued for major forbidden sins - not for a permissible but disliked act, nor for a minor sin that may be forgiven." A group of the pious predecessors held this view - as was narrated to us through the chain of 'Abd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi from Sufyan al-Thawri from Ziyad from Fayyad from Tamim ibn Salamah, who said: Ibn Mas'ud saw people raising their gaze to the sky during prayer and declared: "Let those who raise their gaze during prayer desist, or [text cut off]..." It returns to them. He also said: "Or does none of you fear that if he raises his head before the Imam, Allah the Exalted might transform his head into a dog's head?" Through the narration of Hammad ibn Salama from Imran ibn Hudayr from Abu Mijlaz, who said: “Does not the one who raises his gaze to the sky fear that his sight might be snatched away? Do I not see that angels used to descend?” Ali said: “It is astonishing that Hanafis invalidate the prayer of one who prays behind an Imam while a woman prays following that Imam’s prayer beside him - though he is unable to remove her - and the prayer of one who speaks forgetfully during his prayer. Malikis invalidate the prayer of one who prays after performing ablution with water in which bread was soaked. Shafi’is invalidate the prayer of one who prays with a hair from his own hair that has fallen from his beard or head on his clothes. Yet no text or evidence has ever come indicating the invalidation of any of these prayers. Meanwhile, they permit the prayer of one who intentionally performs during his prayer an act explicitly prohibited by authentic texts, despite severe warnings against it. Success is by Allah, the Exalted.”[8]

[مَسْأَلَةٌ صَلَّتْ امْرَأَةٌ إلَى جَنْبِ رَجُلٍ لَا تَأْتَمُّ بِهِ وَلَا بِإِمَامِهِ]

L6541–6543 387. Issue: If a woman prays beside a man without following him or his imam, this is permissible. If he does not intend to lead her in prayer while she intends this, his prayer remains complete and her prayer becomes void. If he intends to lead her in prayer while she is capable of moving back from him, both their prayers become invalid. If they are both following as congregants behind a single imam, and neither she nor he is able to find another spot, their prayers remain complete. If she is able to delay [her position] while he is unable to make her stay back, her prayer becomes invalid while his prayer remains valid. If he could make her stay back but did not do so, the prayers of both become invalid. ibn Anas ibn Mālik from his father, who said: “Allah’s Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—prayed with me and a woman from my household. He placed me on my right side, and the woman stood behind us.” Abdullah ibn Rabīʿ narrated to us: Muḥammad ibn Muʿāwiyah narrated to us: Aḥmad ibn Shuʿayb narrated to us: Quṭaybah ibn Saʿīd narrated to us: Mālik ibn Anas narrated from Isḥāq ibn ʿAbdullāh ibn Abī Ṭalḥah from Anas ibn Mālik that Allah’s Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—led them in prayer. Anas said: “The orphan and I formed a row behind him, and the elderly woman stood behind us. He prayed two rakʿahs for us and then left.” Thus, it is confirmed that the placement of a woman, two women, or more must necessarily be behind men—never alongside a single man or in front of him—and that the placement of a man, two men, or more must necessarily be in front of a woman, two women, or more. Whoever exceeds the position Allah the Exalted has commanded through the tongue of His Messenger—peace and blessings be upon him—to pray in, and prays where Allah has prohibited, has disobeyed Allah—Majestic and Exalted—in that act and has not fulfilled the prayer Allah ordained. Disobedience cannot compensate for obedience. This is the view of Abū Ḥanīfah and some followers of Abū Sulaymān. As for one who is incapable of occupying the commanded position and cannot do otherwise, Allah the Exalted has said: “He has detailed for you what He has forbidden to you, except when compelled by necessity” (Quran 6:119). And the Prophet—peace be upon him—said: “When I command you to do something, fulfill it as much as you are able.”[9] mad ibn Sirin, from Abu Hurayrah, who said: “Placing hands on the flanks in prayer was prohibited.” Abdullah ibn Rabi’ narrated to us from Muhammad ibn Mu’awiyah, from Ahmad ibn Shu’ayb, from Suwayd ibn Nasr, from Abdullah ibn al-Mubarak, from Hisham ibn Hassan, from Muhammad ibn Sirin, from Abu Hurayrah, that the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - forbade a man from praying while placing hands on his flanks.

Ali said: It is established that the first prohibition is from the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him. It is also confirmed that he - peace be upon him - stated: “Whoever performs an act not in accordance with our teachings, it is rejected.” This is the view of a group among the early predecessors.

As transmitted to us through Waki’ from al-A’mash, from Abu al-Duha, from Masruq, from Aisha, the Mother of the Believers: She said regarding placing hands on the flanks during prayer: “The practice of the Jews,” and she disliked it. From Waki’ from Thawr ibn Zayd, from Khalid ibn Ma’dan, from Aisha, the Mother of the Believers: She saw a man in prayer with his hand on his flank and said: “This is how the people of Hellfire are positioned in the Fire.” From Waki’ from Sa’id ibn Ziyad ibn Subayh al-Hanafi, who said: “I prayed beside Ibn Umar...” I placed my hand on my waist; when he prayed, he said: “This is crossing the hands on the waist in prayer,” as the Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—prohibited it. From Ibn Abbas: he disliked placing the hand on the waist during prayer and said: “Satan attends him.” Through the chain of Sufyan al-Thawri from Salih ibn Nabhan: I heard Abu Huraira saying: “When one of you stands for prayer, let him not place his hand on his waist, for Satan attends that act.”

As for leaning on the hand: Hammam narrated to us from Ibn Mufarrij, who narrated from Ibn al-A’rabi, who narrated from al-Dabari, who narrated from Abd al-Razzaq, from Ismail ibn Umayya, from Nafi’, from Ibn Umar, who said: “The Messenger of Allah—peace and blessings be upon him—forbade a man from sitting in prayer while leaning on his hand.” Abd al-Razzaq said: Ibrahim ibn Maysara informed me that he heard Amr ibn al-Sharid reporting from the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—: “Regarding a man placing his left hand under his thigh when sitting in prayer, he said: 'It is the sitting posture of those who incurred divine wrath.'"

Ali said: "It is authentically established from him—peace and blessings be upon him—that he said: 'Pray as you see me pray.' Whoever prays contrary to his manner—peace and blessings be upon him—whether a man or a woman, has performed a prayer other than what Allah the Exalted commanded. Thus, it is not valid. Leaning on the hand during prayer contradicts the Prophet's prayer—peace and blessings be upon him—as agreed by all scholars. It was narrated to us through the chain of Nafi' from Ibn Umar that he said to a man: 'What causes you to sit in your prayer with the sitting posture of those who incurred divine wrath?'" Those who have incurred wrath, and he had seen him leaning on his hands.[10]

L6552 Fulfilling the prescribed number of rak'ahs and prostrations is obligatory, and the prayer is not valid without it.

L6553–6555 Issue 389: Performing the prescribed number of rak'ahs and prostrations is obligatory, and the prayer remains incomplete without them. Each standing position requires one bowing followed by one rising, then two prostrations with a sitting interval between them. There is no disagreement among anyone in the Ummah regarding this. If one forgets a single prostration and stands up on his own to proceed to a second rak'ah, the first rak'ah remains incomplete, and his transition to the second becomes null and void. If done deliberately while conscious of the omission, his prayer is invalidated. Even subsequent bowing and rising would be invalid, as these acts were performed out of their proper place through forgetfulness - though forgetfulness is excused. Only upon completing both prostrations does the rak'ah become valid.

If one omitted a prostration in every rak'ah of his prayer - whether in Fajr, Friday prayer, Dhuhr, Asr, or Isha during travel - one valid rak'ah remains. He must perform another rak'ah followed by the prostration of forgetfulness. In Maghrib prayer, the ruling applies similarly: he performs one prostration, then stands for the second rak'ah. Upon completing it, he sits, rises for the third rak'ah, then performs the prostration of forgetfulness. For Dhuhr, Asr, or Isha in non-travel circumstances, two rak'ahs remain valid as established. He must perform two additional rak'ahs followed by the prostration of forgetfulness.

The evidence lies in Allah's decree: "I will not allow the deed of any doer among you to be lost, whether male or female" (3:195), and the Prophet's (peace be upon him) declaration: "Whoever introduces into this matter of ours that which is not part of it, it is rejected." Thus, any act performed in its proper place as commanded by the Messenger (peace be upon him) is valid, while any act displaced from its ordained position is rejected. This constitutes our explicit doctrine, all praise to Allah. Al-Shafi'i, Dawud, and others upheld this view. Malik held that the standing, bowing, rising, and performed prostration of the first rak'ah are entirely invalidated, with only the second rak'ah considered valid. This is erroneous due to what we have mentioned, because he counted as valid for him a corrupt standing, corrupt bowing, and corrupt rising - he placed all these where impermissible for him. Had he placed them intentionally, his prayer would be invalidated without any disagreement. He nullified his standing, bowing, rising, and a prostration he performed in accordance with the Ummah's consensus, while he acted with them as Allah commanded. If it is said: "We intended to prevent any action intervening between the two prostrations," we reply: "Yet you permitted him to interpose between the prayer's commencement and its connected standing and recitation with actions you invalidated. What is the difference when the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - forgetfully interposed between his prayer's acts with elements not part of it: greetings, speech, walking, leaning, and entering his house? None of this invalidated what he had performed of his prayer. Thus, forgetful interposition between them causes no harm." If countered: "He did not intend the prostration to be from the first rak'ah but intended it for the second, and actions depend on intentions," we respond: "This does not invalidate, for the Messenger of Allah - peace and blessings be upon him - intended the sitting from which he concluded the salām as part of the fourth rak'ah when it was actually the second, yet counted it for the second. Similarly, he - peace upon him - instructed those uncertain of their rak'ah count to pray until certain of completion while doubting excess. Such worshippers intend a rak'ah as the third though it might be the fourth, without detriment." We then argue: "This reasoning necessarily applies to your position, for he intended the opening takbīr to follow the rak'ah you invalidated rather than the one you considered first." Abū Ḥanīfah said: "He performs four consecutive prostrations at his prayer's conclusion, thereby completing it." This is utterly corrupt, for he validated four consecutive rak'ahs without completing a single one - this is invalid. Moreover, he permitted consecutive prostrations never commanded by Allah, performed them intentionally opposing Allah's command regarding proper intention, violating the Prophet's injunction - peace and blessings be upon him: "Pray as you have seen me pray."[11][12]

L6556–6557 And to teach him (the Prophet, peace be upon him) the worshipper how to perform prayer, via the transmissions of Abu Hurairah and Rifa'ah ibn Rafi'. We have mentioned all of this with its chain of transmission. They claim to be the people of analogical reasoning and do not differ in that it is impermissible for the worshipper to intentionally perform a prostration before the rakʿah, nor to intentionally perform a bowing before the prostration in the preceding bowing. Then they permit this very act—and success is by Allah, the Most High.

When the man concluded his prayer, Ḥudhayfah told him: “You have not prayed.” ʿAlī said: “Whoever spreads his forearms in prostration without perfecting it - and whoever fails to perfect prostration - has no valid prayer according to Ḥudhayfah. We know of no Companion who disagreed with him in this matter, may Allah be pleased with them all.”[13]

A ruling: It is incumbent upon the worshiper not to spit in the mosque.

Issue 391: It has been ordained that the one praying must not spit in front of himself or to his right, whether during prayer or otherwise. The ruling stipulates that during prayer, he may spit onto his garment, to his left under his foot, or further away to his left—provided he does not discard the spittle within the mosque—or behind him, provided he does not harm anyone thereby. Spitting in the mosque is entirely prohibited, even outside prayer, unless he buries it.

Ḥammām narrated to us: Ibn Mufarrij narrated to us, Ibn al-Aʿrabī narrated to us, ʿAbd al-Razzāq narrated to us: I [narrate] from al-Thawrī—who is Sufyān—from Manṣūr—who is Ibn al-Muʿtamir—from Ribʿī ibn Ḥirāsh, from Ṭāriq ibn ʿAbd Allāh al-Muḥāribī, who said: The Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him—said to me: “When you pray, do not spit in front of you or to your right. Spit toward your left side if it is unoccupied; otherwise, beneath your foot,” and he gestured with his foot, scraping the ground. We were also narrated [this] through the most venerable chain from Shuʿbah: He narrated to us: Qatādah said, “I heard Anas ibn Mālik narrate from the Messenger of Allāh—peace and blessings be upon him”—and he mentioned a similar account. It was narrated from Hammām ibn Munabbih, from Abū Hurayrah, from the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him—and from Ibn ʿUmar, from the Prophet—peace and blessings be upon him.

We were narrated the prohibition of this from Ḥudhayfah and Abū Hurayrah, with no dissenting opinion among the Companions. Allah has been pleased with them. ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn ʻAbd Allāh narrated to us: Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad narrated to us: al-Farbarī narrated to us: al-Bukhārī narrated to us: Ādam narrated to us: Shuʻbah narrated to us: Qatādah said: I heard Anas ibn Mālik say: The Prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) said: “Spitting in the mosque is an offense, and its atonement is to bury it.”

Via the same chain up to al-Bukhārī: Ḥafṣ ibn ʻUmar narrated to us: Shuʻbah narrated to us, informing me from Qatādah: I heard Anas ibn Mālik say: The Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) said: “Let none of you spit directly before him nor to his right, but rather to his left or under his foot.” This applies as a universal ruling encompassing prayer and other situations, with the prayer context being included in this narration.

The pious predecessors upheld all these rulings: - It was narrated to us from Ṭāwūs: Muʻāwiyah spat in the mosque, left, then returned with a torch and began tracking the spittle until he buried it. - From Sufyān al-Thawrī, from Abū Isḥāq al-Sabīʻī, from ʻAbd al-Raḥmān ibn Yazīd: While we were with ʻAbdullāh ibn Masʻūd, he wished to spit but found no empty space on his right. He disliked spitting to his right, and he was not in prayer. From Sufyan al-Thawri, from Khalid al-Hadhdha’, from Abu Nasr, from Abdullah ibn al-Samit, from Muʻadh ibn Jabal: He was ill and said, “I have not spat to my right since embracing Islam.” From Ibn Jurayj: Ibn Nuʻaym informed him that he heard Umar ibn Abd al-Aziz say to his son Abd al-Malik - while he spat to his right during a journey - whereupon Umar prohibited him from doing so, stating: “You harm your companion. Spit to your left.” From Abd al-Rahman ibn Mahdi: al-Mundhir ibn Thaʻlabah narrated to us from Hammam ibn Khunas, who said: “Ibn Umar forbade me from spitting to my right outside prayer.” From Abu Ishaq al-Sabiʻi, who said: “I saw Amr ibn Maymun praying. He wanted to spit but found no space to his left, so he turned behind him and spat out.” From Hammam ibn Yahya, who said: “I entered upon Muhammad ibn Sirin and saw him enter into prayer. He wanted to spit, with the wall to his left, so he turned leftward until he expelled the spittle outside the mosque.” Ali said: “These are a group of Companions

The Issue of Prayer in a Camels' Resting Enclosure

L6569–6575 Issue 392: Prayer is not permissible in a camel watering place (ʿaṭan) – being the location where camels stand upon reaching water and kneel – nor within their daytime grazing grounds (marāḥ) or night enclosures (mabīt). If the place is designated for one or two camels, prayer there is permissible. However, prayer is prohibited if designated for three camels or more. [We later revised this, stating: Prayer is entirely impermissible in any place designated for the kneeling of one male camel or more, or in a watering place designated for one camel or more, as we shall clarify hereafter, God, the Exalted, willing.] Praying facing a camel or upon its back is permissible. If camels cease returning to that place until... If the designation of ʿaṭan ceases to apply to a place, prayer becomes valid there. Whoever prays in an ʿaṭan of camels invalidates his prayer, whether acting intentionally or ignorantly. except sheep folds and camel resting grounds, pray in the sheep folds and do not pray in the camel resting grounds." It was also narrated to us through a chain of the highest authenticity from Al-Bara' ibn Azib and Abdullah ibn Mughaffal—both from the Messenger of Allah (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him). This constitutes a tawātur transmission, yielding definitive knowledge. Some opponents argued by citing the Prophet's authenticated statement: "I was favored over the prophets with six traits," including: "The earth was made a mosque and purification for me. Wherever prayer overtakes you..." As for prayer, then pray." He said: "This is a virtue, and virtues are not abrogated," and he mentioned Allah's statement: {Wherever you are, turn your faces toward it} [Al-Baqarah: 144]. We said: "All of this is true, and abrogation has no place here. It is obligatory to apply all these texts, and there is no way to achieve this except by excepting the lesser from the greater, so that they may all be applied at that time. No Muslim may oppose any part of them or favor some over others based on personal desire." Then we ask the dissenter: "About praying in a latrine or garbage dump—if he is a Shafi'i or Hanafi; about performing obligatory prayer inside the Kaaba—if he is a Maliki; and about praying on usurped land—if he is from our companions, for they prohibit prayer in these places and restrict them from the mentioned verse and the textually established virtue." Allah Almighty said regarding the Mosque of Dirar: {Never stand therein} [At-Tawbah: 108], thus forbidding prayer there though it is part of the earth. This confirms that the virtue remains, and the entire earth is a mosque and pure except where Allah has prohibited prayer. If one says: "The Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him) prayed on his camel and toward his camel," we reply: "Yes, whoever prohibits this is invalidating. Whoever prays on his camel or toward his camel has not prayed in a camel enclosure, and the prohibition relates to this context—not to praying toward a camel." Some have boldly added lies and fabrications against the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him), claiming: "He only prohibited prayer in camel enclosures and watering places due to their disturbance and mixing, or because the herder urinates among them." Ali said: "This is pure falsehood against the Prophet (peace be upon him)—a report of falsehood attributing to him what he never said. If such a statement were attributed to an ordinary person, it would be sinful and immoral—how much more so when attributed to Allah's Messenger! Had he (peace be upon him) intended their interpretation, he would have clarified it. Even if we hypothetically accept their claim—though Allah forbid—the prohibition and forbiddance by that would remain as..." How can they deem it permissible to validate the prohibition while claiming it is due to a reason they cite—then permit what has been authentically forbidden? This is a matter we do not comprehend how it stands, and we seek refuge in Allah from tribulation. It has been narrated to us from 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-'Āṣ that he said: "Do not pray in the watering places of camels." Mālik was asked about one who finds only a camel watering place, and he said: "He should not pray there." It was asked: "What if he spreads a garment over it¿' He replied: "No, even then." Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal said: "Whoever prays in a camel watering place must repeat the prayer perpetually." If it is said: "But it has been narrated from him that he said: 'They were created from devils,'" we respond: Yes, this is true, and we acknowledge this. This does not contradict the Prophet's prohibition—peace be upon him—against praying in their watering places. 'Alī said: "Whether it involves one camel or two, there is no doubt that the place designated for their kneeling—or for one of them—falls under the category of camel kneeling grounds and watering places. Every watering place is a kneeling ground, but not every kneeling ground is a watering place. The watering place refers specifically to the location where camels are tethered upon reaching water, while the kneeling ground is broader, encompassing any place designated for their kneeling at any time. If a location ceases to be termed a watering place or kneeling ground, it is neither, and prayer there becomes permissible." As for our statement: "whether he knew [the ruling] or not"—this is because he performed prayer in an invalid location. Prayer is only valid within specified times and places. If not performed in its designated time and place, it is not the prayer Allah has commanded; rather, it is invalid. Success is attained solely through Allah, the Most High.[15]

رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - فَقَالَ: إِنَّمَا نَهَى عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ فِي مَعَاطِنِهَا وَمَبَارِكِهَا لِنِفَارِهَا وَاخْتِلَاطِهَا، أَوْ لِأَنَّ الرَّاعِيَ يَبُولُ بَيْنَهَا قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَهَذَا كَذِبٌ مُجَرَّدٌ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَإِخْبَارٌ عَنْهُ بِالْبَاطِلِ وَبِمَا لَمْ يَقُلْهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - قَطُّ، وَلَوْ أُطْلِقَ مِثْلُ هَذَا عَلَى رَجُلٍ مِنْ عَرَضِ النَّاسِ لَكَانَ إثْمًا وَفِسْقًا، فَكَيْفَ عَلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ - صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ - وَلَوْ أَنَّهُ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - أَرَادَ مَا ذَكَرُوا لَبَيَّنَهُ ثُمَّ هَبْكَ أَنَّهُ كَمَا قَالُوا - وَمَعَاذَ اللَّهِ مِنْ ذَلِكَ - فَإِنَّ النَّهْيَ وَالتَّحْرِيمَ بِذَلِكَ بَاقٍ كَمَا كَانَ، فَكَيْفَ يَسْتَحِلُّونَ أَنْ يُصَحِّحُوا النَّهْيَ وَيَدَّعُوا أَنَّهُ لِعِلَّةٍ يَذْكُرُونَهَا -: ثُمَّ يُبِيحُونَ مَا صَحَّ النَّهْيُ عَنْهُ هَذَا أَمْرٌ مَا نَدْرِي كَيْفَ هُوَ وَنَعُوذُ بِاَللَّهِ مِنْ الْبَلَاءِ وَقَدْ رُوِّينَا عَنْ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ بْنِ عَمْرِو بْنِ الْعَاصِ أَنَّهُ قَالَ: لَا تُصَلُّوا فِي أَعْطَانِ الْإِبِلِ. وَسُئِلَ مَالِكٌ عَمَّنْ لَمْ يَجِدْ إلَّا عَطَنَ إبِلٍ قَالَ: لَا يُصَلِّي فِيهِ، قَالَ: فَإِنْ بَسَطَ عَلَيْهِ ثَوْبًا قَالَ: لَا، أَيْضًا. وَقَالَ أَحْمَدُ بْنُ حَنْبَلٍ: مَنْ صَلَّى فِي عَطَنِ إبِلٍ أَعَادَ أَبَدًا، فَإِنْ قِيلَ: فَإِنَّهُ قَدْ رُوِيَ عَنْهُ أَنَّهُ قَالَ: «فَإِنَّهَا خُلِقَتْ مِنْ الشَّيَاطِينِ» . قُلْنَا: نَعَمْ، هَذَا حَقٌّ، وَنَحْنُ نُقِرُّ بِهَذَا، وَلَا اعْتِرَاضَ فِي هَذَا عَلَى نَهْيِهِ - عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ - عَنْ الصَّلَاةِ فِي أَعْطَانِهَا قَالَ عَلِيٌّ: وَالْبَعِيرُ وَالْبَعِيرَانِ لَا يُشَكُّ فِي أَنَّ الْمَوْضِعَ الْمُتَّخَذَ لِمَبْرَكِهِمَا أَوْ لِمَبْرَكِ أَحَدِهِمَا دَاخِلٌ فِي جُمْلَةِ مَبَارِكِ الْإِبِلِ وَعَطَنِ الْإِبِلِ، وَكُلُّ عَطَنٍ فَهُوَ مَبْرَكٌ. وَلَيْسَ كُلُّ مَبْرَكٍ عَطَنًا؛ لِأَنَّ الْعَطَنَ هُوَ الْمَوْضِعُ الَّذِي تُنَاخُ فِيهِ عِنْدَ وُرُودِهَا الْمَاءَ فَقَطْ، وَالْمَبْرَكُ أَعَمُّ؛ لِأَنَّهُ الْمَوْضِعُ الْمُتَّخَذُ لِبُرُوكِهَا فِي كُلِّ حَالٍ. وَإِذَا سَقَطَ عَنْ الْعَطَنِ وَالْمَبْرَكِ اسْمُ عَطَنٍ وَمَبْرَكٍ فَلَيْسَ عَطَنًا وَلَا مَبْرَكًا، فَالصَّلَاةُ فِيهِ جَائِزَةٌ. فَأَمَّا قَوْلُنَا: عَالِمًا كَانَ أَوْ غَيْرَ عَالِمٍ، فَلِأَنَّهُ أَتَى بِالصَّلَاةِ فِي غَيْرِ مَوْضِعِهَا وَمَكَانِهَا، وَالصَّلَاةُ لَا

تَصِحُّ إِلَّا فِي زَمَانٍ وَمَكَانٍ مَحْدُودَيْنِ، فَإِذَا لَمْ تُؤَدَّ فِي مَكَانِهَا وَزَمَانِهَا فَلَيْسَتْ هِيَ الَّتِي أَمَرَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى بِهَا، بَلْ هِيَ غَيْرُهَا. وَبِاللَّهِ تَعَالَى التَّوْفِيقُ.

[مَسْأَلَةُ الصَّلَاةُ فِي حَمَّامٍ وَمَقْبَرَةٍ]

L6576 [The Issue of Prayer in a Bathhouse and a Cemetery]

٣٩٣ - مَسْأَلَةٌ: وَلَا تَحِلُّ الصَّلَاةُ فِي حَمَّامٍ، سَوَاءٌ فِي ذَلِكَ مَبْدَأُ بَابِهِ إِلَى مُنْتَهَى جَمِيعِ حُدُودِهِ، وَلَا عَلَى سَطْحِهِ، وَمُسْتَوْقَدِهِ، وَسَقْفِهِ، وَأَعَالِي حِيطَانِهِ، خَرِبًا كَانَ أَوْ قَائِمًا: فَإِنْ سَقَطَ مِنْ بِنَائِهِ شَيْءٌ فَسَقَطَ عَنْهُ اسْمُ " حَمَّامٍ " جَازَتْ الصَّلَاةِ فِي أَرْضِهِ حِينَئِذٍ.

L6577 393 - Issue: Prayer is not permissible in a bathhouse. This ruling applies equally throughout its entire area from the threshold of its entrance to its outermost boundaries. It is also impermissible to pray on its roof, furnace, ceiling, or upper parts of the walls—whether ruined or standing. However, if part of the building collapses and it no longer qualifies as a "bathhouse," prayer becomes permissible on its ground at that point.
